Marie the mother of Iames, & Ioses, and the mother of Zebedeus sonnes.

57 ¶ [1] And when the euen was come, there came a riche man of Arimathea, named Ioseph, who had also himselfe bene Iesus disciple.

58 He went to Pilate, & asked ỹ body of Iesus. Then Pilate cõmanded the body to be deliuered.

59 So Ioseph tooke the body, and wrapped it in a cleane linnen cloth, 60 And put it in his new tombe, which he had hewen out in a rocke, and rolled a great stone to the doore of the sepulchre, and departed.

61 And there was Marie Magdalene, and the other Marie sitting ouer against the sepulchre.

62 ¶ [2] Nowe the next day that followed the Preparation of the Sabbath, the hie Priestes and Pharises assembled to Pilate, 63 And said, Syr, we remember that that deceiuer said, while he was yet aliue, Within three dayes I will rise.

64 Command therefore, that the sepulchre be made sure vntill the thirde day, lest his disciples come by night, and steale him away, and say vnto the people, He is risen from the dead: so shall the last errour be worse then the first.

65 Then Pilate saide vnto them, Yee haue a [f] watch: goe, and make it sure as ye know.

66 And they went, & made the sepulchre sure with the watch, and sealed the stone.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The women goe to the sepulchre. 2 The Angel. 9 The women see Christ. 18 He sendeth his Apostles to preach.

NOw [a] in the [1] end of ỹ Sabbath, when ỹ first day of ỹ weeke began to dawne, Mary Magdalene, & the other Mary came to see ỹ sepulchre.

2 And beholde, there was a great earthquake: for the Angel of the Lord descended from heauen, and came and rolled backe the stone from the doore, and sate vpon it.

3 And his [c] countenance was like lightning, and his rayment white as snowe.

4 And for feare of him, the keepers were astonied, and became as dead men.

5 But the Angel answered, and said to the women, Feare [d] ye not: for I know that ye seeke Iesus which was crucified:

6 Hee is not here, for hee is risen, as hee sayde: come, see the place where the Lord was layd,

7 And go quickly, & tel his disciples ỹ he is risen frõ ỹ dead: & behold, he goeth before you into Galile, there ye shall see him: loe, I haue told you.

8 So they departed quickly frõ the sepulchre, with feare and great ioy, and did runne to bring his disciples word.

9 [2] And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Iesus also met them, saying, God saue you. And they came, and tooke him by the feete, and worshipped him.

10 Then said Iesus vnto them, Bee not afraide. Goe, and tel my brethren, that they goe into Galile, and there shall they see me.

11 ¶ [3] Nowe when they were gone, beholde, some of the watch came into the citie, & shewed vnto the hie Priests al the things that were done.

12 And they gathered them together with the Elders, and tooke counsell, and gaue large money vnto the souldiers, 13 Saying, Say, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.

14 And if this matter [e] come before the gouernour to be heard, we will perswade him, and so vse the matter that you shall not neede to care.

15 So they tooke the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying is noysed among the Iewes vnto this day.

16 ¶ [4] Then ỹ eleuen disciples wẽt into Galile, into a mountaine, where Iesus had appointed thẽ.

17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.

18 And Iesus came, & spake vnto them, saying, ✣ Al power is giuẽ vnto me, in heauen, & in earth.

CHAP. I.

1 Iohn baptizeth. 6 His apparell and meate. 9 Iesus is baptized. 12 He is tempted. 14 He preacheth the Gospel. 21 and 39 Hee teacheth in the Synagogues. 23 Hee healeth one that had a deuill. 29 Peters mother in lawe. 32 Many diseased persons. 40 The Leper.

THE beginning of the Gospel of Iesus Christ, the Sonne of God:

2 As it is written in the [a] Prophets, ✣ Beholde, [b] I send my messenger [c] before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

3 ✣ The voyce of him that crieth in the wildernesse, [d] Prepare the way of the Lord: make his paths straight.

4 [1] Iohn did baptize in the wildernesse, and preach the [e] baptisme of amendement of life, for remission of sinnes.

5 And al the cõtrey of Iudea, & they of Hierusalem went out vnto him, and were al baptized of him in the riuer Iordan, cõfessing their sinnes.

6 ✣ Now Iohn was clothed with camels haire, and with a girdle of a skin about his loynes: and he did eate ✣ Locusts and wilde hony, 7 [2] And preached, saying, A stronger then I commeth after me, whose shoes latchet I am not worthy to [f] stoupe downe, and vnloose.

8 Trueth it is, I haue [g] baptized you with water: but he will baptize you with the holy Ghost.

9 ¶ ✣ [4] And it came to passe in those dayes, that Iesus came from Nazareth, a citie of Galile, and was baptized of Iohn in Iordan.

10 [5] And assoone as [g] he was come out of the water, Iohn saw the heauens clouen in twaine, and the holy Ghost descending vpon him like a doue.

11 Then

11 Then there was a voice from heauen, saying, Thou art my beloued Sonne, in whome I am well pleased.

12 ✣ [e] And immediatly the Spirite [f] driueth him into the wildernesse.

13 And he was there in the wildernesse fortie daies, & was tempted of Satan: he was also with [g] wilde beasts, and the Angels ministred vnto him.

14 ¶ ✣ [7] Now after that Iohn was committed to prison, Iesus came into Galile, preaching the Gospel of the kingdome of God, 15 And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdome of God is at hand: repent and beleeue the Gospel.

16 ¶ ✣ [8] And as he walked by the sea of Galile, he sawe Simon and Andrew his brother, casting nets into the sea, (for they were fishers.)

17 Then Iesus said vnto them, Follow me, and I wil make you to be fishers of men.

18 And straightway they forlooke their nets, and followed him.

19 ✣ And when hee had gone a little further thence, he sawe Iames the sonne of Zebedeus, and Iohn his brother, as they were in the ship, mending their nets.

20 And anon hee called them: and they left their father Zebedeus in the shippe with his hired seruants, and went their way after him.

21 ¶ So ✣ they entred into [k] Capernaum, and straightway on the Sabbath day hee entred into the Synagogue, and taught.

22 And they were astonied at his doctrine, ✣ for he taught them as one that had authoritie, and not as the Scribes.

23 ¶ [10] And there was in their Synagogue a man [l] in whom was an vncleane spirite, and hee cried out, 24 Saying, Ah, what haue we to do with thee, O [m] Iesus of Nazareth? Art thou come to destroy vs? I know thee what thou art, euen that [n] holy one of God.

25 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Holde thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And the vncleane spirit [o] tare him, & cried with a loude voice, and came out of him.

27 And they were all amased, so that they demanded [p] one of another, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for he [q] commandeth euen the foule spirites with authoritie, and they obey him.

28 And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region [r] bordering on Galile.

29 ¶ ✣ [11] And as soone as they were come out of the Synagogue, they entred into the house of Simon and Andrew, with Iames and Iohn.

30 And Simons wiues mother lay sicke of a feuer, and anon they tolde him of her.

31 And he came and tooke her by the hand, and lifted her vp, and the feuer forlooke her by and by, and she ministred vnto them.

32 And when euen was come, at what time ✣ the sunne setteth, they brought to him all that were diseased, & them that were possessed with deuils.

33 And the whole citie was gathered together at the doore.

34 And he healed many that were sicke of diuers diseases, and he cast out many deuils, & [s] suffred not the deuils to say they knew him.

35 And in the morning very early before day, Iesus arose and went out into a solitary place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon, and they that were with him, followed carefully after him.

37 And when they had found him, they saide vnto him, All men seeke for thee.

38 Then he said vnto them, Let vs go into the [t] next townes, that I may preach there also: for I came out for that purpose.

39 And hee preached in their Synagogues, throughout all Galile, and cast the deuils out.

40 ¶ ✣ [12] And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, & kneeled down vnto him, & said to him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

41 And Iesus had compassion, and put foorth his hand, & touched him, and said to him, I will: be thou cleane.

42 And assoone as he had spoke, immediatly ✣ leprosie departed frō him, & he was made cleane.

43 And after hee had giuen him a straight commandement, he sent him away foorthwith, 44 [13] And saide vnto him, See thou say nothing to any man, but get thee hence, and shewe thy selfe to the [u] ✣ Priest, and offer for thy clensing those things, which Moses commanded, for a testimoniall vnto them.

45 But when he was departed, [x] he began to tell many things, and to publish the matter: so that Iesus coulde no more openly enter into the citie, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from euery quarter.

AFter ✣ [1] a few dayes, hee entred into Capernaum againe, and it was noised that hee was in the [a] house.

2 And anon, many gathered together, in so much that ✣ [b] places about ✣ doore could not receiue any more: & he preached ✣ word vnto thē.

3 And there came vnto him, that brought one sicke of the palsie, borne of foure men.

4 And because they coulde not come neere vnto him for the multitude, they vncouered the roofe of the house where he was: and when they had broken it open, they [c] let downe the [d] bed, wherein the sicke of the palsie lay.

5 Now when Iesus sawe their faith, hee saide to the sicke of the palsie, Sonne, thy sinnes are forgiuen thee.

6 And there were certaine of the Scribes sitting there, and [e] reasoning in their hearts, 7 Why doth this man speake such blasphemies? ✣ who can forgiue sinnes, but God onely?

8 And immediatly when Iesus perceiued in his spirite, that thus they reasoned with themselues, he saide vnto them, Why reason yee these things in your hearts?

9 Whether is it easier to say to the sicke of the palsie, Thy sinnes are forgiuen thee? or to say, Arise, and take vp thy bed, and walke?

10 But that ye may know, that the Sonne of man hath authoritie in earth to forgiue sinnes, (he said vnto the sicke of the palsie,)

CHAP. IIII.

4 The parable of the sower, 14 And the meaning thereof. 18 Thornes. 21 The candle. 26 Of him that sowed seed. 38 Christ sleepeth in the ship.

AND he began againe to teach by s a sea side, and there gathered vnto him a great multitude, so that he entred into a ship, and sate b in the sea, & all the people was by s sea side on the land.

2 And hee taught them many things in parables, and said vnto them in his doctrine,

3 1 Hearken: Beholde, there went out a sower to sowe.

4 And it came to passe as he sowed, that some fell by the way side, and the foules of the heauen came, and deuoured it vp.

5 And some fell on stonie grounde, where it had not much earth, and by and by sprang vp, because it had not depth of earth.

6 But assoone as s Sunne was vp, it was burnt vp, and because it had not roote, it withered away.

7 And some fell among the thornes, and the thornes grewe vp, and choked it, so that it gaue no fruite.

8 Some againe fell in good ground, and did yeelde fruite that sprung vp, and grewe, and it brought foorth, some thirtie folde, some sixtie folde, and some an hundreth folde.

9 Then he said vnto them, He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 And whē he was c alone, they that were d about him with s twelue, asked him of the parable.

11 And he sayd vnto them, To you it is giuen to knowe the mysterie of the kingdome of God: but vnto them that are e without, all things bee done in parables, 12 ✣ That they seeing, may see, and not discerne: and they hearing, may heare, and not vnderstand, least at any time they should turne, and their sinnes should be forgiuen them.

13 Againe he said vnto them, Perceiue ye not this parable? howe then should ye vnderstand all other parables?

14 The sower soweth the word.

15 And these are they that receiue the seede by the wayes side, in whome the worde is sowen: but when they haue heard it, Satan commeth immediatly, and taketh away the word that was sowen in their hearts.

16 And likewise they that receiue the seede in stony ground, are they, which whē they haue heard the word, straightwayes receiue it with gladnesse.

17 Yet haue they no roote in themselues, and endure but a time: for when trouble and persecution ariseth for the word, immediatly they be offended.

18 Also they that receiue the seede among the thornes, are such as heare the word:

19 But the cares f of this world, and the ✣ deceitfulnesse of riches, and the lusts of other things enter in, and choke the word, and it is vnfruitfull.

20 But they that haue receiued seede in good ground, are they that heare the word, and receiue it, and bring foorth fruite: one corne thirtie, an other sixtie, and some an hundreth.

21 ¶ 2 Also he sayd vnto them, ✣ Commeth the candle in, to be put vnder a bushell, or vnder the bed, and not to be put on a candlesticke?

22 ∵ For there is nothing hid, that shall not be opened: neither is there a secret, but that it shall come to light.

23 If any man haue eares to heare, let him heare.

24 3 And he said vnto them, Take heede what ye heare. ✣ With what measure ye mete, it shall be measured vnto you: and vnto you that heare, shall more be giuen.

25 ✣ For vnto him that hath, shall it be giuen, and from him that hath not, shall be taken away, euen that he hath.

26 ¶ 4 Also hee sayde, So is the kingdome of God, as if a man should cast seede in the ground, 27 And g should sleepe, and rise vp night and day, and the seede should spring and growe vp, he h not knowing howe.

28 For the earth bringeth foorth fruite i of it selfe, first the blade, then the eares, after that full corne in the eares.

29 And assoone as the fruite sheweth it selfe, anon hee putteth in the sickle, because the haruest is come.

30 ¶ * 5 He sayd moreouer, Whereunto shall wee liken the kingdome of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?

31 Yt is like a graine of mustard seede, which when it is sowen in the earth, is the least of all seedes that be in the earth:

32 But after that it is sowen, it groweth vp, and is greatest of all herbes, and beareth great branches, so that the foules of heauen may build vnder the shadow of it.

33 And ✣ with many such parables he preached the word vnto them, k as they were able to heare it.

34 And without parables spake hee nothing vnto them: but he l expounded all things to his disciples apart.

35 ¶ ✣ Nowe the same day when euen was come, he sayde vnto them, Let vs passe ouer vnto the other side.

36 And they left the multitude, and tooke him as he was in the shippe, and there were also with him other little shippes.

37 * And there arose a great storme of winde, and the waues dashed into the shippe, so that it was nowe full.

38 And hee was in the sterne asleepe on a pillow:

AND ✣ 1 they came ouer to the other ſide of the ſea into the countrey of the a Gadarens.

1 Many haue the vertue of Chriſt in admiration, and yet they will not redeeme it with the loſſe of the leaſt thing they haue.

2 And when hee was come out of the ſhippe, there met him incontinently out of the graues, a man b which had an vncleane ſpirit:

a Looke Mat.8.30.

3 Who had his abiding among the graues, and no man could binde him, no not with chaines:

b Word for word, in an vncleane ſpirit: now they are ſaid to be in the ſpirit, becauſe the ſpirit holdeth them faſt locked vp, and as it were bound.

4 Becauſe that when hee was often bounde with fetters and chaines, he plucked the chaines aſunder, and brake the fetters in pieces, neither could any man tame him.

5 And alwayes both night and day hee cryed in the mountaines, and in the graues, and ſtrooke himſelfe with ſtones.

6 And when he ſawe Ieſus afarre off, he ranne, and worſhipped him,

7 And cryed with a loude voyce, and ſayde, What haue I to doe with thee, Ieſus the Sonne of the moſt high God? I c will that thou ſweare to me by God, that thou torment me not.

c That is, aſſure me by an oath, that thou wilt not vexe me.

8 (For he ſayde vnto him, Come out of the man, thou vncleane ſpirit.)

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? and he anſwered, ſaying, My name is Legion: for we are many.

d That deuill that played the meſſager for his fellowes.

10 And hee d prayed him inſtantly, that hee would not ſend them away out of the countrey.

e This whole countrey is for the greater part of it very hilly, for the mountaines of Galaad runne through it.

11 Now there was there in the e mountaines a great heard of ſwine, feeding.

12 And all f deuils beſought him, ſaying, Send vs into the ſwine, that we may enter into them.

f Strabo in the ſixteenth booke ſaith that in Gadaris there is a ſtanding poole of very naughtie water, which if beaſtes taſte of, they ſhead their haire, nailes, or houes & hornes.

13 And incontinently Ieſus gaue them leaue. Then the vncleane ſpirits went out, & entred into the ſwine, & the hearde ranne headlong from the high banke into the ſea, (& there were about two thouſand ſwine) & they were choked vp in the ſea.

14 And the ſwineheards fled, and tolde it in the citie, and in the countrey, and they came out to ſee what it was that was done.

15 And they came to Ieſus, and ſawe him that had bene poſſeſſed with the deuil, and had the legion, ſit both clothed, and in his right minde: and they were afraide.

16 And they that ſaw it, tolde them, what was done to him that was poſſeſſed with the deuil, and concerning the ſwine.

17 Then they began to pray him, that hee would depart from their coaſtes.

18 And when he was come into the ſhippe, he that had bene poſſeſſed with the deuil, praied him that he might be with him.

19 Howbeit, Ieſus would not ſuffer him, but ſaid vnto him, Go thy way home to thy friendes, and ſhewe them what great things the Lorde hath done vnto thee, and howe hee hath had compaſſion on thee.

20 So hee departed, and began to publiſh in Decapolis, what great things Ieſus had done vnto him: and all men did marueile.

21 ✣ And when Ieſus was come ouer againe by ſhip vnto the other ſide, a great multitude gathered togither to him, & he was neere vnto the ſea.

22 ✣ And g beholde, there came one of the rulers of the Synagogue, whoſe name was Iairus: and when he ſawe him, he fell downe at his feete,

g The whole companie aſſembled not diſorderly, but in euery Synagogue there was certaine men which gouerned the people.

23 And beſought him inſtantly, ſaying, My little daughter lyeth at point of death: I pray thee that thou wouldeſt come and lay thine hands on her, that ſhe may be healed, and liue.

24 Then he went with him, and a great multitude followed him, and thronged him.

2 Ieſus being touched with true faith, although it be but weake, doth heale vs by his vertue.

25 (2 And there was a certaine woman, which was diſeaſed with an iſſue of blood twelue yeeres, 26 And had ſuffred many things of many phyſicions, and had ſpent all that ſhe had, and it auailed her nothing, but ſhe became much worſe.

27 When ſhe had heard of Ieſus, ſhe came in the preaſſe behinde, and touched his garment.

28 For ſhe ſaid, If I may but touch his clothes, I ſhalbe whole.

29 And ſtraightway the courſe of her blood was dried vp, and ſhe felt in her body, that ſhe was healed of that plague.

30 And immediatly when Ieſus did knowe in himſelfe the vertue that went out of him, he turned him round about in the preaſſe, and ſaide, Who hath touched my clothes?

31 And his diſciples ſaid vnto him, Thou ſeeſt the multitude throng thee, and ſayeſt thou, Who did touch me?

32 And he looked round about, to ſee her that had done that.

33 And the woman feared and trembled: for ſhee knewe what was done in her, and ſhee came and fell downe before him, and tolde him the whole trueth.

34 And he ſayde to her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole: go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.)

35 While hee yet ſpake, there came from the ſame ruler of the Synagogues houſe certaine which ſayde, Thy daughter is dead: why diſeaſeſt thou the Maſter any further?

3 Fathers apprehend by faith the promiſes of life euen for their children.

36 3 Aſſoone as Ieſus heard that word ſpoken, he ſaid vnto the ruler of the Synagogue, Bee not afraide: onely beleeue.

37 And he ſuffred no man to follow him ſaue Peter and Iames, and Iohn the brother of Iames.

38 So he came vnto the houſe of the ruler of the Synagogue and ſawe the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

39 And he went in, and ſaid vnto them, Why make ye this trouble, and weepe? the childe is not dead, but ſleepeth.

4 Such as mocke and ſcorne Chriſt, are vnworthie to be witneſſes of his goodneſſe.

40 4 And they laught him to ſcorne: but hee put them all out, and tooke the father, and the mother of the childe, and them h that were with him, and entred in where the childe lay, h The three diſciples.

41 And tooke the childe by the hand, and ſayd vnto her, Talitha cumi, which is by interpretation, Mayden, I ſay vnto thee, ariſe.

42 And ſtraightway the mayden aroſe, and walked: for ſhe was of the age of twelue yeeres, and they were aſtonied out of meaſure.

43 And

43 And he charged them straitly that no man should knowe of it, and commanded to giue her meate.

AND ✣ [1] he departed thence, & came into his owne countrey, & his disciples folowed him.

2 And when the Sabbath was come, he began to teach in the Synagogue, and many that heard him, were astonied, and sayd, From whence hath this man these things? and what wisdome is this that is giuen vnto him, that euen such [a] great workes are done by his handes?

3 Is not this that carpenter Maries sonne, the bother of Iames and Ioses, & of Iuda and Simon? and are not his [b] sisters here with vs? And they were offended in him.

4 And Iesus said vnto them, A ✣ Prophet is not without [c] honour, but in his owne countrey, and among his owne kindred, and in his owne house.

5 And he [d] could there doe no great workes, saue that hee layde his handes vpon a fewe sicke folke, and healed them,

6 And he marueiled at their vnbeliefe, ∴ and went about by the townes on euery side, teaching.

7 ¶ ✻ [2] And hee called vnto him the twelue, and began to send them foorth two and two, and gaue them power ouer vncleane spirits,

8 [3] And commaunded them that they should take nothing for their iourney, saue a staffe onely: neither scrippe, neither bread, neither money in their girdles:

9 But that they should be shod with ✻ [e] sandals, & that they should not put on [f] two coates.

10 And he sayd vnto them, Whereſoeuer yee shall enter into an house, [g] there abide till yee depart thence.

11 ✻ [4] And whosoeuer shall not receiue you, nor heare you, when ye depart thence, ✣ shake off the dust that is vnder your feete, for a witnes vnto them. Verely I say vnto you, It shalbe easier for Sodom, or Gomorrha at the day of iudgement, then for that citie.

12 ¶ And they went out, and preached, that men should amend their liues.

13 And they cast out many deuils: and they ✣ [h] anoynted many that were sicke, with oyle, and healed them.

14 ¶ ∴ [5] Then King Herod heard of him (for his name was made manifest) and sayd, Iohn Baptist is risen againe from the dead, and therefore great [i] workes are wrought by him.

15 Other sayd, It is Elias: and some sayd, It is a Prophet, or as one of [k] those Prophets.

16 ✣ So when Herod heard it, he said, It is Iohn whom I beheaded: he is risen from the dead.

17 For Herod himselfe had sent forth, and had taken Iohn, & bound him in prison for Herodias sake, which was his brother Philips wife, because he had married her.

18 For Iohn said vnto Herod, ✣ It is not lawfull for thee to haue thy brothers wife.

19 Therefore Herodias [m] laid wait against him, and would haue killed him, but she could not:

20 For Herod feared Iohn, knowing that hee was a iust man, and an holy, and reuerenced him, and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him [n] gladly.

21 But the time being conuenient, when Herod on his birth day made a banket to his princes and captaines, and chiefe estates of Galile:

22 And the daughter [o] of the same Herodias came in, and daunced, and pleased Herod, & them that sate at table together, the King sayd vnto the mayde, Aske of me what thou wilt, and I wil giue it thee.

23 And he sware vnto her, Whatsoeuer thou shalt aske of me, I will giue it thee, euen vnto the halfe of my kingdome.

24 ∴ So [p] she went forth, & said to her mother, What shal I aske? And she said, Iohn Baptists head.

25 Then she came in straightway with haste vnto the king, & asked, saying, I would that thou shouldest giue mee euen nowe in a charger the head of Iohn Baptist.

26 Then the King was very sory: yet for his othes sake, and for their sakes which sate at table with him, he would not refuse her.

27 And immediatly the King sent the [q] hangman, and gaue charge that his head should be brought in. So he went and beheaded him in the prison, 28 And brought his head in a charger, & gaue it to ỹ maide, & the maide gaue it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples heard it, they came and tooke vp his body, and put it in a tombe.

30 ¶ ✻ And the Apostles gathered themselues together to Iesus, and tolde him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

31 [6] And he sayd vnto them, Come ye apart into the wildernes, and rest a while: for there were many commers and goers, that they had not leasure to eate.

32 ✻ So they went by ship out of the way into a desart place.

33 But the people saw them when they departed, and many knew him, & ran a foote thither out of all cities, and came thither before them, and assembled vnto him.

34 * Then Iesus went out, & sawe a great multitude, and had compassion on them, because they were like sheepe which had no shepheard: ✣ and he began to teach them many things.

35 ✣ And when the day was now farre spent, his disciples came vnto h[i]m, saying, This is a desart place, and now the day is farre passed.

36 Let them depart, that they may go into the countrey & townes about, and buy them bread: for they haue nothing to eate.

37 But he answered, & sayd vnto them, Giue ye them to eate. And they sayd vnto him, ‡ Shall we goe, and buy [r] two hundreth peny worth of bread, and giue them to eate?

38 ✣ Then he sayde vnto them, Howe many loaues haue yee? goe and looke. And when they knew it, they sayd, Fiue, and two fishes.

39 So he commanded them to make them all sit downe by [t] companies vpon the greene grasse.

40 Then they sate downe by [u] rowes, by hundreds, and by fifties.

41 And he tooke the fiue loaues, and the two fishes, & looked vp to heauen, and gaue thankes, and brake the loaues, and gaue them to his disciples to set before them, and the two fishes he diuided among them all.

42 So they did all eate, and were satisfied.

43 And they tooke vp twelue baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.

44 And they that had eaten, were about fiue thousand men.

45 ¶ 7 And straightway he caused his disciples to goe into the shippe, and to goe before vnto the other side vnto Bethsaida, while he sent away the people.

47 ✣ And when euen was come, the ship was in the mids of the sea, and he alone on the land.

48 And he saw them troubled in rowing, (for the winde was contrary vnto them) & about the fourth watch of the night, hee came vnto them, walking vpon the sea, and would haue passed by them.

49 And when they saw him walking vpon the sea, they supposed it had bene a spirit, & cried out.

50 For they all saw him, & were sore afraide: but anon he talked with them, & said vnto them, Be ye of good comfort: it is I, be not afrayd.

51 Then he went vp vnto them into the ship, and the winde ceased, and they were [y] much more amased in themselues, and marueiled.

52 For they had not [z] considered the matter of the loaues, because their hearts were hardened.

CHAP. VII.

2 The Apostles are found fault with, for eating with vnwashen hands. 4 The Pharises traditions about washings. Hypocrisie. 8 Mens traditions more set by then Gods. 10 Parents must be honoured. 14 The things that doe in deede defile a man. 25 The woman of Chanaan. 32 The deafe dumme man is healed.

THen ✣ [1] gathered vnto him the Pharises, and certaine of the Scribes which came from Hierusalem.

2 And when they sawe some of his disciples [a] eate meate with [b] common hands, (that is to say, vnwashen) they complained.

3 (For the Pharises, and all the Iewes, except they wash their hands oft, eate not, [c] holding the traditions of the Elders.

4 And when they come from the [d] market, except they wash, they eate not: and many other things there be, which they haue taken vpon them to obserue, as the washing of cups, and [e] pots, and of brasen vessels, and of beds.)

5 Then asked him the Pharises and Scribes, Why [f] walke not thy disciples according to the tradition of the Elders, but eate meate with vnwashen handes?

6 [2] Then hee answered and sayd vnto them, Surely ✣ Esay hath prophecied well of you, hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth mee with lippes, but their heart is farre away from me.

7 [3] But they worship mee in vaine, teaching for doctrines the commandements of men.

8 [4] For yee lay the commaundement of God apart, and obserue the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and of cups, and many other such like things ye doe.

9 [5] And he sayd vnto them, Well, yee reiect the commandement of God, that ye may obserue your owne tradition.

10 For Moses said, ✣ Honour thy father and thy mother: and ∴ Whosoeuer shal speake euill of father or mother, let him [g] die the death.

11 But ye say, If a man say to father or mother, Corban, that is, By the gift that is offered by me, thou mayest haue profite, he shall be free.

12 So ye suffer him no more to doe any thing for his father, or his mother, 13 Making the word of God of none authoritie, by your tradition which yee haue ordeined: and ye doe many such like things.

14 ✣ Then he called the whole multitude vnto him, and sayd vnto them, Hearken you all vnto me, and vnderstand.

15 There is nothing without a man, that can defile him, when it entreth into him: but the things which proceede out of him, are they which defile the man.

16 If any haue eares to heare, let him heare.

17 And when hee came into an house, away from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.

18 And hee sayd vnto them, What? are yee without vnderstanding also? Doe yee not knowe that whatsoeuer thing from without entreth into a man, cannot defile him, 19 Because it entreth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught which is the [h] purging of all meates?

20 Then he said, That which commeth out of man, that defileth man.

21 ✣ For from within, euen out of the heart of men, proceede euill thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murthers, 22 Thefts, [i] couetousnes, wickednes, deceite, vnclennes, [k] wicked eye, backbiting, pride, foolishnesse.

23 All these euill things come from within, and defile a man.

3 And if I ſende them away faſting to their owne houſes, they would a faint by the way: for ſome of them came from farre.

4 Then his diſciples anſwered him, Whence can a man ſatisfie theſe with bread here in the wildernesſe?

5 And hee asked them, Howe many loaues haue ye? And they ſayd, Seuen.

6 Then he commaunded the multitude to ſit downe on the ground: and hee tooke the ſeuen loaues, and gaue thanks, brake them, and gaue to his diſciples to ſet before them, and they did ſet them before the people.

7 They had alſo a few ſmall fiſhes: and when he had giuen thankes, he commaunded them alſo to be ſet before them.

CHAP. X.

9. The wife, onely for fornication, is to be put away. 13 Litle children are brought to Christ. 17 A riche man asketh Iesus, how hee may possesse eternall life. 28 The Apostles forsooke all things for Christes sake. 33 Christ foreshewth his death. 35 Zebedeus his sonnes requist. 46 Blinde Bartimeus healed.

AND ∵ he [a] arose from thence, & went into the coastes of Iudea by the farre side of Iordan, and the people resorted vnto him againe, and as he was wont, he taught them againe.

2 Then the Pharises came and asked him, if it were lawfull for a man to put away his wife, and tempted him.

3 And he answered, and said vnto them, What did ✲ Moses commaund you?

4 And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of diuorcement, and to put her away.

5 [1] Then Iesus answered, and said vnto them, For the hardnes of your heart he wrote this [b] precept vnto you.

6 But at the beginning of the creation ✣ God made them male and female:

7 ✣ For this cause shall man leaue his father and mother, and cleaue vnto his wife.

8 And they twaine shalbe one flesh: so that they are no more twaine, but one flesh.

9 ∵ Therefore, what God hath coupled together, let not man separate.

10 And in the house his disciples asked him againe of that matter.

11 And he sayd vnto them, ✲ Whosoeuer shall put away his wife and marry another, committeth adulterie [c] against her.

12 And if a woman put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adulterie.

13 ¶ ✲ [2] Then they brought little children to him, that he should touch them, and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

14 But when Iesus sawe it, he was displeased, and sayd to them, Suffer the little children to come vnto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdome of God.

15 Verely I say vnto you, Whosoeuer shall not receiue ỹ kingdome of God [3] as a litle childe, he shall not enter therein.

16 And he tooke them vp in his armes, & put his hands vpon them, and blessed them.

17 ¶ [4] And when he was goue out on ỹ way, there came one * running, & kneeled to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I doe, that I may possesse eternall life?

18 Iesus sayd to him, Why calleſt thou mee good? there is none good but one, euen God.

19 Thou knoweſt the cõmandements, ✣ Thou shalt not commit adulterie. Thou shalt not kill. Thou shalt not steale. Thou shalt not beare false witnesse. Thou shalt [d] hurt no man. Honour thy father and mother.

20 Then he answered, and said to him, Master, these things haue I obserued from my youth.

21 And Iesus looked vpon him, & loued him, and said vnto him, One thing is lacking vnto thee. Goe and sell all that thou hast, and giue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come, follow me, and take vp the crosse.

22 But he was sad at that saying, and went away sorowfull: for he had great possessions.

23 And Iesus looked round about, & said vnto his disciples, Howe hardly doe they that haue riches, enter into the kingdome of God!

24 And his disciples were afraide at his wordes. But Iesus answered againe, and sayd vnto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches, to enter into the kingdome of God!

25 It is easier for a camel to goe through the eye of a needle, then for a riche man to enter into the kingdome of God.

26 And they were much more astonied, saying with themselues, Who then can be saued?

27 But Iesus looked vpon them, & said, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible.

28 ¶ ✣ [5] Then Peter began to say vnto him, Lo, we haue forsaken all, and haue followed thee.

29 Iesus answered, and sayd, Verely I say vnto you, there is no man that hath forsaken house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands for my sake and the Gospels,

1 Of the vineyard. 10 Christ the stone refused of the Iewes. 13 Of tribute to be giuen to Cesar. 18 The Sadducees denying the resurrection. 28 The first commandement. 31 To loue God and thy neighbour is better then sacrifices. 36 Christ Dauids sonne. 38 To beware of the Scribes and Pharises. 42 The poore widow.

1 The calling of God is not tied either to place, person, or time, without exception.

AND [1] he began to speake vnto them in [a] parables, ✣ A certaine man planted a vineyard, & compassed it with an hedge, & digged a pit for the winepresse, and built a tower in it, & let it out to husbandmen, & went into a strange countrey,

4 And againe he sent vnto them another seruant, and at him they cast stones, and brake his head, and sent him away shamefully handled.

5 And againe hee sent another, and him they slew, & many other, beating some, & killing some.

6 Yet had he one sonne, his deare beloued: him also he sent the last vnto them, saying, They will reuerence my sonne.

7 But the husbandmen said among themselues, This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, and the inheritance shalbe ours.

8 So they tooke him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 What shall then the Lorde of the vineyard doe? Hee will come and destroy these husbandmen, and giue the vineyard to others.

14 And when they came, they said vnto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou [d] considerest not the person of men, but teachest the [e] way of God truely, Is it lawfull to giue tribute to Cesar, or not?

d Thou doest not so iudge by outward appearance, that the trueth is therby darkened any whit at all.

22 So those seuen had her, and left no issue: last of all the wife died also.

23 In the resurrection then, when they shall rise againe, whose wife shall she bee of them? for seuen had her to wife.

24 Then Iesus answered, and saide vnto them, Are ye not therefore deceiued, because ye know not the Scriptures, neither the power of God?

25 For when they shall rise againe from the dead, neither men marry, nor wiues are married, but are as the Angels which are in heauen.

AND ✣ [1] two dayes after followed the feast of the Passeouer, and of vnleauened bread: and the hie Priests, & Scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.

2 But they saide, Not in the feast day, lest there be any tumult among the people.

3 ∵ And when hee was in Bethania in the house of Simon the leper, as hee sate at the table, there came a woman hauing a boxe of ointment of Spikenard, very costly, and she brake the boxe, and powred it on his head.

4 [2] Therefore some disdained among themselues, and saide, To what ende is this waste of ointment?

5 For it might haue bene sold for more then [a] three hundreth pence, and bene giuen vnto the poore, and they murmured against her.

6 But Iesus said, Let her alone: Why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good worke on me.

7 [3] For ye haue the poore with you alwaies, and when ye will ye may doe them good, but me ye shall not haue alwayes.

8 [4] She hath done that she could: she came afore hand to anoint my body to the burying.

9 Verely I say vnto you, whersoeuer this Gospel shal be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done, shalbe spoken of in remembrance of her.

10 ¶ ✣ [5] Then Iudas Iscariot, one of the twelue, went away vnto the hie Priests, to betray him vnto them.

11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised that they would giue him money: therefore he sought how he might conueniently betray him.

12 ¶ ✣ [6] Nowe the first day of vnleauened bread, [b] when [c] they sacrificed the [d] Passeouer, his disciples said vnto him, Where wilt thou that wee goe and prepare, that thou mayest eate the Passeouer?

13 Then hee sent foorth two of his disciples, and saide vnto them, Goe yee into the citie, and there shall a man meete you bearing a pitcher of water: followe him.

14 And whithersoeuer hee goeth in, say yee to the good man of the house, The Master saieth, Where is the lodging where I shall eate the Passeouer with my disciples?

15 And he wil shew you an [e] vpper chamber which is large, trimmed and prepared: there make it readie for vs.

16 So his disciples went foorth, and came to the citie, and found as he had said vnto them, and made readie the Passeouer.

17 ¶ And at euen he came with the twelue.

18 ✣ [7] And as they sate at table and did eate, Iesus said, Verely I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me, which eateth with me.

19 Then they began to be sorowful and to say to him one by one, Is it I? And another, Is it I?

20 And he answered & said vnto thē, It is one of the twelue that [f] dippeth with me in ỹ platter.

21 Truely the Sonne of man goeth his way, as it is written of him: ✣ but woe be to that man, by whome the Sonne of man is betrayed: it had beene good for that man, if he had neuer beene borne.

22 ∵ And as they did eate, Iesus tooke the bread, and when he had giuen thankes, he brake it and gaue it to them, and saide, Take, eate, this is my body.

23 Also he tooke the cuppe, and when he had giuen thankes, gaue it to them: and they all dranke of it.

24 And he saide vnto them, This is my blood of that newe Testament, which is shed for many.

25 Verely I say vnto you, I wil drinke no more of the fruit of the vine vntil that day, that I drinke it newe in the kingdome of God.

26 And when they had sung a Psalme, they went out to the mount of Oliues.

27 ¶ ✣ [8] Then Iesus said vnto them, All yee shall be offended by me this night: for it is written, ✣ I will smite the shepheard, and the sheepe shalbe scattered.

28 But after that I am risen, I will goe into * Galile before you.

29 [9] And Peter saide vnto him, Although all men should be offended at thee, yet would not I.

30 Then Iesus said vnto him, Verely I say vnto thee, this day, euen in this night, before the cocke crowe twise, thou shalt denie me thrise.

31 But he saide g more earnestly, If I shoulde die with thee, I will not denie thee: likewise also said they all.

32 ¶ ✣ [10] After, they came into a place named Gethsemane: then hee saide to his disciples, Sit ye here, till I haue prayed.

33 And he tooke with him Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, and he beganne to be troubled, and in great heauinesse, 34 And saide vnto them, My soule is very heauie, euen vnto the death: tarie here, and watch.

35 So he went forward a little, and fel downe on the ground, and prayed, that if it were possible, that houre might passe from him.

39 And againe he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words.

40 And hee returned, and found them asleepe againe: for their eies were heauie: neither knew they what they should answere him.

43 ✣ 12 And immediatly while hee yet spake, came Iudas that was one of the twelue, and with him a great multitude with swordes and staues from the hie Priests, and Scribes, and Elders.

44 And he that betraied him, had giuen them a token, saying, Whomsoeuer I shal kisse, he it is: take him and leade him away i safely.

45 And assoone as he was come, he wēt straitway to him, & said, Haile Master, and kissed him.

46 Then they laide their hands on him, and tooke him.

47 And k one of them that stoode by, drewe out a sword, and smote a seruant of the hie Priest, and cut off his eare.

48 And Iesus answered and saide to them, Ye be come out as against a theefe with swords, and with staues, to take me.

49 I was daily with you teaching in the Temple, and ye tooke me not: but this is done that the Scriptures should be fulfilled.

50 Then they l all forsooke him, and fled.

51 13 And there followed him a certaine yong man, clothed in m linnen vpon his bare bodie, and the yong men caught him.

52 But he left his linnen cloth, and fled from them naked.

53 ✣ So they led Iesus away to the hie Priest, and to him came n together all the hie Priestes, and the Elders, and the Scribes.

9 Then Pilate answered them, and sayd, Will ye that I let loose vnto you the King of ỹ Iewes?

10 For he knew that the hie Priests had deliuered him of enuie.

11 But the high Priests had moued the people to desire that hee would rather deliuer Barabbas vnto them.

12 And Pilate answered, and said againe vnto them, What will ye then ỹ I doe with him, whom ye call the King of the Iewes?

13 And they cried againe, Crucifie him.

14 Then Pilate said vnto them, But what euill hath he done? And they cried the more feruently, Crucifie him.

15 So Pilate willing to content the people, loosed them Barabbas, & deliuered Iesus, when he had scourged him, that he might be crucified.

16 Then the souldiers led him away into the hall, which is the common hall, and called together the whole band, 26 And the title of his cause was writtē aboue, THAT KING OF THE IEVVES.

27 They crucified also with him two theeues, the one on ỹ right hand, & the other on his left.

28 Thus the Scripture was fulfilled, which saith, ✻ And he was counted among the wicked.

29 And they that went by, railed on him, wagging their heades, & saying, ✻ Hey, thou that destroyest the Temple, & buildest it in three dayes, 30 Saue thy selfe, and come downe from the crosse.

31 Likewise also euen the hie Priests mocking, said among themselues with the Scribes, He saued other men, himselfe he cannot saue.

32 Let Christ the King of Israel nowe come downe from the crosse, that we may see, and beleeue. They also that were crucified with him reuiled him.

34 And at the [7] ninth houre Iesus cried with a loude voyce, saying, ✣ Eloi, Eloi, lamma sabachthani? which is by interpretation, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

35 And some of them that stood by, whē they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth Elias.

36 And one ranne, and filled a ✣ sponge full of vineger, and put it on a reede, and gaue him to drinke, saying, Let him alone, let vs see if Elias will come, and take him downe.

37 And Iesus cried with a loude voyce, and gaue vp the ghost.

38 And the vaile of the Temple was rent in twaine, from the top to the bottome.

39 Nowe when the Centurion, which stoode ouer against him, sawe that he thus crying gaue vp the ghost, hee sayd, Truely this man was the Sonne of God.

40 ¶ [8] There were also women, which beheld afarre off, among whom was Marie Magdalene, and Marie (the mother of Iames the lesse, and of Ioses) and Salome, 41 Which also when he was in Galile, ᵛ followed him, and ministred vnto him, and many other womē which came vp with him vnto Hierusalem.

42 ✻ And now when the night was come (because it was the day of the preparation that is before the Sabbath)

43 ✣ Ioseph of Arimathea, an [d] honourable counsellour, which also looked for the kingdome of God, came, and went in [e] boldly vnto Pilate, and asked the body of Iesus.

44 And Pilate marueiled, if hee were alreadie dead, and called vnto him the Centurion, and asked of him whether he had bene any while dead.

45 And when he knew the truth of the Centurion, he gaue the body to Ioseph:

46 Who bought a linnen cloth, & tooke him downe, and wrapped him in the linnen cloth, and laied him in a tombe that was hewen out of a rocke, and rolled a stone vnto the doore of the sepulchre:

47 And Marie Magdalene, and Marie Ioses mother, beheld where he should be laied.

1 Christ, going about to take away the sinnes of men, who went about to vsurpe ỹ throne of God himselfe, is condemned as one that hunted after the kingdome, and mocked with a false shew of a kingdome, that we on the other side, who shall in deed be eternall kings, might receiue the crowne of glory at Gods owne hand. ✣ Matth. 27.32. Luke 23.26.

3 The rage of the wicked hath no measure, but in the meane season, euen the weakenesse of Christ, being in paine vnder the heauie burden of the crosse, doeth manifestly shew, that a lambe is led to be sacrificed. ✣ Matth. 27.33. Luke 23.33. John 19.17.

4 Christ is led out of the walles of ỹ earthly Ierusalem, into a foule place of dead mens carkases, as a man most vncleane, not touching himselfe, but touching our sinnes, wh'ch were laid vpon him, to ỹ end that we being made cleane by his blood, might be brought into the heauenly Sanctuarie. ✧ Luke 23.34.

5 Christ hangeth naked vpon the crosse, and as the wickedst caitife that euer was, most vilie reproued: that we being clothed with his righteousnesse, and blessed with his curses, and sanctified by his onely oblation, may be taken vp into heauen. ✣ Esai 53.12. ✣ John 2.19.

6 How angry God was against our sinne, which he punished in our surelie his sonne, it appeareth by this horrible darknesse.

7 By this word land, he meaneth Palestina: so that the strangenesse of the wonder, is so much the more set forth in that, that at the feast of the Passeouer, and in the full moone, when the Sunne shined ouer all the rest of the world, and at midday, that corner of the world, wherein so wicked an act was committed, was ouercouered with most grosse darknesse.

7 Christ striuing mightily with Satan, with sinne and with death, all three at once with the horrible curse of God, grieuously tormented in body hanging vpon the crosse, and in soule plunged in the depth of hell, yet he tiddeth him selfe, crying with a mightie voyce: and notwithstanding the wound which he receiued of death, in that that he died, yet by smiting both things aboue, and things beneath, by rending of the vaile of the Temple, and by the testimonie wrung out of them which murdered him, he sheweth euidently vnto the rest of his enemies which are as yet obstinate, and mocke at him, that he shal be knowen out of hand to be conqueror and Lord of all. ✣ Psal. 21.1. matth. 27.46. ✣ Psal. 69.22.

8 Christ to the great shame of men which forsooke the Lord, chose women for his witnesses, which beheld all this whole action. ✧ Luke 8.2. ✻ Matth. 27.57. ✣ Luke 23.50. John 19.38.

2 Therefore early in the morning, the first day of the weeke, they came vnto the sepulchre, when the sunne was now risen.

3 And they said one to another, Who shall roll vs away the stone from ỹ doore of the sepulchre?

4 And when they [a] looked, they sawe that the stone was rolled away (for it was a very great one)

5 ✣ So they went into the [b] sepulchre, and saw a yong man sitting at the right side, clothed in a long white robe: and they were sore troubled.

6 But he said vnto them, Be not so troubled: ye seek Iesus of Nazareth, which hath bene crucified: he is risen, he is not here: behold the place where they put him.

9 ¶ [1] And whē Iesus was risen againe, early the first day of the weeke, he appeared first to Marie Magdalene, ✣ out of whō he had cast seuen deuils:

10 And she went and told them that had bene with him, which mourned and wept.

11 And when they heard that he was aliue, and had appeared to her, they beleeued it not.

12 ¶ ∴ [2] After that, hee appeared vnto two of them in another forme, as they walked and went into the countrey.

13 And they went, and told it to the remnant, neither beleeued they them.

14 ¶ ✠ [c] Finally, he appeared vnto the eleuen as they sate together, and reproched them for their vnbeliefe & hardnesse of heart, because they beleeued not them which had seene him, being risen vp againe.

THE HOLY GOSPEL OF IESVS CHRIST, ACCORDING TO LVKE.

CHAP. I.

1 Luke's Preface. 5 Zacharias and Elisabet. 15 What an one Iohn should be. 20 Zacharias stricken dombe, for his incredulitie. 26 The Angel saluteth Mary, & foretelleth Christes natiuitie. 39 Mary visiteth Elisabet. 46 Maries song. 68 The song of Zacharias, shewing that the promised Christ is come. 76 The office of Iohn.

1 Luke commendeth the witnesses that liued this historie.
a Many tooke it in hand, but did not performe: Luke wrote his Gospel before Matthew, and Marke.
b Luke was not an eie witnesse, and therefore it was not hee whom the Lord appeared vnto when Cleopas sawe him: and he was taught not onely by Paul, but by others of the Apostles also.
c It is most mightie, and therefore Theophilus was a very honourable man, and in place of great dignitie.
d Luke began his Gospel a great deale further off, then the other did.
e Haue suffer knowledge of those things, which before them were but mans.

FOrasmuch as [1] many haue [a] taken in hand to set foorth the storie of those things, wherof we are fullie persuaded,

2 [b] As they haue deliuered them vnto vs, which from the beginning saw them their selues, & were ministers of ỹ word,

3 It seemed good also to mee (c most noble Theophilus) as soone as I had searched out perfectly al things [d] from the beginning, to write vnto thee thereof from point to point,

4 That thou mightest [e] acknowledge the certaintie of those things, whereof thou hast bene instructed.

5 IN [2] the f time of g Herod King of Iudea, there was a certaine Priest named Zacharias, of the ✣ [h] course of Abia: and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabet.

6 Both were [i] iust before God, and [k] walked in all the [l] commaundements and ordinances of the Lord, * without reproofe.

7 And they had no childe, because that Elisabet was barren: and both were well stricken in age.

8 And it came to passe, as hee executed the Priestes office before God, as his course came in order, 9 ✣ According to the custome of the Priests office, his lot was to burne incense, when he went into the [n] Temple of the Lord.

10 And the whole multitude of the people were without in prayer, ∴ while the incense was burning.

11 Then appeared vnto him an Angel of the Lord standing at the right side of the altar of incense.

12 And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and feare fell vpon him.

13 But the Angel sayd vnto him, Feare not, Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard, and thy wife Elisabet shall beare thee a sonne, and thou shalt call his name Iohn.

14 And thou shalt haue ioy and gladnes, and many shall reioyce at his birth.

15 For hee shall be great in the [o] sight of the Lord, and shall neither drinke wine, nor [p] strong drinke: and he shalbe filled with the holy Ghost, euen from his mothers wombe.

16 * And many of the children of Israel shall he sturne to their Lord God.

17 ✣ For he shall goe [r] before him [s] in the spirite and power of Elias, to turne the [t] hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the [u] wisedome of the iust men, to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

18 Then Zacharias said vnto ỹ Angel, Where-f The Apostles are appointed, and their office is limited vnto them, which is, to preach that, which they heard of him, and to minister the sacraments, which Christ hath instituted, hauing beside power to doe miracles.

g Herod the great. ✣ Luke 24. 1.
h For the posterities of Aaron was deuided into courses.
i The true marke of righteousnesse is, to be liked and allowed of in the iudgement of God.
k Liued, to speake the Hebrewes, for our life is as a way, wherein we must walke, vntill we come to the ende.
l In all the morall and ceremoniall lawe.
m Whom no man could iustly reprooue: now so it is, that the faultes of iustification are set foorth here, and not the cause, which is faith only, and nothing els.
n The Temple was one, and the Court another, for Zacharias went out of the Court or outward roome, where all the people were, and there sate are said to be without, into the Temple.
o So speake the Hebrewes, when it signified a rare kind of excellencie: so it is said of Nemrod, Gen. 10. 9. He was a valiant hunter before God.
p Any drinke that may make drunken.
* Malac. 4. 5.
q Shalbe a meanes to bring many to repentance, and turne themselues to the Lord from whom they fell.
✣ Matth. 11. 14.
r As they vse to goe before kings, and when you see them, you know the king is not farre off.
s This is spoken by the figure Metonymie, taking the spirit, for the gift of the spirite, the cause, for that that commeth of the cause.
t By the figure Synecdoche, he sheweth that he shall take away all kinde of enimities, which vse to breed great troubles & tumoiles among st men.
u Wisedome and goodnesse are two of the chiefest causes which make men to reuerence and honour their fathers.

by

by shall I knowe this? for I am an olde man, and my wife is of a great age.

19 And the Angel answered, and saide vnto him, I am Gabriel [x] that stand in the presence of God, & am sent to speake vnto thee, and to shew thee these good tidings.

20 And behold, thou shalt be dumme, and not bee able to speake, vntill the day that these things be done, because thou beleuedst not my wordes, which shalbe fulfilled in their season.

21 Now the people waited for Zacharias, and marueiled that he taried so long in the Temple.

22 And when hee came out, hee coulde not speake vnto them: then they perceiued that hee had seene a vision in the Temple: For hee made signes vnto them, and remained dumme.

23 And it came to passe, when the dayes of his office were fulfilled, that hee departed to his owne house.

24 And after those dayes, his wife Elisabet conceiued, and hid her selfe fiue moneths, saying, 25 Thus hath the Lorde dealt with me, in the dayes wherein he looked on me, to take from me my rebuke among men.

26 ¶ [3] And in the sixt moneth, the Angel Gabriel was sent from God vnto a citie of Galile, named Nazareth, 27 ✣ To a virgin affianced to a man whose name was Ioseph, of the [y] house of Dauid, and the virgins name was Marie.

28 And the Angel went in vnto her, and saide, Haile thou that art [z] freely beloued: the Lord is with thee: [a] blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, she was [b] troubled at his saying, and thought what maner of salutation that should be.

30 Then the Angel saide vnto her, Feare not, Marie: for thou hast [c] found fauour with God.

31 ✣ For lo, thou shalt cōceiue in thy womb, and beare a sonne, and shalt cal his name Iesus.

32 He shal be great, and shall be [d] called the Sonne of the most High, and the Lord God shall giue vnto him the throne of his father Dauid.

33 ✻ And he shal reigne ouer the house of Iacob for euer, and of his kingdome shall be none ende.

34 Then said Marie vnto the Angel, [e] Howe shall this be, seeing [f] I knowe not man?

35 And the Angel answered, & said vnto her, The holy Ghost [g] shall come vpon thee, and the power of the most High shall ouershadowe thee: therefore also that [h] holy thing which shall bee borne of thee, shal be [i] called the Sonne of God.

36 And behold, thy [k] cousin Elisabet, she hath also conceiued a sonne in her olde age: and this is her [l] sixt moneth, which was called barren.

37 For with God shal nothing be vnpossible.

38 Then Marie saide, Beholde the seruant of the Lord: be it vnto mee according to thy word. So the Angel departed from her.

39 ¶ [4] And Mary arose in those daies, & went into the [m] hil country with haste to a [n] citie of Iuda, 40 And entred into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabet.

41 And it came to passe, as Elisabet heard the salutation of Marie, the babe [o] sprang in her belie, and Elisabet was filled with the holy Ghost.

42 And she cried with a loud voyce, and said, Blessed art thou among women, because [p] the fruit of thy wombe is blessed.

43 And whence commeth this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?

44 For loe, assoone as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine eares, the babe sprang in my belly for ioy.

45 And blessed is she that beleeued: for those things shalbe performed, which were tolde her from the Lord.

46 [5] Then Marie saide, My soule magnifieth the Lord,

47 And my spirite reioyceth in God my Sauiour,

48 For he hath [q] looked on the [r] poore degree of his seruant: for behold, from henceforth shall all ages call me blessed,

49 Because he that is mightie, hath done for me great things, and holy is his Name.

50 And his mercie is from generation to generation on them [s] that feare him.

51 ✣ Hee hath shewed strength with his [t] arme: ✣ he hath [u] scattered the proude in the [x] imagination of their hearts.

52 ∴ He hath y put downe the mightie from their seates, and exalted them of [z] low degree.

53 ✻ Hee hath filled the [a] hungrie with good things, and sent away the rich emptie.

54 [b] ✻ He hath vpholden Israel his seruaunt to be mindfull of his mercie.

55 (*As hee hath [c] spoken to our fathers, to wit, to Abraham, and his seede) for euer.

56 ¶ And Mary abode with her about three moneths: after, she returned to her owne house.

57 ¶ [6] Now Elisabets time was fulfilled, that she should be deliuered, & she brought forth a sonne.

58 And her neighbors, and cousins heard tell how the Lord had shewed his great mercie vpon her, and they ✣ reioyced with her.

59 And it was so that on the eight day they came to circumcise the babe, and called him Zacharias after the name of his father.

60 But his mother answered, and saide, Not so, but he shalbe called Iohn.

61 And they saide vnto her, There is none of thy kindred, that is named with this name.

62 Then they made signes to his father, how he would haue him called.

63 So hee asked for writing tables, and wrote, saying, His name is Iohn, and they marueiled all.

64 And his mouth was opened [m] immediately, and his tongue, ‖ and he spake and praised God.

65 Then feare came on all them that dwelt neere vnto them: & all [d] these words were noised abroad throughout all the hill [o] countrey of Iudea.

4 And Ioseph also went vp from Galile out of a citie called Nazareth, into Iudea, vnto the c citie of ✣ Dauid, which is called Beth-leem (because he was of the house and linage of Dauid,)

5 To bee taxed with Marie that was giuen him to wife, which was with childe.

6 ¶ And so it was, that while they were there, the dayes were accomplished that shee should be deliuered,

7 And she brought foorth her first begotten sonne, and wrapped him in swadling clothes, and laid him in a cratch, because there was no roome for them in the ynne.

a Christ the sonne of God, taking vpon him the forme of a seruant, and making himselfe of no reputation, is poorely borne in a stable: and by the meanes of Augustus the mightiest prince in the world (thinking nothing lesse) hath his cradle prepared in Bethleem, as the Prophets forewarned.

8 ¶ a And there were in the same countrey shepheards, d abiding in the fielde, and keeping watch by night ouer their flocke.

9 And loe, the Angel of the Lord e came vpon them, and the glorie of the Lord shone about them, and they were sore afraid.

10 Then the Angel said vnto them, Be not afraide: for beholde, I bring you glad tidings of great ioy, that shal be to all the people, 11 That is, that vnto you is borne this day in ŷ citie of Dauid, a Sauiour, which is Christ ŷ Lord.

12 And this shal be a signe to you, Yee shall finde the babe swadled, and laid in a cratch.

13 And straightway there was with ŷ Angel f a multitude of heauenly souldiers, praising God, and saying, 14 Glory be to God in the high heauens, and peace in earth, and towards men g good will.

15 And it came to passe when the Angels were gone away from them into heauē, that the shepheards said one to another, Let vs goe then vnto Beth-leem, and see this thing that is come to passe which the Lord hath shewed vnto vs.

16 So they came with haste, and found both Mary & Ioseph, and the babe laide in the cratch.

17 And when they had seene it, they published abroad the thing, that was tolde them of that childe.

18 And al that heard it, wondred at the things which were told them of the shepheards.

19 But Marie kept all those sayings, and pondred them in her heart.

20 And the shepheardes returned glorifying and praising God, for all that they had heard and seene as it was spoken vnto them.

21 ¶ ✣ 3 And when the eight dayes were accomplished, that they shoulde circumcise the childe, his name was then called ✣ Iesus, which was named of the Angel, before he was conceiued in the wombe.

22 ∴ 4 And when the dayes of h her purification after the Law of Moses were accomplished, they brought him to Hierusalem, to present him to the Lord, 24 And to giue an oblation, ✣ as it is commanded in the Lawe of the Lorde, a paire of turtle doues, or two yong pigeons.

25 5 And behold, there was a man in Hierusalem, whose name was Simeon: this man was iust, and feared God, and waited for the consolation of Israel, and the i holy Ghost was vpon him.

26 And it was declared to him from God by the holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seene that Anointed of the Lord.

27 And he came by the motion of the spirite into the Temple, and when the k parents brought in the babe Iesus, to do for him after the custome of the Lawe,

36 ✣ And there was a Prophetesse, one Anna the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser, which was of a great age, after she had liued with an husband seuen yeeres from her virginitie:

37 And she was widowe about foure score and foure yeeres, and went not out of the Temple, but serued God with fastings & prayers night and day.

38 She then cõming at the same instant vpon them, confessed likewise the Lord, & spake of him to all that looked for redemption in Hierusalem.

39 And when they had performed all things according to the Law of the Lorde, they returned into Galile to their owne citie Nazareth.

44 But they supposing, that he had bene in the company, went a dayes iourney, and sought him among their kinsfolke, and acquaintance.

45 And when they found him not, they turned backe to Hierusalem, and sought him.

46 And it came to passe three dayes after, that they foũd him in the Temple, sitting in the mids of the doctours, both hearing them, and asking them questions:

47 And all that heard him, were astonied at his vnderstanding and answeres.

48 ✣ So when they sawe him, they were amased and his mother said vnto him, Sonne, why hast thou thus dealt with vs? beholde, thy father and I haue sought thee with very heauie hearts.

49 Then said he vnto them, Howe is it that yee sought me? knew yee not that I must goe about my Fathers busines?

50 But they vnderstood not the word that he spake to them.

51 ✣ Then hee went downe with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subiect to them: and his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

52 And Iesus increased in wisedome, and stature, and in fauour with God and men.

4 Iohn exhorteth to repentance. 15 His testimonie of Christ 20 Herod putteth him in prison. 21 Christ is baptized. 23 His pedigree.

NOwe ˡ in the fifteenth yeere of the reigne of Tiberius Cæsar, Pontius Pilate being gouernour of Iudea, and Herod being Tetrarch of Galile, and his brother Philip Tetrarch of Iturea, and of the countrey of Trachonitis, and Lysanias the Tetrarch of Abilene,

2 (✣ When ᵃ Annas and Caiaphas were the hie Priestes) the worde of God came vnto Iohn, the sonne of Zacharias in the wildernes.

3 ✣ And hee came into all the coastes about Iordan, preaching the baptisme of repentance for the remission of sinnes,

4 As it is written in the booke of the sayings of Esaias the Prophet, which saith, ∴ The voyce of him that crieth in the wildernes is, Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make his paths straight.

5 Euery valley shalbe filled, and euery mountaine and hill shalbe brought lowe, and crooked things shalbe made straight, and the rough wayes shalbe made smoothe.

6 And all flesh shall see the saluation of God.

7 Then said he to the people that were come out to be baptized of him, ✣ O generation of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring foorth therefore fruites worthy amendement of life, and beginne not to say with your selues, We haue Abraham to our father: for I say vnto you, that God is able of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham.

9 Nowe also is the axe layed vnto the roote of the trees: therefore euery tree which bringeth not foorth good fruite, shalbe hewen downe, and cast into the fire.

10 ¶ Then the people asked him, saying, What shall we doe then?

11 And he answered, & said vnto thẽ, ✣ he that hath two coates, let him part with him that hath none: & he that hath meat, let him do likewise.

12 Then came there Publicanes also to bee baptized, and sayde vnto him, Master, what shall we doe?

13 And he saide vnto them, Require no more then that which is ᵇ appointed vnto you.

14 The souldiers likewise demaunded of him, saying, And what shall we doe? And he sayd vnto them, Doe violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely, and be content with your ᶜ wages.

15 ² As the people waited, and all men mused in their hearts of Iohn, if he were not that Christ, 16 Iohn answered, and sayde to them all, * In deede I baptize you with water, but one stronger then I, commeth, whose shoes latchet I am not worthy to vnloose: hee will baptize you with the holy Ghost, and with fire.

18 Thus then exhorting with many other things, he preached vnto the people.

19 ✣ ⁴ But when Herod the Tetrarch was rebuked of him, for Herodias his brother Philips wife, and for al the euils which Herod had done, 20 He added yet this aboue all, that he shut vp Iohn in prison.

21 ✣ ⁵ Nowe it came to passe, as all the people were baptized, and that Iesus was baptized and did pray, that the heauen was opened:

CHAP IIII.

1 Of Christes temptation, and fasting. 16 He teacheth in Nazareth to the great admiration of all. 24 A Prophet that teacheth in his owne country is contemned. 33 One possessed of the deuill is cured. 38 Peters mother in law is healed, 40 and diuers sicke persons are restored to health. 41 The deuils acknowledge Christ.

AND [1] Iesus full of the holy Ghost returned from Iordan, and was led by that Spirit into the wildernes,

2 ✣ And was there fourtie dayes tempted of the deuil, & in those days he did eate nothing: but when they were ended, he afterward was hungry.

3 [2] Then the deuill said vnto him, If thou be the sonne of God, commaund this stone that it be made bread.

4 But Iesus answered him, saying, It is written, ✣ That man shall not liue by bread only, but by euery word of God.

5 Then the deuill tooke him vp into an high mountaine, and shewed him all the kingdomes of the world, in the twinkeling of an eye.

6 And the deuill saide vnto him, All this [a] power will I giue thee, and the glorie of those kingdomes: for that is [b] deliuered to me: and to whomsoeuer I will, I giue it.

7 If thou therefore wilt worship mee, they shalbe all [c] thine.

8 But Iesus answered him, and saide, Hence from me, Satan: for it is written, ✣ Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him alone thou shalt serue.

9 Then he brought him to Hierusalem, and set him on a pinacle of the Temple, and said vnto him, If thou be the Sonne of God, cast thy selfe downe from hence,

10 For it is written, ✣ That hee will giue his Angels charge ouer thee to keepe thee:

11 And with their handes they shall lift thee vp, least at any time thou shouldest dash thy foote against a stone.

12 And Iesus answered, and said vnto him, It is said, ✣ Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

13 And when the deuill had ended all the tentation, he departed from him for a little season.

14 ¶ And Iesus returned by the power of the spirite into Galile: and there went a fame of him throughout all the region round about.

15 For he taught in their Synagogues, and was honoured of all men.

16 ✣ [3] And he came to Nazareth where hee had bene brought vp, and (as his custome was) went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath day, and stoode vp to reade.

17 And there was deliuered vnto him the booke of the Prophet Elaias: and when hee had [d] opened the booke, he found the place, where it was written,

19 And that I shoulde preach the acceptable yeere of the Lord.

20 And he closed the booke, & gaue it againe to the minister, & sate down: & the eies of al that were in the Synagogue were fastened on him.

21 Then he began to say vnto them, This day is the Scripture fulfilled in your eares.

22 [4] And all [e] bare him witnes, and [f] wondred at the [g] gracious words, which proceeded out of his mouth, and said, Is not this Iosephs sonne?

23 Then he said vnto them, Ye will surely say vnto me this prouerbe, Physician, heale thy selfe: whatsoeuer wee haue heard done in Capernaum, do it here likewise in thine owne countrey.

THen 1 ✣ it came to passe, as ỹ people a preassed vpō him to heare the word of God, that he stoode by the lake of Genneseret,

2 And saw two shippes stand by the lakes side, but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nettes.

3 And hee entred into one of the ships, which was Simons, & required him that he would thrust off a litle from the land: and he sate downe, and taught the people out of the shippe.

4 ¶ Now when he had left speaking, he saide vnto Simon, Lanche out into the deepe, and let downe your nettes to make a draught.

5 Then Simon answered, and saide vnto him, b Master, we haue trauailed sore al night, & haue taken nothing: neuertheless at thy word I will let downe the net.

6 And when they had so done, they enclosed a great multitude of fishes, so that their net brake.

7 And they beckened to their parteners, which were in the other shippe, that they shoulde come and helpe them, who came then, and filled both the shippes, that they did sinke.

8 Now when Simon Peter saw it, he fell downe at Iesus knees, saying, Lord, go from me: for I am a sinfull man.

9 For hee was vtterly astonied, and all that were with him, for the draught of fishes which they tooke.

10 And so was also Iames and Iohn ỹ sonnes of Zebedeus, which were companions with Simō. Then Iesus sayde vnto Simon, Feare not: from henceforth thou shalt catch men.

12 ¶ ✣ 2 Now it came to passe, as he was in a certaine citie, behold, there was a man full of leprosie, & when he sawe Iesus, he fell on his face, & besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

13 So he stretched forth his hand, & touched him, saying, I wil, be thou cleane. And immediatly the leprosie departed from him.

14 And he commanded him that hee should tel it no man: but Go, saith he, and shew thy selfe to the Priest, and offer for thy clensing, as ✣ Moses hath commanded, for a witnesse vnto them.

19 And when they coulde not finde by what way they might bring him in, because of the preasse, they went vp on the house, and let him downe through the tyling, bed and al, in the mids before Iesus.

20 And when he sawe their faith, he said vnto him, Man, thy sinnes are forgiuen thee.

21 Then the Scribes & the Pharises began to reason, saying, Who is this that speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgiue sinnes, but God only?

22 But when Iesus perceiued their reasoning, he answered, and said vnto them, What reason yē in your hearts?

23 Whether is easier to say, Thy sinnes are forgiuen thee, or to say, Rise and walke?

7 And the Scribes and Pharises watched him, whether he would heale on the Sabbath day, that they might finde an accusation against him.

8 But hee knewe their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hande, Arise, and stande vppe in the middes. And hee arose, and stoode vp.

9 Then saide Iesus vnto them, I will aske you a question, Whether is it lawfull on the Sabbath dayes to doe good, or doe euil? to saue life, or to b destroy?

10 And he behelde them all in compasse, and said vnto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he did so, & his hād was restored againe, as whole as the other.

11 Then they were filled ful of madnesse, and communed one with another, what they might doe to Iesus.

2 And a certaine Centurions seruant was sicke and ready to die, which was deare vnto him.

3 And when he heard of Iesus, he sent vnto him the Elders of the Iewes, beseeching him that he would come, and heale his seruant.

4 So they came to Iesus, and besought him instantly, saying that hee was worthy that hee should doe this for him:

5 For he loueth, sayd they, our nation, and he hath built vs a Synagogue.

6 Then Iesus went with them: but when hee was now not farre from the house, the Centurion sent friendes to him, saying vnto him, Lord, trouble not thy selfe: for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter vnder my roofe:

7 Wherefore I thought not my selfe worthy to come vnto thee: but say the worde, and my seruant shalbe whole:

8 For I likewise am a man set vnder authoritie, and haue vnder me souldiers, and I say vnto one, Goe, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he commeth: and to my seruant, Doe this, and he doeth it.

9 When Iesus heard these things, he marueiled at him, and turned him, and said to the people, that followed him, I say vnto you, I haue not found so great faith, no not in Israel.

10 And when they that were sent, turned backe to the house, they found the seruant that was sicke, whole.

38 ✣ And shee stoode at his feete behind him weeping, and began to wash his feete with teares, and did wipe them with the haires of her head, and kissed his feete, and anoynted them with the oyntment.

39 7 Now when the Pharise which bade him, saw it, he spake within himselfe, saying, If this man were a Prophet, hee would surely haue knowen who, and what maner of woman this is which toucheth him: e for she is a sinner.

7 Rashnesse is the fellow of pride.

e The Pharisee spetteth the Lawe, which holdeth them defiled, that touch the defiled.

40 8 And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto him, Simon, I haue somewhat to say vnto thee. And he said, Master, say on.

41 There was a certaine lender which had two detters: the one ought fiue hundreth pence, and the other fiftie.

42 When they had nothing to pay, he forgaue them both: Which of them therefore, tell mee, will loue him most?

43 Simon answered, and said, I suppose that he, to whom he forgaue most. And he said vnto him, Thou hast truely iudged.

8 To loue Christ, is a sure and perpetuall witnes of remissiō of sinnes.

f That is, sayth Theophylact, she hath shewed her faith abundantly: and Basil in his sermon of Baptisme sayth, He that oweth much, hath much forgiuen him, that he may loue much more: And therefore Christ saying it so plaine by the similitude, that it is a wonder to see the enemies of the truth to rage and racke this place so fondly to establish their meritorious works: for the greater sinner a man hath forgiuen him, the more he loueth him that hath bene so gracious to him: And this woman shewed by deedes of loue, how great the benefite was she had receiued: and therefore the chiefe that is here spoken of, is not to be taken for the cause, but as a signe: for Christ saith not as the Pharises did, that she was a sinner, but beareth her witnesse that the sinnes of her life past are forgiuen her.

44 Then he turned to the woman, and said vnto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entred into thine house, and thou gauest me no water to my feete: but she hath washed my feete with teares, and wiped them with the haires of her head.

45 Thou gauest me no kisse: but she, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kisse my feete.

46 Mine head with oyle thou didest not anoint: but she hath anoynted my feete with oyntment.

47 Wherefore I say vnto thee, many sinnes are forgiuen her: f for she loued much. To whom a litle is forgiuen, he doeth loue a litle.

48 And he sayd vnto her, Thy sinnes are forgiuen thee.

49 And they that sate at table with him, began to say within themselues, Who is this that euen forgiueth sinnes?

50 And he sayd to the woman, Thy faith hath saued thee: g goe in peace.

6 And some fell on the stones, and when it was sprung vp, it withered away, because it lacked moystnesse.

7 And some fell among thornes, and the thornes sprang vp with it, and choked it.

8 And some fell on good ground, and sprang vp, and vp, and bare fruite, an hundreth fold: And as hee ſaid these things, he cried, Hee that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

9 Then his diſciples asked him, demaunding what parable that was.

10 And hee ſaid, Vnto you it is giuen to know the ᵃ ſecrets of the kingdome of God, but to other in parables, ẏ when ✣ they ſee, they ſhould not ſee, & when they heare, they ſhould not vnderſtand.

11 ✣ The parable is this, The ſeed is the word of God.

12 And they that are beſide the way, are they that heare: afterward commeth the deuil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, leaſt they ſhould beleeue, and be ſaued.

13 But they that are on the ſtones, are they which whē they haue heard, receiue ẏ word with ioy: but they haue no rootes: which for a while beleeue, but in the time of tentation goe away.

14 And that which fel among thornes, are they which haue heard, and after ᵇ their departure are choked with cares and with richs, and voluptuous liuing, and ᶜ bring foorth no fruite.

15 But that which fel in good ground, are they which with an ᵈ honeſt and good heart heare the word, ᵉ and keepe it, and bring foorth fruite with patience.

16 ¶ ✣ 2 No man when he hath lighted a candle, couereth it vnder a veſſell, neither putteth it vnder the bed, but ſetteth it on a candleſticke, that they that enter in, may ſee the light.

17 ✣ For nothing is ſecret, that ſhal not bee euident: neither any thing hidde, that ſhall not bee knowen, and come to light.

18 ✣ Take f heed therefore how ye heare: for whoſoeuer hath, to him ſhalbe giuen: and whoſoeuer hath not, from him ſhalbe taken euen that g which it ſeemeth that he hath.

19 ¶ ✣ Then came to him his mother and his brethren, & could not come neere to him for the preaſſe.

20 And it was told him by certaine which ſaid, Thy mother and thy brethren ſtand without, and would ſee thee.

21 But he anſwered, and ſayd vnto them, My mother & my brethren are theſe which heare the word of God, and doe it.

22 ¶ ✣ 5 And it came to paſſe on a certaine day, that he went into a ſhip with his ᵈ diſciples, and he ſaid vnto them, Let vs goe ouer vnto the other ſide of the lake. And they launched forth.

23 And as they ſailed, hee fell ʰ a ſleepe, and there came downe a ſtorme of wind on the lake, and they were filled with water, and were in ieopardie.

24 Then they went to him, and awoke him, ſaying, Maſter, Maſter, we periſh. And he aroſe, and rebuked the wind, and the waues of water: and they ceaſed, and it was calme.

25 Then hee ſayd vnto them, Where is your faith? and they feared, and wondered among themſelues, ſaying, Who is this that cōmaundeth both the windes and water, and they obey him?

26 ¶ ✣ So they ſailed vnto the region of the Gadarenes, which is ouer against Galile.

27 ᶜ And as he went out to land, there met him a certaine man out of the citie, which had deuils long time, & he ware no garment, neither abode in houſe, but in the graues.

28 And when hee ſawe Ieſus, he cryed out & fel downe before him, & with a loude voyce ſaid, What haue I to doe with thee, Ieſus the ſonne of God the moſt High? I beſeech thee torment me not.

29 For he cōmanded the foule ſpirit to come out of ẏ man: (for oft times he had caught him: therefore he was bound with chaines, and kept in fetters: but he brake the bandes, ᵏ and was caried of the deuil into wildernesſes.)

30 Then Ieſus aſked him, ſaying, What is thy name? and he ſaide, Legion, becauſe many deuils were entred into him.

31 And they beſought him, that he would not command them to go out into the deepe.

32 And there was there by, an heard of many ſwinne, feeding on an hill: & the deuils beſought him, that he would ſuffer them to enter into thē. So he ſuffered them.

33 Then went the deuils out of the man, and entred into the ſwine: and the heard was caried with violence from a ſteepe downe place into the lake, and was choked.

34 When the heardmen ſaw what was done, they fled: & when they were departed, they told it in the citie and in the countrey.

35 Thē they came out to ſee what was done, and came to Ieſus, and founde the man, out of whom the deuils were departed, ſitting at ẏ feet of Ieſus, clothed, and in his right minde: and they were afraid.

36 They alſo which ſaw it, told them by what meanes he that was poſſeſſed with the deuill, was healed.

37 Then the whole multitude of the countrey about the Gadarenes, beſought him that hee woulde depart from them: for they were taken with a great feare: and he went into the ſhip, and returned.

38 Then the man, out of whome the deuils were departed, beſought him that hee might bee with him: but Ieſus ſent him away, ſaying, 39 Returne into thine owne houſe, and ſhewe what great things God hath done to thee. So hee went his way, & preached throughout al the citie, what great things Ieſus had done vnto him.

40 ¶ And it came to paſſe, whē Ieſus was come againe, that the people receiued him: for they al waited for him.

41 ¶ ✣ 7 And behold, there came a man named Iairus, & he was the ruler of ẏ Synagogue, who fell downe at Ieſus feete, and beſought him that he woulde come into his houſe.

28 ✣ [4] And it came to passe about an eight dayes after those wordes, that he tooke Peter and Iohn, and Iames, and went vp into a mountaine to pray.

29 And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenance was changed, and his garment was white and glistered.

30 And beholde, two men talked with him, which were Moses and Elias:

31 Which appeared in glorie, and tolde of his [h] departing, which he should accomplish at Hierusalem.

32 But Peter & they that were with him, were heauy with sleepe, & when they awoke, they saw his glorie, and the two men standing with him.

33 And it came to passe, as they departed from him, Peter said vnto Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to be here: let vs therefore make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias, and wist not what he said.

34 Whiles he thus spake, there came a cloude and ouershadowed them, and they feared when they were entring into the cloude.

✣ 2. Peter 1.17.

35 ✣ And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is that my beloued sonne, heare him.

36 And when the voyce was past, Iesus was found alone: and they kept it close, and tolde no man in [i] those dayes any of those thinges which they had seene.

37 ¶ [7] And it came to passe on the next day, as they came downe from the mountaine, much people met him.

38 ∴ And behold, a man of the companie cried out, saying, Maister, I beseeche thee, beholde my sonne: for he is all that I haue.

39 And loe, a spirit taketh him, and suddenly he crieth, and he teareth him, that he foameth, and hardly departeth from him, when he hath [k] bruised him.

40 Now I haue besought thy disciples to cast him out, but they could not.

41 Then Iesus answered, & said, O generation faithlesse, and crooked, how long now shall I be with you, and suffer you? bring thy sonne hither.

42 And whiles he was yet comming, the deuil rent him, and tare him: and Iesus rebuked the vncleane spirite, and healed the childe, and deliuered him to his father.

43 ¶ [8] And they were all amased at the mightie power of God: & while they al wondered at al things, which Iesus did, he said vnto his disciples, 44 [l] Marke these wordes diligently: ∴ for it shall come to passe, that the sonne of man shalbe deliuered into the handes of men.

45 But they vnderstood not that word: for it was hid from them, so that they could not perceiue it: and they feared to aske him of that word.

46 ¶ ✣ [9] Then there arose a disputation among them, which of them should be the greatest.

47 When Iesus sawe the thoughtes of their hearts, he tooke a litle childe, and set him by him, 48 And said vnto him, Whosoeuer receiueth this litle childe in my Name, receiueth mee: and whosoeuer shall receiue me, receiueth him y sent me: for he y is least among you al, he shal be great.

49 ¶ ✣ [10] And Iohn answered and saide, Master, we sawe one casting out diuels in thy Name, and we forbad him, because he followeth thee not with vs.

50 Then Iesus saide vnto him, Forbid ye him not: for he that is not against vs, is with vs.

51 ¶ [11] And it came to passe, when the dayes were accõplished, that he should be receiued vp, he [m] setled himselfe fullie to goe to Hierusalem, 52 And sent messengers before him: and they went and entred into a towne of the Samaritans, to prepare him lodging.

53 But they would not receiue him, because his behauiour was as though he would go to Hierusalem.

55 But Iesus turned about, and rebuked the, and said, Ye know not of what [n] spirite ye are.

56 For the Sonne of man is not come to destroy mens liues, but to saue them. Then they went to another towne.

57 ¶ [13] And it came to passe that as they went in the way, a certaine man said vnto him, I will follow thee, Lord, whithersoeuer thou goest.

58 And Iesus said vnto him, The foxes haue holes, and the birdes of the heauen nests, but the Sonne of man hath not whereon to lay his head.

59 [14] But he saide vnto another, Follow me. And the same said, Lord, suffer me first to go and burie my father.

60 And Iesus said vnto him, Let the dead burie [o] their dead: but goe thou, and preach the kingdome of God.

61 [15] Then another saide, I will follow thee, Lord: but let me first go bid them farewell, which are at mine house.

16 ¶ ✣ He that heareth you, heareth me: and he that despiseth you, despiseth me: and he that despiseth me, despiseth him that sent me.

17 ¶ 4 And the seuentie turned againe with ioy, saying, Lord, euen the deuils are subdued to vs ᵍ through thy Name.

18 And he said vnto them, I sawe Satan, like lightening, ʰ fall downe from heauen.

19 Beholde, I giue vnto you power to treade on Serpents, and Scorpions, & ouer all the power of the enemie, and nothing shall ᵍ hurt you.

20 Neuertheless, in this reioyce not, that the spirites are subdued vnto you: but rather reioyce, because your names are written in heauen.

21 ¶ 5 That same houre reioyced Iesus in the spirit, and said, I confesse vnto thee, Father, Lord of heauen & earth, that thou hast hid these things from the ʰ wise and vnderstanding, and hast reueiled them to babes: euen so, Father, because it so pleased thee. ‖

22 ✣ All thinges are giuen me of my Father: and no man knoweth who the sonne is, but the Father: neither who the Father is, saue the Sonne, and he to whom the sonne will reueile him.

23 ¶ 7 And he turned to his disciples, & said secretly, Blessed are the eies, which see that ye see.

24 For I tell you that many Prophets and Kings haue desired to see those things, which yee see, and haue not seene them: and to heare those things which ye heare, and haue not heard them.

25 ¶ ✣ Then beholde, ⁱ a certaine Lawyer stoode vp, and tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I doe, to inherite eternall life?

26 And he said vnto him, What is written in the Lawe? how readest thou?

27 And he answered and said, ✣ Thou shalt loue thy Lord God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy strength, and with all thy thought, ✣ and thy neighbour as thy selfe.

28 Then he said vnto him, Thou hast answered right: this doe, and thou shalt liue.

29 9 But he willing to ᵏ iustifie himselfe, said vnto Iesus, Who is then my neighbour?

9 All they are comprehended in the name of our neighbour, by the Lawe, whomsoeuer we may helpe.

k That is, so vouch his righteousnesse, or shewe, that he was iust, that is, void of all faults: and Iames 3. vseth the worde of iustification in this sense.

30 And Iesus answered, and said, A certaine man went downe from Hierusalem to Iericho, & fell among theeues, and they robbed him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leauing him halfe dead.

31 Now so it fell out, that there came downe a certaine Priest that same way, and when he sawe him, he passed by on the other side.

32 And likewise also a Leuite, when he was come neere to the place, went and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

33 Then a certaine Samaritane, as he iourneied, came neere vnto him, and when he sawe him, he had compassion on him, 34 And went to him, & bound vp his wounds, and powred in oyle and wine, and put him on his owne beast, and brought him to an Inne, and made prouision for him.

35 And on the morrow when he departed, he tooke out two pence, and gaue them to the host, and said vnto him, Take care of him, & whatsoeuer thou spendest more, when I come againe, I will recompense thee.

36 Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour vnto him that fell among the theeues?

37 And he saide, He that shewed mercie on him. Then said Iesus vnto him, Goe, and do thou likewise.

38 ¶ ✣ Now it came to passe, as they went, that he entred into a certaine towne, and a certaine woman named Martha, receiued him into her house.

10 Christ careth not to be entertained delicately, but to be heard diligently, that is it, which he especially requireth.

39 And she had a sister called Mary, which also sate at Iesus feete, and heard his preaching.

40 But Martha was combred about much seruing, and came to him, and said, Master, doest thou not care that my sister hath left me to serue alone? bid her therefore, that she helpe me.

41 And Iesus answered, and said vnto her, Martha, Martha, thou carest, and art troubled about many thinges:

42 But one thing is needfull, Mary hath chosen the good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

CHAP. XI.

1 He teacheth his Apostles to pray. 14 The dumme deuil driuen out. 27 A woman of the compasse listeth vp her voice. 29 The Iewes require signes. 37 He being feasted of the Pharise, reproueth the outward shewe of holynesse.

AND so it was, that as he was praying in a certaine place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said vnto him, Lord, teach vs to pray, as Iohn also taught his disciples.

1 A forme of the praier.

a That is, as much as is needfull for vs this day, whereby we are not debarred to haue an honest care for the maintenance of our liues, but that carping care, which killeth a number of men, is cut off and restrained.

2 We must pray with faith.

2 ✣ And he said vnto them, When yee pray, say, ˡ Our father which art in heauen, halowed be thy Name: Thy kingdome come: Let thy will be done, euen in earth, as it is in heauen:

3 Our dayly bread giue vs ᵃ for the day:

4 And forgiue vs our sinnes: for euen we forgiue euerie man that is indetted to vs: And leade vs not into temptation: but deliuer vs from euill.

5 ¶ ² Moreouer he said vnto them, Which of you you shall haue a friende, and shall goe to him at midnight, and say vnto him, Friend, lende mee three loaues?

6 For a friende of mine is come out of the way to me, and I haue nothing to set before him:

7 And he within shoulde answere, and say, Trouble me not: the doore is nowe shut, and my children are with mee in bed: I cannot rise and giue them to thee.

8 I say vnto you, Though he would not arise and giue him, because he is his friend, yet doubtles because of his b importunitie, he would rise, and giue him as many as he needed.

9 ✣ And I say vnto you, Aske, and it shall bee giuen you: seeke, and ye shall finde: knocke, and it shall be opened vnto you.

10 ✣ For euery one ỹ asketh, receiueth: and he that seeketh, findeth: & to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.

11 ✣ If a sonne shall aske bread of any of you that is a father, will hee giue him a stone? or if he aske a fish, will ye for a fish giue him a serpent?

12 Or if hee aske an egge, will he giue him a scorpion?

13 If ye then which are euill, can giue good giftes vnto your children, howe much more shal your heauenly Father giue the holy Ghost to them, that desire him?

14 ¶ ✣ Then hee cast out a deuill which was domme: and when the deuil was gone out, the domme spake, and the people wondered.

15 3 But some of them said, ✣ He casteth out deuils through Beelzebub the chief of the deuils.

16 And others tempted him, seeking of him a signe from heauen.

17 4 But he knew their thoughts, & said vnto them, * Euery kingdome diuided against it selfe, shall be desolate, and an house deuided against an house, falleth.

18 So if Satan also be deuided against himself, how shal his kingdome stand, because ye say that I cast out deuils c through Beelzebub?

19 If I through Beelzebub cast out deuils, by whom doe your children cast them out? Therefore shall they be your iudges.

20 But if I by d finger of God cast out deuils, doutles the kingdom of God is come vnto you.

21 Whē a strong man armed keepeth his e palace, the things that he possesseth, are in peace.

22 But when a stronger then hee, commeth vpon him, and ouercommeth him: hee taketh from him al his armour wherein hee trusted, and deuideth his spoyles.

23 5 He that is not with me, is against me: & he that gathereth not with me, scattereth.

24 ✣ 6 When the vncleane spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest: & when he findeth none, he saieth, I will returne vnto mine house whence I came out.

25 And when he cōmeth, he findeth it swept and garnished.

26 Then goeth hee, and taketh to him seuen other spirites worse then himselfe: and they enter in, and dwell there: & so the last state of that man is worse then the first.

27 ¶ 7 And it came to passe as hee said these things, a certaine woman of the companie lifted vp her voyce, and saide vnto him, Blessed is the wombe that bare thee, and the paps which thou hast sucked.

28 But hee saide, Yea, rather blessed are they that heare the word of God, and keepe it.

29 ¶ ✣ 8 And when the people were gathered thicke together, he began to say, This is a wicked generation: They seeke a signe, and there shal no signe be giuen them, but the signe of ✣ Ionas the Prophet.

30 For as Ionas was a signe to the Niniuites: so shal also the Sonne of man be to this generation.

31 ✣ The Queene of the South shall rise in iudgement, with the men of this generation, and shall condemne them: for shee came from ỹ vt most partes of the earth to heare the wisedom of Solomon, and beholde, y greater then Solomon is here.

32 The men of Niniue shal rise in iudgement with this generation, and shall condemne it: for they ✣ repented at the preaching of Ionas: and beholde, a greater then Ionas is here.

33 ¶ ✣ 9 No man when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a priuie place, neither vnder a bushell: but on a candlesticke, that they which come in, may see the light.

34 * The light of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, then is thy whole bodie light: but if thine eye bee euill, then thy body is darke.

35 Take heede therefore, that the light which is in thee, be not darkenesse.

36 If therefore thy whole body shall be light, hauing no part darke, then shall all be light, euen as whē a candle doth light thee with the brightnesse.

37 ¶ 10 And as hee spake, a certaine Pharise besought him to dine with him: and he went in, and sate downe at table.

38 And when the Pharise saw it, he marueiled that he had not first washed before dinner.

39 ✣ And the Lorde sayd to him, In deede ye Pharises make cleane the outside of the cuppe, and of the platter: but the inward part is full of rauening and wickednesse.

40 Ye fooles, did not he that made that which is without, make that which is within also?

41 Therefore, giue almes f of those things which you haue, and beholde, all things shall be cleane to you.

42 11 But wo be to you, Pharises: for ye g tithe the mynt and the rewe, and h all maner herbs, & passe ouer i iudgement & the loue of God: these ought ye to haue done, and not to haue left the other vndone.

44 13 Wo be to you, Scribes and Pharises hypocrites: for ye are as graues which appeare not, and the men that walke ouer them, perceiue not.

45 ¶ 14 Then answered one of the lawyers, and saide vnto him, Master, thus saying thou puttest vs to rebuke also.

CHAP. XII.

1. The leauen of the Phariſes. 5 Who is to be feared. 8 To confeſſe Chriſt. 17 The Parable of the rich man whoſe land was very fertile. 22 Not to care for earthly things, 31 but to ſeeke the kingdome of God. 39 The theefe in the night. 51 Debate for the Goſpels ſake.

IN ✣ the meane time, there gathered together 2 an innumerable multitude of people, ſo that they trode one another: and he began to ſay vnto his diſciples firſt, Take heede to your ſelues of the leauen of the Phariſees, which is hypocriſie.

2 ✣ For there is nothing couered, that ſhall not be reueiled: neither hidde, that ſhall not bee knowen.

3 Wherefore whatſoeuer yee haue ſpoken in darkneſſe, it ſhall be heard in the light: and that which ye haue ſpoken it the eare, in ſecret places, ſhall be preached on the houſes.

4 ✣ 2 And I ſay vnto you my friendes, be not afraide of them that kill the body, and after that are not able to doe any more.

5 But I wil b forewarne you, whō ye ſhal feare: feare him which after he hath killed, hath power to caſt into hell: yea, I ſay vnto you, him feare.

6 Are not fiue ſparowes bought for two farthings, and yet not one of them is forgotten before God?

7 ✣ Yea, and all the haires of your head are numbred: feare not therefore: ye are more of value then many ſparowes.

8 ✣ 3 Alſo I ſay vnto you, Whoſoeuer ſhall confeſſe me before men, him ſhall the Sonne of man confeſſe alſo before the Angels of God.

9 But he that ſhal denie me before men, ſhall be denied before the Angels of God.

10 ✣ And whoſoeuer ſhall ſpeake a worde againſt the Sonne of man, it ſhall be forgiuen him: but vnto him that ſhall blaſpheme ỹ holy Ghoſt, it ſhall not be forgiuen.

11 ✣ 4 And when they ſhal bring you vnto the Synagogues, and vnto the rulers & Princes, take no thought how, or what thing ye ſhall anſwere, or what ye ſhal ſpeake.

12 For the holy Ghoſt ſhall teach you in the ſame houre, what ye ought to ſay.

13 5 And one of the company ſaid vnto him, Maſter, bid my brother deuide the inheritance with me.

14 And he ſaid vnto him, Man, who made me a iudge, or a deuider ouer you?

15 Wherefore he ſaid vnto thē, Take heede, & beware of c couetouſnes: for though a man haue aboundāce, yet his life ſtandeth not in his riches.

16 ❧ 5 And he put foorth a parable vnto them, ſaying, The e grounde of a certaine riche man brought foorth fruites plenteouſly.

17 Therefore he f thought with himſelfe, ſaying, What ſhall I doe, becauſe I haue no rowme, where I may lay vp my friutes.

18 And he ſaid, This wil I do, I wil pul down my barnes, and builde greater, and therein wil I gather all my fruites, and my goodes.

19 And I wil ſay to my ſoule, Soule, thou haſt much goods laid vp for many yeeres: liue at eaſe, eate, drinke and g take thy paſtime.

20 But God ſaid vnto him, O foole, this night wil they fetch away thy ſoule frō thee: thē whoſe ſhall thoſe things be which thou haſt prouided?

21 So is he that gathereth riches h to himſelfe, and is not riche in God.

22 7 And he ſpake vnto his diſciples, Therfore I ſay vnto you, ❧ Take no thought for your life, what ye ſhal eate: neither for your body, what ye ſhall put on.

23 The life is more then meate: & the bodie more then the rayment.

24 Conſider the rauens: for they neither ſow nor reape; which neither haue ſtorehouſe nor barne, & yet God feedeth them: how much more are ye better then foules?

25 And which of you with taking thought, can adde to his ſtature one cubite?

26 If ye then be not able to do the leaſt thing, why take ye thought for the remnant?

27 Conſider the lillies how they growe: they labour not, neither ſpin they: yet I ſay vnto you, that Solomon himſelfe in all his royaltie was not clothed like one of theſe.

28 If then God ſo clothe the graſſe which is to day in the fielde, & to morrowe is caſt into the ouen, howe much more will he clothe you, O yee of litle faith?

29 Therefore aske not what ye ſhal eate, or what ye ſhal drink, neither hang you in ſuſpence.

45 But if that seruant say in his heart, My Master doeth deferre his comming, and shal beginne to smite the seruants, and maydens, and to eate, and drinke, and to be drunken, 46 The master of that seruant will come in a day when he thinketh not, and at an houre when hee is not ware of, and will cut him off, and giue him his portion with the vnbeleeuers.

47 ¶ And that seruant that knewe his masters wil, and prepared not himselfe, neither did according to his will, shalbe beaten with many stripes.

48 But he that knewe it not, and yet did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with fewe stripes: for vnto whomsoeuer much is giuen, of him shalbe much required, and to whom men much commit, [m] the more of him wil they aske.

4 The parable of the lost sheepe, 8 Of the groate, 11 And of the prodigall sonne.

a We must not despaire of them, which haue gone out of the way, but according to the example of Christ, we must take great paines about them.

2 Therefore the Pharises and Scribes murmured, saying, Hee receiueth sinners, and eateth with them.

3 Then spake he this parable to them, saying,

4 ✣ What man of you hauing an hundreth sheepe, if hee lose one of them, doeth not leaue ninetie and nine in the wilderneesse, and goe after that which is lost, vntil he finde it?

✣ Some Publicans and sinners came to Christ from all quarters.

5 And when he hath found it, hee laith it on his shoulders with ioy.

✣ Matth.18.12.

6 And when he commeth home, hee calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying vnto them, Reioyce with mee: for I haue found my sheepe which was lost.

7 I say vnto you, that likewise ioy shall be in heauen for one sinner that conuerteth, more then for ninetie and nine iust men, which neede none amendement of life.

8 Either what woman hauing ten groates, if she lose one groate, doth not like a candle, & sweepe the house, and seeke diligently till she finde it?

9 And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends, and neighbours, saying, Reioyce with me: for I haue found the groate which I had lost.

10 Likewise I say vnto you, there is ioy in the presence of the Angels of God, for one sinner that conuerteth.

11 ¶ 2 He said moreouer, A certaine man had two sonnes.

2 Men by their voluntarie falling from God, hauing spoiled themselues of the benefites which they receiued of him, cast themselues headlong into infinite calamities: but God of his singular goodnesse, offering himselfe freely to them, whom he called to repentance, through the greatnesse of their miserie wherwith they were tamed, doeth not onely gently receiue them, but also enricheth them with farre greater gifts and blesseth them with the chiefest blisse.

12 And the yonger of them saide to his father, Father, giue mee the portion of the goods that falleth to me. So hee deuided vnto them his substance.

13 So not many dayes after, when the yonger sonne had gathered all together, hee tooke his iourney into a farre countrie, and there he wasted his goods with riotous liuing.

14 Now when he had spent all, there arose a great dearth throughout that land, and he began to be in necessitie.

15 Then hee went and claue to a citizen of that countrey, and he sent him to his farme, to feede swine.

16 And he woulde faine haue filled his bellie with the huskes, that the swine ate: but no man gaue them him.

17 5 Then he came to himselfe, and said, How many hired seruants at my fathers haue breade ynough, and I die for hunger?

3 The beginning of repentance is the acknowledging of the mercie of God, which stirreth vs to hope well.

18 I wil rise and go to my father, and say vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against b heauen, and before thee, b Against God, because he is said to dwell in heauen.

19 And am no more worthy to be called thy sonne: make me as one of thy hired seruants.

20 So hee arose and came to his father, and when hee was yet a great way off, his father saw him and had compassion, and ranne and fell on his necke, and kissed him.

21 4 And the sonne saide vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and before thee, and am no more worthy to be called thy sonne.

4 In true repentance there is a feeling of our sinnes ioyned with sorow and shame, frō whence springeth a confession, after which foloweth forgiuenesse.

22 Then the father saide to his seruants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shooes on his feete,

23 And bring the fat calfe, and kil him, and let vs eate, and be merie:

24 For this my sonne was dead, and is aliue againe: and he was lost, but he is found. And they began to be merie.

25 5 Now the elder bother was in the fielde, and when he came & drewe neere to the house, he heard melodie, and dancing,

5 Such as truely feare God, desire to haue all men to be their fellowes.

26 And called one of his seruants, and asked what those things meant.

27 And hee saide vnto him, Thy brother is come, and thy father hath killed the fatte calfe, because he hath receiued him safe and sound.

28 Then he was angry, and would not goe in: therefore came his father out and entreated him.

29 But he answered and said to his father, Lo, these many yeeres haue I done thee seruice, neither brake I at any time thy commandements, & yet thou neuer gauest mee a kidde that I might make merie with my friends,

30 But

30 But when this thy ſonne was come, which hath deuoured thy goods with harlots, thou haſt for his ſake killed the fat calfe.

31 And he ſaid vnto him, Sonne, thou art euer with me, and all that I haue, is thine. It was meete that we ſhould make mery, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is aliue againe: and hee was loſt, but he is found.

5 There are three sortes of men in the Church: the one sort fall from Christ whom they see not: the other, which according to their vocation, bestowe the giftes, which they haue receiued of God, to his glory with great paines & diligence: the thirde liue idlely, & doe no good. As for the first, the Lord when he commeth wil iustly punish them in his time: the other hee wil bleſſe, according to the paines which they haue taken: and as for the slouthfull and idle persons he wil punish them as the first.

13 5 And he called his ten seruants, and deliuered them ten pieces of money, & said vnto them, Occupie till I come.

14 Now his citizens hated him, & sent an ambassage after him, saying, Wee will not haue this man to reigne ouer vs.

15 And it came to passe, when he was come againe, and had receiued his kingdome, that hee commaunded the seruants to be called to him, to whom he gaue his money, that hee might knowe what euery man had gained.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lorde, d thy piece hath encreased ten pieces.

17 And he sayd vnto him, Well, good seruant: because thou hast bene faithfull in a very little thing, take thou authoritie ouer ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lorde, thy piece hath encreased fiue pieces.

19 And to the same he sayd, Be thou also ruler ouer fiue cities.

20 6 So the other came, & said, Lord, beholde thy piece, which I haue laide vp in a napkin:

21 For I feared thee, because thou art a straight man: thou takest vp that thou laiedst not downe, and reapest that thou diddest not sowe.

22 Then hee sayd vnto him, Of thine owne mouth will I iudge thee, O euill seruant. Thou kneweſt that I am a strait man, taking vp that I layd not downe, and reaping that I did not sowe.

23 Wherefore then gauest not thou my money into ỹ e banke, that at my comming I might haue required it with vantage?

24 And hee sayd to them that stood by, Take from him that piece, and giue it him that hath ten pieces.

and let it forth to husbandmen: and went into a strange countrey, for a great time.

10 And at ỹ time conuenient he sent a seruant to the husbandmen, that they should giue him of the fruite of the vineyarde: but the husbandmen did beate him, and sent him away emptie.

11 Againe he sent yet another seruant: and they did beate him, and foule entreated him, and sent him away emptie.

12 Moreouer he sent the third, and him they wounded, and cast out.

13 Then said the Lord of the vineyard, What shal I doe? I wil send my beloued sonne: it may be that they wil doe reuerence, when they see him.

14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned with themselues, saying, This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What shall the Lord of the vineyarde therefore doe vnto them?

16 Hee will come and destroy these husbandmen, and wil giue out his vineyard to others. But when they heard it, they sayd, God forbid.

25 Then he sayd vnto them, ∴ Giue then vnto Cæsar the things which are Cæsars, and to God those which are Gods.

26 And they could not reproue his saying before the people: but they marueiled at his answere, and helde their peace.

27 ✣ [4] Then came to him certaine of the Sadduces (which denie that there is any resurrection) and they asked him, 28 Saying, Master, ✣ Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans br[o]ther die hauing a wife, and hee die [wi]thout children, his brother should take his wife, and raise vp seede vnto his brother.

32 Last of all the woman died also.

33 Therefore at the resurrection, whose wife of them shall she be? for seuen had her to wife.

34 Then Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, The [g] children of this world marry wiues, and are married.

35 But they which shalbe counted worthy to enioy that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry wiues, neither are married.

36 For they can die no more, forasmuch as they are equal vnto ỹ Angels, & are the sonnes of God, since they are the [h] children of the resurrection.

38 For he is not the God of the dead, but of them which liue: for all [i] liue vnto him.

39 Then certaine of the Scribes answered, and said, Master, thou hast well sayd.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 He is accuſed before Pilate. 7 Hee is ſent to Herode. 11 Hee is mocked. 24 Pilate yeeldeth him vp to the Iewes requeſt. 27 The women bewaile him. 33 He is crucified. 39 One of the theeues reuileth him: 43 The other is ſaued by faith. 45 He dyeth. 53 He is buried.

THen [1] the whole multitude of them aroſe, and led him vnto Pilate.

2 And they began to accuſe him, ſaying, Wee haue found this man [a] peruerting [y] nation, [z] and forbidding to pay tribute to Ceſar, ſaying, That he is Chriſt a King.

3 ∴ And Pilate asked him, ſaying, Art thou the King of the Iewes? And he anſwered him, and ſayd, Thou ſayeſt it.

4 Then ſayd Pilate to the hie Prieſtes, and to the people, I finde no fault in this man.

5 But they were the more fierce, ſaying, Hee moueth the people, teaching throughout all Iudea, beginning at Galile, euen to this place.

6 [2] Now when Pilate heard of Galile, he asked whether the man were a Galilean.

7 And when hee knewe that he was of [b] Herods iuriſdiction, he ſent him to Herod, which was alſo at Hieruſalem in thoſe dayes.

8 And whē Herod ſaw Ieſus, he was exceedingly glad: for hee was deſirous to ſee him of a long ſeaſon, becauſe he had heard many things of him, & truſted to haue ſeene ſome ſigne done by him.

9 Then queſtioned hee with him of many things: but he anſwered him nothing.

10 The hie Prieſts alſo & Scribes ſtood forth, and accuſed him vehemently.

11 And Herod with his [c] men of warre, deſpiſed him, and mocked him, & arayed him in white, and ſent him againe to Pilate.

12 [3] And the ſame day Pilate and Herod were made friendes together: for before they were enemies one to another.

13 ¶ [4] Then Pilate called together the hie Prieſts and the [d] rulers, and the people,

14 ✣ And ſayd vnto them, Yee haue brought this man vnto me, as one that peruerted the people: and beholde, I haue examined him before you, and haue found no fault in this man, of thoſe things whereof ye accuſe him:

15 No, nor yet Herod: for I ſent you to him: and loe, nothing worthy of death is done of him.

16 [5] I wil therefore chaſtiſe him, and let him looſe.

17 (For of neceſſitie hee muſt haue let one looſe vnto them at the feaſt.)

18 Then all [y] multitude cried at once, ſaying, Away with him, and deliuer vnto vs Barabbas:

19 Which for a certaine inſurrection made in the citie, and murther, was caſt in priſon.

20 Then Pilate ſpake againe to them, willing to let Ieſus looſe.

21 But they cried, ſaying, Crucifie, crucifie him.

22 [6] And he ſaid vnto them the third time, But what euill hath hee done? I finde no cauſe of death in him: I wil therefore chaſtiſe him, and let him looſe.

23 But they were inſtant with loude voyces, and required that he might be crucified: and the voyces of them and of the hie Prieſts preuailed.

24 So Pilate gaue ſentence, that it ſhould be as they required.

25 And hee let looſe vnto them him that for inſurrection and murther was caſt into priſon, whome they deſired, and deliuered Ieſus to doe with him what they would.

26 ¶ ✣ [7] And as they led him away, they caught one Simon of Cyrene, comming out of the fielde, & on him they laide the croſſe, to beare it after Ieſus.

27 [8] And there followed him a great multitude of people, and of women, which women bewailed and lamented him.

28 But Ieſus turned backe vnto them, & ſaid, Daughters of Hieruſalem, weepe not for me, but weepe for your ſelues, and for your children.

29 For behold, [y] daies wil come, when men ſhal ſay, Bleſſed are the barrein, and the wombes that neuer bare, and the paps which neuer gaue ſucke.

30 Then ſhal they begin to ſay to the mountaines, ✣ Fall on vs: and to the hilles, Couer vs.

31 ∴ For if they doe theſe things to a [e] greene tree, what ſhall be done to the drie?

32 ✣ And there were two others, which were euill doers, led with him to be ſlaine.

33 [9] And when they were come to the place, which is called Caluarie, there they crucified him, and the euil doers: one at the right hand, and the other at the left.

34 [10] Then ſaid Ieſus, Father, forgiue them: for they knowe not what they doe. And they parted his raiment, and caſt lottes.

35 And the people ſtood, & behelde: and the rulers mocked him with them, ſaying, Hee ſaued others: let him ſaue himſelfe, if he be that Chriſt, the [f] Choſen of God.

36 The ſouldiers alſo mocked him, and came and offered him vineger, 37 And ſaid, If thou be the King of the Iewes, ſaue thy ſelfe.

38 [11] And a ſuperſcription was alſo written ouer him, in Greeke letters, and in Latin, and in Hebrew, THIS IS THAT KING OF THE IEVVES.

39 ¶ [g] And [12] one of [y] euil doers, which were hanged, railed on him, ſaying, If thou bee that Chriſt, ſaue thy ſelfe and vs.

40 But the other anſwered, and rebuked him, ſaying, Feareſt thou not God, ſeeing thou art in the ſame condemnation?

CHAP. I.

1 That word begotten of God before all worldes, 2 and which was euer with the Father, 14 is made man. 6, 7 For what ende Iohn was sent from God: 16 His preaching of Christes office: 19, 20 The record that he bare giuen out vnto the Priests. 40 The calling of Andrew, 42 of Peter, 43 Philip, 45 and Nathanael.

6 ¶ ✣ 4 There was a man sent from God, whose name was Iohn.

7 This same came for a witnesse, to beare witnesse of that light, that all men n through him might beleeue.

8 Hee was not o that light, but was sent to beare witnesse of that light.

9 5 This was p that true light, which lighteth euery man that commeth into the world.

10 9 He was in the world, and the world was ·· made by him: and the world knew him not.

11 He came r vnto his owne, and his owne receiued him not.

12 6 But as many as receiued him, to them he gaue s prerogatiue to bee the sonnes of God, euen to them that beleeue in his Name.

13 Which are borne not of blood, nor of the t wil of the flesh, nor of u wil of man, but of God.

1 The Sonne of God is of one, and the selfe same eternitie or euerlastingnesse, and of one and the selfe same essence or nature, with the Father.

a From the beginning, as the Euangelist saith, 1. epistle 1.1. as though he said, that the word began not then to haue his being, when God began to make all that was made: for the word was euen then when all things that were made, beganne to be made, and therefore hee was before the beginning of all things. b Had his being. c This word, That, pointeth out vnto vs a peculiar and choise thing aboue all other, and putteth a difference betweene this Worde, which is the Sonne of God, and the Lawes of God, which otherwise are also called the worde of God. d This worde With, pointeth out the distinction of persons to vs. e This worde (Word) is the first in order in the sentence, and is that which the learned call (Subiectum) and this worde (God) is the latter in order, and the same which the learned call (praedicatum.) ✣ Col. 1.16. 2 The sonne of God declareth that same his euerlasting Godhead, both by the creating of all things, and also by the presetuing of them, and especially by the excellent gifts of reason and vnderstanding, where with he hath beautified man aboue all other creatures. f Paul expounideth this place, Colos. 1.15. and 16. verses. g That is, as the Father did worke, so did the Sonne worke with him: for he was fellow worker with him. h Of all those things which were made, nothing was made without him. i That is, by him: and it is spoken after the maner of the Hebrewes, meaning thereby that by his force and working power, all that commeth to the world. k To wit, euen then, when all things are made by him, for els he would haue said, Life is in him, and not life was. l That force of reason and vnderstanding, which is kindled in our minds to acknowledge him, the author of so great a benefite.

3 The light of men is turned into darkenesse, but yet so that there is clearenes ynough to make them without excuse. m They could not perceiue nor reach vnto it, so receiue any light of it, no, they did not so much as acknowledge him.

4 There is an other more full manifestation of the Sonne of God, to the confideration whereof men are in good time stirred vp, euen by Iohns voyce, who is as it were the herault of Christ. n Through Iohn. o That light which we spake of, to wit, Christ, who onely can lighten our darkenesse. 5 When as the Sonne of God sawe, that men did not acknowledge him by his workes, although they were endued with vnderstanding (which he had giuen to them all,) he exhibited himselfe vnto his people to be seene of them with their corporall eyes: yet neither so did they acknowledge him, nor receiue him. p Who onely and properly deserueth to be called the light, for he shineth of himselfe and bestoweth light of none. q That person of the Word, was made manifest euen at that time when the world was made. ·· Heb. 11.3. r The Word shewed himselfe againe, when he came in the flesh. 6 The Sonne being shut out of the most of his people, and acknowledged but of a fewe, doeth regenerate them by his owne vertue and power, and receiueth them into that honour which is common to all the children of God, that is to be the sonnes of God. s He vouchsafed to giue them this prerogatiue to take them to bee his children. t Of that grosse and corrupt nature of man, which is throughout the Scriptures set as enemie to the Spirite.

7 That Sonne, who is God from euerlasting, tooke vpon him mans nature, that one and the selfe same might be both God and man, which manifestly appeared to many witnesses, that saw him, amongst whō he was conuersant, and vnto whom by sure and vndoubted arguments he shewed both his natures.
m That is, man: so that the part is taken for the whole, by the figure Synecdoche: for he tooke vpon him all our whole nature, that is to say, a true body, & a true soule.
n For a season, and when that was ended, he went vp into heauen: for the word which he vseth, is taken from tents: and yet notwithstanding, his absence from vs in body is not such, but that he is alwayes present with vs, though not in flesh, yet by the vertue of his spirit.
o The glory which he speaketh of here, is that manifestation of Christ his maiestie, which was as it were laid open before our eies when the Sonne of God appeared in flesh.
p This worde (as) doth not in this place betoken a likelinesse, but the truth of the matter, for his meaning is thus, that we saw such a glory, as beseemed and was meete for the true and only begotten Sonne of God, who is Lord and King ouer all the world.
a He was not only a partaker of grace and truth, but was full of the very substance of grace and truth.
8 Iohn is a faithfull witnesse of the excellencie of Christ.
b That is, He before whom I am sent to prepare him the way: so that these wordes are referred to the time of his calling, and not of his age, for Iohn was sixe moneths older then he.
c This sentence hath in it a turning of the reason as we call it, as who would say, a setting of that first which should bee last, and that last which should be first: for in plaine speach this is it: He that commeth after me, is better then I am, for he was before me. The like kind of turning the reason we finde in Luke 7.47. many sinnes are forgiuen her, because she loued much, which is thus much to say, she loued much, because many sinnes are forgiuē her. ✣ Colos.1.19. and 2. 9.
9 Christ is the most plentifull fountaine of all goodnesse, but then he powred out his gifts most bountifully, when as he exhibited & shewed himselfe to the world.
d That is grace vpon grace, as a man would say, graces heaped one vpon another.
10 The true knowledge of God proceedeth onely from Iesus Christ. ✣ 1.Tim.6.16. 1 Iohn 4.12.
e Who is nereest to his father, not onely in respect of his loue towards him, but by the bond of nature, and for that vnion or oneness that is betweene them, whereby the Father and the Sonne are one.
f Reuealed him and shewed him vnto vs, whereas before he was hid vnder the shadowes of the Lawe, so that the quicknesse of the sight of our mindes was not able to perceiue him: for whosoeuer seeth him, seeth the Father also.
11 Iohn is neither the Messias, nor like to any of the other Prophets, but is the herault of Christ, who is now present.
g He did acknowledge him, and spake of him plainly and openly.
h This rehearsing of one and the selfe same thing, though in diuers wordes, is vsed much of the Hebrewes, and it hath great force, for they vse to speake one thing twise, to set it out more certainlie and plainlie. ✣ Acts 13 25.
i The Iewes thought that Elias should come againe before the dayes of Messias, and they tooke the ground of that their opinion out of Mal.4.5. which place it is to be vnderstood of Iohn, Matth.11.14. And yet Iohn denieth that he is Elias, answering them in deed according as they meant.
k They inquire of some great Prophet, and not of Christ, for Iohn denied before that he is Christ, for they thought that some great Prophet should be sent like vnto Moses, wrestling to that purpose that place of Deut.18.15. which is to bee vnderstood of all the company of the Prophets and ministers, which haue bene and shall be to the ende, and especially of Christ who is the head of all Prophets. ✣ Isa.40 3. mat.3.3. luke 3.4.
12 Christ is the authour of baptisme, and not Iohn: and therefore the force therof consisteth not in Iohn, who is the minister, but wholy in Christ the Lord.
l Hereby we may proone that the Iewes knew there should be some change in religion vnder Messias, m Whom all the world seeth and euen amongst you.

14 ✣ 7 And that Word was made [n] flesh, and [x] dwelt among vs, (and wee ✣ sawe the [7] glorie thereof, [z] as the glorie of the onely begotten Sonne of the Father) [a] full of grace and trueth.
15 ¶ [8] Iohn bare witnesse of him, & cried, saying, This was he of whō I said, He [y] commeth [b] after me, was [c] before me: for he was better then I.
16 ∴ [9] And of his fulnesse haue al we receiued, and [d] grace for grace.
17 For the Law was giuē by Moses, but grace, and trueth came by Iesus Christ.
18 [10] ✣ No man hath seene God at any time: that onely begotten Sonne, which is in the [e] bosome of the Father, he hath [f] declared him.
19 ¶ [11] Then this is the record of Iohn, when the Iewes sent Priests and Leuites from Hierusalem to aske him, Who art thou?
20 And he [g] confessed and [h] denied not, and said plainly, I ✣ am not that Christ.
21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And hee said, [i] I am not. Art thou [k] that Prophet? And he answered, No.
22 Then said they vnto him, Who art thou, that wee may giue answere to them that sent vs? What sayest thou of thy selfe?
23 He said, I * am the voyce of him that crieth in the wildernesse, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the Prophet Esaias.
24 [12] Nowe they which were sent, were of the Pharises.
25 And they asked him, and sayd vnto him, [l] Why baptizest thou then, if thou bee not that Christ, neither Elias, nor that Prophet?
26 Iohn answered them, saying, I baptize with water: but there is one [m] amoug you, whom yee know not.
27 ✣ Hee it is that commeth after me, which was before me, whose shoe latchet I am not worthie to vnloose.
28 These things were done in Bethabara beyond Iordan, where Iohn did baptize.
29 ¶ [13] The next day Iohn seeth Iesus coming vnto him, and saieth, Behold [n] that Lambe of God, which [o] taketh away the [p] sinne of the world.
30 This is he of whō I said, After me commeth a man, which was before mee: for he was better then I.
31 And [q] I knew him not: but because hee should be declared to Israel, therfore am I come, baptizing with water.
32 [14] So Iohn bare record, saying, I beheld ✣ that Spirite come downe from heauen, like a doue, and it abode vpon him, 33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, he sayd vnto me, Vpon whom thou shalt see that Spirit come down, and tary still on him, that is he which baptizeth with the holy Ghost.
34 And I sawe, and bare record that this is [r] that Sonne of God.
35 ¶ [15] The next day, Iohn stood againe, and two of his disciples.
36 [16] And hee beheld Iesus walking by, and sayd, Behold that Lambe of God.
37 [17] And the two disciples heard him speake, and followed Iesus.
38 Then Iesus turned about, and sawe them follow, and said vnto them, What seeke ye? And they said vnto him, Rabbi (which is to say by interpretation, Master) [s] where dwellest thou?
39 Hee sayde vnto them, Come, and see. They came and sawe where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the [t] tenth houre.
40 Andrew, Simon Peters brother, was one of the two which had heard it of Iohn, and that followed him.
41 The same found his brother Simon first, and said vnto him, We haue found that Messias, which is by interpretation, that [u] Christ.
42 And hee brought him to Iesus. And Iesus beheld him, and sayd, Thou art Simon the sonne of Iona: thou shalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation, a stone.
43 ¶ The day following, Iesus would goe into Galile, and found Philip, & said vnto him, Follow me.
44 Nowe Philip was of Bethsaida, the citie of Andrew and Peter.
45 [18] Philip found Nathanael, and sayde vnto him, Wee haue found him of whome ∴ Moses did write in the Lawe, and the * Prophetes, Iesus that sonne of Ioseph, that was of Nazareth, 13 The body and trueth of all the sacrifices of the Lawe, to make satisfaction for the sinne of the world, is in Christ.

n This word (that) which is added, hath great force in it, not onely to set foorth the witnesse of Christ, and so to separate him from the Lambe which was a figure of him, and from all other sacrifices of the Lawe, but also to bring into our mindes the Prophecies of Esay and others.
o This word of the present time, signifieth a continuall acte, for the Lambe hath this vertue proper vnto him, and euer, to take away the sinnes of the world.

15 Iohn gathered disciples not to himselfe, but to Christ.
16 Christ is set before vs to follow, not as a vaine shadowe, but as our Mediatour.
17 In this first gathering of the disciples, wee haue shewed vnto vs, that the beginning of saluation is from God, who calleth vs vnto his Sonne by the ministerie of his seruants: whom (so preuenting vs) we must also heare, and follow him home, that being instructed by him, wee may also instruct others.

12 After that, he went down into Capernaum, he and his mother, and his f brethren, & his diſciples: but they continued not many dayes there.

13 3 For the Iewes Paſſeouer was at hand. Therefore Ieſus went vp to Hieruſalem, 14 4 And he found in the Temple thoſe that ſold oxen, and ſheepe, and doues, and changers of money ſitting there.

15 Then hee made a ſcourge of ſmall cordes, and draue them all out of the Temple with the ſheepe and oxen, and powred out the changers money, and ouerthrew the tables, 16 And ſaid vnto them that ſold doues, Take theſe things hence: make not my fathers houſe, an houſe of marchandiſe.

17 And his diſciples remembred, that it was written, ✠ The g zeale of thine houſe hath eaten me vp.

18 5 Then anſwered the Iewes, and ſaide vnto him, What h ſigne ſheweſt thou vnto vs, that thou doeſt theſe thiings?

19 Ieſus anſwered, and ſaid vnto them, ✠ Deſtroy this Temple, and in three daies I will raiſe it vp againe.

20 Then ſaid the Iewes, Fortie and ſix yeeres was this Temple a building, and wilt thou reare it vp in three daies?

21 But he ſpake of the i temple of his body.

22 As ſoone therefore as hee was riſen from the dead, his diſciples remembred that hee thus ſaid vnto them: and they beleeued the Scripture, and the word which Ieſus had ſaid.

23 Nowe when hee was at Hieruſalem at the Paſſeouer in the feaſt, many beleeued in his Name, when they ſawe his miracles which he did.

11 And Iesus tooke the bread, and gaue thanks, and gaue to the disciples, and the disciples, to them that were set downe: and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.
12 And when they were satisfied, he said vnto his disciples, Gather vp the broken meate which remaineth, that nothing be lost.
13 Then they gathered it together, and filled twelue baskets with the broken meate of the fiue barley loaues, which remained vnto them that had eaten.
14 Then the men, when they had seene the miracle that Iesus did, said, This is of a truth that Prophet that should come into the world.
15 2 When Iesus therfore perceiued that they would come, & take him to make him a king, he departed againe into a mountain himselfe alone.

h He denieth that Manna was that true heauenly bread, and saieth that he himselfe is that true bread, because he feedeth vnto the true & euerlasting life. And as for that, that Paul 1. Cor. 10. calleth Manna spirituall foode, it maketh nothing against this place, for hee ioyneth the thing signified with the signe: but in this whole disputation, Christ dealeth with the Iewes after their own opinion and conceit of the matter, and they had no further consideration of the Manna, but in that it fed the belly.

43 Iesus then answered, and saide vnto them, Murmure not among your selues.

44 No man can come to mee, except the Father, which hath sent me, draw him: and I will raise him vp at the last day.

45 It is written in the ✣ [m] Prophetes, And they shalbe all [n] taught of God. Euery man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, commeth vnto me:

46 ✣ Not that any man hath seene the Father, [o] saue he which is of God, he hath seene the Father.

47 Verely, verely I say vnto you, hee that beleeueth in me, hath euerlasting life.

48 [10] I am that bread of life.

49 [11] Your fathers did eate Manna in the wildernesse, and are dead.

50 [p] This is that bread, which commeth down from heauen, that he which eateth of it, shoulde not die.

51 [12] I am that [q] liuing bread, which came downe from heauen: if any man [r] eate of this bread, hee shall liue for euer: and the bread that I wil giue, is my flesh, which I will giue for the life of the world.

52 [13] Then [y] Iewes stroue among themselues, saying, How can this mã giue vs his flesh to eate?

53 Then Iesus saide vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, Except yee eate the flesh of the Sonne of man, and drinke his blood, yee haue [s] no life in you.

54 Whosoeuer [x] eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternall life, and I will raise him vp at the last day.

55 For my flesh is meate in deede, and my blood is drinke in deede.

56 He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

57 As [t] that liuing father hath sent me, so liue I by the [u] Father, and he that eateth me, euen he shall liue by me.

58 This is that bread which came down from heauen: not as your fathers haue eaten Manna, and are dead. He that eateth of this bread, shall liue for euer.

59 These things spake he in the Synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 [13] Many therefore of his disciples (when they heard this) said, This is an hard saying: who can heare it?

61 But Iesus knowing in himselfe, that his disciples murmured at this, said vnto them, Doth this offend you?

62 What then if ye should see that Sonne of man ascend vp ✣ where he was before?

63 [14] It is the [x] spirite that quickeneth: the flesh profiteth nothing: the wordes that I speake vnto you, are spirit and life.

64 But there are some of you that beleeue not: for Iesus knew from the beginning, which they were [y] beleeued not, and who should betray him.

65 And he saide, Therefore saide I vnto you, that no man can come vnto mee, except it be giuen vnto him of my Father.

66 [15] From that time, many of his disciples went backe, and walked no more with him.

67 Then saide Iesus to the twelue, Will yee also go away?

68 Then Simon Peter answered him, Master, to whom shall wee goe? thou hast the wordes of eternall life.

69 And we beleeue and knowe that thou art that Christ that Sonne of the liuing God.

70 [16] Iesus answered them, Haue not I ✣ chosen you twelue, and one of you is a deuill?

71 Now he spake it of Iudas Iscariot the sonne of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, though he was one of the twelue.

CHAP. VII.

2 Christ, after his cousins were gone vp to the feast of Tabernacles, 10 goeth thither priuily. 12 The peoples sundrie opinions of him. 14 He teacheth in the Temple. 32 The Priestes command to take him. 41 Strife among the multitude about him, 47 and betweene the Pharises and the officers that were sent to take him, 50 and Nicodemus.

AFter these things, Iesus walked in Galile, and woulde not walke in Iudea: for the Iewes sought to kill him.

2 Now the Iewes ✣ [a] feast of the Tabernacles was at hand.

3 [1] His brethren therefore saide vnto him, Depart hence, and goe into Iudea, that thy disciples may see thy workes that thou doest.

4 For there is no man that doth any thing secretly, and he himselfe seeketh to be famous. If thou dost these things, shew thy selfe to [y] world.

5 For as yet his [b] brethren beleeued not in him.

6 [2] Then Iesus saide vnto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is alway ready.

7 The world cannot hate you: but me it hateth, because I testifie of it, that the works thereof are euill.

8 Go ye vp vnto this feast: I wil not go vp yet vnto this feast: for my time is not yet fulfilled.

9 ¶ These things he saide vnto them, and abode stil in Galile.

10 [3] But as soone as his brethren were gone vp, then went hee also vp vnto the feast, not openly, but as it were priuily.

11 Then the Iewes sought him at the feast, and saide, Where is he?

12 And much murmuring was there of him among the people. Some said, He is a good man: other said, Nay: but he deceiueth the people.

13 Howbeit no man spake [c] openly of him for feare of the Iewes.

14 [4] Nowe when [d] halfe the feast was done, Iesus went vp into the Temple and taught.

15 And the Iewes marueiled, saying, Howe knoweth this man the Scriptures, seeing that hee neuer learned?

o If the Sonne only hath seene the Father, then it is he only that can teach and instruct vs truely.

10 The true vse of Sacraments, is to ascend from them to the thing it self, that is, to Christ: by the partaking of whom only, we get euerlasting life.

11 Exod 16.15.

p He pointed out himselfe, when he spake these words.

12 Christ being sent from the Father is the selfesame vnto vs for the getting and keeping of euerlasting life, that bread and flesh, yea meate and drinke are to the vse of this transitory life.

q Which giueth life to the world.

r That is to say, whosoeuer is partaker of Christ indeed, who is our foode.

13 Flesh can not put a difference betweene fleshly eating, which is done by the helpe of the teeth, and spirituall eating which consisteth in faith and therefore it condemneth that which it vnderstandeth not, yet notwithstanding the trueth must be preached and taught.

t In that that Christ is man, he receiueth that power, which quickeneth and giueth life to them that are his, of his Father: and he addeth this word (That) to make a difference betweene him and all other fathers.

u Christ his meaning is, that though he be man, yet his flesh can giue light, not of the owne nature, but because that flesh of his liueth by the Father, that is to say, doeth sucke and draw out of the Father, that power which it hath to giue life.

13 The reason of man cannot comprehend the vniting of Christ and his members: therefore let it worship and reuerence that which is better then it selfe.

✣ Chap.3.13.

14 The flesh of Christ doeth therefore quicken vs, because that he that is man, is God: which mysterie is onely comprehended by faith, which is the gift of God, proper onely to the elect.

c Or, boldly and freely: For the chiefe of the Iewes sought nothing so much, as to burie his fame and name.

4 Christ striueth with goodnesse against the wickednes of the world: in the meane season the most part of men take occasion of offence euen by that same, whereby they ought to haue bin stirred vp to embrace Christ.

d About the fourth day of the feast.

16 5 Iesus answered them, and sayd, *My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.

17 If any man will doe his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speake of my selfe.

18 6 He that speaketh of himselfe, seeketh his owne glory: but hee that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no vnrighteousnes is in him.

19 ✣ 7 Did not Moses giue you a Lawe, and yet none of you keepeth the Lawe? ✣ Why goe yee about to kill me?

20 The people answered, and said, Thou hast a deuill: who goeth about to kill thee?

21 8 Iesus answered, and saide to them, I haue done one worke, and ye all maruaile.

22 ∴ Moses therfore gaue vnto you circumcision, (not because it is of Moses, but of the fathers) & ye on ỹ Sabbath day circumcise a man.

26 And behold, he speaketh openly, and they say nothing to him: doe the rulers know indeede that this is in deede that Christ?

27 11 Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when that Christ commeth, no man shall knowe whence he is.

28 ¶ 12 Then cryed Iesus in the Temple as he taught, saying, Ye both knowe mee, and knowe whence I am: yet am I not come of my selfe, but he that sent me, is true, whom ye know not.

29 But I knowe him: for I am of him, and he hath sent me.

30 13 Then they sought to take him, but no man layde handes on him, because his houre was not yet come.

31 Now many of the people beleeued in him, and said, When that Christ commeth, will he doe moe miracles then this man hath done?

32 14 The Pharises heard that the people murmured these things of him, and the Pharises, and high Priestes sent officers to take him.

33 Then said Iesus vnto them, Yet am I a little while ẇ you, & then goe I vnto him that sent me.

34 *Ye shall seeke me, and shall not finde me, and where I am, can ye not come.

35 Then sayde the Iewes among themselues, Whither will he goe, that we shall not finde him? Will he go vnto them that are h dispersed among the Grecians, and teach the Grecians?

36 What saying is this that he sayde, Ye shall seeke mee, and shall not finde mee? and where I am, can ye not come?

37 15 Nowe in the i last and ✣ greate day of the feast, Iesus stoode and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come vnto me, and drinke.

39 (∴ This spake he of the Spirite which they that beleeued in him, should receiue: for the holy Ghost was not yet giuen, because that Iesus was not yet m glorified.)

40 16 So many of the people, when they heard this saying, said, ∴ Of a trueth this is that Prophet.

41 Other sayde, This is that Christ: and some said, But shall that Christ come out of Galile?

42 ✣ Saith not the Scripture that that Christ shall come of the seede of Dauid, and out of the towne of Beth-lehem, where Dauid was?

43 So was there dissension among the people for him.

44 And some of them would haue taken him, but no man layde handes on him.

45 17 Then came the officers to the hie Priests and Pharises, and they sayd vnto them, Why haue ye not brought him?

46 The officers answered, Neuer man spake like this man.

47 Then answered them the Pharises, Are yee also deceiued?

48 18 Doeth any of the rulers, or of the Pharises beleeue in him?

49 But this people, which know not the Law, are cursed.

50 Nicodemus said vnto them, (*he that came to Iesus by night, and was one of them.)

51 Doth our Law iudge a man before it heare him, ✣ and knowe n what he hath done?

52 They answered, and said vnto him, Art thou also of Galile? Search and looke: for out of Galile ariseth no Prophet.

53 19 And euery man went vnto his owne house.

20 These words spake Iesus in the e treasurie, as hee taught in the Temple, and no man layde handes on him: 7 for his houre was not yet come.

21 8 Then sayd Iesus againe vnto them, I goe my way, and ye shall seeke me, & shall die in your sinnes. Whither I goe, can ye not come.

22 Then said the Iewes, Will he kill himselfe, because he saith, Whither I goe, can ye not come?

23 And he sayd vnto them, Yee are from beneath, I am from aboue: ye are of this world, I am not of this world.

24 I said therefore vnto you, That ye shall die in your sinnes: for except ye beleeue, that I am he, ye shall die in your sinnes.

25 9 Then sayd they vnto him, Who art thou? And Iesus sayd vnto them, Euen f the same thing that I sayd vnto you from the beginning.

35 And the seruant abideth not in the house for euer: but the Sonne abideth for euer.

36 If that Sonne therefore shal make you free, ye shall be free in deede.

37 13 I know that ye are Abrahams seede, but ye seeke to kill mee, because my word hath no place in you.

38 I speake that which I haue seene with my Father: and ye do that which ye haue seene with your father.

39 They answered, and sayde vnto him, Abraham is our father. Iesus said vnto them, If ye were Abrahams children, yee would doe the workes of Abraham.

40 But nowe ye goe about to kill mee, a man that haue tolde you the trueth, which I haue heard of God: this did not Abraham.

41 Ye doe the works of your father. Then said they to him, We are not borne of fornication: we haue one Father, which is God.

42 Therefore Iesus saide vnto them, If God were your Father, then would ye loue mee: for I proceeded foorth, and came from God, neither came I of my selfe, but he sent me.

43 Why doe ye not vnderstande my k talke? because ye cannot heare my word.

44 ✣ Ye are of your father the deuill, and the lustes of your father ye will doe: he hath bene a murtherer from the l beginning, and m abode not in the n trueth, because there is no trueth in him. When he speaketh a lie, then speaketh he of his owne: for he is a liar, and the p father thereof.

45 And because I tell you the trueth, yee beleeue me not.

46 14 Which of you can rebuke me of sinne? and if I say the trueth, why do ye not beleeue me?

47 ∴ He that is of God, heareth Gods words: ye therfore heare thẽ not, because ye are not of God.

48 15 Then answered the Iewes, and said vnto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritane, and hast a deuill?

49 Iesus answered, I haue not a deuill, but I honour my Father, and ye haue dishonoured me.

50 And I seeke not mine owne praise: but there is one q that seeketh it, and iudgeth.

51 16 Verely, verely I say vnto you, If a man keepe my word, he shall neuer r see death.

12 The true disciples of Christ continue in his doctrine, that profiting more & more in the knowledge of the trueth, they may be delivered from the most grieuous burden of sinne, into the true libertie of righteousnesse and life.

13 Our wicked maners declare, that we are plainly borne of a deuilish nature. Not we are changed, and made of the household of God, according to the couenant which hee made with Abraham by Christ only, apprehended and laid hold on by faith: which faith is knowen by a godly and honest life.

CHAP. IX.

1 Christ giueth sight on the Sabbath day, to him that was borne blinde: 13 Whome, after hee had long reasoned against the Pharises, 22. 35 and was cast out of the Synagogue, 36 Christ endueth with the knowledge of the euerlasting light.

1 Sinne is the beginning euen of all bodily diseases, & yet doth it not follow, that God alway respecteth their sinnes, whom he most sharpely punisheth.

a Christ reasoneth here, as his disciples thought, which presuppose that there come no diseases but for sinnes onely: whereupon he answereth that there was another cause of this mans blindnesse, and that was, that God his worke might be seene.

AND 1 as Iesus passed by, he sawe a man which was blinde from his birth.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sinne, this man, or his parents, that hee was borne blinde?

3 Iesus answered, a Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents, but that the workes of God should be shewed on him.

4 2 I must worke the workes of him that sent me, while it is b day: the night commeth when no man can worke.

5 As long as I am in the worlde, ✣ I am the light of the world.

6 3 Assoone as he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made claye of the spettle, and anoynted the eyes of the blinde with the clay,

7 And sayd vnto him, Goe wash in the poole of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way therefore and washed, and came againe seeing.

8 4 Nowe the neighbours and they that had seene him before, when he was blinde, sayd, Is not this he that sate and begged?

9 Some sayd, This is he: and other sayd, He is like him: but he himselfe sayd, I am he.

10 Therefore they sayd vnto him, Howe were thine eyes c opened?

11 He answered, and said, The man that is called Iesus, made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said vnto me, Go to the poole of Siloam & wash. So I went and washed, and receiued sight.

12 Then they said vnto him, Where is he? He said, I cannot tell.

13 ¶ They brought to the Pharises him that was once blind.

14 And it was the Sabbath day, when Iesus made the clay, and opened his eies.

15 Then againe the Pharises also asked him, how he had receiued sight. And he said vnto the, He laid clay vpon mine eies, and I washed, and doe see.

16 5 Then said some of the Pharises, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not ỹ Sabbath day. Others said, How can a man that is a sinner, doe such miracles? and there was a dissention among them.

17 Then spake they vnto the blinde againe, What sayest thou of him, because he hath opened thine eies? And he said, He is a Prophet.

18 Then the Iewes did not beleeue him (that he had bene blind, and receiued his sight) vntill they had called the parents of him that had receiued sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your sonne, whom ye say was borne blinde? How doeth he now see then?

20 His parents answered them, and sayd, We know that this is our sonne, and that he was borne blind:

21 But by what means he now seeth, we know not: or who hath opened his eies, can we not tell: he is olde ynough: aske him: he shall answer for himselfe.

22 These wordes spake his parents, because they feared the Iewes: for the Iewes had ordeined already, that if any man did confesse that hee was Christ, he should bee excommunicate out of the Synagogue.

23 Therefore sayde his parents, Hee is olde ynough: aske him.

24 Then againe called they the man that had bene blinde, and said vnto him, d Giue glory vnto God: we know that this man is a e sinner.

25 Then he answered, and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I cannot tell: one thing I know, that I was blind, and now I see.

26 Then said they to him againe, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eies?

27 He answered them, I haue told you already, and ye haue not heard it: wherefore would ye heare it againe? will ye also be his disciples?

28 6 Then reuiled they him, and said, Bee thou his disciple: we be Moses disciples.

29 We know that God spake with Moses: but this man we know not from whence he is.

30 The man answered, and sayde vnto them, Doubtlesse, this is a marueilous thing, that yee know not whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

31 Now we knowe that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him heareth he.

32 Since the world began, was it not heard, that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blinde.

c This is an Hebrewe kinde of speach, for they call a mans eyes shut, when they cannot receiue any light: And therefore they are sayde to haue their eyes opened, which of blinde men are made to see.

34 They anſwered, and ſayd vnto him, f Thou art altogether borne in ſinnes, & doeſt thou teach vs? ſo they caſt him out.

35 7 Ieſus heard that they had caſt him out: and when he had found him, he ſaid vnto him, Doeſt thou beleeue in the Sonne of God?

36 He anſwered, and ſayd, Who is he, Lorde, that I might beleeue in him?

37 And Ieſus ſayde vnto him, Both thou haſt ſeene him, and he it is that talketh with thee.

38 Then he ſayd, Lorde, I beleeue, and worſhipped him.

39 8 And Ieſus ſayde, I am come vnto g iudgement into this world, that they h which ſee not, might ſee: and that they ✣ which ſee, might be made blinde.

40 And ſome of the Phariſes which were with him, heard theſe things, and ſayd vnto him, Are we blinde alſo?

41 Ieſus ſayd vnto them, If ye were blinde, ye ſhould not haue ſinne: but nowe yee ſay, We ſee: therefore your ſinne remaineth.

f Thou art naught euen from thy cradle, and as we vſe to ſay, there is nothing in thee but ſinne.

7 Moſt happy is their ſtate, which are caſt furtheſt out of the Church of the wicked (which proudly boaſt themſelues of the name of the Church) that Chriſt may come neerer to them.

8 Chriſt doeth lighten all them by the preaching of the Goſpel, which acknowledge their owne darkenes, but ſuch as ſeeme to themſelues to ſee clearely ynough, thoſe he altogether blindeth: of which ſort are they oftentimes, which haue the hieſt place in the Church.

CHAP. X.

1 Chriſt prooueth that the Phariſes are the euill ſhepheards, 8 and by many reaſons, that himſelfe 11. 14 is the good ſhepheard: 19 And thereof diſſenſion ariſeth. 31 They take vp ſtones, 39 and goe about to take him, but he eſcapeth.

VErely, 1 verely I ſay vnto you, He that entreth not in by the doore into the ſheepefolde, but climeth vp another way, he is a theefe & a robber.

2 But hee that goeth in by the doore, is the ſhepheard of the ſheepe.

3 To him the a porter openeth, & the ſheepe heare his voyce, & he calleth his owne ſheepe by name, and leadeth them out.

4 And when hee hath ſent foorth his owne ſheepe, he goeth before them, and the ſheepe followe him: for they know his voyce.

5 And they will not folow a ſtranger, but they flee from him: for they knowe not the voyce of ſtrangers.

6 This b parable ſpake Ieſus vnto them: but they vnderſtoode not what things they were which he ſpake vnto them.

7 Then ſayd Ieſus vnto them againe, Verely, verely I ſay vnto you, I am that doore of the ſheepe.

8 2 All that c euer came before me, are theeues and robbers: but the ſheepe did not heare them.

9 3 I am that doore: by mee if any man enter in, he ſhalbe ſaued, and ſhall d go in, and go out, and finde paſture.

1 Seeing that by Chriſt onely we haue acceſſe to the Father, there are neither other true ſhepheards, then thoſe which come to Chriſt themſelues (and bring other thither alſo, neither is any to be thought the true ſheepefolde, but that which is gathered to Chriſt.

d That is, ſhall liue ſafely: So vſe the Iewes to ſpeake, as Deut. 28.6. and yet there is a peculiar alluding to the ſhepheards office.

10 The theefe commeth not, but for to ſteale, and to kill, and to deſtroy: I am come that they might haue life, and haue it in abundance.

11 ✣ I am that good ſhepheard: that good ſhepheard giueth his life for his ſheepe.

12 But an hireling, and hee which is not the ſhepheard, neither the ſheepe are his owne, ſeeth the wolfe comming, & he leaueth the ſheepe, and fleeth, & the wolfe catcheth them, and ſcattereth the ſheepe.

13 So the hireling fleeth, becauſe he is an hireling, and careth not for the ſheepe.

14 I am that good ſhepheard, & know mine, and am knowen of mine.

15 As the Father e knoweth me, ſo know I the Father: and I lay downe my life for my ſheepe.

16 ✣ Other ſheepe I haue alſo, which are not of this folde: them alſo muſt I bring, and they ſhall heare my voyce: and ✣ there ſhalbe f one ſhepefold, and one ſhepeheard.

17 5 Therefore doeth my Father loue me, becauſe I g lay downe my life, that I might take it againe.

18 No man taketh it from mee, but I laie it downe of my ſelfe: I haue power to lay it down, and haue power to take it againe: this ✣ commandement haue I receiued of my Father.

19 ¶ 6 Then there was a diſſention againe among the Iewes for theſe ſayings, 20 And many of them ſayd, Hee hath a deuil, and is mad: why heare ye him?

21 Other ſaid, Theſe are not the words of him that hath a deuil: can the deuil open the eyes of the blind?

22 And it was at Hieruſalem the feaſt of the h Dedication, and it was winter.

23 7 And Ieſus walked in the Temple, in Solomons porch.

24 Then came the Iewes round about him, & ſaid vnto him, How long doeſt thou make vs doubt? If thou be that Chriſt, tell vs plainly.

25 8 Ieſus anſwered them, I told you, and yee beleeue not: the workes that I doe in my Fathers Name, they beare witnes of me.

26 9 But ye beleeue not: i for ye are not of my ſheepe, as I ſayd vnto you.

27 My ſheepe heare my voyce, and I know them, and they follow me, 28 And I giue vnto them eternall life, & they ſhall neuer periſh, neither ſhall any plucke them out of mine hand.

29 My Father which gaue k them me, is greater then all, and none is able to take them out of my Fathers hand.

30 I and my Father are one.

32 Ieſus anſwered them, Many good workes haue I ſhewed you from my k Father: for which of theſe workes doe ye ſtone me?

33 The Iewes anſwered him, ſaying, For the good worke wee ſtone thee not, but for blaſphemie, and ✣ thou being a man, makeſt thy ſelfe God.

33 ‖ When Ieſus therefore ſaw her weepe, and the Iewes alſo weepe which came with her, hee ✣ groned in the ſpirit, & was troubled in himſelfe, ‖ Chriſt tooke vpon him together with our fleſh all affections of man (ſinne onely excepted) and amongſt them eſpecially mercy and compaſſion.

34 And ſaide, Where haue ye layd him? They ſayd vnto him, Lord, come and ſee.

35 And Ieſus wept.

✣ Chap. 5. 6.

36 Then ſayd the Iewes, Beholde, how he loued him.

37 And ſome of them ſayd, ✣ Could not hee, which opened the eyes of the blinde, haue made alſo, that this man ſhould not haue died?

38 Ieſus therefore againe groned in himſelfe, and came to the graue. And it was a caue, and a ſtone was layd vpon it.

39 Ieſus ſaid, Take ye away ✣ ſtone. Martha the ſiſter of him that was dead, ſaid vnto him, Lord, he ſtinketh already: for he hath bin dead foure dayes.

40 Ieſus ſayd vnto her, Said I not vnto thee, that if thou diddeſt beleeue, thou ſhouldeſt ſee the glorie of God?

41 Then they tooke away the ſtone from the place where the dead was layde. And Ieſus lift vp his eyes, and ſayde, Father, I thanke thee, becauſe thou haſt heard me.

42 I knowe that thou heareſt me alwayes, but becauſe of the people that ſtand by, I ſayd it, that they may beleeue, that thou haſt ſent me.

43 As hee had ſpoken theſe things, hee cried with a loude voyce, Lazarus, come foorth.

44 Then he that was dead, came forth, bound hand and foote with bandes, and his face was bound with a napkin. Ieſus ſaid vnto them, Looſe him, and let him goe.

45 ¶ Then many of the Iewes, which came to Mary, and had seene the things, which Iesus did, beleeued in him.

46 6 But some of them went their way to the Pharises, & told them what things Iesus had done.

47 Then gathered the hie Priests, & the Pharises a g councill, and said, What shall we doe? For this man doeth many miracles.

48 If wee let him thus alone, all men will beleeue in him, and the Romanes will come and h take away both our place, and the nation.

49 7 Then one of them named Caiaphas, which was the hie Priest that same yeere, said vnto them, Ye perceiue nothing at all,

50 ✣ Nor yet doe you consider that it is expedient for vs, that one man die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

51 8 This spake hee not of himselfe, but being hie Priest that same yeere, hee prophecied that Iesus should die for that nation:

52 And not for that nation onely, but that he shoulde gather together in one the children of God, which i were scattered.

53 Then from that day foorth they consulted together, to put him to death.

54 9 Iesus therefore walked no more openly among the Iewes, but went thence vnto a countrey neere to the wildernesse, into a citie called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.

55 ¶ And the Iewes Passeouer was at hand, and many went out of the countrey vp to Hierusalem before the Passeouer, to purifie themselues.

56 Then sought they for Iesus, and spake among themselues, as they stoode in the Temple, What thinke ye, that he cōmeth not to the feast?

57 Now both the hie Priestes and the Pharises had giuen a commandement, that if any man knew where he were, he should shew it, that they might take him.

6 The last poynt of hard and yron-like stubburnes is this, to proclaime open warre against God, and yet ceaseth not to make a pretence both of godlinesse, and of the profite of the common wealth.

g The Iewes called the councill Sanhedrin: and the word that Iohn vseth, is Synedri.

h That is, take away from vs by force: for at that time, though the high Priests authoritie was greatly lessened and decayed, yet there was some kinde of gouernement left among the Iewes.

7 The raging and mad company of the false Church, perswade themselues that they cannot be in safetie, vnlesse he be taken away, who onely vpholdeth the Church: And so likewise iudgeth the wisedome of the flesh in worldly affaires, which is gouerned by the spirit of giddinesse or madnesse.

✣ Chap.18.14.

8 Christ doeth sometimes so turne the tongues, euen of the wicked, that euen in cursing, they blesse.

i For they were not gathered together in one countrey, as the Iewes were, but to be gathered from all quarters, from the East to the West.

9 We may giue place to the rage of the wicked, when it is expedient so to doe, but yet in such sort, that we swarue not from Gods vocation.

CHAP. XII.

2 Christ is at supper with Lazarus. 3 Marie anointeth his feete. 5 Iudas findeth fault with her. 7 Christ defendeth her. 10 The Priests would put Lazarus to death. 12 Christ cometh to Hierusalem. 18 The people meete him. 20 The Grecians desire to see him. 42 The chiefe rulers that beleeue in him, but for feare doe not confesse him. 44 he exhorteth to faith.

✣ Chap.26.7. marke 14.3.

THen ✣ Iesus, sixe dayes before the Passeouer, came to Bethania, where Lazarus was, who died, whom he had raised from the dead.

2 There they made him a supper, and Martha serued: but Lazarus was one of them that sate at the table with him.

3 Then tooke Mary a pound of oyntment of Spikenard very costly, and anoynted Iesus feete, and wiped his feete with her haire, and the house was filled with the sauour of the oyntment.

1 An horrible example in Iudas of a minde blinded with couetousnes, and yet pretending godlinesse.

✣ Chap.13.29.

2 This extraordinarie anoynting which was for a signe, is so allowed of God that he witnesseth how he will not be worshipped with outward pompe, or costly seruice, but with almes.

4 Then said one of his disciples, euen Iudas Iscariot Simons sonne, which should betray him:

5 1 Why was not this oyntment sold for three hundreth pence, and giuen to the poore?

6 Now he sayd this, not that he cared for the poore, but because he was a theefe, and y had the bagge, and bare that which was giuen.

7 2 Then said Iesus, Let her alone: against the day of my burying she kept it.

8 For the poore alwayes yee haue with you, but me ye shall not haue alwayes.

9 Then much people of the Iewes knewe that he was there: and they came, not for Iesus sake onely, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raysed from the dead.

10 The hie Priestes therfore consulted, that they might put Lazarus to death also, 11 Because that for his sake many of the Iewes went away, and beleeued in Iesus.

12 ¶ ✣ On the morowe a great multitude that were come to the feast, when they heard that Iesus should come to Hierusalem, 13 Tooke branches of palme trees, and went forth to meete him, and cried, Hosanna, Blessed z the king of Israel that commeth in the Name of the Lorde.

14 And Iesus found a yong asse, and sate thereon, as it is written, 15 ✣ Feare not, daughter of Sion: beholde, thy King commeth sitting on an asses colte.

16 But his disciples vnderstoode not these things at the first: but when Iesus was glorified, then remembred they, that these thinges were written of him, and that they had done these thinges vnto him.

17 The people therefore that was with him, bare witnesse that hee called Lazarus out of the graue, and raised him from the dead.

18 Therefore meete him the people also, because they heard that he had done this miracle.

19 4 And the Pharises said among themselues, Perceiue ye how ye preuaile nothing? Behold, the world goeth after him.

20 ¶ Nowe there were certaine Greekes among them that a came vp to worship at y feast.

21 And they came to Philippe, which was of Bethsaida in Galile, and desired him, saying, Syr, we would see that Iesus.

22 Philippe came and tolde Andrewe: and againe Andrewe and Philippe tolde Iesus.

23 And Iesus answered them, saying, The houre is come, that the Sonne of man must be glorified.

24 5 Verely, Verely I say vnto you, Except the wheate corne fall into y ground & b die, it bideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruite.

25 ⁂ He that loueth his life, shall lose it, and he that hateth his life in this world, shall keepe it vnto life eternall.

26 ⁂ If any man serue me, let him follow me: for where I am, there shall also my seruant be: and if any man serue me, him will my Father honour.

27 6 Nowe is my soule troubled: and what shal I say? Father, saue me from this c houre: but therfore came I vnto this houre.

28 Father, d glorifie thy Name. Then came there a voyce from heauen, saying, I haue both glorified it, and will glorifie it againe.

29 Then saide the people that stoode by, and heard, that it was a thunder: other said, An Angel spake to him.

30 7 Iesus answered and said, This voyce came not because of me, but for your sakes.

31 Now is the iudgement of this world: nowe shall the prince of this world be cast out.

3 When the light of the Gospell sheweth it selfe, some are founde to be curious, and others (which least ought) to be open enemies: others in a rage honour him, whome they will straightway fall from: and very fewe doe reuerently receiue him as they ought. Notwithstanding Christ beginneth his spirituall kingdome in the midst of his enemies.

11 The summe of the Gospel, and therefore of saluation, which Christ witnessed in the middest of Hierusalem by his crying out, is this: to rest vpon Christ, through faith, as the onely Sauiour appointed and giuen vs of the Father.

32 ✣ And I, if I were a lift vp from the earth, will draw b all men vnto me.

33 Now this sayd he, signifying what death he should die.

34 The people answered him, We haue heard out of the ✣ Law, that that Christ bideth for euer: and how saiest thou, that that Sonne of man must be lift vp? Who is that Sonne of man?

35 8 Then Iesus sayd vnto them, Yet a little while is ∴ the light with you: walke while ye haue that light, least the darkenes come vpon you: for he that walketh in the darke, knoweth not whither he goeth.

36 While ye haue that light, beleeue in that light, that ye may be the g children of the light. These things spake Iesus, and departed, and hid himselfe from them.

37 ¶ 9 And though he had done so many miracles before them, yet beleeued they not on him, 38 That the saying of Esaias ỹ Prophet might be fulfilled, that he said, ✣ Lorde, who beleeued our report? and to whom is the h arme of the Lord reueiled?

39 Therefore could they not beleeue, because that Esaias saith againe, 40 ✣ He hath blinded their eyes, & hardened their heart, that they should not see with their eyes, nor vnderstand with their heart, and should be conuerted, and I should heale them.

46 I ✣ am come a light into the worlde, that whosoeuer beleeueth in me, should not abide in darkenes.

47 ✣ And if any man heare my wordes, & beleeue not, I iudge him not: for I came not to iudge the world, but to saue the world.

48 He that refuseth me, and receiueth not my wordes, hath one that iudgeth him: ∴ the worde that I haue spoken, it shall iudge him in the last day.

49 For I haue not spoken of my selfe: but the Father which sent me, hee gaue me a commaundement what I should say, and what I should speake.

50 And I knowe that his commaundement is life euerlasting: the things therefore that I speake, I speake them so as the Father sayde vnto me.

i *This word, Not, doeth not take any whit of this from Christ which is here spoken of, but is in way of correction rather, as if he said, He that beleeueth in mee, doeth not so much beleeue in mee, as in him that sent mee. Christ rising from supper, 15 to commende humilitie to his Apostles, washeth their feete. 21 He noteth the traitour Iudas 26 with an euident token. 34 Hee commendeth charitie. 37.39 He foretelleth Peter of his denial.

NOwe ✣ 1 before the feast of the Passeouer, when Iesus knewe that his houre was come, that he should depart out of this world vnto the Father, forasmuch as hee loued his a owne which were in the world, vnto the ende he loued them.

2 And when supper was done (and that the deuill had now put in the heart of Iudas Iscariot, Simons sonne, to betray him)

3 Iesus knowing that the Father had giuen all things into his b handes, and that hee was come forth from God, and went to God,

4 He c riseth from supper, and layeth aside his vpper garments, and tooke a towell, and girded himselfe.

5 After that, he powred water into a basen, and began to wash the disciples feete, and to wipe them with the towel, wherewith he was girded.

6 Then came he to Simon Peter, who sayd to him, Lord, doest thou wash my feete?

7 Iesus answered and said vnto him, What I doe, thou knowest not now: but thou shalt know it hereafter.

8 Peter sayd vnto him, Thou shalt neuer wash my feete. Iesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou shalt haue d no part with me.

9 Simon Peter sayd vnto him, Lorde, not my feete onely, but also the hands and the head.

10 Iesus said to him, Hee that is washed, needeth not, saue to wash his feete, but is cleane euery whit: and ye are ✣ cleane, but not all.

11 For he knew who should betray him: therefore sayd he, Ye are not all cleane.

12 ¶ So after he had washed their feete, & had taken his garments, & was set down againe, he said vnto them, Know ye what I haue done to you?

13 Ye call me Master, and Lorde, and yee say well: for so am I.

14 If I then your Lorde, and Master, haue washed your feete, ye also ought to wash one an others feete.

20 ✣ Verely, verely I say vnto you, If I send any, he that receiueth him, receiueth me, and hee that receiueth me, receiueth him that sent me.

21 When Iesus had sayd these things, hee was troubled in the Spirit, and e testified, and said, Verely, verely I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me.

d This ſaying ſheweth vnto vs both the nature, the will & office of Chriſt.

e It is plaine by this place, that to know God, & to ſee God, is all one: Now wherein he ſaid before, that no man ſawe God at any time, that is to be vnderſtoode that, without Chriſt: or were it not through Chriſt, no man could euer ſee, nor ſawe God at any time: for as Chryſoſtome ſaith, the Sonne is a very ſhort and eaſie ſetting forth of the fathers nature to vs.

4 The maieſtie of God ſheweth it ſelfe moſt euidently, both in Chriſtes doctrine and deedes.

5 The approuing of the vertue of Chriſt is not included within his owne perſon, but it is ſpread through the body of his whole Church.

f That is, not I only doe them, but I can alſo giue other men power to doe greater.

6 He loueth Chriſt aright, which obeieth his cõmandements: and becauſe the ſame is accompanied with an infinite ſort of miſeries, although he be abſent in body, yet doeth he comfort his with the preſent vertue of the holy Ghoſt, whome the world deſpiſeth, becauſe it knoweth him not.

g The holy Ghoſt is called the Spirit of truth, of the effect which he worketh, becauſe he inſpireth the truth into vs, whereas otherwiſe he hath truth in himſelfe.

i The Sonne is in the Father after ſuch ſort, that he is of one eſſe ſame ſubſtance with the Father, but he is in his diſciples in a certaine reſpect as an ayder and helper of them.

k I will ſhew my ſelfe to him, and be knowen of him, as if he ſaw me with his eyes: but this ſhewing of himſelfe is not bodily, but ſpiritually, yet ſo plaine as none can be more.

7 We muſt not aske why the Goſpel is reueiled to ſome rather then to other, but we muſt rather take heede, that we embrace Chriſt who is offered vnto vs, & that we truely loue him, that is to ſay, that we giue our ſelues wholy to his obedience.

8 It is the office of the holy Ghoſt to imprint in the mindes of the elect in their times and ſeaſons, that which Chriſt once ſpake. ✣ Chap.15.26.

27 9 Peace

27 9 Peace I leaue with you: my peace I giue vnto you: not as ỹ world giueth, giue I vnto you. Let not your heart be troubled, nor feare.

28 10 Yee haue heard how I said vnto you, I goe away, and wil come vnto you. If ye loued me, ye would verely reioyce, because I said, I goe vnto the Father: for the Father is l greater then I.

29 And now haue I spoken vnto you, before it come, that when it is come to passe, yee might beleeue.

30 11 Hereafter wil I not speake many things vnto you: for the prince of this world commeth, and hath m nought in me.

31 But it is that the world may know that I loue my Father: and as the Father hath commanded me, so I doe. Arise, let vs goe hence.

9 All true felicitie commeth to vs by Christ alone. 10 So farre is it, that we should be sory for the departing of Christ fro vs according to the flesh, that we should rather reioyce for it, seeing that all ỹ blessing of the members dependeth vpon the glorifying of the head.

l Thou u spoken in that, that he is Mediator, for so the Father is greater then he in as much as the person to whome request is made, is greater then hee that maketh the request.

11 Christ goeth to death not vnwillingly, but willingly, not as yeelding to the deuill, but obeying his Fathers decree. m As who would say, Satan will by and by set vpon me with all the might he can, but he hath no power ouer me, neither shall he find any such thing in me as he thinketh he shall.

CHAP. XV.

1 By the parable of the vine, 2 & 3 the branches, 5. 6 he declareth how the disciples may beare fruite. 12. 17 Hee commendeth mutuall loue. 18 He exhorteth them to beare afflictions patiently, 20 by his owne example.

I Am that true vine, and my Father is that husbandman.

2 ✣ Euery branche that beareth not fruite in me, he taketh away: and euery one that beareth fruite, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruite.

3 ✣ Nowe are ye cleane through the worde, which I haue spoken vnto you.

4 Abide in mee, and I in you: as the branche cannot beare fruite of it selfe, except it abide in the vine, no more can ye, except ye abide in me.

5 I am that vine: ye are the branches: he that abideth in me, & I in him, ỹ same bringeth foorth much fruite: for without me can ye doe nothing.

6 ✣ If a man abide not in me, he is cast foorth as a branch, & withereth: and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they burne.

7 ✣ 2 If ye abide in me, and my wordes abide in you, aske what ye wil, & it shalbe done to you.

8 a Herein is my Father glorified, that yee beare much fruite, and be made my disciples.

9 3 As the father hath loued mee, so haue I loued you: b continue in that my loue.

10 If ye shall keepe my commandements, ye shall abide in my loue, as I haue kept my Fathers commandements, and abide in his loue.

11 These things haue I spoken vnto you, that my ioy might remaine in you, and that your ioy might be full.

12 ✣ This is my commandement, that yee loue one another, as I haue loued you.

13 Greater loue then this hath no man, when any man bestoweth his life for his friends.

14 Ye are my friendes, if ye doe whatsoeuer I commaund you.

15 4 Henceforth cal I you not seruants: for the seruant knoweth not what his master doeth: but I haue called you friends: for all things that I haue heard of my Father, haue I made knowen to you.

16 5 Ye c haue not chosen me, but I haue chosen you, and ordeined you, ✣ that ye goe & bring foorth fruite, and that your fruite remaine, that whatsoeuer yee shall aske of the Father in my Name, he may giue it you.

17 These things commaund I you, that yee loue one another.

18 6 If the world hate you, yee know that it hated me before you.

19 If ye were of the world, the world would loue his owne: but because ye are not of ỹ world, but I haue chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

20 Remember the word that I said vnto you, ✣ The seruant is not greater then his master. ∴ If they haue persecuted me, they will persecute you also: if they haue kept my worde, they will also keepe yours.

21 7 But ✣ all these things will they doe vnto you for my Names sake, because they haue not knowen him that sent me.

22 d If I had not come and spoken vnto them, they should not haue had sinne: but now haue they no cloke for their sinne.

23 He that hateth me, hateth my Father also.

24 If I had not done workes among them which none other mā did, they had not had sinne: but nowe haue they both seene, and haue hated both me, and my Father.

25 But it is that the word might be fulfilled, that is written in their e Lawe, ✣ They hated mee without a cause.

26 8 But when that Comforter shall come, * whom I will send vnto you from the Father, even the Spirit of trueth, which proceedeth of the Father, he shall testifie of me.

27 And ye shall witnesse also, because ye haue bene with me from the beginning.

1 We are of nature drie and fit for nothing, but the fire: Therefore that we may liue and be fruitful, we must first be grafted into Christ, as it were into a vine by the Fathers hand: and then be daily stired with continuall meditation of the word and the crosse: otherwise it shall not auaile any man at all to haue bene grafted, vnlesse he cleaue fast vnto the vine, and so draw iuice out of it.

2 He abideth in Christ, which cleaueth in his doctrine, and therefore bringeth foorth good fruites. And the Father will denie such an one nothing.

a As who would say, Herein shall my Father be glorified, and herein also shall you be my disciples, if you bring forth much fruite.

3 The loue of the Father towards the Sonne, and of the sonne towards vs, and our towards God and our neighbour, are ioyned together with an vnseparable knot: and there is nothing more sweete and pleasant then it is. Nowe this loue sheweth it selfe by the effects: a most perfect example whereof, Christ himselfe exhibiteth vnto vs. b That is, in that loue, wherewith I loue you: which loue is on both parters. ✣ Chap. 13. 34. 1. Thes. 4. 9. 2. John 5. 11. and 4 21. 4 The doctrine of the Gospel (as it is vttered by Christes owne mouth) is a most perfect and absolute declaration of the counsell of God, which pertaineth to our saluation and is committed vnto the Apostles.

5 Christ is the author and preseruer of the ministerie of the Gospel, euen to the worldes end, but the ministers haue aboue all things need of prayer & brotherly loue.

c This place teacheth vs plainly, that our saluation commeth from the onely fauour and gracious goodnesse of the euerlasting God toward vs, & of nothing that we doe or can deserue. ✣ Matth. 7 & 19.

6 It ought not onely not to feare, but rather confirme the faithfull Ministers of Christ, when they shalbe hated of the world as their Master was.

✣ Chap 13. 16. matth. 10 24. ∴ Matth. 24 9.

7 The hatred that the world beareth against Christ, proceedeth of the blockishnesse of the mind, which notwithstanding is voluntarie blind, so that the world can pretend no excuse, to couer their fault.

✣ Chap. 16. 4. d As who would say, If I had not come, these men would not haue sticke to haue said still before Gods iudgement seate, that they are religious, and void of sinne: but seeing I came to them, and they cleane refuse me, they can haue no cloke for their wickednes. e Some time by this word, Lawe, are meant the fiue bookes of Moses, but in this place, the whole Scripture: for the place alleaged is in the Psalmes. ✣ Psalme 35. 19. 8 Against the rage of the wicked, we shall stand surely by the inward testimonie of the holy Ghost: But the holy Ghost speaketh no otherwise, then he spake by the mouth of the Apostles. * Chap. 14. 26. Luke 24. 49.

CHAP. XVI.

1 He stablisheth the disciples of persecution. 7 Hee promiseth the Comforter, and declareth his office. 21 He compareth the afflictions of his, to a woman that trauaileth with child.

THese a things haue I sayde vnto you, that yee should not be offended.

2 They shal excomunicate you: yea, the time shal come, that whosoeuer killeth you, wil thinke that he doeth God seruice.

3 And these things will they do vnto you, because they haue not knowen the Father, nor me.

4 ✣ But these things haue I tolde you, that when the houre shall come, ye might remember, that I told you them. And these things said I not vnto you from ỹ beginning, because I was w you.

5 But now I go my way to him that sent me, and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou?

6 But because I haue sayd these things vnto you, your hearts are full of sorow.

7 2 Yet I tell you the trueth, It is expedient for you that I goe away: for if I goe not away, that Comforter will not come vnto you: but if I depart, I will send him vnto you.

1 The ministers of the Gospel must looke for all manner of reproches, not onely of them which are open enemies, but euen of them also which seeme to be of the same household, and the very pillars of the Church.

✣ Chap. 15. 21.

2 The absence of Christ, according to the flesh, is profitable to the Church, that we may wholy depend vpon his spiritual power.

8 3 And

3 The Spirit of God worketh so mightily by the preaching of the word, that he constraineth ỹ world, will it, nill it, to confesse it owne vnrighteousnesse, and Christs righteousnesse and almightinesse.

a He will soreproue the world, that the worldlings shalbe able to pretend no excuse.

b He respecteth the time that folowed his ascension, when as all gainesayers were manifestly reproued, through the powring out of the holy Ghost vpon the Church: So that the very enemies of Christ were reproued of sinne, in that they were constrained to confesse that they were deceiued, in that they beleeued not, and therefore they said to Peter, Acts 2. Men and brethren, what shall we do?

c Of Christ himselfe: For when the world shall see, that I haue powred out the holy Ghost, they shalbe constrained to confesse that I was iust, and was not condemned of my Father, when I went out of this world.

d Of that authoritie and power, which I haue both in heauen & earth.

e That is, because they shall then vnderstand and knowe in deed, that I haue ouercome the deuil, and dot gouerne the world, when all men shall see, that they set themselues against you in vaine, for I will arme you with that heauenly power, whereby you may dasht ay euery high thing which is lifted vp against the knowledge of God, 2. Cor. 10. 12.

4 The doctrine of the Apostles proceeded from the holy Ghost, and is most perfite. 5 The holy Ghost bringeth no new doctrine, but teacheth that which was vttered by Christes owne mouth, and imprinteth it in our mindes. 6 The grace of the holy Ghost is a most liuely glasse, wherein Christ is truely beholden with the most sharpe sighted eyes of faith, and not with the bleared eies of the flesh: Whereby we feele a continuall ioy euen in the midst of sorowes. f When a litle time is once past. g For I passe to eternall glory, so that I shall be much more present with you then I was before: for then you shall seek in deed what I am, and what I am able to do. ✣ Chap. 14. 13. Mat. 7. 7 & 21. 22. mar. 11. 24. luke 11. 9 iam. 1. 5. 7 The holy Ghost which was powred vpon the Apostles after the Ascension of Christ, instructed both them in all the chiefest mysteries and secretes of our salnation, and also by them the Church, and will also instruct it to the end of the world. 8 The summe of the worship of God, is the inuocation of the Father in the Name of the Sonne the Mediatour, who is alreadie heard for vs, for whom he both abased himselfe, and is now also glorified.

8 3 And when he is come, he will a reproue the b world of sinne, and of righteousnesse, and of iudgement.

9 Of sinne, because they beleeued not in me:

10 Of c righteousnesse, because I goe to my Father, and ye shall see me no more.

11 Of d iudgement, e because the prince of this world is iudged.

12 4 I haue yet many things to say vnto you, but ye cannot beare them now.

13 Howbeit, when hee is come which is the Spirite of trueth, he will leade you into all trueth: for he shall not speake of himselfe, but whatsoeuer he shall heare, shall he speake, and he wil shew you the things to come.

14 5 He shal glorifie me: for he shall receiue of mine, and shall shew it vnto you.

15 All things that the Father hath, are mine: therefore sayd I, that hee shall take of mine, and shew it vnto you.

16 6 A f litle while, and ye shal not see me: and againe a litle while, and ye shall see me: g for I goe to the Father.

17 Then said some of his disciples among them selues, What is this that he saieth vnto vs, A litle while, and ye shall not see mee, and againe, a litle while, and ye shall see mee, and, For I goe to the Father.

18 They sayd therefore, What is this that hee saith, A litle while? we know not what he saieth.

19 Now Iesus knew that they would aske him, and said vnto them, Doe yee enquire among your selues, of that I said, A litle while, & ye shal not see me: and againe, a litle while, and ye shall see me?

20 Verely, verely I say vnto you, that ye shall weepe and lament, and the world shall reioyce: and ye shall sorowe, but your sorow shalbe turned to ioy.

21 A woman when she trauaileth, hath sorow, because her houre is come: but as soone as she is deliuered of the child, shee remembreth no more the anguish, for ioy that a man is borne into the world.

22 And yee nowe therefore are in sorow: but I will see you againe, & your hearts shall reioyce, and your ioy shall no man take from you.

23 And in ỹ day shal ye aske me nothing. ✣ Verely, verely, I say vnto you, whatsoeuer yee shall aske the Father in my Name, he wil giue it you.

24 Hitherto haue yee asked nothing in my Name: aske, & ye shal receiue, that your ioy may be full.

25 7 These things haue I spoken vnto you in parables: but the time will come, when I shall no more speake to you in parables: but I shall shew you plainly of the Father.

26 8 At that day shall yee aske in my Name, and I say not vnto you, that I will pray vnto the Father for you:

27 For the Father himselfe loueth you, because ye haue loued me, ✣ and haue beleeued that I came out from God.

28 I am come out from the Father, and came into the world: againe I leaue the worlde, and goe to the Father.

29 9 His disciples said vnto him, Lo, now speakest thou plainely, and thou speakest no parable.

30 Nowe knowe wee that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should aske thee. By this we beleeue, that thou art come out from God.

31 Iesus answered them, Doe you beleeue nowe?

32 ✣ 10 Beholde, the houre commeth, & is already come, that ye shall be scattered euery man into his owne, and shall leaue me alone: but I am not alone: for the Father is with me.

33 11 These things haue I spoken vnto you, that h in me ye might haue peace. In the world ye shall haue affliction, but be of good comfort: I haue ouercome the world.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Christ prayeth that his glory together with his Fathers may be made manifest. 9 He prayeth for his Apostles, 20 and for all beleeuers.

THese 1 things spake Iesus, and lift vp his eyes to heauen, and sayd, 2 Father, that houre is come: glorifie thy Sonne, that thy Sonne also may glorifie thee,

2 ✣ As thou hast giuen him power ouer 2 all flesh, that he should giue eternall life to all them that thou hast giuen him.

3 And this is life eternall, that they knowe thee to be the b onely very God, and whome thou hast sent, Iesus Christ.

4 I haue glorified thee on the earth: I haue finished the worke which thou gauest me to doe.

5 And nowe glorifie mee, thou Father, with thine owne selfe, with the glory which I had with thee before the world was.

6 3 I haue declared thy Name vnto the men which thou gauest mee out of the world: c thine they were, and thou d gauest them me, and they haue kept thy worde.

7 ✣ Nowe they knowe that all things whatsoeuer thou hast giuen me, are of thee.

8 For I haue giuen vnto them ỹ wordes which thou gauest me, & they haue receiued them, and haue knowen surely that I came out from thee, and haue beleeued that thou hast sent me.

9 I pray for them: I pray not for the worlde, but for them which thou hast giuen me: for they are thine.

✣ Chap. 17. 8.

9 Faith and foolish securitie differ very much.

✣ Matth. 28. 37. mar. 14. 27.

10 Neither the wickednesse of the world, neither the weakenesse of his owne, can diminish any thing of the vertue of Christ.

11 The sure etie & stay of the Church dependeth onely vpon the victorie of Christ.

h That in me you might be throughly quieted. For by (peace) is meant in this place, that quiet state of mind, which is cleane contrary to disquietnesse and beastinesse.

1 Iesus Christ the euerlasting high Priest being readie straightwayes to offer vp himselfe, doeth by solemne prayers consecrate himselfe to God the Father, as a sacrifice, and vs together with himselfe. Therefore this prayer was from the beginning, is, and shalbe to the end of the world, the foundation & ground of the Church of God.

2 He first declareth, that as he came into the world to the end that the Father might shew in him, being apprehended by faith, his glory in sauing his elect, so he applied himselfe to that onely: and therefore desireth of the Father, that he would blesse the worke which hee had finished. ✣ Matth. 28. 18. a Ouer all men. b Hee calleth the Father the onely very God, to set him against all false gods, and not to shut out himselfe and the holy Ghost, for straightwayes hee ioyneth the knowledge of the Father and the knowledge of himselfe together, and according to his accustomed maner, setteth foorth the whole Godhead in the person of the Father: So is the Father alone said to be King, immortall, wise, and dwelling in light which no man can attaine vnto, inuisible, Rom. 16. 27. 1. tim. 1. 17. 3 First of all hee prayeth for those his disciples, by whom he would haue the rest to be gathered together, and commendeth them vnto the Father, (hauing once reiected the whole company of ỹ reprobate) because he receiued them of him into his custodie, and for that they embracing his doctrine, shall haue so many and so mightie enemies, that there is no way for them to be in safetie, but by his helpe onely. c He sheweth hereby, that our lasting election and choise, which was hidden in the good will and pleasure of God, which is the ground worke of our saluation. d Hee sheweth how that our lasting and hidden purpose of God is declared in Christ, by whome we are iustified and sanctified, if we lay hold on him by faith, that at length we may come to the glory of the election. ✣ Chap 16. 27.

10 And al mine are thine, and thine are mine, and I am glorified in them.

11 And now am I no more in the worlde, but these are in the worlde, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keepe them in thy Name, euen them whome thou hast giuen mee, that they may bee one, as we are.

12 While I was with them in the worlde, I kept them in thy Name: those that thou gauest me, haue I kept, and none of them is lost, but the childe of perdition, that the ✣ Scripture might be fulfilled.

13 And now come I to thee, and these things speake I in the worlde, that they might haue my ioy fulfilled in themselues.

14 I haue giuen them thy worde, and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, as I am not of the world.

15 4 I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou keepe them from euill.

16 They are not of the worlde, as I am not of the world.

17 f Sanctifie them with thy trueth: thy word is trueth.

18 5 As thou diddest send me into the world, so haue I sent them into the world.

19 And for their sakes sanctifie I my self, that they also may be sanctified through the g trueth.

20 6 I pray not for these alone, but for them also which shall beleeue in mee, through their word, 21 That they all may be one, as thou, O Father, art in me, and I in thee: euen that they may be also one in vs, that the worlde may beleeue that thou hast sent me.

22 And the glorie that thou gauest me, I haue giuen them, that they may be one, as we are one,

23 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one, and that the worlde may knowe that thou hast sent mee, and hast loued them, as thou hast loued me.

24 ✣ Father, I will that they which thou hast giuen me, be with me euen where I am, that they may behold that my glorie, which thou hast giuen me: for thou louedst me before the foundation of the world.

25 O righteous Father, the worlde also hath not knowen thee, but I haue knowen thee, and these haue knowen, that thou hast sent me.

26 7 And I haue declared vnto thē thy Name, and will declare it, that the loue wherewith thou hast loued me, may be in them, and I in them.

1 He prayeth that his people may peaceably agree and be ioyned together in one, that as the Godhead is one, so they may be of one mind and one consent together.
✣ Psal.109.7.
4 Hee sheweth what maner of deliuerance he meaneth, not that they should be in no danger, but that they being preserued from all, might proue by experience that the doctrine of saluation is true, which they receiued at his mouth to deliuer to other.
f That is, make them holy: and that is said to be holy, which is dedicated and made proper to God onely.
5 Hee addeth moreouer, that the Apostles haue a vocation common with him, & therefore that they must be holden vp by the selfe same vertue to giue vp themselues wholy to God, whereby he being first, did consecrate himselfe to the Father.
g The true and substantiall sanctification of Christ, is set against the outward purifyings.
6 Secondarily hee offereth to God the Father all his, that is, how many so euer shall beleeue in him by the doctrine of the Apostles: that as he deuoteth vnto the Father receiuing from him al fulnesse, so they being ioyned with him, may receiue life from him, and all ioyntly being together beloued in him, may also with him enioy euerlasting glory. ✣ Cha.12.26.
7 He communicateth with his by little and little, the knowledge of the Father, which is most full in Christ the mediatour, that they may in him be beloued of the Father, with the selfe same loue wherewith he loueth the Sonne.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 By Christes power, whom Iudas betrayeth, 6 the souldiers are cast downe to the ground. 13 Christ is led to Annas, and from him to Caiaphas. 22, 23 His answere to the officer that smote him with a rod. 28 Being deliuered to Pilate, 36 he declareth his kingdome.

1 Christ goeth of his owne accord into a garden, which his betrayer knew, to be taken: that by his obedience hee might take away ✣ sin that entred into the world by one mans rebellion, and that in a garden. ✣ Mat.26.36. mar.14.32. luk.22.39.

WHen 1 Iesus had spoken these things, hee went foorth with his disciples ouer the brooke Cedron, where was a garden, into the which he entred, and his disciples.

2 And Iudas which betrayed him knewe also the place: for Iesus oft times resorted thither with his disciples.

3 ✣ 2 Iudas then, after hee had receiued a band of men and officers of the high Priests, and of the Pharises, came thither with lanternes and torches, and weapons.

4 3 Then Iesus, knowing all thinges that should come vnto him, went forth and said vnto them, Whom seeke yee?

5 They answered him, Iesus of Nazareth. Iesus saide vnto them, I am he. Nowe Iudas also which betrayed him, stoode with them.

6 Assoon then as he had said vnto thē, I am he, they went away backwards, & fel to the ground.

7 Then he asked them againe, Whom seeke yee? And they said, Iesus of Nazareth.

8 4 Iesus answered, I said vnto you, that I am he: therfore if ye seeke me, let these go their way.

9 This was that the worde might be fulfilled which hee spake, ✣ Of them which thou gauest me, haue I lost none.

10 5 Then Simon Peter hauing a sword, drew it, and smote the hie Priests seruant, & cut off his right eare. Now the seruants name was Malchus.

11 Then saide Iesus vnto Peter, Put vp thy sworde into the sheath: shall I not drinke of the cup which my Father hath giuen me?

12 Then the band and the captaine, and the officers of the Iewes tooke Iesus, and bound him,

13 6 And led him away to ∴ Annas first (for he was father in lawe to Caiaphas, which was the hie Priest that same yeere)

14 ✣ And Caiaphas was he, that gaue counsel to the Iewes, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 ¶ 7 ✣ Nowe Simon Peter followed Iesus, and another disciple, & that disciple was knowen of the hie Priest: therefore hee went in with Iesus into the hall of the hie Priest:

16 But Peter stoode at the doore without. Then went out the other disciple which was knowen vnto the hie Priest, and spake to him that kept the doore, and brought in Peter.

17 Then saide the maide that kept the doore, vnto Peter, Art not thou also one of this mans disciples? He said, I am not.

18 And the seruants and officers stood there, which had made a fire of coles: for it was colde, and they warmed themselues. And Peter also stoode among them, and warmed himselfe.

19 ¶ (8 The hie Priest then asked Iesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Iesus answered him, I spake openly to the world: I euer taught in the Synagogue and in the Temple, whither the Iewes resort continually, and in secret haue I said nothing.

21 Why askest thou mee? aske them which heard me what I saide vnto them: beholde, they know what I said.

22 When he had spoken these things, one of the officers which stoode by, smote Iesus with his rod, saying, Answerest thou the hie Priest so?

CHAP. XIX.

1 Pilate, when Chriſt was ſcourged, 2 and crowned with thorne, 4 was deſirous to let him looſe: 8 but being ouercome with the outrage of the Iewes, 16 He deliuereth him to be crucified. 26 Ieſus commiſteth his mother to the diſciple. 30 Hauing taſted vineger, he dieth: 34 and being dead, his ſide is pierced with a ſpeare. 40 He is buried.

THen ✠ Pilate tooke Ieſus and [1] ſcourged him.

2 And the ſouldiers platted a crowne of thornes, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple garment,

3 And ſaide, Haile, King of the Iewes. And they ſmote him with their roddes.

4 [2] Then Pilate went foorth againe, and ſaid vnto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know, that I finde no fault in him at all.

5 Then came Ieſus foorth wearing a crowne of thorns, and a purple garment. And Pilate ſaid vnto them, Behold the man.

6 Then when the hie Prieſts and officers ſaw him, they cried, ſaying, [a] Crucifie, crucifie him. Pilate ſaid vnto them, Take ye him, and crucifie him: for I find no fault in him.

7 The Iewes anſwered him, We haue a law, and by our law he ought to die, becauſe he made himſelfe the Sonne of God.

8 ¶ [3] When Pilate then heard that word, he was the more afraide, 9 And went againe into the common hall, and ſaid vnto Ieſus, Whence art thou? But Ieſus gaue him none anſwere.

10 Then ſaid Pilate vnto him, Speakeſt thou not vnto me? Knoweſt thou not ỹ I haue power to crucifie thee, and haue power to looſe thee?

11 Ieſus anſwered, Thou couldeſt haue no power at all againſt me, except it were giuen thee from aboue: therefore he that deliuered me vnto thee, hath the greater ſinne.

12 From thence forth Pilate ſought to looſe him, but the Iewes cried, ſaying, If thou deliuer him, thou art not Ceſars friend: for whoſoeuer maketh himſelfe a King, ſpeaketh againſt Ceſar.

13 ¶ [4] When Pilate heard this worde, hee brought Ieſus forth, and ſate downe in the iudgement ſeate in a place called the pauement, and in Hebrew, [b] Gabbatha.

14 And it was the Preparation of the Paſſouer, and about the ſixt houre: and he ſaid vnto the Iewes, Behold your King.

15 But they cried, Away with him, away with him, crucifie him. Pilate ſaide vnto them, Shall I crucifie your King? The hie Prieſts anſwered, We haue no King but Ceſar.

16 [5] Then deliuered hee him vnto them, to be crucified. ✠ And they tooke Ieſus, and led him away.

17 And he bare his own croſſe, and came into a place named of dead mens skulles, which is called in Hebrew, Golgotha:

18 Where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either ſide one, and Ieſus in the mids.

19 ¶ [6] And Pilate wrote alſo a title, and put it on the croſſe, and it was written, IESVS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE IEWES.

20 This title then read many of the Iewes: for the place where Ieſus was crucified, was neere to the citie: and it was written in Hebrew, Greeke and Latine.

21 Then ſaide the hie Prieſtes of the Iewes to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Iewes, but that he ſaid, I am King of the Iewes.

22 Pilate anſwered, What I haue written, I haue written.

23 ¶ [7] Then the ✠ ſouldiers, when they had crucified Ieſus, tooke his garments (and made foure parts, to euery ſouldier a part) & his coate: and the coate was without ſeame wouen from the toppe throughout.

24 Therefore they ſaide one to another, Let vs not diuide it, but caſt lots for it, whoſe it ſhall be. This was that the Scripture might be fulfilled, which ſaieth, ∴ They parted my garments among them, and on my coate did caſt lots. So the ſouldiers did theſe things in deede.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Ieſus appeareth to his diſciples as they were a fiſhing. 6. 7 whom he by a miraculous draught of fiſhes. 15 He committeth the charge of the ſheepe to Peter, 18 and foretelleth him of the manner of his death.

1 In that that Chriſt here is not onely preſent, but alſo eateth with his diſciples, he giueth a moſt full aſſurance of his reſurrection.

AFter theſe things, [1] Ieſus ſhewed himſelfe a-gaine to his diſciples at the ſea of Tiberias: and thus ſhewed he himſelfe:

2 There were together Simon Peter, & Thomas, which is called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galile, and the ſonnes of Zebedeus, and two other of his diſciples.

3 Simon Peter ſaid vnto them, I go a fiſhing. They ſayd vnto him, We alſo will goe with thee. They went their way & entred into a ſhip ſtraightway, and that night caught they nothing.

4 But when the morning was now come, Ieſus ſtood on the ſhore: neuertheleſſe the diſciples knew not that it was Ieſus.

5 Ieſus then ſayd vnto them, Sirs, haue ye any meate? They anſwered him, No.

6 Then he ſayd vnto them, Caſt out the net on the right ſide of the ſhip, and ye ſhall finde. So they caſt out, & they were not able at all to draw it, for the multitude of fiſhes.

7 Therefore ſayd the diſciple whom Ieſus loued vnto Peter, It is the Lord. When Simon Peter heard that it was § Lord, he girded his [a] coate to him (for he was naked) and caſt himſelfe into the ſea.

8 But the other diſciples came by ſhip (for they were not farre from land, but about two hundreth cubites) and they drewe the net with fiſhes.

a It was a lowre garment, which could not let his ſwimming.

9 As ſoone then as they were come to land, they ſawe hote coales, and fiſh laied thereon, and bread.

10 Ieſus ſayd vnto them, Bring of the fiſhes, which ye haue now caught.

11 Simon Peter ſtepped foorth and drewe the net to land, full of great fiſhes, an hundreth, fiftie and three: and albeit there were ſo many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Ieſus ſaid vnto them, Come, and dine. And none of the diſciples durſt aske him, Who art thou? ſeeing they knew that he was the Lord.

13 Ieſus then came and tooke bread and gaue them, and fiſh likewiſe.

14 This is now the third time that Ieſus ſhewed himſelfe to his diſciples, after that hee was riſen againe from the dead.

2 Peter by his triple confeſſion is reſtored againe vnto his former degree from whence he fell by his triple deniall: and therewithall is aduertiſed, that he is in deed a paſtour, which ſheweth his loue to Chriſt, in feeding his ſheep.

15 ¶ [2] So when they had dined, Ieſus ſayd to Simon Peter, Simon the ſonne of Iona, loueſt thou me more then theſe? He ſaid vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knoweſt that I loue thee. He ſaid vnto him, Feede my lambes.

b It was meete, that he that had denied him thrife, ſhould confeſſe him thriſe, that Peter might neither doubt of the forgiuenes of ſo grieuous a fault, nor of his reſtoring to the office of the Apoſtleſhip.

16 Hee ſaid to him againe the ſecond time, Simon the ſonne of Iona, loueſt thou me? He ſayd vnto him, Yea Lorde, thou knoweſt that I loue thee. He ſaid vnto him, Feed my ſheepe.

3 The violent death of Peter is foretold.

17 He ſaid vnto him the [b] third time, Simon the ſonne of Iona, loueſt thou me? Peter was ſorie becauſe he ſaid to him the third time, Loueſt thou me? and ſayd vnto him, Lord, thou knoweſt all things: thou knoweſt that I loue thee. Ieſus ſayd vnto him, Feed my ſheepe.

c They that tooke farre journeys, eſpecially in the Eaſt countrey, and in thoſe places where the people vſed long garments, had need to be girded and truſſed vp.

18 [3] Verely, verely I ſay vnto thee, When thou waſt yong, thou [c] girdedſt thy ſelfe, and walkedſt whither thou wouldeſt: but when thou ſhalt bee olde, thou ſhalt ſtretch foorth thine hands, and another ſhall [d] gird thee, and lead thee whither thou wouldeſt [e] not.

d He meant that kind of girding which is vſed to malefactours, when they are bound faſt with cordes and chaines, as who would ſay, Now thou girdeſt thy ſelfe, as thou thinkeſt beſt, to go whither thou liſteſt, but the time will be, when thou ſhalt not gird thee with a girdle, but another ſhall bind thee with chaines, and carie thee whither thou wouldeſt not.

19 And this ſpake hee ſignifying by [f] what death he ſhould glorifie God. And when he had ſaid this, he ſaid to him, Follow me.

e Not that Peter ſuffred ought for the truth of God againſt his will: for we read that he came with ioy and gladneſſe when he returned from the Councel where he was whipped: but becauſe this will commeth not of the fleſh, but from that gift of the ſpirit which is giuen vs from about, therefore he ſhewed there ſhould be a certain ſtriuing & conflict or repugnancie, which alſo is in vs, in all our ſufferances as touching the fleſh.

20 ✣ Then Peter turned about, and ſawe the diſciple whom Ieſus loued, following, which had alſo ✣ leaned on his breaſt at ſupper, and had ſaide, Lorde, which is hee that betrayeth thee?

21 When Peter therefore ſawe him, he ſaid to Ieſus, Lord, what ſhall this man doe?

22 Ieſus ſaid vnto him, If I will that hee tarie till I come, what is it to thee? follow thou me.

23 Then went [4] this worde abroad among the brethren, that this diſciple ſhould not die. Yet Ieſus ſayd not to him, He ſhall not die: but If I will that hee tarie till I come, what is it to thee?

f That is, that Peter ſhould die by a violent death.

24 [5] This is that diſciple, which teſtifieth of theſe things, & wrote theſe things, and we know that his teſtimonie is true.

4 We muſt take heed, that whiles wee caſt our eies vpon other, we neglect not that which is inioyned vs. ✣ Chap.13.23.

25 ✣ Nowe there are alſo many other things which Ieſus did, the which if they ſhould bee written euery one, I ſuppoſe the worlde could not conteine the bookes that ſhould be written. Amen.

THE

THE ACTES OF THE HOLY APOSTLES WRITTEN BY LVKE THE EVANGELIST.

CHAP. I.

1 Luke tieth the historie to his Gospel. 9 Christ being taken into heauen, 10 the Apostles 11 being warned by the Angels, 12 returne, 14 and giue themselues to prayer. 15 By Peters motion, 18 into Iudas the traitours place, 26 Matthias is chosen.

THE former treatise, O Theophilus, of all that IESVS began to [a] do and teach,

2 Vntill the day that hee was taken vp, after that hee through the holie Ghost, had giuen commaundements vnto the Apostles, whom hee had chosen:

3 [2] To whom also he presented himselfe aliue after that he had suffered, by many [b] infallible tokens, being seene of them by the space of fourtie dayes, and speaking of those things which appertaine to the kingdome of God.

4 ✣ And when he had [c] gathered them together, he commanded them that they should not depart from Hierusalem, but to waite for the promise of the Father, ✣ which said he, ye haue heard of me.

5 ✣ For Iohn in deede baptized with water, but ye shall be baptized [d] with the holy Ghost within these few dayes.

6 [3] When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time [e] restore the kingdome to Israel?

7 And he said vnto them, It is not for you to know the times, or the [f] seasons, which the Father hath put in his owne power,

8 ✣ But yee shall receiue power of the holie Ghost, when he shall come on you: and ye shal be witnesses vnto me both in Hierusalem and in all Iudea, and in Samaria, and vnto the vttermost part of the earth.

9 ✣ [4] And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken vp: for a cloude tooke him vp out of their sight.

10 And while they looked stedfastly towarde heauen, as he went, beholde, two men stoode by them in white apparell, 11 Which also said, Yee men of Galile, why stand ye gasing into heauen? This Iesus which is taken vp [g] from you into heauen, shal so come, as ye haue seene him goe into heauen.

12 ¶ Then returned they vnto Hierusalem from the mount that is called the mount of Oliues, which is neere to Hierusalem, being from it a Sabbath [h] dayes iourney.

13 [5] And when they were [i] come in, they went vp into an vpper chamber, where abode both Peter and Iames, and Iohn, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartlemew, and Matthew, Iames the son of Alpheus, and Simon Zelotes, and Iudas Iames brother.

14 These al [k] continued with [l] one accord in [m] prayer & supplication, with the [n] women, & Marie the mother of Iesus, and with his [o] brethren.

15 ¶ [6] And in those dayes Peter stoode vp in the middes of the disciples, and saide (nowe the number of [p] names that were in one place were about an hundreth and twentie,)

16 [7] Ye men and brethren, this scripture must needes haue beene fulfilled, which the ✣ holie Ghost by [q] mouth of Dauid spake before of Iudas, which was [r] guide to them that tooke Iesus.

17 For he was numbred with vs, and had obtained felowship in this ministration.

18 He therefore hath [s] purchased a field with the reward of iniquity: and when he had [t] throwen downe himselfe headlong, hee brast asunder in the middes, and al his bowels gushed out.

19 And it is knowen vnto all the inhabitants of Hierusalem, in so much, that that field is called in their owne language, Aceldama, that is, The field of blood.

20 For it is written in the booke of Psalmes, ✣ Let his habitation be void, and let no man dwel therein: ✣ also, Let another take his [u] charge.

21 [8] Wherefore of these men which haue companied with vs, all the time that the Lord Iesus was [x] conuersant among vs, 22 Beginning from the baptisme of Iohn vnto the day that he was taken vp [y] from vs, must one of them be made a witnesse with vs of his resurrection.

23 [9] And they [z] presented two, Ioseph called Barsabas, whose surname was Iustus, & Matthias.

24 And they prayed, saying, Thou Lorde, which knowest the heartes of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosen, 25 That he may take the [a] roume of this ministration and Apostleship, from which Iudas hath [b] gone astray, to goe to his owne place.

26 Then they gaue foorth their lottes: and the lotte fell on Matthias, and he was by a common consent counted with the eleuen Apostles.

1 A passing ouer from the historie of the Gospel, that is, from the historie of the sayings and doings of Christ, vnto the actes of the Apostles.

a The actes of Iesus are the miracles and doings which shewed his Godhead, and his most perfite holinesse and examples of his doctrine.

2 Christ did not straightwaies ascend into heauen after his resurrection, because he would throughly proue his resurrection, and with his presence confirme his Apostles in the doctrine, which they had heard.

b He calleth those infallible tokens, which are otherwise termed necessarie: now in that, that Christ spake, & walked, and ate, and was felt of many, these are sure signes and tokens that he truely rose againe.

c They were dispersed here and there, but he gathereth them together, that they might altogether be witnesses of his resurrection.

d Either of the Father, or of mee: for hee either the Father or Christ is set here against Iohn, as the holy Ghost is against the water, as things vnsauerable the one to the other.

3 We must fight before we triumph: and we ought not curiously to search after those things, which God hath not reuealed.

e To the olde and ancient state.

f That is, the fitte occasion, that serue to doing of matters which the Lord hath appointed to bring things to passe in.

✣ Chap. 2.2. ✣ Luk. 24.51.

4 After that Christ had promised the ful vertue of the holy Ghost, wherewith he would gouerne his Church, although he should be absent in body, hee tooke vp his body from vs into the heauenly tabernacles, there to continue vntil the latter day of iudgement, as the Angels witnes.

g That is, out of your sight.

h About two miles.

5 Ecclesiasticall assemblies to heare the worde, and to make common prayer, were first instituted and kept in priuate houses by the Apostles.

i They went into the house, which the Church had chosen at that time to be meete for the whole assemblie.

k The Greeke word signifieth an vnmoueable constancie, and steadinesse.

l It is to good purpose, that this concord is mentioned: for those prayers are most acceptable to God, which are made with agreeing mindes and willes.

m The disciples prayed for the sending of the holy Ghost, and also to be deliuered from present dangers wherewith they were beset.

n For it was behoouable to haue the wiues confirmed, who were afterward to be partakers of the dangers with their husbands.

o With his disciples.

6 Peter is made the mouth and interpreter of the whole companie of the Apostles, either by secret reuelation of the holy Ghost, or by expresse iudgement of y congregation.

p Because men are commonly billed & rowled by their names.

7 Peter preuenteth the offence that might be taken of the falling away of Iudas the betrayer, shewing that all things which came vnto him, were foretold by God.

q Luke confirmeth not Iudas his purpose, but that that followed of it, and so we vse to say, that a man hath procured himselfe harme, not that his will and purpose was so, but in respect of that which followed.

✣ Matth. 27.5.

r The Greeke word signifieth thus much, that Iudas fell downe flat and was rent in sunder in the middes, with a marueilous huge noise.

s His office and ministerie: Dauid wrote these words against Doeg the Kings heardman: And these words, Shepheard, Sheepe, and Flocke, are put ouer to the Church office and ministerie, so that the Church and the officers thereof are called by these names.

8 The Apostles deliberate vpon nothing, but first they consult and take aduisement by Gods word: and against they do nothing that concerneth and is behouseable for the whole body of the Congregation, without making the Congregation priuie vnto it.

t Word for word, went in and out, which kind of speach betokeneth as much in the Hebrew tongue, as the exercising of a publique and paine full office, Deuter. 31.2. 2 Chronic. 1.10.

u From our companie.

9 Apostles must be chosen immediatly from God, and therefore after prayers Matthias is chosen by lotte, which is as it were, GODS owne voice.

x Openly, and by the voices of all the whole companie.

y That he may be fellow and partaker of this ministerie.

z Departed from, or fallen from. And it is a Metaphore taken from the way: For callings are signified by the name of wayes, with the Hebrewes.

CHAP.

CHAP. III.

1 The Apostles 4 filled with the holy Ghost 8 speake with diuers tongues: 12 They are thought to be drunke, 15 but Peter disproueth that: 34 He teacheth that Christ is the Messias: 37 And seeing the hearers astonied, 38 he exhorteth them to repentance.

AND when the day of Pentecost was come, they were all with one accord in one place,

2 And suddenly there came a sounde from heauen, as of a rushing and mightie winde, and it filled all the house where they sate.

3 And there appeared vnto them clouen tongues, like fire, and it sate vpon eche of them.

4 And they were all filled with the holie Ghost, & began to speake with other tongues, as the Spirite gaue them vtterance.

5 And there were dwelling at Hierusalem Iewes, men that feared God, of euery nation vnder heauen.

6 Nowe when this was noised, the multitude came together and were astonied, because that euery man heard them speake his owne language.

7 And they wondered al, and maruciled, saying among themselues, Beholde, are not all these which speake, of Galile?

8 How then heare we euery man our own language, wherein we were borne?

9 Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the inhabitants of Mesopotamia, and of Iudea, and of Cappadocia, of Pontus, and Asia,

10 And of Phrygia, and Pamphylia, of Egypt, & of the parts of Libya, which is beside Cyrene, and strangers of Rome, & Iewes, and Proselytes, 11 Cretes, & Arabians: we heard them speake in our own tongues the wonderful workes of God.

12 They were al then amased, and doubted, saying one to another, What may this be?

13 And others mocked, and saide, They are full of new wine.

14 ¶ But Peter standing with the eleuen, lifte vp his voice, and said vnto them, Yee men of Iudea, and yee all that inhabite Hierusalem, be this knowen vnto you, and hearken vnto my words.

15 For these are not drunken, as yee suppose, since it is but the third houre of the day,

16 But this is that, which was spoken by the Prophet Ioel,

17 And it shalbe in the last daies, saith God, I wil powre out of my Spirit vpon all flesh, & your sonnes, and your daughters shall prophecie, and your yong men shall see visions, and your old men shall dreame dreames.

18 And on my seruants, and on mine handmaides I will powre out of my Spirite in those daies, and they shall prophecie.

19 And I will shewe wonders in heauen aboue, and tokens in the earth beneath, blood, and fire, and the vapours of smoke.

20 The Sunne shal be turned into darknesse, and the moone into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come.

21 And it shalbe, that whosoeuer shal call on the name of the Lord, shal be saued.

22 Yee men of Israel, heare these wordes, IESVS of Nazareth, a man approued of God among you with great workes, and wonders, and signes, which God did by him in the middes of you, as ye your selues also know:

23 Him, I say, being deliuered by the determinate counsell, and foreknowledge of God, after you had taken, with wicked handes you haue crucified and slaine.

24 Whom God hath raised vp, and loosed the sorrowes of death, because it was vnpossible that he should be holden of it.

25 For Dauid saieth concerning him, I beheld the Lord alwayes before me: for he is at my right hand, that I should not be shaken.

26 Therefore did mine heart reioyce, and my tongue was glad, and moreouer also my flesh shal rest in hope, 27 Because thou wilt not leaue my soule in graue, neither wilt suffer thine Holie one to see corruption.

28 Thou hast shewed me the waies of life, & shalt make me full of ioy, with thy countenance.

29 Men and brethren, I may boldely speake vnto you of the Patriarke Dauid, and that hee is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre remaineth with vs vnto this day.

30 Therefore, seeing he was a Prophet, and knewe that God had sworne with an othe to him, that of the fruit of his loines he would raise vp Christ concerning the flesh, to set him vpon his throne, 31 He knowing this before, spake of the resurrection of Christ, that his soule should not be left in graue, neither his flesh should see corruption.

32 This Iesus hath God raised vp, whereof we all are witnesses.

33 Since then that hee by the right hand of God hath bene exalted, and hath receiued of his Father the promise of the holy Ghost, hee hath shed foorth this which ye now see and heare.

34 For Dauid is not ascended into heauen, but he saith, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right hand, 35 Vntill I make thine enemies thy foote-stoole.

36 Therefore let all the house of Israel know for a suretie, that God hath made him both Lorde, and Christ, this Iesus, I say, whome yee haue crucified.

1 The Apostles being gathered together on a most solemne feast day in one place, that it might euidently appeare to all the world, that they had all one office, one Spirite, one faith, are by a double signe from heauen authorised, and anointed with all the most excellent giftes of the holy Ghost, and especially with an extraordinarie and necessarie gift of tongues.

a Word for word, was fulfilled: that is, was begunne, as Luke 2.21. For the Hebrewes say that a day, or a yeere is fulfilled or ended when the first dayes or yeeres are ended, and the other begun, Ieue. 25.12. And it shal come to passe, that when seuentie yeeres are fulfilled, I wil visite, &c. For the Lord did not bring home his people after the seuenteth yeere was ended, but in the seuentieth yeere: Now the day of Pentecost was the fiftieth day after the feast of the Passeouer.

b The twelue Apostles, which were to be the Patriarkes as it were of the Church.

c He calleth them other tongues, which were not the same which the Apostles vsed commonly, and Marke calleth them new tongues.

d Hereby we vnderstand, that the Apostles vsed not now one tongue, and then another by chance and at all aduenture, or as fantastical men vse to do, but with good consideration of their hearers: and to be short, that they spake nothing but as the holy ghost gouerned their tongues.

e Not that they spake with one voice, & many languages were heard, but that the Apostles spake with strange tongues: for eche the miracle had rather bin in the hearers, when as now it is in the speakers. Nazian in his oration of Whitsunday.

f By Iewes, he meaneth them that were both Iewes by birth, & Iewes by profession of religion though they were borne in other places: and they were Proselytes, which were Gentiles borne, & embraced the Iewish religion.

2 Gods worde pierceth some so, that it driueth them to seeke out the trueth, and it doth so choke other, that it forceth them to be witnesses of their owne impudencie.

g The word which he vseth here, signifieth such a kind of mocking which is reprochfull and contumelious: And by this reprochfull mocking we see, that there is no miracle so great and excellent, which the wickednes of man dareth not speake euil of.

h Peter his holines is to be marked, wherein the grace of the holie Ghost is to be seene, euen straight after the beginning.

i After the sunne rising, which may be about seuen or eight of the clocke with vs.

k There is nothing that can dissolue questions and doubts, but testimonie taken out of the Prophets: for mens reasons may be ouerturned, but Gods voice cannot be ouerturned.

3 Peter setting the trueth of God against the false accusations of men, sheweth in himselfe and in his fellowes, that that is fulfilled which Ioel spake before concerning the full giuing of the holy Ghost in the latter daies: which grace also is offered to the whole Church, to their certaine and vndoubted destruction, which do condemne it.

l All without exception, both vpon the Iewes and Gentiles.

m That is, men.

4 The chiefest vse of all the giftes of the holy Ghost, is to bring men to saluation by faith.

n The word, call on, signifieth in the Scriptures, an earnest praying & craming for helpe at Gods hande.

5 Christ being innocent, was by Gods prouidence crucified of wicked men.

o Who is by those workes which God wrought by him, so manifestly approued and allowed of, that no man can gainesay him.

p Gods euerlasting knowledge going before, which can neither be separated from his diuine counsell, as the Epicures do, neither yet be the cause of euill: for God in his euerlasting & vnchangeable counsell appointed the wicked act of Iudas to an excellent ende: and God doth that wel which the instruments do ill.

q Gods counsell doth not excuse the Iewes, whose hands were wicked.

r The fact is said to be theirs, by whose counsell and egging forward it is done.

6 Christ (as Dauid foretolde) did not onely rise againe, but also was in the graue voide of all corruption.

s The death that was full of sorowe both of body and minde: therefore when death appeared conqueror and victorer ouer those sorowes, Christ is rightly said to haue ouercome those sorowes of death, whereas being dead, he ouercame death to liue for euer with his Father.

t Thou wilt not suffer me to remaine in graue.

u Thou hast opened me the way to the true life. ✣ 1. King. 2.10. chap. 13.36.

x Psal 132.11. y Had sworne solemnly. ✣ Psal. 16.10. chap. 13.35. z Peter witnesseth that Iesus Christ is the appointed euerlasting King, which he proueth manifestly by the giftes of the holy Ghost and the testimonie of Dauid.

a Might and power of God. ✣ Psal. 110.1. b Christ is said to be made, because he was aduanced to that dignitie: and therefore it is not spoken of his nature, but of his state and high dignitie.

37 Now when they heard it, they were pricked in their hearts, and ſaid vnto Peter and the other Apoſtles, Men and brethren, what ſhall we doe?

38 [8] Then Peter ſaid vnto them, Amend your liues, and bee baptized euery one of you in the Name of Ieſus Chriſt for the remiſſion of ſinnes: and ye ſhall receiue the gift of the holy Ghoſt.

39 For the [a] promiſe is made vnto you, and to your children, and to all that are a farre off, euen as many as the Lord our God ſhall call.

40 [9] And with many other words he beſought and exhorted them, ſaying, Saue your ſelues from this forward generation.

41 [10] Then they that gladly receiued his word, were baptized: and the ſame day there were added to the Church about three thouſand ſoules.

42 [11] And they cõtinued in ỹ Apoſtles doctrine, and [b] fellowſhip, & [c] breaking of bread, & praiers.

43 ¶ [12] And feare came vpon euery ſoule: and many wonders & ſignes were done by ỹ Apoſtles.

44 [13] And all that beleeued, were in one place, and had all things common.

45 And they ſolde their poſſeſſions & goods, and parted them to al men, as euery one had need.

46 [14] And they continued dayly with one accord in the Temple, & breaking bread at home, did eate their meate together with gladneſſe and ſingleneſſe of heart, 47 Praiſing God, and had fauour with all the people: and the Lorde added to the Church from day to day, ſuch as ſhould be ſaued.

8 Repentance and remiſſion of ſinnes in Chriſt, are two principles of the Goſpel, and therefore of our ſaluation: and they are obtained by the promiſes apprehended by faith, and are ratified in vs by Baptiſme, wherewith is ioyned the vertue of the holy Ghoſt.

a The word that is vſed here, giueth vs to vnderſtand, that it was a free gift.

9 He is truely ioyned to the Church, which ſeparateth himſelfe from the wicked.

10 A notable example of the vertue of the holy Ghoſt: but ſuch as are of age, are not baptized, before they make confeſſion of their faith.

11 The markes of the true Church are the doctrine of the Apoſtles, the duetie of charitie, the pure & ſimple adminiſtration of the Sacraments, and true inuocation vſed of all the faithful. b Cõmunicating of goods, & all other duties of charitie, as is ſhewed afterward. c The Iewes vſed thinne loaues, & therefore they did rather breake them then cut thẽ: So by breaking of bread, they vnderſtood that liuing together, and the banquets which they vſed to keepe. And when they kept their loue feaſtes, they vſed to celebrate the Lords Supper, which euen in theſe dayes began to be corrupted, & Paul amendeth it, 1. Cor. 11. 12 So oft as the Lord thinketh it expedient, he bridleth the rage of ſtrangers, that the Church may be planted, and haue ſome reſteſhing. 13 Charitie maketh all things cõmon concerning the vſe, according as neceſſitie requireth. 14 The faithfull came together at the beginning with great fruite, not onely to the hearing of the word, but alſo to meate.

CHAP. III.

1 Peter goeth into the Temple with Iohn, 2 healeth the creeple. 9 To the people gathered together to ſee the miracle, 12 he expoundeth the myſterie of our ſaluation through Chriſt, 14 accuſing their ingratitude, 19 and requiring their repentance.

NOw [1] Peter and Iohn went vp together into the Temple, at the ninth houre of prayer.

2 And a certaine man which was a creeple from his mothers wombe, was caried, whom they layde dayly at the gate of the Temple called Beautifull, to aske almes of them that entred into ỹ Temple.

3 Who ſeeing Peter & Iohn, that they would enter into the Temple, deſired to receiue an almes.

4 And Peter earneſtly beholding him with Iohn, ſayd, Looke on vs.

5 And hee [a] gaue heede vnto them, truſting to receiue ſome thing of them.

6 Then ſaid Peter, Siluer & gold haue I none, but ſuch as I haue, that giue I thee: In the Name of Ieſus Chriſt of Nazareth, riſe vp and walke.

7 And hee tooke him by the right hand, and lift him vp, and immediately his feete and ankle bones receiued ſtrength.

8 And he leaped vp, ſtoode, and walked, and entred with them into the Temple, walking and leaping, and praiſing God.

9 And all the people ſawe him walke, and praiſing God.

10 And they knewe him, that it was he which ſate for the almes at the Beautifull gate of the Temple: and they were amaſed, and ſore aſtonied at that, which was come vnto him.

11 ¶ And as the creeple which was healed, b helde Peter & Iohn, al the people ranne amaſed vnto them in the porch which is called Salomons.

12 [2] So when Peter ſaw it, he anſwered vnto the people, Ye mẽ of Iſrael, why marueile ye at this? or why looke ye ſo ſtedfaſtly on vs, as though by our own power or godlines, we had made this mã go?

13 The GOD of Abraham, & Iſaac, & Iacob, the ✣ GOD of our fathers hath glorified his Sonne Ieſus, whom ye betraied, & denied in the preſence of Pilate, whẽ he had iudged him to be deliuered.

14 But ye denied the Holy one and the Iuſt, and deſired a murtherer to be giuen you, 15 And killed the Lord [c] of life, whom God hath raiſed frõ the dead, wherof we are witneſſes.

16 And his Name hath made this man ſound, whom ye ſee, & know, through faith in his Name: [d] and the faith which is by him, hath giuen to him this perfite health of his whole body in the preſence of you all.

17 [3] And now brethren, I know that through ignorance ye did it, as did alſo your gouernours.

18 But thoſe things which God before had ſhewed [e] by the mouth of all his Prophets, that Chriſt ſhould ſuffer, he hath thus fulfilled.

19 Amend your liues therefore, and turne, that your ſinnes may be put away, when ỹ time of refreſhing ſhal come from the preſence of the Lord.

20 And hee ſhall ſend Ieſus Chriſt, which before was preached vnto you, 21 [f] Whome the heauen muſt containe vntill the time that all things be reſtored, which God had ſpoken by the mouth of al his holy Prophets ſince the world began.

22 ✣ For Moſes ſaid vnto the Fathers, The Lord your God ſhal raiſe vp vnto you [g] a Prophet, euen of your brethren, like vnto me: ye ſhal heare him in all things, whatſoeuer he ſhall ſay vnto you.

23 For it ſhalbe ỹ euery perſon which ſhall not heare ỹ Prophet, ſhalbe deſtroied out of ỹ people.

24 Alſo all the Prophets [h] from Samuel, and thenceforth as many as haue ſpoken, haue likewiſe foretold of theſe dayes.

25 [4] Ye are the [i] children of the Prophets, and of the couenant, which God hath made vnto our fathers, ſaying to Abraham, ∴ Euen in thy ſeede ſhall all the kinreds of the earth be bleſſed.

26 Firſt vnto you hath God [k] raiſed vp his Sonne Ieſus, and him he hath ſent to bleſſe you, in turning euery one of you from your iniquities.

1 Chriſt, in healing a man that was borne lame, and well knowen to all men, both in place and time very famous, by the hands of his Apoſtles, doeth partly confirme them which beleeued, and partly alſo calleth other to beleeue.

a Both with heart and eyes.

b Either becauſe he loued them, who had healed him: or becauſe he feared that if he once let them goe out of his ſight, he ſhould be lame againe.

2 Miracles are appointed to conuince the vnbeleeuers, and therefore they doe wickedly abuſe them, who ſtanding amaſed either at the miracles themſelues, or at the inſtruments and meanes which it pleaſeth God to vſe, take an occaſion to eſtabliſh idolatrie and ſuperſtition by that, which God hath prouided for the knowledge of his true worſhip, that is, Chriſtianitie.

✣ Chap.5.30.

c Who hath life in himſelfe, & giueth life to other.

d Becauſe he beleeued on him being raiſed frõ the dead, whoſe Name he heard of by vs.

3 It is beſt of all to receiue Chriſt ſo ſoone as he is offered vnto vs: but ſuch as haue neglected ſo great a benefite through mans weakeneſſe, haue yet repentance for a new ſanctification. As for the ignominie of the croſſe, we haue to ſet againſt that, the decree & purpoſe of God, foretolde by the Prophets, of Chriſt, howe that firſt of al he ſhould be crucified here vpon earth, & then he ſhould appeare from heauen the iudge and reſtorer of all things, that al beleeuers might be ſaued, and all vnbeleeuers vtterly periſh.

e Though there were many Prophets, yet he ſpeaketh but of one moneth, to ſhewe vnto vs the conſent and agreement of the Prophets. f Or, be taken vp into heauen. ✣ Deut.18.15. chap.7.37. g This promiſe was of an excellent and ſingular Prophet. h At what time the kingdome of Iſrael was eſtabliſhed. 3 The Iewes that beleeue are the firſt begotten in the kingdome of God. i For whom the Prophets were ſpecially appointed. ∴ Gen.12.3. gala.3.8. k Giuen to the world, or raiſed from the dead, and aduanced to his kingdome.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Peter and Iohn 3 are taken and brought before the councell. 7 and 19 They ſpeake boldly in Chriſtes cauſe. 24 The diſciples pray vnto God. 32 Many ſell their poſſeſſions: 36 Of whome Barnabas is one.

AND [1] as they ſpake vnto the people, the Prieſtes and the [a] Captaine of the Temple, enemies of the Church, then ſuch as profeſſe themſelues to be the more they rage, the more conſtantly the faithfull ſeruants of God doe continue.

1 None are commonly more diligent or bolder head builders: but a The Iewes had certaine garriſons for the garde and ſafetie of the Temple and holy things. Matth.26.65. Theſe garriſons had a Captaine, ſuch as Eleazarus Ananias the hie Prieſtes ſonne was in the time of the warre that was in Iudea, being a very impudent and proude young man, Ioſeph.lib.2. of the taking of Iudea.

and the Sadduces came vpon them,

2 Taking it grieuouſly that they taught the people, and preached in Ieſus Name the reſurrection of the dead.

3 And they laid hands on them, & put them in holde, vntill ỹ next day: for it was now euentide.

4 Howbeit many of them which heard the word, beleeued, and the [b] number of the men was about fiue thouſand.

5 ¶ And it came to paſſe on the morow, that their [c] rulers, and Elders, and Scribes, were gathered togither at Hieruſalem,

6 And Annas the chiefe Prieſt, and Caiaphas, and Iohn, and Alexander, and as many as were of the [d] kindred of the hie Prieſtes.

7 [2] And when they had ſet them before them, they aſked, By what power, or in what [e] Name haue ye done this?

8 Then Peter full of the holy Ghoſt, ſaid vnto them, Ye rulers of the people, & Elders of Iſrael,

9 [3] For as much as we this day are examined of the good deede done to the impotent man, to wit, by what meanes he is made whole,

10 [4] Be it knowen vnto you all, and to all the people of Iſrael, that by the Name of IESVS CHRIST of Nazareth, whō ye haue crucified, whom God raiſed againe from the dead, euen by him doth this man ſtand here before you, whole.

11 ✣ This is the ſtone caſt aſide of you builders, which is become the head of the corner.

12 Neither is there ſaluation in any other: for among men there is [f] giuen none other [g] Name [h] vnder heauen, whereby we muſt be ſaued.

13 [5] Now when they ſaw the boldneſſe of Peter and Iohn, and vnderſtoode that they were vnlearned men and without [i] knowledge, they marueiled, and knew them, that they had bin [k] Ieſus:

14 And beholding alſo the man which was healed ſtanding with them, they had nothing to ſay againſt it.

15 Then they commaunded them to goe aſide out of the Council, and [k] conferred among themſelues, 16 [6] Saying, What ſhall we doe to theſe men? for ſurely a manifeſt ſigne is done by them, and it is openly knowen to all them that dwell in Hieruſalem: and we cannot denie it.

17 But that it be noyſed no farther among the people, let vs threaten and charge them, that they ſpeake hencefoorth to no man in this Name.

18 So they called them, and commanded them, that in no wiſe they ſhould ſpeake or teach in the Name of Ieſus.

19 [7] But Peter and John anſwered vnto them, and ſaid, Whether it be right in the ſight of God, to obey you rather then God, iudge ye.

20 For we cannot but ſpeake the things which we haue ſeene and heard.

21 [8] So they threatned them, and let them goe, and found nothing how to puniſh them, becauſe of the people: for all men prayſed God for that which was done.

22 For the man was aboue fourtie yeres olde, on whom this miracle of healing was ſhewed.

23 [9] Then aſſoone as they were let goe, they came to their fellowes, and ſhewed al that the hie Prieſtes and Elders had ſayd vnto them.

24 [10] And when they heard it, they lift vp their voices to God with one accord, and ſaid, O Lord, thou art ỹ God which haſt made the heauen, and the earth, the ſea, and all things that are in them.

25 Which by the mouth of thy ſeruant Dauid haſt ſaid, ✣ Why did the Gentiles rage, and the people imagine vaine things?

26 The Kings of the earth aſſembled, and the rulers came together againſt the Lord, and againſt his Chriſt.

27 For doubtleſſe, againſt thine holy Sonne Ieſus, whom thou haddeſt anoynted, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the [l] people of Iſrael gathered themſelues together, 28 To [m] doe whatſoeuer [n] thine hand, and thy counſell had determined before to be done.

29 And nowe, O Lord, beholde their threatnings, and graunt vnto thy ſeruants with all boldneſſe to ſpeake thy word, 30 So that thou ſtretch foorth thine hand, that healing, and ſignes, and wonders may be done by the Name of thine holy Sonne Ieſus.

31 [11] And when they had prayed, the place was ſhaken where they were aſſembled together, and they were all filled with the holy Ghoſt, and they ſpake the word of God boldely.

32 [12] And the multitude of them that beleeued, were of [o] one heart, & of one ſoule: neither any of them ſaid, that any thing of ỹ which he poſſeſſed, was his owne, but they had all things [p] common.

33 And with great power gaue the Apoſtles witneſſe of the reſurrection of the Lord Ieſus: and great grace was vpon them all.

34 [13] Neither was there any among them, that lacked: for as many as were poſſeſſours of lands or houſes, ſolde them, and brought the price of the things that were ſolde, 35 And layde it downe at the Apoſtles feete, and it was diſtributed vnto euery man, according as he had neede.

36 Alſo Ioſes which was called of the Apoſtles, Barnabas (that is by interpretation, the ſonne of conſolation) being a Leuite, and of the countrey of Cyprus, 37 Where as he had land, ſolde it, and brought the money, & laid it downe at the Apoſtles feete.

BVT [1] a certaine man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, ſold a poſſeſſion,

2 And [a] kept away part of the price, his wife alſo being of counſell, and brought a certaine part, and layde it downe at the Apoſtles feete.

3 Then ſayde Peter, Ananias, why hath Satan woulde ſeeme to ſhine and be chiefe in the Church.

b While they thought to diminiſh the number, they increaſed them.

c Theſe were they that made the Sanhedrin, which were all of the tribe of Iuda, vntill Herod vſed that cruelty againſt Dauids ſtock.

f Of God.

g There is no other man, or no other power & authority whatſoeuer: which kinde of ſpeech being vſuall among the Iewes, roſe vpon this, that when we are in danger, we call vpon them at whoſe hands wee looke for helpe.

h Any where: and this ſetteth foorth vnto vs the large weſte of Chriſtes kingedome.

5 The good libertie and boldneſſe of the ſeruants of God doth yet thus much good, that ſuch as lay hid vnder a vizard of zeale, do at length betray themſelues to be in deed wicked men.

i The word vſed here, is Idiot, which being ſpoken in cõpariſon had to a Magiſtrate, betokeneth a priuate man: but when we ſpeake of ſciences & ſtudies, it ſignifieth one that is vnlearned: and in accompt of honour & eſtimation, it importeth one of baſe degree, and no eſtimation.

k Layd their heads together.

6 He that flatterth himſelfe in ignorance, commeth at length to do open wickednes, and that againſt his owne conſcience.

7 We muſt ſo obey men to whom we are ſubiect, that eſpecially and before all things we obey God.

8 So farre off are the wicked from doing what they liſt, that contrariwiſe God weth euen that to ỹ ſetting forth of his gloty, which he giueth them leaue to do.

9 The Apoſtles cõmunicate their troubles with the Congregation.

10 We ought neither to be afraid of the threatnings of our enemies, neither yet fooliſhly contemne their rage and madneſſe againſt vs: but we haue to ſet againſt their force and malice, an earneſt thinking vpon the power and good wil of God (both which we doe manifeſtly beholde in Chriſt) and ſo flee to the ayde and ſuccour of our Father.

l Although the people of Iſrael was but one people, yet the plurall number is here vſed, not ſo much for the twelue tribes, euery one of which made a people, as for the great multitude of them, as though many nations had aſſembled themſelues together, as Iudg 5. 14.

m The wicked execute Gods counſell, though they thinke nothing of it, but they are not therefore without fault.

n Thou haddeſt determined of thine abſolute authoritie and power.

11 God witneſſeth to his Church by a viſible ſigne, that it is he that will eſtabliſh it by ſhaking the powers both of heauen and earth.

12 An example of the true Church, wherein there is conſent as well in doctrine as in charitie one towardes another: And the Paſtours deliuer true doctrine both ſincerely, and conſtantly.

o They agreed both in counſell, will, and all purpoſes.

✣ Chapter 2. 44.

13 True charitie helpeth the neceſſitie of the poore with his owne loſſe: but ſo, that all things be done well and orderly.

1 Luke ſheweth by contrary examples, how great a ſinne hypocriſie is, eſpecially in them which vnder a falſe pretence and cloke of zeale a Craftily tooke away.

b filled thine heart, that thou shouldest c lye vnto the holy Ghost, and keepe away part of the price of this possession?

4 Whiles it remained, appertained it not vnto thee? and after it was solde, was it not in thine owne power? how is it that thou hast d conceiued this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lyed vnto men, but vnto God.

5 Now when Ananias heard these wordes, hee fell downe, and gaue vp the ghost. Then great feare came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the yong men rose vp, and tooke him vp, and caried him out, and buried him.

7 And it came to passe about the space of three houres after, that his wife came in, ignorant of that which was done.

8 And Peter said vnto her, Tell me, solde ye the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Peter sayd vnto her, Why haue ye agreed together, to e tempt the Spirit of the Lord? beholde, the feete of them which haue buried thine husband, are at the f doore, and shall carie thee out.

10 Then she fel down straightway at his feete, and yeelded vp the ghost: and the yong men came in, and found her dead, and caried her out, and buried her by her husband.

11 2 And great feare came on all the Church, and on as many as heard these things.

12 Thus by the hands of the Apostles were many signes and wonders shewed among the people (and they were all with one accorde in Solomons porch.

13 And of the other durst no man ioyne himselfe to them: neuertheless the people g magnified them.

14 Also the number of them that beleeued in the Lord, both of men and women, grewe more and more)

15 In so much that they brought the sicke into the streetes, and layde them on beds and couches, that at the least way the shadowe of Peter, when he came by, might shadow some of them.

16 There came also a multitude out of the cities round about vnto Hierusalem, bringing sicke folkes, and them which were vexed with vncleane spirits, who were all healed.

17 ¶ 3 Then the chiefe Priest rose vp, and all they that were with him (which was the h sect of the Sadduces) and were full of indignation, 18 And layde hands on the Apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 4 But the Angel of the Lord, by night opened the prison doores, and brought them foorth, and sayd, 20 5 Go your way, & stand in the Temple, and speake to the people, all the i wordes of this life.

21 6 So when they heard it, they entred into the Temple early in the morning, & taught. And the chiefe Priest came, and they that were with him, and called the Councel together, and all the Elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison, to cause them to be brought.

22 But when the officers came, & found them not in the prison, they returned and tolde it, 23 Saying, Certainely we found the prison shut as sure as was possible, and the keepers standing without, before the doores: but when we had opened, we found no man within.

24 Then when the chiefe Priest, & the captaine of ỹ Temple, & the hie Priests heard these things, they doubted of them, whereunto this would grow.

25 7 Then came one and shewed them, saying, Beholde, the men that yee put in prison, are standing in the Temple, and teach the people.

26 8 Then went the captaine with the officers, & brought them without violence (for they feared ỹ people, lest they should haue bene stoned)

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the Councill, and the chiefe Priest asked them, 28 9 Saying, Did not we straightly commaund you, that ye should not teach in this name? and beholde, ye haue filled Hierusalem w̃ your doctrine, and ye would k bring this mans blood vpon vs.

29 10 Then Peter and the Apostles answered, & sayd, We ought rather to obey God then men.

30 11 The ✣ God of our fathers hath raised vp Iesus whom ye slewe, and hanged on a tree.

31 Him hath God lift vp with his right hand, to be a Prince and a Sauiour, to giue repentance to Israel, and forgiuenes of sinnes.

32 12 And wee are his witnesses concerning these things which we say: yea, & the holy Ghost, whom God hath giuen to them that obey him.

33 Nowe when they heard it, they l brast for anger, and consulted to slay them.

34 13 Then stoode there vp in the Councill a certaine Pharise named Gamaliel, a doctour of the Law, honoured of all the people, and commaunded to put the Apostles foorth a litle space, 35 And sayd vnto them, Men of Israel, take heede to your selues, what ye intende to doe touching these men.

36 14 For before these times, rose vp Theudas m boasting himselfe, to whome resorted a number of men, about a foure hundreth, who was slaine: and they all which obeyed him were scattered, and brought to nought.

37 After this man, arose vp Iudas of Galile, in the dayes of the tribute, & drew away much people after him: he also perished, and all that obeyed him, were scattered abroad.

38 And nowe I say vnto you, n Refraine your selues from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsell, or this worke be of o men, it will come to nought:

39 But if it be of God, ye can not destroy it, least ye be found euen fighters against God.

40 And to him they agreed, and called the Apostles: and when they had beaten them, they commaunded that they should not speake in the Name of Iesus, and let them goe.

41 15 So they departed from the Councill, reioycing, that they were counted worthy to suffer rebuke for his Name.

42 And dayly in the p Temple, & from house to house they ceased not to teach, and preach Iesus Christ.

b Fully possessed. c For when they had appointed that summe or possession for the Church, they plucke not at it to keepe away a part of the price, as though they had had to doe with men, and not with God, and therefore he saith afterward that they tempted God. d Hereby is declared an admired and purposed deceite, and the fault of the man in admitting the deuils suggestions.

e Looke howe oft men doe things with an euill conscience, so oft they pronounce sentence against themselues, and as much as in them lieth, prouoke God to anger, as of set purpose minding to trie whether he be iust and almightie or no.

f Are at hand.

2 The Lord by his marueilous vertue brideleth some, ỹ they may not hurt the Church: other some he keepeth in his awe & feare: & other some he alloureth vnto him.

g Highly praysed them.

3 The more that the Church increaseth, the more increaseth the rage of Satan, & therefore they proceede from threatnings, to prisoning.

h The word which is vsed here, is Hereſie, which signifieth a choise, and so is taken for a right forme of learning, or faction, or studie and course of life, which the Latines call a sect: at the first this word was indifferently vsed, but at length, it came to be taken onely in euill part, whereupon came the name of Heretike, which is taken for one that goeth astray from sound and wholesome doctrine after such sort, that he setteth light by the iudgement of God and his Church, and continueth in his opinion, and breaketh the peace of the Church. 4 Angels are made seruants of the seruants of God. 5 God doeth therefore deliuer his, that they may more stoutly prouoke his enemies. i Words, whereby the way vnto life is shewed. 6 God mocketh his enemies attempts from aboue.

7 The more openly that Christs vertue sheweth it selfe, the more increaseth the madnes of his enemies which conspire against him.

8 Tyrants which feare not God, are constrained to feare his seruants.

9 It is the propertie of tyrants to set out their owne commandements as right and reason, be they neuer so wicked.

k Make vs guiltie of murdering that man whom yet they will not vouchsafe to name.

10 We ought to obey no man, but so farre foorth as obeying him we may obey God.

11 Christ is appointed and in deede declared Prince and preseruer of his Church in despite of his enemies.

✣ Chap.3.13.

12 It is not sufficient for vs that there is a right end, but we must also according to our vocation goe on forward till we come vnto it.

l This betokeneth that they were in a most vehement rage and marueilously disquieted in minde, for it is a borowed kinde of speach taken from them which are harrishly cut in sunder with a saw.

13 Christ findeth defenders of his cause, euen in the very route of his enemies, so oft as hee thinketh it needefull.

14 In matters of religion we must take good heede that we attempt nothing vnder a colour of zeale, beside our vocation.

m To be of some fame. n He disswadeth his fellowes from murdering the Apostles, whiles he doeth but thinke it good to referre the matter to the Romane Magistrate, for the Iewes could abide nothing worse, then to haue the tyrannie of the Romanes reuiued. o If it be counterfeit and deuised. 15 The Apostles, accustomed to suffer & beare wordes, are at length inured to beare stripes, and yet so, that by that meanes they become stronger. p Both publikely and priuately.

CHAP. VI.

2 The Apostles 3 appoint the office of Deaconship 5 to seuen chosen men: 8 Of whom Steuen, full of faith, is one: 12 He is taken, 13 and accused as a transgressour of Moses Lawe.

AND [1] in those dayes, as the number of ỹ disciples grewe, there arose a murmuring of the [a] Grecians towardes the Hebrewes, because their widowes were neglected in the [b] daily ministring.

2 [2] Then the twelue called ỹ multitude of the disciples together, & said, It is not [c] meete that we should leaue the word of God to serue ỹ [d] tables.

3 [3] Wherefore brethren, looke you out among you seuen men of honest report, and full of the holy Ghost, and of wisedome, which we may appoint to this businesse.

4 And we will giue our selues continually to prayer, and to the ministration öf the worde.

5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Steuen a man full of faith and of the holy Ghost, and ✣ Philippe, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a Proselyte of Antiochia, 6 [4] Which they set before the Apostles: and they prayed, and [e] layed their handes on them.

7 [5] And the worde of God increased, and the number of the disciples was multiplied in Hierusalem greatly, and a great companie of the Priests were obedient to the [f] faith.

8 ¶ [6] Now Steuen full of faith & [g] power did great wonders and miracles among the people.

9 [7] Then there arose certaine of the [h] Synagogue, which are called Libertines, & Cyrenians, and of Alexandria, and of them of Cilicia, and of Asia, and disputed with Steuen.

10 [8] But they were not able to resist the wisedome, and the Spirit by the which he spake.

11 Then they suborned men, which sayd, We haue heard him speake blasphemous wordes against Moses, and God.

12 [9] Thus they mooued the people and the Elders, and the Scribes: and running vpon him, caught him, and brought him to the Councill, 13 [10] And set forth false witnesses, which sayd, This man ceasseth not to speake blasphemous wordes against this holy place, and the Lawe.

14 For we haue heard him say, that this Iesus of Nazareth shal destroy this place, & shal change the ordinances which Moses gaue vs.

15 And as all that sate in the Councill looked stedfastly on him, they [i] saw his face as it had bene the face of an Angel.

1 When Satan hath assailed the Church without, and ỹ to small purpose and in vaine, he assaileth it within, with ciuil dissension & strife betwixt themselues: But the Apostles take occasion thereby to set order in the Church.

a Of their parties which of Grecians became religious Iewes.

b In the bestowing of almes according to their necessitie.

2 The office of preaching the worde, and dispensing the goods of the Church, are different one from another and not rashly to be ioyned together, as the Apostles doe here institute: And the Apostles doe not chuse so much as the Deacons without the consent of the Church.

c It is such a matter, as we may in no wise accept of it.

d Banquets: though by the name of tables, other offices are also meant, which are annexed to it, such as pertaine to the care of the poore.

3 In chusing of Deacons (& much more of Ministers) there must be examination both of their learning and maners of life.

✣ Chap.21.8.

4 The auncient Church did with laying on of hãds, as it were consecrate to the Lord, such as were lawfully elected.

CHAP. VII.

1 Steuen pleading his cause, sheweth that God chose the Fathers, 20 before Moses was borne, 47 and before the Temple was built: 44 And that all outward ceremonies were ordeined according to the heauenly Patterne. 54 The Iewes gnashing their teeth, 59 stone him.

THEN [1] sayd the chiefe Priest, Are these things so?

2 [2] And he sayd, Ye men, brethren & Fathers, hearken. ✣ That God of [a] glory appeared vnto our father Abraham, while he was in [b] Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran,

3 And sayd vnto him, Come out of thy countrey, and from thy kinred, & come into the land, which I shall shew thee.

4 Then came he out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charran. And after that his father was dead, God brought him from thence into this land, wherein ye nowe dwell,

5 And he gaue him none inheritance in it, no, not the [c] bredth of a foote: yet he [d] promised that he would giue it to him for a possession, and to his seede after him, when as yet he had no childe.

6 But God spake thus, that his ✣ seede should be a soiourner in a strange land: and that they should keepe it in bondage, and entreate it euill [e] foure hundreth yeeres.

7 But the nation to whome they shall be in bondage, will I iudge, sayth God: and after that, they shall come foorth and serue in this place.

8 ∵ He gaue him also the couenant of circumcision: and so Abraham begate ✣ Isaac, & circumcised him the eight day: and Isaac begate ✣ Iacob, and Iacob the twelue * Patriarkes.

9 [3] And ỹ Patriarkes moued with enuie, solde ✣ Ioseph into Egypt: but God was [f] with him,

10 And deliuered him out of all his afflictions, and ✣ gaue him [g] fauour & wisdome in the sight of Pharao king of Egypt, who made him gouernour ouer Egypt, and ouer his whole house.

11 ¶ Then came there a famine ouer all the land of Egypt and Chanaan, and great affliction, that our fathers found no sustenance.

12 But when ∵ Iacob heard that there was corne in Egypt, he sent our fathers first:

13 ✣ And at ỹ second time Ioseph was knowen of his brethren, and Iosephs kindred was made knowen vnto Pharao.

14 Then sent Ioseph and caused his father to be brought, and all his kindred, euen threescore and fifteene soules.

15 So ✣ Iacob went downe into Egypt, and he * died, and our fathers, 16 And were [h] remoued into Sychem, & were put in the sepulchre, that Abraham had bought ✣ for mony of ỹ sonnes of Emor, sonne of Sychem.

17 But when the time of the promes drewe neere, which God had sworne to Abraham, the people ✣ grewe and multiplied in Egypt,

1 Steuen is admitted to pleade his cause, but to this end and purpose, that vnder a cloke and colour of Lawe, he might be condemned.

2 Steuen witnesseth vnto the Iewes, that hee acknowledgeth the true fathers, and the onely true God: and sheweth moreouer that they are more auncient then the Temple, with all that seruice appointed by the Lawe, and therefore they ought to lay an other foundation of true religion, that is to say, the free coue-nant that God made with the fathers.

e There are reckoned foure hundreth yeeres, from the beginning of Abrahams progenie, which was at the birth of Isaac: and foure hundreth and thirtie yeeres which are spoken of by Paul, Gal.3.17. from the time that Abraham and his father departed together out of Vr of the Chaldeans. ∵ Genes.17.9. ✣ Gen.21.3. ✣ Gen.25.24. * Gen.29.33. and 50.5 and 35.25. 3 Steuen reckoneth vp diligently the horrible mischiefes of some of the Fathers, to teach the Iewes that they ought not rashly to relt in the authoritie or examples of the Fathers. ✣ Gen.37.28.

f By this kinde of speach, it meant the peculiar fauour that God sheweth men: for hee seemeth to be away from them, whome he helpeth not, and on the other side, hee is with them whome he deliuereth out of whatsoeuer great troubles. ✣ Gene 41.37.

i Hereby it appeared that Steuen had an excellent and goodly countenance, hauing a quiet and setled minde, a good conscience, and sure perswasion that his cause was iust: for seeing he was to speake before the people, God beautified his countenance, to the ende that with the very beholding of him, the Iewes mindes might be pearced and amased.

e This ceremonie of laying on of hands, came from the Iewes, who vsed this order both in publike affaires, and offering of sacrifices, and also in priuate prayers and blessings, as appeareth Gene.28. and the Church obserued this ceremonie, 1.Tim.oth.5.22. actes 8.17. but here is no mention made either of creame, or shauing, or rasing, or crossing, &c. 5 An happie ende of temptation.

f This is the figure Metonymia, meaning by faith, the doctrine of the Gospell which engendreth faith.

6 God exerciseth his Church first with euill wordes and slaunders, then with imprisonments, afterward with scourgings, and by these meanes prepareth it in such sort, that at length hee causeth it to encounter with Satan and the worlde, euen to bloodshead and death, and that with good successe.

g Excellent and singular gifts. 7 Schooles and Vniuersities were of olde time addicted to false pastours, and were the instruments of Satan to blowe abroade and defende false doctrines.

h Of the company and Colledge as it were. 8 False teachers, because they wil not be ouercome, flee from disputations to manifest and open slaundering and false accusations. 9 The first bloody persecution of the Church of Christ begunne & sprang from a Councill of Priests by the suggestion of the Vniuersitie doctours.

10 An example of cauillers or false accusers, which gather false conclusions of things that are well vttered and spoken.

18 Till another King arose, which knewe not Ioseph.

19 The same i dealt subtilly with our kindred, and euil entreated our fathers, and made them to cast out their yong children, that they should not remaine aliue.

20 ✣ The same time was Moses borne, and was k acceptable vnto God, which was nourished vp in his fathers house three moneths.

21 And when he was cast out, Pharaos daughter tooke him vp, and nourished him for her owne sonne.

22 And Moses was learned in al ỹ wisdom of ỹ Egyptians, & was mightie in words and in deedes.

23 Now e when he was full fourtie yeere olde, it came into his heart to visite his brethren, the children of Israel.

24 ✣ And whē he saw one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, & auenged his quarell that had the harme done to him, and smote the Egyptian.

25 For hee supposed his brethren would haue vnderstoode, that God by his hand should giue them deliuerance: but they vnderstoode it not.

26 ∵ And the next day, he shewed himselfe vnto them as they stroue, and would haue set them at one againe, saying, Syrs, ye are brethren: why doe ye wrong one to another?

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong, thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a prince, and a iudge ouer vs?

28 Wilt thou kill mee, as thou diddest the Egyptian yesterday?

29 Then fled Moses at that saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where hee begate two sonnes.

30 And when fourtie yeeres were expired, there appeared to him in ỹ ✣ wilderneſse of mount Sina, an l Angel of the Lord in a flame of fire, in a bush.

31 And when Moses sawe it, hee wondred at the sight: and as he drewe neere to consider it, the voyce of the Lord came vnto him, saying, 32 I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob. Then Moses trembled, & durst not behold it.

33 Then the Lord said to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feete: for the place where thou standest, is holy ground.

34 I haue seene, I haue seene the affliction of my people, which is in Egypt, & I haue heard their groning, and am come downe to deliuer them: and now come, and I will send thee into Egypt.

35 This Moses whom they forsooke, saying, Who made thee a prince and a iudge? the same God sent for a prince, & a deliuerer by the m hand of the Angel, which appeared to him in the bush.

36 He ✣ brought them out, doing wonders, and miracles in the land of Egypt, and in the red sea, and in the wildernesse * fourtie yeeres.

37 4 This is that Moses, which sayd vnto the children of Israel, ✣ A Prophet shall the Lorde your God raise vp vnto you, euen of your brethren, like vnto me: him shall ye heare.

38 ✣ This is he that was in the Congregation, in the wildernesse with the Angel, which spake to him in mount Sina, and with our fathers, who receiued the liuely oracles to giue vnto vs.

39 To whom our fathers would not obey, but refused, and in their hearts turned backe againe into Egypt:

40 Saying vnto Aaron, ✣ Make vs gods that may goe before vs: for we know not what is become of this Moses that brought vs out of the land of Egypt.

41 And they made a n calfe in those dayes, and offered sacrifice vnto the idole, and reioyced in the workes of their owne hands.

42 Then God turned himselfe away, and o gaue them vp to serue the p host of heauen, as it is written in the booke of the Prophets, ✣ O house of Israel, haue ye offered to me slaine beasts & sacrifices by the space of fourtie yeres in the wildernes?

43 And ye q tooke vp the tabernacle of Moloch, & the starre of your god Remphan, figures, which ye made to worship them: therefore I wil carie you away beyond Babylon.

44 5 Our fathers had the tabernacle of r witnesse, in the wildernesse, as he had appointed, speaking vnto ∵ Moses, that he should make it according to the fashion that he had seene.

45 ✣ Which tabernacle also our fathers s receiued, and brought in with Iesus into the t possession of the Gentiles, which God draue out u before our fathers, vnto the dayes of Dauid:

46 ✣ Who found fauour before God, and desired that hee might finde a tabernacle for the God of Iacob.

47 * 6 But Solomon built him an house.

48 Howbeit the most High ✣ dwelleth not in temples made with hands, as saith the Prophet, 49 ✣ Heauen is my throne, and earth is my footestoole: what house wil ye build for me, saith the Lord? or what place is it that I should rest in?

50 Hath not mine hand made all these things?

51 ∵ 7 Ye stiffenecked and of x vncircumcised hearts and eares, ye haue alwayes resisted the holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so doe you.

52 Which of the Prophets haue not your fathers persecuted? & they haue slaine them, which shewed before of the comming of that Iust, of whome ye are now the betrayers and murtherers, 53 ✣ Which haue receiued the lawe by the y ordinance of Angels, and haue not kept it.

54 8 But when they heard these things, their hearts brast for anger, and they gnashed at him with their teeth.

55 9 But he being full of the holy Ghost, looked stedfastly into heauen, and sawe the glory of God, & Iesus z standing at the right hand of God, 56 And said, Behold, I see the heauens open, & ỹ Sonne of man standing at ỹ right hand of God.

57 10 Then they gaue a shoute with a loude voyce, and stopped their eares, and a ranne vpon him violently all at once, 58 And cast him out of the citie, and stoned him: and the b witnesses laid downe their clothes at a yong mans feete, named Saul.

CHAP. VIII.

2 The godly make lamentation for Steuen. 3 Saul maketh hauocke of the Church. 5 Philip preacheth Chriſt at Samaria. 9 Simon Magus 18 his couetouſneſſe reproued. 26 Philip 27 commeth to the Ethiopian Eunuch, 38 and baptizeth him.

AND 1 Saul conſented to his death. And at that time, there was a great perſecution againſt the Church which was at Hieruſalem, and they were all ſcattered abroade thorowe the regions of Iudea and of Samaria, except the Apoſtles.

1 Chriſt vſeth the rage of his enemies to the ſpreading foorth and enlarging of his kingdome.

2 Then certaine men feared God, a caried Steuen amongs them, to be buried, and made great lamentation for him.

2 The godly mourne for Steuen after his death, and burie him, ſhewing therein an example of ſingular faith and charitie: but no man prayeth to him.

3 3 But Saul made hauocke of the Church, and entred into euery houſe, and drewe out both men and women, and put them into priſon.

a Amongſt all the dueties of charitie which the godly vſe, there is no mention made of ſhrining vp of relikes.

4 Therefore they that were ſcattered abroad, went to and fro preaching the word.

3 The diſperſion or ſcattring abroad of the faithfull, is the ioyning together of Churches.

5 ¶ 4 Then came Philip into the citie of Samaria, and preached Chriſt vnto them.

6 And the people gaue heed vnto thoſe things which Philippe ſpake, with one accord, hearing and ſeeing the miracles which he did.

7 For vncleane ſpirits crying ẅ a loude voyce, came out of many that were poſſeſſed of them: & many taken ẅ palſies, & that halted, were healed.

8 And there was great ioy in that citie.

4 Philip, who was before a Deacon in Hieruſalem, is made of God extraordinarily an Euangeliſt.

9 5 And there was before in the citie a certaine man called Simon, which vſed b witchcraft, and c bewitched the people of Samaria, ſaying that he himſelfe was ſome great man.

5 Chriſt ouercommeth Satan ſo oft as he liſteth, and carieth him about as it were in a triumph, in the ſight of them, whom he deceiued and bewitched.

10 To whome they gaue heede from the leaſt to the greateſt, ſaying, This man is that great power of God.

11 And they gaue heede vnto him, becauſe that of long time he had bewitched them ẅ ſorceries.

b The word which is vſed in this place was at the firſt taken in good part, and is borowed out of the Perſians language, who call their wiſe men by that name, but afterward it was taken in euill part.

c He had ſo allured the Samaritans with his witchcraft, that as blinde & mad harebrains they were wholly addicted to him.

12 But aſſoone as they beleeued Philip, which preached the things that concerned the kingdome of God, and the Name of Ieſus Chriſt, they were baptized both men and women.

13 6 Then Simon himſelfe beleeued alſo, and was baptized, and continued with Philippe, and wondred, when he ſawe the ſignes and great miracles which were done.

6 The wicked and the very reprobate are conſtrained oftentimes to taſte of the good gift of God, but they caſt it vp againe forthwith.

14 ¶ 7 Now when the Apoſtles, which were at Hieruſalem, heard ſay, ŷ Samaria had receiued the word of God, they ſent vnto them Peter & Iohn.

15 Which when they were come downe, praied for them, that they might receiue the holy Ghoſt.

16 (For as yet hee was fallen downe on none of them, but they were baptized onely in the Name of the Lord Ieſus.)

17 Then layd they their hands on them, and they receiued the holy Ghoſt.

7 Peter not chiefe, but as an ambaſſadour ſent from the whole company of the Apoſtles, and Iohn his companion, according to the authoritie which was committed vnto them, confirme and build vp the Churches of Samaria, whoſe foundation had bene laid afore by Philip.

18 8 And when Simon ſawe, that through laying on of the Apoſtles hands the holy Ghoſt was giuen, he offered them money, 19 Saying, Giue mee alſo this power, that on whomſoeuer I lay the handes, he may receiue the holy Ghoſt.

d Thoſe excellent gifts, which are neceſſarie, eſpecially for them that were to be appointed rulers and gouernours of the Church. 8 Ambition and couetouſneſſe doe at length plucke the hypocrites out of their dennes.

20 9 Then ſaide Peter vnto him, Thy money periſh with thee, becauſe thou thinkeſt that the gift of God may be obteined with money.

9 They are the ſucceſſors of Simon Magus, and not of Simon Peter, which either buy or ſell holy things.

21 Thou haſt neither part nor fellowſhip in this e buſineſſe: for thine heart is not f right in the ſight of God.

e In this doctrine which I preach.

f Is not vpright in deede, and without diſſembling.

22 10 Repent therefore of this thy wickednes, and pray God, that if it be poſſible, the thought of thine heart may be forgiuen thee.

10 We muſt hope well euen of the vileſt ſinners, ſo long and ſo farre forth as we may.

23 For I ſee that thou art in the g gall of bitternes, and in the h bond of iniquitie.

g He calleth the inward malice of the heart, and that venimous and deuiliſh wickednes wherewith this Magician was wholly replenished, the gall of bitternes: and he is ſaid to be in the gall, as though hee were wholly ouer whelmed with gall, and buried in it.

h Intangled in the bonds of iniquitie.

24 Then anſwered Simon, and ſayd, Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of theſe things which ye haue ſpoken, come vpon me.

25 ¶ So they, when they had teſtified & preached the word of the Lord, returned to Hieruſalem, and preached the Goſpel in many townes of the Samaritans.

26 11 Then the Angel of the Lord ſpake vnto Philip, ſaying, Ariſe, and goe toward the South vnto the way that goeth downe from Hieruſalem vnto Gaza, which is waſte.

11 Chriſt who calleth freely whome he liſteth, doeth nowe vſe Philip who thought on no ſuch matter, to inſtruct and baptize the Eunuche at vnwares, and by this meanes extendeth the limits of his kingdome euen into Ethiopia.

27 And hee aroſe and went on: and beholde, a certaine Eunuche of Ethiopia, Candaces the Queene of the Ethiopians i chiefe Gouernour, who had the rule of all her treaſure, and came to Hieruſalem to worſhip:

i A man of great wealth and authoritie with Candaces: Now this word Candaces is a common name to all the Queenes of Ethiopia.

28 And as he returned ſitting in his charet, he read Eſaias the Prophet.

29 Then the Spirit ſaid vnto Philip, Goe neere and ioyne thy ſelfe to yonder charet.

30 And Philip ranne thither, and heard him reade the Prophet Eſaias, and ſaid, But vnderſtandeſt thou what thou readeſt?

31 And he ſayde, How can I, except I had k a guide? And he deſired Philip, that he would come vp and ſit with him.

k To ſhew me the way howe to vnderſtand it.

32 12 Nowe the place of the Scripture which he read, was this, ✣ He was led as a ſheepe to the ſlaughter: and like a lambe dumme before his ſhearer, ſo opened he not his mouth.

12 Thoſe things which ſeeme moſt to come by chance or fortune (as men terme it) are gouerned by the ſecret prouidence of God.

33 In his l humilitie his iudgement hath bene exalted: but who ſhall declare his m generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

l The Hebrew text readeth it thus, Out of a narrow ſtraite, and out of iudgement was he taken m Who ſhall declare the greatneſſe of his ſinne, whereby the narrowe ſtraight, he meaneth the grauе and the very bands of death, and by iudgement, the puniſhment which was laid vpon him, and the miſerable ſtate which Chriſt tooke vpon him for our ſakes, in bearing his Fathers wrath. m How long his age ſhall laſt: for Chriſt hauing once riſen from the dead, dieth no more, Rom. 6. 9.

34 Then the Eunuche anſwered Philippe, and ſayde, I pray thee, of whom ſpeaketh the Prophet this? of himſelfe, or of ſome other man?

35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the ſame Scripture, & preached vnto him Ieſus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came vnto a certaine water, and the Eunuche ſaid, See, here is water: what doeth let me to be baptized?

37 13 And Philippe ſayd vnto him, If thou beleeueſt with all thine heart, thou mayeſt. Then he anſwered, and ſayde, n I beleeue that that Ieſus Chriſt is that Sonne of God.

13 Profeſſion of faith is requiſite in baptizing of them which are of yeeres, and therefore it is euident that wee are not then firſt ingraffed into Chriſt, when we are baptized, but being already ingraffed, are then confirmed. n The ſumme of the confeſſion which is neceſſarie for baptiſme.

38 Then he commanded the charet to ſtand ſtill: & they went downe both into ŷ water, both Philip and the Eunuch, and he baptized him.

39 And aſſoone as they were come vp out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the Eunuche ſaw him no more: ſo he went on his way reioycing.

40 But Philip was found at Azotus, & he walked to and fro preaching in all the cities, till hee came to Cesarea.

CHAP. IX.

2 Saul going toward Damascus, 4 is strooken down to the ground of the Lord: 10 Ananias is sent 18 to baptize him. 23 The laying awaite of the Iewes 25 bee escapeth, being let downe through the wall. 33 Peter cureth Aeneas of the palsie, 36 and by him Tabitha being dead 40 is restored to life.

AND [1] ✣ Saul yet [a] breathing out threatnings and slaughter against ỹ disciples of the Lord, went vnto the hie Priest,

2 And desired of him letters to Damascus to the Synagogues, that if he found any that were of that [b] way (either men or women) he might bring them bound vnto Hierusalem.

3 Nowe as he iourneyed, it came to passe that as he was come neere to Damascus, ✣ suddenly there shined round about him a light from heauen.

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voyce saying to him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou mee?

5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord sayd, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest: it is [c] hard for thee to kicke against pricks.

6 He then both trembling and astonied, sayd, Lorde, what wilt thou that I doe? And the Lorde said vnto him, Arise and goe into the citie, and it shall be tolde thee what thou shalt doe.

7 The men also which iourneyed with him, [d] stoode amased, hearing his [e] voyce, but seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the ground, and opened his eyes, but sawe no man. Then led they him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus, 9 Where hee was three dayes without sight, and neither ate nor dranke.

10 And there was a certaine disciple at Damascus named Ananias, and to him sayd the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he sayde, Beholde, I am here Lorde.

11 Then the Lord said vnto him, Arise, & goe into the streete which is called Straight, and seeke in the house of Iudas after one called Saul of [f] Tarsus: for beholde, he prayeth.

12 (And he saw in a vision a man named Ananias comming in to him, and putting his hands on him, that he might receiue his sight.)

13 Then Ananias answered, Lord, I haue heard by many of this man, how much euil he hath done to thy Saints at Hierusalem.

14 Moreouer here he hath authoritie of the hie Priests, to binde all that call on thy Name.

15 Then the Lord said vnto him, Go thy way: for he is a [g] chosen vessell vnto mee, to beare my Name before the Gentiles, and Kings, and the children of Israel.

16 For I will [h] shew him, how many things he must suffer for my Names sake.

17 Then Ananias went his way, and entred into [i] that house, & put his hands on him, and said, Brother Saul, the Lord hath sent mee (euen Iesus that appeared vnto thee in ỹ way as thou camest) that thou mightest receiue thy sight, and be filled with the holy Ghost.

18 And immediatly there fell from his eyes, as it had bene scales, and suddenly he receiued sight, and arose, and was baptized, 19 And receiued meate, & was strengthened.

So was Saul certaine dayes with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 [2] And straightway hee preached Christ in the Synagogues, that he was that Sonne of God.

21 So that all that heard him were amazed, and sayd, Is not this hee, that made hauocke of them which called on this Name in Hierusalem, & came hither for that intent, that he should bring them bound vnto the hie Priests?

22 [3] But Saul encreased the more in strength, and confounded the Iewes which dwelt at Damascus, [k] confirming, that this was that Christ.

23 [4] And after that many dayes were fulfilled, the Iewes tooke counsell together, to kill him, 24 But their laying awaite was knowen of Saul: now they ✣ watched the gates day & night, that they might kill him.

25 [5] Then the disciples tooke him by night, and put him through the wall, and let him downe by a rope in a basket.

26 [6] And when Saul was come to Hierusalem, he assayed to ioyne himselfe with the disciples: but they were all afraide of him, & beleeued not that he was a disciple.

27 But Barnabas tooke him, and brought him to the Apostles, and declared to them, how he had seene the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken vnto him, and how he had spoken boldly at Damascus in the Name of Iesus.

28 [7] And he was conuersant [l] with them at Hierusalem, 29 And spake boldly in the Name of the Lord Iesus, and spake and disputed against the [m] Grecians: but they went about to slay him.

30 [8] But when the brethren knewe it, they brought him to Cesarea, and sent him foorth to Tarsus.

31 [9] Then had ỹ Churches rest through all Iudea, & Galile, and Samaria, & were [n] edified and walked in the feare of the Lorde, and were multiplied by the comfort of the holy Ghost.

32 [10] And it came to passe, as Peter walked throughout all quarters, he came also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there he found a certaine man named Aeneas, which had kept his couch eight yeeres, and was sicke of the palsie.

34 Then sayd Peter vnto him, Aeneas, Iesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise and trusse thy couch together. And he arose immediatly.

35 And all that dwelt at [o] Lydda and Saron, sawe him, and turned to the Lord.

36 [11] There was also at Ioppa a certaine woman, a disciple named Tabitha (which by interpretation is called Dorcas) shee was full of good workes and almes which she did.

37 And it came to passe in those dayes, that she was sicke & died: and when they had washed her, they layed her in an vpper chamber.

38 Now forasmuch as Lydda was neere to Ioppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent vnto him two men, desiring that he would not delay to come vnto them.

1 Saul (who is also Paul) persecuting Christ most cruelly, who did as it were flee before him, falleth into his hands and is ouercome: & with a singular example of the goodnes of God, in stead of punishment which he iustly deserued for his crueltie, is not only receiued to fauour, but is also euen by the mouth of God appointed an Apostle, & is confirmed by the ministery & witnes of Ananias.

10 Peters Apostleship is confirmed, by healing of the man that was sicke of the palsie.

o Lydda was a citie of Palestine & Saron a champion country, and a place of good pasturage betwene Cesarea of Palestine and the mountaine Tabor, and the lake of Genezareth which extendeth it selfe in great length beyond Ioppa.

11 Peter declareth euidently by raising vp a dead body through the Name of Christ, that he preacheth the glad tidings of life, 39 Then Peter arose and came with them: and when he was come, they brought him into ſ vpper chamber, where all the widowes ſtood by him weeping, and ſhewing the coates and garments, which Doreas made, while ſhe was with them.

40 But Peter put them all foorth, and kneeled downe, and prayed, and turned him to the body, and ſayd, Tabitha, ariſe. And ſhe opened her eyes, and when ſhe ſawe Peter, ſate vp.

41 Then he gaue her the hand and lift her vp, and called the Saints and widowes, and reſtored her aliue.

42 And it was knowen throughout all Ioppa, and many beleeued in the Lord.

43 And it came to paſſe, that he taried many dayes in Ioppa with one Simon a Tanner.

CHAP. X.

1 Cornelius, 4 at the Angels commaundement, 5 ſendeth for Peter: 11 Who alſo by a viſion 15, 20 is taught not to deſpiſe the Gentiles: 34 He preacheth the Goſpel to Cornelius and his houſholde: 45 Who hauing receiued the holy Ghoſt, 47 are baptized.

FVrthermore [1] there was a certaine man in Ceſarea called Cornelius, a captaine of the bande called the Italian band,

2 A [a] deuoute man, and one that feared God with [b] all his houſholde, which gaue much almes to the people, and prayed God continually.

3 He ſaw in a viſion euidently (about the ninth houre of the day) an Angel of God comming in to him, and ſaying vnto him, Cornelius.

4 But when he looked on him, he was afrayd, and ſaid, [c] What is it, Lord? and he ſaid vnto him, Thy prayers and thine almes are [d] come vp into [e] remembrance before God.

5 Nowe therefore ſend men to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whoſe ſurname is Peter.

6 He lodgeth with one Simon a Tanner, whoſe houſe is by the ſea ſide: hee ſhall tell thee what thou oughteſt to doe.

7 And when the Angel which ſpake vnto Cornelius, was departed, he called two of his ſeruants, & a ſouldier that feared God, one of them that waited on him,

8 And tolde them all things, and ſent them to Ioppa.

9 On the morowe as they went on their iourney, and drew neere vnto the citie, Peter went vp vpon the houſe to pray, about the ſixt houre.

10 Then waxed he an hungred, & would haue eaten: but while they made ſome thing ready, hee fell into a [f] trance.

11 And he ſawe heauen opened, and a certaine veſſel come downe vnto him, as it had bene a great ſheete, knit at the [g] foure corners, and was let downe to the earth, 12 Wherein were [h] all maner of [i] foure footed beaſtes of the earth, and wilde beaſtes and [k] creeping things, and foules of the heauen.

13 And there came a voyce to him, Ariſe, Peter: kill, and eate.

14 [2] But Peter ſaid, Not ſo, Lord: for I haue neuer eaten any thing that is polluted, or vncleane.

15 And the voyce ſpake vnto him againe the ſecond time, The things that God hath purified, [l] pollute thou not.

16 This was ſo done thrise: and the veſſell was drawen vp againe into heauen.

17 ¶ Nowe while Peter doubted in himſelfe what this viſion which he had ſeene, meant, beholde, the men which were ſent from Cornelius, had inquired for Simons houſe, and ſtoode at the gate, 18 And called, and asked, whether Simon, which was ſurnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 And while Peter thought on the viſion, the Spirite ſayde vnto him, Beholde, three men ſeeke thee.

20 Ariſe therefore, and get thee downe, and goe with them, and doute nothing: for I haue ſent them.

21 ¶ Then Peter went downe to the men, which were ſent vnto him from Cornelius, and ſayd, Beholde, I am he whome yee ſeeke: what is the cauſe wherefore ye are come?

22 And they ſaid, Cornelius the captaine, a iuſt man, and one that feareth God, & of good report among all the nation of the Iewes, was warned from heauen by an holy Angel, to ſend for thee into his houſe, and to heare thy wordes.

23 Then called he them in, and lodged them: and the next day, Peter went foorth with them, and certaine brethren from Ioppa accompanied him.

24 ¶ And the day after, they entred into Ceſarea. Nowe Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinſemen, and ſpeciall friendes.

25 [3] And it came to paſſe as Peter came in, that Cornelius met him, and fell downe at his feete, and worſhipped him.

26 But Peter tooke him vp, ſaying, Stand vp: for euen I my ſelfe am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, he came in, and found many that were come together.

28 And he ſayd vnto them, Ye know that it is an vnlawful thing for a man that is a Iew, to company, or come vnto one of another nation: but God hath ſhewed mee, that I ſhould not call any man polluted, or vncleane.

29 Therefore came I vnto you without ſaying nay, when I was ſent for. I aske therefore, for what intent haue ye ſent for me?

30 Then Cornelius ſayd, Foure dayes agoe, about [m] this houre, I faſted, and at the ninth houre I prayed in mine houſe, and beholde, a man ſtood before me in bright clothing, 31 [4] And ſayd, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine almes are had in remembrance in the ſight of God.

32 [5] Send therefore to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whoſe ſurname is Peter (he is lodged in the houſe of Simon a Tanner by the ſea ſide) who when he commeth, ſhall ſpeake vnto thee.

33 Then ſent I for thee immediatly, and thou haſt well done to come. Now therefore are we all here preſent before God, to heare all things that are commanded thee of God.

34 [6] Then Peter opened his mouth, and ſayd, Of a trueth I perceiue, that [n] ✣ God is no accepter of perſons.

1 Peter conſecrateth the firſt fruites of the Gentiles to God by the meane of two miracles.

a So that he worſhipped one God, and was no Idolater, neither could be voyde of faith in Chriſt, becauſe hee was a deuoute man: but as yet he knewe not that hee was come.

b This is a great commendation to this man, that hee laboured to haue all his houſholde and familiar friends and acquaintance to be religious and godly.

c What wilt thou with me, Lord? for he ſeeleth himſelfe to heare.

d This is a borowed kinde of ſpeache which the Hebrues vſe very much, taken from ſacrifices, and applied to prayers: for it is ſayd of whole burnt ſacrifices, that the ſmoke and ſauour of them goeth vp into Gods noſtrels: ſo doe our prayers, as a ſweete ſmelling ſacrifice which the Lord taketh great pleaſure in.

e That is, in ſo much that they will not ſuffer God as it were to forget thee: for ſo doeth the Scripture vſe oftentimes to prattle with vs as nurſes doe with little children, when they frame their tongues to ſpeake.

f For though Peter ſtand not amaſed as one that is tongue tied, but talketh with God, and is inſtructed in his myſteries, yet his minde was farre otherwiſe then it was wont to be, but ſhortly returned to the olde bent.

g So that it ſeemed to be a foure ſquare ſheete.

h Here is this worde (All) which is generall, plainly put for an indefinite and vncertaine, that is to ſay, for ſome of all ſortes, not for all of euery ſort.

i That is, ſuch as were meete for mens vſe.

k What is meant by theſe creeping things, Looke Leuit. 11.

2 Peter profiteth dayly in the knowledge of the benefite of Chriſt, yea, after that he had receiued the holy Ghoſt.

l Doe not thou holde them as vncleane.

3 Religious adoration or worſhip agreeth onely to God: but ciuill worſhip is giuen to the Miniſters of the word, although not without danger.

m Hee meaneth not the ſelfe ſame houre, but the like, that is, about nine of the clocke the other day, as it was then nine when he ſpake to Peter.

4 Cornelius ſaith heweth foorth it ſelfe by prayer and charitie.

5 As faith commeth by hearing, ſo is it nouriſhed and groweth vp by the ſame.

6 Diſtinction of nations is taken away by the comming of Chriſt: And it is euidently ſeene by faith and righteouſnes, who is agreeable to him, or whome he accepteth.

n That God indgeth not after the outward appearance.

35 But in euery nation he that o feareth him, and worketh righteouſneſſe, is accepted with him.

36 Ye p know the word which God hath ſent to the children of Iſrael, preaching peace by Ieſus Chriſt, which is Lord of all:

37 7 Euen the worde which came through all Iudea, ✣ beginning in Galile, after the baptiſme which Iohn preached:

38 To wit, how God q anointed Ieſus of Nazareth with the holy Ghoſt, & with power: who went about doing good, & healing all that were oppreſſed of the deuill: for God was with him.

39 And we are witneſſes of all things which he did both in the land of the Iewes, and in Hieruſalem, whom they ſlew, hanging him on a tree.

40 Him God raiſed vp the third day, and cauſed that he was ſhewed openly:

41 Not to all ỹ people, but vnto the witneſſes r choſen before of God, euen to vs which did eate & drinke with him, after he aroſe from the dead.

42 And he commanded vs to preach vnto the people, and to teſtifie, that it is he that is ordained of God a iudge of quicke and dead.

43 To him alſo giue all the ✣ Prophets witnes, that through his Name all that beleeue in him, ſhall receiue remiſſion of ſinnes.

44 8 While Peter yet ſpake theſe wordes, the holy Ghoſt fell on all them which heard ỹ word.

45 So they of the circumciſion, which beleeued, were aſtonied, as many as came with Peter, becauſe that on the Gentiles alſo was powred out the gift of the holy Ghoſt.

46 For they heard them ſpeake with tongues, and magnifie God. Then anſwered Peter, 47 9 Can any man forbid water, that theſe ſhould not be baptized, which haue receiued the holy Ghoſt, as well as we?

48 So he commanded them to be baptized in the Name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarie certaine dayes.

o By the feare of God, the Hebrues vnderſtand the whole ſeruice of God: whereby we perceiue that Cornelius was not voyd of faith, no more then they were which liued before Chriſtes time: and therefore they deale fondly, which build preparatiue works & free will, vpon this place.

p God gaue the Iſraelites to vnderſtand, that whoſoeuer liueth godly, is acceptable to God, of what nation ſoeuer he be, ſo he preached peace to men through Ieſus Chriſt, who is Lord not of one nation only, that is, of the Iewes, but of all.

7 The ſumme of the Goſpel (which ſhall be made manifeſt at the latter day when Chriſt himſelfe ſhall ſit as iudge both of the quicke and dead) is this, that Chriſt promiſed to the Fathers, and exhibited in his time with the mightie power of God, (which was by all meanes ſhewed) & at length crucified to reconcile vs to God, did riſe againe the third day, that whoſoeuer beleeueth in him ſhould be ſaued through the remiſſion of ſinnes. ✣ Luke 4. 24.

q The ſtile is taken from an old cuſtome of the Iewes, who vſed to annoint their Kings & Prieſts, whereupon it grew, to call them anointed, vpon whom God beſtoweth gifts and vertues.

r This chuſing of the Apoſtles is properly giuen to God: for though God be preſident in the lawfull election of Miniſters, yet there is in this place a ſecret oppoſition and ſetting of Gods chuſing, and mens voyces the one againſt the other, for the Apoſtles are immediately appointed of God, and the Church Miniſters by means. ✣ Iere. 31.34. Heb. 7.18. chap. 15.9.

8 The Spirit of God ſealeth that in the heart of the hearers, which the Miniſter of the word ſpeaketh by the commandement of God, as it appeareth by the effects.

9 Baptiſme doeth not ſanctifie or make them holy which receiue it, but ſealeth vp and confirmeth their ſanctification.

CHAP. XI.

2 Peter being accuſed for going to the Gentiles, 5 defendeth himſelfe. 22 Barnabas is ſent to Antiochia, 26 where the diſciples are called Chriſtians: 28 And there Agabus foretelleth a famine to come.

1 Peter being without cauſe reprehended of the vnskilfull and ignorant, doeth not obiect that he ought not to be iudged of any, but openly giueth an accompt of his doing.

NOwe 1 the Apoſtles and the brethren that were in Iudea, heard, that the Gentiles had alſo receiued the word of God.

2 And when Peter was come vp to Hieruſalem, they of the circumciſion contended againſt him,

3 Saying, Thou wenteſt in to men vncircumciſed, and haſt eaten with them.

4 Then Peter began, & expounded the thing in order to them, ſaying,

5 I was in the citie of Ioppa, praying, and in a trance I ſawe this viſion, A certaine veſſell comming downe as it had bene a great ſheete, let downe from heauen by the foure corners, and it came to me.

6 Toward the which when I had faſtened mine eyes, I conſidered, and ſawe foure footed beaſtes of the earth, and wilde beaſtes, and creeping things, and foules of the heauen.

7 Alſo I heard a voyce, ſaying vnto mee, Ariſe, Peter: ſlay and eate.

8 And I ſaid, God forbid, Lord: for nothing polluted or vncleane hath at any time entred into my mouth.

9 But the voyce anſwered me the ſecond time from heauen, The things that God hath purified, pollute thou not.

10 And this was done three times, and all were taken vp againe into heauen.

11 Then behold, immediatly there were three men alreadie come vnto the houſe where I was, ſent from Ceſarea vnto me.

12 And the Spirit ſaid vnto me, that I ſhould go with them, without doubting: moreouer theſe ſixe brethren came with me, and we entred into the mans houſe.

13 And he ſhewed vs, how hee had ſeene an Angel in his houſe, which ſtood and ſaid to him, Send men to Ioppa, & cal for Simon, whoſe ſurname is Peter.

14 He ſhall ſpeake wordes vnto thee, whereby both thou and all thine houſe ſhalbe ſaued.

15 And as I began to ſpeake, the holy Ghoſt fell on them, ✣ euen as vpon vs at the beginning. ✣ Chap. 2.4.

16 Then I remembred the word of the Lord, how he ſaid, ✣ Iohn baptized with water, but yee ſhalbe baptized with the holy Ghoſt. ✣ Chap. 1.5. & 19.4. matth. 3.11. marke 1.8. luke 3.16. iohn 1.26.

17 For as much thē as God gaue thē a like gift, as he did vnto vs, when wee beleeued in the Lord Ieſus Chriſt, who was I, that I could let God?

18 2 When they heard theſe things, they held their peace, and glorified God, ſaying, Then hath God alſo to the Gentiles granted repentance vnto life.

2 Such as aske a queſtion of the trueth which they know not, ought to be quietly heard, and muſt alſo quietly yeeld to the declaration thereof.

19 ¶ 3 And they which were ∴ ſcattred abroad becauſe of the affliction that aroſe about Steuen, went throughout till they came vnto Phenice and Cyprus, and a Antiochia, preaching the word to no man, but vnto the Iewes onely.

3 The ſcattering abroad of the Church of Hieruſalem is the cauſe of the gathering together of many other Churches.

∴ Chap 8.1.

a He ſpeaketh of Antiochia which was in Syria and bordered vpon Cilicia.

20 4 Nowe ſome of them were men of Cyprus and of Cyrene, which when they were come into Antiochia, ſpake vnto the Grecians, & preached the Lord Ieſus.

21 And the hand of the Lord was with them, ſo that a great number beleeued and turned vnto the Lord.

22 5 Then tidings of thoſe things came vnto the eares of the Church, which was in Hieruſalem, and they ſent foorth Barnabas, that he ſhould goe vnto Antiochia.

4 The Church of Antioch, the new Hieruſalem of the Gentiles was extraordinarily called.

23 Who when hee was come and had ſeene the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted all, that with purpoſe of heart they would continue in the Lord.

5 The Apoſtles doe not raſhly condemne an extraordinarie vocation, but yet they iudge it by the effects.

24 For he was a good man, and full of the holy Ghoſt, & faith, and much people ioined themſelues vnto the Lord.

25 ¶ 6 Then departed Barnabas to Tarſus to ſeeke Saul:

6 There was no contention amongſt the Apoſtles either of vſurping, or of holding places and degrees.

26 And when he had found him, he brought him vnto Antiochia: and it came to paſſe that a whole yeere they were conuerſant ẅ the Church, and taught much people, inſomuch that the diſciples were firſt called Chriſtians in Antiochia.

27 7 In

God doeth so wrappe vp his Church with the wicked, in his scourges and plagues which he sendeth vpon the earth, that notwithstanding he prouideth for it conueniently.
8 All congregations or Churches make one bodie.
b That is, that these of the Deacons might succour the poore: for it behooued to haue all these things done orderly and decently, and therefore it is sayd, that they sent these things to the Elders, that is, to the gouernours of the Church.

27 7 In those dayes also came Prophets from Hierusalem vnto Antiochia.

28 And there stood vp one of them named Agabus, and signified by the Spirit, that there should be great famine throughout all the worlde, which also came to passe vnder Claudius Cesar.

29 8 Then the disciples euery man according to his habilitie, purposed to send b succour vnto the brethren which dwelt in Iudea.

30 Which thing they also did, and sent it to the Elders by the hand of Barnabas and Saul.

CHAP. XII.

2 Herod killeth Iames with the sworde: 4 And imprisoneth Peter, 8 whom the Angel deliuereth. 20 Herod being offended with them of Tyrus, 21 is pacified: 22 And taking the honour due to God, to himselfe, 23 hee is eaten with wormes, and so dyeth.

NOwe 1 about that time, 2 Herod the King stretched forth his hands to vexe certaine of the Church,

2 And hee b killed Iames the brother of Iohn with the sword.

3 2 And when hee sawe that it pleased the Iewes, hee proceeded further, to take Peter also (then were the dayes of vnleauened bread.)

4 3 And when he had caught him, he put him in prison, and deliuered him to foure quaternions of souldiers to be kept, intending after the Passeouer to bring him forth to the people.

5 4 So Peter was kept in prison, but earnest prayer was made of ỹ Church vnto God for him.

6 And when Herod woulde haue brought him out vnto the people, the same night slept Peter between two souldiers, bound w̃ two chaines, and the keepers before the doore, kept the prison.

7 ✣ And behold, the Angel of the Lord came vpon them, and a light shined in the c house, and he smote Peter on the side, and rayled him vp, saying, Arise quickly. And his chaines fel off from his handes.

8 And the Angel saide vnto him, Girde thy selfe, and binde on thy sandales. And so hee did. Then hee saide vnto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and folowe me.

9 So Peter came out and followed him, and knew not that it was true, which was done by the Angel, but thought he had seene a vision.

10 Now when they were past the first & the second watch, they came vnto ỹ yron gate that leadeth vnto the city, which opened to thẽ by it own accord, & they went out, and passed through one street, & by and by the Angel departed frõ him.

11 ¶ And when Peter was come to himselfe, he said, Now I know for a trueth, that the Lord hath sent his Angel, and hath deliuered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the waiting for of the people of the Iewes.

12 5 And as he considered the thing, hee came to the house of Mary, the mother of Iohn, whose surname was Marke, where many were gathered together, and prayed.

13 6 And when Peter knocked at the entrie doore, a maide d came foorth to hearken, named Rhode, 14 But when she knew Peters voyce, she opened not the entrie doore for gladnesse, but ranne in, and tolde how Peter stood before the entrie.

15 But they said vnto her, Thou art mad. Yet she affirmed it constantly, that it was so. Then said they, It is his Angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking, and when they had opened it, and sawe him, they were astonied.

17 7 And he beckened vnto them w̃ the hand, to hold their peace, & told them how ỹ Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he saide, Goe shew these things vnto Iames & to the brethren: and he departed and went into an other place.

18 ¶ 8 Nowe assoone as it was day, there was no small trouble among the souldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, hee examined the keepers, and commanded them to be led to be punished. And hee went downe from Iudea to Cesarea, and there abode.

20 9 Then Herod was angrie with them of Tyrus and Sidon, but they came all with one accord vnto him, and perswaded Blastus the Kings Chamberlaine, and they desired peace, because their countrey was nourished by the kings land.

21 And vpon a day appointed, Herod arayed himselfe in royall apparel, and sate on the iudgement seate, and made an oration vnto them.

22 10 And the people gaue a shoute, saying, The voyce of God, and not of man.

23 11 But immediatly the Angel of the Lorde smote him, because he egaue not glory vnto God, so that he was eaten of wormes, and gaue vp the ghost.

24 12 And the f worde of God grew and multiplied.

25 So Barnabas and Saul returned from Hierusalem, when they had fulfilled their office, and took with them Iohn, whose surname was Marke.

CHAP. XIII.

2 The holy Ghost commandeth that Paul & Barnabas be separated vnto him. 6 At Paphus 8 Elymas the sorcerer 11 is strooken blind: 14 From whence being come to Antiochia, 17 they preach the Gospel, 45 the Iewes vehemently withstanding them.

THere 1 were also in the Church that was at Antiochia, certaine Prophets and teachers, as Barnabas, and Simeon called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manahen (which had bin brought vp with a Herod the Tetrarch) and Saul.

2 Nowe as they b ministred to the Lorde, and fasted, the holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul, for the worke whereunto I haue c called them.

3 2 Then fasted they and prayed, and laide their hands on them, and let them goe.

4 3 And they, after they were sent foorth of the holy Ghost, came downe vnto d Seleucia, and from thence they sailed to Cyprus.

5 And when they were at Salamis, they preached the word of God in the Synagogues of the Iewes: and they had also Iohn to their minister.

6 So when they had gone throughout the yle vnto Paphus, they found a certaine sorcerer, a 23 9 Of this mans ſeed hath God ∵ according to his promiſe raiſed vp to Iſrael, § Sauiour Ieſus:

24 When ✣ Iohn had firſt preached n before his comming the baptiſme of repentance to all the people of Iſrael.

25 And when Iohn had fulfilled his courſe, he ſaid, ✣ Whom ye thinke that I am, I am not he: but behold, there commeth one after me, whoſe ſhooe of his feete I am not worthy to looſe.

26 10 Ye men and brethren, children of the generation of Abraham, and whoſoeuer among you feareth God, to you is the word of this ſaluation ſent.

27 11 For ỹ inhabitants of Hieruſalē, & their rulers, becauſe they knew him not, nor yet ỹ words of the Prophets, which are read euery Sabbath day, they haue fulfilled them in condemning him.

28 And though they found no cauſe of death in him, ✣ yet deſired they Pilate to kill him.

29 And when they had fulfilled all things that were written of him, they tooke him downe from the tree, and put him in a ſepulchre.

30 12 But God ∵ raiſed him vp from the dead.

31 And hee was ſeene many dayes of them, which came vp with him from Galile to Hieruſalem, which are his witneſſes vnto the people.

32 And we declare vnto you, that touching the promiſe made vnto the fathers, 33 God hath fulfilled it vnto vs their children, in that he o raiſed vp Ieſus, 13 euen as it is written in the ſecond Pſalme, * Thou art my Sonne: this day haue I begotten thee.

34 Nowe as concerning that he raiſed him vp from the dead, no more to returne to corruption, he hath ſaid thus, ✣ I will giue you the holie things of Dauid, p which are faithfull.

35 14 Wherefore hee ſaieth alſo in an other place, * Thou wilt not ſuffer thine Holy one to ſee corruption.

36 Howbeit, Dauid after hee had ſerued his time by the counſell of God, he ✣ ſlept, and was laid with his fathers, and ſawe corruption.

37 But he whom God raiſed vp, ſawe no corruption.

38 15 Be it knowen vnto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached vnto you the forgiueneſſe of ſinnes.

39 And from q all things, from which ye could not be iuſtified by the Lawe of Moſes, by him euery one that beleeueth, is iuſtified.

40 16 Beware therefore leſt that come vpon you, which is ſpoken of in the Prophets, 41 ✣ Beholde, yee deſpiſers, and wonder, and vaniſh away: for I worke a worke in your dayes, a worke which ye ſhal not beleeue, if a man would declare it you.

42 ¶ 17 And when they were come out of the Synagogue of the Iewes, the Gentiles beſought, that they would preach theſe wordes to them the next Sabbath day.

43 Nowe when the congregation was diſſolued, many of the Iewes and r Proſelytes that feared God, folowed Paul & Barnabas, which ſpake vnto them, and exhorted them to continue in the grace of God.

45 18 But when the Iewes ſawe the people, they were full of enuie, and ſpake againſt thoſe things, which were ſpoken of Paul, contrarying them, and railing on them.

46 19 Then Paul and Barnabas ſpake boldely, and ſaide, It was neceſſarie that the worde of God ſhould firſt haue bin ſpoken vnto you: but ſeeing ye put it from you, and ſiudge your ſelues vnworthie of euerlaſting life, loe, we turne to the Gentiles.

47 For ſo hath the Lord commanded vs, ſaying, ✣ I haue made thee a light of the Gentiles, that thou ſhouldeſt be the ſaluation vnto the end of the world.

48 And when the Gentiles heard it, they were glad, & glorified ſ word of the Lord: and as many as were t ordained vnto eternall life, beleeued.

49 Thus the word of the Lord was publiſhed throughout the whole countrey.

50 20 But the Iewes ſtirred certaine u deuoute and honourable women, and the chiefe men of the citie, and raiſed perſecution againſt Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coaſts.

51 21 But they ✣ ſhooke off the duſt of their feete againſt them, and came vnto Iconium.

52 And the diſciples were filled with ioy, and with the holy Ghoſt.

20 Such is the craft and ſubtiltie of the enemies of the Goſpel, that they abuſe the ſimplicitie of ſome which are not altogether euill men, to execute their crueltie.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Paul and Barnabas 5 are perſecuted from Iconium: 6 At Lyſtra Paul 10 healeth a creeple 13 They are about to do ſacrifice vnto them, 15 but they forbid it: 19 Paul, by the perſwaſion of certaine Iewes, is ſtoned: 23 From thence paſſing through diuers Churches, 26 They returne to Antiochia.

AND 1 it came to paſſe in a Iconium, that they went both together into the Synagogue of the Iewes, and ſo ſpake, that a great multitude both of the Iewes and of the Grecians beleeued.

2 And the b vnbeleeuing Iewes ſtirred vp, and corrupted the mindes of the Gentiles againſt the brethren.

3 2 So therefore they abode there a long time, and ſpake boldly in the Lorde, which gaue teſtimonie vnto the word of his grace, and cauſed ſignes and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 But the multitude of the citie was diuided: and ſome were with the Iewes, and ſome with the Apoſtles.

5 And when there was an aſſault made both of the Gentiles, and of the Iewes with their rulers, to do them violence, and to ſtone them,

6 They were ware of it, and c fled vnto Lyſtra, and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and vnto the region round about,

7 And there preached the Goſpel.

8 ¶ 3 Now there ſate a certaine man at Lyſtra, impotent in his feete, which was a creeple from his mothers womb, who had neuer walked.

9 Hee heard Paul ſpeake: who beholding him, & perceiuing that he had faith to be healed, 10 Said with a loude voice, Stand vpright on thy feete. And he leaped vp, and walked.

11 Then when the people ſawe what Paul had done, they lift vp their voices, ſaying in ỹ ſpeach of Lycaonia, Gods are come downe to vs in the likeneſſe of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, Iupiter: & Paul, Mercurius, becauſe he was the chiefe ſpeaker.

13 Then Iupiters Prieſt, which was before their citie, brought bulles with garlands vnto the d gates, & would haue ſacrificed with the people.

14 But when the Apoſtles, Barnabas and Paul heard it, they rent their clothes, & ranne in among the people, crying,

15 4 And ſaying, O men, why doe yee theſe things? We are euen men ſubiect to the e like paſſions that yee be, and preach vnto you, that yee ſhoulde turne from theſe f vaine things vnto the liuing God, ✣ which made heauen and earth, and the ſea, and all things that in them are:

16 5 Who in times paſt ✣ g ſuffered all the Gentiles to walke in their owne wayes.

17 Neuertheleſſe, he left not himſelfe without witnes, in that he did good and gaue vs raine frō heauen, and fruitfull ſeaſons, filling our hearts with foode, and gladneſſe.

18 And ſpeaking theſe things, ſcarſe appeaſed they the multitude, that they had not ſacrificed vnto them.

19 6 Then there came certaine Iewes from Antiochia and Iconium, which when they had perſuaded the people, h ſtoned Paul, and drewe him out of the citie, ſuppoſing he had bin dead.

20 Howbeit, as the diſciples ſtoode rounde about him, hee aroſe vp, and came into the citie, and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 7 And after they had preached the glad tidings of the Goſpel to that citie, and had taught many, they returned to Lyſtra, and to Iconium, and to Antiochia, 22 8 Confirming the diſciples hearts, and exhorting them to continue in the faith, affirming that we muſt through many afflictions enter into the kingdome of God.

23 9 And when they had ordained them Elders by election in euery Church, and prayed, and faſted, they commended them to the Lorde in whom they beleeued.

24 10 Thus they went throughout Piſidia, and came to Pamphylia.

25 And when they had preached the word in Perga, they came downe to i Attalia, 26 And thence ſailed to k Antiochia, ✲ from whence they had bin cōmēded vnto the grace of God, to the worke, which they had fulfilled.

27 And when they were come and had gathered the Church together, they rehearſed all the things that God had done by them, and howe hee had opened the doore of faith vnto the Gentiles.

28 So there they abode a long time with the diſciples.

CHAP. XV.

1 Certaine go about to bring in circumciſion at Antiochia: 6 About which matter the Apoſtles conſult: 19 and what muſt be done 23 they declare by letters, 36 Paul and Barnabas 39 are at great variance.

Then

THen 1 came downe 2 certaine from Iudea, and taught the brethren, ſaying, Except ye be circumciſed after the maner of Moſes, yee cannot be ſaued.

2 2 And when there was great diſſention, and diſputation by Paul and Barnabas againſt them, they ordeyned that Paul and Barnabas, and certaine other of them, ſhould go vp to Hieruſalem vnto the Apoſtles and Elders about this queſtion.

3 Thus b being brought forth by the Church, they paſſed through Phenice and Samaria, declaring the converſion of the Gentiles, and they brought great ioy vnto all the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Hieruſalem, they were receiued of the Church, and of the Apoſtles and Elders, and they declared what things God had done by them.

5 But ſaid they, certain of the ſect of the Phariſes, which did beleue, roſe vp, ſaying, that it was needfull to circumciſe them, and to commaunde them to keepe the law of Moſes.

6 3 Then the Apoſtles and Elders came together to looke to this matter.

7 And when there had bin great diſputation, Peter roſe vp, and ſaid vnto them, ✣ 4 Ye men & brethren, ye know that a c good while ago, among vs God choſe out me, that the Gentiles by my mouth ſhould heare the word of the Goſpel, and beleeue.

8 And God which knoweth the hearts, bare them witneſſe, in giuing vnto them the holy Ghoſt euen as he did vnto vs.

9 And he put no d difference betweene vs and them, after that ✣ e by faith hee had purified their heartes.

10 5 Nowe therefore, why f tempt ye God, to lay a yoke on the diſciples necks, which neither our fathers, nor we were able to beare?

11 But we beleeue, through the grace of the Lord Ieſus Chriſt to be ſaued, euen as they doe.

12 6 Then al ỹ multitude kept ſilence, & heard Barnabas & Paul, which told what ſignes & wonders God had done among the Gentiles by them.

13 And when they held their peace, g Iames anſwered, ſaying, Men, and brethren, hearken vnto me.

14 7 Simeon hath declared, how God firſt did viſite the Gentiles, to take of them a people vnto his Name.

15 And to this agree the wordes of the Prophets, as it is written,

16 ✕ After this I will returne, and will builde againe the Tabernacle of Dauid, which is fallen downe, and the ruines thereof wil I build againe, and I will ſet it vp,

17 That the reſidue of men might ſeeke after the Lorde, and all the Gentiles vpon whom my Name is called, ſaith the Lorde which doeth all theſe things.

18 From the beginning of the worlde, God h knoweth all his workes.

19 8 Wherefore my ſentence is, that we trouble not thē of the Gentiles ỹ are turned to God, 20 But that we ſend vnto them, that they abſteine themſelues from i filthineſſe of idoles, and fornication, and that that is ſtrangled, and from blood.

21 For Moſes of olde time hath in euery citie them that preach him, ſeeing he is read in the Synagogues euery Sabbath day.

22 9 Then it ſeemed good to the Apoſtles and Elders with the whole Church, to ſende choſen men of their owne companie to Antiochia with Paul and Barnabas: to wit, Iudas whoſe ſurname was Barſabas and Silas, which were chiefe men among the brethren, 23 And wrote letters by them after this maner, THE APOSTLES, and ỹ Elders, and the brethren, vnto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antiochia, and in Syria, and in Cilicia, ſend greeting.

24 10 Foraſmuch as wee haue heard, that certaine which k went out frō vs, haue troubled you with words, and l cumbred your mindes, ſaying, Ye muſt be circumciſed and keepe the Lawe: to whom we gaue no ſuch commandement,

25 It ſeemed therefore good to vs, when wee were come together w̄ one accord, to ſend choſen men vnto you, w̄ our beloued Barnabas & Paul, 26 Men that haue m giuen vp their liues for the Name of our Lord Ieſus Chriſt.

27 Wee haue therefore ſent Iudas and Silas, which ſhall alſo tell you ỹ ſame things by mouth.

28 11 For it ſeemed good to the n holy Ghoſt, and o to vs, to lay no more burden vpon you, then theſe p neceſſary things, 29 12 That is, that yee abſteine from things offered to idoles, and blood, and that that is ſtrangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keepe your ſelues, ye ſhall doe well. Fare ye well.

30 13 Nowe when they were departed, they came to Antiochia, and after that they had aſſembled the multitude, they deliuered the Epiſtle.

31 And when they had read it, they reioyced for the conſolation.

32 And Iudas and Silas being Prophets, exhorted the brethren with many words, & ſtrengthened them.

33 And after they had taried there a ſpace, they were let goe in q peace of the brethren vnto the Apoſtles, 34 Notwithſtanding Silas thought good to abide there ſtill.

35 Paul alſo and Barnabas continued in Antiochia, teaching and preaching with many other, the word of the Lord.

36 ¶ 14 But after certaine dayes, Paul ſaid vnto Barnabas, Let vs returne, & viſite our brethren in euery citie, where we haue preached the word of the Lord, and ſee how they doe.

1 The Church is at length troubled with diſſention within it ſelfe, and the trouble riſeth of the proude and ſtubburne wittes of certaine euill men: The firſt ſtrife was concerning the office of Chriſt, whether we be ſaued by his only righteouſneſſe apprehended by faith, or we haue neede alſo to obſerue the Law.

37 15 And Barnabas counselled to take with them Iohn, called Marke.

38 But Paul thought it not meete to take him vnto their companie, which departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the worke.

39 16 Then were they so r stirred, that they departed asunder one from the other, so that Barnabas tooke Marke, and sailed vnto Cyprus.

40 And Paul chose Sylas and departed, being commended of the brethren vnto the grace of God.

41 And hee went through Syria and Cilicia, stablishing the Churches.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Paul hauing circumcised Timotheus, 12 being at Philippi, 14 instructeth Lydia in the faith. 16 The spirit of diuination 18 is by him cast out: 20 and for that cause 22 they are whipped, 24 and imprisoned. 26 Through an earthquake 27 the prison doores are opened. 31.32 The Gaoler receiueth the faith.

THen 1 came he to Derbe and to Lystra: and beholde, a certaine disciple was there named ✣ Timotheus, a womās sonne, which was a a Iewesse and beleeued, but his father was a Grecian,

2 Of whom the brethren which were at Lystra and Iconium, b reported well.

3 2 Therefore Paul would that he should goe forth with him, and tooke and circumcised him, because of ỹ Iewes, which were in those quarters: for they knew all, that his father was a Grecian.

4 3 And as they went through the cities, they deliuered them to keepe the decrees, ordeined of the Apostles & Elders, which were at Hierusalē.

5 And so were the Churches stablished in the faith, and increased in number daily.

6 ¶ 4 Nowe when they had gone throughout Phrygia, and the region of Galatia, they were d forbidden of the holy Ghost to preache the word in Asia.

7 Then came they to Mysia & sought to goe into Bithynia: but the Spirit suffered them not.

8 Therefore they passed through Mysia, and came downe to Troas.

9 5 Where e vision appeared to Paul in the night. There stoode a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come into Macedonia, and helpe vs.

10 6 And after he had seene the vision, immediatly we prepared to go into Macedonia, being assured that the Lord had called vs to preache the Gospel vnto them.

11 Then went we forth from Troas, and with a straight course came to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis, 12 ¶ And from thence to Philippi, which is the chiefe citie in ỹ parts of Macedonia, & whose inhabitants came from Rome to dwell there: and we were in that citie abiding certaine dayes.

13 7 And on the Sabbath day, we went out of the citie, besides a riuer, where they were wont to e pray: and wee sate downe, and spake vnto the women, which were come together.

14 8 And a certaine woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the citie of the Thyatirians, which worshipped God, heard vs: whose heart the Lorde opened, that shee attended vnto the things, which Paul spake.

15 9 And when shee was baptized, and her household, she besought vs, saying, If ye haue iudged me to be faithfull to ỹ Lord, come into mine house, and abide there: and she constrained vs.

16 10 And it came to passe that as we went to prayer, a certaine maid hauing a spirit of f diuination, mette vs, which gate her masters much vantage with diuining.

17 Shee followed Paul and vs, and cried, saying, These men are the seruants of the most high God, which shew vnto you the way of saluation.

18 And this did she g many dayes: but Paul being grieued, turned about, and said to the spirit, I commaund thee in the Name of Iesus Christ, that thou come out of her. And he came out the same houre.

19 11 Nowe when her masters sawe that the hope of their gaine was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drewe them into the market place vnto the Magistrates,

20 12 And brought them to ỹ gouernours, saying, These men which are Iewes, trouble our city, 21 13 And preache ordinances, which are not lawfull for vs to receiue, neither to obserue, seeing we are Romanes.

22 14 The people also rose vp together against them, and the gouernours rent their clothes, and commanded them to be beaten with roddes.

23 And when they had beaten them sore, they cast them into prison, commanding the Gaoler to keepe them surely.

24 Who hauing receiued such commaundement, cast them into the inner prison, and made their feete h fast in the stockes.

25 15 Now at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sung Psalmes vnto God: and the prisoners heard them.

26 And suddēly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundation of the prison was shaken: and by and by all the doores opened, and euery mans bands were loosed.

27 16 Then ỹ keeper of the prison waked out of his sleepe, and when he saw the prison doores open, he drewe out his sword and would haue killed himselfe, supposing the prisoners had bin fled.

28 17 But Paul cried with a loude voyce, saying, Doe thy selfe no harme: for we are all here.

29 Then he called for a light, and leaped in, and came trembling, and fell downe before Paul and Silas, 30 And brought them out, and said, Syrs, what must I doe to be saued?

31 And they saide, Beleeue in the Lord Iesus Christ, & thou shalt be saued, & thine household.

32 And they preached vnto him the word of the Lord, and to all that were in the house.

33 18 Afterwarde hee tooke them the same houre of the night, and washed their stripes, and was baptized with all that belonged vnto him, straightway.

34 And when hee had brought them into his house, he set meate before them, and reioyced that he with all his household beleeued in God.

35 19 And when it was day, the gouernours sent the sergeants, saying, Let those men goe.

36 Then

1 Paul himselfe doeth not receiue Timothie into the ministery without sufficient testimonie, and allowance of the brethren.
✣ Rom.16.21. philip.2.19. 1.thess.3.2.
a Paul in his latter Epistle to Timothie, commendeth the godlines of Timothies mother and grandmother.
b Both for his godlinesse & honestie.
2 Timothie is circumcised, not simply for any necessitie, but in respect of the time onely to winne the Iewes.
3 Charitie is to be obserued in things indifferent, that is, regard be had both of the weake, and the quietnesse of the Church.
c Those decrees which he spake of in the former chapter.
4 God appointeth certaine and determinate times to open and set foorth his trueth, that both the election, and the calling may proceede of grace.
d He sheweth not why they were forbidden, but onely that they were forbidden, teaching vs to obey, and not to inquire.
5 They are the Ministers of the Gospel, by whom he helpeth such as were like to perish. 6 The Saints did not easily beleeue euery vision. 7 God beginneth his kingdome in Macedonia by the conuersion of a woman, & so sheweth ỹ there is no acception of person in the Gospel. e Where they were wont to assemble thēselues. 8 The Lord only openeth the heart to heare ỹ worde which is preached.

9 An example of a godly huswife.
10 Satan transformeth himselfe into an Angel of light, and commeth to enter by vndermining, but Paul openly letteth him, and casteth him out.
f This is a proper note of Apollo, which was wont to giue answeres to them that asked him.
g Paul made no haste to this miracle, for hee did all things as he was lead by the Spirit.
11 Couetousnesse of lucre and gaines is an occasion of persecuting the trueth. In the meane season, God sparing Timothie, calleth Paul and Silas as the stronger, to battaile.
12 Couetousnesse pretendeth a desire of common peace and godlinesse.
13 It is an argument of the deuill, to vrge the authoritie of ancestors without any distinction.
14 An example of euill Magistrates, to obey the furie and rage of the people.
h Because hee would be more sure of them, he set them fast in the stockes.
15 The prayers of the godly do shake both heauen and earth.
16 The mercifull Lorde, so oft as he listeth, draweth men to life euen through the midst of death, and whereas iustly they deserued great punishment, he sheweth them great mercie.
17 In meanes, which are especially extraordinarie, we ought not to moue our foote forwarde, vnlesse that God go before vs.
18 God with one selfe same hand woundeth and healeth, when it pleaseth him.
19 Shame and confusion is in processe of time, the reward of wicked and vniust Magistrates.

30 We must not render iniurie for iniurie, and yet notwithstanding it is lawfull for vs to vse such helpes as God giueth vs, to bridle the outrageousnesse of the wicked, that they hurt not other in like sort.
31 The wicked are not mooued with the feare of God but with the feare of men: and by that meanes also God prouideth for his, when it is needefull.
32 We may eschew dangers, so that we neuer neglect our duetie.

36 Then the keeper of the prison tolde these wordes vnto Paul, saying, The gouernours haue sent to loose you: nowe therefore get you hence, and goe in peace.

37 [30] Then said Paul vnto them, After that they haue beaten vs openly vncõdemned, which are Romanes, they haue cast vs into prison, and now would they put vs out priuily? nay verely: but let them come and bring vs out.

38 [31] And the sergeants tolde these wordes vnto the gouernours, who feared when they heard that they were Romanes.

39 Then came they and prayed them, and brought them out, and desired them to depart out of the citie.

40 [32] And they went out of the prison, and entred into the house of Lydia: and when they had seene the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Paul at Thessalonica 3 preaching Christ, 6. 7 is intertained of Iason: 10 He is sent to Berea: 15 from thence comming to Athens, 19 in Mars streete 23 he preacheth the liuing God to them vnknown, 34 and so many are conuerted vnto Christ.

NOwe [1] as they passed through Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a Synagogue of the Iewes.

2 And Paul, as his maner was, went in vnto them, and three Sabbath dayes disputed with them by the Scriptures,

3 [2] Opening & alleadging that Christ must haue suffered, and risen againe from the dead: and this is Iesus Christ, whõ said he, I preach to you.

4 And some of them beleeued, and ioyned in companie with Paul & Silas: also of the Grecians that feared God a great multitude, and of the chiefe women not a few.

5 [3] But the Iewes which beleeued not, mooued with enuy, tooke vnto them certaine [a] vagabonds and wicked fellowes, and when they had assembled [y] multitude, they made a tumult in the citie, and made assault against the house of Iason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

6 But when they found them not, they drew Iason and certain brethren vnto the heads of the citie, crying, These are they which haue subuerted the state of the [b] world, and here they are,

7 Whom Iason hath receiued, and these al do against the decrees of Cesar, saying, that there is another King one Iesus.

8 Then they troubled the people, and the heads of the citie, when they heard these things.

9 Notwithstanding when they had receiued sufficient [c] assurance of Iason and of the other, they let them goe.

10 [4] And the brethren immediatly sent away Paul and Silas by night vnto Berea, which when they were come thither, entred into the Synagogue of the Iewes.

11 [5] These were also more [d] noble men then they which were at Thessalonica, which receiued the worde with all readinesse, and searched the Scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

12 Therefore many of them beleeued, and of honest women, which were Grecians, and men not a few.

13 ¶ [6] But when the Iewes of Thessalonica knew, that the word of God was also preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither also, and mooued the people.

14 [7] But by and by the brethren sent away Paul to goe as it were to the sea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there still.

15 [8] And they that did cõduct Paul, [e] brought him vnto Athens: and when they had receiued a commandement vnto Silas and Timotheus that they should come to him at once, they departed.

16 ¶ [9] Nowe while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was [f] stirred in him, when hee sawe the citie subiect to [g] idolatry.

17 Therefore hee disputed in the Synagogue with the Iewes, and with them that were religious, and in the market daily with [h] whomsoeuer he met.

18 [10] Then certaine Philosophers of the Epicures, and of the Stoickes, disputed with him, and some saide, What will this [i] babler say? Others said, He seemeth to be a setter foorth of strange gods (because he preached vnto them Iesus, and the resurrection.)

19 And they tooke him, and brought him into [k] Mars streete, saying, May we not know, what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is?

20 For thou bringest certaine strange things vnto our eares: we would knowe therefore, what these things meane.

21 [11] For all the Athenians, and strangers which dwelt there, gaue themselues to nothing else, but either to tell, or to heare some newes.

22 [12] Then Paul stoode in the mids of Mars streete, and saide, Yee men of Athens, I perceiue that in all things ye are too [l] superstitious.

23 For as I passed by, and beheld your [m] deuotions, I founde an altar wherein was written, VNTO THE [n] VNKNOVVEN GOD. Whom ye then ignorantly worship, him shewe I vnto you.

24 [13] God that made the worlde, and all things that are therein, seeing that he is Lorde of heauen and earth, ✣ dwelleth not in temples made with hands,

25 ✣ Neither is worshipped with mens hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing hee giueth to all life and breath and all things,

26 [14] And hath made of [o] one blood al mankinde, to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath assigned the seasons which were ordeined before, and the boundes of their habitation,

1 The casting out of Silas and Paul, was the sauing of many other.
2 Christ is therefore the Mediator, because he was crucified and rose againe: much lesse is he to be reiected because the crosse is ignominious.
3 Although the zeale of the vnfaithfull seeme neuer so godly, yet at length it is found to haue neither trueth nor equitie: But yet the wicked cannot do what they list, for euen amõg themselues God stirreth vp some, whose helpe he vseth to the deliuerance of his.

13 It is a most foolish and vaine thing to compare the Creator, with the creature, to limite him within a place which can be comprehended in no place, and to thinke to allure him with gifts, of whom all men haue receiued all things whatsoeuer they haue: And these are the fountaines of al idolatrie. ✣ Chap. 7. 48. ✣ Psal. 50. 8.

27 That they should seeke the Lorde, if so be they might haue p groped after him, and founde him, though doubtlesse he be not farre from euery one of vs.

28 For in him we liue, and moue, and haue our being, as also certaine of your owne Poets haue said: For we are also his generation.

29 ✣ Forasmuch then, as we are the generation of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like vnto gold, or siluer, or stone q grauen by arte and the inuention of man.

30 15 And the time of this ignorance God regarded not: but nowe hee admonisheth all men euery where to repent, 31 Because hee hath appointed a day in the which he will iudge the world in righteousnes, by that man whom he hath appointed, whereof hee hath giuen an r assurance to all men, in that hee hath raised him from the dead.

32 16 Now when they had heard of the resurrection from the dead, some mocked, and other said, We will heare thee againe of this thing.

33 And so Paul departed from among them.

34 Howbeit certaine men claue vnto Paul, & beleeued: among whom was also Denys Areopagita, and a woman named Damaris, and other with them.

1 These things, Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinthus,

2 And found a certaine Iewe named ✣ Aquila, borne in Pontus, lately come from Italie, and his wife Priscilla (because that a Claudius had commanded all Iewes to depart from Rome) and he came vnto them.

3 And because he was of the same craft, hee abode with them and wrought (for their craft was to make tentes.)

4 2 And he disputed in the Synagogue euery Sabbath day, and b exhorted the Iewes, and the Grecians.

5 Now when Silas & Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul c forced in Spirite, testified to the Iewes that Iesus was the Christ.

6 3 And when they resisted and blasphemed, he ∵ shooke his raiment, & said vnto them, Your d blood be vpon your owne head: I am cleane: from hencefoorth will I go vnto the Gentiles.

7 So he departed thence, & entred into a certaine mans house, named Iustus, a worshipper of God, whose house ioyned hard to ỹ Synagogue.

8 And ✣ Crispus the chiefe ruler of ỹ Synagogue beleeued in ỹ Lord with al his household: and many of the Corinthians hearing it, beleeued and were baptized.

9 4 Then said the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Feare not, but speake, and holde not thy peace.

10 For I am with thee, and no man shall lay hands on thee to hurt thee: for I haue much people in this citie.

11 So he e continued there a yeere & six moneths, & taught the worde of God among them.

12 ¶ 5 Now when Gallio was deputie of f Achaia, the Iewes arose with one accorde against Paul, and brought him to the iudgement seate, 13 Saying, This fellow perswadeth mē to worship God otherwise then the Lawe appointeth.

14 And as Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio said vnto the Iewes, If it were a matter of wrong, or an euill deede, O ye Iewes, I would according to g reason maintaine you.

15 But if it bee a question of h wordes and i names, and of your Lawe, looke yee to it your selues: for I wil be no iudge of those things.

16 And he draue thē from ỹ iudgement seate.

17 Then tooke al the Grecians Sosthenes the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, and beat him before the iudgement seate: but Gallio cared nothing for those things.

18 6 But when Paul had tarried there yet a good while, he tooke leaue of the brethren, and sailed into Syria (and with him Priscilla and Aquila) after that k hee had shorne his head in l Cenchrea: for he had a ✣ vowe.

19 Then he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he entred into the Synagogue and disputed with the Iewes.

20 7 Who desired him to tarrie a longer time with them: but he would not consent, 21 But bade them farewel, saying, I must needes keepe this feast that commeth, in Hierusalem: but I will returne againe vnto you, ✣ m if God wil. So he sailed from Ephesus.

22 ¶ And when he came downe to Cesarea, he went vp to Hierusalem: and when he had saluted the Church, he went down vnto Antiochia.

23 Now whē he had taried there a while, he departed, & went thorow the countrey of Galatia & Phrygia by order, strengthening all ỹ disciples.

24 8 And a certaine Iewe named ∵ Apollos borne at Alexandria, came to Ephesus, an eloquent man, and mightie in the Scriptures.

25 The same was instructed in the way of the Lorde, and he spake feruently in the Spirite, and taught diligently the things of the Lord, & knew but the baptisme of Iohn onely.

26 And he began to speake boldely in the Synagogue. Whom when ✣ Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they tooke him vnto them, and expounded vnto him the o way of God more perfectly.

27 And when hee was minded to goe into Achaia, the brethren exhorting him, wrote to the disciples to receiue him: and after hee was come thither, he holpe thē much which had beleeued through p grace.

28 For mightily hee confuted publikely the Iewes, with great vehemencie, shewing by the Scriptures, that Iesus was that Christ.

4 God doeth watch and maintaine the contagie of his seruants.

1 Certaine disciples at Ephesus, 3 hauing onely receiued Iohns baptisme, 5 and knew not the visible gifts of the holy Ghost, wherewith God had beautified his Seuery kingdome, 5 are baptized in the Name of Iesus. 13 The Iewish exorcists are beaten of the deuill. 19 Coniuring bookes are burnt. 24 Demetrius 29 raiseth sedition against Paul.

AND [1] it came to passe, while Apollos was at Corinthus, that Paul when he passed thorow the vpper coasts, came to Ephesus, and found certaine disciples,

2 And sayd vnto them, Haue ye receiued the [a] holy Ghost since yee beleeued? And they said vnto him, Wee haue not so much as heard whether there be an holy Ghost.

3 [2] And he said vnto them, Vnto [b] what were ye then baptized? And they sayde, Vnto [c] Iohns baptisme.

4 Then sayde Paul, ✣ Iohn verely baptized with the baptisme of repentance, saying vnto the people, that they shoulde beleeue in him, which should come after him, that is, in Christ Iesus.

5 And when they heard it, they were baptized in the Name of the Lord Iesus.

6 So Paul layde his hands vpon them, and the holy Ghost came on them, and they spake the tongues, and prophecied.

7 And all the men were about twelue.

8 ¶ Moreouer hee went into the Synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three moneths, disputing and exhorting to the things that appertaine to the kingdome of God.

9 [3] But when certaine were hardened, and disobeyed, speaking euill of the [d] way of God before the multitude, hee departed from them, and separated the disciples, and disputed dayly in the schole of one [e] Tyrannus.

10 And this was done by the space of two yeeres, so that all they which dwelt in Asia, heard the word of [f] Lord Iesus, both Iewes & Grecians.

11 And God wrought no small miracles by the hands of Paul,

12 So that frō his body were brought vnto the sicke, kerchefs, or handkerchefs, & the diseases departed frō them, & the euil spirits went out of thē.

13 [4] Then certaine of the vagabond Iewes, [5] exorcists, tooke in hand to name ouer them which had euil spirits, the Name of the Lord Iesus, saying, We adiure you by Iesus, whom Paul preacheth.

14 (And there were certaine sonnes of Sceua a Iewe, the Priest, about seuen which did this)

15 And the euill spirit answered, and said, Iesus I acknowledge, & Paul I know: but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the euill spirit was, ranne on them, & ouercame them, and [g] preuailed against them, so that they fledde out of that house, naked, and wounded.

17 And this was knowen to all the Iewes and Grecians also, which dwelt at Ephesus, and feare came on them all, and the Name of the Lord Iesus was magnified, 18 [5] And many that beleeued, came and [h] confessed, and shewed their workes.

19 Many also of them which vsed curious artes, brought their bookes, and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it [i] fiftie thousand pieces of siluer.

20 So the word of God grewe mightily, and preuailed.

21 ¶ [6] Nowe when these things were accomplished, Paul purposed by the [k] Spirite to passe through Macedonia and Achaia, and to goe to Hierusalem, saying, After I haue bene there, I must also see Rome.

22 So sent hee into Macedonia two of them that ministred vnto him, Timotheus, and Erastus, but he remained in Asia for a season.

23 [7] And the same time there arose no small trouble about that way.

24 For a certaine man named Demetrius a siluersmith, which made siluer [l] temples of Diana, brought great gaines vnto the craftesmen,

25 Whom he called together, with the workemen of like things, and saide, Syrs, ye knowe that by this craft we haue our goods:

26 Moreouer ye see and heare, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia this Paul hath perswaded, and turned away much people, saying, That they be not gods which are made with handes.

27 So [y] not only his thing is dangerous vnto vs, that this our [m] portion shall be reproued, but also that the temple of the great goddesse Diana shoulde be nothing esteemed, and that it woulde come to passe that her magnificence, which all Asia & the world worshippeth, should be destroied.

28 Now when they heard it, they were full of wrath, and cryed out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And [y] whole citie was ful of confusion, and they rushed into the cōmon place with one assent, and caught ✣ Gaius, and ✣ Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, & Pauls companions of his iourney.

30 And when Paul would haue entred in vnto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 [8] Certaine also of the chiefe of Asia, which were his friendes, sent vnto him, desiring him that he would not present himselfe in the Common place.

32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assemblie was out of order, and the more part knewe not wherefore they were come together.

33 And some of the company drew foorth Alexander, the Iewes thrusting him forwards. Alexander then beckened with the hand, and woulde haue excused the matter to the people.

34 [9] But when they knew that he was a Iewe, there arose a shoute almost for the space of two houres, of all men crying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

35 [10] Then the towne clearke when hee had stayed the people, sayd, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is it that knoweth not howe that the citie of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great goddesse Diana, & of the image, which [n] came downe from Iupiter?

36 Seeing then that no man can speake against these things, ye ought to bee appeased, and to doe nothing rashly.

37 For yee haue brought hither these men, which haue neither committed sacriledge, neither doe blaspheme your goddesse.

38 Wherefore, if Demetrius and the craftes men which are with him, haue a [o] matter against any man, the [p] laue is open, and there are [q] Deputies: let them accuse one another.

CHAP. XX.

1 Paul appoynteth to goe to Macedonia: 7 In Troas preaching vntill midnight, 9 Eutychus fell downe dead out of a windowe, 10 he raiseth him to life: 15 At Miletum, 17 having called the Elders of Ephesus together, 23 he declareth what things shall come vpon himselfe, 28 and others.

1 Paul departeth from Ephesus by the consent of the Church, not to be idle or at rest, but to take paines in another place.

4 The deuill minding to trouble the Church with a great offence, giueth Paul a singular occasion to confirme the Gospel.

5 Paul an earnest and diligent follower of Christ, making haste to his bonds without any ceasing or stopping in his race, doth first of all as it were make his testament, wherein he giueth an accompt of his former life, defendeth the doctrine which he taught, and exhorteth the Pastours of the Church to persiuere and goe forward with continuance in their office.

c According as the situation of those places is set foorth, that distance betweene Ephesus and Miletum was about 100. furlongs, which maketh almost 13. Dutch miles.

1 Nowe after the tumult was appeased, Paul called the disciples vnto him, and embraced them, and departed to goe into Macedonia.

2 And when hee had gone through those parts, and had exhorted them with a many words, he came into Grecia.

3 2 And hauing taried there three moneths, because the Iewes layde waite for him, as hee was about to saile into Syria, he purposed to returne through Macedonia.

4 And there accompanied him into Asia, Sopater of Berea, and of them of Thessalonica, Aristarchus, and Secundus, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus, and of them of Asia, Tychicus, and Trophimus.

5 These went before, and taried vs at Troas.

6 And we sailed forth from Philippi, after the dayes of vnleauened bread, & came vnto them to Troas in fiue dayes, where we abode seuen dayes.

7 3 And the b first day of the weeke, the disciples being come together to breake bread, Paul preached vnto them, ready to depart on the morow, and continued the preaching vnto midnight.

8 4 And there were many lightes in an vpper chamber, where they were gathered together.

9 And there sate in a windowe a certaine yong man, named Eutychus, fallen into a dead sleepe: and as Paul was long preaching, he ouercome with sleepe, fell downe from the thirde loft, and was taken vp dead.

10 But Paul went downe, and layde himselfe vpon him, and embraced him, saying, Trouble not your selues: for his life is in him.

11 Then when Paul was come vp againe, and had broken bread, and eaten, hauing spoken a long while till the dawning of the day, hee so departed.

12 And they brought the boye aliue, and they were not a litle comforted.

13 ¶ Then we went before to shippe, and sailed vnto the citie Assos, that wee might receiue Paul there: for so had hee appoynted, and would himselfe goe afoote.

14 Now when he was come vnto vs to Assos, and we had receiued him, we came to Mitylenes.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day ouer against Chios, and the next day we arriued at Samos, and tarried at Trogyllium: the next day we came to Miletum.

16 5 For Paul had determined to saile by Ephesus, because he woulde not spend the time in Asia: for he hasted to be, if he could possible, at Hierusalem, at the day of Pentecost.

17 ¶ Wherefore from c Miletum, hee sent to Ephesus, and called the Elders of the Church.

18 6 Who when they were come to him, hee sayd vnto them, Ye knowe from the first day that I came into Asia, after what maner I haue bene with you at all seasons,

19 Seruing the Lorde with all modestie, and with many teares, and tentations, which came vnto me by the layings awaite of the Iewes,

20 And how I kept d backe nothing that was profitable, but haue shewed you, and taught you openly and throughout euery house, 21 Witnessing both to the Iewes, and to the Grecians the repentance toward God, and fayth toward our Lord Iesus Christ.

22 7 And nowe beholde, I goe e bound in the Spirit vnto Hierusalem, and knowe not what things shall come vnto me there, 23 Saue that f holy Ghost witnesseth in euery citie, saying, that bondes and afflictions abide me.

24 But I passe not at all, neither is my life deare vnto my selfe, so that I may fulfil my course with ioy, and the ministration which I haue receiued of the Lord Iesus, to testifie the Gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now behold, I know that henceforth ye all, through whom I haue gone preaching the kingdome of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am g pure from the blood of all men.

27 8 For I haue kept nothing backe, but haue shewed you all the counsell of God.

28 Take heede therefore vnto your selues, and to all the flocke, whereof the holy Ghost hath made you Ouerseers, to g feede the Church of God, which h he hath purchased with i that his owne blood.

29 9 For I knowe this, that after my departing shall grieuous wolues enter in among you, not sparing the flocke.

30 Moreouer of your owne selues shall men arise speaking peruerse things, to k draw disciples after them.

31 Therefore watch, and remember that by the space of three yeeres I ceased not to warne euery one, both night and day with teares.

32 10 And now brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build further, and to giue you an l inheritance, among all them, which are sanctified.

33 11 I haue coueted no mans siluer, nor golde, nor apparell.

34 Yea, ye knowe, that these handes haue ministred vnto my ✣ necessities, and to them that were with me.

35 I haue shewed you all things, how that so labouring, ye ought to m support the weake, and to remember the wordes of the Lord Iesus, howe that he sayde, It is a blessed thing to giue, rather then to receiue.

36 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled downe, and prayed with them all.

37 12 Then they wept all abundantly, and fell on Pauls necke, and kissed him, 38 Being chiefly sorie for the wordes which he spake, That they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him vnto the shippe.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Paul goeth toward Hierusalem: 8 at Cesarea he tarieth with Philip the Euangelist: 10 Agabus foretelleth him of his bonds. 17 After he came to Hierusalem, 26 and into the Temple, 27 the Iewes lay violent handes on him: 31 Lysias the captaine taketh him from them.

AND [1] as we launched forth, & were departed from them, wee came with a straight course vnto Coos, & the day following vnto ỹ Rhodes, and from thence vnto Patara.

2 And we found a shippe that went ouer vnto Phenice, and went aboard, and set foorth.

3 And when we had discouered Cyprus, we left it on the left hand, & sailed toward Syria, & arriued at Tyrus: for there ỹ ship vnladed the burden.

4 And when we had found disciples, we taried there seuen dayes. And they told Paul through the [a] Spirit, that he should not goe vp to Hierusalem.

5 But when the dayes were ended, we departed and went our way, & they all accompanied vs with their wiues and children, euen out of ỹ citie: and we kneeling downe on the shore, prayed.

6 Then when we had embraced one another, we tooke shippe, and they returned home.

7 And when wee had ended the course from Tyrus, we arriued at Ptolemais, & saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next day, Paul and wee that were with him, departed, and came vnto Cesarea: and we entred into the house of ✣ Philippe the Euangelist, which was one of the [b] seuen Deacons, and abode with him.

9 Now he had foure daughters virgins, which did [c] prophecie.

10 And as wee taried there many dayes, there came a certaine Prophet from Iudea, named Agabus.

11 And when he was come vnto vs, he tooke Pauls girdle, & bound his owne hands & feete, & said, Thus saith ỹ holy Ghost, So shall the Iewes at Hierusalem binde the man that oweth this girdle, and shal deliuer him into ỹ hands of the Gentiles.

12 And when we had heard these things, both we and other of the same place besought him that he would not goe vp to Hierusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, and said, What doe ye weeping and breaking mine heart? For I am readie not to be bound only, but also to die at Hierusalem for the Name of the Lord Iesus.

14 [2] So when he would not be perswaded, we ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be done.

15 And after those dayes wee trussed vp our fardels, and went vp to Hierusalem.

16 There went with vs also certaine of the disciples of Cesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an olde disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when wee were come to Hierusalem, the brethren receiued vs gladly.

18 And the next day, Paul went in with vs vnto Iames: & all the Elders were there assembled.

19 [3] And when hee had embraced them, hee tolde by order all things, that God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministration.

20 ✣ So when they heard it, they glorified God, and said vnto him, Thou seest, brother, how many thousand Iewes there are which beleeue, & they are all zealous of the Lawe:

21 Nowe they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Iewes which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, bidding them that they ought not to circumcise their sonnes, neither to liue after the customes.

22 What is then to be done? the multitude must needes come together: for they shall heare that thou art come.

23 Doe therefore this that we say to thee, We haue foure men, which haue made a vowe, 24 Them take, and [d] purifie thy selfe with them, and [e] contribute with them, that they may ✣ shaue their heads: and all shall know, that those things, whereof they haue bene informed concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thy selfe also walkest, and keepest the Lawe.

25 For as touching ỹ Gentiles, which beleeue, we haue written, & determined that they obserue no such thing, but that they keepe themselues from things offered to idoles, & from blood, and from that that is strangled, and from fornication.

26 Then Paul tooke the men, & the next day was purified with them, and entred into the Temple, [f] declaring the accomplishment of the dayes of the purification, vntill that an offering should be offered for euery one of them.

27 [5] And when the seuen dayes were almost ended, the Iewes which were of Asia (when they saw him in the Temple) mooued all the people, and layde handes on him, 28 Crying, Men of Israel, helpe: this is the man that teacheth all men euery where against the people, and the Law, and this place: moreouer, he hath brought Grecians into the Temple, and hath polluted this holy place.

29 For they had seene before Trophimus an Ephesian with him in the citie, whome they supposed that Paul had brought into the Temple.

30 Then all the citie was moued, and the people ranne together: and they tooke Paul & drew him out of the Temple, and forthwith the doores were shut.

31 [6] But as they went about to kil him, tidings came vnto the chiefe captaine of the band, that all Hierusalem was on an vproare.

32 Who immediatly tooke souldiers and Centurions, and ran downe vnto them: and when they saw the chiefe Captaine and the souldiers, they left beating of Paul.

33 Then the chiefe Captaine came neere and tooke him, & commanded him to be bound with two chaines, and demaunded who hee was, and what he had done.

34 And one cried this, another that, among the people. So when he could not know the certaintie for the tumult, he commanded him to be led into the castell.

35 And when he came vnto the grieces, it was so that he was borne of the souldiers, for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him.

37 And as Paul should haue bene led into the castell, he sayd vnto the chiefe Captaine, May I speake vnto thee? Who sayd, Canst thou speake Greeke?

38 Art not thou ỹ [g] Egyptian who before these dayes raised a sedition, & led out into the wildernesse foure thousand men that were murtherers?

39 Then Paul sayde, Doubtlesse, I am a man which am a Iewe, and citizen of Tarsus, a famous

CHAP. XXII.

1 Paul yeeldeth a reason of his faith, 22 and the Iewes heare him a while. 23 But so soone as they cryed out, 24 he is commanded to be scourged and examined, 27 and so declareth that he is a citizen of Rome.

YE men, brethren, and Fathers, heare my defence now towards you.

2 (And when they heard that he spake in the Hebrewe tongue to them, they kept the more silence, and he sayd)

3 [1] I am verely a man, which am a Iew, borne in Tarsus in Cilicia, but brought vp in this citie at the [a] feete of Gamaliel, and instructed according to the perfect maner of the Law of ỹ Fathers, and was zealous toward God, as ye all are this day.

4 And I persecuted this way vnto the death, binding and deliuering into prison both men and women.

5 As also the chiefe Priest doeth beare me witnes, & all the company of the Elders: of whom also I receiued letters vnto the brethren, & went to Damascus to bring them which were there, bound vnto Hierusalem, that they might be punished.

6 ¶ And so it was, as I iourneyed and was come neere vnto Damascus about noone, that suddenly there shone from heauen a great light round about me.

7 So I fel vnto ỹ earth, & heard a voyce, saying vnto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 Then I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said to me, I am Iesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest.

9 Moreouer they that were with me, sawe in deede a light and were afraide: but they heard not the voyce of him that spake vnto me.

10 Then I sayd, What shall I doe, Lorde? And the Lord sayd vnto me, Arise, and go into Damascus: and there it shalbe tolde thee of all things, which are appointed for thee to doe.

11 So when I could not see for the glory of that light, I was led by ỹ hand of them that were with me, and came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias a godly man, as perteining to the Lawe, hauing good report of all the Iewes which dwelt there, 13 Came vnto me, and stood, & said vnto me, Brother Saul, receiue thy sight: and that same houre I looked vpon him.

14 And he sayd, The God of our fathers hath appointed thee, that thou shouldest know his wil, and shouldest see that Iust one, & shouldest heare the voyce of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witnes vnto all men, of the things which thou hast seene and heard.

16 Now therefore why tarriest thou? Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sinnes, in calling on the Name of the Lord.

17 ¶ And it came to passe, that when I was come againe to Hierusalem, and prayed in the Temple, I was in a traunce, 18 And sawe him, saying vnto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Hierusalem: for they will not receiue thy witnesse concerning me.

19 Then I said, Lord, they know that I prisoned, and beat in euery Synagogue them that beleeued in thee.

20 And when the blood of thy martyr Steuen was shed, I also stoode by, and consented vnto his death, & kept the clothes of them that [b] slew him.

21 Then he saide vnto mee, Depart: for I will send thee farre hence vnto the Gentiles.

22 ¶ [2] And they heard him vnto this word, but then they lift vp their voices, and said, Away with such a fellowe from the earth: for it is not meete that he should line.

23 And as they [c] cried & cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the ayre, 24 [3] The chiefe captaine commanded him to be led into the castle, and bade that he should be scourged, and examined, that hee might knowe wherefore they cried so on him.

25 [4] And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said vnto the Centurion that stoode by, Is it lawfull for you to scourge one that is a Romane, and not condemned?

26 Now when the Centurion heard it, he went, and tolde the chiefe captaine, saying, Take heede what thou doest: for this man is a Romane.

27 Then the chiefe captaine came, and said to him, Tel me, art thou a Romane? And he said, Yea.

28 And the chiefe captaine answered, With a great summe obtained I this freedome. Then Paul said, But I was so borne.

29 Then straightway they departed from him, which should haue examined him: and the chiefe captaine also was afraide, after he knewe that he was a [d] Romane, and that he had bound him.

30 On the next day, because he woulde haue knowen the certaintie wherefore he was accused of the Iewes, he loosed him from his bonds, and commaunded the hie Priestes and all their Councill to come together: and he brought Paul, and set him before them.

CHAP. XXIII.

b This is properly spoken: for Steuen was murthered of a sort of cutthroates, not by order of iustice, but by open force: for at that time the Iewes could not put any man to death by the Lawe.

3 The wisedome of the flesh doeth not consider what is iust, but what is profitable, & therewithall measure the profite, according as it appeareth presently.

4 There is no cause why we may not vse those lawfull meanes which God giueth vs, to repell, or put away an iniurie.

d Not by nation, but by the lawes of the citie.

1 Paul, against the false accusations of his enemies, setteth a good conscience, for proofe whereof, hee repeateth the whole course of his life.

2 Hypocrites are constrained at length, to betray themselues by their intemperancie.

3 It is lawfull for vs to complaine of iniuries, & to summon the wicked to the iudgement seate of God, so that we do it without hatred, and with a quiet and peaceable minde.

a It appeareth plainely by the Greeke phrase, that Paul did not curse the hie Priest, but only pronounce the punishment of God against him. b This is a vehement and sharpe speach, but yet not reprochfull. For the godly may speake roundly, and yet be voyde of the bitter affection of a sharpe and angry minde. c For the Law commaundeth the Iudge to heare the person that is accused patiently, and to pronounce the sentence aduisedly. 4 We must willingly and from the heart giue honour to Magistrates, although they be tyrants. ✣ Exod. 22. 27. 5 We may lawfully sometimes set the wicked together by the eares, that they may leaue off to assault vs, so that it be with no hinderance of the truth.

Pharises,

Pharises, he cried in the Counsell, Men and brethren, I am a Pharise, the sonne of a Pharise: I am accused of the hope and resurrection of the dead.

7 6 And when hee had sayde this, there was a dissension betweene the Pharises and the Sadducees, so that the multitude was diuided.

8 7 For the Sadduces say that there is no resurrection, neither Angel, nor spirit: but the Pharises confesse both.

9 8 Then there was a great crye: and the Scribes of the Pharises part rose vp, and stroue, saying, Wee finde none euill in this man: but if a spirit or an Angel hath spoken to him, let vs not fight against God.

10 9 And when there was a great dissension, the chiefe captaine, feating lest Paul should haue bene pulled in pieces of them, commanded the souldiers to go downe, and take him from among them, and to bring him into the castell.

11 Nowe the night following, the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good courage, Paul: for as thou hast testified of mee in Hierusalem, so must thou beare witnesse also at Rome.

12 10 And when the day was come, certaine of the Iewes made an assemblie, and bounde themselues [f] with a curse, saying, that they would neither eate nor drinke, till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more then fourtie, which had made this conspiracie.

14 And they came to the chiefe Priestes and Elders, and said, We haue bound our selues with a solemne curse, that wee will eate nothing, vntill we haue slaine Paul.

15 Nowe therefore, ye and the [g] Council, signifie to the chiefe captaine, that hee bring him foorth vnto you to morow, as though you would know some thing more perfectly of him, and we, or euer he come neere, will be ready to kill him.

16 But when Pauls sisters sonne heard of their laying awaite, he went, and entred into the castel, and tolde Paul.

17 11 And Paul called one of the Centurions vnto him, and said, Take this yong man hence vnto the chiefe captaine: for he hath a certaine thing to shewe him.

18 So he tooke him, and brought him to the chiefe captaine, & said, Paul [h] prisoner called me vnto him, and prayed me to bring this yong man vnto thee, which hath some thing to say vnto thee.

19 Then the chiefe captaine tooke him by the hand, and went apart with him alone, and asked him, What hast thou to shewe me?

20 And he sayd, The Iewes haue conspired to desire thee, that thou wouldest bring foorth Paul to morow into the Council, as though they would inquire somewhat of him more perfectly:

21 But let them not perswade thee: for there lie in waite for him of them, more then fourtie men, which haue bound themselues with a curse, that they will neither eate nor drinke, till they haue killed him: and nowe are they ready, and waite for thy promise.

22 12 The chiefe captaine then let the yong man depart, after hee had charged him to vtter it to no man, that he had [i] shewed him these things.

23 And he called vnto him two certaine Centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred souldiers, that they may go to Cæsarea, and horsemen three score and ten, and two hundred with dartes, at the third houre of the night:

24 And let them make ready an horse, that Paul being set on, may be brought safe vnto Felix the Gouernour.

25 And he wrote an epistle in this maner:

26 13 Claudius Lysias vnto the most noble Gouernour Felix sendeth greeting.

27 As this man was taken of the Iewes, and shoulde haue bene killed of them, I came vpon them with the garison, and rescued him, perceiuing that he was a Romane.

28 And when I would haue knowen the cause, wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their Council.

29 Then I perceiued that he was accused of questions of their Lawe, but had no crime worthy of death, or of bondes.

30 And when it was shewed me, how that the Iewes laid waite for the man, I sent him straightway to thee, and commanded his accusers to speake before thee the things that they had against him. Farewell.

31 Then the souldiers as it was cõmanded them, took Paul, & brought him by night to Antipatris.

32 And the next day, they left the horsemen to goe with him, and returned vnto the Castel.

33 Now when they came to Cæsarea, they deliuered the epistle to the Gouernour, and presented Paul also vnto him.

34 So when the Gouernour had read it, hee asked of what prouince hee was: and when hee vnderstoode that he was of Cilicia, 35 I will heare thee, said he, when thine accusers are also come, and commaunded him to be kept in Herods iudgement hall.

CHAP. XXIIII.

2 Tertullus accuseth Paul: 10 Hee answereth for himselfe. 25 Hee preacheth Christ to the gouernour and his wife. 27 Felix hopeth, but in vaine, to receiue a bribe. 28 who going from his office, leaueth Paul in prison.

NOw [1] after fiue dayes, Ananias the hie Priest came downe with the Elders, and with Tertullus a certaine oratour, which appeared before the Gouernour against Paul.

2 And when hee was called foorth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that we haue obteined great quietnesse [a] through thee, and that many [b] worthy things are done vnto this nation through thy prouidence,

3 We acknowledge it wholly, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thankes.

4 But that I be not tedious vnto thee, I pray thee, that thou wouldest heare vs of thy curtesie a fewe wordes.

5 Certainely wee haue found this man a [c] pestilent fellowe, and a moouer of sedition among all the Iewes throughout the world, and a [d] chiefe maintainer of the sect of the [e] Nazarites:

6 And hath gone about to pollute the Temple: therefore we tooke him, and would haue iudged him according to our Lawe:

7 But the chiefe captaine Lysias came vpon vs, and with great violence tooke him out of our hands,

8 Commanding his accusers to come to thee: of whom thou mayest (if thou wilt inquire) know all these things whereof we accuse him.

a Lysias is suddenly made by the Lord, Pauls protector.

b Hypocrites, when they cannot doe what they would, do by force and deceite: at length they goe about to compasse it by alleaging of Lawe.

a Felix ruled that prouince with great seuerity and crueltie, and couetousnesse, saith Iosephus reporting that he did many worthy things, as that he tooke Eleazar the captaine of certaine robbers, and put that doctrine wretch the Egyptian to flight, which caused great trouble in Iudea.

2 Tertullus by the deuils rhetorike beginning with flatterie, maketh an end with lies: but Paul vsing heauenly eloquence and but a simple beginning, casteth off from himselfe the crime of sedition, wherewith he was burdened, with a simple deniall.
g Paul pleaded his cause two yeeres before Felix departed out of the prouince, Chap. 27. but he had gouerned Trachonite, and Batanea, and Galaunite, before that Claudius made him Gouernour of Judea: Iosephus in the historie of the Iewes warre, lib. 2. cap. 11.

5 The iudge suspendeth his sentence, because the matter is doubtful.
n Felix could not iudge whether he had done wickedly in the matters of his religion or no, vntill he had better vnderstanding of that way which Paul professed: and as for other matters touching the sedition, he thinketh good to deferre it till he heare Lysias, and therefore he gaue Paul some what more libertie.
6 God is a most faithfull keeper of his seruants, and the force of the trueth is wonderfull, euen amongst men which are otherwise prophane.
o This Drusilla was Agrippa his sister, of whom Luke speaketh afterward, a very harlot & licentious woman, and being the wife of Azizus King of the Emesens, who was circumcised, departed from him, and went to this Felix the brother of one Pallas, who was sometime Nero his bedchamber.
7 In a naughtie minde, that is guiltie to it selfe, although sometime there be some shewe of equitie, yet by and by it will be extinguished: herein the meane season we haue neede of patience, and that continuall.

9 And the Iewes likewise affirmed, saying that it was so.

10 Then Paul, after that the gouernour had beckened vnto him that hee should speake, answered, I do the more gladly answere for my selfe, for as much as I knowe that thou hast bene of many yeeres a iudge vnto this nation, 11 Seeing that thou mayest knowe, that there are but twelue dayes since I came vp to worship in Hierusalem.

12 And they neither found mee in the Temple, disputing with any man, neither making vproare among the people, neither in the Synagogues, nor in the citie.

13 Neither can they proone the things, whereof they now accuse me.

14 But this I confesse vnto thee, that after the way (which they call heresie) so worship I the God of my fathers, beleeuing all things which are written in the Law and the Prophets,

15 And haue hope towardes God, that the resurrection of the dead, which they themselues looke for also, shalbe both of iust and vniust.

16 And herein I endeuor my selfe to haue alway a cleare conscience toward God & toward men.

17 Now after many yeres, I came & brought almes to my nation and offerings.

18 At what time, certaine Iewes of Asia found mee purified in the Temple, neither with multitude, nor with tumult.

19 Who ought to haue bene present before thee, and accuse me, if they had ought against me.

20 Or let these themselues say, if they haue found any vniust thing in mee, while I stoode in the Council, 21 Except it be for this one voyce, that I cried standing among them, Of the resurrection of the dead am I accused of you this day.

22 Now when Felix heard these things, hee deferred them, and said, When I shall more perfectly know the things which concerne this way, by the comming of Lysias the chiefe Captaine, I will decise your matter.

23 Then hee commaunded a Centurion to keepe Paul, and that he should haue ease, and that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister vnto him, or to come vnto him.

24 And after certaine dayes, came Felix with his wife Drusilla, which was a Ieweesse, and he called foorth Paul, and heard him of the faith in Christ.

25 And as he disputed of righteousnesse & temperance, & of the iudgement to come, Felix trembled, and answered, Go thy way for this time, and when I haue conuenient time, I will call for thee.

26 Hee hoped also that money should haue bene giuen him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore hee sent for him the oftner, and communed with him.

27 When two yeeres were expired, Porcius Festus came into Felix roume: and Felix willing to get fauour of the Iewes, left Paul bound.

In the prouince, had no regard for fauour of his brother Pallas, for it: so that we may gather hereby, why he would haue pleasured the Iewes

CHAP. XXV.

1 Festus succeeding Felix, 6 commaundeth Paul to be brought forth. 11 Paul appealeth vnto Cæsar. 14 Festus openeth Pauls matters to King Agrippa, 23 and bringeth him before him, 27 that he may vnderstand his cause.

NOw 1 Festus was then come into the prouince, after three dayes hee went vp from Cæsarea vnto Hierusalem.

2 Then the high Priest, and the chiefe of the Iewes appeared before him against Paul: and they besought him,

3 And desired fauour against him, that hee would send for him to Hierusalem: and they layd waite to kill him by the way.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Cæsarea, and that hee himselfe would shortly depart thither.

5 Let them therefore, sayde he, which among you are able, come downe with vs: and if there be any wickednesse in the man, let them accuse him.

6 ¶ 2 Nowe when he had taried among them no more then ten dayes, hee went downe to Cæsarea, and the next day sate in the iudgement seate, and commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when hee was come, the Iewes which were come fro Hierusalem, stoode about him and layd many and grieuous complaints against Paul, whereof they could make no plaine proofe,

8 Forasmuch as he answered, that he had neither offended any thing against the lawe of the Iewes, neither against temple, nor against Cæsar.

9 3 Yet Festus willing to get fauour of the Iewes, answered Paul & said, Wilt thou go vp to Hierusalem, & there be iudged of these things before me?

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cæsars iudgement seate, where I ought to be iudged: to the Iewes I haue done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 For if I haue done wrong, or committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof they accuse me, no man, to pleasure them, can deliuer me to them: I appeale vnto Cæsar.

12 Then when Festus had spoken with the Council, he answered, Hast thou appealed vnto Cæsar? vnto Cæsar shalt thou goe.

13 ¶ 4 And after certaine dayes, King Agrippa and Bernice came downe to Cæsarea to salute Festus.

14 And when they had remained there many dayes, Festus declared Pauls cause vnto the King, saying, There is a certaine man left in prison by Felix, 15 Of whom when I came to Hierusalem, the high Priestes and Elders of the Iewes informed me, and desired to haue iudgement against him.

16 To whome I answered, that it is not the maner of the Romanes for fauour to deliuer any man to death, before that he which is accused, haue the accusers before him, and haue place to defend himselfe, concerning the crime.

17 Therefore when they were come hither, without delay the day following I sate on the iudgement seate, and commaunded the man to be brought foorth.

18 Against whom when the accusers stood vp, they they brought no crime of such things as I supposed:

19 5 But had certaine questions against him of their owne d superstition, and of one Iesus which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be aliue.

20 And because I doubted of such maner of question, I asked him whether hee would goe to Hierusalem, and there be iudged of these things.

21 But because hee appealed to be reserued to the examination of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept, till I might send him to Cesar.

22 6 Then Agrippa said vnto Festus, I would also heare the man my selfe. To morow, said hee, thou shalt heare him.

23 And on the morow when Agrippa was come and Bernice with great e pompe, and were entred into the Common hall with the chiefe captaines and chiefe men of the citie, at Festus commandement Paul was brought forth.

24 And Festus said, King Agrippa, & all men which are present with vs, see see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Iewes haue called vpon me, both at Hierusalem, & here, crying, that he ought not to liue any longer.

25 Yet haue I found nothing worthy of death, that he hath committed: neuertheles, seeing that he hath appealed to Augustus, I haue determined to send him.

26 Of whom I haue no certaine thing to write vnto my f Lorde: wherefore I haue brought him foorth vnto you, and specially vnto thee, king Agrippa, that after examination had, I might haue somewhat to write.

27 For me thinketh it vnreasonable to send a prisoner, and not to shewe the causes which are layde against him.

CHAP. XXVII.

3 Paul in the presence of Agrippa, 4 declareth his life from his childehood, 16 and his calling, 22 with such efficacie of words, 28 that almost he perswadeth him to Christianitie: 30 But he and his company depart doing nothing to Pauls matter.

THen Agrippa said vnto Paul, Thou art permitted to speake for thy selfe. So Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for himselfe.

2 I thinke my selfe happy, King Agrippa, because I shal answere this day before thee of all the things whereof I am accused of the Iewes:

3 Chiefly, because thou hast knowledge of all customes, & questions which are among the Iewes: wherefore I beseech thee to heare me patiently.

4 As touching my life from my childehood, and what it was from the beginning among mine owne nation at Hierusalem, know all the Iewes,

5 Which knewe me heretofore, euen from my beginning, (if they would testifie) that after the most straite sect of our religion I liued a Pharise.

6 And nowe I stand and am accused for the hope of the promes made of God vnto our fathers,

7 Whereunto our twelue tribes instantly seruing God day and night, hope to come: for the which hopes sake, O King Agrippa, I am accused of the Iewes.

8 Why should it be thought a thing incredible vnto you, that God should raise againe the dead?

9 I also verely thought in my selfe, that I ought to doe many contrary things against the Name of Iesus of Nazareth.

10 Which thing I also did in Hierusalem: for many of the saints I shut vp in prison, hauing receiued authoritie of the hie Priestes, and when they were put to death, I gaue my sentence.

11 And I punished them throughout all the synagogues, & compelled them to blaspheme, and being more madde against them, I persecuted them, euen vnto strange cities.

12 At which time, euen as I went to Damascus with authoritie and commission from the hie Priestes, 13 At midday, O king, I saw in the way a light from heauen, passing the brightnes of the sunne, shine round about mee, and them which went with me.

14 So when wee were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voyce speaking vnto me, and saying in the Hebrewe tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is hard for thee to kicke against pricks.

15 Then I said, Who art thou, Lord? And hee sayd, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But rise & stand vp on thy feete: for I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpose, to appoint thee a minister and a witnesse, both of the things which thou hast seene, and of the things in the which I will appeare vnto thee,

17 Deliuering thee from this people, & from the Gentiles, vnto whome now I send thee, 18 5 To open their eyes, that they may turne from darknes to light, and from the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receiue forgiuenesse of sinnes, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith in me.

19 6 Wherefore, King Agrippa, I was not disobedient vnto the heauenly vision, 20 7 But shewed first vnto them of Damascus, and at Hierusalem, and throughout all the coasts of Iudea, & then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turne to God, and doe workes worthy amendement of life.

21 For this cause the Iewes caught me in the Temple, and went about to kill me.

22 7 Neuertheles, I obteined helpe of God, & continue vnto this day, witnessing both to small and to great, saying none other things, then those which 9 Prophets & Moses did say should come,

23 To wit, that Christ should 8 suffer, and that he should be the h first that should rise from the dead, and should shewe light vnto this people, and to the Gentiles.

24 8 And as he thus answered for himselfe, Festus said with a loude voyce, Paul, thou art besides thy selfe, much learning doeth make thee madde.

25 But he said, I am not madde, O noble Festus, but I speake the wordes of trueth and soberues.

26 For the King knoweth of these things, before whom also I speake boldly: for I am perswaded that none of these things are hidden from him: for this thing was not done in a k corner.

27 8 O King Agrippa, beleeuest thou the Prophets? I know that thou beleeuest.

28 Then Agrippa said vnto Paul, Almost thou perswadest me to become a Christian.

29 Then Paul sayd, I would to God that not onely thou, but also all that heare me to day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

30 10 And when he had thus spoken, the King rose

15 And when ſ ſhip was caught, & could not reſiſt ſ winde, we let her goe, & were caried away.

16 And we ran vnder a little Yle named Clauda, and had much a doe to get the boat.

17 Which they tooke vp & vſed all helpe, vndergirding the ſhip, fearing leaſt they ſhould haue fallen into Syrtes, and they ſtrake ſaile, & ſo were caried.

18 4 The next day when wee were toſſed with an exceeding tempeſt, they lightened the ſhippe.

19 And the thirde day wee caſt out with our owne hands the tackling of the ſhippe.

20 And when neither ſunne nor ſtarres in many dayes appeared, and no ſmall tempeſt lay vpon vs, all hope that we ſhould be ſaued, was then taken away.

21 5 But after long abſtinence, Paul ſtood forth in themids of them, and ſaid, Syrs, ye ſhould haue hearkened to me, and not haue looſed from Candie: ſo ſhould yee haue gained this hurt and loſſe.

22 And nowe I exhort you to be of good courage: for there ſhall be no loſſe of any mans life among you, ſaue of the ſhippe onely.

23 For there ſtood by me this night the Angel of God, whoſe I am, and whome I ſerue, 24 Saying, Feare not, Paul: for thou muſt be brought before Cæſar: and loe, God hath giuen vnto thee freely all that ſaile with thee.

25 6 Wherefore, ſirs, be of good courage: for I beleeue God, that it ſhall be ſo as it hath bene tolde me.

26 Howbeit, we muſt be caſt into a certaine Iland.

27 7 And when ſ fourteenth night was come, as we were caried to and fro in the e Adriatical ſea about midnight, the ſhipmen deemed that ſome countrey f approched vnto them, 28 And ſounded, & found it twentie fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they founded againe, and found fifteene fathoms.

29 Then fearing leaſt they ſhould haue fallen into ſome rough places, they caſt foure ancres out of the ſterne, and wiſhed that the day were come.

30 8 Nowe as the mariners were about to flee out of the ſhip, and had let downe the boat into the ſea vnder a colour as though they would haue caſt ankers out of the foreſhip, 31 9 Paul ſayde vnto the Centurion and the ſouldiers, Except theſe abide in the ſhippe, ye cannot be ſafe.

32 Then the ſouldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let it fall away.

33 10 And when it began to be day, Paul exhorted them all to take meate, ſaying, This is the fourteenth day that ye haue taried, and continued faſting, receiuing nothing.

34 Wherefore I exhort you to take meate: for this is for your ſafegarde: for there ſhall not an g haire fall from the head of any of you.

35 And when he had thus ſpoken, hee tooke bread & gaue thanks to God, in preſence of them all, and brake it, and began to eate.

36 Then were they all of good courage, and they alſo tooke meate.

37 Now we were in the ſhippe in all two hundreth, threeſcore and ſixteene ſoules.

38 And whē they had eaten ynough, they lightened the ſhip, & caſt out the wheat into the ſea.

39 11 And when it was day, they knew not the countrey, but they eſpied a certaine h creeke with a banke, into the which they were minded (if it were poſſible) to thruſt in the ſhippe.

40 So when they had taken vp the ankers, they committed the ſhip vnto the ſea, and looſed the rudder boords, and hoyſed vp the maine ſaile to the winde, and drew to the ſhore.

41 And when they fell into a place, where two ſeas meete, they thruſt in the ſhip: and the forepart ſtucke faſt, & could not be mooued, but ſ hinder part was broken with the violence of the waues.

42 12 Then

CHAP. XXVIII.

2 The Barbarians courteſie towardes Paul and his companie. 3 A viper on Pauls hand. 6 He ſhaketh it off without harme. 8 Publius 9 and others are by him healed. 11 They depart from Melita, 16 and come to Rome. 17 Paul preacheth to the Iewes 20 the cauſe of his comming: 22 He preacheth Jeſus 30 two yeeres.

AND when they were come ſafe, then they knew that the Iſle was called [a] Melita.

2 And the Barbarians ſhewed vs no litle kindneſſe, for they kindled a fire, and receiued vs euery one, becauſe of the preſent ſhowre, and becauſe of the colde.

3 [1] And when Paul had gathered a number of ſtickes, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heate, and leapt on his hand.

4 [2] Now when the Barbarians ſaw the worme hang on his hande, they ſaide among themſelues, This man ſurely is a murtherer, whom, though he hath eſcaped the ſea, yet [b] Vengeance hath not ſuffered to liue.

5 But hee ſhooke off the worme into the fire, and felt no harme.

6 Howbeit they waited when hee ſhould haue [c] ſwolne, or fallen downe dead ſuddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and ſawe no inconuenience come to him, they changed their mindes, and ſaid, That he was a God.

7 [4] In the ſame quarters, the chief man of the Iſle (whoſe name was Publius) had poſſeſſions: the ſame receiued vs, and lodged vs three dayes courteouſly.

8 And ſo it was, that the father of Publius lay ſicke of the feuer, and of a bloodie flixe: to whom Paul entred in, and when he prayed, hee laide his hands on him, and healed him.

9 [5] When this then was done, other alſo in the Iſle, which had diſeaſes, came to him, and were healed.

10 [6] Which alſo did vs great honour: and when we departed, they laded vs with things neceſſarie.

11 ¶ [7] Now after three moneths we departed in a ſhip of Alexandria, which had wintred in the Iſle, whoſe [d] badge was Caſtor and Pollux.

12 And when we arriued at Syracuſe, we tarried there three dayes.

13 And from thence wee fet a compaſſe, and came to Rhegium: and after one day, the South winde blewe, and wee came the ſecond day to Putioli:

14 [8] Where we found brethren, and were deſired to tary with them ſeuen dayes: and ſo wee went toward Rome.

15 ¶ [9] And from thence, when the brethren heard of vs, they came to meete vs at the [e] Market of Appius, & at the Three tauerns, whom whē Paul ſaw, he thanked God, and waxed bolde.

16 So when we came to Rome, the Centurion deliuered the priſoners to the generall Captaine: but Paul was ſuffered to dwell by [f] himſelfe with a ſouldier that kept him.

17 [10] And the third day after, Paul called the chiefe of the Iewes together: and when they were come, hee ſaide vnto them, Men and brethren, though I haue committed nothing againſt the people, or Lawes of the fathers, yet was I deliuered priſoner from Hieruſalem into the handes of the Romanes.

18 Who when they had examined me, would haue let me goe, becauſe there was no cauſe of death in me.

19 [11] But when the Iewes ſpake contrary, I was conſtrained to appeale vnto Ceſar, not becauſe I had ought to accuſe my nation of.

20 For this cauſe therefore haue I called for you, to ſee you, and to ſpeake with you: for that hope of Iſraels ſake, I am bound with this chaine.

21 Then they ſaide vnto him, We neither receiued letters out of Iudea concerning thee, neither came any of the brethren that ſhewed or ſpake any euill of thee.

22 But we will heare of thee what thou thinkeſt: for as concerning this ſect, we knowe that euery where it is ſpoken againſt.

23 [12] And when they had appointed him a day, there came many vnto him into his lodging: to whome hee expounded & teſtifying the kingdome of God, and perſwading them thoſe things that concerne Ieſus, both out of the Lawe of Moſes, and out of the Prophets, from morning to night.

24 [13] And ſome were perſwaded w the things which were ſpoken, and ſome beleeued not.

25 Therefore when they agreed not among themſelues, they departed, after that Paul had ſpoken one word, to wit, Well ſpake the holy Ghoſt by Eſaias the Prophet vnto our fathers, 26 [14] Saying, ✠ Go vnto this people, and ſay, By hearing ye ſhal heare, & ſhall not vnderſtand, and ſeeing ye ſhal ſee, and not perceiue.

27 For the heart of this people is waxed fatte, and their eares are dull of hearing, and with their eyes haue they [h] winked, leaſt they ſhoulde ſee with their eies, and heare with their eares, and vnderſtand with their hearts, and ſhould returne that I might heale them.

28 [15] Bee it knowen therefore vnto you, that this ſaluation of God is ſent to the Gentiles, and they ſhall heare it.

29 [16] And when he had ſaide theſe things, the Iewes departed, and had great reaſoning among themſelues.

30 [17] And Paul remayned two yeeres full in an houſe hired for himſelfe, and receiued all that came in vnto him, 31 Preaching the kingdome of God, and teaching thoſe things which concerne the Lord Ieſus Chriſt, with all boldneſſe of ſpeach, without let.

THE EPISTLE OF THE APOSTLE PAVL TO THE ROMANES.

CHAP. I.

1 He first sheweth on what authoritie his Apostleship standeth. 15 Then he commendeth the Gospel, 16 by which God setteth out his power to those that are saued 17 by faith, 21 but were guiltie of wicked vnthankfulnesse to God: 26 For which his wrath was worthily powred on them, 29 so that they name heapsong to all kinder of sinne.

1 The first part of the Epistle conteining a most profitable preface vnto verse 16.

2 He moueth the Romanes to giue diligent eare vnto him, in that hee sheweth that hee commeth not in his owne name, but as Gods messenger vnto the Gentiles, entreateth with them of the waightiest matter, that is, promised long since of God, by many fit witnesses, and now at the length performed in deede.

PAVL [a] a seruaunt of Iesus Christ called to bee an [b] Apostle, [c] put apart to preache the Gospel of God,

2 (Which he had promised afore by his Prophetes in the holy Scriptures)

3 Concerning his [d] Sonne Iesus Christ our Lord (which was [e] made of the seed of Dauid [f] according to the flesh,

4 And [g] declared [h] mightily to be the sonne of God, touching the Spirit of sanctification by the resurrection from the dead)

5 By whome we haue receiued [k] grace and Apostleship (that [l] obedience might be giuen vnto the faith) for his name [m] among al the Gentiles,

6 Among whom ye be also the [n] called of Iesus Christ:

7 To all you that bee at Rome beloued of God, called to be Saints: [o] Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christ.

8 First I thanke my God through Iesus Christ for you all, because your faith is [p] published throughout the [q] whole world.

9 For God is my witnesse (whome I serue in my [r] spirit in the [s] Gospel of his Sonne) that without ceasing I make mention of you

10 Alwayes in my prayers, beseeching that by some meanes, one time or other I might haue a prosperous iourney by the will of God, to come vnto you.

11 For I long to see you, that I might bestowe among you some spirituall gift, that you might be strengthened:

12 That is, that [t] I might be comforted together with you, through our mutuall faith, both yours and mine.

13 Now my brethren, I would that ye should not be ignorant, how that I haue oftentimes purposed to come vnto you (but haue bin let hitherto) that I might haue some fruite also among you, as I haue among the other Gentiles.

14 I am debter both to the Grecians, and to the Barbarians, both to the wise men and to the vnwise.

15 Therefore, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the Gospel to you also [y] are at [n] Rome.

16 For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ: for it is the [x] power of God vnto saluation to euery one that beleeueth, to the Iew first, and also to the [y] Grecian, 17 For by it the righteousnesse of God is reueiled from [z] faith to faith: as it is written, The iust shall liue by faith.

18 For the wrath of God is reueiled from heauen against [a] all vngodlinesse, and vnrighteousnesse of men, which withhold the [b] trueth in vnrighteousnesse.

19 Forasmuch as that, which may be known of God, is manifest in [c] them: for God hath shewed it vnto them.

20 For the inuisible things of him, that is, his eternall power & Godhead, are seene by [y] creation of the world, being [d] considered in his workes, to the intent that they should be without excuse:

21 Because that when they knewe God, they [e] glorified him not as God, neither were thankefull, but became [f] vaine in their thoughtes, and their foolish heart was full of darkenesse.

22 When they [g] professed themselues to bee wise, they became fooles, 23 For they turned the glorie of the [h] incorruptible God to the similitude of the image of a corruptible man, and of birdes, and foure footed beastes, and of creeping things.

24 [10] Wherefore [i] also God [k] gaue them vp to their hearts lusts, vnto vncleannes, to defile their owne bodies betweene themselues:

25 Which turned the trueth of God vnto a lie, and worshipped and serued the creature, forsaking the Creator, which is blessed for euer, Amen.

26 For this cause God gaue them vp vnto vile affections: for euen their women did change the naturall vse into that [u] which is against nature.

27 And likewise also the men left the naturall vse of the woman, and burned in their lust one toward another, and man with man wrought filthinesse, and receiued in themselues such [l] recompence of their errour, as was meete.

28 [11] For a Actes 13. 1. b Appointed of God to preache the Gospel.

3 By declaring the somme of the doctrine of the Gospel, hee stirreth vp the Romanes to good consideration of the matter whereof he entreateth: So then hee sheweth that Christ (who is the very substance and summe of the Gospel) is the onely Sonne of God the Father, who as touching his humanitie, is made of the seede of Dauid, but touching his diuine and spirituall nature, whereby he sanctified himself, is begotten of the Father from euerlasting, as by his mighty resurrection manifestly appeareth.

c Thus is a plaine testimonie of the person of Christ, that he is but one, and of his two natures, and their properties. d Which tooke flesh of the Virgin, Dauid his daughter. e As he is man: for this worde, Flesh, by the figure Synecdoche is taken for man. f Shewed and made manifest. g The diuine and mightie power is set against the weakenesse of the flesh, for that ouercame death. h Of whome. i This marueilous liberall and gracious gift, which is giuen me, the task of all the Saintes, to preach, &c. Ephes. 3 8. k That men through faith might obey God. l For his Names sake. m Which through Gods goodnesse, are Christes.

n Gods free good will: by peace, the Hebrewes meane a prosperous successe in all things. o He procureth their fauourable patience, in that he reckoneth vp their true commendation, and his true Apostolique good will towarde them, confirmed by taking God himselfe to witnesse. p Because your faith is such, that it is commended in all Churches. q In all churches. r Very willingly and with all my heart. s His preaching his Sonne. t Though Paul were neuer so excellent, yet by teaching the Church, he might be instructed by it.

u He meaneth all them that dwelt in Rome, though some of them were not Romanes, Looke the end of the epistle

5 The second part of the Epistle vnto the beginning of the 9 chap. Nowe the whole end and purpose of the disputation is this: that is to say, to shew that there is but one way to attaine vnto saluation (which is set foorth vnto vs of God in the Gospel, without any difference of nations) and that is Iesus Christ apprehended by faith.

x God his mighte and effectuall instrument to saue men by.

y When this word, Grecian, is set against this word, Iewe, then doth it signifie a Gentile.

6 The confirmation of the former proposition: we are taught in the Gospel, that we are iustified before God by faith which encreaseth daily: and therefore also saued.

z From faith which increaseth daily.

7 The proofe as well of the first as the second proposition, out of Habakuk, who attributeth and giueth vnto faith, both iustice and life before God.

8 An other confirmation of that principall question. All men being considered in themselues, or without Christ, are guiltie both of vngodlinesse and also vnrighteousnesse, and therefore are subiect a Against all kinds of vngodlines. b By trueth Paul meaneth all the light that is left in man since his fall, not as though they being led thereby were able to come into fauour with God, but that their owne reason might conuince them of wickednesse both against God and man. 9 Their vngodlines he proueth hereby, that although all men haue a most cleere and euident glasse wherein to beholde the euerlasting and almightie nature of God, euen in his creatures, yet haue they fallen away from those principles to most foolish and fond deuises of their owne braines, in constituting and appointing the seruice of God. c In their hearts. d Thou seest not God, and yet thou acknowledgest him as God by his workes, Cicero. e They did not honour him with that honour and seruice, which was meete for his euerlasting power and Godhead. f As if he said, became so mad of themselues. g Or, thought them selues. h For the true God they tooke another. 10 The vnrighteousnes of men he setteth forth first in this, that euen against nature following their lusts, they defiled themselues one with another, by the iust iudgement of God. i The contempt of religion is the fountaine of all mischiefe. k As a iust Iudge. l A meete reward for their desertes.

to condemnation: Therefore must they needes seeke righteousnes in some other.

28 11 For as they regarded not to acknowledge God, euen so God deliuered them vp vnto a m reprobate mind, to do those things which are not conuenient,

29 Being full of all vnrighteousnesse, fornication, wickednes, couetousnes, maliciousnes, full of enuie, of murther, of debate, of deceit, taking all things in the euill part, whisperers,

30 Backbiters, haters of God, doers of wrong, proud, boasters, inuenters of euill things, disobedient to parents, without vnderstanding, n couenant breakers, without naturall affection, such as can neuer be appeased, mercilesse.

31 Which men, though they knew the o Law of God, how that they which commit such things are worthie of death, yet not onely doe the same, but also p fauour them that do them.

m Vnmindfull of their couenants and Largaines. o By the Lawe of God hee meaneth that which the Philosophers call the Lawe of nature, and the Lawyers themselues termed the Dawe of Nations. p Are fellowes and partakers with them in their wickednes, and beseeche that commend them which do amisse.

CHAP. 11.

1 He bringeth all before the iudgement seate of God. 12 The excuse that the Gentiles might pretend 14 of ignorance, he taketh quite away. 17 He vrgeth the Iewes with the written Lawe, 23 in which they boasted: 27 And so maketh both Iewe and Gentile alike.

THerefore a thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoeuer thou art that condemnest: for in that thou condemnest another, thou condemnest thy selfe: for thou that condemnest, doest the same things.

2 But we a know that the iudgement of God is according to b truth, against them which commit such things.

3 And thinkest thou this, O thou man, that cõdemnest them which do such things, & doest the same, that thou shalt escape ỹ iudgement of God?

4 c Or despisest thou the riches of his bountifulnesse, and patience, and long sufferance, not knowing that the bountifulnesse of God leadeth thee to repentance?

5 But thou, after thine hardnesse, and heart that cannot repent, ✣ d heapest vp as a treasure vnto thy selfe wrath against the day of wrath, & of the declaration of the iust iudgement of God,

6 e ✣ Who wil reward euery man according to his workes:

7 That is, to them which through patience in wel doing, seeke d glorie, and honour, and immortalitie, euerlasting life:

8 But vnto them that are contentious and disobey the e trueth, and obey vnrighteousnes, shal be f indignation and wrath.

9 Tribulation and anguish shal be vpon the soule of euery man that doeth euill: of the Iewe first, and also of the Grecian.

10 But to euery man that doeth good, shal be glory, and honour, and peace: to the Iewe first, and also to the Grecian.

11 For there is g no respect of persons w God.

12 4 For as many as haue sinned without ỹ law, shal perish also without ỹ law: & as many as haue sinned in the Lawe, shall be iudged by the Lawe, 13 5 (For the hearers of the Law are not righteous before God: but the doers of the law shal be h iustified.

14 6 For when the Gentiles which haue i not the Law, do by k nature, the things contained in the Lawe, they hauing not the Lawe, are a Lawe vnto themselues, 15 Which shew ỹ effect of the Law l written in their harts, their conscience also bearing witnes, & their thoghts accusing one another, or excusing)

16 7 At the day when God shall iudge the secrets of men by Iesus Christ, according to m my Gospel.

17 ¶ 8 Beholde, thou art called a Iewe, and restest in the Law, and gloriest in God,

18 And knowest his will, and ¶ triest the things that differ, being instructed by the Law:

19 And perswadest thy selfe that thou art a guide of the blinde, a light of them which are in darkenesse, 20 An instructer of them which lacke discretion, a teacher of the vnlearned, which hast the o form of knowledge, & of the truth in the Law.

21 Thou therefore, which teachest another, teachest thou not thy selfe? thou that preachest, A man should not steale, doest thou steale?

22 Thou that saiest, A man should not commit adulterie, doest thou commit adulterie? thou that abhorrest idoles, committest thou sacrileges?

23 Thou that gloriest in the Lawe, through breaking the Lawe, dishonourest thou God?

24 For the Name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles through you, ✣ as it is written.

25 9 For circũcision verely is profitable, if thou do the Lawe: but if thou be a transgressor of the Lawe, thy circumcision is made vncircumcision.

26 Therefore if the q vncircumcision keepe the ordinances of the Lawe, shall not his r vncircumcision be counted for circumcision?

27 And shall not ſ vncircumcision which is by nature (if it keepe the Lawe) condemne thee which by the t letter and circumcision art a transgressour of the Lawe?

28 For he is not a Iewe, which is one u out-

1 He proueth the vnrighteousnes of man by a large rehearsall of many kindes of wickednes, from which (if not from all, yet at the least from many of them) no man is altogether free. m Into a mad and froward minde, whereby it commeth to passe, that the conscience being once put out, and hauing almost no more remorse of sinne, man is prone headlong into all kind of mischiefe.

ward: neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh:

29 But he is a Iew which is one within, & the circumcision u of the heart, in the x spirite, not in the letter, whose praise is not of men, but of God.

CHAP. III.

1 He giueth the Iewes some 2 preferment, for the couenants sake, 4 but yet such, as wholy dependeth on Gods mercie. 9 That both Iewes and Gentiles are sinners, 11 he prooueth by Scripture: 19 and shewing the vse of the Lawe, 28 he concludeth that we are iustified by faith.

WHat a is then the preferment of the Iewe? or what is the profite of circumcision?

2 Much euery maner of way: for a chiefly, because vnto them were of credite committed the b oracles of God.

3 For what, though some did not c beleeue? shall their vnbeleefe make the d faith of God without effect?

4 God forbid: yea, let God be true, and euery man a lyar, as it is written, That thou mightest be e iustified in thy wordes, and ouercome, f when thou art iudged.

5 2 Now if our g vnrighteousnes commend y righteousnes of god, what shal we say? Is god vnrighteous which punisheth? (I speake as h a man.)

6 God forbid: els how shal god iudge y world?)

7 3 For if the i veritie of God hath more abounded through my lie vnto his glorie, why am I yet condemned as a sinner?

8 And (as wee are blamed, and as some affirme, that we say) why do we not euill, that good may come thereof? whose damnation is iust.

9 4 What then? are we more excellent? No, in no wise: for we haue already prooued, that all, both Iewes and Gentiles are k vnder sinne, 10 As it is written, ✠ There is none righteous, no not one.

11 There is none that vnderstandeth: there is none that seeketh God.

12 They haue all gone out of the way: they haue bene made altogether vnprofitable: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

13 ✠ Their throate is an open sepulchre: they haue vsed their tongues to deceit: the poyson of aspes is vnder their lippes.

14 ✠ Whose mouth is ful of cursing & bitternes.

15 ✠ Their feete are swift to shead blood.

16 Destruction & calamity are in their waies.

17 And y way of peace they haue not known.

18 ✠ The feare of God is not before their eyes.

19 5 Now we know that whatsoeuer the l law saith, it saith it to them which are vnder the law, that c euery mouth may be stopped, and all the world be n subiect to the iudgement of God.

20 Therefore by the o works of the Law shal no p flesh be q iustified in his r sight: for by the Lawe commeth the knowledge of sinne.

21 7 But nowe is the righteousnesse of God made manifest without the Lawe, hauing witnes of the Law, and of the Prophets, 22 8 To wit, the righteousnes of God by the faith of s Iesus Christ, vnto all, and vpon all that beleeue.

23 For there is no difference: for all haue sinned, and are deptiued of the t glorie of God,

24 9 And are iustified u freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Iesus,

25 10 Whom God hath set foorth to be a reconciliation through faith in his x blood to declare his righteousnes, by the forgiuenesse of the sinnes that y are passed, 26 through the z patience of God, to shewe at a this time his righteousnes, that he might be b iust, and a c iustifier of him which is of the d faith of Iesus.

27 11 Where is then the reioycing? It is excluded. By what e Lawe? of workes? Nay: but by the Lawe of faith.

28 Therefore we conclude, that a man is iustified by faith, without the workes of the Lawe.

29 12 God, is he the God of the f Iewes only, and not of the Gentiles also? Yes, euen of the Gentiles also.

30 For it is one God, who shal iustifie g circumcision of faith, and vncircumcision through faith.

31 13 Do we then make the Lawe of h none effect through faith? God forbid: yea, we i establish the Lawe.

1, The first meaning with, or preuenting an obiection of the Iews: what the, haue the Iewes no more preferment then the Gentiles? ea, that haue they, saieth the Apostle, as Gods be halfe: for he committed the tables of the couenant to them, so that the vnbeliefe of a few, can not cause y whole nation without exception to be cast away of God, who is true, & who also vseth their vnworthinesse to commend and set forth his goodnes.

a The Iewes state and condition was obiected.

b Wordes.

c Brake the couenant.

d The faith that God gaue.

e That thy iustice might be plainly seene.

f For as much as thou shewedst forth an exident token of thy righteousnesse, constancie & faith, by preserning him who had broken his couenant.

2 An other preuention, issuing out of the former answere: that the iustice of God is in such sort commended & set forth by our vnrighteousnes, that therefore God forgetteth not that hee is the iudge of y world, x Whose force is inward, and in the heart.

g Treacherie, and all the fruits thereof. h Therefore I speake not these wordes in mine owne person, as though I thought so, but thou in the talke of mans wisedome, which is not subiect to the will of God. 3 A third obiection, which addeth somewhat to the former, If sinnes do turne to the glorie of God, they are not only not to be punished, but we ought rather to gine our selues to them: which blasphemie Paul contending himselfe to curse and detest, pronounceth iust punishment against such blasphemers. i The truth and constancie. 4 An other answere to the first obiection that the Iewes, if they be considered in themselues, are no better then other men are: as it hath bene long since pronounced by the mouth of the Prophets. k Are guiltie of sinne. ✠ Psal 14.1.3. and 53.1.3. ✠ Psal 5.10. ✠ Psal.140.3. ✠ Psal.10.7. ✠ Esai 59.7. l Auntocrat and peaceable life. ✠ Psa.36 1. 5 He proueth that this grieuous accusation, which is vttered by Dauid and Esaias, doth properly concerne the Iewes. m The Law of Moses. 6 A conclusion of al the former disputation, from the 28 verse of the first Chapter. Therefore saith the Apostle, No man can hope to be iustified by any Law, whether it be that generall Law, or the particular Law of Moses, and therefore to be saued: seeing it appeareth (as wee haue already proued) by comparing the Law and mans life together, that all men are sinners, and therefore worthie of condemnation in the sight of God.

u Be found guilty before God.

o By that, that the Law can by vs be performed.

p Flesh is here taken for man, as in many other places, and further more hath here a great force: for it is put to shew the contrarietie betwixt God and man: as if one would say, Man who is nothing else but a piece of flesh defiled with sinne, and God who is most pure & most perfite in himselfe.

q Absolued before the iudgement seate of God.

r A secrete setting of the righteousnesse which is before men, be they neuer so iust, against the iustice which can stand before God: now there is no righteousnesse can stand before God, but the righteousnesse of Christ onely.

7 Therefore saith the Apostle, Least that men shoulde perish, God doeth now exhibite that, which hee promised of olde, that is to say, a way whereby wee may bee iustified and saued before him: without the Lawe.

8 The matter, as it were, of this righteousnesse is Christ Iesus apprehended by faith, and for this end offered to all people, as without him all people are shutte out from the kingdome of God. f Which wee giue to Iesus Christ, or which resteth vpon him. t By the glorie of God, is meant that marke which we all shoote at, that is, euerlasting life, which standeth in that wee are made partakers of the glorie of God. 9 Therefore this righteousnesse touching vs, is altogether freely giuen, for it standeth vpon those thinges which wee haue not done our selues, but such as Christ hath suffered for our sakes, to deliuer vs from sinne. u Of his free gift, and meere liberalitie. 10 God then is the author of that free iustification, because it pleased him: and Christ is hee, which suffered punishment for our sinnes, and in whome wee haue remission of them: and the meane whereby wee apprehend Christ, is faith. To bee short, the ende is the setting foorth of the goodnesse of God, that by this meanes it may appeare, that hee is mercifull in deede, and constant in his promises, as hee that freely, and of meere grace, iustifieth the beleeuers. x The name of blood, calleth vs backe to the figure of the olde sacrifices, the truth and substance of which sacrifices is in Christ. y Of those sinnes which wee committed when wee were his enemies. z Through his patience, and sufferring nature. a To witte, when Paul wrote this. b That hee might be found exceeding true and faithfull. c Making him iust and without blame, by imputing Christes righteousnesse vnto him. d Of the number of them which by faith layholde vpon Christ: contrarie to whome are they, which looke to be saued by circumcision, that is by the Law. 11 An argument to proue this conclusion, that wee are iustified by faith without workes, taken from the ende of iustification. The ende of iustification is the glorie of God alone: therefore wee are iustified by faith without workes: for if we were iustified either by our owne works onely, or partly by faith, and partly by workes, the glory of this iustification should not be wholy giuen to God. e By what doctrine? nowe the doctrine of workes hath this condition ioyned with it, if thou doest it and the doctrine of faith, hath this condition, if thou beleeuest. 12 An other argument of an absurditie: if iustification depended vpon the Lawe of Moses, then should God be a Sauiour to the Iewes onely. Againe: if hee should saue the Iewes after one sort, and the Gentiles after another, hee should not be one and like himselfe. Therefore he will iustifie both of them after one selfe same maner, that is to say, by faith. Moreouer, this argument must be ioyned to that which followeth next, that his conclusion may be firme and euident. f God is saide to be their God, after the manner of the Scripture, whome hee loueth and tendereth. g The circumcised. 13 The taking away of an obiection: yet is not the Law taken away therefore, but is rather established, as it shall be declared in his proper place. h Vaine, voide, to no purpose, and of no force. i Wee make it effectuall and strong.

CHAP. IIII.

1 He proueth that which hee saide before of faith, by the example of Abraham, 3. 6 and the testimonie of the Scripture: and tenne times in the Chapter he beateth vpon this word, imputation.

1 A newe argument of great waight, taken from the example of Abraham the father of all beleeuers: And this is the proposition: If Abraham be considered in himselfe by his workes, he hath deserued nothing wherein to reioyce with God.

a By workes as appeareth in the next verse.

2 A preuenting of an obiection: Abraham may well reioyce, and extoll himselfe amongst men, but not with God.

3 A confirmation of the propositiō: Abraham was iustified by imputation of faith, therefore freely without any respect of his workes.

4 The first proofe of the confirmation, taken of contraries: to him that deserueth any thing by his labour, the wages is not counted by fauour, but by dette: but to him that hath done nothing, but beleeueth in him which promiseth freely, faith is imputed.

b To him that hath deserued any thing by his worke.

c Is not reckoned nor giuen him.

d That maketh him which is wicked in himselfe, iust in Christ.

5 Another proofe of the same confirmation: Dauid putteth blessednes in free pardon of sinnes, therefore iustification also. 6 A new proposition: that this maner of iustification belongeth both to the vncircumcised, and also to the circumcised: as is declared in the person of Abraham.

e This saying of Dauid, wherein he pronounceth them blessed.

7 Hee proueth that it belongeth to the vncircumcised (for there was no doubt of the circumcised in this sort) Abraham was iustified in vncircumcision, therefore this iustification belongeth also to the vncircumcised. Nay it doth not apperteine to the circumcised in respect of the circumcision, much lesse are the vncircumcised shut out for their vncircumcision.

8 A preuenting of an obiection: Why then was Abraham circumcised if he were already iustified? That the gift of righteousnesse (saith he) might bee confirmed in him.

f Circumcision, which is a signe: as we say the Sacrament of Baptisme, for Baptisme which is a Sacrament.

g Circumcision was called before a signe, in respect of the outward ceremonie: now Paul sheweth the force and substance of that signe, that is, what end it is vsed, to wit, not only to signifie, but also to seale vp the righteousnes of faith, whereby we come to possesse Christ himselfe: for the holy Ghost worketh that inwardly in deede, which the Sacraments being ioyned with the worde, doe represent.

9 An applying of the example of Abraham to the vncircumcised beleeuers, whose father also he maketh Abrahā. 10 An applying of the same example, to the circumcised beleeuers, whose father Abraham is, but yet by faith. 11 A reason why the seede of Abraham is to be esteemed by faith: because y Abraham himself through faith was made partaker of that promes, whereby he was made the father of al nations.

h That all the nations of the worlde should be his children: or by the worlde may be vnderstood the land of Canaan.

i For works that he had done, or vpon this condition, that he should fulfill the Lawe. 12 A double confirmation of that reason: the one is, that the promise cannot be apprehended by the Law, and therefore it should be frustrate: the other, that the condition of faith should bee ioyned in vaine to that promise which should bee apprehended by workes.

k If they bee heires which haue fulfilled the Lawe. heires, faith is made void, and the promise is made of none effect.

15 13 For the Lawe causeth wrath: for where no Lawe is, there is no transgression.

16 14 Therefore it is by faith, that it might come by grace, and the promise might be sure to all the seede, 15 not to that onely which is of the Law: but also to that which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of vs all,

17 (As it is written, I haue made thee a father of many nations) euen before m God whome he beleeued, who n quickeneth y dead, & o calleth those things which be not, as though they were.

18 17 Which Abraham aboue hope, beleeued vnder hope, that he should be the father of many nations: according to that which was spoken to him, So shall thy seede be.

19 And he p not weake in the faith, considered not his owne body, which was nowe q dead, being almost an hundreth yeere olde, neither the deadnes of Saraes wombe.

20 Neither did hee doubt of the promise of God through vnbeliefe, but was strengthened in the faith, and gaue r glory to God, 21 Being s fully assured that he which had promised, was also able to doe it.

22 And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousnes.

23 18 Nowe it is not written for him onely, that it was imputed to him for righteousnes,

24 But also for vs, to whom it shalbe imputed for righteousnesse, which beleeue in him that raysed vp Iesus our Lord from the dead, 25 Who was deliuered to death for our t sinnes, and is risen againe for our iustification.

13 A reason of the first confirmation, why the promise cannot be apprehended by the Lawe, because that the Law doth not reconcile God and vs, but rather denounceth his anger against vs, 14 for so much as no man can obserue it.

14 The conclusion of this argument: The salnation and iustification of all the posteritie of Abraham (that is, of the Church which is gathered together of all people) proceedeth of faith which layeth hold on the promise made vnto Abraham, and which promise Abraham himselfe first of all laide holde on.

15 That is to say, not onely of them which beleeue and are also circumcised according to the Law, but of them also which without circumcision, and in respect of faith onely, are counted amongst the children of Abraham.

16 This fatherhood is spirituall; depending onely vpon the vertue of God, who made the promise.

m Before God, that is by a spirituall iudged, which hath place before God, and maketh vs acceptable to God.

n Who restoreth to life.

o With whom those things are already, which as yet are not in deede, as he that can with a word make what he will of nothing. 17 A description of true faith wholly resting in the power of God, and his good wil, set foorth in the example of Abraham.

p Very strong and constant.

q Voide of strength, and vnmeete to get children.

r Acknowledged and praised God, as most gracious and true.

s A description of true faith. 18 The rule of iustification is alwaies one, both in Abraham, and in all the faithfull: that is to say, faith in God, who after that there was made a full satisfaction for our sinnes in Christ our mediatour, raised him frō the dead, that we also being iustified, might be saued in him.

t To pay the ransome for our sinnes.

CHAP. V.

1 He amplifieth 2 Christes righteousnesse, which is laide holde on by faith, 5 who was giuen for the weake, 8 and sinful. 14 He compareth Christ with Adam, 17 Death with life, 20 and the Law with Grace.

1 An other argument taken of the effects: we are iustified with that, which truely appeaseth our conscience before God: but faith in Christ doeth appease our conscience and not

THen being 1 iustified by faith, we haue peace toward God through our Lord Iesus Christ.

2 ✣ 2 By whō also through faith, we haue a had this accesse into this grace, b wherein we c stand, 3 and d reioyce vnder y hope of the glory of God.

3 4 Neither that onely, but also we ✣ reioyce in tribulations, 5 knowing that tribulation bringeth the Law, as it was before saide, therfore by faith we are iustified and not by the Law. ✣ Ephe. 2. 18. 2 Whereas quietnes of conscience is attributed to faith, it is to be referred to Christ, who is the giuer of faith it self, & in whom faith is also is effectuall.

a We must here beware, that we haue yet still this same effect of faith.

b By which grace, that is, by which gracious loue and good will, or that place where vnto we are graciously taken.

c We stand fastest. 3 A preuenting of an obiection against them, which beholding the daily miseries & calamities of the Church, thinke that the Christians dreame, when they boast of their felicitie: to whom the Apostle answereth, that their felicity is laid vp in other hope in another place: which hope is so certaine and sure, that they do not lesse reioyce for the same, then if they did presently enioy it.

d Our minds are not only quiet & settled, but also very marueilously glad, and conceiue great ioy for that we assure our selues we shall haue which we hope for vs. 4 Tribulation it self is ioyful vnto vs, and worketh matter & occasion to reioyce, much lesse doeth it make vs miserable. ✣ Tentat. 5 Affliction accustometh vs to patience, and patience affirmeth vs of the goodnes of God, & this experience confirmeth and fostereth our hope, which shame doeth not vs.

geth forth patience,

4 And patience experience, and experience hope,

5 6 And hope maketh not ashamed, because the e loue of God is shed abroade in our heartes by the holy Ghost, which is giuen vnto vs.

6 7 For Christ, when wee were yet of no strength, at his f time died for the ✣ vngodly.

7 8 Doubtles one wil scarce die g for a righteous man: but yet for a good man it may bee that one dare die.

8 But God h setteth out his loue towards vs, seeing that while we were yet i sinners, Christ died for vs.

9 Much more then, being now iustified by his blood, we shalbe saued frō k wrath through him.

10 For if when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Sonne, much more being reconciled, we shalbe saued by his life.

11 9 And not onely so, but wee also reioyce in God through our Lord Iesus Christ, by whom we haue now receiued the attonement.

12 10 Wherefore, as by l one man m sinne entred into the world, & death by sinne, & so death went ouer all men: n in whō all men haue sinned,

13 11 For vnto the o time of the Law was sinne in the worlde, but sinne is not p imputed, while there is no lawe.

14 12 But death reigned from Adam to Moses, euen ouer q them also that sinned not after the like r maner of the transgression of Adā, 13 which was the figure of him that was to come.

15 14 But yet the gift is not so, as is ſ offence: for if through the offence of t that one, many bee dead, much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man Iesus Christ, hath abounded vnto many.

16 15 Neither is the gift so, as that which entred in by one that sinned: for the faule came of one offence vnto condemnation: but the gift is of many offences to u iustification.

17 16 For if by the offence of one, death reigned through one, much more shall they which receiue that abundance of grace, and of that gift of that righteousnesse, x reigne in life through one, that is, Iesus Christ,

18 17 Likewise then as by the offence of one, the fault came on all men to condemnation, so by the iustifying of one, the benefit abounded toward all men to the y iustification of life.

19 18 For as by one mans z disobedience a many were made sinners, so by that obedience of that one shal many also be made righteous.

20 19 Moreouer the Lawe b entred thereupon that the offence shoulde abound: neuertheleſſe, where sinne abounded, there grace c abounded much more:

21 That as sinne had reigned vnto death, so might grace also reigne by righteousnesse vnto eternall life through Iesus Christ our Lord.

a The ground of hope is an assured testimonie of the conscience, by the gift of the holy Ghost, that we are beloued of God, and this is nothing els but that which we call faith, wherof it followeth, that through faith our consciences are quieted.
b Where with he loueth vs.
1. Pet. 3. 18.
c An amplifying of the loue of God toward vs, so that we cannot doubt of it, who delineed Christ to death for the vniust, and for them of whom he could receiue no commoditie, and (that more is) for his very enemies.
d Howe can it be then that Christ being nowe aliue, shoulde not saue them from destruction, whom by his death he iustifieth and reconcileth?
e In the head of some iust man.
f He setteth out his loue vnto vs, that in the middest of our afflictions, wee may knowe assuredly, hee will bee present with vs.
g While sinne reigned in vs.
h From affliction, and destruction.
i Hee nowe passeth ouer to the other part of Iustification, which consisteth in the free imputation of the obedience of Christ: so that to the remission of sinnes, there is added moreouer and besides, the gift of Christes righteousnesse imputed or put vpon vs by faith, which swalloweth vp that vnrighteousnesse which flowed from Adam into vs, and all the fruites thereof: so that in Christ we doe not onely cease to be vniust, but we begin also to be iust.
k From Adam in whom all haue sinned, both guiltinesse and death (which is the punishment of the guiltinesse) came vpon all.
l By Adam, who is compared with Christ, like to him in this, that both of them make those which are theirs, partakers of that they haue: but they are vnlike in this, that Adam deriueth sinne into them that are his, euen of nature, and that to death: but Christ maketh them that are his, partakers of his righteousnesse by grace, and that vnto life.
m By sinne, is meant that disease which is ours by inheritance, and men commonly call it originall sinne: for so he vseth to call that sinne in the singular number, whereas if he speak of the fruits of it, he vseth the plurall number calling them sinnes.
n That is, in Adam.
11 That this is so, that both guiltinesse and death beganne not after the giuing and transgressing of Moses Lawe, it appeareth manifestly by that, that men died before that Law was giuen: for in that they died, sinne, which is the cause of death, was then and in such sort, that it was also imputed: whereupon it followeth that there was then some Lawe, the breach whereof was the cause of death.
o Euen from Adam to Moses.
p Where there is no Lawe made, no man is punished as faultie and guiltie.
12 But that this Lawe was not that vniuersall Lawe, and that death did not proceede from any actuall sinne of euery one particularly, it appeareth hereby, that the very infants which neither could euer know nor transgresse that naturall Lawe, are not withstanding dead as well as Adam.
q Ouer infants.
r Not after that sort as they sinne that are of mo yeeres, following there in but yet the whole posteritie sinned, corrupted in Adam, when in he wilfully and wilfingly sinned.
13 Now that first Adam answereth the latter, who is Christ, as it is afterward declared.
14 Adam & Christ are compared together in this respect, that both of them doe giue and yeeld to theirs, that which is their owne: but herein first they differ, that Adam by nature hath spred his fault to the destruction of many, but Christs obedience hath by grace ouerflowed many.
s That is, Adam.
15 An other inequalitie consisteth in this, that by Adams one offence men are made guiltie, but the righteousnes of Christ imputed vnto vs freely, doeth not onely absolue vs from that one fault, but from all other.
t To the sentence of absolutiō, whereby we are quit and pronounced righteous.
16 The third difference is, that the righteousnesse of Christ, being imputed vnto vs by grace, is of greater power to bring life, then the offence of Adam is to addict his posteritie to death.
u Be partakers of true and euerlasting life.
17 Therefore to be short, as by one mans offence, the guiltines came on all men to make them subiect to death: so on the contrary side, the righteousnesse of Christ, which by Gods mercie is imputed to all beleeuers, iustifieth them, that they may become partakers of euerlasting life.
x Not onely because our sinnes are forgiuen vs, but also because the righteousnesse of Christ is imputed to vs.
18 The ground of this whole comparison is this, that these two men are set as two stockes or rootes, so that out of the one, sinne by nature, out of the other, righteousnes by grace doeth spring forth vpon others.
y So then, sinne entred not into vs onely by following the steppes of our forefather, but we take corruption of him by inheritance.
z This word, Many, is set against this word, a fewe.
19 A preuenting of an obiection: why then did the Law of Moses enter thereupon? that men might be so much the more guiltie, and the benefite of God in Christ Iesus be so much the more glorious.
a Beside that disease which all men were infected withall by being defiled with one mans sinne, the Law entred.
b Grace was powred so plentifully from heauen, that it did not onely counteruaile sinne, but aboue measure passed it.

CHAP. VI.

1 Hee commeth to sanctification, without which, that no man putteth on Christs righteousnesse, he proueth 4 by an argumēt taken of Baptisme, 12 and thereupon exhorteth to holinesse of life, 16 briefly making mention of the Law transgressed.

1 WHat shall we say then? Shal wee continue stil in a sinne, that grace may abound? God forbid.

2 2 How shall wee, that are b dead to sinne, liue yet therein?

3 3 Know ye not, that ✣ all wee which haue bene baptized into c Iesus Christ, haue bene baptized into his death?

a In that corruption is for though the guiltinesse of sinne be not imputed to vs, yet the corruption remaineth stil in vs: the which, sanctification that followeth Iustification, killeth by litle and litle.
2 The benefite of Iustification and Sanctification, are alwayes ioyned together of them proceede from Christ by the grace of God: Nowe, abolishing of sinne, that is, of our natural corruption, into who se place succeedeth the cleannesse and pureness of nature reformed.
b They are saide of Paul to be dead to sinne, which are in such sort made partakers of the vertue of Christ, that that naturall corruption is dead in them, that is, the force of it is put out, and it bringeth not forth his bitter fruites: And on the other side, they are saide to liue to sinne, which are in the flesh, that is, whome the spirite of God hath not deliuered from the slauerie of the corruption of nature.
3 There are three partes of this Sanctification, to wit, the death of the old man or sinne, his buriall, & the resurrection of the newe man, descending into vs from the vertue of the death, buriall, & resurrection of Christ, of which benefite our baptisme is the signe and pledge.

4 The death of sinne and the life of righteousnes, or our ingrafting into Christ and growing vp into one with him, cannot be separated by any meanes, neither in death nor life: whereby it followeth, that no man is sanctified, which liueth stil to sinne, and therefore is no man made partaker of Christ by faith, which repenteth not & turneth not from his wickednesse: for as he said before, the Law is not subuerted but established by faith.

f similitude of his death, euen so shall we g be to the similitude of his resurrection,

6 Knowing this, that our h old man is crucified with i him, that the body k of sin might be destroied, that henceforth we should not l serue sin.

7 5 For he that is dead, is freed from sinne.

8 Wherefore, if we be dead with Christ, wee beleeue that we shall liue also with him, 9 Knowing that Christ being raised from the dead, dieth no more: death hath no more dominion ouer him.

10 For in that he died, he died m once to sinne: but in that he liueth, he liueth to n God.

11 Likewise think ye also, that ye are dead to sin, but are aliue to God in Iesus Christ our lord.

12 6 Let not sinne o reigne therefore in your mortal body, ‡ ye should obey it in ‡ lusts therof:

13 Neither p giue ye your q members, as r weapons of vnrighteousnes vnto sinne: but giue your selues vnto God, as they that are aliue from the dead, and giue your members as weapons of righteousnesse vnto God.

14 7 For sinne shall not haue dominion ouer you: for ye are not vnder ‡ Law, but vnder grace.

15 8 What then? shal we sinne, because we are not vnder the Law, but vnder grace? God forbid.

16 ✣ Know ye not, that to whomsoeuer yee giue your selues as seruants to obey, his seruantes ye are to whom ye obey, whether it be of sinne vnto death, or of obedience vnto righteousnes?

17 9 But God be thanked, that ye haue beene the seruants of sin, but yee haue obeyed from the heart vnto the ſ forme of the doctrine, whereunto ye were deliuered.

18 Being then made free from sinne, yee are made the seruants of righteousnesse.

19 I speake after the maner of man, because of the infirmitie of your flesh: for as ye haue giuen your members seruants to vncleannes and to iniquity, to commit iniquity, so now giue your members seruants vnto righteousnesse in holinesse.

20 For when ye were the seruants of sinne, ye were t freed from righteousnesse.

21 10 What fruit had ye then in those things, whereof ye are now ashamed? For the u ende of those things is death.

22 But now being freed from sinne, & made seruants vnto God, ye haue your fruit in holines, and the end, euerlasting life.

23 11 For the wages of sinne is death: but the gift of God is eternall life, through Iesus Christ our Lord.

g In so much as by meanes of the strength which cometh from him to vs, wee so die to sinne as he is dead.

h For we become euery day more peruerse then others: for we shall neuer be perfectly sanctified, as long as we liue here.

i All our whole nature, as we are conceiued & borne into this world with sinne, which is called old, partly by couparing that old Adam with Christ, & partly also in respect of ‡ deformation of our corrupt nature, which wee change with a new.

k Our corrupt nature is attributed to Christ, not in deede, but by imputation.

p To sinne, as to a Lord or tyrant.

q Your mind & all the powers of it.

r As instruments to commit wickednes withall. 7 Hee graunteth that sinne is not yet so dead in vs that it is vtterly extinct: but he promiseth victory to them that contend manfully, because we haue the grace of God giuen vs which worketh so, that the law is not now in vs the power and instrument of sinne. 8 To be vnder the law and vnder sinne, signifie al one, in respect of them which are not sanctified, as on the contrary side, to be vnder grace and righteousnes, agree to them that are regenerate. Now these are contraries, so that one cannot agree with the other: Therfore let righteousnes expel sin. ✣ Ioh.8.34. 2.pet.2.19. 9 By nature we are slaues to sin, & free from righteousnes, but by the grace of God we are made seruāts to righteousnes, & therefore free from sinne.

ſ This kind of speach hath a grace in it: for he meaneth thereby that the doctrine of the Gospel is like vnto a certaine mould which we are cast into, to be framed & fashioned like vnto it.

t Righteousnes had no rule ouer you.

u An exhortation to the studie of righteousnes and hatred of sinne, the contrary endes of both, being set downe before vs.

n. The reward or paiment. 11 Death is the punishment due to sinne, but we are sanctified freely, vnto life euerlasting.

CHAP. VII.

1 He declareth what it is, to be no more vnder the Law, 2 by an example taken of the Law of marriage: 7. 12 And lest the Law should seeme faultie, 14 hee prooueth, that our sinne is the cause, 15 that the same is an occasion of death, 17 which was giuen vs, vnto life: 21 He setteth out the battell betweene the flesh and the spirit.

KNow ye not, brethren, (for I speake to them that know the Law) that the Law hath dominion ouer a man as long as he liueth?

2 ✣ For the woman which is in subiection to a man, is bound by the Law to the man, while he liueth: but if the man be dead, she is deliuered from the law of the man.

3 So then, if while the man liueth, she taketh another man, she shalbe a called an ✣ adulteresse: but if the man be dead, she is free from the Law, so that she is not an adulteresse, though she take another man.

4 2 So ye, my brethren, are dead also to the law by ‡ b body of Christ, ‡ ye should be vnto an other, euen vnto him that is raised vp frō ‡ dead, that we should bring forth c fruit vnto d God.

5 3 For when we were in the flesh, the e affections of sins, which were by the g law, had h force in our members, to bring forth fruit vnto death.

6 But now we are deliuered from the Lawe, he i being dead k in whom we were l holden, that we should serue in m newnesse of the Spirite, and not in the oldenesse of the n letter.

7 4 What shall wee say then? Is the Lawe sinne? God forbid. Nay, I knewnot sinne, but by the Law: for I had not knowen o lust, except the Law had said, ∴ Thou shalt not lust.

8 But sinne tooke an occasion by the commandement, & wrought in me all maner of concupiscence: for without the Law sinne is p dead.

9 5 For I once was aliue, without ‡ q law: but when the commandement r came, sinne reuiued, 10 But I ſ died: and the same commandement which was ordained vnto life, was founde to be vnto me vnto death.

11 For sinne tooke occasion by the commandement, and deceiued me, and thereby slewe me.

12 6 Wherefore the Lawe is ✣ holy, and that t commandement is holy, and iust, and good.

a By propounding the similitude of marriage, he compareth the state of sin both before & after regeneration together. The lawe of matrimonie, saith he, is this, ‡ so long as ‡ husband liueth, the marriage abideth in force, but if he be dead, the woman may marry againe: ✣ 1.Cor.7.39.

a That is, she shall be an adulteresse, by the cōsent & iudgement of all men. ✣ Matth.5.32.

2 An application of the similitude thus. So, saith he, doeth it fare with vs: for now we are ioyned to the spirit, as it were to ‡ second husband, by whom we must bring forth new children: we are dead in respect of ‡ first husband, but in respect of the later, we are as it were raised from ‡ dead.

b That is, in the body of Christ, to giue vs to vnderstand, how straight and neere that fellowship is betwixt Christ and his members.

c He calleth the children, which the wife hath by her husband, fruite.

d Which are acceptable to God.

3 A declaration of the former saying: for the concupiscences (saith he) which the law stirred vp in vs, were in vs as it were a husband, of whō we brought forth very deadly & cursed childrē. But now since that husband is dead, & so consequētly being deliuered from the force of that killing Law, we haue passed into the gouernance of the spirit, so that we bring forth now, not those rotten & dead, but liuely children. e When we were in the state of the first marriage, which he calleth in the next verse following, the oldnes of the letter. f The motions that egged vs to sin, which shew their force euen in our minds. g He saith not of the law, but by the law, because they spring of sin which dwelleth within vs, and take occasion to worke thus in vs, by reason of the restraint that the law maketh, not that the fault is in the law, but in our selues. h Wrought their strength. i As if hee saide, The bond which bound vs, is dead, and vanished away in such wise, that sinne which held vs, hath not now wherewith to holde vs. k For this husband is within vs. l Satan is an vniust possessor, for he brought vs in bondage of sinne & himselfe deceitfully: and yet not withstanding so long as we are sinners, we sinne willingly. m As becommeth them, which after the death of their old husband are ioyned to the spirit: as whom the spirit of God hath made new men. n By the letter, he meaneth the Lawe, in respect of that olde condition: for before that our mind be framed by the holy Ghost, the Law speaketh but to deafe eares, and therefore it is dumbe and dead to vs, as touching the fulfilling of it. 4 An obiection: What then? are the law and sinne all one, and do they agree together? nay, saith he: Sinne is reproued and condemned by the law. But because sinne cannot abide to be reproued, & was not in a maner felt vntil it was prouoked & stirred vp by the Law, it taketh occasion thereby to be more outragious, and yet by no fault of the Law. o By the word, Lust, in this place he meaneth not euill lusts themselues, but the fountaine from whence they spring: for the very heathen philosophers themselues condemned wicked lusts, though somewhat darkely, but as for this fountaine of them, they could not so much as suspect it, and yet it is the very state of that naturall and vncleane spot and filth. ∴ Exod.20.17 deut.5.21. p Though sinne be in vs, yet is it not knowen for sinne, neither doeth it so rage, as it rageth after that the law is known. 5 He setteth himselfe before vs for an example in whom al men may behold, first what they are of nature before they earnestly thinke vpon the Law of God: to wit, blockish, and headie to sinne and wickednes, without all true feare and feeling of sinne, then what maner of persons they become, when their conscience is reproued by the testimonie of the Law, to wit, stubborne and more enflamed with the desire of sinne, then euer they were before. q When I knewe not the law, then me thought I liued in deede: for my conscience neuer troubled me, because it knew not my disease. r When I began to vnderstand the commandement. ſ In sinne, or by sinne. 6 The conclusion: That the Law of it selfe is holy, but all the fault is in vs which abuse the Law. ✣ 1.Tim.1.8. t Touching the commaundement.

7 The propositiō: That the Lawe is not the cause of death, but our corrupt nature, being therewith not only discouered, but also stirred vp, and tooke occasion thereby to rebell, as which, the more that things are forbidden it, the more it desireth them. & from hence commeth guiltines, and occasion of death.

13 7 Was that then which is good, u made death vnto me? God forbid: but sinne, that it might x appeare sinne, wrought death in mee by that which is good, that sinne might be y out of measure sinfull by the commandement.

14 8 For we know that the Lawe is spirituall, but I am carnall, sold vnder sinne.

15 9 For I 10 alow not that which I do: for what I 11 would, that do I not: but what I hate, ỹ do I.

16 If I doe then that which I would not, I consent to the Law, that it is good.

17 Now then, it is no more I, that doe it, but z sinne that dwelleth in me.

18 12 For I know, that in me, that is, in my flesh, dwelleth no good thing: for to wil is preſet w̃ me: but I find a no means to perform ỹ which is good.

19 For I doe not the good thing, which I would, but the euil, which I would not, that do I.

20 Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but the sinne that dwelleth in me.

21 13 I find then that when I would do good, I am thus yoked, that euil is preſent with me.

22 For I delite in the law of God, concerning the b inner man:

23 But I see another Law in my members, rebelling against the Lawe of my c minde, and leading me captiue vnto the Law of sinne, which is in my members.

24 14 O d wretched man that I am, who shall deliuer me from the body of this death?

25 I e thanke God through Iesus Christ our Lord. Then I f my selfe in my minde serue the Law of God, but in my flesh the law of sinne.

7 The propositiō: That the Lawe is not the cause of death, but our corrupt nature, being therewith not only discouered, but also stirred vp, and tooke occasion thereby to rebell, as which, the more that things are forbidden it, the more it desireth them. & from hence commeth guiltines, and occasion of death.

u Beareth it the blame of my death?
x That sinne might shew it selfe to be sinne, and be way it selfe to be that, which it is in acede.
y As euill as it could, sh: wing all the venime it could.

8 The cause of this matter, is this: Because that the Law requireth a heauenly purenes, but men, such as they be borne, are bondslaues of corruptiō, which they willingly serue.

9 He setteth himselfe, being regenerate, before vs, for an example, in whom may easily appeare the strife of the Spirit and the flesh, and therefore of the Law of God, & our wickednes. For since that the Law in a man not regenerate bringeth fooorth death only, therefore in him it may easely be accused: but seeing that in a man which is regenerate, it bringeth forth good fruit, it doth better appeare that euil actions proceede not from the Law, but from sinne, that is, from our corrupt nature: And therefore the Apostle teacheth also, what the true vse of the Law is, in reprooving sinne in the regenerate, vnto the end of the chapter: as a little before (to wit, from the seuenth verse vnto this fifteenth) he declared the vse of it in them which are not regenerate. 10 The deedes of my life, saith he, answere not, nay they are contrary to my wil: Therefore by the consent of my will with the Law, and repugnancie with the deedes of my life, it appeareth euidently, that the Law and a right ruled wil do perſwade one thing, but corruption which hath her seate also in the regenerate, another thing. 11 It is to be noted, that one selfe same mā is said to wil and not to wil, in diuers respects: to wit, he is said to will, in that, that he is regenerate by grace: and not to wil, in that, that he is not regenerate, or in that, that he is such an one as he was borne. But because the part which is regenerate, at length becommeth conquerour, therefore Paul susteining the part of the regenerate, speaketh in such sort as if the corruptiō which sinneth willingly, were something without a man: although afterward he granteth that this euill is in his flesh, or in his members.

z That naturall corruption, which cleaueth fast euen to them that are regenerate, and not cleane conquered.

12 This vice, or sinne, or lawe of sinne, doeth wholy possesse those men which are not regenerate, and hindreth them or holdeth them backe that are regenerate.

a This doeth in deede agree to that man, whom the grace of God hath made a new man: for where the Spirit is not, how can there be any strife then?

13 The conclusion: As the Law of God exhorteth to goodnesse, so doth the Lawe of sinne (that is, the corruption wherein wee are borne) force vs to wickednesse: but the Spirit, that is, our minde, in that that it is regenerate, consenteth with the Law of God: but the flesh, that is, the whole naturall man, is bondslaue to the Law of sinne. Therefore to be short, wickednes and death are not of the Lawe, but of sinne, which reigneth in them that are not regenerate: for they neither will, nor do good, but will, and do euil: But in them that are regenerate, it striueth against the Spirit or lawe of the minde, so that they cannot either liue so well as they would, or be so voide of sinne as they woulde.

b The inner man, and the new man are all one, and are answerable and set as contrary to the olde man: neither doeth this word, Inner man, signifie mans mind and reason, and the olde man, the powers that are vnder them, as the Philosophers imagine, but by the outward man is meant whatsoeuer is either without or within a man, from toppe to toe, so long as that man is not borne anew by the grace of God.
c The law of the minde in this place, is not to be vnderstoode of the minde as it is naturally, and as our minde is from our birth, but of the minde which is renewed by the Spirite of God.

14 It is a miserable thing to be yet in part subiect to sinne, which of it owne nature maketh vs guiltie of death: but we must crie to the Lord, who will by death at length make vs conquerours, as we are alreadie conquerours in Christ.

d Wearied with miserable and continuall conflicts.
e He reconereth himselfe, and sheweth vs that he resteth onely in Christ.
f This is the true perfection of them that are borne anew, to confesse that they are imperfit.

CHAP. VIII.

1 He concludeth that there is no condemnation to them, who are grafted in Christ through his Spirit, 3 howsoeuer they be as yet burdened with sinnes: 9 for they liue through that Spirit, 14 whose testimonie 15 driueth away all feare, 18 and reckeneth our present miseries.

1 A conclusion of all ỹ former disputation frō vers. 16. of chap. 7. euen to this place: Seeing that we, being iustified by faith in Christ, do obtaine remission of sins & imputatiō of righteousnes, & are also sanctified, it followeth hereof, ỹ they that are grafted into Christ by faith, are out of all feare of condemnation.

NOw 1 then there is no condemnatiō to them that are in Christ Iesus, which 2 walke not after the a flesh, but after the Spirit.

2 3 For the b Law of the Spirit of c life which is in d Christ Iesus, hath e freed me from the lawe of sinne and of death.

3 4 For (that that was f impossible to ỹ law, in as much as it was weake, bicause of ỹ g flesh) god sending his owne Son, in the similitude of h sinfull flesh, and for i sinne, k condemned sin in the flesh,

4 That that l righteousnes of the Law might be fulfilled 5 in vs, which walke not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

5 6 For they that are after the m flesh, sauour the things of the flesh: but they that are after the Spirit, the things of the Spirit.

6 7 For the wisedome of the flesh is death: but the wisedome of the Spirit is life and peace,

7 8 Because the wisedome of the flesh is enimitie against God: 9 for it is not subiect to the Law of God, neither in deede can be.

8 10 So then they that are in the flesh, cannot please God.

9 11 Now ye are not in the flesh, but in ỹ spirit, bicause ỹ spirit of God dwelleth in you: but if any man hath not ỹ Spirit of Christ, ỹ same is not his.

1 A conclusion of all ỹ former disputation frō vers. 16. of chap. 7. euen to this place: Seeing that we, being iustified by faith in Christ, do obtaine remission of sins & imputatiō of righteousnes, & are also sanctified, it followeth hereof, ỹ they that are grafted into Christ by faith, are out of all feare of condemnation.

2 The fruits of the Spirit, or effects of sanctificatiō, which is begun in vs, doe not ingraft vs into Christ, but do declare that we are grafted into him.

a Follow not the flesh for their guide: for he is not saide to liue after the flesh, that hath the holy Ghost for his guide, though sometimes he step awry.

3 A preuenting of an obiection: Seeing that the vertue of the Spirit which is in vs, is so weake, how may we gather thereby, that there is no condemnatiō to them that haue that vertue? Because saith he, that vertue of the quickning Spirit which is so weak in vs, is most perfect & most mighty in Christ, and being imputed vnto vs which beleeue, causeth vs to be so accōpted of, as though there were no relikes of corruption, and death in vs. Therfore hitherto, Paul disputed of remission of sins, & imputation of fulfilling ỹ Law, & also of sanctification which is begun in vs: but now he speaketh of the perfit imputation of Christs manhood, which part was necessarily required to the ful appeasing of our consciences: For our sins are defaced by the blood of Christ, & the guiltines of our corruptiō is couered w̃ the imputation of Christs obedience; & the corruption it self (which ỹ Apostle calleth sinful sin) is healed in vs by litle & litle, by ỹ gift of sanctification, but yet lacketh besides that, another remedy, to wit, ỹ perfect sanctificatiō of Christs own flesh, which also is to vs imputed.

b The power & autority of the spirit, against which is set the tyranny of sin.
c Which mortifieth the old man, & quickneth the new man.
d To wit, absolutely & perfitly.
e For Christs sanctification being imputed to vs, perfecteth our sanctification which is begun in vs.

4 He vseth no argumēt here, but expoundeth ỹ mystery of sanctification, which is imputed vnto vs: for because, saith he, ỹ vertue of ỹ law was not such (& ỹ by reason of the corruption of our nature) ỹ it could make man pure & perfit, & for ỹ it rather kindled the disease of sin, then did put it out & extinguish it, therfore God clothed his Son w̃ flesh like vnto our sinful flesh, wherein he vtterly abolished our corruption, ỹ being accōpted throughly pure & without fault in him apprehended and laide holde on by faith, we might be found to haue fully ỹ singular perfectiō which the law requireth, & therfore ỹ there might be no condemnation in vs.

f Which is not proper to the Law, but commeth by our fault.
g In man not borne anew, whose disease the law could point out, but it could not heale it.
h Of mans nature which was corrupt through sinne, vntill hee sanctified it.
i To abolish sin in our flesh.
k Shewed that sin hath no rights in vs.
l The very substance of the law of God might be fulfilled, or that same which the law requireth, that we may be found iust before God: for if without iustification there be ioyned that sanctification which is imputed to vs, we are iust, according to that perfit forme which the Lord requireth.

5 He returneth to ỹ which he said, ỹ the sanctification which is begun in vs, is a sure testimonie of our ingrafting into Christ: which is a most plentiful fruit of a godly & honest life.

6 A reason, why to walk after ỹ flesh, agreeth not to thē which are grafted in Christ, but to walke after the Spirit, agreeth and is meet for them: Because saith he, ỹ they which are after the flesh, sauour the things of the flesh, but they that are after the spirit, the things of the spirit.

m They that liue as the flesh leadeth them.

7 He proueth the consequent: because that whatsoeuer the flesh sauoureth, that engendreth death: & whatsoeuer the spirit sauoureth, that tendeth to ioy & life euerlasting.

8 A reason & proofe, why ỹ wisedome of ỹ flesh is death: because, saith he, it is ỹ enimy of god.

9 A reason why ỹ wisedome of the flesh is enemie to God: because it neither wil, neither can be subiect to him. And by flesh he meaneth a man not regenerate.

10 The conclusion: Therefore they that walke after the flesh, cannot please God: whereby it followeth, that they are not grafted into Christ.

11 He commeth to the others, to wit, to them which walk after the spirit, of whom we haue to vnderstand cōtrary things to the former: & first of al, he defineth what it is to be in the Spirit, or to be sanctified: to wit, to haue ỹ spirit of God dwelling in vs. Then he declareth, that sanctification is so ioyned & knit to our grafting in Christ, that it can by no means be separated,

11. He confirmeth the faithful against the reliques of flesh and sinne, granting that they are yet (as it appeareth by the corruption which is in them) touching one of their parts (which he calleth the body, that is to say, a lompe) which is not yet purged from his earthly filthines, in death: but therewithall willing them to doubt nothing of the happy successe of this combate, because that euen this litle sparke of the Spirit, (that is, of the grace of regeneration) which appeareth to be in them by the fruits of righteousnesse, is the seede of life.

t The flesh, or all that which as yet sticketh fast in the nature of sinne, and death.

13 A confirmation of the former sentence: You haue the selfe same Spirit, which Christ hath: Therefore as he hath it shall doe the same in you, that is to wit, that of infinitities being vterly laid aside, & death ouercome, it shall clothe you with heauenly glory.

o By the vertue & power of it, which shewed the same might so fit in our head, and daily worketh in his members.

14 An exhortation to oppresse the flesh daily more & more by the vertue of the Spirit of regeneration, because (saith he) you are debters vnto God, for so much as you haue receiued so many benefits of him.

15 An other reason of the profit that ensueth to such as striue & fight valiantly, shal haue euerlasting life.

16 A confirmation of this reason: for they be the children of God, which are gouerned by his Spirit, therefore shal they haue life euerlasting.

17 He declareth & expoundeth by ẏ way, in these two verses, by what right this name, to be called the children of God, is giuen to the beleeuers: because faith he, they haue receiued the grace of the Gospel, wherein God sheweth himselfe, not as before in the publishing of the Law) terrible & fearful, but a most benigne & louing father in Christ, so ẏ with great boldnes we cal him Father, the holy Ghost sealing this adoption in our hearts by faith.

p By the Spirit is ment the holy Ghost, whom we are said to receiue, when he worketh in our minds.

q Which feare is stirred vp in our mindes, by the preaching of the Law.

r Which sealeth our adoption in our mindes, & therefore openeth our mouthes.

18 A proofe of the consequence of the confirmation: because that he which is the sonne of God, doth enioy God with Christ.

s Partakers of our fathers goods, & that freely, because we are children by adoption.

19 Nowe Paul teacheth by what way the sonnes of God do come to that felicitie, to wit, by the crosse, as Christ himself did: and therewithall openeth vnto them fountaines of comfort: as first, that we haue Christ a companion & fellow of our afflictions: Secondly, that we shalbe also his fellowes in that euerlasting glory. 20 Thirdly, that this glory which we looke for, doth a thousand parts surmount the misery of our afflictions.

t All being well considered, I gather.

21 Fourthly, he plainly teacheth vs that we shall certainly be reuiued from that confusion & horrible deformation of the whole world, which cannot be continual, as it was not at the beginning: But as it had a beginning by the sinne of man, for who it was made by the ordinance of God, so shal it at length be restored with the elect.

u All this world.

x Is subiect to a vanishing & flitting state.

y Not by their naturall inclination.

z That they should obey the Creators commandement, whom it pleased to shew by their sickle state, how greatly he was displeased with man.

a God would not make the world subiect to euerlasting curse, for the sinne of man, but gaue it hope that it should be restored.

b From the corruption which they are now subiect to, they shalbe deliuered & changed into the blessed state of incorruption, which shalbe reuealed when the sonnes of God shall be aduanced to glory.

c By this word is ment, not only exceeding sorow, but also the fruite that followeth of it.

26 Lastly, if ẏ rest of ẏ world look for a restoring, groning as it were for it, & that not in vaine, let it not grieue vs also to sigh, yea, let vs be more certainely perswaded of our redemption to come, for as much as we haue ẏ first fruits of the Spirit, which haue the first fruites of the Spirit, euen we doe sigh in our d selues, waiting for the adoption, euen ✣ e the redemption of our body.

24 For wee are saued by hope: but f hope that is seene, is not hope: for howe can a man hope for that which he seeth?

25 But if we hope for that we see not, we doe with patience abide for it.

26 Likewise the Spirit also g helpeth our infirmities: for we knowe not what to pray as wee ought: but the Spirit it selfe maketh h request for vs with sighs, which cannot be expressed.

27 But he that searcheth the hearts, knoweth what is the i meaning of the Spirit: for he maketh request for ẏ Saints, k according to the will of God.

28 Also we knowe that l all things worke together for the best vnto them that loue God, euen to them that are called of his m purpose.

29 For those which he knew before, he also predestinate to be made like to ẏ image of his Sonne, ẏ he might be ẏ first borne among many brethren.

30 Moreouer whom he n predestinate, them also he called, & whom he called, them also he iustified, & whom he iustified, them he also glorified.

31 What shall we then say to these things? If God be on our side, who can be against vs?

32 Who spared not his owne Sonne, but gaue him for vs all to death, how shall he not with him o giue vs all things also?

33 Who shall lay any thing to the charge of Gods chosen? it is p God that iustifieth, 34 Who shall condemne? it is Christ which is dead, yea, or rather, which is risen againe, who is also at the right hand of God, and maketh request also for vs.

35 Who shall separate vs from the loue of q Christ? shal tribulation or anguish, or persecution, or famine, or nakednesse, or perill, or sword?

36 As it is written, ✣ For thy sake are we killed al day long: we are counted as sheep for ẏ slaughter.

37 r Neuertheless, in all these things we are more then conquerours through him ẏ loued vs.

38 For I am perswaded that neither death, nor life, nor Angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come,

39 Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature shalbe able to separate vs from the loue of God, which is in Christ Iesus our Lord.

d Risen from the bottome of our hearts.

✣ Luke 21. 28.

e That last resurrising, which shalbe the accomplishment of our adoption.

23 Sixtly, hope is necessarily ioyned with faith: seeing then that we beleeue those things, which we are not yet in possession of, and hope respecteth not the thing that is present, we must therefore hope and patiently waite for that which we beleeue shall come to passe.

f This is spoken by the figure Metonymie: Hope, for that which is hoped for.

24 Seuenthly, There is no cause why we shoulde faint vnder the burden of afflictions, seeing that prayers minister vnto vs a most sure helpe, which can not be frustrate, seeing they proceed from the spirit of God which dwelleth in vs.

g Beareth our burden, as it were, that we faint not vnder it.

h Provoketh vs to prayer, and teacheth vs as it were without, what we shall say, and how we shall groane.

i What sobs and sighs proceede from the instinct of his Spirit.

k Because he searcheth the harts, & we pray according to Gods will.

25 Eightly, we are not afflicted, either by chance or to our harme, but by Gods prouidence for our great profit: who as he chose vs from the beginning, so hath he predestinate vs to be made like to the image of his Sonne: and therefore will bring vs in his time, being called & iustified, to glory, by the crosse.

l Not only afflictions, but whatsoeuer els.

m Hee calleth that Purpose, which God hath from euerlasting appointed within himself according to his good will and pleasure.

n Hee setteth the same past & for the time present, as the Hebrewes vse, who sometime set down the thing that is to come, for the time that is past, to promise the certainty of it: and he hath also a regard to Gods continuall working.

26 Ninthly, we haue no cause to feare that the Lord will not giue vs whatsoeuer is profitable for vs, seeing that he hath not spared his owne Sonne to saue vs.

o Giue vs freely.

27 A most glorious & comfortable conclusion of the whole second part of this Epistle, that is, of the treatise of iustification. There are no accusers that we haue need to be afraid of before God, seeing that God himselfe absolueth vs as iust: and therefore much lesse need we to feare damnation, seeing that we rest vpon the death & resurrection of the almighty power and defence of Iesus Christ. Therefore what can there be so waighty in this life, as of so great force & power, that might feare vs, as though we might fall from the loue of God, wherewith he loueth vs in Christ? Surely nothing, seeing ẏ is in it selfe most constant & sure, and also in vs being confirmed by stedfast faith.

p He pronounceth vs not only guiltles, but also perfect in his Sonne.

q Who with Christ loueth vs.

✣ Psal. 44. 22.

r We are not onely not conquered with so great and many miseries and calamities, but also more, then conquerours in all of them.

CHAP. IX.

1 He answereth an obiection, that might be brought as the Iewes obiected, 7 and telleth of two sortes of Abrahams children, 14 and that God worketh all things in his matter according as his will, 20 turn as the potter doth. 24.30 He proueth aswell the calling of the Gentiles, 31 as also the reiecting of the Iewes, 25.27 by the testimonies of the Prophets.

I Say ᵍ the trueth in Christ, I lye not, my conscience bearing me witnesse in the holy Ghost,

1 The third part of this Epistle, euē to the twelfth Chapter, wherein Paul ascendeth to the higher causes of faith: and first of all, because he purposed to speake much of ʸ casting off of the Iewes, he vseth an insinuation, declaring by a double or triple othe, and by witnessing of his great desire towardes their saluation, his singular loue towards them, and therewithall granting vnto them all their prerogatiues.

a The Apostle loued his brethren so entirely, that if it had bene possible, he would haue bene ready to haue redeemed the casting away of the Israelites, with the losse of his owne soule for euer: for this word, separate, betokeneth as much in this place.

b Being brethren by flesh, as of one nation and countrey.

c The arke of the covenat, which was a token of Gods presence. ✣ Chap.2.17. ephe.2.12.

d The tables of the covenant: and this is spoken by the figure Metonymia.

g Which were made to Abraham and to his posteritie. 2 A most manifest testimonie of the Godhead and diuinitie of Christ. ✣ Chap.2.28. 3 He entreth into the handling of predestination, by a kinde of preuenting an obiection: How may it be, that Israel is cast off, but that therewithall we must also make ʸ couenant which God made with Abraham and his seede, frustrate and voyd? He answereth therefore, that Gods word is true, although that Israel be cast off: for the election of the people of Israel is so general and common, that notwithstanding the same, God chuseth by his secret counsel, such as it pleaseth him. So then this is the proposition and state of this treatise: The grace of saluation is offered generally in such sort, that notwithstanding it, the efficacie therof pertaineth only to the elect.

h Israel in the first place, is taken for Iacobs and in the second, for the Israelites.

ᵛ Gen.21.12. Heb.11.18. 4 The first proofe is taken from the example of Abrahams owne house, wherein Isaac onely was accounted the sonne, and that by Gods ordinance: although that Ismael also was borne of Abraham, & circumcised before Isaac.

i Isaac shalbe thy true and natural sonne, and therefore heire of thy blessing. 5 A generall application of the former proofe or example.

k Which are borne of Abraham by the course of nature. ✣ Gala.4.28.

l Which are borne by vertue of the promise. 6 A reason of that application: Because that Isaac was borne by the vertue of the promise, and therefore he was not chosen, nay he was not at all, but by the free will of God: whereby it followeth that the promise is the fountaine of predestination, & not the flesh, from which promise the particular election proceedeth: that is, that the elect be borne elect and not that they be first borne, and then afterward elected, in respect of God who doth predestinate.

m Gods decree, which proceedeth of his meere good will, whereby it pleaseth him to chuse one, and refuse the other. 8 Paul saith not, might be made, but being made, might remaine. Therefore they are deceiued which make foreseene faith the cause of election, and foreknowen infidelitie the cause of reprobation. 9 He proueth the casting away of Esau by that, that hee was made seruant to his brother: and proueth the chusing of Iacob, by that, that he was made Lord of his brother, although his brother were the first begotten. And least that any man might take this saying of God, & reserue it to external things, ʸ Apostle sheweth out of Malachi, who is a good interpreter of Moses, that the seruitude of Esau was ioyned with the hatred of God, & the lordship of Iacob with the loue of God. ✣ Gen.25.23.

10 The first obiection: If God doth loue or hate vpon no cõsideration of worthines or vnworthines, then is he vniust, because he may loue them which are vnworthie, and hate them that are worthy.

The Apostle detesteth this blasphemy, and afterward answereth it seuerally, point by point.

n Man will know, eth no other cause of loue or hatred, but those that are in the persons, and therevpon this obiection riseth.

11 He answereth first touching them which are chosen to saluation: in chusing of whom, he denieth that God may seeme vniust, although he chuse & predestinate to saluation, them that are not yet borne, without any respect of worthines: because he bringeth not the chosen to the appointed end, but by the meanes of his mercy, which is a cause next vnder predestination. Now mercy presupposeth miserie, and againe miserie presupposeth sinne or voluntarie corruption of mankinde, & corruption presupposeth a pure and perfect creation. Moreouer mercy is shewed by her degrees: to wit, by calling, by faith, by iustification & sanctification, so that at length we come to glorification, as the Apostle will shewe afterward. Now all these things orderly following the purpose of God, do clearely proue that he can by no meanes seeme vniust in louing and saluing his. ✣ Exod.33.19.

o I will be mercifull and fauourable to whom I list to be fauourable.

p I will haue compassion on whomsoeuer I list to haue compassion. 12 The conclusion of the answere: Therefore God is not vniust in chusing & saluing of his free goodnes, such as it pleaseth him: as he also answered Moses, when he prayed for al the people.

q By will, he meaneth the thought and endeuour of heart, & by running, good works, to neither of which he giueth the praise, but only to the mercy of God. 13 Nowe he answereth concerning the reprobate, or them whom God hateth, being not vniustly appointed to destruction, without any respect of vnworthinesse. And first of all he proueth this to be true, by alleaging the testimonie of God himselfe touching Pharao, whom he stirred vp to this purpose, that he might be glorified in his hardening & iust punishing.

r God so speaketh vnto Pharao in the Scripture, or thereby we bringeth to God so speaking to Pharao. ᵛ Exo.9.16.

s By reason of their abode in the world. 14 Secondly, he bringeth the end of Gods counsel, to shew that there is no vnrighteousnes in him. Now this chiefest end is, not properly & simply the destruction of ʸ wicked, but Gods glory which appeareth in their rightful punishment.

15 A conclusion of the full answere to the first obiection: therefore seeing God doth not saue them whom he freely chose according to his good will & pleasure, but by iustifying & sanctifying them by his grace, his counsell in sauing them cannot seeme vniust. And againe, there is no vniustice in the euerlasting counsell of God, touching the destruction of them whom he listeth to destroy, for that he hardeneth before he destroyeth: Therfore the third answere for the maintenance of Gods iustice in ʸ eternal lasting counsel of reprobation, consisteth in this word Hardening: which notwithstanding he concealed in the former verse, because the history of Pharao was wel knowen. But ʸ force of the word is great: for Hardning, which is set against Mercy, presupposeth the same things that mercy did, to wit, a voluntarie corruption, where in the reprobate are hardened: & againe, corruption presupposeth a perfit state of creation. Moreouer, this hardning also is voluntary, for God so hardneth being offended with corruption, that he vseth their owne wil whom he hardneth, to the executing of that iudgement. Then follow the fruits of Hardning, to wit, vnbelief & sinne, which are the true & proper causes of the condemnation of the reprobate. Why doth he then appoint to destruction? because he wil: why doth he harden? because they are corrupt: why doth he condemne? because they are sinners. Where is then vnrighteousnes? Nay, if he should destroy al after this same sort, to whō should he do iniurie?

t Who it pleased him to appoint, to shew his fauour vpon. 16 Another obiection, but only for the reprobate, arising vpon the former answere. If God do appoint to euerlasting destruction, such as he listeth, & if that cannot be hindred nor withstanded, that he hath once decreed, howe doth he iustly condemne them, which perish by his will? 17 The Apostle doth not answere that it is not Gods wil, or that God doth not either reiect or elect according to his pleasure, which thing the wicked call blasphemie, but he rather granteth his aduersarie both the antecedents, to wit, that it is Gods will, and that it must of necessitie so fall out, yet he denieth that God is therefore to be thought an vniust reuenger of ʸ wicked: for seeing it appeareth by manifest proof that this is the will of God, & his doing, what impudencie is it for man, which is but dust & ashes, to dispute with God, & as it were to call him into iudgement? Nowe if any man say that the doubt is not so dissolued and answered, I answere that there is no surer demonstration in any matter, because it is grounded vpon this principle, That the wil of God is the rule of righteousnes. 18 An application of the former answere, taken from a comparison, whereby also it appeareth that Gods determinate counsel is set of Paul the hiest of all causes: so ʸ it depended not vpon any respect of second causes, but doth rather frame & direct them.

CHAP. X.

1 He handleth the effectes of election, 3 that some refuse, and some embrace 4 Christ, who is the ende of the Lawe. 15 Hee sheweth that Moses foretolde the calling of the Gentiles, 20 and Esaias the hardening of the Iewes.

BRethren, 1 mine heartes desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saued.

2 For I beare them record, that they haue the zeale of God, but not according to knowledge.

3 2 For they, ᵃ being ignorant of the righteousnes of God, & going about to ᵇ stablish their owne righteousnesse, haue not submitted themselues to the righteousnes of God.

4 ✠ 3 For Christ is the ᶜ ende of the Lawe for righteousnes vnto ᵈ euery one that beleeueth.

5 4 For Moses thus describeth the righteousnes which is of the Lawe, ∵ That the man which doeth these things, shall liue thereby.

6 But the righteousnes which is of faith, speaketh on this wise, ✠ ᵉ Say not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heauen? (that is to bring Christ from aboue)

7 Or, Who shall descend into the deepe? (that is to bring Christ againe from the dead)

8 5 But what sayth it? ✠ The ᶠ worde is neere thee, euen in thy mouth, and in thine heart. This is the worde of faith which we preach.

9 6 For if thou shalt ᵍ confesse with thy mouth the Lord Iesus, and shalt beleeue in thine heart, that ʰ God raised him vp from the dead, thou shalt be saued:

10 For with the heart man ⁱ beleeueth vnto righteousnes, and with the mouth man confesseth to saluation.

11 7 For the Scripture saith, *Whosoeuer ᵏ beleeueth in him, shall not be ashamed.

12 For there is no difference betweene the Iew and the Grecian: for he that is Lord ouer all, is rich vnto all that call on him.

13 ✠ 8 For whosoeuer shal call vpon the Name of the Lord, shalbe saued.

✠ Iere. 18.6.

19 Alluding to the creation of Adam, he compareth mankinde not yet made (but in the Creators minde) to a lumpe of clay: whereof afterward God made and doeth dayly make, according as hee purposed from euerlasting, both such as should be elect, and such as should be reprobate, as also this worde, Making, declareth.

20 Whereas in the obiection propounded, mention was onely made of vessels to dishonour: yet he speaketh of the other also in this answere, for that he proueth the Creator to be iust in either of them, as the rule of contraries doeth require.

21 Seeing then, ỹ in the name of dishonour, ỹ ignominie of euerlasting death is signified, they speake with Paul, which say, ỹ some are made of God to most iust destruction: and they that are offended with this kind of speach bewray their owne folly.

22 The second answere is this, that God, moreouer and besides that he doeth iustly decree whatsoeuer he doeth decree, vseth that moderation in executing of his decrees, as declareth his singular lenitie euen in the reprobate, in that, that he suffereth them a long time, and permitteth them to enioy many and singular benefites, vntill at length hee iustly condemne them: and that to good ende and purpose, to wit, to shew himselfe to be an enemie and reuenger of wickednes, that it may appeare what power he is of by these seuere iudgements, and finally by comparison of contraries to set foorth in deede, how great his mercy is towardes the elect.

ʸ By vessels, the Hebrewes vnderstande all kindes of instruments.

23 Therefore againe, wee may say with Paul, that some men are made of God the Creator to destruction.

ᶻ The vnmeasurable and marueilous greatnesse.

24 Hauing established the doctrine of the eternall predestination of God on both partes: that is, as well of the reprobate, as of the elect, he commeth nowe to shew the vse of it, teaching vs that we ought not to seeke the testimonie of it in the secret counsell of God, but by the vocation which is made manifest and set foorth in the Church, propounding vnto vs the example of the Iewes and Gentiles, that the doctrine may be better perceiued.

ᵃ He sayth not, that all and euery one of the Iewes are called, but some of the Iewes, and some of the Gentiles.

25 Our vocation or calling is free and of grace, euen as our predestination is: and therefore there is no cause why either our owne vnworthines, or the vnworthinesse of our auncestors should cause vs to thinke that we are not the elect and chosen of God, if we be called of him, and so embrace through faith the saluation that is offered vs. ✠ Hose. 1.23 1. peter 2.10. ∵ Hose. 1.10.

26 Contrariwise, Neither any outwarde generall calling, neither any worthinesse of our auncestors, is a sufficient witnes of election, vnlesse by faith & beleefe we answere Gods calling: which thing came to passe in ỹ Iewes, as the Lord had forewarned. ✠ Isa. 20.21.

ᵇ God purposeth to bring the vnkinde and vnthankefull people to an extreme fewnesse. ✠ Isai. 1.9.

ᶜ Armies, by which worde the chiefest power that is, is giuen to God.

ᵈ Euen a very fewe.

27 The declaration and manifestation of our election, is our calling apprehended by faith, as it came to passe in the Gentiles.

ᵉ So then, the Gentiles had no workes to prepare and procure Gods mercie before hand: and as for that, that the Gentiles attained to that which they sought not for, the mercy of God is to be thanked for it: and in that the Iewes attained not to that which they sought after, they can thanke none for it but themselues, because they sought it not aright.

28 The pride of men is the cause that they contemne vocation, so that the cause of their damnation needs not to be sought for any other where but in themselues.

1 Purposing to set foorth in the Iewes an example of marueilous obstinacie, he vseth an infinuation.

2 The first entrance into the vocation vnto saluation, is to renounce our owne righteousnes: the next is, to embrace that righteousnesse by faith, which God freely offereth vs in the Gospel.

ᵇ Ignorance hath alway pride ioyned with it.

✠ Galat. 3.24.

3 The proofe: The Law it selfe hath respect vnto Christ, that such as beleeue in him should be saued. Therefore the calling to saluation by the workes of the Lawe, is vaine and foolish, but Christ is offered for saluation to euery beleeuer.

them that keepe the Lawe: but seeing we doe not obserue the Law through the fault of our flesh, we attaine not vnto this ende: but Christ saluteth this disease, for he fulfilled the Law for vs.

ᵈ Not onely to the Iewes, but also to the Gentiles.

4 That the Lawe regardeth & tendeth to Christ, that is a manifest proofe, for that it propoundeth such a condition, as can be and is fulfilled of none but of Christ onely: which being imputed vnto vs by faith, our conscience is quieted, so that nowe no man can aske, Who can ascende vp into heauen, or bring vs from hell, seeing the Gospel teacheth that both of these is done by Christ, and that for their sakes, which with true faith embrace him which calleth them. ∵ Leuit 18.5. ezek. 20.11. gal. 3.12. ✠ Deuter. 30.12.

ᶠ By the worde, Moses vnderstoode the Lawe which the Lorde published with his owne voyce: and Paul applied it to the preaching of the Gospell which was the perfection of the Lawe.

6 That is in deede true faith which is setled not onely in the head, but also in the heart of man, whereof also we giue testimonie, by our outward life, and which tendeth to Christ as to our alone and onely Sauiour, euen as he setteth foorth himselfe in his worde.

ⁱ Faith is sayd to institute, and furthermore seeing the confession of the mouth is an effect of faith, and confession is the way to come to saluation, it followeth that faith is also sayde to saue.

7 Nowe hee prooueth the other part which he propounded afore in the fourth verse, to wit, that Christ calleth whomsoeuer he listeth without any difference, & this he confirmeth by a double testimonie. ᵐ Isai 28.16.

ᵏ To beleeue in God is to yeelde and consent to God his promise of our saluation by Christ, and that not onely in generall, but when we know that the promises pertaine to vs, whereupon risteth a sure trust. ✠ Joel 2.32.

8 True calling vpon the Name of God is the testimonie of true faith, and true faith, of true vocation or calling, and true calling, of true election.

14 But howe shal they call on him, in whome they haue not beleeued? and how shall they beleeue in him, of whome they haue not heard? and how shall they heare without a preacher?

15 And how shall they preach, except they be sent? as it is written, ✣ Howe beautifull are the feete of them which bring glad tidings of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things!

16 [10] But they haue not [l] all obeyed the Gospel: for Esaias sayth, ✣ Lorde, who hath beleeued our report?

17 [11] Then faith is by hearing, and hearing by the [m] worde of God.

18 [12] But I demaund, Haue they not heard? ∴ No doubt their sound went out through all the earth, and their wordes into the endes of the world.

19 [13] But I demaund, Did not Israel know God? First Moses saith, ✣ I wil prouoke you to enuie by a [n] nation that is not my nation, and by a foolish nation I will anger you.

20 ✣ And Esaias is [o] bolde, and saith, I was found of them that sought me not, and haue bene made manifest to them that asked not after me.

21 And vnto Israel he saith, * All the day long haue I stretched foorth mine hand vnto a disobedient, and gainesaying people.

9 That is true faith, which seeketh God in his worde, and that preached, according as God hath appointed in the Church.
✣ Isa.52.7.rom.1.15.
10 Wheresoeuer faith is, there is also the worde, but not contrariwise, wheresoeuer the worde is, there is faith also: for many refuse and reiect the worde.
l He speaketh thus because of the Iewes.
✣ Isa.53.1. iohn 12.38.
12 A conclusion of the former gradation: we must ascend from faith, to our vocation, & by our vocation we came to the testimonie of our election.
m By Gods commaundement.
13 An obiection: If calling be a testimonie of election, were not the Iewes called? why should I not graunt that, sayth the Apostle, seeing that there is no nation which hath not bene called? much lesse can I say, that the Iewes were not called. ∴ Psal.19.3. 13 The defender and mainteiner of the Iewes cause, goeth on still to aske, whether the Iewes also knew not God which called them. Esay (sayth the Apostle) denieth it, and witnesseth that the Gospel was translated from them to the Gentiles, because the Iewes neglected it. And therewithall the Apostle teacheth, that that outwarde and vniuersall calling, which is set foorth by the creation of the world, sufficeth not to the knowledge of God: yea, and that the particular also which is by the worde of God is of it selfe of small or no efficacie, vnlesse it be apprehended or laide holde on by faith, by the gift of God: otherwise by vnbeleefe it is made vnprofitable, and that by the onely fault of man, who can pretende no ignorance. ✣ Deut.32.21. n He calleth all prophane people, a nation that is no nation, as they are not said to liue but to die, which are appointed for euerlasting condemnation. ✣ Isai.65.1. o Speaketh without feare. * Isai.65.2.

CHAP. XI.

1 Lest the casting off of the Iewes should be limitted according to the outward appearance, 4 hee sheweth that Elias was in times past deceiued: 16 and that, seeing they haue an holy roote, 23 many of them likewise shalbe holy. 18. 24 He exhorteth the Gentiles to be humble, 33 and crieth out, that Gods iudgements are vnsearchable.

1 Now the Apostle sheweth how this doctrine is to be applied to others, abiding still in his propounded cause. Therefore hee teacheth vs that all the Iewes in particular are not cast away, and therefore wee ought not to pronounce rashly of priuate persons, whether they be of the number of the elect or not. 2 The first proofe: I am a Iewe, and yet elected, therefore wee may and ought fully resolue vpon our election, as hath bene before sayd: but of another mans we cannot be so certainely resolued, and yet ours may cause vs to hope well of others. 3 The second proofe: Because that God is faithfull in his league or couenant, although men be vnfaithfull: So then seeing that God hath sayd, that he will be the God of his vnto a thousand generations, we must take heede, that we thinke not that the whole race and offspring is cast off, by reason of the vnbeleefe of a Iewe, but rather that we hope well of euery member of the Church, because of Gods league and couenant. n Which he ioined and chose from euerlasting. 4 The thirde proofe, taken from the answer y was made to Elias: euen then also, when there appeared openly to the face of the world no elect, yet God knewe his elect and chosen, and of them also good store and number. Whereupon this also is concluded, that we ought not rashly to pronounce of any man as of a reprobate, seeing that the Church is oftentimes brought: o that state, that euen the most watchfull and sharpe sighted pastours thinke it to be cleane extinct and put out. ✣ 1.King.19.10.

1 Demaund then, [r] Hath God cast away his people? God forbid: for [s] I also am an Israelite, of the seede of Abraham, of the tribe of Beniamin.

2 [t] God hath not cast away his people which he [u] knewe before. Know ye not what the Scripture saith of Elias, how he communeth with God against Israel, saying,

3 ✣ Lord, they haue killed thy Prophets, and digged downe thine altars: and I am left alone, and they seeke my life?

4 But what sayth the answere of God to him? ✣ I haue [b] reserued vnto my selfe seuen thousand men, which haue not bowed the knee to [c] Baal.

5 Euen so then, at this present time is there a remnant according to the [d] election of grace.

6 [e] And if it be of grace, it is [f] no more of workes: or els were grace no more grace: but if it be of workes, it is no more grace: or els were worke no more worke.

7 What then? Israel hath not obtained that he sought: but the election hath obteined it, and the rest haue bene [g] hardened,

8 [h] According as it is written, ✣ God hath giuen them the spirit of [i] slumber: eyes that they [k] should not see, and eares that they should not heare vnto this day.

9 And Dauid saith, ∴ [l] Let their table be made a snare, and a net, and a stumbling blocke, euen for a recompence vnto them.

10 Let their eyes be darkened that they see not, and bowe downe their backe alwayes.

11 [m] I demaund then, Haue they stumbled, that they should fall? God forbid: but through their fall, saluation commeth vnto the Gentiles, to prouoke them to followe them.

12 Wherefore if the fall of them be the [k] riches of the world, & the diminishing of them the riches of the Gentiles, how much more shall their [l] aboundance be?

13 [n] For in that I speake to you Gentiles, in as much as I am the Apostle of [p] Gentiles, I [m] magnifie mine office, 14 To trie if by any meanes I might prouoke them of my flesh to followe them, and might saue some of them.

15 For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiuing be, [n] but life from the dead?

16 [o] For if [q] first fruites be holy, so is [q] whole lumpe: & if the [p] roote be holy, so are [p] branches.

✣ 1.King.19.18.
b He speaketh of remnants and reserued people which were chosen from euerlasting, and not of remnants that should be chosen afterward: for they are not chosen, because they were not idolaters, but therefore they were not idolaters, because they were chosen and elect.
c Baal signifieth as much as Master or patrone, or out in whose power an other is, which name the idolaters at this day giue their idoles, naming them patrones and patronesses or Ladies.
d The election of grace is, not whereby men chose grace, but whereby God chose vs of his grace and goodnesse.
5 Although that all be not elect and chosen, yet let them that are elected remember that they are freely chosen: and let them that stubburnely refuse the grace and free mercy of God, impute it vnto themselues.
e This saying beateth downe flatte to the ground all the doctrine of all kindes and maner of workes, whereby our iustifiers of themselues doe teach, that workes are either wholy or partly the cause of our iustification.
f Looke Mat.3.9.
6 And yet this hardnesse of heart commeth not but by Gods iust decree & iudgement, and yet without fault, when as hee so punisheth the vnthankfull by taking from them all sence & perceiuerance, and by doubling their darkenes, that the benefites of God which are offered vnto them, doe redound to their iust destruction. ✣ Isa.6.9. and 29.10. matth.13.14.iohn 12.30. actes 28.26.
g A very dead sleepe which taketh away all sense.
h That is, eyes vnfit to see. ∴ Psalm.69.23.
i As vnhappy birdes are intised to death by that which is their sustenance, so did that onely thing turne to the Iewes destruction, out of which they sought life, to wit, the Lawe of God, for the preposterous zeale whereof they refused the Gospel. 7 God appointed this casting off of the Iewes, that it might be an occasion to call the Gentiles: & againe might turne this calling of the Gentiles, to be an occasion to restore the Iewes, to wit, that they being inflamed and prouoked by emulation of the Gentiles, might themselues at length embrace the Gospel. And hereby we may learne, that the seueritie of God serueth as wel to the setting forth of his glory, as his mercy doeth, and also that God prepareth himselfe a way to mercy, by his seueritie: so that wee ought not rashly to despaire of any man, nor proudly triumph ouer other men, but rather prouoke them to an holy emulation, ỹ God may be glorified in them also.
k By riches he meaneth the knowledge of the Gospel to euerlasting life: and by the world, all nations dispersed throughout the whole world.
l Of the Iewes, when the whole nation without exception shall come to Christ. 8 He witnesseth by his owne example, that he goeth before all other in this behalfe.
m I make noble and famous.
n It shall come to passe that when the Iewes come to the Gospel, the world shall as it were quicken againe, and rise vp from death to life. 9 The nation of the Iewes being considered in their stocke and roote, that is, in Abraham, is holy, although that many of the branches be cut off. Therefore in iudging of our brethren, we must not sticke in their vnworthinesse, to thinke that they are at once all cast off, but we ought to consider the roote of the couenant, and rather goe backe to their Auncesters which were faithfull, that we may knowe that the blessing of the couenant resteth in some of their posteritie, as wee also finde proofe hereof in our selues.
o He alludeth to the first fruites of those loaues, by the offring of all the whole croppe of corne was sanctified, and they might vse the rest of the following with good conscience.

✣ Iere.11.6.

17 ✣ [10] And though ſome of the branches be broken off, and thou being a wilde Oliue tree, waſt graft in [q] for them, and made [r] partaker of the roote, and fatneſſe of the Oliue tree:

18 [s] Boaſt not thy ſelfe againſt the branches: and if thou boaſt thy ſelfe, thou beareſt not the roote, but the roote thee.

19 Thou wilt ſay then, The branches are broken off, that I might be graft in.

20 Well: through vnbeliefe they are broken off, and thou ſtandeſt by faith: bee not hie minded, but [t] feare.

21 For if God ſpared not the [u] naturall branches, take heede, leaſt he alſo ſpare not thee.

22 [11] Beholde therefore the [x] bountifulneſſe, and ſeueritie of God: toward them which haue fallen, ſeueritie: but toward thee, bountifulneſſe, if thou continue in his [y] bountifulneſſe: or els thou ſhalt alſo be cut off.

23 [12] And they alſo, if they abide not ſtill in vnbeliefe, ſhall be graffed in: for God is able to graffe them in againe.

24 For if thou waſt cut out of the Oliue tree, which was wilde by [z] nature, and waſt graffed contrary to nature in a [a] right Oliue tree, howe much more ſhall they that are by nature, bee graffed in their owne Oliue tree?

25 [13] For I would not, brethren, that ye ſhould be ignorant of this ſecret (leaſt ye ſhoulde be arrogant in your [b] ſelues) that partly obſtinacie is come to Iſrael, vntill the fulneſſe of the Gentiles be [c] come in.

26 And ſo all Iſrael ſhall bee ſaued, as it is written, ✣ The deliuerer ſhall come out of Sion, and ſhall turne away the vngodlineſſe from Iacob.

27 And this is my couenant to them, ∴ When I ſhall take away their ſinnes.

28 [14] As concerning the [d] Goſpel, they are enemies for your ſakes: but as touching the [e] election, they are beloued for the fathers ſakes.

29 [15] For the giftes and calling of God are without repentance.

30 [16] For euen as yee in times paſt haue not beleeued God, yet haue nowe obteined mercie through their vnbeliefe:

31 Euen ſo nowe haue they not beleeued by the mercie ſhewed vnto you, that they alſo may obtaine mercie.

32 For God hath ſhut vp [f] all in vnbeliefe, that he might haue mercie on all.

33 [17] O the deepeneſſe of the riches, both of the wiſdome, and knowledge of God! howe vnſearcheable are his [g] iudgements, and his [h] wayes paſt finding out!

34 ✣ [18] For who hath knowen the minde of the Lord? or who was his counſellour?

35 Or who hath giuen vnto him [i] firſt, and he ſhalbe recompenſed?

36 For of him, and through him, and for [k] him are all things: to him be glory for euer. Amen.

q In place of thoſe boughes which are broken off.

r It is againſt the common courſe of husbandrie, that the barren impe is changed with the iuyce of the good tree.

s We may reioyce in the Lord, but ſo that we deſpiſe not the Iewes, whom we ought rather to prouoke to that good ſtriuing with vs.

t See that thou ſtand in awe of God modeſtly and carefully.

u He calleth them naturall, not becauſe they had any holineſſe of nature, but becauſe they were borne of them whom the Lord ſet apart for himſelfe, from other nations, by his league and couenant which he freely made with them.

11 Seeing the matter it ſelfe declareth that election commeth not by inheritance (although the fault be in men, and not in God, why the bleſsing of God is not perpetuall) wee muſt take good heede that that be not found in our ſelues, which we thinke blame worthy in others, for the election is ſure, but they that are truely elect and engraffed, are not proude in themſelues with contempt of other, but with due reuerence to God and loue towardes their neighbour, runne to the marke which is ſet before them. x The tender and louing heart. y In that ſtate which God his bountifulneſſe hath aduanced thee vnto: and we muſt marke here, that he ſpeaketh not of ehe election of euery priuate man which remaineth ſteadfaſt for euer, but of the election of the whole nation.

12 Many are now for a ſeaſon cut off, that is, are without the roote, which in their time ſhalbe graffed in: and againe there are a great ſort, which after a ſort, and touching the outwarde ſhewe ſeeme to bee ingraffed, which notwithſtanding through their owne fault afterward are cut off, and cleane caſt away: Which thing is eſpecially to be conſidered in nations and peoples, as in the Gentiles and Iewes. z Vnderſtand nature, not as it was firſt made, but as it was corrupted in Adam, and ſo deriued from him to his poſteritie. a Vnto the people of the Iewes, which God had ſanctified of his meere grace: and he ſpeaketh of the whole nation, not of euery one part.

13 The blindeneſſe of the Iewes is neither ſo vniuerſall that the Lord hath no elect in that nation, neither ſhall it be continuall: for there ſhall be ſome wherein they alſo (as the Prophets haue forewarned) ſhall effectually embrace that, which they doe now ſo ſtubburnely for the moſt part reiect and refuſe. b That ye be not proude within your ſelues. c Vnto the Church. ✣ Eſai 59.20. ∴ Eſai 27.9.

14 Againe, that he may ioyne the Iewes and Gentiles together as it were in one body, and eſpecially may teach what duetie the Gentiles owe to the Iewes, hee beateth this into their heads, that the nation of the Iewes is not vtterly caſt off without hope of recouerie. d For ſmuch as they receiue it not. e In that, that God reſpecteth not what they deſerue, but what he promiſed to Abraham.

15 The reaſon or proofe: becauſe the couenant made with that nation is life euerlaſting, cannot be fruſtrate and vaine.

16 Another reaſon: becauſe that although that they which are hardened, are worthily puniſhed, yet hath not this ſtubburneſſe of the Iewes ſo come to paſſe properly for anhatred to that nation, but that an entrie might as it were be opened to bring in the Gentiles, and afterward the Iewes being inflamed with emulation of that mercie which is ſhewed to the Gentiles, might themſelues alſo be partakers of the ſame benefite, and ſo it might appeare that both Iewes and Gentiles are ſaued onely by the free mercie and grace of God, which couldde not haue bene ſo manifeſt, if at the beginning, God had brought all together into the Church, or if hee had ſaued the nation of the Iewes without this interruption. f Both Iewes and Gentiles. 17 The Apoſtle cryeth out as aſtonished with this wonderfull wiſedome of God, which hee teacheth vs ought to bee religiouſly reuerenced, and not curiouſly and profanely to be ſearched beyond the compaſſe of that that God hath reueiled vnto vs. g The counſe that hee holdeth in gouerning all things both generally and particularly. h The order of his counſels and doings. ✣ Iob 41.2. eſai.40.13. 1.corinth.2.16.

18 Hee brideleth three maner of wayes, the wicked boldeneſſe of man: Firſt, becauſe that God is aboue all, moſt wiſe, and therefore it is very abſurd, and plainely godleſſe to meaſure him by our follie. Moreouer, becauſe he is detter to no man, and therefore no man can complaine of iniurie done vnto him. Thirdly, becauſe all things are made for his glory, and therefore we muſt referre all things to his glory, much leſſe may we contend and debate the matter with him. i This ſaying ouerthroweth the doctrine of foreſeene workes and merites. k To wit, for God, to whoſe glory all things are referred, not onely things that were made, but eſpecially his newe workes which he worketh in his elect.

CHAP. XII.

1 He exhorteth 2 to that worſhip which is acceptable to God: 9 to loue vnfained, 14, 20 euen towards our enemies.

I Beſeech [1] you therefore brethren, [a] by the mercies of God, that ye [b] giue vp your [c] bodies a [d] liuing ſacrifice, holy, acceptable vnto God, which is your [e] reaſonable ſeruing of God.

1 The fourth part of this Epiſtle, which after the finiſhing of the chiefe poyntes of Chriſtian doctrine, conſiſteth in declaring of precepts of Chriſtian life. And firſt of all, hee giueth generall precepts and grounds: the chiefeſt whereof is this, that euery man conſecrate himſelfe wholly to the ſpirituall ſeruice of God, and doe as it were

2 [2] And faſhion not your ſelues like vnto this worlde, but bee yee changed by the renewing of your [f] minde, that yee may ✣ prooue what that good, and acceptable and perfect will of God is.

3 [3] For I [g] ſay through the grace that is giuen vnto me, to euery one that is among you, that no man [h] preſume to vnderſtande aboue that which is meete to vnderſtand, but that he vnderſtand according to [i] ſobrietie, as God hath dealt to euery man the ∴ meaſure of [k] faith.

a By this preface he ſheweth that Gods glory is the vtmoſt ende of all our doings. b In times paſt the ſacrifices were preſented before the altar, but nowe the altar is euery where. c Your ſelues: in times paſt, other bodies then our owne, nowe our owne muſt bee offered. d In time paſt, dead ſacrifices were offered, but nowe we muſt offer ſuch as haue the ſpirite of life in them. e Spirituall.

2 The ſecond precept is this, That wee take not other mens opinions or maners for a rule of life, that we wholly renouncing this world, ſet before vs as our marke, the will of God, as is manifeſted and opened vnto vs in his worde. f Why then there is no place left for reaſon, which the heathen Philoſophers place as a Queene in a Caſtell, nor for mans free will, which the Popiſh ſchoolemen dreame on, if the minde muſt be renued. Looke Epheſians 1.18. and 2.3. and 4.17. and Coloſsians 1.21. ✣ Epheſians 5.17. 1.theſſ 4.3.

3 Thirdly, hee admoniſheth vs very earneſtly, that euery man keepe himſelfe within the boundes of his vocation, and that euery man be wiſe according to the meaſure of grace that God hath giuen him. g I charge. h That hee pleaſe not him ſelfe too much, as they doe, which perſwade themſelues they knowe more then in deede they doe. i We ſhall be ſober, if we take not that vpon vs, which we haue not, and if we bragge not of that we haue. ∴ 1 Corin.12.11. 1.theſſ.4.7. k By faith he meaneth the knowledge of God in Chriſt, and the giftes which the holy Ghoſt powreth vpon the faithfull.

4 There is a double reason of the precept going afore: the one is, because God hath not committed euery thing to be done of euery man: and therfore, he doeth backewardly, and not only vnprofitably, but also to the great disprofite of others, who rasheth himselfe & others, which passeth the bounds of his vocation: the other is, for that this diuersitie & inequalitie of vocations and giftes, redoundeth to our commoditie: seeing that the same is therefore instituted and appointed, that we should be bound one to another. Whereupon it followeth, that no man ought to be grieued thereat, seeing that the vse of euery priuate gift is cõmon. ✣ 1. Peter 4.10.

5 That which he spake before in generall, he applieth particularly to the holy functions, wherein men offend with greater danger. And he deuideth them into two sortes, to wit, into Prophets, and Deacons: and againe he deuideth the Prophets into Doctours, and Pastours. And of Deacons he maketh three sortes: to wit, the one to be such as are (as it were) treasurers of the Church Cofers, whome he calleth properly Deacons: the other to be the gouernours of discipline, who are called Seniours or Elders: the third, to be such as properly serued in the helpe of the poore, of which sort the companie of widowes were. l That euery man obserue the measure of that which is reuealed vnto him. m Whose office only is to expound the Scriptures. n Who in other places is called the Pastour. o To wit, the almes, that he distribute them faithfully, & without respect of person. ✣ Matth.6.2. 2.Corinth 9.7. p The Elders of the Church. q They that are busied about vrging on the poore, must do it with cheerefulnesse, least they addeforowe to sorowe.

6 Nowe hee commeth to the dueties of the second Table, which he deriueth from charitie, which is as it were the fountaine of them all. And he defineth Christian charitie by syncerittie, hatred of euill, earnest studie of good things, good affection to helpe our neighbour, & whose finall ende is the glory of God. ∵ Amos 5.15. ✣ *Ephes.*4.2. 1.peter 2.17. r This piece is well put in, for it maketh difference betweene Christian dueties, and Philosophicall dueties.

1 He willeth that we submit our selues to Magistrates: 8 To loue our neighbours: 13 To liue vprightly, 14 and to put on Christ.

LEt ✣ [1] euery [a] soule be subiect vnto the higher [2] powers: 3 for there is no power but of God: and the powers that be, are [b] ordeined of God.

2 Whosoeuer therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist, shall receiue to themselues condemnation.

3 4 For Magistrates are not to be feared for good workes, but for euill. 5 Wilt thou then bee without feare of the power? doe well: so shalt thou haue praise of the same,

4 For he is the minister of God for thy wealth, [6] but if thou do euil, feare: for he beareth not the sword for nought: for he is the minister of God to [c] take vengeance on him that doeth euill.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 He willeth that we so deale with the weake in faith, 15 that through our faults they be not offended. 19 And on the other side he commaundeth them not rashly to iudge of the stronger: 19 That within the bounds of edification 20 and charitie, 22 Christian libertie may consist.

1 Now he sheweth how we ought to behaue our selues toward our brethren in matters and things indifferent, offending in the vse of them, not of malice, or damnable superstition, but for lacke of knowledge of the benefite of Christ. And thus he teacheth that they are to be instructed gently and patiently, & so that we applie our selues to their ignorãce in such matters, according to ỹ rule of charitie.

HIm m that is weake in the faith, a receiue vnto you, but not for b controuersies of disputations.

2 2 One c beleeueth that hee may eate of all things: and another, which is weake, eateth herbes.

3 3 Let not him that eateth, despise him ỹ eateth not: and let not him which eateth not, condemne him that eateth: for 4 God hath receiued him.

4 ✣ 5 Who art thou that condemnest another mans seruant? he standeth or falleth to his owne master: yea, he shalbe established: for God is able to make him stand.

5 6 This man esteemeth one day aboue another day, and another man counteth euery day alike: 7 let d euery man bee fully perswaded in his minde.

6 8 He that e obserueth the day, obserueth it to the Lorde: and he that obserueth not the day, obserueth it not to the f Lorde. He that g eateth, eateth to the Lord: 9 for he giueth God thankes: and he that eateth h not, eateth not to the Lorde, and giueth God thankes.

7 10 For none of vs liueth to i himselfe, neither doeth any die to himselfe.

8 For whether we liue, we liue vnto the Lord: or whether we die, we die vnto the Lord: whether we liue therefore, or die, we are the Lords.

9 For Christ therefore dyed and rose againe, and reuiued, that he might be Lorde both of the dead and the quicke.

10 11 But why doest thou condemne thy brother? or why doest thou despise thy brother? ✣ for we shal all appeare before the iudgement seate of Christ.

11 For it is written, ✣ I k liue, saith the Lorde, and euery knee shal bowe to me, and all tongues shall l confesse vnto God.

12 So then euery one of vs shall giue accounts of himselfe to God.

13 12 Let vs not therefore iudge one another any more: but vse your iudgement rather in m this, that no man put an occasion to fall, or a stumbling blocke before his brother.

14 13 I knowe, and am perswaded through the n Lord Iesus, that there is nothing vncleane of it o selfe: but vnto him that iudgeth any thing to be vncleane, to him it is vncleane.

15 But if thy brother be grieued for the meate, nowe walkest thou not charitably: ·:· 14 destroy not him with thy meate, for whome 15 Christ dyed.

16 16 Cause not your commoditie to be euill spoken of.

17 17 For the kingdome of God, is not meate nor drinke, but righteousnes, and peace, and ioy in the holy Ghost.

18 For whosoeuer in p these things serueth Christ, is acceptable vnto God, and is approoued of men.

19 18 Let vs then followe those things which concerne peace, and wherewith one may edifie another.

a Doe not for a matter or thing that is indifferent, and such as you may doe or not doe, shunne his companie, but take him to you. b To make him by your doubtfull and vncertaine disputations goe away more in doubt then he came, or start backe with a troubled conscience. 2 He propoũdeth for an example, the difference of meates, which some thought was necessarily to be obserued as a thing prescribed by the Law (not knowing ỹ it was taken away) whereas on the contrary side such as had profited in the knowledge of the Gospel, knew well that this scholemaistership of the Law was abolished. c Knoweth by faith. 3 In such a matter, saith ỹ Apostle, let neither them which know their libertie, proudly despise their weake brother, neither let the vnlearned crabbedly or frowardly condemne that, that they vnderstand not. 4 The first reason: Because ỹ seeing both he ỹ eateth, and he that eateth not, is notwithstanding the member of Christ, neither he which eateth not, can iustly be contemned, neither hee which eateth, bee iustly condemned: Nowe the first proposition is declared in the sixth verse following. ✣ Iam.4.12. 5 An other reason which hangeth vpon the former: why the ruder & more vnlearned ought not to be condemned of the more skilfull, as men without hope of saluation: Because, saith the Apostle, he ỹ is ignorant to day, may be induced to morow ẅ further knowledge, so that he also may stand sure: Therefore it belongeth to God, & not vnto man, to pronounce the sentence of condemnation. 6 An other example of ỹ difference of dayes according to the Law. 7 He setteth against this contempt, & hastie or rash iudgements, a continuall desire to profite, that the strong may be certainly perswaded of their libertie, of what maner & sort it is, & how they ought to vse it: and againe the weake may daily profit, least either they abuse the gift of God, or these please themselues in their infirmitie. d That he may say in his conscience, that he knoweth & is perswaded by Iesus Christ, that nothing is vncleane of it selfe. & this perswasion must be grounded vpon the word of God. 8 A reason taken frõ the nature of indifferent things, which a man may with good conscience doe, & omit: for seeing that the difference of dayes and meates was appointed by God, howe could they which as yet vnderstood not the abrogating of the Law, and yet otherwise acknowledged Christ as their Sauiour, ẅ good conscience neglect that which they knew was commanded of God? And on the contrary side, they ỹ knew the benefite of Christ in this behalfe, did with good conscience neither obserue dayes nor meates. Therefore saith the Apostle vers 10. Let not the strong condemne the weake for these things, seeing ỹ the weake brethren are brethren notwithstanding. Nowe if any man would draw this doctrine to these our times & ages, let him know that the Apostle speaketh of such things indifferent, as they which thought them not to be indifferent, had a ground in the Law, and were deceiued by simple ignorance, & not of malice, (for to such the Apostle yeelded not, no not for a moment) nor superstition, but of a religious feare of God. e Obserueth precisely. f God shall iudge whether he doe well or no: And therefore you should rather striue about this, how euery one of you may be allowed of God, then to thinke vpon other mens doings. g He that maketh no difference of meates. 9 So the Apostle sheweth ỹ he speaketh of the faithfull, both strong & weake. But what if we haue to doe with infidels? Then must we here take heede of two things, as also is declared in the Epistle to the Corinthians. The one is, that we count not their superstition among things indifferent, as they did which sate down to meate in Idols Temples: the other is, that then also when the matter is indifferent (as to buy a thing offered to idols, in the butchers shambles, and to eate it at home in a priuate banquet) we wound not the conscience of our weake brother.

b Hee that toucheth not meates which he taketh to be vncleane by the Lawe. 10 We must not sticke, saith he, in the meate it selfe, but in the vse of the meate, so that he is iustly to be reprehended that liueth so, that hee casteth not his eies vpon God. For both our life & our death is dedicated to him, and for this cause Christ hath properly dyed, and not simplie that we might eate this meate or that.

i Hath respect to himselfe onely, which the Hebrues vtter after this sort, Doeth well to his owne soule.

11 The conclusion: wee must leaue to God his right, and therefore in matters, which according as the conscience is affected, are either good or euil, the strong must not despise their weake brethren, much lesse condemne them. But this consequent cannot be taken of equall force in the contrary, to wit, that the weake should not iudge the strong, because the weake doe not knowe, that they which doe not obserue a day, and eate, obserue it not to the Lord, and eate to the Lord, as the strong men know that the weake which obserue a day and eate not, obserue the day to the Lorde, and eate not to the Lorde. ✣ 2.Cor.1.10. ✣ Isai.45.23. philip.2.10. k This is a forme of an othe, proper to God onely, for he and none but he liueth, and hath his being of himselfe. l Shall acknowledge mee for God. 12 After that hee hath concluded what is not to be done, he sheweth what is to be done: to wit, wee must take heede that wee doe not vtterly cast downe with abusing our libertie, our brother which is not yet strong. m He rebuketh by the way, these malicious iudgers of others, which occupie their heads about nothing, but to finde faults with their brethrens life, whereas they should rather bestowe their wits vpon this, that they doe not with their disdainefulnesse either cast their brethren cleane downe, or giue them some offence. 13 The preuenting of an obiection: It is true that the scholemaistership of the Lawe is taken away by the benefite of Christ, to such as knowe it, but yet notwithstanding wee haue to consider in the vse of this libertie, what is expedient, that we may haue regarde of our weake brother, seeing that our libertie is not lost thereby. n By the Spirit of the Lorde Iesus, or by the Lorde Iesus, who, I am sure, brake downe the wall at his comming. o By nature. ·:· 1.Corinth.8.11. 14 It is the part of a cruell minde to make more account of meate, then of our brothers saluation. Which thing they doe, that presume to eate with the offence of any brother, and so giue him occasion to goe backe from the Gospell. 15 Another argument: We must followe Christes example: who was so farre from destroying the weake with meate, that he gaue his life for them. 16 Another argument: for that by this meanes the libertie of the Gospel is euill spoken of, as though it openeth the way to attempt any thing whatsoeuer, and boldeneth vs to all things. 17 A generall reason, and the ground of all the other arguments: The kingdome of heauen consisteth not in these outwarde things, but in the studie of righteousnesse and peace, and comfort of the holy Ghost. p He that liueth peaceably, and dieth righteously through the holy Ghost. 18 A generall conclusion: The vse of this libertie, yea and our whole life, ought to be referred to the edifying of one another, in so much that we esteeme that thing vnlawfull by reason of the offence of our brother, which is of it selfe pure and lawfull.

20 Destroy not the worke of God for meates sake: ✣ all things in deede are pure: but it is euill for the man which eateth with offence.

21 ✣ It is good neither to eate flesh, nor to drinke wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or made weake.

22 19 Hast thou q faith? haue it with thy selfe before God: blessed is hee that condemneth not himselfe in that thing which he r alloweth.

23 For he that s doubteth, is condemned if he eate, because he eateth not of faith: & whatsoeuer is not of faith, is sinne.

✣ Titus 1.15.
✣ 2.*Cor.*6.13.
19 He giueth a double warning in these matters, one, which perteineth to the strong, that he which hath obteined a sure knowledge of this libertie, keepe that treasure to the ende he may vse it wisely and profitably, as hath bene sayde: the other which respecteth the weake, that they do nothing rashly by other mens example with a wauering cõscience, for that can not be done without sinne, whereof we are not perswaded by the worde of God, that he liketh and approoueth it.

CHAP. XV.

1 The stronger must imploye their strength to strengthen the weake, 3 By Christes example, 7 who receiued 8 not onely the Iewes, 10 but also the Gentiles. 15 The cause why hee wrote this Epistle.

1 Nowe the Apostle reasoneth generally of tolerating or bearing with the weake by all meanes, so farre forth as may be for their profite.
a And despise others.
b For his profite and edification.

WE 1 which are strong, ought to beare the infirmities of the weake, & not to a please our selues.

2 Therefore let euery man please his neighbour in that that is b good to edification.

2 A confirmation taken of the example of Christ, who suffered all things, to bring not onely the weake, but also his most cruell enemies, ouercomming them with patience, to his Father.
✣ *Psal.*69.10.

3 2 For Christ also would not please himselfe, but as it is written, ✣ The rebukes of them which rebuke thee, fell on me.

3 The preuenting of an obiection: Such things as are cited out of the examples of the ancients, are propounded vnto vs to this ende and purpose, that according to the example of our Fathers, we should in patience and hope beare one with another.
c By Moses and the Prophets. d The Scriptures are sayd to teach and comfort, because God vseth them to teach and comfort his people withall.

4 3 For whatsoeuer things are written c aforetime, are written for our learning, that we through patience, and comfort of the d Scriptures might haue hope.

4 We must take an example of patience, of God: that both the weake & the strong seruing God with a mutuall consent, may bring one another to God, as Christ also receiued vs vnto himselfe, although we were neuer so vnworthy.
✣ 1.*Cor.*1.10.
e He did not disdaine vs, but receiued vs of his owne accord, to make vs partakers of Gods glory.

5 4 Now the God of patience and consolation giue you that ye be alike minded one toward another, according to Christ Iesus,

6 That yee with one minde, and with one mouth may prayse God, euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ.

5 An applying of the same to the Gentiles, whome also the Lord of his incomprehensible goodnesse had regard of, so that they are not to be contemned of the Iewes, as strangers.

7 Wherefore receiue ye one another, as Christ also e receiued vs to the glory of God.

8 5 Now I say, that Iesus Christ was a minister of the f circumcision, for the g trueth of God, to confirme the promises made vnto the fathers.

9 6 And let the Gentiles prayse God, for his mercie, as it is written, ✣ For this cause I wil h confesse thee among the Gentiles, and sing vnto thy Name.

10 And againe he sayth, * Reioyce, yee Gentiles with his people.

11 And againe, ✣ Prayse the Lord, all ye Gentiles, and laude ye him, all people together.

12 And againe Esaias sayth, ✣ There shall be a roote of Iesse, & he that shal rise to reigne ouer the Gentiles, in him shall the Gentiles trust.

6 Of the circumcised Iewes, for as long as he liued, he neuer went out of their quarters.

13 7 Now the God of i hope fill you with k all ioye, and peace in beleeuing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the holy Ghost.

7 He sealeth vp as it were all the former treatise with prayers, wishing all that to be giuen them of the Lord, that he had commanded them.
i In whome we hope.
k Abundantly and plentifully.

14 8 And I my selfe also am perswaded of you, my brethren, that l ye also are full of goodnesse, and filled with all knowledge, and are able to admonish one another.

8 The conclusion of the Epistle, wherein he first excuseth himselfe, that he hath written somewhat at large vnto them, rather to warne them, then to teach them, and that of necessitie, by reason of his vocation, which bindeth him peculiarly to the Gentiles.
l Of your owne accorde, and of your selues.

15 Neuertheless, brethren, I haue somewhat boldly after a sort written vnto you, as one that putteth you in remembrance, through the grace that is giuen me of God,

16 That I should be the minister of Iesus Christ toward the Gentiles, ministring the Gospel of God, that the m offering vp of the Gentiles might be acceptable, being sanctified by the holy Ghost.

m By the offering vp of the Gentiles, hee meaneth the Gẽtiles themselues, whom hee offered to God as a sacrifice.

17 9 I haue therefore whereof I may reioyce in Christ Iesus in those things which pertaine to God.

9 He commendeth his Apostleship highly, by the effects, but yet so, that moreouer and besides that hee speaketh all things truely, he giueth all the glory to God as the onely authour: and doeth not properly respect himselfe, but this rather, that men might lesse doubt of the trueth of the doctrine which he propoundeth vnto them.

18 For I dare not speake of any thing, which n Christ hath not wrought by mee, to make the Gentiles obedient in worde and deede, n Christ was so with mee in all things, and by all meanes, that if I would neuer so faine, yet I cannot say, what he hath done by me to bring the Gentiles to obey the Gospel.

19 With the o power of signes and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God: so that from Hierusalem, and round about vnto Illyricum, I haue caused to abound the Gospel of Christ.

o In the first place this worde, Power, signifieth the force and working of the wonders in pearcing mens mindes: for in the latter, it signifieth Gods mightie power which was the worker of those wonders. ✣ *Isai.*32.15. ✣ *Chap.*1.11.

20 Yea, so I enforced my selfe to preache the Gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should haue built on another mans foundation.

21 But as it is written, ✣ To whom he was not spoken of, they shall see him, and they that heard not, shall vnderstand him.

22 ✣ 10 Therefore also I haue bene oft let to come vnto you:

10 He writeth at large to the Romanes, and that familiarly, his singular good wil towards them, & the state of his affaires, but so, that he swarueth not a iote from the ende of Apostolicall doctrine: for he declareth nothing but that which appertaineth to his office & is godly: and commending by a litle digression as it were, the liberalitie of the Churches of Macedonia, he prouoketh them modestly to follow their godly deede.
✣ 1.*Thes.*1.17.

23 But nowe seeing I haue no more place in these quarters, and also haue ✣ bene desirous many yeeres agone to come vnto you, 24 When I shal take my iourney into Spaine, I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my iourney, & to be brought on my way thitherward by you, after that I haue bene somewhat filled with your company.

25 But now go I to Hierusalem, to p minister vnto the Saints.

26 For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia, to make a certaine distribution vnto the poore Saints which are at Hierusalem.

5 Likewise greete the [b] Church that is in their house. Salute my beloued Epenetus, which is the [c] first fruites of Achaia in Christ.

6 Greete Marie which bestowed much labour on vs.

7 Salute Andronicus and Iunia my cousins and fellowe prisoners, which are notable among the Apostles, and were in [d] Christ before mee.

8 Greete Amplias my beloued in the Lorde.

9 Salute Vrbanus our fellow helper in Christ, and Stachys my beloued.

10 Salute Appelles approued in Christ. Salute them which are of Aristobulus friendes.

11 Salute Herodion my kinsman. Greete them which are of the friendes of Narcissus which are in the Lord.

12 Salute Tryphena and Tryphosa, which women labour in the Lorde. Salute the beloued Persis, which woman hath laboured much in the Lord.

13 Salute Rufus chosen in the Lord, and his mother and mine.

14 Greete Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Mercurius, and the brethren which are with them.

15 Salute Philologus and Iulias, Nereas, and his sister, and Olympas, and all the Saintes which are with them.

16 Salute one another with an [e] holy kisse. The Churches of Christ salute you.

17 ¶ [2] Nowe I beseech you brethren, [f] marke them diligently which cause diuision and offences, contrarie to the doctrine which ye haue learned, and [g] auoide them.

18 For they that are such, serue not the Lorde Iesus Christ but their owne bellies, and with faire speach and flattering deceiue the heartes of the simple.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAVL TO THE CORINTHIANS.

CHAP. I.

1 After the salutation, 10 which in effect is an exhortation, 12 Hee reprehendeth the Corinthians sectes and diuisions, 17 and calleth them from pride to humilitie: 20 For, ouerthrowing all worldly wisedome, 23. 25 he aduanceth onely the preaching of the crosse.

1 The institution of the Epistle, wherein he chiefly goeth about to procure the good will of the Corinthians towardes him, yet notwithstanding so, that alwayes he letteth them to wit, that he is the seruant of God and not of men.

2 If he be an Apostle, then he must be heard, although he sometimes reprehend them sharpely, seeing he hath not his owne cause in hand, but is a messenger that bringeth the commandements of Christ.

3 He ioyneth Sosthenes with himselfe, that this doctrine might be confirmed by two witnesses.

4 It is a Church of God, although it hath great faults in it, so that it obey them which admonish it. ✣ Actes 15.9. 1.thess.4.7.

5 A true definition of the Catholique Church, which is one. a The father sanctifieth vs, that is to say, separateth vs from the wicked, ingiuing vs to his Sonne, that hee may be in vs, and we in him. ✣ Rom.1 7.ephes.1.1.coloss.1.22. 1.tim.1.9. titus.2.3. b Whome God of his gracious goodnes and meere loue hath separated for himselfe: or whome God hath called to holynesse: the first of these two expositions sheweth from whence our sanctification commeth, and the second, sheweth to what ende it tendeth. ∵ 2.Tim.1.21. c He is saide properly to call on God, who cryeth vnto the Lorde when hee is in danger, and craueth helpe at his handes: and by the figure Synecdoche it is taken for all the seruice of God: and therefore to call vpon Christes Name, is to acknowledge and take him for very God. 6 The foundation and the lyfe of the Church, is Christ Iesus giuen of the Father. 7 Going about to condemne many vices, hee beginneth with a true commendation of their vertues, lest he might seeme after to descend to chiding, being moued with malice or enuie: yet so, that he referreth all to God as the authour of them, and that in Christ, that the Corinthians might be more ashamed to prophane and abuse the holy gifts of God. 8 He toucheth that by name, which they most abused. d Seeing that whiles wee liue here, wee knowe but in part, and prophecie in part, this worde (All) must be restrained to the present state of the faithfull: but by speache he meaneth not a vaine kinde of babling, but the gift of holy eloquence, which the Corinthians abused. 9 Hee sheweth that the true vse of these giftes consisteth herein, that the mightie power of Christ might thereby be set foorth in them, that hereafter it might euidently appeare how wickedly they abused them to glory and ambition. e By those excellent giftes of the holy Ghost. ✣ Titus.1.2. 11.philip.3.20. 10 Hee sayeth by the way, that there is no cause why they shoulde please themselues so much in those giftes which they had receiued, seeing that those were nothing in comparison of them which are to be looked for. f He speaketh of the last comming of Christ. ✣ 1.Thessa.3.13. and 5. 23. 11 He testifieth that he hopeth wel of them hereafter, that they may more patiently abide his reprehension afterwarde. And yet together therewithall sheweth, that as well the beginning as the accomplishing of our saluation is onely the worke of God. g Hee calleth them blamelesse, not whome man neuer founde fault with, but with whome no man can iustly finde fault, that is to say, them which are in Christ Iesus, in whome there is no condemnation. See Luke.1.6. * 1.Thessa.5.24. h True and constant, who doeth not onely call vs, but giueth vs the gift of perseuerance also. 12 Hauing made an ende of the preface, hee commeth to the matter it selfe, beginning with a most graue obtestation, as though they shoulde heare Christ himselfe speaking and not Paul.

PAul [1] called to be an [2] Apostle of Iesus Christ, through the will of God, and our brother [3] Sosthenes,

2 [4] Vnto the Church of God, which is at Corinthus, to them that are ✣ [5] sanctified in [a] Christ Iesus, ✣ Saintes by [b] calling, ∵ with all that [c] call on the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ in euery place, both their Lord, and ours:

3 [6] Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

4 [7] I thanke my God alwayes on your behalfe for the grace of God, which is giuen you in Iesus Christ,

5 That in all things yee are made rich in him, 8 in [d] all kinde of speach, and in all knowledge:

6 [9] As the testimonie of Iesus Christ hath bene [e] confirmed in you:

7 So that yee are not destitute of any gift: ✣ [10] wayting for the [f] appearing of our Lorde Iesus Christ.

8 ✣ [11] Who shall also confirme you vnto the ende, that ye may be [g] blamelesse, in the day of our Lord Iesus Christ.

9 * God is [h] faithfull, by whome ye are called vnto the felowship of his sonne Iesus Christ our Lord.

10 [12] Nowe I beseeche you, brethren, by the Name of our Lorde Iesus Christ, that [13] yee all speake one thing, and that there be no dissentions among you: but bee yee [i] knit together in one minde, and in one iudgement.

11 [14] For it hath bene declared vnto me, my brethren, of you by them that are of the house of Cloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 Nowe [k] this I say, that euery one of you saith, I am Pauls, and I am ✣ Appollos, and I am Cephas, and I am Christs.

13 [15] Is Christ diuided? was [16] Paul crucified for you? either were ye [17] baptized into the name of Paul?

14 [18] I thanke God, that I baptized none of you, but ✣ Crispus, and Gaius, 15 Lest any should say, that I had baptized into mine owne name.

16 I baptized also the household of Stephanas: furthermore know I not, whether I baptized any other.

17 [19] For CHRIST sent mee not to baptize, but to preache the Gospel, [20] not with ∵ wisedome of wordes, lest the [21] crosse of Christ should be made of none effect.

13 The first part of this Epistle, wherein his purpose is, to call back the Corimbians to brotherly concord, and to take away all occasion of discord. So then this first part concerneth the taking away of schismes. Nowe a schisme is when men which otherwise agree and consent together in doctrine, doe yet separate themselues one from another.

i Knit together, as a bodie that consisteth of all his parties fitly knit together.

14 Hee beginneth his reprehension and chiding by taking away of an obiection: for that he vnderstoode by good witnesses, that there were many factions among them. And therewithall he openeth the cause of dissentions, because that some did hang on one doctour, some on another, and some were so addicted to themselues, that they neglected all doctours & teachers, calling themselues the disciples of Christ onely, shutting foorth their teachers. k The matter I would say to you, is this. ✣ Actes.18.24. 15 The first reason why schismes ought to be eschewed: because Christ seemeth by that meanes, to be diuided and torne in pieces, who can not be the head of two diuers and disagreeing bodies, being himselfe one. 16 Another reason: Because they cannot without great iniurie to God, so hang of men as of Christ: which thing no doubt they doe, which allowe whatsoeuer some man speaketh, euen for his persons sake: as these men allowed one selfe same Gospel being vttered of one man, and did lothe it being vttered of another man. So that these factions were called by the names of their teachers. Now Paul setteth downe his owne name not onely to griene no man, but also to shewe that he pleadeth not his owne cause. 17 The third reason taken of the forme and end of Baptisme, wherein we make a promise to Christ, calling on also the Name of the Father and the holy Ghost. Therefore although a man doe not fall from the doctrine of Christ, yet if he hang vpon some certaine teachers, and despise others, he forsaketh Christ: for if he hold Christ his onely master, he wolde heare him, teaching by whomsoeuer. 18 He protesteth that hee speaketh so much the more boldly of these things, because that through Gods prouidence he is voide of all suspicion of chalenging disciples vnto himself, and taking them from others. Whereby we may vnderstand, that not the schollers onely, but the teachers also are here reprehended, which gathered themselues flockes apart. ✣ Actes.18.8. 19 The taking away of an obiection: that he gaue not him selfe to baptize many amongst them: not for the contempt of Baptisme, but because he was chiefely occupyed in delinering the doctrine, and committed them that receiued his doctrine to others to be baptized, whereof he had store. And so he declared sufficiently how farre he was from all ambition: whereupon the other side, they whom he reprehendeth, as though they gathered disciples vnto themselues & not vnto Christ, bragged most ambitiously of nombers, which they had baptized. 20 Nowe he turneth himselfe to the doctours themselues, which pleased themselues in braue & ambitious eloquence, to the ende that they might drawe more disciples after them. He confesseth plainely that he was vnlike vnto them, opposing granely as it became an Apostle, his example: gainst their peruerse iudgements: So that this is another place of this Epistle, touching the obseruing of a godly simplicitie both in wordes and sentences in teaching of the Gospel. ∵ Chap.2.13. 2.pet.1.16. l Wholeeloquence: which Paul casteth off from him not only as not necessarie, but also as flat contrary to the office of his Apostleship: and yet had Paul his kind of eloquence, but it was beseemly not of man, and voide of painted wordes. 21 The reason why he vsed not the pompe of words, and painted speach: because it was Gods will to bring the worlde to his obedience by that way, whereby the most idiots amongst men might vnderstand, that this worke was done of God himselfe without the arte of man. Therefore as saluation is set forth vnto vs in the Gospel by the crosse of Christ, then which nothing is more contemptible, and more farre from life, so God would haue the maner of the preaching of the crosse, most different from those meanes, with which men doe vse to drawe & entise other, either to heare or beleeue: therefore it pleased him by a certaine kind of most wise folly, to triumph ouer the most foolish wisedome of the world, as he had said before by Esay, that he would. And hereby we may gather, that both those doctours which were puffed vp with ambitious eloquence, and also their hearers, strayed farre away from the ende and marke of their vocation.

m The preaching of Christ crucified, or the kind of speach which we vse.

♣ Rom.1.16.

n It is that where in he declareth his marueilous power in saueing his elect, which would not so euidently appeare, if it hanged vpon any help of man: for so, man might attribute that to himselfe, which is proper only to the crosse of Christ.

21 The Apostle prooueth, that this ought not onely not to seeme strange, seeing that it was foretolde so long before, but declareth further, that God is wont to punish ỹ pride of the world in such sort, which so pleaseth it selfe in it owne wisdome: and therefore that that is vaine, yea a thing of nothing, and such as God reiecteth as vnprofitable, which they so carefully laboured for, and made so great accompt of.

♣ Esai.29.14.

o Where are thou, O thou learned fellow, and thou that spendest thy dayes in turning thy bookes? p Thou that spendest all thy time in seeking out the secrete things of this worlde, and in expounding al hard questions: and thus triumpheth he against all the men of this worlde, for there was not one of them that could so much as dreame vpon this secret and hidden mysterie.

23 He sheweth that the pride of men was woorthily punished of God, because they would not beholde God, as meete was they should, in the most cleare glasse of the wisedome of the world, which is the workemanship of the world. q By the world he meaneth all men which are not borne anew, but remaine as they were, when they were first borne. r In the workemanship of this worlde, which hath the marueilous wisedome of God engraued in it, so that euery man may beholde it.

24 The goodnesse of God is wonderfull, for while he goeth about to punish the pride of the worlde, hee is very prouident and carefull for the saluation of it, and teacheth men to become fooles, that they may be wise to God. s So he calleth the preaching of the Gospel as the enemies supposed it: but in the meane season hee taunteth them very sharpely, who had rather charge God with follie, then acknowledge their owne, and craue pardon for it.

t Matth.11.28. 25 A declaration of that which he said: that the preaching of the Gospel, is foolish. It is foolish saith he, to them whom God hath not indued with newe light, that is to say, to al men, being considered in themselues: for the Iewes require miracles, and the Grecians arguments, which they may comprehend by their witte and wisedome: and therefore they doe not onely not beleeue the Gospell, but also they mocke at it. Notwithstanding in this foolish preaching, there is the great vertue & wisdome of God, but such as those onely which are called do perceiue: God shewing most plainely, that euen then when madde men thinke him most foolish, he is farre wiser then they are: and that he surmounteth al their might and power, when he vseth most vile and abiect things, as it hath appeared in the fruit of the preaching of the Gospell. 26 A confirmation taken of those things which came to passe at Corinth, where the Church especially consisted of the basest and common people, insomuch that the philosophers of Greece were driuen to shame when they sawe that they could do nothing with their wisedome and eloquence, in comparison of the Apostles, whom notwithstanding they called Idiots and vnlearned. And here withal doth he beate down their pride: for God did not prefer them before those noble and wise men because they shoulde bee proude, but that they might be constrained euen whether they woulde or not, to reioyce in the Lorde, by whose mercie, although they were the most abiects of all, they had obtained in Christ, both this wisedome, and all things necessarie to saluation.

u What way the Lorde hath taken in calling you. x. After that kinde of wisedome which men make accompt of, as though there were none else: who because they are carnall, knowe not spirituall wisedome. x Which in mans iudgement are almost nothing. y To shew that they are vaine and vnprofitable, and nothing worth, see Romanes 3.31.

18 For that m preaching of the crosse is to them that perish, foolishnesse: but vnto vs, which are saued, it is the ♣ n power of God.

19 o For it is written, ♣ I will destroy the wisedome of the wise, and will cast away the vnderstanding of the prudent.

20 Where is the wise? where is the o Scribe? where is the p disputer of this worlde? hath not God made the wisedome of this worlde foolishnesse?

21 q For seeing the q worlde by wisedome knew not God in the r wisedome of GOD, it pleased God by the foolishnesse of preaching to saue them that beleeue:

22 ♣ s Seeing also that the Iewes require a signe, and the Grecians seeke after wisedome, 23 But we preach Christ crucified: vnto the Iewes, euen a stumbling blocke, and vnto the Grecians, foolishnesse:

24 But vnto them which are called, both of the Iewes and Grecians, we preach Christ, the power of God, and the wisedome of God.

25 For the foolishnesse of God is wiser then men, and the weakenesse of God is stronger then men.

26 t For brethren, you see your t calling, how that not many wise men u after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble are called.

27 But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise, and God hath chosen the weake thinges of the worlde, to confound the mightie things,

28 And vile things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen, and things which x are not, to bring to y nought things that are,

29 That no z flesh should reioyce in his presence.

30 But ye are a of him in Christ Iesus, 27 who of God is made vnto vs wisedome and righteousnesse, and sanctification, and redemption, 31 That, according as it is written, ♣ b Hee that reioyceth, let him reioyce in the Lord.

against this wher. a Whom he hath chosen before, now he listeth to preferre then all men: yet so, that he sheweth them that al their worthinesse is without themselues, and is founded in Christ, and that of God. 27 He teacheth that especially and aboue al things, the Gospel ought not to be contemned, seeing it conteineth the chiefest things that are to be desired, to wit, true wisedome, the true way to obtaine righteousnesse, the true way to liue honestly and godly, the true deliuerance from all miseries and calamities. ♣ Iere.9.24. 2.cor.10.17. b Let him yeeld all to God and giue him thankes: and so by this place is mans free will beaten downe, which the Papists so defende of.

CHAP. II.

1 He setteth downe a platforme of his preaching, 4 which was base in respect of mans wisedome, 7. 13 but noble in respect of the spirituall power and efficacie, 14 and so concludeth that flesh and blood cannot rightly iudge thereof.

AND 1 I, brethren, when I came to you, came not with ♣ excellencie of wordes, or of wisedome, shewing vnto you the a testimonie of God.

2 For I b esteemed not to knowe any thing among you, saue Iesus Christ, and him crucified.

3 c And I was among you in c weakenesse, and in feare, and in much trembling.

4 Neither stoode my word, and my preaching in the x entising speach of mans wisedome, d but in plaine d euidence of the Spirit and of power,

5 That your faith should not be in the wisdome of men, but in the power of God.

6 And we speake wisedome among them that are e perfect: not the wisdome of this world, neither of the f princes of this worlde, which come to nought.

7 But we speake the wisedome of God in a g mysterie, euen the hid wisedome, which God had determined before ỹ world, vnto our glorie.

8 Which none of the princes of this world hath knowen: for had they knowen it, they would not haue crucified the h Lord of glorie.

1 He returneth to the 17. verse of the former chapter, that is to say, to his owne example: confessing that he vsed not amongst them either excellencie of words or entising speach of mans wisdome, but with great simplicitie of speach both knew and preached Iesus Christ crucified, humble and abiect, as touching the flesh.

c He setteth weakenesse against extreame feare and trembling: which are the companions of true modestie, not such feare and trembling as terrifie the conscience, but such as are contrary to vanitie and pride. ✠ Chapter 1.17. 2.peter 1.16.

2 He turneth that nowe to the commendation of his ministerie, which hee had graunted to his aduersaries: for his vertues and power which they knewe well enough, was so much the more excellent, because it had no worldly helpe ioyned with it. d By plaine euidence he meaneth such a proofe, as is made by certaine and necessarie reasons. 3 And he telleth the Corinthians, that hee did it for their great profite, because they might thereby knowe manifestly, that the Gospell was from heaven. Therefore he priuily rebuketh them, because that in seeking vaine ostentation, they willingly depriued themselues of the greatest helpe of their faith. 4 Another argument taken of the nature of the thing, that is, of the Gospell, which is true wisedome, but knowen to them onely which are desirous of perfection: and is vnsauerie to them which otherwise excell in the worlde, but yet vainely and frailly. e Those are called perfect here, not which had gotten perfection already, but such as tende to it, as Philippians 3.15. So that perfect, is set against weake. f They that are wiser, richer, or mightier, then other men are. 5 He sheweth the cause why this wisedome can not bee perceiued of those excellent worldely wittes: to witte, because in deede it is so deepe, that they can not attaine vnto it. 7 Which mans coulde not so much as dreame of. 6 He taketh away an obiection: If it bee so harde, when and how is it knowen? God sayth he, determined with himselfe from the beginning, that which his purpose was to bring foorth at this time out of his secretes, for the saluation of men. 7 He taketh away an other obiection: why then, howe commeth it to passe, that this wisedome was so reiected of men of highest authoritie, that they crucified Christ himselfe? Paul answereth: be cause they knewe not Christ such as he was. h That mighte God full of true maiestie and glorie: Neyther place hath in it a most euident proofe of the diuinitie of Christ, and of his ioyning of the two natures in one, which hath this in it, that that which is proper to the manhoode alone, is vouched of the Godhead ioyned with the manhoode: which kinde of speach, is called of the olde fathers, a making common of things belonging to some one, with other to whome they do not belong.

8 Another obiection: But how could it be that thoſe wittie men could not perceiue this wiſdom? Paul anſwereth: Becauſe we preach thoſe things which paſſe all mans vnderſtanding.

i Man can not ſo much as thinke of them, much leſſe conceiue them with his ſenſes.

9 A queſtion: If it ſurmount the capacitie of mē, how can it be vnderſtood of any man, or how cā you declare & preach it? by a peculiar lightning by Gods Spirite, wherewith whoſoeuer is inſpired, he can enter euen to ỹ verie ſecrets of God.

k There is nothing ſo ſecret and hidden in God, but the Spirit of God pearceth into it.

10 He ſetteth that forth by a ſimilitude, which he ſpake of the inſpiration of the Spirit. As ỹ force of mans wit ſearcheth out things pertaining to mā, ſo doth our mind by that power of the holy Ghoſt, vnderſtand heauenly things.

l The mind of man, which is indued with ableneſſe to vnderſtand and iudge.

m The Spirite which wee haue receiued, doth not teach vs things of thu worlde, but liſteth vs vp to God: & thu place teacheth vs againſt the Papiſts, what faith is, from whence it cōmeth, and what force it is of.

11 That which he ſpake generally, he reſtraineth now to thoſe things which God hath opened vnto vs of our ſaluatiō in Chriſt: leſt that any man ſhould ſeparate the Spirit from the preaching of the word & Chriſt: or ſhould thinke that thoſe fantaſticall men are gouerned by the Spirit of God, which wandring beſides the worde, thruſt vpon vs their vaine imaginations for the ſecretes of God.

n This word (know) is taken here in his proper ſenſe, for true knowledge, which the Spirite of God worketh in vs.

12 Now he returneth to his purpoſe, and concludeth the argument which he began vers. 6. and it is thus: the wordes muſt be applied to the matter, and the matter muſt bee ſet foorth with words which are meete and conuenient for it: now this wiſedome is ſpirituall and not of man, and therefore it muſt be deliuered by a ſpiritual kind of teaching, & not by entiſing words of mans eloquence, that the ſimple, & yet wonderful maieſtie of the holy Ghoſt may therein appeare. ✣ Chap.1.17. 2 peter.1.16. o Applying the words vnto the matter, to wit, that as we teach ſpirituall things, ſo muſt our kind of teaching be ſpirituall.

13 Againe he preuenteth an offence or ſtūbling blocke: how commeth it to paſſe that ſo few allow theſe things? This is not to be marueiled at, ſaith ỹ Apoſtle, ſeeing that men in their natural powers (as they termed them) are not indued with that faculti̇e whereby ſpirituall things are diſcerned (which faculti̇e commeth another way) & therefore they accompt ſpirituall wiſdome as follie: and it is as if he ſhould ſay, It is no maruel that blind men can not iudge of colours, ſeeing that they lacke ỹ light of their eies, & therfore light is to them as darknes.

p The man that hath no further light of vnderſtanding, then that which he brought with him, euen from his mothers wombe, as Iude deſineth it, Iude 19.

q By the vertue of the holy ghoſt.

14 He amplifieth the matter by cōtraries.

r Vnderſtandeth and diſcerneth.

15 The wiſedome of the fleſh, ſaieth Paul, determineth nothing certainly, no not in it owne affaires, much leſſe can it diſcerne ſtrange, that is, ſpiritual things. But the Spirit of God wherewith ſpiritual men are indued, can be deceiued by no meanes, & therefore be reproued of no man.

ſ Of no man: for when the Prophets are iudged of the Prophets, it is the Spirit that iudgeth, & not the man. ✣ Eſa.40 13 rom 11.34.

16 A reaſon of the former ſaying: for he is called ſpirituall, which hath learned that by the vertue of the ſpirit, which Chriſt hath taught vs. Nowe if that which we haue learned of that Maſter, could be reproued of any man, he muſt needs be wiſer then God: whereupon it followeth, that they are not only fooliſh, but alſo wicked, which thinke that they can deuiſe ſome thing that is either more perfect, or that they can teach the wiſdome of God a better way thē they knew or taught, which vndoubtedly were indued with Gods Spirit.

t Lay his head to his, and teach him what he ſhould do.

u We are indued with the ſpirit of Chriſt, who openeth vnto vs thoſe ſecrets, which by all other meanes are vnſearchable, and alſo all trueth whatſoeuer.

CHAP. III.

1 Hee yeeldeth a reaſon why he preached ſmall matters vnto them: 4 He ſheweth how they ought to eſteeme of miniſters: 6 The miniſters office. 10 A true forme of edifying. 16 He warneth the Corinthians, that they be not drawen away to prophane things, 18 through the proud wiſdome of the fleſh.

AND I could not ſpeake vnto you, brethren, as vnto ſpirituall men, but as vnto a carnall, euen as vnto babes in Chriſt.

2 I gaue you milke to drinke, and not b meate: for ye were not yet c able to beare it, neither yet now are ye able.

3 For ye are yet carnall: for whereas there is among you enuying, and ſtrife, and diuiſions, are ye not carnall, and walke as d men?

4 For when one ſaieth, I am Pauls, and another, I am Apollos, are ye not carnall?

5 2 Who is Paul then? and who is Apollos, but the miniſters by whom ye beleeued, and as the Lord gaue to euery man?

6 3 I haue planted, Apollos watred, but God gaue the increaſe.

7 So then, neither is hee that planteth any thing, neither he that watreth, but God that giueth the increaſe.

8 And he that planteth, and he that watreth, are one, ✣ and euery man ſhal receiue his wages, according to his labour.

9 For we together are Gods e labourers: yee are Gods husbandrie, and Gods building.

10 According to the grace of God giuen to me, as a skilfull maſter builder, I haue laide the foundation, & another buildeth thereon: 4 but let euery man take heede how he buildeth vpon it.

11 5 For other foundation can no man lay, then that which is layed, which is Ieſus Chriſt.

12 6 And if any man builde on this founda-

1 Hauing declared the worthineſſe of heauenly wiſdom, & of the goſpel, & hauing generally condēned ỹ blindnes of mans mind, now at length he applieth it particularly to ỹ Corinthians, calling thē carnall, that is, ſuch in whō as yet the fleſh preuaileth againſt ỹ ſpirit. And he bringeth a double teſtimony of it: firſt, for that he had proued them to be ſuch, in ſo much that he dealt with them no otherwiſe then with ignorāt men, & ſuch as are almoſt babes in ỹ doctrine of godlines, & ſecondly, becauſe they ſhewed indeede by theſe diſſenſions, which ſprang vp by reaſon of the ignorance of the vertue of the Spirit, and heauenly wiſdome, that they had profited very little or nothing.

a He calleth them carnall, which are as yet ignorant, and therefore to expreſſe it the better, he termeth them babes.

b Subſtantiall meate, or ſtrong meate.

c To be fed by me with ſubſtantial meate: therefore as the Corinthians grew in age, ſo the Apoſtle nourished them by teaching, firſt with milke, then with ſtrong meat, which difference was oneth but in the maner of teaching.

d By the ſquare and compaſſe of mans wit & iudgement.

2 After that he hath ſufficiently reprehended ambitious teachers, & their fooliſh eſteemers, now he ſheweth how the true miniſters are to be eſteemed, ỹ we attribute not vnto them, more or leſſe thē we ought to do. Therefore he teacheth vs, ỹ they are they by whom we are brought to faith & ſaluation, but yet as the miniſters of God, & ſuch as do nothing of themſelues, but God ſo working by them as it pleaſeth him to furniſh them with his gifts. Therfore we haue not to marke or conſider what miniſter it is that ſpeaketh, but what is ſpoken: and we muſt depēd onely vpon him which ſpeaketh by his ſeruants. 3 He beautifieth the former ſentence, with two ſimilitudes: firſt comparing the companie of the faithfull, to a field which God maketh fruitfull, when it is ſowed and watred through the labour of his ſeruants: next, by comparing it to an houſe, which indeede the Lord buildeth, but by the handes of his workemen, ſome of whom, he vſeth in laying the foundation, others in building of it vp. Now, both theſe ſimilitudes tend to this purpoſe, to ſhewe that al things are wholy accompliſhed by Gods onely authoritie and might, ſo that we muſt only haue an eye to him. Moreouer, although that God vſeth ſome in the better part of the worke, we muſt not therefore contemne other, in reſpect of them and much leſſe may we diuide or ſet them apart, (as theſe factious men did) ſeeing that all of them labour in Gods buſineſſe, and in ſuch ſort, that they ſerue to finiſh one ſelfe ſame worke, although by a diuers maner of working, inſomuch that they neede one anothers help. ✣ Pſal 62.12. galat.6.5.

e Seruing vnder him: Now they which ſerue vnder another, do nothing of their own ſtrength, but as it is giuen them by grace, which grace maketh thē fit to that ſeruice. Looke chap.15.10. and 2.corin.3.6. and all the increaſe that commeth by their labour, doth ſo proceede from God, that no part of the praiſe of it may be giuen to the vnder ſeruant.

4 Now he ſpeaketh to the teachers thēſelues, which ſucceeded him in the Church of Corinth, and in their perſon, to all that were after or ſhalbe Paſtours of Congregations, ſeeing that they ſucceede into the labour of the Apoſtles, which were planters and chiefe builders. Therefore he warneth them firſt, that they perſwade not themſelues that they may build after their owne fantaſie, that is, that they may propound and ſet foorth any thing in the Church, either in matter, or in kind of teaching, different from the Apoſtles which were the chiefe builders. 5 Moreouer, he ſheweth what this foundation is, to wit, Chriſt Ieſus, frō which they may not turne away one iote in the building vp of this building. 6 Thirdly hee ſheweth, that they muſt take heede that the vpper part of the building be anſwerable to the foundation, that is, that admonitiōs, exhortatiōs, and whatſoeuer pertaineth to the edifying of the flocke, be anſwerable to the doctrine of Chriſt, as well in matter as in forme: which doctrine is compared to gold, ſilver, and precious ſtones: of which matter, Eſaias alſo and Iohn in the Reuelation build the heauenly citie. And to theſe are oppoſite, wood, hay, ſtubble, that is to ſay, curious and vaine queſtions or decrees: and beſides to be ſhort, all that kind of teaching which ſerueth to oſtentation. For falſe doctrines, whereof he ſpeaketh not here, are not ſaid properly to be built vpon this foundation, vnleſſe peraduenture in ſhew onely.

tion,

7 Hee testifieth, as indeed the truth is, that all are not good builders, no not some of them which stand vpon this one and onely foundatiō: but how soeuer this worke of euill builders, saith he, stand for a season, yet shal it not alwayes deceiue, because that the light of the truth appearing at length, as day shall dissolue this darkenes, & shew what it is. And as that stuffe is tried by the fire, whether it be good or not, so wil God in his time by the touch of his Spirit and word try all buildings, & so shall it come to passe, that such as be sound pure & sound shall still continue so, to the prayse of the workman: but they that are otherwise, shall be consumed and vanish away, and so shal the workeman be frustrate of the hope of his labour, which pleased himselfe in a thing of nought. 8 Hee taketh not away hope of saluation from the vnskilfull and foolish builders, which hold fast the foundation, of which sort were those Rhetoricians rather then pastours of Corinth: but hee addeth an exception, that they must notwithstanding suffer this triall of their worke, and also abide the losse of their vaine labours. ✣ Chap.6.19.2.cor.6.16. 9 Continuing still in the metaphore of a building, he teacheth vs that this ambition is not only vaine, but also sacrilegious: For he saith that the Church is as it were the Temple of God, which God hath as it were consecrated vnto himselfe by his Spirite. Then turning himselfe to these ambitious men, hee sheweth that they prophane the Temple of God, because those vaine artes wherein they please themselues so much, are as he teacheth, so many pollutions of the holy doctrine of God, and the puritie of the Church. Which wickednesse shal not be suffered vnpunished. f Defileth it, and maketh it vncleane, being holy: and surely they doe defile it, by Paul his iudgement, which by steal ye loque ce defile the puritie of the Gospel. 10 He concludeth by the contrary, that they professe pure wisdome in the Church of God, which refuse and cast away al those vanities of men: and if they be mocked of the worlde, it is sufficient for them that they be wise according to the wisedome of God, and as he will haue them to be wise. ✣ Iob 5.13. g Be they neuer so craftie, yet the Lord will take them when he shal discouer their treacherie. ∴ Psal 44.11. 11 He returneth to the proposition of the 2. verse, first warning the hearers, that henceforward they esteeme not as Lordes, those whom God hath appoynted to be ministers, and not Lords of their saluation: which thing they doe, that depende vpon men, and not vpon God that speaketh by them. h Please himselfe. i Helpes, appointed for your benefit. 12 He passeth from the persons, to the things themselues, that his argument may be more forcible: yea hee ascendeth from Christ to the Father, to shew that wee rest our selues no not in Christ himselfe, in that that hee is man, but because he carieth vs vp euen to the Father, as Christ witnesseth of himselfe euery where, that he was sent of his Father, that by this band we may be all knit with God himselfe.

tion, golde, siluer, precious stones, timber, hay, or stubble,

13 7 Euery mans woorke shal bee made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shalbe reuealed by the fire: and the fire shall trie euery mans worke of what sort it is.

14 If any mans worke, that he hath built vpon, abide, he shall receiue wages.

15 If any mans worke burne, he shall lose, but 8 he shalbe saued himselfe: neuertheless yet as it were by the fire.

16 ✣ 9 Know ye not that yee are the Temple of God, and that the Spirite of God dwelleth in you?

17 If any man f destroy the Temple of God, him shal God destroy: for the Temple of God is holy, which ye are.

18 10 Let no man deceiue himselfe: If any man among you seeme to be wise in this world, let him be a foole, that he may be wise.

19 For the wisdome of this worlde is foolishnesse with God: for it is written, ✣ He g catcheth the wise in their owne craftinesse.

20 ∴ And againe, The Lord knoweth that the thoughts of the wise be vaine.

21 11 Therefore let no man h reioyce in men: for all things are i yours.

22 Whether it be Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the 12 world, or life, or death: whether they bee things present, or things to come, enē al are yours, 23 And ye Christes, and Christ Gods.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Bringing in the definition of a true Apostle, 7 he sheweth that humilitie ought rather to be an honour then a shame vnto him. 9 He bringeth in proofe, whereby it may euidently appeare, 10 that he neither had care of glory, 11 nor of his belie. 17 He commendeth Timothie.

1 He concludeth the duetie of the hearers towards their ministers: that they esteeme them not as Lordes: and yet notwithstanding, that they giue eare vnto them, as to them that are sent from Christ, sent I say to this end & purpose, that they may receiue as it were at their hands, the treasure of saluation which is drawen out of the secrets of God. a Euery man. 2 Last of all, he warneth the ministers, that they also behaue themselues not as Lordes, but as faithfull seruants, because they must render an accompt of their stewardship vnto God.

LEt 1 a man so think of vs, as of the ministers of Christ, and disposers of the secrets of God:

2 2 And as for the rest, it is required of the disposers, that euery man be found faithfull.

3 3 As touching me, I passe very little to be iudged of you, 4 or of mans b iudgement: no, 5 I iudge not mine owne selfe.

4 For I know nothing by my selfe, yet am I not thereby iustified: but hee that iudgeth me, is the c Lord.

5 6 Therefore ✣ iudge nothing before the time, vntill the Lorde come, who will lighten things that are hid in darkenesse, and make the counsels of the hearts manifest: and then shall euery man haue d praise of God.

6 7 Nowe these things, brethren, I haue figuratiuely applied vnto mine own selfe & Apollos, for your sakes, that ye might learne e by vs, that no man presume aboue that which is written, that one swell not against another for any mans cause.

7 8 For who separateth thee? and what hast thou, that thou hast not receiued? if thou hast receiued it, why reioycest thou, as though f thou hadst not receiued it?

8 9 Now ye are full: nowe ye are made rich: ye reigne as kings without vs, and would to God ye did reigne, that we also might reigne with you.

9 For I thinke that God hath set forth vs the last Apostles, as men appointed to death, for we are made a g gasing stocke vnto the worlde, and to the Angels, and to men.

10 We are fooles for Christes sake, and ye are wise in Christ: we are weake, and yee are strong: ye are honourable, and we are despised.

11 Vnto this houre we both hunger, & thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and haue no certaine dwelling place, 12 ✣ And labour, woorking with our owne handes: we are reuiled, and yet we blesse: we are persecuted, and suffer it.

13 ∴ We are euill spoken of, and we pray: we are made as the h filth of the world, the offskowring of all things, vnto this time.

14 10 I write not these thinges to shame you, but as my beloued children I admonish you.

15 For though ye haue tenne thousand instru-

1 Because in reprehending others, he set himselfe for an example, he vseth a preoccupation or preuenting of an obiection, and vsing the grauitie of an Apostle, he sheweth that he careth not for the contrary iudgements that they haue of him, in that they esteemed him as a vile person, because he did not set forth himselfe as they did. And hee bringeth good reasons why hee was nothing moued with the iudgements which they had of him. 4 First, Because that that which men iugde in these cases of their own braines, is no more to be accompted of, then when the vnlearned dooe iudge of wisdome. b Word for word, Day, after the manner of speech of the Cilicians.

5 Secondly, saith he, howe can you iudge how much or how litle I am to be accompted of, seeing that I my selfe which know my selfe better then you doe, and which dare professe that I haue walked in my vocation with a good conscience, dare not yet notwithstanding challenge any thing to my selfe? for I know that I am not vnblameable, all this notwithstanding: much lesse therefore should I please my selfe as you doe. c I permitte my selfe to the Lordes iudgement. 6 A third reason proceeding of a conclusion as it were, out of the former reasons. It is Gods office to esteeme euery man according to his value, because hee knoweth the secretes of the heart, which men for the most part are ignorant of. Therefore this iudgement perteineth not to you. ✣ Matth. 7.1. d One could not be praised alone the rest, but the other should be blamed: and he mentioneth praise rather then dispraise, for that the beginning of this sore was this that they gaue more to some men, then meete was. 7 Hauing reiected their iudgement, hee setteth forth himselfe againe as a singular example of modestie, as one which concealing in this Epistle those factions teachers names, doubted not to put downe his owne name and Apollos in their place, and tooke vpon him, as it were their shame: so farre was he from preferring himselfe to any. e By our example, which chose rather to take other mens faultes vpon vs, then to carpe any by name. 8 He sheweth a good meanes to bridle pride: first if thou consider howe rightly thou exemptest thy selfe out of the number of others, seeing thou art a man thy selfe: againe, if thou consider that although thou haue some thing more then other men haue, yet thou hast it not but by Gods bountifulnesse. And what wise man is hee that will bragge of an others goodnesse, and that against God? f There is nothing then in vs of nature, that is worthie of commendation: but all that we haue, we haue it of grace, which the Pelagians and halfe Pelagians will not confesse. 9 Hee descendeth to a most grane mocke, to enuie those ambitious men to blush euen against their willes. g Hee that will take a right viewe how like Paul and the Pope are, who lyingly boasteth that hee is his successour, let him compare the delicates of the Popish court, with Saint Pauls state as we see it here. ✣ Acts 20.34. 1.thess.2.9. 2.thess.3.8. ∴ Matth.5.44. Luke 23.34. actes 7.60. h Such as by sweeping is gathered together. 10 Moderating the sharpenesse of his mocke, hee putteth them in minde to remember of whome they were begotten in Christ, and that they should not doubt to follow him for an example, although hee seeme vile according to the outward shewe in respect of others, yet mightie by the efficacie of Gods Spirite, as they had had triall of in themselues.

ours in Christ, yet haue ye not many fathers: for in Christ Iesus I haue begotten you through the Gospel.

16 Wherfore, I pray you be ye followers of me.

17 For this cause haue I sent vnto you Timotheus, which is my beloued sonne, and faithful in the Lord, which shal put you in remembrance of my i wayes in Christ as I teach euery where in euery Church.

18 11 Some are puffed vp as though I would not come vnto you.

19 But I will come to you shortly, ✣ if the Lorde will, and will knowe, not the k wordes of them which are puffed vp, but the power.

20 For the kingdome of God is not in word, but in power.

21 12 What wil ye? shal I come vnto you with a rod, or in loue, and in the l spirit of meekenesse?

CHAP. V.

1 That they haue winked at him who committed incest with his mother in Law, 2.6 hee sheweth shoulde cause them rather to bee ashamed, then to reioyce: 10 Such kind of wickednesse is to be punished with excommunication, 12 least other be infected with it.

2 They are greatly to be reprehended which by suffering of wickednesse, set foorth the Church of God to be mocked and scorned of the infidels.

IT 1 is heard certainely that there is fornication among you: and such fornication as is not once named among the Gentiles, that one should haue his fathers wife.

2 2 And ye are puffed vp and haue not rather sorowed, that he which hath done this deed, might be put from among you.

3 3 For I verely as absent in body, but present in a spirit, haue determined already as though I were present, that hee that hath thus done this thing,

4 When yee are gathered together, and my spirit, in the b Name of our Lord Iesus Christ, that such one, I say, 4 by the power of our Lord Iesus Christ,

5 5 Bee c deliuered vnto Satan, for the 6 destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saued in the day of the Lord Iesus.

6 7 Your reioycing d is not good: knowe ye not, that a litle leauen leaueneth ỹ whole lumpe?

7 8 Purge out therefore the olde leauen, that ye may be a newe e lumpe, as ye are vnleauened: for Christ our f Passeouer is sacrificed for vs.

8 Therefore let vs keepe the g feast, not with olde leauen, neither in the leauen of maliciousnes and wickednesse: but with the vnleauened bread of synceritie and trueth.

9 9 I wrote vnto you in an Epistle, that yee should not companie together with fornicators,

10 And not h altogether with the fornicators of this worlde, or with the couetous, or with extortioners, or with idolaters: for then ye must goe out of the world.

11 But now I haue written vnto you, that ye companie not together: if any that is called a brother, be a fornicatour, or couetous, or an idolater, or a rayler, or a drunkard, or an extortioner, with such one eate not.

12 10 For what haue I to doe, to iudge them also which are without? doe yee not iudge them that are within?

13 But God iudgeth them that are without. Put away therefore from among your selues that wicked man.

i Wayes in Christ, that is, Rules and Precepts of Christian life. k Wordes, that is, Vaine ostentation of eloquence. l Spirit of meekenesse, that is, Meekenesse of spirit.

1 The third question is of ciuill iudgements. Whether it be lawfull for one faithfull to draw another faithfull before the iudgement seate of an infidel? He answereth that it is not lawfull, for offence sake, for it is not euill of it selfe.

a As if he saide, Are you become so impudent, that you are not ashamed to make the Gospel a laughing stocke to prophane men? b Before the vniust.

2 He addeth that hee doeth not forbid that one neighbour may goe to lawe with another if neede so require, but yet vnder holy iudges. 3 He gathereth by a comparison that the faithful cannot seeke to infidels to be iudged, without great iniurie done to the Saints, seeing that God himselfe will make the Saints iudges of the world and of the deuils with his sonne Christ: much more ought they to iudge these light and small causes which may be by equitie, and good conscience determined. 4 The conclusion, wherein he prescribeth a remedie for this mischiefe: to wit, if they end their priuate affaires betwixt themselues by chosen arbiters out of the Church: for which matter and purpose, the least of you, saith he, is sufficient. Therefore he condemneth not iudgement seats, but sheweth what is expedient for the circumstance of the time, and that without any diminishing of the right of the Magistrate: for he speaketh not of iudgements, which are practised betweene the faithfull & the infidels, neither of publike iudgements, but of controuersies which may be ended by priuate arbiters. c Courts and places of iudgement. d Euen the most abiect among you. 5 He applieth the general proposition to a particular, alwaies calling them backe to this, to take away from the that false opinion of their owne excellencie, from whence all these mischiefes sprang. 6 Nowe hee goeth further also, and although by granting them priuate arbiters out of the congregation of the faithfull, he doe not simply condemne, but rather establish priuate iudgements, so that they be exercised without offence, yet he sheweth that if they were such as they ought to bee, and as it were to bee wished, they shoulde not need to vse that remedie neither.

e By lumpe hee meaneth the whole body of the Church, euery member whereof must bee vnleauened bread, that is, be renewed in Spirite, by plucking away the old corruption. f The Lambe of our Passeouer. g Let vs leade our whole life, as it were a continuall feast, honestly, and vprightly.

7 Nowe he speaketh more generally, and that which he spake before of the incestuous person, he sheweth that it perteineth to others, which are knowen to bee wicked, and such as through their naughtie life are a slaunder to the Church, which ought also by law full order be cast out of the communitie of the Church. And making mention of eating of meate, either he meaneth those feastes of loue whereat the Supper of the Lorde was receiued, or els their common vsage and maner of life: which is rightly to be taken, least any man shoulde thinke, that either matrimony were broken by excommunication, or such dueties hindered & cut off thereby, as we owe one to another: children to their parents, subiects to their rulers, seruants to their masters, and neighbour to neighbour to winne one another vnto God. h If you shoulde vtterly absteine from such mens companie, you shoulde goe out of the world: therefore I speake to them which are in the very bosome of the Church, which must be called home by discipline, and not of them which are without, with whom you must labour by all meanes possible, to bring them to Christ. 10 Such as are false brethren, ought to bee cast out of the Congregation: as for them which are without, they must be left to the iudgement of God.

CHAP. VI.

1 Hee inueigheth against their contentions in law matters, 6 wherewith they vexed one another vnder iudges that were infidels, to the reproch of the Gospel, 9 and then sharply threateneth fornicators.

DAre 1 a any of you, hauing businesse against an other, be iudged b vnder the vniust, a and not vnder the Saints?

2 3 Doe ye not know, that the Saintes shall iudge the world? If the world then shalbe iudged by you, are yee vnworthie to iudge the smallest matters?

3 Know ye not that we shal iudge the Angels? how much more, things that perteine to this life?

4 4 If then yee haue c iudgements of things perteining to this life, set vp them which are leaste esteemed in the Church.

5 5 I speake it to your shame. Is it so that there is not a wise man among you? no not one, that can iudge betweene his brethren?

6 But a brother goeth to law with a brother, and that vnder the infidels.

7 6 Nowe therefore there is altogether

e A weakenesse of minde which n said to be in them, that suffer themselues to be ouercome of their lusts, and it is a fault that sauoreth greatly from temperancie and moderation: so that hee nippeth them, which could not put vp an iniurie done vnto them.

7 This pertaineth chiefly to ỹ other part of the reprehension to wit, that they went to law euen vnder infidels, whereas they should rather haue suffered any losse, then to haue giuen that offence. But yet this is generally true, that we ought rather depart from our right, then trie the vttermoste of the Lawe hastily, and vpon an affection to reuenge an iniurie. But the Corinthians cared for neither, and therefore he saith that they must repent, valesse they will be shut out of the inheritance of God. ✣ Matth. 5. 39. Iob. 4. 29 rom. 12. 19. ✣ 1. Thess. 4. 6.

e infirmitiei n you, in that ye go to law one with another: 7 ✣ why rather suffer yee not wrong? why rather sustaine ye not harme?

8 ✣ Nay, ye your selues do wrong, and doe harme, and that to your brethren.

9 Know ye not that the vnrighteous shal not inherite the kingdome of God? ✣ Be not deceiued: neither fornicatours, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor wantons, not buggerers, 10 Nor theeues, nor couetous, nor drunkards, nor railers, nor extortioners shal inherit the kingdome of God.

11 And such were ỹ some of you: but yee are washed, but yee are sanctified, but yee are iustified in the f Name of the Lord Iesus, and by the Spirite of our God.

12 ¶ ✣ 9g All things are lawful vnto me, but all things are not profitable. I may do all things, but I will not bee brought vnder the h power of any thing.

13 10 Meats are ordeined for the bellie, & the bellie for the meates: but God shall destroy both it, and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body.

14 And God hath also raised vp the Lorde, and ✣ shall raise vs vp by his power.

15 11 Knowe ye not, that your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid.

16 12 Do ye not know, that hee which coupleth himselfe with an harlot, is one body? * for ỹ two, saith he, shalbe one flesh.

17 But he that is ioyned vnto the Lord, is one spirite.

18 13 Flee fornication: euery sinne that a man doeth, is without the body: but he that committeth fornication, sinneth against his owne body.

19 14 Know ye not, that ✣ your body is the temple of the holy Ghost, which is in you, whom ye haue of God? and 15 ye are not your owne.

20 ✣ For ye are bought for a price: therefore glorifie God in your body, and in your spirite: for they are gods.

f In Iesus. ✣ Thop 6. 23. g Secondly, he sheweth that the Corinthians doe simply offend in matters indifferent: First, because they abused them: next, because they vsed indifferent things, without any discretion, seeing the vse of them ought to be brought to the rule of charitie: and that he doth not vse them aright, which immoderatly abuseth them, and so becommeth a slaue vnto them. g Whatsoeuer: but this generall word must be restrained to things that are indifferent. h Hee is in subiection to things that are indifferent, whatsoeuer he be that thinketh he may not be without them, which is a flatteringe kinde of slauerie vnder a colour of libertie, which fasteth vpon such men. 10 Secondarily, because they counted many things for indifferent, which were of themselues vnlawfull, as fornication, which they numbred amongst meere naturall and lawfull desires, as well as meate and drinke: Therefore the Apostle sheweth, that they are vtterly vnlike: for meates, saith he, were made for the necessary vse of mans life, which is not perpetuall. For both meates, and all this maner of nourishing, are quickly abolished. But wee must not so thinke of the vncleannes of fornication, for which the body is not made, but on ỹ contrary side is ordeined to pureness, as appeareth by this, that it is consecrated to Christ, euen as Christ also is giuē vs of his father, to quicken our bodies w̄ that vertue, wherewith he also rose againe. ✣ Rom. 6. 5. 11 A declaration of ỹ former argument by contraries, & the applying of it. 12 A proofe of the same argument: An harlot and Christ are cleane contrary, so are the flesh and the Spirite: therefore he that is one with an harlot, (which is done by carnal copulation of their bodies) cannot be one with Christ, which vnitie is pure and spirituall. * Gen. 2. 24. mat. 19. 5. mar. 10. 8. ephes. 5. 31. i Moses doth not speake these words of fornication but of mariage: but seeing that fornication is the corrupting of mariage, and both of them is a carnall and fleshly copulation, we cannot say that the Apostle abuseth his testimonie. Againe, Moses hath not this word (Two) but it is very well expressed: both here, and in Matthew 19. 5. because he speaketh only but of man and wife, whereupon the opinion of them that vouch it to be lawfull to haue many wiues, is beaten downe: for he that coupleth with many, vnsundreth it into many parts.

13 Another argument why fornication is to be eschewed, because it defileth the body with a peculiar kind of filthines.

14 The third argument: Because a fornicator is sacrilegious, for that our bodies are consecrate to God. ✣ Chap. 3. 17. 2. corin. 6. 16.

15 The fourth argument: Because we are not our owne men, to giue our selues to any other, much lesse to Satan and the flesh, seeing that God himselfe hath bought vs, and that with a great price, to the ende that both in body and soule, wee shoulde serue to his glorie. ✣ Chap. 7. 23. 1. pet. 1. 18.

CHAP. VII.

1 Intreating here of mariage, 4 which is a remedie against fornication, 10 and may not be broken, 18. 20 he willeth euery man to liue contented with his lotte. 25 He sheweth what the ende of virginitie should be, 35 and who ought to marie.

NOw 1 concerning the things a whereof yee wrote vnto me, It were b good for a man not to touch a woman.

2 Neuertheles, to auoide fornication, let euery man haue his wife, and let euery woman haue her owne husband.

3 c 2 Let ỹ husband giue vnto ỹ wife c due benuolence, & likewise also ỹ wife vnto the husband.

4 3 The wife hath not the power of her owne body, but the husband: & likewise also ỹ husband hath not ỹ power of his own body, but the wife.

5 Defraud not one another, 4 except it be with consent for a time, that ye may d giue your selues to fasting and prayer, and againe come together that Satan tempt you not for your incontinency.

6 5 But I speake this by permission, not by commandement.

7 For I e would that all men were euen as I my selfe am: but euery ma hath his proper gift of God, one after this maner, and another after that.

8 6 Therefore I say vnto the f vnmaried, and vnto the widowes, It is good for them if they abide euen as I doe, 9 But if they cannot abstaine, let them marie: for it is better to marrie then to burne.

10 ✣ 7 And vnto ỹ maried I cōmand, not I, but ỹ Lord, Let not ỹ wife depart from her husband.

11 But and if she depart, let her remain vnmaried, or be reconciled vnto her husband, and let not the husband put away his wife.

12 8 But to ỹ remnant I speake, & not ỹ Lord, If any brother haue a wife, ỹ beleeueth not, if she be cōtent to dwel w̄ him, let him not forsake her.

13 And the woman which hath an husbande that beleeueth not, if he be content to dwel with her, let her not forsake him.

1 He teacheth concerning mariage, that although a single life hath his commodities, which he will declare afterwards, yet that mariage is necessarie for the auoiding of fornication: but so that neither one man may haue many wiues, nor any wife many husbands.

a Touching those matters, whereof you wrote vnto me.

b Commodious, and (as we say) expedient. For mariage bringeth many griefes with it, and that by reason of the corruption of our first estate. ✣ 1. Pet. 3. 7.

2 Secondly, hee sheweth that the parties married, must with singular affection entirely loue one ỹ other.

c This word (due) conteineth all kind of benuolence, though he speake more of one sort then of the other, in that that followeth.

3 Thirdly, he warneth them, that they are each in others power, as touching the body, so that they may not defraude one another.

4 He addeth an exception, vnlesse the one abstaine from the other by mutuall consent, that they may the better giue themselues to prayer, where in notwithstanding, hee warneth them to consider what is expedient, lest by this long breaking off as it were from mariage, they be stirred vp to incontinencie.

5 Fifthly, hee teacheth that mariage is not simply necessary for al men, but for them which haue not the gift of continencie, and this gift is by a peculiar grace of God.

e I wish.

6 Sixthly, he gineth the selfe same admonition touching the second mariage, to wit, that a single life is to be allowed, but for such as haue the gift of continencie, otherwise they ought to marrie againe, that their conscience may be at peace.

f This whole place is fiat against them which condemne second mariages. 8 Or to burne with lust, that either she will yeelde to the temptation, or else not cease call vpon God with a quiet conscience. ✣ Mat. 5. 32. and 19. 9. mar. 10. 11. 12. luke 16. 18.

7 Seuenthly, he forbiddeth contentions and publishing of diuorces (for he speaketh not here of the fault of whoredome, which was then death euen by the lawe of the Romanes also) where by he affirmeth that the band of mariage is not dissolued, and that from Christ his mouth.

8 Eightly, he affirmeth, that those mariages which are already contracted betweene a faithfull, and an vnfaithfull or infidell, are firme, so that the faithfull may not forsake the vnfaithfull.

9 He answereth an obiection: But the faithfull is defiled by the societie of the vnfaithful. The Apostle denieth that, and proueth that the faithful man with good conscience may vse the vessel of his vnfaithful wife, by this, that their children which are borne of them, are accompted holy (that is, conteined within the promise) for it is saide to all the faithfull, I will be thy God, and the God of thy seede.

h The godlinesse of the wife is of more force, to cause their coupling together to be accompted holy, then the infidelitie of the husband is to prophane the marriage.

i The infidell is not sanctified or made holy in his owne person, but in respect of his wife, he is sanctified to her.

k To the faithfull husband.

l This place destroieth the opinion of them, that would not haue children to be baptized, and their opinion also, that make baptisme the very cause of saluation.

14 9 For the vnbeleeuing husband is h sanctified to the i wife, and the vnbeleeuing wife is sanctified to the k husband, else were your children vncleane: but now are they l holy.

15 10 But if the vnbeleeuing depart, let him depart: a brother or a sister is not in subiection in m such things: 11 but God hath called vs in peace.

16 For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt saue thine husband? Or what knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt saue thy wife?

17 12 But as God hath distributed to euery man, as the Lord hath n called euery one, so let him walke: and so ordaine I, in all Churches.

18 13 Is any man called being circumcised? let him not o gather his vncircumcision: is anie called vncircumcised? let him not be circumcised.

19 Circumcision is nothing, and vncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandements of God.

20 ✣ Let euery man abide in the same vocation wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called being a seruant? p care not for it: but if yet thou mayest be free, vse it rather.

22 For he that is called in the q Lord, being a seruant, is the Lordes freeman: likewise also hee that is called being free, is Christes seruant.

23 ✣ 14 Yee are bought with a price: be not the seruants of men.

24 15 Brethren, let euery man, wherein he was called, therein abide with r God.

25 16 Now concerning virgines, I haue no commaundement of the Lorde: but I giue mine s aduise, as t one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be faithfull.

26 I suppose then u this to bee good for the x present necessitie: I meane that it is good for a man so to be,

27 Art thou bounde vnto a wife? seeke not to be looſed: art thou looſed from a wife? seeke not a wife.

28 But if thou takest a wife, thou sinnest not: and if a virgine martie, she sinneth not: neuertheless, such shall haue trouble in the y flesh: but I z spare you.

29 And this I say, brethren, because the time is a short, hereafter that both they which haue wiues, be as though they had none:

30 And they that b weepe, as though they wept not: and they that reioyce, as though they reioyced not: and they that bye, as though they possessed not:

31 And they that vse this c worlde, as though they vsed it not: for the d fashion of this worlde goeth away.

32 And I would haue you without care. The vnmarried careth for the things of the Lord, how he may please the Lord.

33 But hee that is married, e careth for the things of the world, how he may please his wife.

34 There is difference also betweene a virgine and a wife: the vnmarried woman careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy, both in body and in f spirit: but she that is married, careth for the things of the world, how she may please her husband.

35 And this I speake for your owne g commoditie, not to tangle you in a snare, but that ye follow that, which is honest, and that ye may cleaue fast vnto the Lord without separation.

36 17 But if any man think that it is vncomely for his virgin, if she passe the flowre of her age, and neede so require, let him do what he will, he h sinneth not: let them be married.

37 Neuertheless, hee that standeth firme in his heart, that he hath no k neede, but hath power ouer his owne will, and hath so decreed in his heart, that hee will keepe his virgine, hee doeth well.

38 So then hee that giueth her to marriage, doeth wel, but he that giueth her not to mariage, doth l better.

39 18 The wife is bound by the Law, as long as her husband ✣ liueth: but if her husband bee dead, she is at libertie to marrie with whome shee wil, onely in the m Lord.

40 But she is more blessed, if shee so abide in my iudgement: ✣ and I thinke that I haue also the Spirite of God.

m Whē any such thing falleth out.

11 Lest any man vpon pretence of this liberty should giue occasion to the vnfaithfull to depart, he giueth to vnderstand, that marriage contracted with an infidel, ought peaceably to be kept, that if it be possible the infidel may be wonne to the faith. 12 Taking occasion by that which he saide of the bondage and libertie of matrimonie, he digresseth to a general doctrine concerning the outward state and condition of mans life, as Circumcision and vncircumcision, seruitude and libertie: warning euery man generally to line with a sanctified mind in the Lord, what state or condition soeuer he be in, because, that those outward things, as to be circumcised or vncircumcised, to be bond or free are not of the substance (as they terme it) of the kingdome of heauen. n Hath bounde him to a certaine kind of life. 13 Notwithstanding he giueth vs to vnderstand, that in these examples al are not of like sort: because that circumcision is not simplie of it selfe to be desired, but such as are bound may desire to be free. Therefore herein only they are equall, that the kingdome of God consisteth not in them, and therefore these are no hinderance to obey God. o He is said to gather his vncircumcision, who by the help of a Chirurgian, recouereth an vpper skinne: which is done by the drawing the skinne with an instrument, to make it to couer the nutte. Celsus in his 7. booke and 25. chap. ✣ 1. Tim 6. 1. p As though this calling were too vnworthie a calling for Christ. q He that is in state of a seruant, and is called to be a Christian. ✣ Chap. 6. 20. 1. pet. 1. 18. 19. 14 He sheweth the reason of the vnlikenes, because that he that desireth to be circumcised, maketh himselfe subiect to mans tradition, and not to God. And this may be much more vnderstoode of superstitions, which some do foolishly accompt for things indifferent. 15 A repetition of the generall doctrine. r So purely and from the heart, that your doings may be approoued before God. 16 He enioyneth virginitie to no man, yet he perswadeth & praiseth it for another respect, to wit, both for the necessitie of the present time, because the faithful could scarce abide in any place, & vse the commodities of this prelent life, and therefore such as were not troubled with families, might be the readier: and also for the cares of this life, which marriage draweth with it of necessitie, so that they cannot but haue their minds distracted: and this hath place in women especially. s The circumstances consisted thus I counsell you. t It is I that speake this which I am minded to speake: and the truth is I am a man, but yet worthie credite, for I haue obtained of the Lord to be such an one. u To vexatine a virgine. x For the necessitie which the Saints are daily subiect vnto, who are continually wasted vp and downe, so that their estate may seeme most vnfit for marriage, were it not that the weakenes of the flesh enforced them to it.

y By the (flesh) he vnderstandeth what things soeuer belong to this present life, for marriage bringeth with it many discommodities: so that he beholdeth more to a sole life, not because it is a seruice more agreeable to God then marriage is, but for those discommodities, which (if it were possible) he would wish all men to be void of, that they might giue themselues to God onely.

z I would your weaknesse were prouided for.

a For we are now in the latter end of the world.

b By weeping, the Hebrewes vnderstand all aduersitie, and by ioy, all prosperitie.

c Those things which God giueth vs here.

d The guise, the shape and fashion whereby he shaketh vs, that there is nothing in this world that continueth.

e They that are married, haue their wits drawen betwixt them and their husbands, and therefore if any man haue the gift of continencie this more commodious for him to liue alone: but they that are married may care for the things of the Lord also, (Iem. Strum.)

g He meaneth that he will inforce no man, either to marrie or not to marrie, but to shew them barely what kinde of life is most commodious. 17 Now he turneth himselfe to the Parents, in whose power and authoritie their children are, warning them that according to the former doctrine they consider what is meete and conuenient for their children, that they neither deprive them of the necessarie remedy against incontinencie, nor constraine them to marriage, whereas neither their will doth leade them, nor any necessitie vrgeth them. And againe he praiseth virginitie, but of it selfe, and not in al. h He doth well: for so he expoundeth it verse 38. i Resolued with himselfe. k That the weakenesse of his daughter inforceth him not, or any other matter, but that hee may safely keepe her a virgine still. l Prouideth more commodiously for his children, and that not simply, but by reason of such conditions as are before mentioned. 18 That which he spake of a widower, he speaketh now of a widow, to wit, that she may marie againe, so that she do it in the feare of God: and yet he dissembleth not, but saith, that if she remaine still a widow, she shalbe voide of many cares. m By the Law of mariage. ✣ Rom. 7. 1. n Religiously, and in the feare of God. ✣ 1. Thessalon. 4. 8.

CHAP. VIII.

1 From this place vnto the end of the tenth Chapter, he willeth them not to be at the Gentiles prophane bankets. 18 He restraineth the abuse of Christian liberte. 11 and sheweth that knowledge must be tempered with charitie.

And

1 He entreth to entreate of an other kind of things indifferent, to wit, of things offered to idoles, or the vse of flesh so offered and sacrificed. And first of al he remoueth all those things which the Corinthians pretended in vsing things offered to idoles without any respect. First of all they affirmed that this difference of meates was for vnskilfull men, but as for them, they knewe well ynough the benefite of Christ, which causeth all these things to be cleane to them that are cleane. Be it so saith Paul: be it that we are all sufficiently instructed in the knowledge of Christ: I say notwithstanding that we must not simply rest in this knowledge. The reason is, that vnlesse our knowledge be tempered with charitie, it doeth not onely not auaile, but also doeth much hurt, because it is the mystresse of pride: nay it doth not so much as deserue the name of godly knowledge, if it be separate from the loue of God, and therefore from the loue of our neighbour. a This generall word is to bee abbridged, as appeareth, verse 7. for there is a kinde of taunt in it, as we may perceiue by the next verse. b Ministreth occasion of vanitie and pride: because it is voyde of charitie. c Instructeth our neighbour. 2 The application of that answere to things offered to idoles: I graunt, saith hee, that an idole is in deede a vaine imagination, and that there is but one God and Lorde, and therefore that meate can not be made either holy or prophane by the idole: but it followeth not therefore that a man may without respect vse those meates as any other. d This word (idole) in this place is taken for an image which is made to represent some godhead, that worship might be giuen vnto it: whereupon came the word (Idolatrie) that is to say, Image seruice. e Is a vaine dreame. f When the Father is distinguished from the Sonne, hee is named the beginning of all things. g Wee haue our being in him. ✣ Iohn 13.13. chapter 12.3. h But as the father is called Lorde, so is the Sonne, God: therefore this word (Out) doeth not respect the persons, but the natures. i This word (By) doth not signifie the instrumentall cause, but the efficient: For the Father & the Sonne worke together, which is not so to be taken, that we make two causes, seeing they haue both but one nature, though they bee distinct persons. 3 The reason why that followeth not, is this: because there are many men which doe not knowe that which you knowe. Nowe the iudgements of outward things depend not onely vpon your conscience, but vpon the conscience of them that behold you, and therefore your actions must be applied not onely to your knowledge, but also to the ignorance of your brethren. 4 An applying of the reason: There are many which cannot eate of things offered to idoles, but with a wauering conscience, because they thinke them to bee vncleane: therefore if by thy example they enterprise to doe that which inwardly they thinke displeaseth God, their conscience is defiled with this eating, and thou hast bene the occasion of this mischiefe. k By conscience of the idole, he meaneth the secret iudgement that they had within themselues, whereby they thought all things vncleane, that were offered to idoles, and therefore they coulde not vse them with good conscience. For this force hath conscience, that if it bee good, it maketh things indifferent good, and if it be euill, it maketh them euill. 5 A preuenting of an obiection: Why then, shall we therefore be depriued of our libertie? Nay saith the Apostle, you shall lose no part of Christianitie although you abstaine for your brethrens sake, as also if you receiue the meate, it maketh you no whit the more holy, for our commendation before God consisteth not in meates: but to vse our libertie with offence of our brethren, is an abuse of libertie, the true vse whereof is cleane contrary, to wit, so to vse it, as in vsing of it we haue consideration of our weake brethren. 6 An other plainer explication of the same reason, propounding the example of the sitting downe at the table in the idoles temple, which thing the Corinthians did esteeme accompt of among things indifferent, because it is simply forbidden for the circumstance of the place, although offence doe cease, as it shalbe declared in his place.

AND [1] as touching things sacrificed vnto idols, wee knowe that wee [a] all haue knowledge: knowledge [b] puffeth vp, but loue [c] edifieth.

2 Nowe, if any man thinke that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to knowe.

3 But if any man loue God, the same is knowen of him.

4 [2] Concerning therefore the eating of things sacrificed vnto [d] idoles, we knowe that an idole is [e] nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one.

5 For though there bee that are called gods, whether in heauen, or in earth (as there be many gods, and many lords)

6 Yet vnto vs there is but one God, which is that Father, [f] of whom are all things, and we [g] in him: and ✣ [h] one Lorde Iesus Christ, [i] by whom are all things, and we by him.

7 [3] But euery man hath not that knowledge: for [4] many hauing [k] conscience of the idole, vntill this houre, eate as a thing sacrificed vnto the idole, and so their conscience being weake, is defiled.

8 [5] But meate maketh vs not acceptable to God: for neither if we eate, haue we the more, neither if we eate not, haue we the lesse.

9 But take heede least by any meanes this power of yours be an occasion of falling, to them that are weake.

10 [6] For if any man see thee which hast knowledge, sit at table in the idoles temple, shal not the conscience of him which is weake, be boldened to eate those things which are sacrificed to idoles?

11 [7] And through thy knowledge shall the ✣ weake brother perish, for whom Christ died.

12 [8] Nowe when ye sinne so against the brethren, and wound their weake conscience, ye sinne against Christ.

13 ✣ [9] Wherefore if meate offend my brother, I will eate no flesh while the world standeth, that I may not offend my brother.

7 An amplification of the argument taken both of comparison and contraries: Thou wretched man (saith he, pleasing thy selfe with thy knowledge which in deede is none (for if thou haddest true knowledge, thou wouldest not fit downe to meate in an idoles temple) wilt thou destroy thy brother, hardening his weake conscience by this example to doe euill, for whose saluation Christ himselfe hath died? ✣ Rom. 14.15. 8 An other amplification: Such offending of our weake brethren redoundeth vnto Christ, and therefore let not these men thinke that they haue to doe onely with their brethren. ✣ Rom. 14.21. 9 The conclusion, which Paul concludeth in his owne person, that he might not seeme to exact that of other, which hee will not be first subiect vnto himselfe. I had rather (saith he) abstaine for euer from all kinde of flesh, then giue occasion of sinne to any of my brethren, much lesse would I refuse in any certaine place or time for my brothers sake not to eate flesh offered to idoles.

CHAP. IX.

1 Hee declareth, that from the libertie which the Lord gaue him, 15 hee willingly abstained, 18. 22 lest in things indifferent he should offend any. 24 Hee sheweth that our life is like vnto a race.

AM [1] I not an Apostle? am I not free? [2] haue I not seene Iesus Christ our Lord? are ye not my worke [a] in the Lord?

2 If I be not an Apostle vnto other, yet doubtlesse I am vnto you: for ye are the [b] seale of mine Apostleship in the Lord.

3 [3] My defence to them that [c] examine mee, is this,

4 [4] Haue we not power to [d] eate & to drinke?

5 Or haue we not power to leade about a wife being a [e] sister, as well as the rest of the Apostles, and as the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas?

6 Or I only and Barnabas, haue not we power [f] not to worke?

7 [5] Who [g] goeth a warfare any time at his owne cost? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruite therof? or who feedeth a flocke, and eateth not of the milke of the flocke?

8 [6] Say I these things [h] according to man? saith not the Lawe the same also?

9 For it is written in the Lawe of Moses, ✣ Thou shalt not muzzell the mouth of the oxe that treadeth out the corne: doth God take care for [i] oxen?

10 Either saith hee it not altogether for our sakes? For our sakes no doubt it is written, that he which eareth, should eare in hope, & that he that thresheth in hope, should be partaker of his hope.

1 Before he proceedeth any further in his proposed matter of things offered to idoles, he would shewe the cause of all this mischiefe, and also take it away: to wit, that the Corinthians thought themselues not bound to depart from a iote of their libertie for any mans pleasure: therefore he propoundeth himselfe for an example, and that in a matter almost necessarie. And yet he speaketh seuerally of both, but first of his owne person. If (saith he) you aleadge for your selues that you are free, and therefore wil vse your libertie, am I not also free, seeing I am an Apostle?

2 He proueth his Apostleship by the effectes, in that that he was appointed of Christ himselfe, and the authoritie of his function was sufficiently confirmed to him amongst them by their conuersion. And al these things he setteth before their eyes, to make them ashamed for that they would not in the least wise that might be, debase themselues for the weakes sake, whereas the Apostle himselfe did all that he could to winne them to God when they were vtterly reprobate and without God. a By the Lord. b As a seale whereby it appeareth sufficiently that God is the authour of my Apostleship. 3 He addeth this by the way, as if he would say, So farre it is off that you may doubt of my Apostleship, that I vse to refute them which call it into controuersie, by opposing those things which the Lord hath done by me amongst you. c Which like iudges examine me and my doings. 4 Now touching the matter it selfe, hee saith, Seeing that I am free, and truely an Apostle, why may not I (I say not, eate of all things offered to idoles, but) be maintained by my labours, yea & keepe my wife also, as the residue of the Apostles lawfully doe, as by name, Iohn and Iames the Lords cosins, and Peter himselfe? d Upon the expense of the Church? e One that is a Christian and a true beleeuer? f Not to liue by the worke of our handes? 5 That he may not seeme to burden the Apostles, he sheweth that it is iust that they doe by an argument of comparison, seeing that souldiers liue by their wages, and husbandmen by the fruites of their labours, and shepheards by that that commeth of their flockes. g Vseth to goe a warfare? 6 Secondly he bringeth foorth the authoritie of Gods institution by an argument of comparison. h Haue I no better ground then the common custome of men? ✣ Deu. 25.4. 1. Tim. 5.18. i Was it Gods proper drift to prouide for oxen, when he made this Law? for otherwise there is not the smallest thing in the world, but God hath a care of it.

✣ *Rom.*15.27.
7 An assumption of the arguments with an amplification, for neither in so doing do we require a reward meete for our deserts.
8 An other argument of great force: other are nourished amongst you, therefore it was lawfull for me, yea rather for me then any other: and yet I refused it, and had rather still suffer any discommoditie, then the Gospel of Christ should be hindered.
k The word signifieth a right and interest, whereby he giueth vs to vnderstand that the ministers of the word must of right and dutie be found of the Church.
9 Last of all hee bringeth forth the expresse Law concerning the nourishing of the Leuites: which priuiledge notwithstanding he will not vse.
✣ *Deut.*18.1.
l This is spoken by the figure Metonymie, for, of those things that are offred in the temple.
m Are partakers with the altar in diuiding the sacrifice.
n Because they preach the Gospel. It followeth by this place, that Paul gate no liuing, neither would haue any other man get, by any commoditie of masses, or any other such superstitious trumperies.

11 ✣ 7 If we haue sowen vnto you spirituall things, is it a great thing if we reape your carnall things?
12 8 If others with you bee partakers of this k power, are not we rather? neuertheles, we haue not vsed this power: but suffer all things, that we should not hinder the Gospel of Christ.
13 9 Doe ye not knowe, that they which minister about the ✣ holy things, eate of the l things of the Temple? and they which waite at the altar, are m partakers with the altar?
14 So also hath the Lord ordeined, that they which preach ỹ Gospel, should liue n of ỹ Gospel.
15 But I haue vsed none of these things: 10 neither wrote I these things, that it should be so done vnto mee: for it were better for me to die, then ỹ any man should make my reioycing vaine.
16 For though I preach the Gospel, I haue nothing to reioyce of: for necessitie is laid vpon me, and woe is vnto me, if I preach not the Gospel.
17 For if I doe it willingly, I haue a reward, but if I doe it against my will, notwithstanding the dispensation is committed vnto me.
18 What is my reward then? verely that when I preach the Gospel, I make the Gospel of Christ o free, that I abuse not mine authority in ỹ Gospel.
19 For though I bee free from all men, yet haue I made my selfe seruant vnto all men, that I may winne the moe.
20 ∵ And vnto the Iewes, I become as a Iewe, that I may winne the Iewes: to them that are vnder the p Lawe, as though I were vnder the Lawe, that I may winne them that are vnder the Lawe:
21 To them that are without Lawe, as though I were without Lawe, (when I am not without Lawe as pertaining to God, but am in the Lawe through Christ) that I may winne them that are without Lawe:
22 To the weake I become as weake, that I may winne the weake: I am made all things to q all men, that I might by all meanes saue some.
23 And this I doe for the Gospels sake, that I might be partaker thereof with r you.
24 11 Know ye not, that they which runne in a race, runne all, yet one receiueth the price? so runne that ye may obtaine.
25 And euery man that proueth masteries, ſ abstaineth frō all things: and they do it to obtaine a corruptible crowne: but we for an vncorruptible.
26 I therefore so runne, not as vncertainely: so fight I, not as one that beateth the ayre.
27 But I beate downe my t body, & bring it into subiection, lest by any meanes after that I haue preached to other, I my self should be u reproued.

o By taking nothing of them to who I preach it. ∵ *Act.*18.3. *gala.*2.3. p The word (Law) in this place, must be restrained to the ceremoniall Lawe. q In matters that are indifferent, which may be done or not done with a good conscience: as if he sayd, ỹ changed my selfe into all fashions, that by all meanes ỹ might saue some. r That both I and they to whom ỹ preach the Gospell may receiue fruit by the Gospel. 11 He bringeth in another cause of this mischief, to wit, that they were giuen to gluttonie, for there were solemne bankets of sacrifices, and the riot of the Prieſtes was alwayes too much celebrated and kept. Therfore it was hard for them which were accustomed to riotousnesse, especially when they pretended the libertie of the Gospel, to be restrained from these bankets: but contrariwise, the Apostle calleth them by a pleasant similitude, & also by his owne example, to sobrietie & mortification of the flesh, shewing, that they can not be fit to runne or wrestle (as then the games of Isthmies were) which pamper vp their bodies, and therefore affirming that they can haue no reward, vnlesse they take another course and trade of life. ſ Vseth a most exquisite diet.

t The olde man which striueth against the Spirit.
u This word (Reproued) is not set as contrary to the word (Elect) but as contrary to the words (Approoued) when we see one by experience not to be such an one as he ought to be.

CHAP. X.

1 If God spared not the Iewes, neither will hee spare those who are of like condition, 3. 4 touching the outward signes of his grace, 14 That it is absurd, that such should be partakers of the table of the deuils, who are partakers of the Lords Supper. 24 to haue consideration of our neighbour in things indifferent.

1 MOreouer, 1 brethren, I would not that yee shoulde bee ignorant, that all our a fathers were vnder ✣ that cloude, and all passed through that ✣ sea,

Nowe moreouer and besides that these things are fitly spoken against them which frequented idoles feastes, the same also seeme to be alleadged to this ende and purpose, because many men are thus minded, that those things are not of such great weight, that God will be angrie with them, if they vse them, so that they frequent Christian assemblies and be baptized, and receiue

16 The cup of n blessing which we blesse, is it not the o communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we breake, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?

17 For wee that are many, are one bread and one body, because wee all are partakers of one bread.

18 Beholde Israel, which is after the p flesh: are not they which eate of the sacrifices q partakers of the altar?

19 What say I then? that the idole is any thing? or that that which is sacrificed to idoles, is any thing?

20 Nay, but that these things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to deuils, and not vnto God: and I would not that ye should haue r fellowship with the deuils.

21 Ye cannot drinke the cup of the Lord, and the s cup of the deuils. Ye cannot be partakers of the Lords table, and of the table of the deuils.

22 Doe we prouoke the Lord to anger? are we stronger then he?

CHAP. XI.

1 He blameth the Corinthians for that in their holy assemblies, 4 men doe pray hauing their heads couered, 6 and women bare headed, and because their meetings tended to euill, 21 who mingled prophane bankets with the holy Supper of the Lord. 23 which hee requireth to be celebrated according to Christes institution.

✣ 2. Thes. 3.9.

1 The fifth treatise of this epistle concerning the right ordering of publike assemblies, conteining three points, to wit, of the comely apparel of men and women, of the order of the Lords Supper, and of the right vse of spirituall gifts. But going about to reprehend certaine things, he beginneth notwithstanding with a generall praise of them, calling those particular lawes of comelines and honestie, which belong to the ecclesiasticall pollicie, traditions, which afterward they called Canons.

2 Hee setteth downe God, in Christ our mediatour, for the ende and marke not onely of doctrine, but also of ecclesiasticall comelinesse. Then applying it to the question proposed touching the comely apparell both of men and women in publike assemblies, he declareth that the woman is one degree beneath the man by the ordinance of God, and that the man is so subiect to Christ, ỹ the glory of God ought to appeare in him for the preeminence of the sexe. ✣ Ephes. 5.23. a In that, that Christ is our mediatour.

3 Hereof he gathereth, that if men do either pray or preach in publike assemblies hauing their heads couered (which was then a signe of subiection) they did as it were spoyle themselues of their dignitie against Gods ordinance. b It appeareth that this was a politike Law seruing only for the circumstances of the time that Paul liued in, by this reason, because in these our dayes for a man to speake bareheaded in an assemblie, is a signe of subiection. 4 And in like sort he concludeth, that women which shew themselues in publike & ecclesiastical assemblies without the signe & token of their subiection, that is to say, vncouered, shame themselues. 5 The first argument taken frō the common sense of man, for so much as nature teacheth women, that it is dishoneſt for them to come abroad bare headed, seeing ỹ she hath giuen them thicke & long haire, which they doe so diligently trimme and decke, that they can in no wise abide to haue it shaued. 6 The taking away of an obiection: Haue not men also haire giuen them? I graunt, saith the Apostle, but theyr is another matter in it. For man was made to this ende & purpose, that the glory of God should appeare in his rule & authoritie: but the woman was made, that by profession of her obedience, she might more honour her husband. ✣ Gen. 1.26. and 5.1. and 9.6. colos. 3.10. 7 Hee prooueth the inequalitie of the woman by that, that the man is the matter whereof woman was first made. ✣ Gene. 2.22. 8 Secondly, by that that the woman was made for man, and not the man for the womans sake. 9 The conclusion: Women must be couered, to shew by this externall signe, their subiection. c A couering which is a token of subiection. 10 What this meaneth, I doe not yet vnderstand.

m He that would haue you tempted for your profites sake, will giue you an issue to escape out of the tentation.

5 Now returning to those idoles feastes, that hee may not seeme to dally at all, first he promiseth that hee will vse no other reasons, then such as they knew very well themselues. And he vseth an induction borowed of the agreement that is in the things themselues. The holy bankets of the Christians are pledges, first of all, of the communitie that they haue with Christ, and next, one with another. The Israelites also doe ratifie in their sacrifices, their mutuall coniunction in one selfe same religion: therefore so doe the idolaters also ioyne themselues with their idoles or deuils, rather (for idoles are nothing) in those solemne bankets: whereupon it followeth, that that table is a table of deuils, and therefore you must eschew it: For you cannot be partakers of the Lorde and of idoles together, much lesse may such bankets be accompted for things indifferent. Wil ye then striue with God? and if you doe, thinke you that you shall get the vpper hand?

n Of thanksgiuing: whereupon, that holy banket was called Eucharist, that is, a thanksgiuing. o A most effectuall pledge and note of our knitting together with Christ, and ingraffing to him. p That is, as yet obserue their ceremonies. q Are consenting and guiltie, both of that worship and sacrifice. r Haue any thing to doe with the deuils, or enter into that societie which is begunne on the deuils name. s The heathen and prophane people were wont to stint vp and make an ende of their feastes, which they kept to the honour of their gods, in offering meate offerings and drinke offrings to them, with bankets & feastings. ✣ Chap. 6.12. 6 Comming to another kinde of things offered to idoles, he repeateth that generall rule, that in the vse of things indifferent we ought to haue consideration not of our selues onely, but of our neighbours, and therefore there are many things which of themselues are lawfull, which may be euill done of vs, because of offence to our neighbour. t Looke afore Chap. 6.13. 7 An applying of the rule to the present matter: Whatsoeuer is solde in the shambles, you may indifferently buy it as it were at the Lords hand, and eate it either at home with the faithfull, or being called home to the vnfaithfull, to wit, in a priuate banket: but yet with this exception, vnlesse any man he present which is weake, whose conscience may be offended by setting meates offered to idoles before them: for then you ought to haue consideration of their weakenes. u The flesh that was sacrificed, was vsed to be solde in the shambles, and the price returned to the Priestes. ✣ Psal. 24.1. x All those things whereof, it is full. 8 A reason: for wee must take heede that our libertie be not euill spoken of, and that the benefite of God which we ought to vse with thanksgiuing be not changed into impietie, and that through our fault, if we chuse rather to offend the conscience of the weake, then to yeelde a litle of our libertie in a matter of no importance, and so giue occasion to the weake to iudge in such sort of vs, and of Christian libertie. And the Apostle maketh these things vpon his owne person, that the Corinthians may haue so much the lesse occasion to oppose any thing against him.

11 A digreſsion which ỹ Apoſtle vſeth, leſt that which he ſpake of the ſuperioritie of men, and lower degree of women in conſideration of ỹ policie of the Church, ſhould be ſo take as though there were no meaſure of this inequalitie. Therefore hee teacheth that men haue in ſuch ſort the preeminence, that God made them not alone, but women alſo: and woman was ſo made of man, that men alſo are borne by the meanes of women: and this ought to put them in minde to obſerue the degree of euery ſexe in ſuch ſort, that mutuall coniunction may be cherished.

12 He vrgeth the argument taken from the common ſenſe of nature.

e To be a couering for her, and ſuch a couering, as ſhould procure another.

13 Againſt ſuch as are ſtubburnly contentious, we haue to oppoſe this, that the Churches of God are not contentious.

14 Hee paſſeth now to the next treatiſe concerning the right adminiſtration of the Lords Supper. And the Apoſtle vſeth this ſharper preface, that the Corinthians might vnderſtand, that whereas they obſerued generally the Apoſtles commandements, yet they foully neglected them in a matter of greateſt importance.

11 [11] Neuertheleſſe, neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man [d] in the Lord.

12 For as the woman is of the man, ſo is the man alſo by the woman: but all things are of God.

13 [12] Iudge in your ſelues, Is it comely that a woman pray vnto God vncouered?

14 Doeth not nature it ſelfe teache you, that if a man haue long haire, it is a ſhame vnto him?

15 But if a woman haue long haire, it is a praiſe vnto her: for her haire is giuen her for a [e] couering.

16 [13] But if any man luſt to be contentious, we haue no ſuch cuſtome, neither the Churches of God.

17 ¶ [14] Now in this that I declare, I praiſe you not, that ye come together, not with profite, but with hurt.

18 [15] For firſt of all, when yee come together in the Church, I heare that there are diſſentions among you: and I beleeue it to be true in ſome part.

19 [16] For there muſt be hereſies euen among you, that they which are [f] approoued among you, might be knowen.

20 When ye come together therefore into one place, this is [g] not to eate the Lords Supper.

21 For euery man when they ſhould eate, taketh his owne ſupper [h] afore, and one is hungry, and another is drunken.

22 [17] Haue ye not houſes to eate and to drinke in? deſpiſe ye the Church of God, & ſhame them that haue not? what ſhall I ſay to you? ſhall I prayſe yon in this? I prayſe you not.

23 [18] For I haue receiued of the Lorde that which I alſo haue deliuered vnto you, to wit, That the Lord Ieſus in the night when hee was betrayed, tooke bread:

24 ✣ And when hee had giuen thankes, hee brake it, and ſayd, Take, eate: this is my body, which is [i] broken for you: this doe ye in remembrance of me.

25 After the ſame maner alſo he tooke the cup, when he had ſupped, ſaying, This cup is the Newe Teſtament in my blood: this doe as oft as yee drinke it, in remembrance of me.

26 For as often as yee ſhall eate this bread, and drinke this cuppe, ye ſhewe the Lords death till he come.

15 To celebrate the Lordes Supper aright, it is requiſite that there be not onely conſent of doctrine, but alſo of affections, that it be not prophaned. 16 Although that ſchiſmes and hereſies proceede from the deuil, are euill, and yet they come not by chaunce, nor without cauſe, and they turne to the profite of the elect.

f Whome experience hath taught to be of ſound religion and godlineſſe. g Thu is an vſuall kinde of ſpeach, whereby the Apoſtle denieth that flatly, which many did not well. h Eateth his meate and tarieth not till other come. 17 The Apoſtle thinketh it good to take away the loue feaſts for their abuſe, although they had bene a long time, and with commendation vſed in Churches, and were appointed and inſtituted by the Apoſtles. 18 We muſt take a true forme of keeping the Lords Supper, out of the inſtitution of it, the partes whereof are theſe, touching the Paſtours, to ſhew forth the Lords death, by preaching his worde: to bleſſe the bread and the wine by calling vpon the Name of God, & together with prayers to declare the inſtitution thereof, and finally to deliuer the bread broken to be eaten, and the cup receiued to be dronke with thankeſgiuing. And touching the flocke, that euery man examine himſelfe, ỹ is to ſay, to proue both his knowledge, and alſo faith, and repentance: to ſhew foorth the Lordes death, that is, in true faith to yeelde vnto his worde & inſtitution: and laſt of all, to take the bread at the Miniſters hand, and to eate it and to drinke the wine, and giue God thanks. This was Pauls and the Apoſtles maner of miniſtring. ✣ Matth. 26. 26. mar. 14. 22. luke 22. 19. i This word (Broken) muſt be alſo vnto vs Chriſt his maner of death: for although his legges were not broken, as the theeues legges were, yet was his body very ſore tormented, and torne, and bruiſed.

27 [19] Wherefore, whoſoeuer ſhall eate this bread, and drinke the cuppe of the Lord [k] vnworthily, ſhalbe guiltie of the body and blood of the Lorde.

28 ✣ [20] Let [l] euery man therefore examine himſelfe, and ſo let him eate of this bread, and drinke of this cup.

29 For he that eateth & drinketh vnworthily, eateth and drinketh his owne damnation, becauſe he [m] diſcerneth not the Lords body.

30 [21] For this cauſe many are weake, and ſicke among you, and many ſleepe.

31 For if wee would [n] iudge our ſelues, wee ſhould not be iudged.

32 But when we are iudged, we are chaſtened of the Lord, becauſe we ſhould not be condemned with the world.

33 [22] Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eate, tary one for another.

34 [23] And if any man be hungry, let him eate at home, ỹ ye come not together vnto condemnation. [24] Other things wil I ſet in order when I come.

19 Whoſoeuer contemne the holy Sacraments, that is, vſe them not aright, are guiltie not of the bread and wine, but of the thing it ſelfe, that is, of Chriſt, and ſhalbe grieuouſly puniſhed for it.

k Otherwiſe then meete is ſuch myſteries ſhould be handled.

✣ 2. Cor. 13. 5.

20 The examination of a mans ſelfe, is of neceſſitie requited in the Supper, and therefore they ought not to be admitted vnto it, which can not examine themſelues: as children, furious and madde men, alſo ſuch as either haue no knowledge of Chriſt, or not ſufficient, although they profeſſe Chriſtian religion: and others ſuch like.

l This place beateth downe the faith of credite, or vnwrapped faith, which the Papiſts maintaine. m He is ſayd to diſcerne the Lords body, that hath conſideration of the worthines of it, and therefore commeth to eate of this meate with great reuerence. 21 The prophaning of the body & blood of the Lord in his myſteries, is ſharply puniſhed of him, & therefore ſuch a miſchiefe ought diligently to be preuented by iudging and correcting of a mans ſelfe. n Trie and examine our ſelues, by faith and repentance, ſeparating our ſelues from the wicked. 22 The Supper of the Lorde is a common act on of the whole Church, and therefore there is no place for priuate ſuppers. 23 The Supper of the Lord was inſtituted not to feede the belly, but to feede the ſoule with the communion of Chriſt, & therefore it ought to be ſeparate from common baskets. 24 Such things as pertaine to order, as place, time, forme of prayers, and other ſuch like, the Apoſtle tooke order for in Congregations, according to the conſideration of times, places, and perſons.

CHAP. XII.

1 To drawe away the Corinthians from contention and pride, hee ſheweth that ſpirituall gifts are therefore diuerſly beſtowed, 7 that the ſame being ioyntly to eche other imployed, 12 we may growe vp together into one body of Chriſt in ſuch equall proportion and meaſure, 20 as the members of mans body doe.

NOwe [1] concerning ſpirituall giftes, brethren, I would not haue you [a] ignorant.

2 [2] Ye knowe that yee were [b] Gentiles, and were caried away vnto the dumme Idoles, as yee were led.

3 [3] Wherefore, I declare vnto you, that no man ✣ ſpeaking by the Spirit of God, calleth Ieſus [c] execrable: alſo no man can ſay that Ieſus is the Lord, but by the holy Ghoſt.

4 [4] Now there are diuerſities of gifts, but the [d] ſame Spirit.

5 And there are diuerſities of adminiſtrations, but the ſame Lord.

6 And there are diuerſities of [e] operations, but

1 Now he entreth into the third part of this treatiſe, touching the right vſe of ſpirituall giftes, wherein he giueth the Corinthians plainely to vnderſtand, that they abuſed them: for they that excelled, bragged ambitiouſly of them, and ſo robbed God of the praiſe of his gifts and hauing no conſideration of their brethren, abuſed them to a vaine oſtentation, and ſo robbed the Church of the vſe of thoſe giftes. On the other ſide, the inferiour ſort enuied the better, and went about to make a departure, ſo that all that body was as it were ſcattered and rent in pieces. So then he going about to remedie theſe abuſes, willeth them firſt to conſider diligently, that they haue not theſe giftes of themſelues, but from the free grace and liberalitie of God, to whoſe glory they ought to beſtow them all. a Ignorant to what purpoſe theſe giftes are giuen you. 2 He prooueth the ſame by comparing their former ſtate with that wherein they were at this time indued with theſe excellent giftes. b As touching Gods ſeruice and the couenant, mere ſtrangers. 3 The concluſion: Knowe you therefore, that you cannot ſo much as moue your lippes to honour Chriſt withall, but by the grace of the holy Ghoſt. ✣ Mar. 9. 39. ✣ Iohn 13. 13. chap. 8. 6. philip. 2. 11. c Doeth curſe him, or by any meanes whatſoeuer diminiſh his glory. 4 In the ſecond place, he layeth another foundation, ſo wit, that theſe gifts are diuers, as the functions alſo are diuers, and their offices diuers, but that one ſelfe ſame Spirit, Lord and God is the giuer of all theſe gifts, & that to one ende, to wit, for the profite of all. d The Spirit is placed by diſtinguiſhed from the gifts. e So Paul calleth that inward force which commeth from the holy Ghoſt, and maketh men fit to worke ſuch things.

God is the same which worketh all in all.

7 But the manifestation of the Spirit is f giuen to euery man, to g profite withall.

8 5 For to one is giuen by the Spirit the word of h wisdome: and to another the word of knowledge, by the same Spirit:

9 And to another i is giuen faith by the same Spirit: and to another the gifts of healing, by the same Spirit:

10 And to another the i operations of great works: and to another, k prophecie: and to another, the l discerning of spirits: and to another, diuersities of tongues: and to another, the interpretation of tongues.

11 ✣ And all these things worketh one and the selfe same Spirit, distributing to euery man seuerally 6 as he will.

12 7 For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of the body, which is one, though they be many, yet are but one body: 8 euen so is m Christ.

13 For by one Spirit are wee all baptized into n one body, whether we be Iewes, or Grecians, whether we be bond, or free, and haue bene all made to o drinke into one Spirit.

14 9 For the body also is not one member, but many.

15 10 If the foote would say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body, is it therefore not of the body?

16 And if the eare woulde say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body, is it therefore not of the body?

17 11 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?

18 But nowe hath God disposed the members euery one of them in the body at his owne pleasure.

19 For if they were all one member, where were the body?

20 But now are there many members, yet but one body.

21 12 And the eye cannot say vnto the hand, I haue no needе of thee: nor the head againe to the feete, I haue no needе of you.

22 Yea, much rather those members of the body, which seeme to be p more feeble, are necessarie.

23 And vpon those members of the body, which wee thinke most vnhoneſt, put wee more q honestie on: and our vncomely partes haue more comelinesse on.

24 For our comely partes neede it not: but God hath tempered the body together, and hath giuen the more honour to that part which lacked,

25 Lest there should be any diuision in the body: but that the members should haue the same r care one for another.

26 13 Therefore if one member suffer, all suffer with it: if one member be had in honour, all the members reioyce with it.

27 Now ye are the body of Christ, and members for your s part.

28 ✣ And God hath ordeined some in the Church: as first Apostles, secondly Prophets, thirdly teachers, then them that doe miracles: after that, the giftes of healing, t helpers, u gouernours, diuersitie of tongues.

29 Are all Apostles? are all Prophets? are all teachers?

30 Are all doers of miracles? haue all the gifts of healing? doe all speake with tongues? doe all interpret?

31 14 But desire you the best giftes, and I will yet shewe you a more excellent way.

f The holy Ghost openeth and sheweth himselfe freely in giuing of these giftes. g To the vse and benefite of the Church. 5 He declareth this manifolde diuersitie, and reckoneth vp the chiefest giftes, beating that into their heads, which he said before, to wit, that all these things proceeded from one selfe same Spirit. h Wisedome is a most excellent gift, very requisite, not onely for them which teach, but also for them that exhort and comfort, which thing is proper to the Pastours office: as the word of knowledge agreeth to the Doctours. i By operation he meaneth those great workings of Gods mightie power, which passe and excell amongst his miracles, as the deliuerie of his people Israel by the hand of Moses: that which hee did by Elias against the Priestes of Baal, in sending downe fire from heauen to consume his sacrifice: and that which he did by Peter, in the matter of Ananias and Saphira. k Foretelling of things to come. l Whereby false prophets are knowen from true, wherein Peter passed Philippe in discouering Simon Magus, Actes 8.20. ✣ Rom.12.3. ephes.4.7. 6 He addeth moreouer some thing else, to wit, that although that these giftes are vnequall, yet they are most wisely diuided, because the will of the Spirit of God is the rule of this distribution. 7 Hee setteth foorth his former saying by a similitude taken from the body: This faith he, is manifestly seene in the body, whose members are diuers, but yet so knitte together, that they make but one body. 8 The applying of the similitude. So shall wee also thinke, sayth hee, of the mysticall body of Christ: for all we that beleeue, whether we be Iewes or Gentiles, are by one selfe same Baptisme, ioyned together with our head, that by that meanes, there may be framed one body compact of many members: and we haue drunke one selfe same spirite, that is to say, a spirituall feeling, perseuerance and motion common to vs all, out of one cuppe. m Christ ioyned together with his Church. n To become one body with Christ. o By one quickening drinke of the Lords blood, wee are made partakers of his onely Spirit. 9 He amplifieth that which followed of the similitude: as if hee should say, The vnitie of the body is not onely not let by this diuersity of members, but also it could not be a body, if it did not consist of many, and those diuers members. 10 Nowe hee buildeth his doctrine vpon the foundations which he hath layde: and first of all he continueth in his purposed similitude, and afterward hee goeth to the matter barely and simply. And first of all he speaketh vnto them which would haue separated themselues from those whom they enuied, because they had not such excellent giftes as they: now this is, saith he, as if the foote should say, it were not of the body, because it is not the hande or the eare, because it is not the eye. Therefore all partes ought rather to defend the vnitie of the body, being coupled together to serue one another. 12 Against speaking to them, he sheweth them that if that should come to passe which they desire, to wit, that all should be equall one to another, there would follow a destruction of the whole body, yea and of themselues: for it could not be a body, vnlesse it were made of many members knit together, and diuers one from the other. And that no man might finde fault with this diuision as vnequall, he addeth that God himselfe hath coupled all these together. Therefore all must remaine coupled together, that the body may remaine in safetie.

12 Nowe on the other side, hee speaketh vnto them which were indued with more excellent giftes, willing them not to despise the inferiours as vnprofitable, and as though they serued to no vse: for God, sayeth hee, hath in such sort tempered this inequalitie, that the more excellent and beautifull members can in no wise lacke the more abiect and such as wee are ashamed of, and that they should haue more care to ioyn vnto them and to couer them: that by this meanes the necessitie which is on both parts, might keepe the whole body in peace and concorde: that although if euh part be considered a part, they are of diuers degrees and conditions, yet because they are ioyned together, they haue a communitie both in commodities and discommodities. p Of the smallest and vilest offices, and there fore smally accounted of, of the rest. q Wee more carefully couer them. r Should bestowe their operations and offices to the profite and preseruation of the whole body. 13 Nowe he applyeth this same doctrine to the Corinthians without any allegorie, warning them that seeing there are diuers functions and diuers giftes, it is their duetie, not to offend one against another, either by enuie or ambition, but rather that they being ioyned together in loue and charitie one with an other, euery one of them bestow to the profite of all, that which he hath receiued, according as his ministerie dooth require. s For all Churches wheresoeuer they are dispersed through the whole worlde, are diuers members of one body. ✣ Ephesians 4.11. t The offices of Deacons. u He setteth foorth the order of Elders, which were the maintainers of the Churches discipline. 14 He teacheth them that are ambitious and enuious, a certaine holy ambition and enuie, to wit, if they giue themselues to the best giftes, and such as are most profitable to the Church, and so if they contende to excell one another in loue, which farre passeth all other giftes.

CHAP. XIII.

1 He sheweth that there are no gifts so excellent, which in Gods sight are not corrupt, if Charitie be away: 4 and therefore he digresseth vnto the commendation of it.

1 THough I speake with the tongues of men and a Angels, and haue not loue, I am as sounding brasse, or a b tinkling cymbal.

2 And though I had the gift of prophecie, and knewe all secrets and all knowledge, yea, if I had all c faith, so that I could remooue ✣ mountaines, and had not loue, I were nothing.

3 And though I feede the poore with all my goods, and though I giue my body, that I be burned, and haue not loue, it profiteth me nothing.

1. He setteth first of Charitie, the excellencie whereof he first sheweth by this, that without it, all other giftes are as nothing before God: which thing he prooueth partly by an induction, and partly also by an argument taken of the ende, wherefore those giftes are giuen. For, to what purpose are those giftes, but to Gods glorie, and the profite of the Church, as is before prooued? so that those giftes without Charitie, haue no right vse. a A very earnest kinde of amplifying a matter, as if he say de, If I were able to speake the tongues of Angels, and I had them, and did not vse them to the benefite of my neighbour, it were nothing else but a vaine and prating kinde of babbling. b That giueth a rude and no certaine sounde. c By faith, hee meaneth the gift of doing miracles, and not that faith which iustifieth, which cannot be voyde of Charitie as the other may. ✣ Matth.17.20.

2 He describeth the force and nature of charitie, partly by a comparison of contraries, and partly by the effects of it selfe: whereby the Corinthians may vnderstand, both how profitable it is in the Church, and how necessary: and also how farre they are from it, and therefore how vainely and without cause they are proude.

a Word for word, deserueth wrath.

e It is not consumelious.

f Reioyceth at righteousnes in the righteous. For the Hebrewes meane by truth, righteousnes.

3 Againe he commendeth the excellencie of charitie, in that, that it shall neuer be abolished in the Saintes, where-as the other giftes which are necessarie for the building vp of the Church, so long as wee liue here, shall haue no place in the worlde to come. g The way to get knowledge by prophecying. 4 The reason: Because weare nowe in that state, that wee haue neede to learne daily, and therefore wee haue neede of those helpes, to wit, of the gift of tongues, and knowledge, and also of them that teach them. But to what purpose serue they then, when wee haue obtained and gotten the full knowledge of God, which serue now but for them which are imperfite, and goe by degrees to perfection? h We learne imperfitly. 5 Hee setteth foorth that, that he sayde, by an excellent similitude, comparing this life to our infancie or childehoode, wherein we stagger and stammer rather then speake, and thinke and vnderstand but childish things, and therefore haue neede of such things as may forme and frame our tongue & minde: but when we become men, to what purpose should we desire that stammering, those childish toyes, and such like things, whereby our childehoode is framed by litle and litle? 6 The applying of the similitude of our childehood to this present life, wherein we darkely beholde heauenly things, according to the small measure of light which is giuen vs, through the vnderstanding of tongues, and hearing the teachers and ministers of the Church: of our mans age & strength, to that heauenly & eternall life, wherein when we beholde God himselfe present, and are lightened with his full and perfect light, to what purpose should wee desire the voyce of man, and those worldly things which are most imperfect? But yet then, shall all the Saintes bee knit both with God, and betweene themselues with most feruent loue, and therefore charitie shall not be abolished but perfected, although it shall not be shewed forth and entertained by such maner of dueties as peculiarly and only belong to the infirmitie of this life. i All this must be vnderstoode by comparison. 7 The conclusion: As if the Apostle should say, Such therefore shall be our condition then: but nowe we haue three things, and they remaine sure if we be Christes, as without which true religion cannot consist, to wit, faith, hope, and charitie. And among these, charitie is the chiefest, because it ceaseth not in the life to come as the rest doe, but is perfected & accomplished. For seeing that faith and hope tend to things which are promised, and are to come, when we haue presently gotten them, to what purpose should wee haue faith and hope? but yet there at length shall we truely and perfectly loue both God, and one another.

4 [2] Loue [d] suffereth long: it is bountiful: loue enuieth not: loue doeth not boast it selfe: it is not puffed vp:

5 It doeth [e] no vncomely thing: it seeketh not her owne things: it is not prouoked to anger: it thinketh no euill:

6 It reioyceth not in iniquitie, but [f] reioyceth in the trueth:

7 It suffereth all things: it beleeueth all things: it hopeth all things: it endureth all things.

8 [3] Loue doeth neuer fall away, though that prophecyings be abolished, or the tongues cease, or [g] knowledge vanish away.

9 [4] For we know in [h] part, and we prophecie in part.

10 But when that which is perfect, is come, then that which is in part, shalbe abolished.

11 [5] When I was a childe, I spake as a childe, I vnderstoode as a childe, I thought as a childe: but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

12 [6] For [i] now we see through a glasse darkely: but then shall we see face to face. Nowe I know in part: but then shall I knowe euen as I am knowen.

13 [7] And nowe abideth faith, hope and loue, euen these three: but the chiefest of these [k] loue.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Hee commendeth the gift of prophecying: 7 and by a similitude taken of musicall instruments, 12 he teacheth the true vse of interpreting the Scriptures: 17 hee taketh away the abuse: 34 and forbiddeth women to speake in the Congregation.

1 He inferreth now of that, that he spake before: Therefore seeing charitie is the chiefest of all, before all things set it before you as chiefe and principall: and so esteeme those things as most excellent, which profite the greatest part of men: (as prophecie, that is to say, the gift of teaching and applying the doctrine, which was contemned in respect of other giftes, although it be the chiefest & most necessary for the Church) & not those which for a shewe seeme to be marueilous, as the giftes of tongues, when a man was suddenly indued with the knowledge of many tongues, which made men greatly amazed, and yet of it selfe was not greatly to any vse, vnlesse there were an interpreter. a What prophecie is, he sheweth in the third verse.

FOlowe [1] after loue, and couet spirituall giftes, and rather that ye may [a] prophecie.

2 [2] For he that speaketh a strange [b] tongue, speaketh not vnto men, but vnto God: for no man heareth him: howbeit in the [c] spirit hee speaketh secret things.

3 But he that prophecieth, speaketh vnto men to [d] edifying, and to exhortation, and to comfort.

4 He that speaketh strange language, edifieth himselfe: but hee that prophecieth, edifieth the [e] Church.

5 I would that ye all spake strange languages, but rather that ye prophecied: for greater is hee that prophecieth, then hee that speaketh diuers tongues, except hee expound it, that the Church may receiue edification.

6 And nowe, brethren, if I come vnto you speaking diuers tongues, what shall I profite you, except I speake to you, either by reuelation, or by knowledge, or by prophecying, or by doctrine?

7 [3] Moreouer things without life which giue a sound, whether it be a pipe or an harpe, except they make a distinction in the soundes, howe shall it be knowen what is piped or harped?

8 And also if the trumpet giue an vncertaine sound, who shall prepare himselfe to battell?

9 So likewise you, by the tongue, except yee vtter wordes that haue [f] signification, howe shall it bee vnderstoode what is spoken? for yee shall speake in the ayre.

10 [4] There are so many kindes of voyces (as it commeth to passe) in the world, and none of them is dumme.

11 Except I know then the power of [g] voyce, I shalbe vnto him that speaketh a barbarian, and he that speaketh, shalbe a barbarian vnto me.

12 [5] Euen so, forasmuch as ye couet spirituall giftes, seeke that ye may excell vnto the edifying of the Church.

13 Wherefore, let him that speaketh a strange tongue, [h] pray that he may interprete.

14 [6] For [i] if I pray in a strange tongue, my [k] spirit praieth: but mine vnderstanding is [l] without fruit.

15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, but I will pray with the [m] vnderstanding also: I will sing with the spirite, but I will sing with the vnderstanding also.

16 [7] Else, when thou blessest with the [n] spirit, howe shall he that [o] occupieth the roume of the vnlearned, say [p] Amen, at thy giuing of thanks,

2 He reprehendeth their peruerse iudgement touching the gift of tongues. For why was it giuen? to wit, to the intent that the mysteries of God might be the better knowen to a greater sort. Thereby it is euident that prophecie, whereunto the gift of tongues ought to serue, is better then this: and therefore the Corinthians did iudge amisse, in that they made more accompt of the gift of tongues, then of prophecying: because forsooth the gift of tongues was a thing more to be bragged of. And hereupon folowed another abuse of the gift of tongues, in that the Corinthians vsed tongues in the congregation, without an interpreter. Which thing although it might be done to some profit of him that spake them, yet he corrupted the right vse of that gift, because there came thereby no profite to the hearers: and common assemblies were instituted and appointed not for any priuate mans commoditie, but for the profite of the whole companie.

b A strange language which no man can vnderstande without an interpreter.

c By that inspiration which he hath receiued of the Spirite, which notwithstanding he abuseth, when hee speaketh mysteries which none of the company can vnderstande. d Which may further men in the feare of godlinesse. e The companie. 3 He setteth forth that which he said, by a similitude which he boroweth and taketh from instruments of musicke: which although they speake not perfitly, yet they are distinguished by their sounds, that they may be the better vsed. f That doe fully vtter the matter it selfe. 4 He proueth that interpretation is necessarily to be ioyned with the gift of tongues, by y manifold varietie of languages, in so much that if one speake to another without an interpreter, it is as if he spake not. g At the Papists in all their sermons, and they that ambitiously powre out some Hebrew or Greeke words in the Pulpit before the vnlearned people, thereby to get them a name of vaine learning. 5 The conclusion: if they wil excell in those spirituall gifts, as it is meete, they must seeke the profit of the Church, & therefore they must not vse the gift of tongues, vnlesse there bee an interpreter to expounde the strange and vnknowen tongue, whether it be himselfe that speaketh, or another interpreter. h Pray for the gift of interpretation. 6 A reason: Because it is not sufficient for vs to speake so in the congregation, that we our selues doe worship God in spirit, that is, according to the gift which we haue receiued, but we must also be vnderstoode of the company, lest that be vnprofitable to other, which we haue spoken. i If I pray, when the Church is assembled together, in a strange tongue. k The gift and inspiration which the spirit giueth me, doeth his part, but onely to my selfe. l No fruite commeth to the Church by my prayers. m So that I may bee vnderstoode of other, and may instruct other. 7 An other reason: Seeing that the whole congregation must agree to him that speaketh, and also witnesse this agreement, howe shall they giue their assent or agreement, which knowe not what is spoken? n Onely, without all consideration of the hearers. o He that sitteth as a priuate man. p So then one vttered the prayers, and all the companie answered Amen.

seeing he knoweth not what thou sayest?

17 For thou verely giuest thankes wel, but the other is not edified.

8 He propoundeth himselfe for an example, both that they may be ashamed of their foolish ambition, and also that he may eschew all suspicion of enuie.

18 8 I thanke my God, I speake languages more then ye all.

19 Yet had I rather in the Church to speake 9 fiue wordes with mine vnderstanding, that I might also instruct others, then ten thousande wordes in a strange tongue.

9 A very fewe wordes.

20 9 Brethren, be not ✣children in vnderstanding, but as concerning maliciousnesse be children, but in vnderstanding be of a ripe age.

9 Nowe hee reproueth them freely for their childish folly, which see not how this gift of tongues which was giuen to the profite of the Church, is turned by their ambition into an instrument of cursing, seeing that this same also is conteined amongst the punishments wherewith God punished the stubburnes of his people, that he dispersed them amongst strangers whose language they vnderstoode not.

21 In the r Lawe it is written, ✣By men of other tongues, & by other languages wil I speake vnto this people: yet so shall they not heare me, sayth the Lord.

✣ Matth.28.3.

22 10 Wherfore strange tongues are for a signe, not to them that beleeue, but to them that beleeue not: but prophecying serueth not for them that beleeue not, but for them which beleeue.

r By the Lawe hee vnderstandeth all the whole Scripture.

23 11 If therefore, when the whole Church is come together in one, and all speake strange tongues, there come in they that are s vnlearned, or they which beleeue not, will they not say, that yeare out of your wits?

✣ Isai.28.11.

24 But if all prophecie, and there come in one that beleeueth not, or one vnlearned, he is rebuked of all men, and is iudged of all,

10 The conclusion: Therefore the gift of tongues serueth to punish the vnfaithfull and vnbeleeuers, vnlesse it be referred to prophecie (that is to say, to the interpretation of Scripture) and that that which is spoken, be by that meanes vnderstood of the hearers.

25 And so are ✣ secrets of his heart made manifest, & so he wil fall downe on his face & worship God, & say plainely that God is in you in deede.

✣ Or, secrets.

26 12 What is to be done then, brethren? when ye come together, according as euery one of you hath a Psalme, or hath doctrine, or hath a tongue, or hath reuelation, or hath interpretation, let all things be done vnto edifying.

11 An other argument: The gift of tongues without prophecie is not onely vnprofitable to the faithfull, but also doeth very much hurt as well to them as to the vnfaithfull which should be wonne in the publike assemblies. For by this meanes it commeth to passe, that the faithfull seeme to other to be madde, much lesse can the vnfaithfull be instructed thereby. s Looke Acts.4.13.

27 13 If any man speake a strange tongue, let it be by two, or at the most, by three, and that by course, and let one interprete.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keepe silence in the Church, which speaketh languages, and let him speake to himselfe, and to God.

29 14 Let the Prophets speake two, or three, and let the other iudge.

30 And if any thing be reueiled to another that sitteth by, let the first holde his peace.

31 For ye may all prophecie one by one, that all may learne, and all may haue comfort.

32 And the t spirits of the Prophets are subiect to the Prophets.

12 The conclusion: The edifying of the congregation is a rule and square of the right vse of all spirituall gifts.

33 For God is not the authour of confusion, but of peace, as we see in all ✣ Churches of the Saints.

✣ Or, the.

34 15 ✣ Let your women keepe silence in the Churches: for it is not permitted vnto them to speake: but they ought to be subiect, as also ✣ the Lawe sayth.

13 The maner how to vse the gift of tongues. It may be lawful for one or two, or at the most for three, to vse the gift of tongues, one after another in an assembly, so ✣ there be some to expound the same: but if there be none to expound, let him that hath that gift, speake to himselfe alone.

✣ Or, they.

14 The maner of prophecying: Let two or three propound, & let the other iudge of that that is propounded, whether it be agreable to the worde of God or no: If in this examination the Lorde giue any man ought to speake, let them giue him leaue to speake. Let euery man be admitted to prophecie, seuerally and in his order, so farre forth as it is requisite for the edifying of the Church: Let them be content to be subiect eche to others iudgement.

t The doctrine which the Prophets bring, which are inspired with Gods Spirit.

35 And if they will learne any thing, let them aske their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speake in the Church.

15 Women are commanded to be silent in publique assemblies, & they are commanded to aske of their husbands at home. ✣ 1.Tim.2.12. ✣ Gene.3.16.

36 16 Came the worde of God out from you? either came it vnto you onely?

16 A generall conclusion of the treatise of the right vse of spirituall giftes in assemblies: with a sharpe reprehension, least the Corinthians might alone seeme to themselues to be wise.

37 If any man thinke himselfe to be a Prophet, or u spirituall, let him acknowledge, that the things that I write vnto you, are the commandements of the Lord.

u Stirred in knowing and iudging spirituall things.

38 17 And if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

17 The Church ought not to care for such as be stubburnely ignorant, and will not abide to be taught, but to goe forwarde notwithstanding, in those things which are right.

39 18 Wherefore, brethren, couet to prophecie, and forbid not to speake languages.

18 Prophecie ought simplie to be retained and kept in Congregations, the gift of tongues is not to be forbidden, but all things must be done orderly.

40 Let all things be done honestly, and by order.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Gospel that Paul preached. 3 The death and resurrection of Christ. 8 Paul saw Christ. 9 Hee had persecuted that Church, whereof after ward he was made a minister. 12 Christ first rose againe, and we all shall rise by him. 26 The last enemie, death. 29 To be baptized for dead. 32 At Ephesus Paul fought with beastes. 35 Howe the dead are raised. 45 The first Adam. The last Adam. 47 The first and second man. 51 We shall all be changed, we shall not all sleepe. 55 Deaths sting. 57 Victorie. 58 Constaunce and stedfastnes.

1 The first treatise of this Epistle, concerning the resurrection, and he vseth a transition, or passing ouer from one matter to another, shewing first that hee bringeth no newe thing, to the ende that the Corinthians might vnderstande that they had begunne to swarue from the right doctrine, and heal that he goeth not about to entreate of a trifling matter, but of another chiefe point of the Gospel, which if it be taken away, their faith must needes come to nought. And for the length how beginneth this treatise of Christes resurrection, which is the ground and foundation of ours, and confirmeth it first by the testimonie of the Scriptures and by the witnes of the Apostles, and of MOreouer 1 ✣ brethren, I declare vnto you the Gospel, which I preached vnto you, which yee haue also receiued, and wherein yee a continue,

2 And whereby yee are saued, if yee keepe in memorie, after what maner I preached it vnto you, b except ye haue beleeued in vaine.

3 For first of all, I deliuered vnto you that which I receiued, howe that Christ died for our sinnes, according to the ✣ Scriptures,

4 And that he was buried, and that hee arose the third day, according to the ✣ Scriptures,

5 ✣ And that he was seene of Cephas, then of the c twelue.

6 After that, hee was seene of moe then fiue hundreth brethren at d once: whereof many remaine vnto this present, and some also are asleepe.

7 After that, he was seene of Iames: then of all the Apostles.

8 ✣ 2 And last of all he was seene also of me, as of one borne out of due time.

9 * For I am the least of the Apostles, which am not meete to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the Church of God.

10 ✣ But by the grace of God I am that I am: and his grace which is in me, was not in vaine: but I laboured more aboundantly then they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which is with me.

11 Wherefore, whether it were I, or they, so we preach, and so haue ye beleeued.

12 ¶ 3 Now if it be preached, ✣ Christ is risen more then fiue hundreth brethren, and last of all by his owne.

a In the profession wherein you continue yet. b Which is not sufficient, and must be, but that they that beleeue, must reape the fruite of faith. ✣ Isai.53.5. 1.Pet.1.20. ✣ Iohn 2.1. ✣ John 20.19. c Of those twelue he picked and chose Apostles, whom we commonly called twelue, though Iudas were out of the number. d Or, at all times, but together and at one instant. ✣ Acts 9.5. e He maketh mention by the way, the authoritie of his Apostleship, which was requisite to be in good credite among the Corinthians, y this Epistle might be of force & weight among them. In y meane season he compareth himself in such sort after a certaine distance with certaine other, y he maketh himself inferiour to them all. ✣ Gal.1.13. & Ephes.3.7. 2 The first argument to proue that there is a resurrection from the dead: Christ is risen againe, therefore the dead shall rise again.

from the dead, howe say some among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 4 For if there be no resurrection of ỹ dead, then is Christ not risen:

14 5 And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vaine, and your faith is also vaine.

15 And wee are found also false witnesses of God: for we haue testified of God, that hee hath raised vp Christ: whom he hath not raised vp, if so be the dead be not raised.

16 6 For if the dead be not raised, then is Christ not raised.

17 And if Christ be not raised, your faith is vaine: 7 ye are 8 yet in your sinnes.

18 8 And so they which are asleepe in Christ, are perished.

19 9 If in this life only we haue hope in Christ, we are of all men the most miserable.

20 10 But nowe is Christ risen from the dead, 11 and was made the ✣ f first fruites of them that slept.

21 12 For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as in Adam all die, euen so in Christ shall all be g made aliue, 23 13 But euery man in his ✣ owne order: the first fruites is Christ, afterwarde, they that are of Christ, at his comming shall rise againe.

24 14 Then shalbe the h ende, when hee hath deliuered vp the kingdome to God, euen the Father, when he hath put downe i all rule, and all authoritie and power.

25 For hee must reigne: till hee hath put all his enemies k vnder his feete.

26 The l last enemie that shalbe destroyed, is death.

27 ✣ For he hath put downe all things vnder his feete. (And when he sayth that all things are subdued to him, it is manifest that he is excepted, which did put downe all things vnder him.)

28 And when all things shalbe subdued vnto him, m then shall the Sonne also himselfe be subiect vnto him, that did subdue all things vnder him, that n God may be all in all.

29 15 Els what shall they doe which are baptized o for dead? if the dead rise not at all, why are they then baptized for dead?

30 16 Why are wee also in ieopardie euery houre?

31 By our p reioycing which I haue in Christ Iesus our Lord, I die dayly.

32 17 If I haue fought with beasts at Ephesus q after the maner of men, what aduantageth it me, if the dead be not raised vp? ✣ 18 let vs r eate and drinke: for to morow we shall die.

33 19 Be not deceiued: euill speakings corrupt good maners.

34 Awake to iiue righteously, and sinne not: for some haue not ỹ knowledge of God, I speake this to your shame.

35 20 But some man wil say, How are the dead raised vp? and with what body come they foorth?

36 21 O foole, that which thou soweſt, is not quickened, except it die.

37 And that which thou soweſt, thou soweſt not that body that shall be, but bare corne as it falleth, of wheate, or of some other.

38 22 But God giueth it a body at his pleasure,

4 The second by an absurditie. If there be no resurrection of the dead, then is not Christ risen againe.

5 The proofe of that absurditie, by other absurdities: If Christ be not risen againe, the preaching of the Gospel is in vaine, and the credite that you gaue vnto it, is vaine, and we are lyars.

6 He repeateth the same argument taken of an absurditie, purposing to shew howe faith is in vaine if the resurrection of Christ be taken away.

7 First, seeing death is the punishment of sinne, in vaine should we beleeue that our sinnes were forgiuen vs, if they remaine: but they doe remaine, if Christ rose not from death.

8 They are yet in their sinnes, which are not sanctified, nor haue obtained remission of their sinnes.

8 Secondly, vnlesse that this be certaine that Christ rose againe, all they which died in Christ are perished. So then what profite commeth of faith?

9 The third argument which is also taken from an absurditie: for vnlesse there be another life, wherein such as trust and beleeue in Christ shalbe blessed, they were the most miserable of all creatures, because in this life they are the most miserable.

10 A conclusion of the former argument: Therefore Christ is risen againe.

11 He putteth the last conclusion for the first proposition of the argument that followeth. Christ is risen againe: Therefore shal we the faithfull (for of them he speaketh) rise againe: Then followeth the first reason of this consequent: for Christ is set forth vnto vs, to be considered of, not as a priuate man apart & by himselfe, but as the first fruites: And he taketh that which was knowen to all men, to wit, that the whole heape is sanctified in the first fruites. ✣ Col. 1. 18. Reuel. 1. 5.

f He alludeth to the first fruites of corne, the offering whereof sanctified the rest of the fruites.

12 An other confirmation of the same consequent: for Christ is to be considered as opposite to Adam, that as from one man Adam, sinne came ouer all, so from one man Christ, life commeth vnto all: that is to say, that all the faithfull, as they die, because by nature they were borne of Adam, so because in Christ they are made the children of God by grace, they are quickened and restored to life by him.

g Shall rise by the vertue of Christ.

13 He doeth two things together: for hee sheweth that the resurrection is in like sort common to Christ with all his members, ỹ notwithstanding he farre passeth them, both in time (for he was the first that rose againe from the dead) and also in honour, because that from him and in him is all our life and glory. Then by this occasion hee passeth to the next argument. ✣ 1. Thessa. 4. 13.

14 The fourth argument, wherewith also hee confirmeth the other, hath a most sure ground, to wit, because that God must reigne. And this is the matter of his reigne, that the Father will be shewed to be King in his Sonne who was made man, to whome all things are made subiect (the promiser onely except) to the ende that the Father may afterwardes triumph in his Sonne the conqueror. And he maketh two partes of this reigne and dominion of the Sonne, wherein the Fathers glory consisteth: to wit, the ouercomming of his enemies (whereof some must be destroied of all power, as Sitan and all the wicked, be they neuer so proude and mighty, & other must be vtterly abolished, as death) and a plaine and full deliuerie of the godly from all enemies, that by this meanes God may fully set foorth the body of the Church cleauing fast vnto their head Christ, his kingdome and glory, as a King in his subiects. Moreouer, hee putteth the first degree of this kingdome in the resurrection of the Sonne, who is the head: and the perfection, in the full conioyning of the members with the head, which shall be in the last day. Now all these serue to this purpose, to shew that vnlesse the dead doe rise again, neither the Father can be King aboue all, neither Christ be Lord of all, for neither should the power of Sitan and death be ouercome, nor the glory of God be full in his Sonne, nor his Sainctes in his members.

k (Christ is considered here, as he appeared in the forme of a seruant, to whom resteth the Church as head, and that because this power was giuen him of his Father.

l The shutting vp of the argument, which is taken from the whole to the part: for if all his enemies shalbe put vnder his feete, then must it needes be that death also shalbe subdued vnder him.

✣ Psalm. 8. 6. Hebr. 2. 8.

m Not because the Sonne was not subiect to his Father before, but because his body, that is to say, the Church which is here in difference, and not yet wholy partaker of his glory, is not yet fully perfect, and also because the bodies of the Saints which bee in the graues, shall not be glorified vntill the resurrection: but Christ as he is God, hath vs subiect to him as his Father hath, and as he is Priest, he is subiect to his Father together with vs. August. booke 1. chap. 8. of the Trinitie.

n By this like kinde of speache, is set forth an incomprehensible glory which floweth from God, & shal fill all of vs, as we are ioyned together with our head, but yet so, that our head shall alwayes reserue his preeminence.

15 The fifth argument taken of the ende of Baptisme, to wit, because that they which are baptized, are baptized for dead: that is to say, that they may haue a remedie against death, because that Baptisme is a token of regeneration.

o They that are baptized, to this ende and purpose, that death may be put out in them, or to rise againe from the dead, whereof baptisme is a seale.

16 The sixth argument: Vnlesse there be a resurrection of the dead, why should the Apostles so dayly cast themselues into danger of so many deaths?

p As though he sayd, I die dayly, as all the miseries I suffer can well witnesse, which I may truely boast of that I haue suffered amongst you.

17 The taking away of an obiection: But thou Paul didst ambitiously as commonly men are wont to doe, when thou didst fight with beastes at Ephesus: that is very like saith Paul, for what could that aduantage me, were it not for ỹ glory of eternall life which I hope for?

q Not vpon any godly motion, nor casting mine eyes vpon God, but caried away with vaine glory, or a certaine headdines. ✣ 1. Cor. 15. 32.

18 The seuenth argument, which dependeth vpon the last: If there be no resurrection of the dead, why doe we giue our selues to any thing els, saue to eating & drinking?

r These are the verie words that Epicures vse.

19 The conclusion with a sharpe exhortation, that they take heede of the pestilent company of certaine from whence hee sheweth that this mischiefe sprang: warning them to bee wise with sobrietie vnto righteousnesse.

20 Nowe that he hath proued the resurrection, he discouereth their dolishnes, in that they sklendingly demaunded, howe it could be that the dead should rise againe, and if they did rise againe, they asked mockingly, what maner of bodies they should haue. Therefore he sendeth these felowes which seemed to themselues to be marueilous wise and wittie, to be instructed of poore rude husbandmen.

21 Thou mightest haue learned either of these, saith Paul, by dayly experience: for see doe we sowen, and rot, and yet notwithstanding so fatte it is of that they perish, that contrariwise they growe vp farre more beautifull: and whereas they are sowen naked and dry, they spring vp greene from death by the vertue of God: & doeth it seeme incredible to thee that our bodies should rise from corruption, & that indued with a farre more excellent qualitie?

22 We see a diuersitie both in one and the selfe same thing which hath now one forme and then another, and yet keepeth it one kinde: as it is evident in a graine which is sowen bare, but springeth vp farre other: another sort: and also in diuers kindes of one selfe same sort, as among ỹ beastes & also among things of diuers sortes, as the heauenly bodies and the earthly bodies: which also differ very much one from another. Therefore there is no cause why we should reiect either the resurrection of the bodies, or the changing of them into a better state, as a thing impossible, or strange.

even to euery seede his owne body.

39 All flesh is not the same flesh, but there is one flesh of men, and another flesh of beasts, and another of fishes, and another of birdes.

40 There are also heauenly bodies, & earthly bodies: but the glory of the heauenly is one, and the glory of the earthly is another.

41 There is another glory of the sunne, and another glorie of the moone, and another glorie of the starres: for one starre differeth from another starre in glory.

42 23 So also is the resurrection of the dead. The bodie is [s] sowen in corruption, and is raised in incorruption.

43 It is sowen in [t] dishonour, and is raised in glory: it is sowen in weakenesse, and is raysed in [u] power.

44 24 It is sowen a naturall body, and is raysed a spirituall body: there is a naturall bodie, and there is a spirituall body.

45 25 As it is also written, The [x] first man ✣ Adam was made a liuing soule: and the last Adam was made a [y] quickening spirit.

46 26 Howbeit that was not first which is spirituall: but that which is naturall, and afterward that which is spirituall.

47 The first man is of the earth, [z] earthly: the second man is the Lord from [a] heauen.

48 27 As is the earthly, such are they that are earthly: and as is the heauenly, such are they also that are heauenly.

49 And as we haue borne the [b] image of the earthly, so shal we beare [y] image of the heauenly.

50 28 This say I, brethren, that [c] flesh & blood cannot inherite the kingdome of God, neither doeth corruption inherite incorruption.

51 29 Behold, I shew you a [d] secret thing, We shall not all sleepe, but we shall all be changed, 52 In [e] a moment, in the twinckling of an eye at the last ✣ trumpet: for the trumpet shall blow, and the dead shalbe raysed vp incorruptible, and we shalbe changed.

53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption: and this mortall must put on immortalitie.

54 So when this corruptible hath put on incorruption, and this mortall hath put on immortalitie, then shalbe brought to passe the saying, [f] is written, ✣ Death is swallowed vp into victorie.

55 O death where is thy sting? O graue where is thy victorie?

56 The sting of death is sinne: & the strength of sinne is the Law.

57 ✣ But thanks be vnto God, which hath giuen vs victorie through our Lord Iesus Christ.

58 30 Therefore my beloued brethren, be yee stedfast, vnmoueable, aboundant alwayes in the worke of the Lorde, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vaine in the [f] Lord.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Hee exhorteth them to helpe the poore brethren of Hierusalem: 5 Then hee commendeth Timothie: 13 and so with a friendly exhortation, 19 and commendations, endeth the Epistle.

CONcerning [1] the gathering for the Saintes, as I haue ordeined in the Churches of Galatia, so doe ye also.

3 And when I am come, whomsoeuer ye shal allow by [c] letters, them will I send to bring your liberalitie vnto Hierusalem.

4 [2] And if it bee meete that I goe also, they shall goe with me.

5 Nowe I will come vnto you, after I haue gone through Macedonia (for I wil passe through Macedonia.)

6 And it may be that I wil abide, yea, or winter with you, that yee may bring mee on my way, whithersoeuer I goe.

7 For I will not see you nowe in my passage, but I trust to abide a while with you, if the Lord permit.

8 And I will tary at Ephesus vntil Pentecost.

9 For a great doore and [d] effectual is opened vnto me: and there are many aduersaries.

10 ¶ Nowe if Timotheus come, see that he be [e] without feare with you: for he worketh the worke of the Lord, euen as I doe.

11 Let no man therefore despise him: but conney him forth [f] in peace, that he may come vnto me: for I looke for him with the brethren.

12 As touching our brother Apollos, I greatly desired him to come vnto you with the brethren: but his minde was not at all to come at this time: howbeit he will come when he shall haue conuenient time.

13 ¶ Watch ye, stand fast in the faith: quite you like men, and be strong.

14 Let all your things be done in loue.

15 Now brethren, I beseech you (yee knowe the house of [g] Stephanas, that it is the first fruits of Achaia, and that they haue [h] giuen themselues to minister vnto the Saints)

16 That ye be [i] obedient euen vnto such, and to all that helpe with vs and labour.

17 I am glad of the comming of Stephanas, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus: for they haue supplied the want of you.

18 For they haue comforted my [k] spirite and yours: acknowledge therefore such men.

19 The Churches of Asia salute you: Aquila and 23 Hee maketh three maner of qualities of the bodies being raysed: incorruption, to wit, because they shalbe sound, and altogether of a nature that can not bee corrupt: Glory, because they shalbe adorned with beautie and honour: Power, because they shall continue euerlasting without meate, drinke, and all other helpes, without which this fraile life cannot keepe it selfe from corruption.

s Is buried, and man is hid as seed in the ground.

t Voide of honour, voide of glorie and beautie.

u Freed from the former weaknesse, whereas it is subiect to such alteration and change, that it cannot maintaine it selfe without meate and drinke and such other like helpes, 24 He sheweth perfitely in one word, this change of the qualitie of the body by the resurrection, when he sayeth, that of a naturall body, it shall become a spirituall body which two qualities being cleane different the one from the other, hee straightway expoundeth and setteth foorth diligently.

25 That is called a naturall body, which is quickened and maintained by a liuing soule onely: such as Adam was, of whome all we are borne naturally: and that is saide to be a spirituall, which together with the soule is quickened with a farre more excellent vertue: to wit, with the Spirit of God, which descendeth from Christ the second Adam into vs.

x Adam is called the first man, because he is the roote as it were from whence we spring, and Christ is the latter man, because he is the beginning of all them that are spirituall, and in him wee are all comprehended. ✣ Gen. 2.7.

y Christ is called a Spirit, by reason of his most excellent nature, that is to say, God who dwelleth in him bodily: Adam is called a liuing soule, by reason of the soule which is the best part in him.

a Secondly he setteth the order of this double state or qualitie to be obserued, that the naturall was first, Adam being created of the clay of the earth: and the spirituall followed and came vpon it, to wit when as the Lorde being sent from heauen, indued our flesh which was prepared & made fit for him, with the fulnes of the Godhead.

z Walking in dust, and wholly giuen to an earthly nature.

a The Lord is said to come down from heauen by that kind of speech, whereby that which is proper to one is vouched of another. 27 He applieth both the earthly naturalnesse of Adam (if I may so say) to our bodies, so long as they are naturally conuersant on earth, to wit, in this life, and in the graue: and also the spirituall tie of Christ to the same our bodies, after that they are risen againe: and he saith, that that goeth before, and this shall follow.

b Not a vaine and false image, but such an one as doeth truely resemble it in deede. 28 The conclusion: We cannot be partakers of the glory of God, vnlesse we put off all that grosse & filthie nature of our bodies subiect to corruption, that the same body may be adorned with incorruptible glory.

c Flesh and blood are taken here for a liuing body, which cannot attaine to incorruption, vnles it put off corruption. 29 Hee goeth further, declaring that it shall come to passe, that they which shalbe found aliue in the latter day, shall not descend into that corruption of the graue, but shalbe reuned with a sudden change, which change is very requisite: and that the certaine enioying of the benefite and victorie of Christ, is deferred vnto that latter time.

d A thing that hath bin hid, and neuer knowen before, and therefore worthy that you give good eare vnto it. e He sheweth vs that the time liues very short. ✣ Mat. 24.31. 1 Thes. 4.16.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAVL TO THE CORINTHIANS.

CHAP. I.

1 He beginneth with the praise of afflictions, 8 declaring what hee hath suffered in Asia, 19 and how happily God assisted him. 17 Hee saith it was not vpon any lightnesse, that hee came not, according to his promise.

PAVL [a] an Apostle of IESVS Christ, by the will of God, and our brother Timotheus, to the Church of God, which is at Corinthus with all the Saintes, which are in all Achaia:

2 Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

3 † [2a] Blessed be God, euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, the Father of [b] mercies, and the God of all comfort, 4 Which comforteth vs in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any affliction by the comfort wherewith we our selues are comforted of God.

5 For as [c] the sufferings of Christ abound in vs, so our consolation aboundeth through Christ.

6 [4] And whether we be afflicted, it is for your consolation and saluation, which is [d] wrought in the induring of the same sufferings, which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and saluation.

7 And our hope is stedfast concerning you, in as much as we know that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation.

8 [5] For brethren, we would not haue you ignorant of our affliction, which came vnto vs in Asia, how we were pressed out of measure passing strength, so that we altogether [e] doubted euen of life.

9 Yea, wee receiued the sentence of death in [f] our selues, because wee should not trust in our selues, but in God, which rayseth the dead.

10 Who deliuered vs from so [g] great a death, and doeth deliuer vs: in whome wee trust, that yet hereafter he wil deliuer vs, 11 † [6] So that yee labour together in prayer for vs, [7] that for the gift bestowed vpon vs for many, thankes may bee giuen by many persons for vs.

12 [8] For our reioycing is this, the testimonie of our conscience, that in simplicitie and godlie [h] pureneſſe, and not in fleshly wisedome, but by the [i] grace of God we haue had our conuersation in the world, and most of all to you wardes.

13 For wee write [k] none other thinges vnto you, then that ye read or els that ye acknowledge, and I trust ye shal acknowledge vnto the [l] end.

14 Euen as yee haue acknowledged vs partly, that we are your [m] reioycing, euen as ye are ours, in the [n] day of our Lord Iesus.

15 And in this confidence was I minded first to come vnto you, that ye might haue had a [o] double grace, 16 And to passe by you into Macedonia, and to come againe out of Macedonia, vnto you, and to be led forth toward Iudea of you.

17 [9] When I therefore was thus minded, did I vse lightnesse? or minde I those things which I minde, according to the [p] flesh, that with mee should be, [q] Yea, yea, and Nay, nay?

18 [10] Yea, God is [r] faithfull, that our worde toward you was not Yea, and Nay.

19 [11] For the Sonne of God Iesus Christ, who was preached among you by vs, that is, by me, & Siluanus and Timotheus, [l] was not Yea, and Nay: but in [t] him it was Yea.

20 [12] For all the promises of God in him are Yea, and are in [n] him Amen, vnto the glorie of God through [x] vs.

2 Hee beginneth after his maner with thanksgiuing, which notwithstanding (otherwise then he was wont) he applieth to himselfe: beginning his Epistle with the setting forth of the dignitie of his Apostleship, constrained (as it should seeme) by their importunitie, which tooke an occasion to despise him by reason of his miseries. But he answereth, that he is not so afflicted, but that his comforts doe exceede his afflictions, shewing the ground of them, euen the mercie of God the Father in Iesus Christ.

[a] To him be praise and glorie giuen. [b] Most mercifull. [3] The Lorde doeth comfort vs to this ende that wee may so much the more surely comfort others.

[c] The misteries which we suffer for Christ, or which Christ suffereth in vs. 4 Hee denieth that either his afflictions wherewith hee was often afflicted, or the consolations which he receiued of God, may iustly bee despised, seeing that the Corinthians both might and ought to take great occasion to be confirmed by either of them.

[d] Doubtlesse saluation is giuen vs freely, yet because there is a way appointed vs whereby we must come to it, which is the race of an innocent and vpright life, which wee cannot runne, therefore we are saide to worke our saluation. Philippians 2.12. And because it is God only, that of his free good will worketh all things in vs, therefore it hee saide to worke this saluation both in, by those selfe same thinges by which we must passe to come vnto it, euen vnto the end.

[e] He meaneth that he is not onely not ashamed of his afflictions, but that he desireth also to haue all men know the greatnes of them and also his deliuerie from them, although it be not yet perfite. [f] I know not as at what to doe, neither did I set by mine owne life which was to me a burden.

† Rom.15.30.

6 That hee may not seeme to boast himselfe, he attributeth all to God, and therewith also confesseth that he attributeth much to the prayers of the faithfull.

7 The ende of the afflictions of the Saints, is the glory of God, and therefore they ought to be precious vnto vs.

8 Secondly hee putteth away an other slaunder, to wit, that he was a light man, and such a one as was not lightly to be credited, seeing that hee promised to come vnto them, and came not. And first he speaketh of the simplicitie of his minde, and syncerite, which they knew both by his voyce when he was present, & they ought to acknowledge it also in his letters, being absent: and more ouer he protesteth that he will neuer be otherwise.

[h] With eternall and holy and true pleinesse of minde.

in God himselfe can witnesse. [i] Trusting to that very wisedome, which God of his free goodnesse hath giuen me from heauen. [k] He saith he writeth barely and simply: for hee thus writeth in coloured sort, as rightly sayde, to write otherwise then we read: and this he saide the Corinthians shall know and like of very well. [l] Perfitly, in Pauls rejoycing in the Lorde was, that he had wonne the Corinthians: and they themselues reioyced that such an Apostle was their instructour, and taught them so purely and syncerely. [m] When he shall sit as iudge. [n] Another kinde of. 9 He putteth away their slander and false report by denying it, and first of all in that that diuers went about to perswade the Corinthians, that in the preaching of the Gospel, Paul agreed not to himselfe: for this was the manner and the case. [p] As men do, which will rashly promise any thing, and change their purpose at every turning of an hand. [q] That I should say and vnsay a thing? 10 He calleth God to witnesse, and for iudge of his constancie in preaching & teaching one selfe same Gospel. [r] True, and of whose faithfulnes it were horrible wickednes to doubt. 11 He ioyneth also with himselfe, his fellowes as witnesses with whome hee fully consented, in teaching one selfesame thing, to wit, one selfesame Christ. [s] Was not diuers and wauering. [t] That is, in God. 12 Last of all he declareth the summe of his doctrine, to wit, that all the promises of saluation are sure and ratified in Christ. [u] Christ is set foorth to exhibite and fulfil them all most assuredly, and without all doubt. [x] Through our ministerie.

21 [13] And

11 He attributeth the praise of this constancie, onely to the grace of God through the holy Ghost, and therewithall concludeth, that they cannot doubt of his faith, and his fellowes, without doing iniurie to the Spirit of God, seeing that they themselues do know all this to be true. y An earnest, is whatsoeuer is giuen to confirme a promise. 14 Now comming to the matter, he sweareth, that he did not onely, not lightly alter his purpose of comming to the, but rather that he came not vnto them for this cause, that he might not be constrained to deale more sharply with them being present, then he would. z Against my selfe, and to the danger of mine owne life. 15 He remoueth all suspicion of arrogancie, declaring that he speaketh not as a Lord vnto them, but as a seruant, appointed of God to comfort them. a He setteth the ioy and peace of conscience, which God is author of, against tyrannous feare, and therewithall sheweth the end of the Gospel.

21 [11] And it is God which stablisheth vs with you in Christ, and hath anointed vs:

22 Who hath also sealed vs, and hath giuen the [y] earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

23 [14] Now, I call God for a record vnto my [z] soule, that to spare you, I came not as yet vnto Corinthus.

24 [15] Not that wee haue dominion ouer your faith, but we are helpers of your [a] ioy: for by faith ye stand.

CHAP. II.

1 He excuseth his not commyng vnto them, 2 and pitifully reprehendeth them: 4 He sheweth that such is his affection towards them, 5 that he neuer reioyceth but when they are merie. 6 Perceiuing the adulterer (whom he commanded to be deliuered vp to Satan) to repent, he requesteth that they forgiue him. 12 Her mentioneth his going into Macedonia.

BVt I determined thus in my self, that I would not come againe to you in [a] heauinesse.

2 For if I make you sorie, who is he then that should make mee glad; but the same which is made sorie by me?

3 And I wrote this same thing vnto you, lest when I came, I should take heauines of them, of whom I ought to reioyce: this [b] confidence haue I in you all, that my ioy is the ioy of you all.

4 For in great affliction, and anguish of heart I wrote vnto you with many teares: not that yee should be made sorie, but that ye might perceiue the loue which I haue, specially vnto you.

5 [1] And if any hath caused sorowe, the same hath not made [c] me sorie, but [d] partely (lest I should more [e] charge him) you all.

6 It is sufficient vnto the same man, that hee was rebuked of many.

7 So that nowe contrariwise ye ought rather to [f] forgiue him, and comforte him, lest the same should be swalowed vp with ourmuch heauinesse.

8 Wherefore, I pray you, that you would [g] confirme your loue towards him.

9 For this cause also did I write, that I might knowe the proofe of you, whether yee would be obedient in all things.

10 To whom ye forgiue any thing, I forgiue also: for verely if I forgaue any thing, to whome I forgaue it, for your sakes forgaue I it in the [h] sight of Christ, 11 Lest Satan should circumuent vs: for wee are not ignorant of his [i] enterprises.

12 ¶ Furthermore, when I came to Troas to preach Christs Gospel, and a doore was opened vnto me of the Lord, 13 I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother, but tooke my leaue of them, and went away into Macedonia.

14 Now thankes be vnto God, which alwaies maketh vs to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the [k] sauour of his knowledge by vs in euery place.

15 [2] For wee are vnto God the sweete sauour of Christ, in them that are saued, and in them which perish, 16 To the one we are the sauour of death vnto death, and to the other the sauour of life vnto life: and who is sufficient for these things?

17 ✣ For wee are not as many, which make [l] marchandise of the worde of God: but as of sinceritie, but as of God in the sight of God speake we in Christ.

a Causing grieefe amongst you, which hee shoulde haue done if he had come to them before they had repented them. b For I trusted that you would take that out of the way forthwith, which you knew I was discontented with, considering how you are perswaded that my ioy is your ioy. 1 He passeth to another part of this Epistle, which notwithstanding is put amongst the first, whereunto he returneth afterward: and he handleth the releasing and vnloosing of the incestuous person, because he seemed to haue giuen sufficient testimonie of his repentance: for we see the true vse of excommunication, to wit, that it proceede not of hatred, but of loue, and so end, so if we keepe no measure, we serue the deuill. c If he hath sorowed. d As for mine (saieth Paul) I adde no more to don with him. e Least I should seeme here, with a hardened rigour of mine owne, to haue required somthing. f That when not before you punished him, but partely, you would now forgiue him. g That as my sentence, you would declare by the consent of the whole Church, that you take him againe for a brother. h Truely and from the heart. i Of his mischeuous counsell and deuilish wit. k He returneth to the commendation of his Apostleship, and bringeth forth the testimonie, both of his life, and also of Gods blessing.

4 He alludeth to the sauting of the Priests, and the incense of the sacrifices. 5 He denieth that ought should be taken away from the dignitie of his Apostleship, because they liue euidently that it was not deceiued with like successe in euery place, yea rather very many reiected and defaced him, seeing that he preacheth Christ, not onely as a Sauiour of them that beleeue, but also as a iudge of them that contemne him. 4 Against, he putteth away all suspicion of arrogancie, attributing all things that he did, to the vertue of God, whom he serueth sincerely, and without all dissimulation: whereof he maketh them witnesse, euen to the 6. verse of the next chapter. ✣ Chap. 4. 2. We do not handle it craftily and couetously, or like sutlers, but sincerely then we ought: and he vseth a metaphore which is taken from hucksters, which vse to play the false barlots with whatsoeuer commeth into their hands.

CHAP. III.

1 He desireth no other commendation, 3 then their continuing in the faith. 6 He is a minister, not of the letter, but of the Spirit. 8 Her sheweth the difference of the Law and the Gospel, 13 that the brightnesse of the Lawe doth rather dimme the sight then lighten vs: 18 But the Gospel doth make manifest Gods countenance vnto vs.

DOe wee begin to praise our selues againe? or neede wee as some other, epistles of recommendation vnto you, or letters of recommendation from you?

2 Yee are our epistle, written in our hearts, which is vnderstood and read of all men,

3 In that ye are [a] manifest, to be the Epistle of Christ, [b] ministred by vs, and written, not with yncke, but with the Spirite of the liuing God, [c] not in tables of stone, but in fleshly tables of the heart.

4 And such [d] trust haue wee through Christ to God:

5 Not that we are sufficient of our selues, to thinke any thing, as of our selues: but our [e] sufficiencie is of God,

6 [2] Who also hath made vs able ministers of the Newe Testament, not of the [f] letter, but of the Spirite: for the letter killeth, but the Spirite giueth life.

7 If then the ministration of death written with letters [g] and ingraued in stones, was [h] glorious, so that the children of Israel coulde not beholde the face of Moses, for the glorie of his

a The Apostle fraieth his speach wisely, that by little and little, he may come from the commendation of the person, to the matter it self. b Which I vnder paines (saieth he) as it were. c By the way, he setteth the vertue of God, against the yncke wherewith epistles are commonly written, to shew that it was wrought by God. 1 He alludeth by the way, to the comparison of the outward ministerie of the priesthood of Leui, with the ministerie of the Gospel, and the Apostolicall ministerie, which he handleth afterward more fully. d The boldnesse we haue we find through Christ. e In that we are fit and meete to make other men partakers of so great a grace. 2 He amplifieth his ministerie and his fellowes: that is to say, the ministerie of the Gospel, comparing it with the ministerie of the Lawe, which he considereth in the person of Moses, by whom the Law was giuen: against whom he setteth Christ the Author of the Gospel. Now this comparison is taken from the very substance of the ministerie. The Law is as it were a writing of it selfe dead, and without efficacie: but the Gospel, or new couenant, is as it were the very vertue of God it selfe, in renewing, iustifying, and liuing of men. The law propounded doth death, accusing all men of their transgression: The Gospel offereth and giueth righteousnes & life. The gouernment of the Law serued for a time to the promise: The Gospel remaineth to the end of the world. Therefore what is the glorie of that in comparison of the maiestie of this? f Nis of the Law, but of the Gospell. g Imprinted and ingrauen: further by this place we may plainely perceiue, that the Apostle speaketh not of the ceremonies of the Law, but euen of the ten commandements. h The word Glorie doth signifie a brightnesse, and a shining which was to be seene in Moses, but spiritually in Christ.

countenance (which glorie is done away.)

8 Howe ſhall not the [i] miniſtration of the Spirite be more glorious?

9 For if [j] miniſterie of condemnation was glorious, much more doeth the miniſtration of [k] righteouſneſſe exceede in glorie.

10 For euen that which was glorified, was not glorified in this point, that is, as touching the exceeding glorie.

11 For if that which ſhould be [l] aboliſhed, was glorious, much more ſhal that which remaineth, be glorious.

12 3 Seeing then that we haue ſuch truſt, we vſe great boldneſſe of ſpeach.

13 ✣ 4 And we are not as Moſes, which put a vaile vpon his face, that the children of Iſrael ſhoulde not looke vnto the [m] ende of that which ſhould be aboliſhed.

14 Therefore their mindes are hardened: for vntil this day remaineth the ſame couering vntaken away in the reading of the old Teſtament, which vaile in Chriſt is put away.

15 But euen vnto this day, when Moſes is read, the vaile is laide ouer their hearts.

16 Neuertheles when their heart ſhal be turned to the Lord, the vaile ſhalbe taken away.

17 Now the [n] Lord is the ✣ Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is libertie.

18 5 But wee all beholde as in a mirrour the glorie of the Lord with open face, and are changed into the ſame image, from glory to glory, as by the Spirit of the Lord.

4 He expoundeth by the way the allegorie of Moſes his couering, which was a token of the darkenes and weakenes that is in men, which were rather dulled by the bright ſhining of the Lawe, then lightened: which couering was taken away by the comming of Chriſt, who lighteneth the heartes, and turneth them to the Lord, that wee may be brought from the ſlauerie of this blindneſſe, and ſet in the libertie of the light, by the vertue of Chriſts ſpirit. m Into the very bottome of Moſes his miniſterie. n Chriſt is that Spirite, which taketh away that couering, by working in our hearts, whereunto alſo the Law it ſelfe called vs, though in vaine, becauſe it ſpeaketh to dead men, vntill this Spirit quickeneth vs. ✣ Iohn 4.14. 5 Going forwardes in the allegory of the couering he compareth the Goſpel to a glaſſe, which although it be moſt bright and ſparkeling, yet doth it not onely not ſtaiſell their eyes, which looke in it, as the law doth, but alſo transformeth them with it beams, ſo that they alſo be partakers of the glory and ſhining of it, to lighten others: as Chriſt ſaid vnto his, You are the light of the world, whereas he himſelfe was the onely light. We are alſo commanded in an other place, to ſhine as candles before the world, becauſe wee are partakers of Gods Spirit. But Paul ſpeaketh here properly, of the miniſters of the Goſpel, as it appeareth both by that that goeth before, and that that commeth after, and that, ſetting them his owne example and his fellowes.

CHAP. IIII.

1 He ſheweth that he hath ſo laboured in preaching the Goſpel, 4 that ſuch are euen blinded of Satan, who doe not perceiue the brightneſſe thereof, 7 that the ſaintes are ſaued in earthen veſſels, 10 who are ſubiect to many miſeries, 16 and therefore he exhorteth them by his owne example to be couragious, 17 and contemne this preſent life.

THerefore, [1] ſeeing that we haue this miniſtery, as we haue receiued mercie, we [a] faint not:

2 But haue caſt from vs the [b] cloke of ſhame, and walke not in craftines, neither handle we the word of God [c] deceitfully: but in declaration of the trueth wee approue our ſelues to euery mans conſcience in the ſight of God.

3 [d] If our Goſpel be then hid, it is hid to them that are loſt.

1 Now he plainely witneſſeth that both he & his fellowes (through the mercie of God) do their vocation and duety vprightly and ſincerely, neglecting all dangers.

a Though we are broken in pieces with miſeries and calamities, yet we faint not. b Subtilitie, and all kinde of deceit, which we hunt after, as it were dennes & barking holes, to couer their ſhamefull dealings withall. c This is it that in the former chapter he called, making marchandiſe of the word of God. 3 An obiection: Many heare the Goſpel, and yet are no more lightened thereby, then by the preaching of the Law. He anſwereth, The fault is in the men themſelues, whoſe eies Satan plucketh out, who reigneth in this world. And yet notwithſtanding doth hee and his fellowes ſet forth the moſt cleare light of the Goſpel to be ſeene and beholden, ſeeing that Chriſt whom only they preach, is he in whom only God will be knowen, and as it were ſeene.

4 In whom the god of this world hath blinded the mindes, that is, of the infidels, that the [d] light of the glorious Goſpel of Chriſt, which is the [e] image of God, ſhould not ſhine vnto them.

5 3 For we preach not our ſelues, but Chriſt Ieſus the Lorde, and our ſelues your ſeruants for [f] Ieſus ſake.

6 For God ✣ [g] that commaunded [h] light to ſhine out of darkneſſe, is he which hath ſhined in our hearts, to giue the [h] light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Ieſus Chriſt.

7 4 But we haue this treaſure in earthen veſſels, 5 that the excellencie of that power might be of God, and not of vs.

8 We are afflicted on euery ſide, yet are we not in diſtreſſe: wee are in doubt, but yet we deſpaire not.

9 We are perſecuted, but not forſaken: caſt downe, but we periſh not.

10 6 Euery where we beare about in our body, the [i] dying of the Lord Ieſus, that the life of Ieſus might alſo be made manifeſt in our bodies.

11 For we which [k] liue, are alwayes deliuered vnto death for Ieſus ſake, that the life alſo of Ieſus might be made manifeſt in our [l] mortal fleſh.

12 7 So the death worketh in vs, & life in you.

13 8 And becauſe we haue the ſame [m] ſpirit of faith, according as it is written, ✣ I beleeued, and therefore haue I ſpoken, wee alſo beleeue, and therefore ſpeake, 14 Knowing that he which hath raiſed vp the Lord Ieſus, ſhal raiſe vs vp alſo by Ieſus, and ſhall ſet vs with you.

15 9 For all things are for your ſakes, [n] that that moſt plenteous grace by the thankeſgiuing of many, may redound to the praiſe of God.

16 Therefore we faint not, [o] but though our outward man periſh, yet the inward man is [o] renewed daily.

17 For our [p] light affliction which is but for a moment, cauſeth vnto vs a farre moſt excellent and an eternall waight of [q] glorie:

18 While we looke not on the things which are ſeene, but on the things which are not ſeene: for the things which are ſeene, are temporall: but the things which are not ſeene, are eternall.

d The light of plaine and lightſome preaching, which ſetteth forth the glorie of Chriſt. e In whom the Father ſetteth foorth himſelfe to be ſeene and beholden. 3 He remoueth according to his accuſtomed maner, all ſuſpition of ambition, aduowching that he teacheth faithfully, but as a ſeruant, & witneſſing that al this light which he and his fellowes giue to other, proceedeth from the Lord.

f To preach this ſelfe ſame Ieſus to you. ✣ Geneſ. 1.3.

g Which made ſo ly with his word. h That being lightened of God, we ſhould in like ſorte giue that light to others.

4 He taketh away a ſtumbling blocke, by which was darkened amongeſt ſome the bright ſhining of the miniſterie of the Goſpel, to wit, becauſe the Apoſtles were the moſt miſerable of all men. Paul anſwereth, that he and his fellowes, are as it were, earthen veſſels, but yet there is in them a moſt precious treaſure.

5 He bringeth marueilous reaſons, why the Lord doth ſo afflict his chiefeſt ſeruants, to the end ſaith he, that al men may perceiue that they ſtand not by any mans vertue, but by the ſingular vertue of God in that they die a thouſand times, but neuer periſh. 6 An amplification of the former ſentence, wherein he compareth his afflictions to a daily death, and the vertue of the Spirite of God in Chriſt, to life, which oppreſſeth that death. i So Paul calleth the miſerable eſtate and condition, that the faithfull, but eſpecially the miniſters are in. k Which liue that life, to wit, the ſpirit of Chriſt, amongſt ſo many and ſo great miſeries. l Subiect to that miſerable condition. 7 A very cunning concluſion: as if he would ſay, Therefore to be ſhort, we die, that you may liue by our death, for [y] they ventured into al thoſe dangers for the building of the Churches ſake, and they ceaſed not to confirme al the faithful with the examples of their patience. 8 He declareth the former ſentence, ſhewing that he and his fellows die in a ſort, to purchaſe life to others, but yet notwithſtanding they are partakers of the ſame life with them: becauſe they themſelues do firſt beleeue that, which they propound to other to beleeue, to wit, that they alſo ſhalbe ſaued together with them in Chriſt. m The ſame faith, by the inſpiration of the ſame Spirit. ✣ Pſal. 116.10. 9 Hee ſheweth howe this conſtancie is preſerued in them, to wit, becauſe they reſpect Gods glorie and the ſaluation of the Churches committed vnto them. n Whereof ſhall please God to deliuer me, and reſtore me to you, that exceeding [z] grace which ſhal be powred vpon me, ſhall in like ſort redound to the glorie of God, by the thankſgiuing of many. 10 He addeth as it were a triumphant ſong, how that he is outwardly afflicted, but inwardly he profiteth daily: and paſſeth not at all for all the miſeries that may be ſuſteined in this life, in compariſon of that moſt conſtant and eternall glorie.

o Gathereth new ſtrength, that the outward man be not ouercome with the miſeries which come freſhly one vpon the neckes of another, being maintained and vpholden with the ſtrength of the inward man. p Afflictions are not called light, as though they were light of themſelues, but becauſe they paſſe away quickely, when as in deede our whole life is of no great long continuance. q Which remaineth for euer firme and ſtable, and can neuer be ſhaken.

3 Whereby God offereth, yea and giueth the Spirite, not as a dead thing, but a quickening Spirit, working life. k To wit, of Chriſt, which being imputed to vs as our owne, we are not onely not condemned, but alſo we are crowned as righteous.

l The Law, yea, and the tenne commandements themſelues, together with Moſes, is aboliſhed, if we conſider the miniſterie of Moſes apart by it ſelfe.

3 Hee ſheweth wherein ſtandeth this glorie of the preaching of the Goſpel, to wit, in that that it ſetteth forth plainely and euidently, that which the Lawe ſhewed darkely, for it ſent them that heard it to be healed of Chriſt, which was to come, after it had wounded them. ✣ Exod. 33.34.

CHAP. V.

1 He continueth in the same argument, 6 touching the certain hope of saluation 8 through faith, 12 not to praise himselfe, 14 seeing he hath God and his Church before his eyes, 17 and esteemeth nothing, but newnesse of life in Christ.

1 Taking occasion by the former comparison, hee compareth this miserable body as it is in this life, to a fraile & brickle tabernacle, against which he setteth the heauenly tabernacle, so terming that sure and euerlasting condition of this same body glorified in heauen, insomuch saith he, that wee are not onely not addicted to this tabernacle, but also doe with sobbes and sighes desire rather that tabernacle. And to this place also concerning the glorie to come, is put within the treatise of the dignitie of the ministerie, as the other was, where of we spake in the beginning of the second chapter.

a He calleth the glory of immortalitie, which we shall beare it were clothed with, a garment.

b Heauenly, not that the substance of it is heauenly, but for the glorie of it.

2 An exposition of the former saying: Wee doe not without cause, desire to be clad with the heauenly house, that is, with that euerlasting and immortall glorie, as with a garment: for when we depart hence, wee shall not remaine naked, hauing once cast off the couering of this bodie, but wee shall take our bodies againe, which shal put on as it were an other garment besides: and therefore we sigh, not for the wearinesse of this life, but for the desire of a better life: Neither is this desire in vaine, for we are made to that life, the pledge whereof we haue, euen the Spirit of adoption. ✣ Reue. 16. 15.

c Hee meaneth that first creation, to giue vs to vnderstand, that our bodies were made to this end, that they should be clothed with heauenly immortalitie.

3 Hee inferreth vpon that sentence which went next before, Therefore, seeing that we know by the Spirit that we are strangers so long as we are here, we patiently suffer this distance (for wee see now so with God, that wee beholde him but by faith, and are therefore now absent from him) but so, that we aspire and haue a longing always to him: therefore also we behaue our selues so, that we may bee acceptable to him, both while we liue heere, and when we goe from hence to him.

d He calleth them (bold) which are alwayes resolued with a quiet and setled minde to suffer what dangers soeuer, nothing doubting but their ende shall be happie.

e Faith, of those things which we hope for, and not hauing God presently in our viewe.

f And yet we are in such fort bolde, and doe so passe on our pilgrimage with a valiant and quiet minde, that yet notwithstanding wee had rather depart hence to the Lorde.

4 And seeing it is so, we striue to liue so, that both in this our pilgrimage here we may please him, and that at length wee may bee receiued home to him. ✣ Rom. 14. 10.

4 That no man might think it to pertaine to all, which he spake of that heauenly glorie, he addeth, that euery one shall first render an accompt of his pilgrimage, after that he is departed from hence.

h Wee must all appeare personally, and euery one shall be made of vs, that all may see, howe we haue lined.

5 Nowe hee passeth ouer, and taking occasion of the former sentence, returneth to the former purpose, v. 6. confirming his owne synceritie and his sobrietie.

i That terrible iudgment.

6 He removeth all suspition of pride, by a new reason, because it is abhominable, not for his part but for theirs, that his Apostleship bee counted synceere without the vaine ostentation of a few others.

k In outward disguisings, and that blinded shew of mans wisedome and eloquence, and not in true godlinesse, which is seated in the heart.

13 7 For whether we be out of our wit, we are it to God: or whether we be in our right minde, we are it vnto you.

7 The meaning is: Euen when I am mad (as some men thinke of me) whileſt I seeme as a foole to boast my selfe, I doe it for your profite, no lesse then when I preach the Gospel simply vnto you.

14 8 For that loue of Christ l constrayneth vs, 15 Because wee thus iudge, that if m one bee dead for all, then were al dead, and he died for all, that they which liue, should not henceforth n liue vnto themselues, but vnto him which died for them, and rose againe.

8 He goeth forwarde in putting away all suspicion of desire of estimatiō & boasting: for the loue of Christ, saith hee, compelleth vs hereunto, that seeing he died for vs all, which were dead when as we liued to our selues, (that is, while wee were yet giuen to these earthly affections) wee in like sort shoulde consecrate our whole life which we haue receiued of him, to him (to wit) beeing indued with the holy Ghost, to this end and purpose, that we should meditate vpon nothing

16 9 Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh, 10 yea though wee had knowen Christ after the flesh, yet nowe henceforth know we him no more.

17 11 Therfore if any man be in Christ, let him be a o new creature. ✣ Old things are passed away: behold, all things are become new.

18 12 And al things are of God, which hath reconciled vs vnto himselfe by Iesus Christ, & hath giuen vnto vs the ministery of reconciliation.

19 For God was in Christ, and reconciled the world to himselfe, not imputing their sinnes vnto them, and hath p committed to vs the worde of reconciliation.

20 Now then are we ambassadours for Christ: as though God did beseech you through vs, wee pray you in Christes steade, that ye be reconciled to God.

21 For he hath made him to be q sinne for vs, which r knew no sinne, that we should bee made the s righteousnesse of God in him.

but that which is heauenly.

m Hee speaketh heere of sanctification, whereby it commeth to passe that Christ liueth in vs.

n Looke Rom. chap. 6. and 7.

9 Hee sheweth what it is, not to liue to our selues but to Christ, to wit, to knowe no man according to the flesh, that is to say, to bee so conuersant amongst men as not to care for those worldly and carnall things, as they doe which respect a mans stocke, his countrey, forme, glorie, riches, and such like, wherein men commonly dote and weary themselues.

10 An amplification: This is, saith hee, so true, that wee doe not nowe thinke carnally of Christ himselfe, who hath nowe left the worlde, aad therefore must be considered of vs spiritually.

11 An exhortation for euery man which is renued with the spirite of Christ, to meditate heauenly things, and not earthly.

o As a thing made anew of God, for though a man bee not anewly created when God giueth him the spirit of regeneration, but onely his qualities are changed, yet notwithstanding it pleased the holy Ghost to speake so, to teache vs, that wee must attribute all things to the glorie of God: not that we are stockes and blockes, but because God createth in vs both the will to will well, and the power to doe well. ✣ Esa. 43. 19. rom. 12. 2.

12 Hee commendeth the excellencie of the ministerie of the Gospel, both by the authoritie of God himselfe, who is the authour of that ministerie, and also by the excellencie of the doctrine of it: for it announceth attonement with God, by free forgiuenesse of our sinnes, and iustification offered vnto vs in Christ, and that so louingly and liberally, that God himselfe doeth after a sort pray men by the mouth of his ministers to haue consideration of themselues, and not to despise so great a benefite. And when hee so sayeth, hee plainely reprehendeth them which falsely challenged to themselues the name of pastours.

p Vsed our labour and trauaile.

q A sinner, not in himselfe, but by imputation of the guilt of all our sinnes to him.

r Who was cleane voide of sinne.

s Righteous before God, and that with righteousnesse which is not essentiall to vs, but being essentiall in Christ, God imputeth it to vs through faith.

CHAP. VI.

1 Hee exhorteth them to leade their liues as it becommeth Christians, 5 neyther to be dismayed in tribulations, 9 nor puffed vp with glorie: 14 to auoyde all vncleanenesse, 16. considering that they are the temples of the liuing God.

SO 1 we therefore as workers together beseech you, that yee receiue not the grace of God in vaine.

1 Men doe not onely neede the ministerie of the Gospel, before they haue receiued grace, but they may be partakers of it, but also after they haue receiued grace, that they may continue in it.

2 2 For hee saieth, ✣ I haue heard thee in a time t accepted, and in the day of saluatiō haue I

2 In that that grace is offered, it is of the grace of God, who hath appointed times & seasons to all things, that we may take occasiō when it is offered. ✣ Esa. 49. 8.

succoured

succoured thee: behold nowe the accepted time, behold now the day of saluation.

3 3 Wee giue no occasion of offence in any thing, that our ministerie shoulde not bee reprehended.

4 But in all things we b approue our selues as ✣ the ministers of God, 4 in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,

5 In stripes, in prisons, in c tumults, in labours,

6 5 By watchings, by fastings, by puritie, by knowledge, by long suffering, by kindnes, by the holy Ghost, by loue vnfained,

7 By the d worde of trueth, by the e power of God, by the f armour of righteousnesse on the right hand, and on the left,

8 By honour, and dishonour, by euill report, and good report, as deceiuers, and yet true:

9 As vnknowen, and yet knowen: as dying, and beholde, wee liue: as chastened, and yet not killed:

10 As sorowing, and yet alway reioycing: as poore, and yet make many riche: as hauing nothing, and yet possessing all things.

11 6 O Corinthians, our mouth is g open vnto you: our heart is made large.

12 Yee are not h kept straite in vs, but yee are kept strait in your owne i bowels.

13 Nowe for the same recompence, I speake as to my children, Be you also inlarged.

14 7 Be not vnequally yoked with the infidels: for ✣ what felowship hath righteousnes with vnrighteousnesse? and what communion hath light with darkenesse?

15 And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what k part hath the beleeuer with the infidell?

16 And what agreement hath the Temple of God with idols? ✣ for yee are the Temple of the l liuing God: as God hath said, * I will m dwell among them, and walke there: and I will be their God, and they shalbe my people.

17 ✣ Wherefore come out from among them, and separate your selues, saith the Lord, & touch none vncleane thing, and I will receiue you.

18 * And I will be a Father vnto you, and yee shalbe my sonnes and daughters, saith the Lord almightie.

2 1 b Receiue vs: we haue done wrong to no man: wee haue corrupted no man: wee haue defrauded no man.

3 I speake it not to your c condemnation: for I haue said before, that ye are in our hearts, to die and liue together.

4 I vse great boldnesse of speech toward you: I reioyce greatly in you: I am filled with comfort, and am exceeding ioyous in all our tribulation.

5 For when wee were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we were troubled on euery side, fightings without, and terrours within.

6 But God, that comforteth the d abiect, comforted vs at the e comming of Titus:

7 And not by his comming only, but also by the consolation wherewith hee was comforted of you, whē he told vs your great desire, your mourning, your feruent minde to me warde, so that I reioyced much more.

8 2 For though I made you sory with a letter, I repent not, though I did repent: for I perceiue that the same Epistle made you sorie, though it were but for a season.

9 I nowe reioyce, not that ye were sorie, but that yee sorowed to f repentance: for ye sorowed godly, so that in nothing ye were hurt by vs.

10 For g godly sorow causeth repentance vnto saluation, not to be repented of: but the worldly sorow causeth death.

11 For behold, this thing ✣ ye haue bin godly sory, what great care hath it wrought in you: yea, what clearing of your selues: yea, what indignatiō: yea, what feare: yea, how great desire: yea, what a zeale: yea, what reuenge: in all things yee haue shewed your selues, that ye are pure in this matter.

12 Wherefore, though I wrote vnto you, I did not it for his cause that had done the wrong, neither for his cause that had the iniurie, but that our care toward you in the h sight of God might appeare vnto you.

13 Therefore we were comforted, because yee were comforted: but rather wee reioyced much more for the ioy of Titus, because his spirite was refreshed by you all.

14 For if that I haue boasted any thing to him of you, I haue not bene ashamed: but as I haue spoken vnto you all things in trueth, euen so our boasting vnto Titus was true.

15 And his inwarde affection is more abounding toward you, when he remembreth the obedience of you all, and howe with feare and trembling ye receiued him.

16 I reioyce therefore that I may put my confidence in you in all things.

3 Hee sheweth the Corinthians a paterne of a true minister, in his owne example and Timothies & Sylvanus, to the ende, that (as he purposed from the beginning) he might procure authority to himselfe and his like.
b Declare and shew indeed.
✣ 1. Cor. 4. 1.
4 He first of all reckoneth vp those things, which are neither alwaies in the ministers, nor without exceptiō, vnles it be according to the affection of the mind, patience only except, which also is one of the vertues which ought to bee alwayes in a good minister.
c In tossing to and fro, finding no place of rest and quietnesse.
5 Secondly, he reckoneth vp such vertues as are necessarie, and ought alwayes bee in them, and whereby as by good armour, all lettes and hinderances may be ouercome.
d Preaching of the Gospel.
e Power to worke miracles, and to bring vnder the wicked.
f Vprightnesse.
6 Going about to rebuke them, he saith first that he dealeth with them sincerely and with an open and plaine heart, and therewithal complaineth that they doe not the like in louing againe their Father.
g The opening of the mouth and heart, betokeneth a most earnest affection in him that speaketh, as it fareth commonly with them that are in some great ioy.
h You are in my heart, as in an house, and that no narrow or strait house, for I haue opened my whole heart to you, but you are inwardly strait laced to me ward.
i After the maner of the Hebrewes, he calleth those tender affections, which rest in the heart, bowels.
7 Nowe he rebuketh them boldely, for that they became felowes with infidels in outwarde Idolatrie, as though it were a thing indifferent. And this is the fourth part of this Epistle, the conclusion whereof is, that such as the Lord hath vouchsafed the name of his children, must keepe themselues pure, not onely in mind, but also in body, that they may wholy be holy vnto the Lord.

1 He returneth again from that admonition, to his owne person, opposing the testimonies both of his faithfulnes and also of his continuall good will towards them.
b Let me haue some place among you, that I may teach you.
c To condemne you of vnkindnesse or treacherie.
d Whose hearts are cast downe, and are very farre from.
e With those things which Titus told me of you at his coming, to wit, howe fruitfully you read ouer my letters, moreouer & besides that I am exceedingly refreshed with his presence.
2 An obiection: But thou hast handled vs roughly: The Apostle answereth that he vsed not this roughnes without griefe. And he addeth moreouer, that he is also glad nowe that hee draue them to that sorowe, although it was against his wil, since it was so profitable vnto them: for there is a sorowe not only praise worthy, but also necessary, to wit, whereby repentance groweth by certaine degrees, for the which repentance he prayseth them highly. And this is the fifth part of this Epistle.
f In so much that that sorow did you much good toward the amending of your lewdnesse and sinnes.
g Godly sorow is when we are terrified with the feare of punishment, but because we feele we haue offended God our most mercifull Father; Contrary to this there is one other sorow, that only feareth punishment, or when a man is vexed for the losse of some worldly goods: the fruite of the first is repentance, the fruite of the second is desperation, vnlesse the Lord helpe speedily. h It was not coloured nor counterfeit, but such as I dare stand to before God.

CHAP. VIII.

1 He exhorteth them by the example of the Macedonians, 9 and also euen of Christ himselfe, 14 to bee liberall towardes the Saintes, 16 For which purpose, hee sheweth that Titus, 18 and another brother came vnto them.

WE 1 doe you also to wit, brethren, of the a grace of God bestowed vpon the Churches

1 The first part of this Epistle containing chiefely exhortations to stirre vp the Corinthians to liberalitie, wherewith the ponertie of the Church of Hierusalem might be holpen in time conuenient. And first of all he setteth out before them the example of the Churches of Macedonia, which otherwise were brought by great miserie to extreme poouertie, to the ende that they should follow them.
a The benefite that God bestowed vpon the Churches, a Both of bodie and soule, that by this meanes the sanctification may be perfite consisting in both the parties thereof.

ches of Macedonia,

2 Because in [b] great triall of affliction their ioy abounded, and their most extreme pouertie abounded vnto their rich liberalitie.

3 For to their power (I beare record) yea, and beyond their power, they were [c] willing,

4 And prayed vs with great instance that we would receiue the [d] grace, and felowship of the ministring which is toward the Saints.

5 [2] And this they did, not as wee looked for: but gaue their owne selues, first to the Lord, and after vnto vs by the will of God,

6 That we should exhorte Titus, that as hee had begun, so he would also accomplish the same grace among you also.

7 Therefore, as ye abound in euery thing, in faith and word, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your loue towardes vs, euen so see that ye abound in this grace also.

8 [3] This say I not by commandement, but because of the [e] diligence of others: therefore proue I the naturalnesse of your loue.

9 [4] For ye knowe the grace of our Lorde Iesus Christ, that he being rich, for your sakes became poore, that ye through his pouertie might be made rich.

10 [5] And I shewe my minde herein: for this is expedient for you, which haue begun not to doe onely, but also to [g] will, a yeere agoe.

11 Now therefore performe to do it also, that as there was a readinesse to will, euen so yee may performe it of that which ye haue.

12 [6] For if there be first a willing minde, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 [7] Neither is it that other men should be eased and you grieued: But vpon [h] like condition, at this time your abundance supplieth their lacke:

14 That also their abundance may be for your lacke, that there may be equalitie:

15 As it is written, ✣ He that gathered much, had nothing ouer, and he that gathered litle, had not the lesse.

16 [8] And thankes be vnto God, which hath put in the heart of Titus the same care for you.

17 Because he accepted the exhortation, yea, he was so carefull that of his owne accord hee went vnto you.

18 And we haue sent also with him the brother, whose praise [i] in the Gospel throughout all the Churches,

19 (And not so onely, but is also chosen of the Churches to be a fellow in our iourney, concerning this [k] grace that is ministred by vs vnto the glorie of the same Lorde, and declaration of your prompt minde)

20 Auoiding this, that no man should blame vs in this [l] abundance that is ministred by vs, 21 ✣ Prouiding for honest things, not onely before the Lord, but also before men.

22 And we haue sent with them our brother, whom we haue oft times proued to be diligent in many things, but nowe much more diligent, for the great confidence, which I haue in you.

23 Whether any do inquire of Titus, he is my fellow and helper to you ward: or of our [m] brethren, they are messengers of the Churches, and the [n] glorie of Christ.

24 Wherefore shew toward them, and before the [o] Churches the proofe of your loue, and of the reioycing that we haue of you.

dealing, in whose presence you are, for so much as you see the messengers whome they haue chosen by all their consents, and sent them vnto you.

CHAP. IX.

1 Why, albeit he thinke well of their readie willes, 3 yet earnestly exhorteth them, 4 he yeeldeth a reason: 6 He compareth almes to seede sowing, 10 which God doeth repaie with great gaine.

1 FOr [1] as touching the ministring to the Saints, it is superfluous for me to write vnto you.

2 For I knowe your readinesse of minde, whereof I boast my selfe of you vnto them of Macedonia, and say, that Achaia was prepared a yeere agoe, & your zeale hath prouoked many.

3 Now haue I sent the brethren, lest our reioycing ouer you shoulde be in vaine in this behalfe, that ye (as I haue said) be readie:

4 Lest if they of Macedonia come with me, and finde you vnprepared, we (that wee may not say, you) should be ashamed in this my [a] constant boasting.

5 Wherefore, I thought it necessarie to exhort the brethren to come before vnto you, and to finish your beneuolence appointed afore, that it might be readie, and come as of beneuolence, and not as of [b] niggardlinesse.

6 [2] This yet remember, that he which soweth sparingly, shal reape also sparingly, and hee that soweth liberally, shall reape also liberally.

7 As euery man [c] wisheth in his heart, so let him giue, not ✣ [d] grudgingly, or of [e] necessitie: ✣ for God loueth a cheerefull giuer.

8 And God is able to make [f] all grace to abound toward you, that ye alwayes hauing al sufficiencie in al things, may abound in euery [g] good worke, 9 (✣ As it is written, He hath sparsed abroad and hath giuen to the poore: his beneuolence remaineth for [h] euer.

10 Also hee that findeth seede to the sower, wil minister likewise bread for foode, and multiplie your seede, and increase the [i] fruites of your beneuolence,)

11 That on all partes yee may bee made rich vnto all liberalitie, which causeth through vs thankesgiuing vnto God.

12 [3] For the ministration of this seruice not only supplieth [j] necessities of the Saints, but also abundantly causeth many to giue thāks to God, 13 (Which by the [k] experiment of this ministration praise God for your [l] voluntarie submission in many things, but nowe much more diligent, for the great confidence, which I haue in you.

23 Whether any do inquire of Titus, he is my fellow and helper to you ward: or of our [m] brethren, they are messengers of the Churches, and the [n] glorie of Christ.

24 Wherefore shew toward them, and before the [o] Churches the proofe of your loue, and of the reioycing that we haue of you.

dealing, in whose presence you are, for so much as you see the messengers whome they haue chosen by all their consents, and sent them vnto you.

f For those manifolde afflictions wherewith the Lord tried them, did not onely not quaile their ioyfull readinesse, but also made it much more excellent and famous.

c Of their owne accord they were liberall.

d He calleth that, Grace, that other men would haue called a burden. And this verse is to be expounded by the fiue verse.

1 He amplifieth the forwardnes of the Macedonians, in this, that they also desired Paul to stirre vp the Corinthians to accomplish the giuing of almes, by sending againe of Titus vnto them.

3 Thirdly, hee warneth them that they deceiue not their expectation which they haue conceiued of them.

g As the request of the Macedonians.

4 Then appeareth the naturalnesse of our loue, when as indeed, & that frankly, we helpe our brethren, euen for Christ his sake.

4 The fourth argument taken from the example of Christ.

5 He taketh good heed that he seem not to wrest it out of the by costraint, for vnlesse it be voluntarie, God doth not accept it.

g Not onely to do, but also to do willingly: for he noteth out a readie willingnes, without any inforcement by any other men, much lesse came it of ambition and vaine glorie.

6 Against such as vse to excuse themselues, because they are not rich, as though it were onely proper to rich men to help the poore.

7 Christian liberalitie is mutuall, that proportion may be obserued.

h That like as now in your abundance you help others, which are poore, with some part of your goods, so should others in like sort bestow some of theirs vpon you. ✣ Exod. 16. 18. 8 He commendeth Titus and his two companions, for many causes, both that their credite might not be suspected, as though he had sent them slily to spoile the churches, and also that they might be so much the readier to contribute.

m Titus his two companions.

n By whom the glorie of Christ is set forth.

o All Churches shalbe witnesses of this your godly dealing, in whose presence you are, for so much as you see the messengers whome they haue chosen by all their consents, and sent them vnto you.

1 He wisely meeteth with the suspicion which the Corinthians might conceiue, as though the Apostle in vrging them so carefully should doubt of their good will: Therefore he witnesseth that hee doeth it not to teach them, that they ought to help the Saints, seeing that hee had become suretie for them to the Macedonians, but onely to stirre them vp which were running of themselues, to the end that all things might both be in a better readines, and also be more plentifull.

a The words which he vseth, signifieth such a stablenesse and setledne sse of minde, as cannot be moued with any terrour or feare.

b As from couetous men.

2 Almes must be giuen neither niggardly, nor with a loathfull mind, or hardly: But a franke and free almes is compared to a sowing which hath a most plentifull harueste of most abundant blessing following it.

c Determineth & appointeth freely with himselfe.

CHAP. X.

2 He sheweth with what confidence, 4 with what weapons, 6 & with what reuenge he is armed against the cauillations of the wicked, 7 and that, when he is present, his deedes haue no lesse power, 11 then his words haue force, when he is absent.

1 He returneth to the defence of his Apostleship, but so that he vseth his authoritie therein: for he warneth the earnestly & graue-ly, vsing also terrible threatenings to shew themselues such as are apt to be instructed. And he refelleth certain proude men which made no better accompt of him, then of a bragging Thraso, in that hee vsed to be sharpe against them when he was absent, because they saw no great maiestie in him after the manner of men, and besides, had prouoked his lenitie, notwithstanding that in his absence, he had written to them sharpely. Therefore first of all he professeth that he was gentle and moderate, but after the example of Christ: but if they continue still to despise his gentlenes, hee protesteth vnto them that he will shew indeede how farre they are deceiued, which make that account of the office of an Apostle, that they do of worldly offices, that is, according to the outward appearance. a That nature which is inclined to mercie, rather then to rigour of iustice. b As though I had no other ride and help then that which outwardly I seeme to haue: and therefore Paul setteth his flesh, that is, his weake condition and state, against his spirituall and Apostolique dignitie. 2 Secondly he witnesseth, that although hee be like vnto other men, yet he commeth furnished with that strength, which no holds of man can match, whether they resist by craft and deceit, or by force and might, because he warreth with diuine weapons c Are not such as men get them authoritie with all one of another, and doe great actes. d Stand vpon that in this power of God. 3 An amplification of this spiritual vertue, which in such sort conquereth the enemies be they neuer so craftie, and mighty, that it bringeth some of them by repentance vnto Christ, and iustly reuengeth others, that are stubburnely obstinate, separating them from the other which suffer themselues to be ruled. 4 He beateth into their heades that same matter, with great waight of wordes and sentences. e Do ye iudge of things according to the outward shew? f Not being tolde of it by me. g He noteth out some one that was the seedesman of this speach. 5 Being constrained to refell the foolish bragges of certaine ambitious men, hee witnesseth, that they are able to bring nothing, but that they saltely perswade themselues of themselues: and as for himselfe, although he bragge of excellent things, yet he will not passe the bounds which God hath measured him out, according whereunto he came euen vnto them in preaching the Gospel of Christ, and trusteth that he shal go further, when they haue so profited that he shall not needs to tarry any longer amongst them to instruct them. And hereunto is added an amplification, in that he neuer succeeded other men in their labours. h This is spoken after a taunting sort.

NOwe 1 I Paul my selfe beseech you by the meekenes, and a gentlenes of Christ, which when I am present among you am base, but am bolde toward you being absent:

2 And this I require you, that I neede not to be bolde when I am present, with that same confidence, wherewith I thinke to be bolde against some, which esteeme vs as though wee walked b according to the flesh.

3 2 Neuertheless, though wee walke in the flesh, yet we do not warre after the flesh.

4 (For the weapons of our warrefare are not c carnall, but mightie through d God, to cast downe holdes)

5 Casting downe the imaginations, and euery high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, 3 and bringing into captiuity euery thought to the obedience of Christ,

6 And hauing ready the vengeance against al disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.

7 4 Looke yee on things after the e appearance? If any man trust in himselfe that hee is Christs, let him consider this againe of f himselfe, that as he is Christs, euen so are we Christs.

8 For though I should boast somwhat more of our authoritie, which the Lorde hath giuen vs for edification, and not for your destruction, I should haue no shame.

9 This I say, that I may not seeme as it were to feare you with letters.

10 For the letters, saieth g hee, are sore and strong, but his bodily presence is weake, and his speach is of no value.

11 Let such one thinke this, that such as wee are in word by letters, when we are absent, such wil we be also in deede, when we are present.

12 5 For we b dare not make our selues of the number, or to compare our selues to them, which praise themselues: but they vnderstand not that they measure themselues with i themselues, and k compare themselues with themselues.

13 But we wil not reioyce of things, which are not within our l measure, ✣ but according to the measure of the line, whereof God hath distributed vnto vs a measure to attaine euen vnto you.

14 For we stretch not our selues beyond our measure, as though wee had not attained vnto you: for euen to you also haue we come in preaching the Gospel of Christ,

15 Not boasting of things which are m without our measure: that is, of other mens labours: & we hope, when your faith shal increase, to be magnified by you according to our line abundantly,

16 And to preach the Gospel in those regions which are beyond you: not to reioyce in n an other mans line, that is, in the things that are prepared already.

17 ✣ 6 But let him that reioyceth, reioyce in the Lord.

18 For he that praiseth himselfe, is not allowed, but he whom the Lord praiseth.

i Vpon a vaine perswasion that they haue of themselues, they take vpon them they care not what. k They contemne al other, and measure all their doings only, by themselues. l Of those things which God hath not measured to vs. ✣ Ephes. 4.7. m As though God had diuided the whole worlde among the Apostles, to be husbanded. n In countries which other men haue prepared and husbanded with the preaching of the Gospel. ✣ Ierem. 9.24. 1. cor. 1.31.

7 He somewhat mitigateth that which he spake of himselfe, and therewith also prepareth the Corinthians to heare other things, witnessing that he seeketh nothing els but to approoue himselfe to God, whose glory he onely seeketh.

CHAP. XI.

2 He testifieth, that for the great loue he beareth to the Corinthians, hee is compelled 5 to vtter his owne praises: 9 And that he bestowed his labour on them without any reward, 13 that the false apostles should not surpasse him in any thing, 12 whom he farre excelled in those things which are praise worthie in deede.

1 He granteth that after a sort he plaieth ȳ foole in this vaunting of things, but he addeth that he doth it against his wil for their profit, because he seeth them deceiued by certaine vaine & craftie men, through ȳ craft & subtiltie of Satan.

WOuld 1 God, ye could suffer a litle my foolishnesse, and in deede, ye suffer me.

2 For I am ielous ouer you, with a godly iealousie: for I haue prepared you for one husband, to b present you as a pure virgine to Christ:

3 But I feare lest as the ∴ serpent beguiled Eue through his subtiltie, so your mindes should be c corrupt from ȳ simplicity that is in d Christ.

4 2 For if he that cōmeth, preacheth, e another Iesus whom wee haue not preached: or if yee receiue another spirite whō ye haue not receiued: either another Gospel, which ye haue not receiued, ye might well haue suffered him.

5 Verely I suppose that I was not inferiour to the very chiefe Apostles.

6 3 And though I be rude in speaking, yet I am not so in knowledge, but among you wee haue bin made manifest to the vttermost, in al things.

7 4 Haue I committed an offence, because I abased my selfe, that ye might be exalted, and because I preached to you ȳ Gospel of God freely?

8 I robbed other Churches, and took wages of them to do you seruice.

9 And whē I was present with you, and had neede, ✲ I was not slouthfull to the hinderance of any man: for that which was lacking vnto me, the brethren which came from Macedonia a He speaketh as a foole, but yet as one that seeketh them not for himselfe, but for God. b To marrie you together. ∴ Genes. 3.4. c This place is to be marked against those, which loathe that plaine & pure simplicitie of the Scriptures, in comparison of the colours and paintings of mans eloquence. d Which is meete for them that are in Christ.

2 He sheweth that they deceiue themselues, if they looke to receiue of any other man, either a more excellent Gospel, or more excellent gifts of the holy Ghost. 3 He refuteth the slanders of those Thrasoes. I grant, saith he, that I am not so eloquent an Orator, but yet they cannot take away the knowledge of the Gospel from me, whereof you haue had good proofe, & that euery maner of way. f Paul lacked not that kind of eloquence which is meet for a man, and fit for the Gospel, but he willingly wanted that painted kinde of speach, which too many now adayes hunt after and follow.

4 Another slander, to wit, that he was a raskall, and liued by the labour of his owne handes. But herein, saith the Apostle, what can you lay against me, but that I was content to take any paines for your sakes, and when I lacked, to trauaile for my liuing with mine owne hands in part, and partly also when pouertie constrained me, I chose rather otherwise to seeke my sustenance, then to be any burden to you, although I preached the Gospel vnto you? ✲ Chap. 12.13.

supplied, supplied, and in all things I kept, f and wil keepe my selfe, that I should not be grieuous to you.

10 The g trueth of Christ is in me, that this reioycing shall not be h shut vp against me in the regions of Achaia.

11 Wherefore? because I loue you not? God knoweth.

12 But what I do, that will I doe, that I may cut away occasion from them which desire occasion, that they might be found like vnto vs in that wherein they i reioyce.

13 o For such false apostles are deceitful workers, and transforme themselues into the Apostles of Christ.

14 And no marueile: for Satan him selfe is transformed into an Angel of k light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing, though his ministers transforme themselues, as though they were the ministers of righteousnesse, whose ende shall be according to their workes.

16 7 I say againe, Let no man thinke that I am foolish, or else take me euen as a foole, that I also may boast my selfe a litle.

17 That I speake, I speake it not after the Lord: but as it were foolishly, in this my great boasting.

18 Seeing that many reioyce after the flesh, I will reioyce also.

19 For ye suffer fooles gladly, because that ye are wise.

20 8 For ye suffer, euen if a man bring you into bondage, if a man deuoure you, if a man take your goods, if a man exalt himselfe, if a man smite you on the face.

21 I speake as concerning the l reproch: as though that we had bene m weake: but wherin any man is bold (I speake foolishly) I am bold also.

22 They are Hebrues, ✣ so am I: they are Israelites, so am I: they are the seede of Abraham, so am I:

23 They are the ministers of Christ (I speake as a foole) I am n more: in labours more abundant: in stripes aboue measure: in prison more plenteously: in o death oft.

24 Of the Iewes p fiue times receiued I fourtie stripes saue one.

25 I was q thrise ✣ beaten with roddes: I was ∴ once stoned: I suffered thrise ✕ shipwracke: night and day haue I bene in the deepe sea.

26 In iourneying I was often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils of mine owne nation, in perils among the Gentiles, in perils in the citie, in perils in wildernesse, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren, 27 In wearinesse and r painefulnesse, in watching often, in hunger & thirst, in fastings often, in colde and in nakednesse.

28 9 Beside the things which are outwarde, I am combred daily, and haue the care of all the Churches.

29 Who is weake, and I am not weake? who is offended, and I burne not?

30 10 If I must needes reioyce, I will reioyce of mine infirmities.

31 The God, euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which is blessed for euermore, knoweth that I lie not.

32 In ✣ Damascus the gouernour of the people vnder King Aretas, layde watch in the citie of the Damascens, and would haue caught me.

33 But at a windowe was I let downe in a basket through the wall, and escaped his hands.

from me: but if I would boast my selfe, I would take no better argument: and God himselfe is my witnesse that I deuise and forge nothing. ✣ Actes 9.24.

CHAP. XII.

1 He doth euen vnwillingly make rehearsall 3 of the heauenly visions, 4 that were reuealed vnto him: 6 for which though he might in deede glory, yet he will not, 10 being prinie of his owne infirmities: 11 but they driue him to this kinde of folly, 20 in that they giue eare to certaine vainglorious persons, who drawe them from Christ.

IT 1 is not expedient for mee no doubt to reioyce: for I will come to visions and reuelations of the Lord.

2 I knowe a man a in Christ aboue fourteene yeeres agone, (whether he were in the body, I can not tell, or out of the body, I can not tell: God knoweth) which was taken vp into the b thirde heauen.

3 And I knowe such a man (whether in the body, or out of the body, I can not tell: God knoweth)

4 Howe that he was taken vp into c Paradise, and heard words which d cannot be spoken, which are not e possible for man to vtter.

5 2 Of such a man will I reioyce: of my selfe will I not reioyce, except it bee of mine infirmities.

6 For though I would reioyce, I shoulde not be a foole, for I wil say the trueth: but I refraine, lest any man should thinke of me aboue that hee seeth in me, or that he heareth of me.

7 3 And lest I should be exalted out of measure through the aboundance of reuelations, there was giuen vnto me f a pricke in the flesh, the messenger of g Satan to buffet mee, because I should not be exalted out of measure.

8 For this thing I besought the Lorde h thrise that it might depart from me.

9 And he said vnto me, My grace is sufficient

9 He addeth this in conclusion further, that the Corinthians might be ashamed to despise him, vpon whose care, almost all Churches depended, as it was plainely seene by experience.

10 He turneth that against the aduersaries, which they obiected against him: as if he should say, They alleadge my calamities, to take away my authoritie

1 He goeth forward in his purpose, and because those bragging mates boasted of reuelations, he reckoneth vp those things which lift him vp aboue the common capacitie of men: but he vseth a preface, and excuseth himselfe aduisedly.

a I speake this in Christ, that is, be it spoken without vaine glory, for I seeke nothing but Christ Iesus onely.

b Into the highest heauen: for we neede not to dispute subtilly vpon the worde (Thirde) but yet this place is to be marked against them, which would make heauen to be euery where.

c So the Greekes name that which we call a parke, that is to say, a place where trees are planted, and wilde beastes kept, by which name they that translated the olde Testament out of Hebrewe into Greeke, called the garden Eden, whereunto Adam was put straight after his creation, as a most delicate and pleasant place. And herevpon grewe it, that that blessed seate of the glory of God is called by that name.

d Which no man is able to vtter.

e Which the Saints themselues are not by any meanes able to expresse, because it is God himselfe. Thus doeth Clemens Alexandrinus expound this place, Strom. 5.

2 To remoue all suspicion of ambition, he witnesseth that he braggeth not of those things as of his owne, but as out of himselfe, and yet notwithstanding saieth nothing, left by this occasion other men should attribute more vnto him then in deede he is: and therefore he had rather glorie in his miseries.

3 An excellent doctrine: why God will haue euen his best seruants to be vexed of Satan, and by all kinde of temptations: to wit, left they should be too much puffed vp, and also that they may be made perfite by that continuall exercise.

f He meaneth concupiscence, that sticketh fast in vs, as it were a pricke, in so much as it constraineth Paul himselfe being regenerate, to crye out, I doe not that good that I would, &c. And he calleth it a pricke, by a borowed kinde of speech taken from thornes, or stumpes, which are very dangerous and hurtfull for the feete, if a man walke through woods that are cut downe.

g Which setteth those lustes on fire.

h Oft.

f An amplification: So farre is he from being ashamed of this acte, that he hath also resolued with himselfe to doe no otherwise hereafter amongst them, to the intent that it may alwayes be truely said, that he taught in Achaia for nothing: not that he disdaineth the Corinthians, but that these Thraſoes may neuer finde the occasion which they haue alreadie sought for, and he in the meane season may set some thing before them to follow, that at length they may truely say, that they are like to Paul.

g This is a forme of an oath, as if he said, Let me not be thought to haue any trueth in me.

h Shalbe alwayes open to me.

i Pauls aduersaries sought all occasions they could, to be equall to him. And therefore seeing they had rather vse vp the Corinthians, then preach to them for nothing, they sought another occasion, to wit, to make Paul to take some thing: which thing if he had done, then hoped they by that meanes to be equall to him: for they made such a shew of zeale and knowledge, and set it forth with such a glosing kinde of eloquence, that some of them euen despised Paul: but he sheweth that all this is nothing but colours and painting.

6 Nowe at length he painteth out these fellowes in their colours, forewarning, that it wilcome to passe, that they wil at length betray themselues, what countenance soeuer they make to zeale that they haue of Gods glory.

k By light is meant the heauenly glory, wherof the Angels are partakers.

7 He goeth forward boldly, & vsing a vehement Ironie or kinde of taunting, desireth the Corinthians to pardon him, if for a time he contend as a foole before them being wise. with those ioly felowes touching those external things, to wit, touching his stocke, his successors, & valiant acts.

8 Before he cōmeth to the matter, he toucheth the Corinthians, who perswading themselues to be very wise men, did not marke in the meane season, that those false apostles abused their simplicitie for aduantage.

l As if he said, In respect of that reproch which they do vnto you (I speake it) which surely is euill, as if they did beate you.

m Paul is called weake, in that he seemeth to the Corinthians a vile and abiect man, a beggerly artificer, a most wretched and miserable wise, whereas notwithstanding therein Gods mightie power was made manifest.

✣ Phil. 3.5.

n Paul being honourable in deede, defendeth his ministerie openly, not for his own names sake, but because he saw his doctrine come into hazard.

for thee: for my power is made perfect through weakenesse. 4 Very gladly therefore wil I reioyce rather in mine infirmities, that the power of Christ may i dwell in me.

10 Therefore I take k pleasure in infirmities, in reproches, in necessities, in persecutions, in anguish for Christes sake: for when I am weake, then am I strong.

11 I was a foole to boast my selfe: yee haue compelled me: 5 for I ought to haue bene commended of you: for in nothing was I inferiour vnto the very chiefe Apostles, though I bee nothing.

12 The l signes of an Apostle were wrought among you with all patience, with signes, and wonders, and great workes.

13 For what is it, wherein ye were inferiours vnto other Churches, ✣ except that I haue not bene m slouthfull to your hinderance? forgiue me this wrong.

14 Beholde, the third time I am ready to come vnto you, and yet will I not be slouthfull to your hinderance: for I seeke not yours, but you: for the children ought not to lay vp for the fathers, but the fathers for the children.

15 And I will most gladly bestowe, and will be bestowed for your soules: though the more I loue you, the lesse I am loued.

16 6 But bee it that I charged you not: yet for as much as I was craftie, I tooke you with guile.

17 Did I pill you by any of them whom I sent vnto you?

18 I haue desired Titus, and with him I haue sent a brother: did Titus pill you of any thing? walked we not in the selfe same spirit? walked we not in the same steppes?

19 7 Againe, thinke yee that wee excuse our selues vnto you? we speake before God in n Christ. But we doe all things, dearely beloued, for your edifying.

20 ✣ 8 For I feare lest when I come, I shall not finde you such as I would: and that I shalbe found vnto you such as yee would not, and lest there be strife, enuying, wrath, contentions, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, and discord.

21 I feare lest when I come againe, my God abase me among you, and I shall bewaile many of them which haue sinned already, and haue not repented of the vncleanesse, and fornication, and wantonnesse which they haue committed.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Comming the third time, 2 hee denounceth the sharper vengeance towardes them, 5 who haue a perfect triall of the power of Christ in his Apostleship: 10 At length he prayeth for their repentance, 11 And wisheth them prosperitie.

LO this is the third time that I come vnto you. ✣ In the mouth of two or three witnesses shal euery word stand.

2 I tolde you before, and tell you before: as though I had bene present the second time, so write I nowe being absent to them which heretofore haue sinned and to all others, that if I come againe, I will not spare,

3 1 Seeing that ye seeke experience of Christ, that speaketh in mee, which towarde you is not weake, but is a mightie in you.

4 For though hee was crucified concerning b his infirmitie, yet liueth he through the power of God. And we no doubt are weake in him, but we shal liue with him, through the power of God toward you.

5 ✣ 2 Proue your selues whether ye are in the faith: examine your selues: knowe yee not your owne selues, howe that Iesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates?

6 3 But I trust that yee shall knowe that wee are not reprobates.

7 Nowe I pray vnto God that yee doe none euill, not that we should seeme approued, but that ye should doe that which is honest: though wee be as c reprobates.

8 For wee can not doe any thing against the trueth, but for the trueth.

9 For wee are glad when we are weake, and that ye are strong: this also we wish for, euen your d perfection.

10 Therefore write I these things being absent, lest when I am present, I should vse sharpenesse, according to the power which the Lord hath giuen mee, to edification, and not to destruction.

11 4 Finally brethren, fare ye wel: be perfect: be of good comfort: be of one minde: liue in peace, and the God of loue and peace shalbe with you.

12 5 Greete one another with an ∴ holy kisse. All the Saints salute you.

13 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ, and the loue of God, and the communion of the holy Ghost be with you all, Amen.

2 He confirmeth that which hee spake of the vertue of God appearing in his ministerie, and he gathereth by the mutuall relation betweene the peoples faith, and the ministers preaching, that they must either reuerence his Apostleship, vpon whose doctrine their faith is grounded, or they must condemne themselues of infidelitie, and must confesse themselues not to be of Christes body. 3 He mitigateth that sharpeneſſe, trusting that they will shewe themselues towards their sat hfull Apostle, apt and willing to be taught: adding this moreouer, that hee passeth not for his owne fame and estimation, so that he may serue to their saluation, which is the onely marke that he shooteth at. c In mens iudgement. d That all things may bee in good order amongst you, and the members of the Church restored into their place, which haue bene shaken and out of place. 4 A briefe exhortation, but yet such an one as comprehendeth all the partes of a Christian mans life. 5 He saluteth them familiarly, and in conclusion wisheth well vnto them. ∴ 1.Cor.16.20.

4 He concludeth, that hee will onely set his miseries against the vaine bragges of the false apostles, and therewith also excuseth himselfe, for that by their importunitie, he was constrained to speake so much of these things as he did: to wit, because that if his Apostleship were subuerted, his doctrine must needes fall.

i That I might feele the vertue of Christ more and more: For the weaker that our tabernacles are, the more doth Christes vertue appeare in them.

k I doe not onely take them patiently and with a good heart, but also I take great pleasure in them.

5 Againe he maketh the Corinthians witnesses of those things whereby God had sealed his Apostleshippe amongst them, and againe hee declareth by certaine arguments, howe farre hee is from all couetousnesse, and also howe he is affectioned towards them.

THE

THE EPISTLE OF THE APOSTLE PAVL TO THE GALATIANS.

CHAP. I.

1 Straight after the salutation, 6 He reprehendeth the Galatians for revolting 9 from his Gospel, 15 which he received from God, 17 before he had communicated with any of the Apostles.

PAVL [1] an Apostle (not [a] of men, neither by [b] man, ✣ but by [c] Iesus Christ, and God the Father which hath raised him from the dead)

2 And all the brethren which are with me, vnto the Churches of Galatia:

3 Grace be with you, and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Iesus Christ,

4 [2] Which gaue himselfe for our sinnes, that he might deliuer vs ✣ from this present euill [d] world according to the will of God euen our Father,

5 To whom be glory for euer and euer, Amen.

6 [3] I marueile that ye are so soone [e] remooued away vnto another Gospel, from him that had called you in the grace of Christ,

7 ✣ Which is not another Gospel, saue that there be some which trouble you, and intend to [f] peruert the Gospel of Christ.

8 But though that we, or an Angel from heauen preach vnto you otherwise, then that which we haue preached vnto you, let him be accursed.

9 As we said before, so say I now againe, If any man preach vnto you otherwise, then that ye haue receiued, let him be accursed.

10 [5] For nowe preach I [h] mans doctrine, or Gods? or go I about to please men? for if I should yet please men, I were not the seruant of Christ.

11 ✣ [6] Now I certifie you, brethren, that [ỹ] Gospel which was preached of me, was not after man.

12 For neither receiued I it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the [i] reuelation of Iesus Christ.

13 [7] For ye haue heard of my conuersation in time past, in the Iewish religion, howe that ✣ I [k] persecuted the Church of God extremely, and wasted it, 14 And profited in the Iewish religion aboue many of my companions of mine owne nation, and was much more zealous of the [k] traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it pleased God (which had [l] separated me from my mothers wombe, and called me by his grace)

16 To reueile his Sonne [m] in mee, [ỹ] I should preach him ✣ among the Gentiles, immediatly, [8] I communicated not with [n] flesh and blood:

17 Neither came I againe to Hierusalem to them which were Apostles before me, but I went into Arabia, and turned againe vnto Damascus.

18 Then after three yeeres I came againe to Hierusalem to visite Peter, and abode with him fifteene dayes.

19 And none other of the Apostles sawe I, saue Iames the Lords brother.

20 Nowe the things which I write vnto you, beholde, I witnes [o] before God, that I lie not.

21 After that, I went into the coastes of Syria and Cilicia: for I was vnknowen by face vnto the Churches of Iudea, which were in Christ.

22 But they had heard onely some say, Hee which persecuted vs in time past, nowe preacheth the [p] faith which before he destroyed.

23 And they glorified God for me.

1 A salutation cõprehending in few words, the summe of the Apostles doctrine, and also besides, straightway frõ the beginning, shewing the grauitie meete for the authoritie of an Apostle, which hee had to maintaine against the false apostles.

a He sheweth who is the authour of the ministerie generally: for herein the whole ministerie agreeth, that whether they be Apostles, or Shepheards, or Doctours, they are appointed of God.

b He toucheth the instrumental cause: for this is a peculiar prerogatiue to the Apostles, to be called immediatly from Christ.

c Christ no doubt is man, but hee is God also, and head of the Church, and in this respect to be tempted out of the number of men.

3 The summe of the true Gospel is this, that Christ by his only offering saueth vs being chosen out from the world, by the free decree of God the Father. ✣ Luke 1.74. d Out of that most corrupt state which is without Christ. 3 The first part of the Epistle, wherein he witnesseth that he is an Apostle, nothing inferiour to those chiefe disciples of Christ, & wholy agreeing with them, whose names the false apostles did abuse. And he beginneth with chiding, reprooving them of lightnes, for that they gaue eare so easily vnto them which peruerted them & drew them away to a new Gospel. e He vseth the passiue voyce, to cast the fault vpon the false apostles, and he vseth the time that nowe is, to giue them to vnderstand, that it was not already done, but in doing. 4 He warneth them in time to remember that there are not many Gospels, & therefore whatsoeuer these false apostles pretend which had the law, Moses, and the Fathers, in their mouthes, yet they are in deede so many corruptions of the true Gospel, insomuch that he himselfe, yea, and the very Angels themselues (and therefore much more these false apostles) ought to be holden accursed, if they go about to change the least iote that may be in the Gospel [ỹ] he deliuered to them before. f For there is nothing more contrary to faith or free iustification, than iustification by the Law, or by our deseruing. g Looke Rom. 9.3. 5 A confirmation taken both from the nature of the doctrine it selfe, & also from [ỹ] maner which he vsed in teaching: for neither, (sayth he, did I teach those things which pleased men as these men do which put part of saluation in externall things, & works of the Law, neither went I about to procure any mans fauour. And therefore the matter it selfe sheweth that [ỹ] doctrine which I deliuered vnto you, is heauenly.

h He toucheth the false apostles, who had nothing but men in their mouthes, and yet, though hee would derogate nothing from the Apostles, preacheth God and not men.

i 1. Cor. 15.1. 6 A second argument to proue that his doctrine is heauenly, because he had it from heauen, from Iesus Christ himselfe, without any mans helpe, wherein he excelleth them whom Christ taught here on earth after the maner of men. i This place is to be vnderstood of an extraordinarie reuelation, for otherwise the Sonne alone reueiled his Gospel by his Spirit, although by the ministerie of men, which Paul shutteth out here. 7 He proueth [ỹ] he was extraordinarily taught of Christ himselfe, by the history of his former life, which the Galatians themselues knew wel ynough: for saith he, it is wel knowẽ in what schoole I was brought vp, euen frõ a child, to wit, amongst the deadly enemies of the Gospel. And [ỹ] no man may cauil and say [ỹ] I was a scholer of the Pharises in name only & not in deede, no man is ignorant, how that I excelled in Pharisaisme, and was soddenly made of a Pharise, an Apostle of the Gentiles, so that I had no space to be instructed of men.

k He calleth them the traditions of his Fathers, because he was not only a Pharise himselfe, but also had a Pharise to his father.

l Hee speaketh of Gods euerlasting predestination, whereby hee appointed him to be an Apostle, where of he maketh three degrees, the euerlasting counsaile of God, his appointing from his mothers wombe, and his calling: here is no mention at all, we see, of workes foreseene.

✣ Ephes. 3.8.

8 Because it might be obiected, that in deede hee was called of Christ in the way, but afterwards was instructed of the Apostles and others, whose names (as I said before) the false apostles abused to destroy his Apostleship, as though he deliuered another Gospel then the true Apostles did, and as though hee were not of their number, which are to be credited without exception: therefore Paul answereth, that he began straightway after his calling to preach the Gospel at Damascus and in Arabia, and was not from that time in Hierusalem but onely fiftene dayes, where he saw onely Peter & Iames, and afterwards, he began to teach in Syria and Cilicia, with the consent and approbation of the Churches of the Iewes, which knew him onely by name, so farre off was it, that hee was there instructed of men.

CHAP. II.

1 That the Apostles did nothing disagree from his Gospel, 3 he declareth by the example of Titus being vncircumcised, 11 and also by his admouthing the same against Peters dissimulation: 17 And so he passeth to the handling of our free iustification by Christ, &c.

THen [1] fourteene yeeres after, I went vp againe to Hierusalem with Barnabas, and tooke with me Titus also.

2 And I went vp by reuelation, and declared vnto them that Gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, but particularly to them that were the chiefe, least by any meanes I should runne, or had runne [a] in vaine:

3 But neither yet Titus which was with mee, though he were a Grecian, was compelled to be circumcised,

4 To wit, for the [b] false brethren which were craftily sent in, and crept in priuily to spie out our libertie, which wee haue in Christ Iesus, that they

1 Now he sheweth how he agreeth with the Apostles, with whome he granteth that he conferred touching his Gospell which he taught among the Gentiles, fourteene yeeres after his conuersion, and they allowed it in such sort, that they constrained not his fellow Titus to be circumcised, although some tormented themselues therein, which traiterously laid waite against him, but in vaine, neither did they adde the least iote that might be to the doctrine which hee had preached, but contrariwise they gaue to him and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship, and acknowledged them as Apostles appointed of the Lord to the Gentiles.

a Vnfruitfully, for as touching his doctrine, Paul doubted not of it, but because there were certaine reports cast abroade of him, that he was of an other opinion then the rest of the Apostles were, which thing might haue hindered the course of the Gospel, therefore hee laboured to remedie this sore. b Which by deceite, and couetous faire beliefe creps in amongst the faithfull.

might bring vs into bondage.

5 To whome we gaue not place by [e] subiection for an houre, that the [d] trueth of the Gospell might continue with [e] you.

6 But by them which seemed to be great, I was not taught (whatsoeuer they were in time passed, I am nothing the better: ✣ God accepteth no mans person) for they that are the chiefe, did adde nothing to me aboue that I had.

7 But contratiwise, when they sawe that the Gospel ouer the [f] vncircumcision was committed vnto me, as the Gospel ouer the circumcision was vnto Peter:

8 (For he that was mightie by Peter in the Apostleship ouer the circumcision, was also mightie by me toward the Gentiles)

9 And when Iames, & Cephas, & Iohn, knew of the grace that was giuen vnto me, which are [g] counted to be pillars, they gaue to me & to Barnabas [h] right hands of felowship, that we should preach vnto [i] Gentiles, & they vnto [i] circumcisiō, 10 Warning onely that we should remember the poore: which thing also I was diligent to doe.

11 ¶ And when Peter was come to Antiochia, I withstood him to his [i] face: for hee was to be condemned.

12 [2] For before that certaine eame frō Iames, hee ate with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew & separated himselfe, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Iewes played the hypocrites likewise with him, in so much that Barnabas was [k] led away with them by that their hypocrisie.

14 But when I saw, that they went not [l] right way to the [m] trueth of the Gospel, I said vnto Peter before all men, If thou being a Iewe, liuest as the Gentiles, and not like the Iewes, why [n] constraineſt thou the Gentiles to doe like the Iewes?

15 [3] We which are Iewes [o] by nature, and not [p] sinners of the Gentiles, 16 Knowe that a man is not iustified by the works of [q] Law, but by [q] faith of Iesus Christ, euen we, I say, haue beleeued in Iesus Christ, that we might be iustified by the faith of Christ, & not by the workes of the Lawe, because that by the workes of the Lawe, [r] no flesh shalbe iustified.

17 ✣ [4] If then while [r] we seeke to be made righteous by Christ, we our selues are found sinners, is Christ therefore [q] minister of sinne? God forbid.

18 For if I build againe the things that I haue destroyed, I make my selfe a trespasser.

19 For I through the Lawe am dead to the [t] Lawe, that I might liue vnto God.

20 I am crucified with Christ, but I liue, yet not [u] I any more, but Christ liueth in me: and in that that I nowe liue in the [x] flesh, I liue by the faith in the Sonne of God, who hath loued mee, and giuen himselfe for me.

21 [5] I doe not abrogate the grace of God: for if righteousnes be by the Lawe, then Christ died [y] without a cause.

2 Another most vehement proofe of his Apostleship, and also of that doctrine which he had delinered concerning free iustification by faith onely, because that for this thing only he reprehended Peter at Antioch, who offended herein, in that for a fewe Iewes sakes which came from Hierusalem, hee played the Iewe, and offended the Gentiles which had beleeued.

k By example rather then by iudgement.

l Word for word, with a right foote, which bee setteth against halting and dissembling which is backward. m He calleth the trueth of the Gospel both the doctrine it selfe and also the vse of the doctrine, which we call the practise. n He saith they were constrained, which plaied the Iewes by Peters example. 3 The second part of this epistle, ✣ state wherof is this: we are iustified by faith in Christ Iesus wout the works of the Law. Which thing he propoūdeth in such sort, ✣ first of al he meeteth ẅ an obiection, (for I also saith he am a Iew, ✣ no man may say against me, ✣ I am an enemie to ✣ Law) & afterward, he cōfirmeth it by ✣ expresse witnes of Dauid. o Although we be Iewes, yet we preach iustification by faith, because we know vndoubtedly, that no man can be iustified by the Law. p So the Iewes called the Gentiles, because they were strangers from Gods covenant. q In Iesus Christ. r No man, and in this word (flesh) there is a great vehemencie, wherby is meant that the nature of man is vtterly corrupt. ✣ Rom 3.19. 4 Before he goeth any further, he meeteth with their obiection, which abhorred this doctrine of free iustification by faith, because say they, men are by this means withdrawen frō the study of good works. And in this sort is ✣ obiection: If sinners should be iustified through Christ by faith wout the Law, Christ should approue sinners, & should as it were exhort them thereunto by his ministery. Paul answereth ✣ this consequence is false, because ✣ Christ destroyeth sinne in ✣ beleeuers: For so, saith he, do men flee vnto Christ through ✣ terrour and feare of the Law, ✣ being quit frō the curse of the Law & iustified, they may be saued by him, ✣ together therewith, he beginneth in them by litle & litle, that strength & power of his which destroyeth sinne: to the end ✣ this olde man being abolished by ✣ vertue of Christ crucified, Christ may liue in them, & they may consecrate themselues to God. Therfore if any mā giue himselfe to sinne after he hath receiued the Gospel, let him not accuse Christ nor the Gospel, but himselfe, for that he destroieth ✣ worke of God in himselfe. s He goeth from iustification to sanctification, which is another benefite we receiue by Christ, if we lay holde on him by faith. t The Lawe thus terrifieth the conscience, bringeth vs to Christ, and he vtterly causeth vs to die to the Law in deede, because that by making vs righteous, he taketh away from vs the terrour of conscience, and by sanctifying vs, causeth through the mortifying of lust in vs, that it cannot take such occasion to sinne by the restraints which the Lawe maketh, as it did before, Rom.7.10,11. u The same that ✣ was before. x In this mortall body. 5 The second argument taken of an absurditie: If men may be iustified by the Law, then was it not necessary for Christ to die. y For there was no cause why he should doe so.

CHAP. III.

1 He rebuketh them, for suffering themselues to be drawen from the grace of free iustification in Christ, most liuely set out vnto them. 6 He bringeth in Abrahams example, 10 declaring the effect, 21 and causes of the giuing of the Lawe.

O [1] Foolish Galatians, who hath bewitched you, that ye should not obey the trueth, to whom Iesus Christ before was described in your a sight, and among you crucified?

2 This onely would I learne of you, Receiued ye the [b] Spirit by the workes of the Lawe, or by the hearing of [c] faith preached?

3 [2] Are ye so fooliſh, that after ye haue begun in the Spirit, ye would nowe be made perfect by the [d] flesh?

4 [3] Haue ye suffered so many things in vaine? if so be it be euen in vaine.

5 [4] Hee therefore that ministreth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth he it through the workes of the Law, or by the hearing of faith preached?

6 [5] Yea rather as [e] Abraham beleeued God, and it was ✣ imputed to him for righteousnes.

7 [6] Know ye therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

8 [7] For the Scripture foreseeing, that God would iustifie the Gentiles through faith, preached before the Gospel vnto Abraham, saying, ✣ [8] In thee shall all the Gentiles be [f] blessed.

9 [9] So then they which be of faith, are blessed [g] with faithfull Abraham.

1 The third reason or argument taken of those gifts of the holy Ghost, wherewith they were indued from heauen after they had heard and beleeued the Gospel by Pauls ministerie: which seeing they were so euident to all mens eyes, that they were as it were liuely images, wherein they might beholde the trueth of the doctrine of the Gospel, no lesse then if they had beheld with their eyes Christ himselfe crucified, in whose onely death they ought to haue their trust, hemaruelleth howe it could be that they could be so bewitched by the false apostles.

a Christ was layde before you so notably and so plainly, that you had his liuely image as it were represented before your eyes, as if he had bene crucified before you. b Those spirituall graces and gifts, which were a seale as it were to the Galatians that the Gospel which was preached to them was true. c Of the doctrine of faith. 2 The fourth argument mixed with the former, & it is double. If the Law be to be ioyned ẅ faith, this were not to go forward, but backward, seeing ✣ those spirituall gifts which were bestowed vpon you, are more excellent then any that could proceede from your selues. And moreouer, it should folow, ✣ the Law is better then Christ, because it should perfit and bring to end that, which Christ began only. d By the (flesh) he meaneth the ceremonies of the Law, against which he setteth the Spirit, that is, the spirituall working of the Gospel. 3 An exhortation by maner of vpbraiding, ✣ they doe not in vaine suffer so many conflicts. 4 He repeateth the third argument which was taken of the effects, because he had interlaced certaine other arguments by the way. 5 The fift argument which is of great force, and hath three grounds. The first, That Abraham was iustified by faith, to wit, by free imputation of righteousnes according to the promise apprehended by faith, as Moses doth most plainly witnes. e Looke Rom 4. ✣ Gen.15.6.rom.4.3. iames 2.23. 6 The second, that the sonnes of Abraham must be esteemed and accounted of by faith. 7 The third, that all people that beleeue, are without exception, comprehended in the promes of the blessing. ✣ Gen.12.3.actes 3.25. 8 A proose of the first and second grounds, out of the wordes of Moses. f Blessing in this place, signifieth the free promise by faith. 9 The conclusion of the fifth argument: Therefore as Abraham is blessed by faith, so are all his children (that is to say, all the Gentiles that beleeue) blessed, that is to say, freely iustified. g With faithfull Abraham, and not by faithful Abraham, to giue vs to vnderstand that the blessing commeth not from Abraham, but from him, by whome Abraham and all his posterite is blessed.

10 The ſixt argument, the concluſion whereof is alſo in the former verſe taken of cõtraries, thus, They are accurſed which are of the workes of the Lawe, that is to ſay, which value their righteouſnes by the performãce of the Law. Therefore they are bleſſed which are of faith, that is, they which haue righteouſneſſe by faith.

11 A proofe of the former ſentence or propoſition, and the propoſition of this argument is this: Curſed is he that fulfilleth not the whole Lawe. ✣ Deut.27.26.

12 The ſecond propoſition with the concluſion: but no man fulfilleth the Law, Therfore no man is iuſtified by the Law, or els, All are accurſed which ſeeke righteouſneſſe by the works of the Law.

And there is annexed alſo this maner of prooſe of ỹ ſecond propoſition, to wit, Righteouſnes and life are attributed to faith, Therefore no man fulfilleth the Law. ✣ Hab.2.4.rom.1.17.heb.10.38.

13 Here is a reaſon ſhewed of the former conſequence: Becauſe the Lawe promiſeth life to al that keepe it, and therefore if it be kept, it iuſtifieth and giueth life. But the Scripture attributing righteouſnes and life to faith, taketh it from the Law, ſeeing that faith inſtifieth by imputation, and the Law by the performing of the worke. ∴ Leuit.18.5.

14 A preuenting of an obiection: How then can they be bleſſed, whome the Lawe pronounceth to be accurſed? Becauſe Chriſt ſuſteined the curſe which the Law laid vpõ vs, that we might be quit frõ it.

15 A prooſe of the anſwere by the teſtimonie of Moſes. ✣ Deu.21.23. b Chriſt was accurſed for vs, becauſe he bare the curſe that was due to vs, to make vs partakers of his righteouſnes.

16 A concluſion of al that was ſaid before in the handling of the fifth & ſixth reaſons, to wit, that both the Gentiles are made partakers of the free bleſſing of Abraham in Chriſt, and alſo that the Iewes themſelues, of whoſe number the Apoſtle counteth himſelfe to be, cannot obtaine that promiſed grace of the Goſpel, which he calleth the Spirit, but only by faith. And the Apoſtle doth ſeuerally apply the concluſion, both to the one & the other, preparing himſelfe a way to ỹ next argument: whereby he declareth, that that one only ſeed of Abraham, which is made of all peoples can no otherwiſe be ioyned & grow vp together, but by faith in Chriſt.

17 He putteth forth two general rules before ỹ next argument, which is the ſeuenth in order: The one is, that it is not lawful to breake couenants & contracts which are iuſtly made & according to Law, amongſt men, neither may any thing be added vnto them: The other is, that God did ſo make a couenãt with Abraham, that he would gather together his children which conſiſt both of Iewes and Gentiles in one body (as appeareth by that which hath bin ſaid before) For he did not ſay, that he would be the God of Abraham & of his ſeedes, (which thing notwithſtanding ſhould haue bin ſaid, if he had many & diuers ſeedes, as the Gentiles apart, & the Iewes apart.) but that he would be the God of Abraham, and of his ſeede, as of one. i ỹ will vſe an example which is common amongſt you, that you may bee aſhamed you giue not ſo much to Gods couenants, as you doe to mans. ✣ Heb.9.17. k Autentical, as we call it.

18 He putteth forth the ſumme of the ſeuenth argument, to wit, that both the Iewes and Gentiles grow together into one body of the ſeede of Abraham, in Chriſt only, ſo that all are one Chriſt, as it is afterward declared, verſ.28. l Paul ſpeaketh not of Chriſts perſon, but of two peoples, which grew together in one, in Chriſt.

19 The eight argument taken of compariſon, thus: If a mans couenant (being autentical) be firme and ſtrong much more Gods couenant. Therfore the Law was not giuen to abrogate ỹ promiſe made to Abraham, which had reſpect to Chriſt, that is to ſay, the end wherof did hang of Chriſt. m Which tended to Chriſt.

20 An enlarging of that argument thus: Moreouer and beſides that the promiſe is of it ſelf firme & ſtrong, it was alſo confirmed with the preſcriptiõ of long time, to wit, of 430. yeres, ſo that it could in no wiſe be broken.

21 An obiection: We grant that ỹ promiſe was not abrogated by the couenant of the Law, & therefore we ioyne the Law with the promiſe. Nay, ſaith the Apoſtle, theſe two cannot ſtand together, to wit, that the inheritance ſhould both be giuen by the Law & alſo by promes, for the promes is free: wherby it ſeloweth, that the Law was not giuen to iuſtifie, for by that meanes the promiſe ſhould be broken. n By this word (inheritance) is meant the right of the ſeede, which is, that God ſhould be our God, that is to ſay, that by vertue of the couenant that was made with faithfull Abraham, we that be faithfull, might by that meanes be bleſſed of God as well as he.

10 For as many as are of the workes of the Lawe, are vnder the curſe: 11 for it is written, ✣ Curſed is euery man that continueth not in all things, which are written in the booke of the Lawe, to doe them.

11 12 And that no man is iuſtified by the Law in the ſight of God, it is euident: ✣ for the iuſt ſhall liue by faith.

12 13 And the Lawe is not of faith: but ∴ the man that ſhall doe thoſe things, ſhal liue in them.

13 14 Chriſt hath redeemed vs from the curſe of the Lawe, made a curſe for vs, (15 for it is written, ✣ h Curſed is euery one that hangeth on tree)

14 16 That the bleſſing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Chriſt Ieſus, that wee might receiue the promiſe of the Spirite through faith.

15 17 Brethren, I ſpeake as i men do: ✣ though it be but a mans couenant, when it is k confirmed, yet no man doeth abrogate it, or addeth any thing thereto.

16 Nowe to Abraham and his ſeede were the promiſes made. Hee ſaith not, And to the ſeedes, as ſpeaking of many: but, And to thy ſeede, as of one, 18 which is l Chriſt.

17 19 And this I ſay, that the couenant that was confirmed afore of God m in reſpect of Chriſt, the 20 Lawe which was foure hundreth and thirtie yeeres after, can not diſanull, that it ſhould make the promiſe of none effect.

18 21 For if the n inheritance be of the Law, it is no more by the promiſe, but God gaue it freely vnto Abraham by promiſe.

19 22 Wherefore then ſerueth the Law? It was added becauſe of the o tranſgreſſions, p till the ſeede came, vnto the which the promiſe was made: 23 and it was q ordained by r Angels in the hand of a Mediatour.

20 Nowe a Mediatour is not a Mediatour of one: 24 but God is one.

21 25 Is the Lawe then againſt the promiſes of God? God forbid: For if there had bene a Lawe giuen which could haue giuen life, ſurely righteouſneſſe ſhould haue bene by the Lawe.

22 But the ſ Scripture hath ✣ concluded t all vnder ſinne, that the u promiſe by the faith of Ieſus Chriſt ſhould be giuen to them that beleeue.

23 26 But before faith came, we were kept vnder the Lawe, as vnder a gariſon, and ſhut vp vnto x that faith, which ſhould afterward be reueiled.

24 Wherefore the Law was our ſcholemaſter to bring vs to Chriſt, that we might be made righteous by faith.

25 But after that faith is come, we are no longer vnder a ſcholemaſter.

26 27 For ye are all the ſonnes of God by faith, in Chriſt Ieſus.

27 28 For al ye that are y baptized into Chriſt, haue z put on Chriſt.

28 There is neither Iewe nor Grecian: there is neither bond nor free: there is neither male nor female: for ye are all a one in Chriſt Ieſus.

29 And if ye be Chriſtes, then are ye Abahams ſeede, and heires by promiſe.

22 An obiection which riſeth of the former anſwere: If that inheritance be not by the Law (at the leaſt in part) then why was the Lawe giuen, after that the promiſe was made? therefore ſaith the Apoſtle, to reproue men of blame, and ſo teach them to looke vnto Chriſt, in whom at length that promiſe of ſauing all people together, ſhould be fulfilled, and not that the Lawe was giuen to iuſtifie men.

o That men might vnderſtand by diſcouering of their ſinnes, that they are ſaued by the onely grace of God, which are reuiled to Abraham and thus in Chriſt.

p Vntill the partition wall was broken downe, and that full ſted ſprang vp, framed of two peoples, both of Iewes and Gentiles: for by this word Seede, we may not vnderſtand, Chriſt alone by himſelfe, but coupled and ioyned together with his body.

23 A confirmation of the former anſwere taken from the maner and forme of giuing the Law: for it was giuen by Angels, ſtriking a great terrour into all, and by Moſes a Mediatour comming betweene. Nowe they that are one, neede no Mediatour, but they that are twaine at the leaſt, and that are at variance one with another. Therefore the Lawe it ſelfe and the Mediatour were witneſſes of the wrath of God, and not that God would by this meanes reconcile men to himſelfe, and aboliſh the promiſe, or adde the Lawe vnto the promiſe.

q Commaunded and giuen, or proclaimed. r By the ſeruice and miniſterie.

24 A taking away of an obiection, leaſt any man might ſay, that ſometimes by conſent of the parties which haue made a couenant, ſomething is added to the couenant, or the former conenants are broken. This, ſayeth the Apoſtle, commeth to paſſe in God, who is alwayes one, and the ſelfe ſame, and like himſelfe.

25 The concluſion vttered by a maner of asking a queſtion, and it is the ſame that was vttered before, verſe 17. but proceeding of another rule: ſo that the argument is newe, and is this: God is alwayes like vnto himſelfe: Therefore the Lawe was not giuen to aboliſh the promiſes. But it ſhoulde aboliſh them if it gaue life, for by that meanes it ſhould iuſtifie, and therefore it ſhould aboliſh that iuſtification which was promiſed to Abraham and to his ſeede by faith. Nay it was rather giuen to bring to light the guiltineſſe of all men, to the ende that all beleeuers fleeing to Chriſt promiſed, might bee freely iuſtified in him.

s By this word, Scripture, hee meaneth the Lawe. ✣ Rom.3.9. t All men, and whatſoeuer commeth from man. u In euery one of theſe wordes, there is an argument againſt the merites of workes: for all theſe wordes, promiſe, faith, Chriſt, might be giuen, to beleeuers, are againſt merites, and not one of them can ſtand with deſerning workes.

26 Nowe there followeth an other handling of the ſecond part of this Epiſtle: the ſtate whereof is this: Although the Lawe (that is, the whole gouernement of Gods houſe according to the Lawe) doe not iuſtifie, is it therefore to be aboliſhed, ſeeing that Abraham himſelfe was circumciſed, and his poſteritie held ſtill the vſe of Moſes Lawe? Paul affirmeth that it ought to be abolſhed, becauſe it was inſtituted for that ende and purpoſe, that it ſhoulde be as it were a ſcholemaſter and keeper to the people of God, vntill the promiſe appeared in deede, that is to ſay, Chriſt, and the Goſpel manifeſtly publiſhed with great efficacie of the Spirite. x The cauſe why we were kept vnder the Lawe, is ſet downe here.

27 Becauſe age changeth not the condition of ſeruants, hee addeth that we are free by condition, and therefore, ſeeing wee are out of our childehood, wee haue no more necde of a keeper and Scholemaſter.

28 Vſing a generall particle, leſt the Iewes at the leaſt ſhould not thinke themſelues bounde with the band of the Lawe, hee pronounceth that Baptiſme is common to all beleeuers, becauſe it is a pledge of our deliuerie in Chriſt, as well to the Iewes as to the Grecians, that by this meanes all may be truely one in Chriſt, that is to ſay, that promiſed ſeede to Abraham, and inheritours of euerlaſting life.

y He ſetteth Baptiſme ſecretly againſt circumciſion, which the falſe apoſtles ſo much bragged of. z The Church muſt put on Chriſt, as it were a garment, and be couered with him, that is may be throughly holy, and without blame. a You are all as one, and ſo is this great knot and communion ſignified.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Being deliuered from the bondage of the Law, 4 by Christes comming, who is the ende thereof, 9 it is very absurd to slide backe to beggerly ceremonies: 12 He calleth them againe therefore to the puritie of the doctrine of the Gospell, 22 confirming his discourse with a fine allegorie.

THen [1] I say, that the heire as long as hee is a childe, differeth nothing from a seruant, though he be Lord of all,

2 But is vnder tutours and gouernours, [a] vntil the time appoynted of the father.

3 Euen so wee, when wee were children, were in bondage vnder the [b] rudiments of the world.

4 [2] But when the [c] fulnesse of time was come, God sent foorth his Sonne made of a [d] woman, and made vnder the Lawe,

5 That hee might redeeme them which were vnder the Lawe, that wee ✣ might receiue the e adoption of the sonnes.

10 Ye obserue dayes, and moneths, and times and yeeres.

11 I am in feare of you, lest I haue bestowed on you labour in vaine.

12 [5] Be ye as I (for I am euen as you) brethren, I beseech you: ye haue not hurt me at all.

13 And ye know, how through [m] infirmitie of the flesh, I preached ✣ Gospel vnto you at the first.

14 And the [n] trial of me which was in my flesh, ye despised nor, neither abhorred: but ye receiued me as an Angel of God, yea, as [o] Christ Iesus.

15 [p] What was then your felicitie? for I beare you record, that if it had bene possible, ye would haue plucked out your owne eyes, & haue giuen them vnto me.

16 Am I therefore become your enemie, because I tell you the trueth?

17 They are ielous ouer you [q] amisse, yea, they would exclude you, [r] that ye shoulde altogether loue them.

18 But it is a good thing to loue [s] earnestly alwayes in a good thing, and not only when I am present with you, 19 My little children, of whom I trauaile in birth againe, vntill Christ be formed in you.

20 And I would I were with you nowe, that I might [t] change my voice: for I am in doubt of you.

21 [6] Tell me, ye that [u] will be vnder the Law, doe ye not heare the Lawe?

22 For it is written, that Abraham had two sonnes, ✣ one by a seruant, and ✣ one by a free woman.

23 But he which was of the seruant, was borne after the [x] flesh: and he which was of the free woman, was borne by [y] promise.

24 By the which things another thing is ment: for [z] these mothers are the [a] two testaments, the one which is Agar of mount [b] Sina, which gendreth vnto bondage.

25 (For Agar or Sina is a mountaine in Arabia, and it [c] answereth to Hierusalem which nowe is) and [d] she is in bondage with her children.

26 But Hierusalem, which is [e] aboue, is free: which is the mother of vs all.

27 [7] For it is written, [*] Reioyce thou barren that bearest no children: bring forth, & cry, thou that trauailest not: for the [f] desolate hath many mo children, then she which hath an husband.

28 [x] Therefore, brethren, wee are after the [g] maner of Isaac, children of the [h] promise.

29 But as then hee that was borne after the [i] flesh, persecuted him that was borne after the [k] Spirit, euen so it is nowe.

---

1 Re declareth that by another double similitude, which he said before, cõcerning the keeper and scholemaster: For hee saith, that the Law, (that is, the whole gouernement of Gods house, according to the Law) was as it were a tutour or ouerseer appoynted for a time, vntill such time as that protection and ouerseeing which was but for a time, being ended, we shoulde at length come to be at our owne libertie, and should line as childrẽ, and not as seruants. Moreouer, hee sheweth by the way, that that gouernance of the Law, was as it were an A.B.C and as certaine principles, in comparison of the doctrine of the Gospel.

a This is added, because he that is alwayes vnder a tutor and gouernour, may hardly bee counted a freeman.

b The Law is called rudiments, because that by the Lawe God instructed his Church as it were by rudiments, and afterward powred out his holy Spirit most plentifully in the time of the Gospel.

2 He vttereth and declareth many things at once, to wit, that this tutorship was ended at his time, that curious men may leaue to aske, why that scholemastership lasted so long. And more ouer, that we are not sonnes by nature, but by adoption, & that in that Sonne of God, who therefore tooke vpon him our flesh, that we might be made his brethren.

c The time is sayde to be full, when all partes of it are past & ended, and therefore Christ couldе not haue come either sooner or later.

d Hee calleth Marie a woman, in respect of the sexe, and not as the worde is vsed in a contrary sense to a virgine, for she remained a virgine still. ✣ Rom.8.15.

e The adoption of the sonnes of God, is from euerlasting, but is reuealed & shewed in the time appoynted for it.

3 He sheweth that we are in such sort free & set at libertie, that in the meane season we must be gouerned by the Spirit of Christ, which reigning in our hearts, may teach vs ✣ true seruice of the Father. But this is not to serue, but rather to enioy true libertie, as it becommeth sonnes and heires.

f By that that followeth he gathereth that that went before: for if we haue his Spirit, we are his sonnes, & if we are his sonnes, then are we free.

g The holy Ghost, who is both of the Father & of the Sonne: but there is a peculiar reason why he is called the Spirit of the Sonne, to wit, because the holy Ghost sealeth vp our adoption in Christ, & maketh vs a full assurance of it.

h The word seruant, is not taken here for one that liueth in sinne, which is proper to the infidels, but for one that is yet vnder the ceremonies of the Law, which is proper to the Iewes.

i Partaker of this blessing. 4 He applieth the former doctrine to the Galatians, with a peculiar reprehension: for in comparison of them, the Iewes might haue pretended some excuse as men ✣ were borne and brought vp in that seruice of the Law. But seeing ✣ Galatians were taken & called out of idolatry to Christian libertie, what pretence might they haue to go backe to those impotent & beggerly rudiments?

k They are called impotent & beggerly ceremonies, being considered apart by themselues without Christ: & againe, for that by that weakes they are good testimony that they were beggers in Christ, when as notwithstanding, for men to fall backe from Christ to ceremonies, is nothing els, but to cast away riches, and to follow beggerie.

l By going backward. 5 He mitigateth & qualifieth those things wherin he might haue seemed to haue spoken somewhat sharply, very artificiously & diuinely, declaring his good wil towards them in such sort, that the Galatians could not but either be vtterly desperat when they reade these things, or acknowledge their owne lightnes with teares, & desire pardon.

m Many infirmities. n Those daily troubles wherewith the Lord tried me among ſt you.

o For my ministeries sake.

p What a talke was there abroade in the worlde amongſt men, how happie you were?

q For they are iealous ouer you for their owne commoditie.

r That they may conuey all your loue from me, to themselues.

s Hee setteth his owne true & good loue which was earnestly bent towards them, against the naughtie vicious loue of the false apostles.

t Vse other word among you.

6 Because the false apostles alwayes vrged this, that vnlesse the Gentiles were circumcised, Christ could profit them nothing at all, and this dissension of them which beleeued of the circumcision, against them which beleeued of the vncircumcision, was ful of offence; the Apostle, after diuers arguments whereby he hath refuted their error, bringeth foorth an allegorie, wherein he sayeth the holy Ghost did shadow out vnto vs, all these mysteries: to wit, that it should come to passe, that two sorts of sonnes should haue Abraham a father common to them both, but not with like succesſe: for as Abraham begate Ismael, by the common course of nature, of Agar his bond maid, & a stranger, and begate Isaac of Sara a free woman by the vertue of the promise and by grace onely, and the first was not onely not heire, but also persecuted the heire: So there are two couenants, and as it were two sonnes borne to Abraham of these two couenants, as it were of two mothers. The one was made in Sina, without the land of promise, according to which couenant Abrahams children according to the flesh were begotten: to wit, the Iewes, which seeke righteousnesse by that couenant, that is, by the Law: but they are not heires, nay they shall at length be cast out of the house, as they that persecute the true heires. The other was made in that high Hierusalem, or in Sion, (to wit, by the sacrifice of Christ) which begetteth children of promise, to wit, beleeuers, by the vertue of the holy Ghost, which children (as Abraham) doe rest themselues in the free promise, and they onely by the right of children shalbe partakers of ✣ fathers inheritance, and those seruants shall be shut out.

u That desire so greatly. ✣ Gen.16.15. ✣ Gen.21.1.

x As all men are, and by the common course of nature.

y By vertue of the promise, which Abraham laid holde on for himselfe and his true seede, for otherwise Abraham and Sara were past begetting & bearing children.

z These do represent & shadow forth.

a They are called two couenants, one of the olde Testament, and another of the New, which were not two in deede, but in respect of the times, and the diuersitie of the gouernement.

b He maketh mention of Sina, because that couenant was made in that mountaine, of which mountaine Agar was a shadowe.

c Looke how the cast standeth betwixt Agar and her children, euen so standeth it betweene Ierusalem and hers.

d That is, Sina. e Which is excellent, and of great accompt. 7 He sheweth that in this allegorie, hee hath followed the steppes of Esay, who foretolde that the Church should bee made and consist of the children of barren Sara, that is to say, of them which onely spiritually should be made Abrahams children by faith, rather then of fruitfull Agar, euen then foreshewing the casting off of the Iewes, and calling of the Gentiles.

* Esa.54.1. f Shee that is destroyed and wasted.

x Rom.8.9. g After the manner of Isaac, who is the first begotten of the heauenly Hierusalem, as Ismael is of the slauish Synagogue. h That seede, vnto which the promise belongeth. i By the common course of nature. k By the vertue of Gods promise and after a spirituall manner.

30 But what saith the Scripture? ✣ Put out the seruant and her sonne: for the sonne of the seruant shall not be heire with the sonne of the free woman.

31 So then brethren, we are not children of the seruant, but of the free woman.

✣ Gene. 21. 10.

§ The conclusion of the former allegorie, that we by no meanes procure and call backe againe the slauerie of the Lawe, seeing that the children of the bondmayd shal not be heires.

CHAP. V.

1 Hauing declared that wee came of the free woman, hee sheweth the price of that freedome, 13 and howe wee should vse the same, 16 that we may obey the Spirit, 19 and resist the flesh.

STand fast therefore in the libertie wherewith Christ hath made vs free, and be not intangled againe with the yoke of bondage.

1 An other obiection wherein he plainely witnesseth that iustification of workes, and iustification of faith cannot stand together, because no man can be iustified by the Law, but he that doeth fully and perfectly fulfill it. And hee taketh the example of circumcision, because it was the ground of all the seruice of the Lawe, and was chiefly vrged of the false apostles.

2 1 ✣ Beholde, I Paul say vnto you, that if ye be a circumcised, Christ shall profite you nothing.

3 For I testifie againe to euery man, which is circumcised, that he is bound to keepe the whole Lawe.

4 Ye are b abolished from Christ: whosoeuer are c iustified by the Lawe, ye are fallen from grace.

5 2 For wee through the d Spirit waite for the hope of righteousnes through faith.

6 3 For in Iesus Christ neither circumcision auaileth any thing, neither 4 vncircumcision, 5 but e faith which worketh by loue.

7 6 Ye did runne well: who did let you, that ye did not obey the trueth?

8 7 It is not the perswasion of f him that calleth you.

9 ✣ 8 A little leauen doeth leauen the whole lumpe.

10 9 I haue trust in you through the Lorde, that ye wil be none otherwise minded: but he that troubleth you, shall beare his condemnation, whosoeuer he be.

11 10 And brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why doe I yet suffer persecution? Then is the slaunder of the crosse abolished.

12 11 Would to God they were euen cut off, which doe g disquiet you.

13 For brethren, yee haue bene called vnto libertie: 12 onely vse not your libertie as an occasion vnto the flesh, but by loue serue one another.

14 13 For h all § Law is fulfilled in one word, which is this, ✣ Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

15 14 If ye bite and deuoure one another, take heede least ye be consumed one of another.

16 15 Then I say, ✣ Walke in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lustes of the flesh.

17 For the i flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary one to another, so that yee can not doe the same things that ye would.

18 And if yee be led by the Spirit, yee are not vnder the Lawe.

19 16 Moreouer the workes of the flesh are manifest, which are adulterie, fornication, vncleannes, wantonnes,

20 Idolatrie, witchcraft, hatred, debate, emulations, wrath, contentions, seditions, heresies, 21 Enuie, murthers, drunkennesse, gluttonie, and such like, whereof I tell you before, as I also haue tolde you before, that they which doe such things, shall not inherite the kingdome of God.

22 But the k fruite of the Spirit is loue, ioye, peace, long suffering, gentlenes, goodnes, faith, 23 Meekenes, temperancie: 17 against such there is no lawe.

24 For they that are Christs, haue crucified the flesh with the affections and the lustes.

25 If we l liue in the Spirit, let vs also walke in the Spirit.

26 18 Let vs not be desirous of vaine glorie, prouoking one another, enuying one another.

CHAP. VI.

1 Nowe hee entreateth particularly of charitie towards such as offende, 6 towarde the Ministers of the worde, 11 and those that are of the housholde of faith: 12 Nos like vnto such who haue a counterfeite zeale of the Lawe, 13 glorying in the mayming of the flesh; 14 and not in the crosse of Christ.

BRethren, 1 if a man be 2 suddenly taken in any offence, ye which are b spirituall, c restore such one with the d spirit of meekenesse, 3 considering thy selfe, least thou also be tempted.

a The third part of this Epistle, shewing that the right vse of Christian libertie consisteth in this, that being deliuered and set at libertie from the slauerie of sinne and the flesh, and being obedient to the Spirit, wee should serue vnto one an others saluation through loue.

13 He preposterously deuideth the loue of our neighbour, as a marke whereunto all Christians ought to referre all their actions, and therevnto he citeth the testimonie of the Lawe.

b This particle (All) must be referred to the second table.

✣ Leuit. 19. 18. matth. 22. 39. marc. 12. 31. rom. 13. 9. iames 2. 8.

14 An exhortation to the duetie of charitie, by the profite that ensueth thereof, because that no man can prouide wants for themselues, but they that haue one another.

15 He acknowledgeth the great weakenesse of the godly, for that they are but in part regenerate: but hee willeth them to remember that they are indued with the Spirit of God, which hath deliuered them from the slauerie of sinne, and so of the Law, so farre foorth as it is the vertue of sinne, § they should not giue themselues to lustes. ✣ Rom. 13. 14. 1 pet. 2. 11.

i For the flesh dwelleth euen in the regenerate men, but the Spirite reigneth, although not without great strife, as is largely set forth, Rom. 7.

16 Hee setteth out that particularly, which he spake generally, reckoning vp some chiefe effects of the flesh, & opposing them to the fruites of the Spirit, that no man may pretend ignorance. k Therefore they are not the fruites of free will, but so farre forth as our will is made free by grace.

17 Least § any man should obiect, that Paul played the Sophister, as one who vrging the Spirit, vrgeth nothing but that which the law commandeth, he sheweth that hee requireth not that literall and outward obedience, but spirituall, which proceedeth not from the Law, but from the Spirit of Christ, which doeth beget vs againe, & must and ought to be the ruler and guider of our life. l If we be in deede endued with the quickening Spirit, which causeth vs to die to sinne, and liue to God, let vs shewe it in our deedes. That is, by bridling the flesh.

18 Hee addeth peculiar exhortations according as hee knewe the Galatians subiect to diuers vices: and first of all hee warneth them to take heede of ambition, which vice hath two fellowes, backbiting and enuie, out of which two it cannot be but many contentions must needes rise.

1 Hee teacheth particularly how we should behaue our selues towards our brethren, which are ouertaken with any sinne, and how we should beare their infirmities.

a Through the malice of the flesh and thirtenell. b Which are exploited by the worme of Gods Spirit in the Elect men. c Labour to fit vp that that is wanting in him. d This is a kinde of speach which the Hebrewes vse, giuing an vnder signification thereby, that all good gifts come from God. e He teacheth, that the faults of other men are to be borne withall, which suffer their owne infirmities.

2 That is, as he himselfe expounded it afterwards, ye are fallen from grace. c That is, seeke to be iustified by the Lawe, for in deede no man is iustified by the Lawe. 2 He priuily compareth the new people with the olde: for it is certaine that they also did ground all their hope of iustification and life in faith and not in circumcision, but so, that their faith was wrapped in the externall and ceremoniall worship: but our faith is bare and content with spirituall worship. d Through the Spirit, which ingendreth faith. 3 He addeth a reason, for that nowe, circumcision is abolished, seeing that Christ is exhibited vnto vs with full plentie of spirituall circumcision. 4 He maketh mention also of vncircumcision, least the Gentiles should please themselues in it, as the Iewes doe in circumcision. 5 The taking away of an obiection: if all that worship of the Law be taken away, wherein then shall we exercise our selues? In charitie, saith Paul: he saith, whereof we speake, cannot be idle, nay it bringeth foorth dayly fruites of charitie. e So is true faith distinguished from counterfeit faith: for charitie is not ioyned with faith as a fellow helper, to helpe forward our iustification with faith. 6 Againe he chideth the Galatians but with an admiration, and therewithall a praise of their former race, to the end § he may make them more ashamed. 7 He playeth the part of an Apostle with them & vseth his authoritie, denying that that doctrine can come from God, which is contrary to his. f Of God. ✣ 2. Cor. 5. 6. § He addeth this, that he may not seeme to contend vpon a trifle, warning them diligently (by a similitude which he borroweth of leuen, as Christ himselfe also did) not to suffer the puritie of the Apostolicall doctrine, to be infected with the least corruption that may be. 9 He mitigateth the former reprehension, casting the fault vpon the false apostles, against whome hee denounceth the horrible indgements of God. 10 He willeth them to consider how that he seeketh not his owne profite in this matter, seeing that he could eschewe the hatred of men, if he would yeelde and giue ouer with Christianitie. 11 An example of a true Pastour inflamed with the zeale of Gods glorie and loue of his flocke. g For they shal preach in the Lawe, cause many offences alwayes to trouble.

2 3 Beare ye one anothers burden, and so fulfill the [a] Lawe of Christ.

3 For if any man seeme to himselfe, that he is somewhat, when he is nothing, he deceiueth himselfe in his imagination.

4 But let euery man proue his owne worke: and then shal he haue reioycing in himselfe onely and not in another.

5 ✣ 4 For euery man shall beare his owne burden.

6 5 Let him that is taught in the worde, make him that hath taught him, partaker of [f] all his ✣ goods.

7 [6] Be not deceiued: God is not mocked: for whatsoeuer a man soweth, that shall hee also reape.

8 For hee that soweth to his [g] flesh, shall of the flesh reape corruption: but hee that soweth to the spirite, shall of the spirit reape life euerlasting.

9 [7] 7 Let vs not therefore be weary of well doing: for in due season wee shall reape, if wee faint not.

10 8 While we haue therefore time, let vs doe good vnto all men, but specially vnto them, which are of the houshold of faith.

11 ¶ Ye see how large a letter I haue written vnto you with mine owne hand.

12 As many as desire to make a [h] faire shewe in the flesh, they constraine you to be circumcised, only because they would not suffer persecution for the [k] crosse of Christ.

13 For they themselues which are circumcised keepe not the law, but desire to haue you circumcised, that they might reioyce in [l] your flesh.

14 [10] But God forbid ✣ I should [m] reioyce, but in the crosse of our Lord Iesus Christ, whereby the world is crucified vnto me, & I vnto the world.

15 For in Christ Iesus neither circumcision auaileth any thing, nor vncircumcision, but a newe creature.

16 And as many as walke according to this rule, peace shalbe vpon them, and mercy, and vpon the [n] Israel of God.

17 [11] From henceforth let no man put mee to busines: for I beare in my body the [o] markes of the [p] Lord Iesus.

18 [12] Brethren, the grace of our Lorde Iesus Christ be with your [q] spirit, Amen.

f Of whatsoeuer he hath, according to his ability. ✣ 1.Cor.9.7. 6 He commendeth liberalitie towards the poore, and first of all chideth them which were not ashamed to pretend this & that, & all because they would not helpe their neighbours as though they could deceiue God: and afterward compareth almes to a spirituall sowing which shal haue a most plentifull haruest, so that it shalbe very profitable: and compareth couetous nigardlines to a carnall sowing, whereof nothing can be gathered but such things as fade away and perish by and by. g To the commodities of this presente life. [7] 2.Thess 3.13. 7 Against such as are liberall at the beginning but continue not, because the harueste seemeth to be deferred very long, as though the seede time and the harueste were at one instant. 8 They that are of the houshold of faith, that is, such as are ioyned with vs in the profession of one selfe same religion, ought to be preferred before all other, yet so notwithstanding that our liberalitie extend to all.

9 The fourth and last part of the Epistle, wherein he returneth to his principall end and purpose: to wit, that the Galatians should not suffer themselues to be led out of the way by the false apostles: and he painteth out those false apostles in their colours, reproueth them of ambition, as men that do not that which they do, for any affectiō & zeale they haue to the Law, but only for this purpose, that they may purchase themselues fauour amongst their owne sort, by the circumcision of the Galatians. h He setteth a faire shewe against the trueth. i In keeping of ceremonies. k For the preaching of him that was crucified. l That they haue entangled you in Iudaisme, and yet he hangeth on the forme of circumcision. 10 He sticketh not to compare himselfe with them, shewing that only contrary part he reioyceth in those afflictions which he suffereth for Christs sake, & as he is despised of the world, so doeth he in like sort esteeme the world as nought: which is the true circumcision of a true Israelite. m Where Paul vseth this word in good sense or part, it signifieth to rest a mans selfe wholy on a thing, and to content himselfe therewith. n Vpon the true Israel, whose praise is of God, & not of men, Rom.2.29. 11 Continuing still in the same metaphore, he opposeth his miseries and the markes of those stripes which he bare for Christs sake, against the scar of the outward Circumcision, as a true marke of his Apostleship. o Markes which are burnt into a mans flesh, as they vsed in old time, to marke their seruants that had runne away from them. p For he imputeth much, whose markes we beare: for the cause maketh the Martyr, & not the punishment. 12 Taking his farewel of them, he wisheth them grace, & the Spirit against the deceits of the false apostles, which laboured to beat those outward things into their brains. q With your mindes and hearts.

THE EPISTLE OF PAVL TO THE EPHESIANS.

CHAP. I.

1 After the salutation, 4 he entreateth of the free election of God, 5 and adoption, 7. 13 from whence mans saluation floweth, as from the true and natural fountaine: and because so high a mysterie can not be vnderstood, 16 he prayeth that the full knowledge of Christ may by God be reuealed vnto the Ephesians.

PAVL [1] an Apostle of IESVS CHRIST by the will of God, to the ✣ Saints, which are at Ephesus, and to [y] [a] faithfull in Christ Iesus:

2 Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, & from the Lord Iesus Christ.

3 ✣ [2] Blessed be God, 3 and the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which hath blessed vs with all spirituall blessing in [c] heauenly things in [5] Christ,

4 [6] As he hath chosen vs in [d] him, before the foundation of the world, 7 that wee [e] should [f] be holy, and without blame [g] before him in loue:

5 8 Who hath predestinate vs, to be adopted through Iesus Christ [h] in himselfe, according to the good pleasure of his will,

6 9 To the [i] prayse of the glory of his grace, 10 wherewith he hath made vs freely accepted in his beloued,

7 [11] By whome we haue redemption through his blood, euen the forgiuenes of sinnes, accor-

1 The inscription and salutation, whereof we haue spoken in the former Epistles. ✣ 1.Cor.1.2. a This is the diuision of the Saints, shewing what they are. ✣ 1.Corinth.1.3. 1.pet.1.3.

2 The first part of the Epistle, wherein he handleth all the parts of our salutation, propounding the example of the Ephesians, and vsing diuers exhortations, and beginning after his manner with thanksgiuing. 3 The efficient cause of our saluation is God, not considered confusedly and generally, but as the Father of our Lorde Iesus Christ. 4 The next finall cause, and in respect of vs, is our saluation, all things being bestowed vpon vs which are necessary to our saluation, which kinde of blessing is heauenly and proper to the elect. b With all kinde of gratious and bountifull goodnes: which is heauenly in deede and from God only. c Which God our Father gaue vs from his high throne from aboue: or because the Saints haue those gifts bestowed on them, which belong properly to the citizens of Heauen. 5 The matter of our saluation is Christ, in whome only we are blessed with spirituall blessing and vnto saluation.

6 Hee declareth the efficient cause, or by what meanes God the Father laueth vs in his Sonne: Because sayth he, he chose vs from euerlasting in his Sonne. d To be adopted in him. 7 He expoundeth the next finall cause, which he maketh double, to wit, sanctification, and iustification, whereof he will speake hereafter. And hereby also two things are to be noted, to wit, that holines of life cannot be separate from the grace of election: and againe, what pureness soeuer is in vs, is the gift of God who hath freely of his mercy chosen vs. e Then God did not chuse vs, because we were, or otherwise should haue beene holy, but to the end we should be holy. f Being clothed with Christs righteousnes. g Truely, and sincerely. 8 Another plaine exposition of the efficient cause, & also of eternal election, whereby God is said to haue chosen vs in Christ, to wit, because it pleased him to appoint vs out when we were not yet borne whome he would make to be his children by Iesus Christ: so that there is no reason here of our election to be sought, but in the free mercy of God, neither is faith which God foresaw, the cause of predestination, but the effect. d God respecteth nothing, either that present is, or that is to come, but himself only. 9 The vttermost and chiefest finall cause is the glory of God the Father, who loueth vs freely in his Sonne. i That as his bountifull goodnes deserueth all prayse, so also it should be set forth and published. 10 An other finall cause more neere, in our iustification, while that he freely accounteth vs for iust, in his Sonne. 11 An expounding of the materiall cause, how we are made acceptable to God in Christ, for it is to wit, by whose sacrifice by the mercy of God is imputed vnto vs the forgiuenesse of sinnes.

8 12k Whereby he hath bene aboundant toward vs in l all wisedome and vnderstanding,

9 And hath opened vnto vs the m mysterie of his will 13 according to his good pleasure, which he hath purposed in him,

15 17 Therefore also after that I heard of the faith, which ye haue in the Lorde Iesus, and loue toward all the Saints,

16 I cease not to giue thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers,

17 18 That the God of our Lord Iesus Christ, that Father of y glory, might giue vnto you the Spirite of wisedome, and reuelation through the z acknowledging of him,

18 That the eyes of your vnderstanding may be lightned, that ye may knowe what the a hope is of his calling, and what the riches of his glorious inheritance is in the Saints,

19 19 And what is the exceeding greatnes of his power toward vs, which beleeue, ✣according to the working of his mighty power,

20 20 Which he wrought in Christ, when hee raised him from the dead, and set him at his b right hand in the heauenly places,

21 Farre aboue all principalitie, & power, and might, and domination, and euery c Name, that is named, not in this world only, but also in that that is to come,

22 21 And hath made all things subiect vnder his feete, and hath giuen him ouer all things to be the d head to the Church, 23 Which is his body, euen the e fulnesse of him that filleth all in all things.

---

12 Now he commeth at length to the formal cause, that is to say, to vocation or preaching of the Gospel, whereby God executeth that eternall counsell of our free reconciliation and saluation in Christ. And putting in place of the Gospel all wisedome and vnderstanding, he sheweth howe excellent it is.

k By which gracious goodnesse and bountifulnesse.

l In perfite and sound wisedome.

m For vnlesse the Lord had opened vnto vs that mysterie, we could neuer haue so much as dreamed of it our selues.

13 Not onely the election, but also the vocation proceedeth of meere grace.

14 The Father exhibited and gaue Christ, who is the head of all the elect vnto the worlde, at that time which was conuenient, according as he most wisely disposed all times from euerlasting. And Christ is hee, in whome all the elect from the beginning of the worlde, (otherwise wandering and separated from God) are gathered together: of which some were then in heauen, when he came into the earth, (to wit, such as by faith in him to come, were gathered together) and other being founde vpon the earth were gathered together of him, and the rest are daily gathered together.

n The faithfull are sayde to bee gathered together in Christ, because they are ioyned together with him through faith, and become as it were one man.

15 He applieth seuerally the benefite of vocation to the beleeuing Iewes, going backe to the very fountaine, that euen they also may not attribute their saluation, neither to themselues, nor to their stocke, nor to any other thing, but to the onely grace and mercie of God, both because they were called, and also because they were first called.

o All things are attributed to the grace of God without exception, and yet for all that, we are not stockes, for hee giueth vs grace both to will and to be able to doe those things that are good. Philippi. 2. 13.

p He speaketh of the Iewes.

16 Nowe he maketh the Ephesians (or rather all the Gentiles) equall to the Iewes, because that notwithstanding they came last, yet being called by the same Gospel, they imbraced it by faith, and were sealed vp with the same spirit, which is the pledge of election, vntill the inheritance it selfe bee seene, that in them also the glorie of God might shine forth, and be manifested.

q That worde which is trueth in deede, because it commeth from God.

r This is a borowed kinde of speach taken of a seale, which being put to any thing, maketh a difference betweene those things that are sacramentall, and others that are not.

ſ With that spirit, which bringeth not the Lawe, but the promise of free adoption.

t Full and perfect.

17 He returneth to the former gratulation, concluding two things together of those things that went before: the first is, that all good things come to vs from God the Father in Christ, and by Christ, that for them he may be praysed of vs. The second is, that all those things (which he bringeth to two heades, to wit, faith and charitie) are increased in vs by sundrie degrees, so that we must desire ouerase of his grace, from whom we haue the beginning, and of whome wee hope for the ende.

18 The causes of faith, are God the Father lightning our mindes with his holy Spirit, that we may embrace Christ opened vnto vs in the Gospel, to the obteyning of euerlasting life, and the setting foorth of Gods glorie.

u Full of maiestie.

x For it is not enough for vs to haue knowen God once, but we must know him euery day more and more.

y What blessings they are which he calleth vs to hope for whom he calleth to Christ.

19 The excellencie of faith is declared by the effects, because the mighty power of God is so great and shewed therein.

20 The Apostle willeth to behold in our most glorious Christ with the eyes of faith, that most excellent glorie and glorie of God, wherein all the faithfull are partakers, although it bee as yet very darke in vs, by reason of the ignominie of the crosse and the weakeneſse of the flesh.

z To be set on Gods right hande, is to bee partaker of the soueraintie which he hath ouer all creatures.

a Euery thing whatsoeuer it bee, or aboue all things be they of neuer such power or excellencie.

21 That we shoulde not thinke that that excellent glorie of Christ is a thing wherewith wee haue nought to doe, he witnesseth, that hee was appointed of God the Father head of all the Church, and therefore the body must be ioyned to this head which otherwise should bee a maymed thing without the members: which notwithstanding is not of necessitie (seeing that the Church is rather quickened and sustained by the onely vertue of Christ, so farre off is it, that he needeth the fulnesse thereof) but of the infinite good will and pleasure of God, who vouchsafeth to ioyne vs to his Sonne.

b Insomuch that there is nothing but is subiect to him.

c For the loue of Christ is so great towardes the Church, that though hee doe fully fulfilde all with all things, yet he esteemeth himselfe but a maymed and vnperfect head, vnles he haue the Church ioyned to him as his bodie.

CHAP. II.

1 The better to set out the grace of Christ, hee vseth a comparison, calling them to minde, 5 that they were altogether castawayes and aliantes, 8 that they are saued by grace, 13 and brought nere, 16 by reconciliation through Christ, 17 published by the Gospel.

AND 1 ✣you hath he quickened, that were a dead in b trespasses and sinnes,

2 3 Wherin, in times past ye walked, 4 according to the course of this world, and b after the prince that ruleth in the aire, euen the spirit, that nowe 5 worketh in the c children of disobedience,

3 6 Among whom we also had our conuersatiō in time past in the lusts of our d flesh, in fulfilling the will of the flesh, and of the mind, & 7 were by nature the e children of wrath, as wel as f others.

4 8 But God which is rich in mercie, through his great loue wherewith he loued vs,

5 Euen when wee were dead by sinnes, hath quickened vs together in Christ, by whose grace ye are saued,

6 And hath raised vs vp g together, and made vs sit together in the heauenly places in Christ Iesus,

---

1 Hee declareth againe the greatnes of Gods good will, by comparing that miserable state wherein we are borne, with that dignitie whereunto wee are aduanced by God the Father in Christ. So that he describeth that condition in such sort that he sheweth faith, that touching spirituall motions we are not onely borne halfe dead, but wholly and altogether dead.

✣ Col. 2. 13.

a Looke Rom. 6. 2. So then he calleth them dead, which are not regenerate: for as the immortalitie of them which are damned, is no life, so this knitting together of body and soule, is properly no life, but death in them which are not ruled by the Spirit of God.

2 He sheweth the cause of death, to wit, sinnes.

3 He proueth by the effects that all were spiritually dead.

4 He proueth this euill to be vniuersall, in so much as all are slaues of Satan.

b As the pleasure of the prince.

5 Men are therefore slaues to Satan, because they are willingly rebellious against God.

c They are called the children of disobedience, which are giuen to disobedience.

6 After that hee hath generally condemned the Gentiles, he confesseth that the Iewes amongst whom he nombreth himselfe, are not a whit better.

d By the name of flesh in the first place, he meaneth the whole man, which he deuideth into two parts: into the flesh, which is the part that the Philosophers terme without reason, and into the thought, which they call reasonable, so that he leaueth nothing in men halfe dead, but concludeth that the whole man is of nature the seruice of wrath.

7 The conclusion: All men are borne subiect to the wrath and curse of God.

e Men are said to be the children of wrath passiuely, that is to say, guiltie of euerlasting death by the iudgement of God, who is angrie with them.

f Prophane people which knew not God.

8 Nowe here of followeth another member of the comparison, declaring our excellencie, to wit, that by the vertue of Christ we are deliuered from that death, and made partakers of spirituall life, to the ende that at length wee may reigne with him. And by diuers and sundrie meanes he beateth this into their heads, that the efficient cause of this benefite is the free mercie of God: and Christ himself in the materiall cause: and faith is the instrument, which also is the free gift of God: and the end is Gods glory.

g To be made vp afterwards, in Christ, for as yet this is not fulfilled in vs, but only in our head, by whose spirit we haue begunne to rise vp to newe life to God: vntil that worke be fully brought to an ende: but we are as sure of that we looke for, as we are of that we haue receiued already.

7 That hee might shewe in the ages to come the exceeding riches of his grace through his kindnesse toward vs in Christ Iesus,

8 For by [b] grace are yee saued through faith, and that not of your selues: it is the gift of God,

9 [9] Not of works, least any man should boast himselfe.

10 For we are [i] his workemanship created in Christ Iesus vnto good workes, which God hath ordeined, that we should walke in them.

11 [10] Wherefore remember that yee being in time past Gentiles in the flesh, and [k] called vncircumcision of them, which are [l] called circumcision in the flesh made with hands, 12 That ye were, I say, at that time [m] without Christ, & were [n] aliants from the common wealth of Israel, and were strangers from the couenants of promise, and had no hope, and were without God in the world.

13 [11] But nowe in Christ Iesus, ye which once were farre off, are made neere by the blood of Christ.

14 [12] For he is our peace, which hath made of both one, and hath broken the stoppe of the partition wall,

15 ✣ In abrogating through his flesh, the hatred, that is, the Lawe of commandements which standeth in ordinances, for to make of twaine one newe man in himselfe, so making peace,

16 And [o] that he might reconcile both vnto God in one body by his crosse, & [p] slay hatred therby, 17 [13] And came, and preached peace to you which were a farre off, and to them [q] were neere.

18 For [q] through him wee both haue an entrance vnto the Father by one Spirit.

19 [14] Nowe therefore yee are no more strangers and forreiners: but citizens with the Saints, and of the household of God,

20 [15] And are built vpon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, Iesus Christ himselfe being the [r] chiefe corner stone, 21 In whom all the building [s] coupled together, groweth vnto an holy Temple in the Lord.

22 In whome ye also are built together to bee the habitation of God by the Spirit.

h So then, Grace, that is to say, the gift of God, and faith, doe stand one with another, to which two theefe are contrary, To be saued by our selues, or by our works. Therfore what meane they which would ioyne together things of so contrarie nature?

9 He taketh away expressely and namely from our workes the praise of iustification, seeing that the good workes themselues are the effectes of grace in vs.

10 He speaketh here of Grace, and not of nature: therefore be the workes neuer so good, looke what they are, they are it of grace.

10 Applying the former doctrine to the Gentiles, he sheweth that they were not only as the Iewes, by nature, but also after an especiall sort, strangers and without God: and therefore they ought so much the rather remember that same so great a benefit of God.

k You were called no otherwise then Gentiles, that all the world might witnesse of your vncleannesse.

l Of the Iewes which were known from you by the marke of circumcision, the marke of the couenant.

m He beginneth first with Christ, who was the end of all the promises.

n You had no right or title to the common wealth of Israel.

✣ Rom. 9. 4.

11 Christ is the onely bonde of the Iewes and Gentiles, wherby they be reconciled to God.

12 As by the ceremonies and worship appointed by the Lawe, the Iewes were diuided from the Gentiles, so now Christ, hauing broken downe the partition wall, ioyneth them both together, both in himselfe, and betwixt themselues, and to God. Whereby it followeth, that whosoeuer establisheth the ceremonies of the Lawe, maketh the grace of Christ vayde and of none effect.

✣ Col. 2. 14.

o He alludeth to the sacrifices of the Lawe, which represented that true and onely sacrifice.

p For he destroyed death by death, and suffered it as it were to the Crosse.

13 The preaching of the Gospel is an effectuall instrument of this grace, common as well to the Iewes as to the Gentiles.

q Christ is the gate as it were, by whom we come to the Father, and the holy Ghost is as it were our lodesman who leadeth vs.

14 The conclusion: The Gentiles are taken into the fellowship of saluation. And hee describeth the excellentie of the Church, calling it the citie and house of God.

15 The Lord committed the doctrine of saluation, first to the Prophets, & then to the Apostles, the ende whereof, and matter as it were and substance, is Christ. Therefore that is in deede the true and Catholike Church, which is builded vpon Christ by the Prophets and Apostles, as a spirituall temple consecrated to God.

r That is the head of the building, for the foundations are as it were the heads of the buildings.

s So that God is the workeman not only of the foundation, but also of the whole building.

CHAP. III.

1 He declareth that therefore he suffered many things of the Iewes, 3 because hee preached the mysteria touching the saluation of the Gentiles. 8 As God commaundement. 13 After he desired the Ephesians not to faint for his afflictions: 14 And for this cause he prayeth vnto God, 18 that they may vnderstand the great loue of Christ.

FOr [1] this cause, I Paul am the [a] prisoner of Iesus Christ for you Gentiles,

2 If ye haue heard of the dispensation of the grace of God, which is giuen me to you warde,

3 That is, that God by reuelation hath shewed this mysterie vnto mee (as I wrote aboue in few wordes,

4 Whereby when yee reade, yee may knowe mine vnderstanding in the mysterie of Christ)

5 Which in [b] other ages was not opened vnto the sonnes of men, as it is nowe reuciled vnto his holy Apostles and Prophets by the Spirit,

6 That the Gentiles should be inheriters also, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the Gospel,

7 Whereof I am made a minister by the gift of the grace of God giuen vnto me through the effectuall working of his power.

8 Euen vnto me the least of all Saintes is this grace giuē, that I should preach among the Gentiles the vnsearchable riches of Christ,

9 And to make cleare vnto all men what the fellowship of the mysterie is, which from the beginning of the world hath bene hid in God, who hath created all things by Iesus Christ,

10 [2] To [y] intent, that now vnto principalities & powers in heauenly places, might be known by the Church the [c] manifold wisedome of God,

11 According to the [d] eternall purpose, which he wrought in Christ Iesus our Lord:

12 By whom we haue boldnesse and entrance with confidence, by faith in him.

13 Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulations for your sakes, which is your glory.

14 [3] For this cause I bow my knees vnto the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ,

15 (Of whom [z] is named the whole [e] family in heauen and in earth)

16 That he might graunt you according to the [f] riches of his glory, that ye may be strengthened by his Spirit in the [g] inner man,

17 That Christ may dwell in your heartes by faith:

18 That yee, beeing rooted and grounded in [h] loue, may be able to cōprehend with all Saints, [i] what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height:

19 And to knowe the [k] loue of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that yee may bee filled with [l] all fulnesse of God.

20 [4] Vnto him therfore that is able to do exceeding aboundantly aboue all that wee aske or thinke, according to the power [y] worketh in vs, 21 Be prayse in the Church by Christ Iesus, throughout all generations for euer, Amen.

1 He maintaineth his Apostleship against the offence of the crosse, whereon also he taketh an argument to confirme himselfe, affirming that he was not onely appointed an Apostle by the mercy of God, but was also particularly appoynted to the Gentiles, to call them on euery side to saluation because God had so determined it from the beginning, although he deferred a great while the manifestation of that his counsell.

a These words, the prisoner of Iesus Christ, are taken passiuely, that is to say, I Paul am cast into prison for maintaining the glory of Christ.

b He meaneth not that none knew the calling of the Gentiles before, but because very fewe knewe of it, and they that did knowe it, as the Prophets, had it reuciled vnto them very darkely, and vnder figures.

2 The vnlooked for calling of the Gentiles, was as it were a glasse to the heauenly Angels, wherein they might behold the marueilous wisedome of God.

c God neuer had but one way onely, to saue men by: but it had diuers fashions and formes.

d Which was before all beginning.

3 He teacheth by his owne example, that the efficacie of the doctrine dependeth vpon the grace of God, and therefore wee ought to ioyne prayers with the preaching and hearing of the worde: which are needefull not onely to them which are younglings in religion, but euen to the oldest also, that they growing vp more and more by faith in Christ, being confirmed with all spirituall giftes, may be grounded and rooted in the knowledge of that immeasurable loue, wherwith God the Father hath loued vs in Christ, seeing that the whole fulnesse, wherof part is already received into heauen, and part is yet here on earth, dependeth vpon that adoption of the heauenly Father, in his onely Sonne.

e All that whole people, which hath but one housholde Father, and that is the Church which is adopted in Christ.

f According to the greatnesse of his mercie.

g Looke Rom. 7. 22.

h Wherewith God loueth vs, which is the roote of our election.

i How perfit that worke of Christ is in euery part.

k Which God hath shewed vs in Christ.

l Which passeth all the capacitie of mans wit, to comprehend it fully in his minde: for otherwise who so hath the spirit of God, perceiueth so much (according to the measure that God hath giuen him) as sufficient to saluation.

m So that we haue aboundantly in vs, whatsoeuer things are requisite to make vs perfect with God.

4 He breaketh forth into a thanksgiuing, whereby the Ephesians also may be encouraged to hope for any thing of God.

CHAP.

CHAP. IIII.

These three last chapters containe precepts of maners. 1 He exhorteth them to mutuall loue. 7 Sundry giftes are therefore bestowed of God, 16 that the Church may be built vp. 18 He calleth them from the vanitie of the infidels, 25 from lying, 29 and from filthie talke.

1 An other part of the Epistle, conteining precepts of Christian life. ¶ Summe whereof is this, that euery man behaue himselfe as it is meete for so excellent grace of God.

I Therefore, [1] being prisoner in the Lorde, pray you that yee walke worthie of the [a] vocation whereunto ye are called,

2 [2] With all humblenesse of minde, and meekenesse, with [b] long suffering, supporting one another through loue,

3 [3] Endeuouring to keepe the vnitie of the Spirit in the bond of peace.

4 [4] There is one body, and one Spirit, euen as ye are called in one hope of your vocation.

5 There is one Lord, one Faith, one Baptisme,

6 One God and Father of all, which is [c] aboue all, and [d] through all, and [e] in you all.

7 [5] But vnto euery one of vs is giuen grace, according to the measure of the [f] gift of Christ.

8 Wherfore he saith, Whē he ascēded vp on hie, he led [g] captiuity captiue, & gaue gifts vnto mē.

9 (Now, in that he ascended, what is it but that he had also descended first into the [h] lowest parts of the earth?

10 He that descended, is euen the same that ascended, farre aboue all heauens, that hee might [i] fill [k] all things)

11 [6] He therefore gaue some to be [l] Apostles, and some [m] Prophets, and some [n] Euangelists, and some [o] Pastours, and Teachers,

12 [7] For the repairing of the Saintes, for the worke of the ministerie, and for the edification of the [p] body of Christ,

13 [8] Til we all meete together (in the [q] vnitie of faith and that acknowledging of the Sonne of God) vnto a perfite man, and vnto the measure of the [r] age of the fulnesse of Christ, 14 [9] That wee henceforth be no more children, [10] wauering and caried about with euerie winde of doctrine, by the [s] deceite of men, and [t] w craftines, wherby they lay in wait to deceiue.

15 [11] But let vs folow the trueth in loue, and in al things grow vp into him, which is the head, that is, Christ.

16 By whom all the body being coupled and knit together by euery ioynt, for [x] furniture thereof (according to the [u] effectual power, which is in the measure of euery part) receiueth [x] increase of the body, vnto the edifying of it selfe in [y] loue.

17 [12] This I say therefore and testifie in the Lord, that yee henceforth walke not as [z] other Gentiles walke, in [z] vanitie of their mind,

18 Hauing their vnderstanding darkned, and being strangers from the [a] life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the hardnesse of their heart:

19 Which being [b] past feeling, haue giuen themselues vnto wantonnesse, to worke all vncleannesse, euen with [c] greedinesse.

20 [13] But ye haue not so learned Christ,

21 If so be ye haue heard him, and haue bene taught by him, [d] as the trueth is in Iesus,

22 ✣ That is, that ye cast off, concerning the conuersation in time past, [e] that old man, which is corrupt through the deceiueable lustes,

23 And be renewed in [y] [f] spirit of your mind,

24 And put on [y] newe man, which [g] after God is created vnto [h] righteousnes, & [i] true holinesse.

25 [14] Wherefore cast off lying, and speake euery man trueth vnto his neighbour: for we are members one of another.

26 [15] Be [k] angrie, but sinne not: let not the sunne go downe [l] vpon your wrath, 27 Neither giue place to the deuill.

28 [16] Let him that stole, steale no more: but let him rather labour, and worke with his handes the thing which is [m] good, that hee may haue to giue vnto him that needeth.

29 [17] Let no [n] corrupt cōmunicatiō proceed out of your mouthes: but [y] which is good, to [y] vse of edifying, [y] it may minister [o] grace vnto [y] hearers.

30 [18] And grieue not the holy Spirit of God, between the children of God, & them which are not regenerate. For in these mē al the powers of the mind are corrupted, & their mind is giuen to vanity, & their sēses are darkned with most grosse mistines, & their affections are so accustomed by litle & litle to wickednes, that at length they run headlong into al vnclearnes, being vtterly destitute of al iudgemēt. ✣ Ro 1.21. x If the noblest parts of the soule be corrupt, what is man but corruption only? a Whereby God liueth in them. b Voide of al iudgement. c They striue to passe one another, as though there had bin some gaine to be gotten by it. 13 Here followeth the contrary part touching men which are regenerat by [y] true & liuely knowlege of Christ, which haue other principles of their doings far different, to wit, holy & honest desires, & a mind clearly changed by the vertue of the holy Ghost, frō whence proceed also like effects, as a iust & holy life in deed. d As they haue learned, which acknowledge Christ in deed, & in good earnest. ✣ Col.3.8. e Your selues. f Where there ought to haue bin the greatest force of reason, there is the greatest corruption of al which maketh all things. g After the image of God. h The effect and end of the new creation. i Not fained nor counterfet. 14 He cōmendeth seuerally certaine peculiar Christian vertues, & first of al he requireth truth, (that is to say, sincere maners) condemning all deceit & dissembling, bicause we are borne one for another. 15 He teacheth vs to bridle our anger in such sort, that although it be hote, yet that it breake not out, and [y] it be straitwaies quēched before we sleep, lest Satan taking occasion to giue vs euill counsel through [y] wicked cousseller, destroy vs. k If it so fall out, that you be angry yet sin not: that is, bridle your anger, & do not wickedly put that in execution, which you haue wickedly coceiued. l Let not the night come vpō you in your anger, that is, make an atonement quickly for al matters. 16 He descendeth frō the heart to [y] hands, condemning theft: & because [y] men which giue thēselues to this wicked deed, vse to pretend pouerty, he sheweth [y] labor is a good remedy against pouerty, which God blesseth in such sort, [y] they which labor haue alwaies some ouerplus to helpe other, so far is it frō this, [y] they are constrained to steale other mēs goods. m By laboring in things that are holy, & profitable to his neighbour. 17 He bridleth the tongue also, teaching vs so to tēper our talke, that our hearers minds be not only not destroyed, but also instructed. n Word for word, ratten. o By grace, he meaneth that, wherby men may profit to the going on forward in godlines & loue. 18 A general precept against al excesse of affections which dwel in [y] part of the mind, which they call, Angry, & he setteth against them [y] contrary meanes, in a most vehement preface, how we ought to take heed that we grieue not [y] holy Spirit of God through our immoderatenes and intemperancie, whereby it doth as it were quench it, to the [y] end, to moderate all our affections.

1 By the deceit of those not which are very well practised in decreasing of other.

11 By earnest studie of the truth & loue, we grow vp into Christ: for he (being effectual by [y] ministery of his word, which as the vital spirit doth so quicken the whole body, that it nourisheth all [y] limmes thereof according to the measure and proportion of eche one) quickeneth and cherisheth his Church, which consisteth of diuers functions, as of diuers members, & preserueth [y] proportion of euery one. And therof it followeth [y] neither this body cā liue without Christ, neither can any man grow vp spiritually, which separateth himself from the other members.

n Of Christ, who is mayer of the soule, quickeneth all the members.

x Such increase as is meete the body should haue.

y Charitie is the knitting of the limmes together.

12 He describeth the [y] fruits of christian doctrine, & reasoneth first vpon the principles of maners & actions, setting downe a most graue comparison between the children of God, & them which are not regenerate. For in these mē al the powers of the mind are corrupted, & their mind is giuen to vanity, & their sēses are darkned with most grosse mistines, & their affections are so accustomed by litle & litle to wickednes, that at length they run headlong into al vnclearnes, being vtterly destitute of al iudgemēt. ✣ Ro 1.21. x If the noblest parts of the soule be corrupt, what is man but corruption only? a Whereby God liueth in them. b Voide of al iudgement. c They striue to passe one another, as though there had bin some gaine to be gotten by it. 13 Here followeth the contrary part touching men which are regenerat by [y] true & liuely knowlege of Christ, which haue other principles of their doings far different, to wit, holy & honest desires, & a mind clearly changed by the vertue of the holy Ghost, frō whence proceed also like effects, as a iust & holy life in deed. d As they haue learned, which acknowledge Christ in deed, & in good earnest. ✣ Col.3.8. e Your selues. f Where there ought to haue bin the greatest force of reason, there is the greatest corruption of al which maketh all things. g After the image of God. h The effect and end of the new creation. i Not fained nor counterfet. 14 He cōmendeth seuerally certaine peculiar Christian vertues, & first of al he requireth truth, (that is to say, sincere maners) condemning all deceit & dissembling, bicause we are borne one for another. 15 He teacheth vs to bridle our anger in such sort, that although it be hote, yet that it breake not out, and [y] it be straitwaies quēched before we sleep, lest Satan taking occasion to giue vs euill counsel through [y] wicked cousseller, destroy vs. k If it so fall out, that you be angry yet sin not: that is, bridle your anger, & do not wickedly put that in execution, which you haue wickedly coceiued. l Let not the night come vpō you in your anger, that is, make an atonement quickly for al matters. 16 He descendeth frō the heart to [y] hands, condemning theft: & because [y] men which giue thēselues to this wicked deed, vse to pretend pouerty, he sheweth [y] labor is a good remedy against pouerty, which God blesseth in such sort, [y] they which labor haue alwaies some ouerplus to helpe other, so far is it frō this, [y] they are constrained to steale other mēs goods. m By laboring in things that are holy, & profitable to his neighbour. 17 He bridleth the tongue also, teaching vs so to tēper our talke, that our hearers minds be not only not destroyed, but also instructed. n Word for word, ratten. o By grace, he meaneth that, wherby men may profit to the going on forward in godlines & loue. 18 A general precept against al excesse of affections which dwel in [y] part of the mind, which they call, Angry, & he setteth against them [y] contrary meanes, in a most vehement preface, how we ought to take heed that we grieue not [y] holy Spirit of God through our immoderatenes and intemperancie, whereby it doth as it were quench it, to the [y] end, to moderate all our affections.

f With these vncertaine chances which tosse men to and fro.

by whom ye are sealed vnto ỹ day of redemptiõ.

31 Let all bitternesse, and anger, and wrath, crying, and euill speaking be put away from you, with all maliciousnesse.

32 Be ye curteous one to another, and tender hearted, freely forgiuing one another, [19] euen as God for Christs sake, freely forgaue you.

CHAP. V.

2 Left, in those vices which he reprehended, they should set light by his admonitions, 5 he terrifieth them by denouncing seuere iudgement, 8 and stirreth them forward: 15 Then he descendeth from generall lessons of maners, 21 to the particular duetie of wiues 25 and husbands.

BE yee therefore followers of God, as deare children,

2 ✣ And walke in loue, euen as Christ hath loued vs, and hath giuen himselfe for vs, to be an offering and a sacrifice of a sweet smelling sauour to God.

3 ✣ [1] But fornication, and all vncleannesse, or couetousnes, let it not be once named among you, as it becommeth Saints,

4 Neither filthines, neither fooliſh talking, neither [2] iesting, which are things not comely, but rather giuing of thankes.

5 [2]For this ye know, that no whoremonger, neither vncleane person, nor couetous person, which is an [b]idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdome of Christ, and of God.

6 ∵ Let no man deceiue you with vaine wordes: for, for such things commeth the wrath of God vpon the children of disobedience.

7 [3] Be not therfore companions with them.

8 For ye were once darkenesse, but are nowe [c] light in the Lord: walke as children of light,

9 (For the fruit of the [d] Spirit is in all goodnesse, and righteousnesse, and trueth)

10 Approouing that which is pleasing to the Lord.

11 And haue no felowship with the vnfruitful works of darknes, but euen [e] reproue thẽ rather.

12 For it is shame euen to speake of the things which are done of them in secret.

13 But all things when they are reprooued of the light, are manifest: for it is light that maketh all things manifest.

14 Wherefore [f] hee saieth, Awake thou that sleepest, and stand vp from the [g] dead, and Christ shall giue thee light.

15 [4] Take heede therefore that yee walke circumspectly, not as fooles, but as [h] wise, 16 [h] Redeeming ỹ season: for ỹ [i] daies are euil.

17 ✣ Wherefore, be ye not vnwise, but vnderstand what the wil of the Lord is.

18 [5] And be not drunke with wine, wherein is [k] excesse: but be fulfilled with the Spirit,

19 Speaking vnto your selues in psalmes, and hymnes, and spiritual songs, singing, and making melodie to the Lord in your [l] hearts,

20 Giuing thankes alwayes for al things vnto God euen the Father, in the name of our Lord Iesus Christ, 21 [6] Submitting your selues one to an other in the feare of God.

22 ¶ ✣ [7] Wiues, submit your selues vnto your husbands, [8] as vnto the Lord.

23 ✣ [9] For the husband is the wiues head, euen as Christ is the head of the Church, [10] and the same is the sauiour of his body.

24 [11]Therefore as the Church is in subiection to Christ, euen so let the wiues be to their husbands in euery thing.

25 ¶ ∵ [12] Husbands, loue your wiues, euen as Christ loued the Church, and gaue himself for it,

26 [13] That he might [m] sanctifie it, and cleanse it by the washing of water through the [n] worde, 27 That hee might make it vnto himselfe a glorious Church, [o] not hauing spot or wrinckle, or any such thing: but that it should be holy and without blame.

28 [14] So ought men to loue their wiues, as their owne bodies: he that loueth his wife, loueth himselfe.

29 For no man euer yet hated his [p] own flesh, but nourisheth & cherisheth it, euen as the Lord doeth the Church.

30 For we are members of his body, [q] of his flesh, and of his bones.

31 ✣ For this cause shall a man leaue father and mother, and shall [r] cleaue to his wife, and they twaine shal be one flesh.

32 [15] This is a great secret, but I speake concerning Christ, and concerning the Church.

33 [16] Therefore euery one of you, do ye so: let euery one loue his wife, euen as himselfe, and let the wife see that she feare her husband.

1 Now he commeth to another kind of affections, which is in that part of the minde, which men call couetous or desirous: and he reprehendeth fornication, couetousnes, & iesting very sharply.
2 Fooles which men call one another, that no hobnailes be seene, nor euill example giuen, nor any offence moued by euill wordes or backbiting.
3 Because these sins are such that the most part of men count thẽ not for sinnes, he awaketh the godly, to the end they should so much the more take heede to themselues from them, as most hurtfull plagues.

✣ Mat.24.4. mark. 13.5. luk.21.8. 2. thess.2.3.
5 Because we are not so readie to any thing, as to follow euill examples, therefore the Apostle warneth the godly to remember alwayes, that the other are but as it were darkenesse, and that they themselues are as it were light. And therefore the other commit all villanies (as men are wont in the darke) but they ought not onely not to follow their examples, but also (as the propertie of the light is) reproue their darkenesse, and to walke so (hauing Christ that true light going before them) as it becommeth wise men.
6 The faithfulare calle d light, both because they haue the true light in them which light reueth them, and also because they giue light to other, inasmuch, that their honest conuersation reproueth the life of wicked men.

7 Now he descendeth to a familie, dividing orderly al the parts of a familie. And he saith that the duetie of wiues consisteth herein, to be obedient to their husbands.
8 The first argument, for they cannot be disobedient to their husbands, but they must resist God also, who is the authour of this subiection.
✣ 1.Cor.11.3.
9 A declaration of the former saying. Because God hath made ỹ man head of the woman in matrimonie, as Christ is the head of the Church.
10 An other argument: Because the good estate of the wife dependeth of the man, so that this subiection is not onely iust, but also profitable: as also the saluation of the Church is of Christ, although far other wise.
11 The conclusion of the wiues duetie towardes their husbandes.
∵ Coloss.3.19.
12 The husbandes duetie towardes their wiues, is to loue them as themselues, of which loue, the loue of Christ toward his Church is a liuely patterne.
13 Because many men pretend the infirmities of their wiues to excuse their owne hardnesse and cruelties, the Apostle willeth vs to make what manner of Church Christ gate, when he ioyned it to himselfe, and howe he doth not onely not lothe all her filth and vncleannesse, but ceaseth not to wipe the same away with his cleannesse, vntill he haue wholy purged it.

14 Another argument: Euery man loueth himselfe, euen of nature: therefore he striueth against nature that loueth not his wife: he prooueth the consequent, first by the mysticall knitting of Christ and the Church together, and then by the ordinance of God, who saith, that man and wife are as one, that is, not to be diuided.

16 The conclusion both of the husbands duetie toward his wife, and of the wiues toward her husband.

CHAP. VI.

1 Hee sheweth the duetie of children, 5 seruants, 9 and masters: 10 Then he speaketh of the spirituall battaile that the faithfull haue, 12 and what weapons we must vse in the same: 23 In the ende he commendeth Tychicus.

Children,

1 He commeth to another part of a familie, and sheweth that the duetie of the children toward their parents, consisteth in obedience vnto them.

♣ Colos.3.20.

2 The first argument: be cause God hath so appointed: whereupon it followeth also that children are so far foorth bound to obey their parents, as they may not swarue from the true worship of God.

a For the Lord is maister of all fatherhood, and therefore we must yeelde such obedience as he will haue vs.

3 The second argument: because this obedience is most iust.

♯ Exo.20.12. deu.5.16. ecclesi.3.9 matth.15 4 mark.7.10. 4 A proofe of the first argument. 5 The third argument taken of the profit that ensueth thereby: Because the Lord vouchsafed this commandement amongst all the rest, of a speciall blessing. b With a speciall promise: for otherwise the second commandements hath a promise of mercy to thousand generations, but that promise is general. 6 It is the duetie of fathers to vse their fatherly authoritie moderately and to Gods glorie. c \ Such instructions and precepts as being taken out of Gods booke, are holy and acceptable to him. 7 Now he descendeth to the third part of a familie, to wit, to the duetie both of the masters, and of the seruants. And he sheweth that the duetie of seruants consisteth in an heartie loue and reuerence to their masters. ∴ Colos.3.22. tim.2.9. 1.pet.2.18. 8 He mitigateth the sharpnesse of seruice, in that they are spirituall free notwithstanding the same, & yet that spirituall freedome taketh not away corporall seruice: in so much that they cannot be Christs, vnlesse they serue their masters willingly and faithfully, so farre foorth as they may with safe conscience. d With carefull reuerence: for slouthfulnesse is not allowable, much lesse in Christs seruants. 9 To cut off occasion of all pretence, hee teacheth vs that it is Gods will that some are either borne or made seruants, and therefore they must respect Gods wil although their seruice be neuer so hard. e Being moued with a reuerence to God ward, as though ye serued God himselfe. 10 Although they serue vnkinde and cruel masters, yet the obedience of seruants is no lesse acceptable to God, then the obedience of them that are free. 11 It is the duetie of masters to vse the authoritie that they haue ouer their seruants, modestly and holily, seeing that they in an other respect haue a common master which is in heauen, who will iudge both the bond and the free. ✻ Deu.10.17. 2.chro.19.7. iob.34.19. acts 10.34. rom.2.11. gal.2.6. colos.3.25. 1.pet.1.17. f Either of freedome or bondage.

n He concludeth the other part of this Epistle, with a graue exhortation, that all be ready and fight constantly, trusting to spirituall weapons, vntill their enemies be cleane put to flight. And first of all hee warneth vs to take the armour of God, whereby onely our enemie may be dispatched.

CHildren, 1 ♣ obey your parents 2 in the Lord: 3 for this is right.

2 ♣ 4 Honour thy father & mother 5 (which is the first commandement with b promes)

3 That it may bee well with thee, and that thou mayest liue long on earth.

4 6 And yee fathers, prouoke not your children to wrath: but bring them vp in instruction and c information of the Lord.

5 7 ∴ Seruants, be obedient vnto them that are your masters, 8 according to the flesh, with d feare and trembling in singlenes of your hearts as vnto Christ,

6 Not with seruice to the eye as men pleasers, but as the seruants of Christ, 9 doing the will of God from the heart,

7 With good wil, seruing 9 e Lord, & not men.

8 10 And knowe yee that whatsoeuer good thing any man doeth, that same shal he receiue of the Lord, whether he be bond or free.

9 11 And ye masters doe the same things vnto them, putting away threatning: and knowe that euen your master also is in heauen, neither is there ♯ f respect of person with him.

10 ¶ 12 Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might,

11 Put on 7 whole armour of God, 7 ye may be able to stand against the assaults of the deuill.

12 13 For we wrestle not against flesh and g blood, but against ♣ h principalities, against powers, and against the worldly gouernours, the princes of the darkenesse of this worlde, against spiritual wickednesses, which are in the hie places.

13 14 For this cause take vnto you the whole armour of God, that ye may bee able to resist in the i euill day, and hauing finished all things, stand fast.

14 Stand therefore, and your loynes girded about with verity, and hauing on the brest plate of righteousnesse, 15 And your feete shod with the k preparation of the Gospel of peace.

16 Aboue all, take the shield of Faith, wherewith yee may quench all the fierie dartes of the wicked,

THE EPISTLE OF PAVL TO THE PHILIPPIANS.

CHAP. I.

3 Hauing testified his godly and tender affection towards the Philippians, 12 he intreateth of himselfe, & his bonds: 22 And prickesh them forward by his owne example, 27 and exhorteth them to vnitie 28 and patience.

1 The marke whereat he shooteth in this Epistle, is to confirme the Philippians by all meanes possible, not onely not to faint, but also to goe forward. And first of all he commendeth their former doings, to exhort them to goe forward: which thing he saith he hopeth fully they will doe, and that by the testimonie of their lively charitie, but in the meane season he referreth all things to the grace of God. a By the Bishops are meant both the Pastours, which haue the dispensation of the word, and the Elders that gouerne: and by Deacons are meant those that were keepers of the treasurie of the Church, and had to looke vnto the poore.

PAul 1 and Timotheus the seruants of IESVS CHRIST, to all the Saintes in Christ Iesus which are at Philippi, with the a Bishops, and Deacons:

2 Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christ.

3 I thanke my God, hauing you in perfect memorie,

4 (Alwayes in al my prayers for all you, praying with gladnesse)

5 Because of the b felowship which ye haue in the Gospel, from the c first day vnto now.

6 And I am perswaded of this same thing, that he that hath begun this good worke in you, will performe it vntill the d day of Iesus Christ.

7 As it becommeth me so to iudge of you all, because I haue you in remembrance, that both in my e bands, and in my defence, & confirmation of the Gospel you all were partakers of my grace.

b Because that you also are made partakers of the Gospel. c Euer since ye knew you. d The Spirit of God will not suffer you vtterly to forsake him, vntill your last end: for he will euer be before the eyes of Christs members to glorifie them. e A true proofe of a true louing soule, when it is ioyned with Christ, that it is touched by the

2 He declareth his good wil towards them, therewithall shewing by what meanes chiefly they may be confirmed, to wit, by continuall prayer.
3 Hee sheweth what thing we ought chiefly desire, to wit, first of all, that we may increase in the true knowledge of God (so that we may be able to discerne things that differ one from another) and also in charity, that euen to the end we may giue our selues to good workes in deede, to the glorie of God by Iesus Christ.
g If righteousnesse be the tree, and good workes the fruites, then must the Papistes needes be deceiued, when they say that workes are the cause of righteousnesse.
4 He preuenteth the offence that might come by his persecution, whereby diuers tooke occasion to disgrace his Apostleship. To whom he answereth, that God hath blessed his imprisonment in such wise, that hee is by that meanes become more famous, and the dignitie of the Gospel by this occasion is greatly enlarged, although not with like affection in all men, yet in deede.
h For Christes sake.
i In the Emperors court.
k The Gospel is called the worde, as ser forth the excellencie of it.
l Not with a pure minde: for otherwise their doctrine was pure.
5 He sheweth by setting foorth his owne example, that the ende of our afflictions is true ioye, and that through the vertue of the Spirit of Christ, which he giueth to them that aske it.
m Vnder a goodly colour awl shewe: for they made Christ a cloke for their ambition and enuy.
6 We must continue euen to the end, with great confidence, hauing nothing before our eyes but Christes glory onely, whether we liue or die. 7 An example of a true shepheard, who maketh more accompt how hee may profite his sheepe, then he doeth of any commoditie of his own whatsoeuer.
n To liue in this mortall body. 8 Hauing set downe those things before, in maner of a preface, hee descendeth nowe to exhortations, warning them first of all, to consent both in doctrine and minde, and afterward, that being thus knit together with those common bandes, they continue through the strength of faith to beare all aduersitie in such sort, that they admit nothing vnworthie the profession of the Gospel.
o The word signifieth to stand fast, and it is proper to wrestlers, that stande fast and striue not a farre.

8 [2]For God is my recorde, howe I long after you all from the very heart roote in Iesus Christ.

9 [3]And this I pray, that your loue may abound, yet more and more in knowledge, and in all iudgement,

10 That ye may allowe those things which are best, that yee may bee pure, and without offence vntill the day of Christ, 11 Filled with the [g] fruites of righteousnesse, which are by Iesus Christ vnto the glory & praise of God.

12 ¶ [4]I would yee vnderstood, brethren, that the things which haue come vnto mee, are turned rather to the furthering of the Gospel,

13 So that my bandes [h] in Christ are famous throughout all the [i] iudgement hall, and in all other places, 14 Insomuch that many of the brethren in the Lorde are boldened through my bandes, and dare more frankely speake the [k] word.

15 Some preache Christ euen through enuie and strife, and some also of good will.

16 The one part preacheth Christ of contention and not [l] purely, supposing to adde more affliction to my bands.

17 But the others of loue, knowing that I am set for the defence of the Gospel.

18 [5]What then? yet Christ is preached al maner wayes, whether it be vnder a [m] pretence, or sincerely: and I therein ioy: yea and wil ioy.

19 For I knowe that this shall turne to my saluation through your prayer, and by the helpe of the spirite of Iesus Christ, 20 [6]As I feruently looke for, and hope, that in nothing I shalbe ashamed, but that with all confidence, as alwayes, so nowe Christ shalbe magnified in my body, whether it be by life or by death.

21 For Christ is to me both in life, & in death aduantage.

22 [7]And whether to liue in the [n] flesh were profitable for me, and what to chuse I know not.

23 For I am distressed betweene both, desiring to be loosed and to be with Christ, which is best of all.

24 Neuertheles, to abide in the flesh, is more needfull for you.

25 And this am I sure of, that I shal abide, and with you all continue, for your furtherance and ioy of your faith, 26 That ye may more aboundantly reioyce in IESVS CHRIST for me, by my comming to you againe.

27 [8]Only let your conuersation be, as it becometh [p] Gospel of Christ, that whether I come & see you, or els be absēt, I may heare of your matters [p] ye [o] continue in one spirit, and in one mind, fighting together through [p] faith of the Gospel.

28 [9]And in nothing feare your aduersaries, which is to them a token of perdition, and to you of saluation, and that of God.

29 [10]For vnto you it is giuen for Christ, that not only ye should beleeue in him, but also suffer for his sake, 30 [11]Hauing the same fight, which ye saw in me, and nowe heare to be in me.

9 We ought not to be discouraged, but rather encouraged by the persecutions which the enemies of the Gospel imagine & practise against vs: seeing that they are certaine witnesses from God himselfe both of our saluation, & of the destruction of the wicked. 10 Hee proueth that his saying, that persecution is a token of our saluation, because it is a gift of God to suffer for Christ, which gift he bestoweth vpon his owne, as hee doeth the gift of faith. 11 Now he sheweth for what purpose he made mention of his afflictions.

CHAP. II.

1 He exhorteth them about all things 3 to humilitie, 6 and that by the example of Christ. 19 He promiseth to send Timotheus shortly vnto them, 26 and excuseth the long tarying of Epaphroditus.

IF [1]there be therfore any consolation in [a]Christ, if any comfort of loue, if any felowship of the Spirit, if any [b] compassion and mercie,

2 Fulfill my ioy, that ye be like minded, hauing the [c] same loue, being of one accord, and of one iudgement,

3 That nothing be done through contention or vaine glory, but that in meekenesse of minde euery man esteeme other better then himselfe.

4 Looke not euery man on his owne things, but euery man also on the things of other men.

5 [2]Let the same minde be in you that was euen in Christ Iesus,

6 Who being in [d] forme of God, [e] thought it no robbery to be [f] equall with God:

7 But he made himself of [g] no reputation, and tooke on him [h] forme of a seruant, & was made like vnto men, and was found in shape as a man.

8 He humbled himselfe, & became obedient vnto the death, euen the death of the crosse.

9 [3]Wherefore God hath also highly exalted him, and giuen him a [i] Name aboue euery name,

10 That at the Name of Iesus shoulde [k] euery knee bow, both of things in heauen, and things in earth, and things vnder the earth, 11 And that [l] euery tongue shoulde confesse that Iesus Christ is the Lorde, vnto the glory of God the Father.

12 [4]Wherefore my beloued, as yee haue alwayes obeyed me, not as in my presence only, but nowe much more in my absence, so [m] make an end of your own saluation with feare & trēbling.

1 A most earnest request to remoue all those things, whereby that great and speciall consent and agreement is commonly broken, to wit, contention and pride, whereby it commeth to passe that they separate themselues one from another.
a Any Christian comfort.
b If any feeling of inward loue.
c Like loue.
2 He setteth before them a most perfite example of all modestie and (sweete consideration, Christ Iesus, whom we ought to follow with all our might: who abased himselfe so farre for our sakes, although hee were aboue all, that hee tooke vpon him the forme of a seruant, to wit, our flesh, willingly, subiect to all infirmities, euen to the death of the crosse.
d Such as God himselfe is, and therefore God, for there is none in all parts like to God but God himselfe.
e Christ that glorious and euerlasting God knew that hee might rightfully and lawfully appeare in the base flesh of man, but remaine with Maiestie meete for God: yet hee chose rather to debase himselfe. f If the Sonne be equall to the Father, then is there of necessitie an equalitie, which Arrius that Heretike denieth: and if the Sonne bee compared with the Father, then is there a distinction of persons, which Sabellius that heretike denieth. g He brought himselfe from all things, as it were to nothing. h By taking our manhood vpon him. 3 Hee sheweth the most glorious enent of Christes submission, to teache vs that modestie is the true way to true praise and glory.
i Dignitie and renowme, and the matter with it. k All creatures shall at length bee subiect to Christ. l Euery nation. 4 The conclusion: Wee must goe on to saluation with humilitie and submission by the way of our vocation.
m He is said to make an ende of his saluation, which trauaileth in the race of righteousnesse. 5 A most sure and grounded argument against pride, for that we haue nothing in vs praise worthie, but it commeth of the free gift of God, and is without vs, for wee haue no abilitie or power, so much as to will well, (much lesse to doe wel) but only of the free mercy of God.
n Why then, we are not stockes, but yet we doe not will well of nature, but onely because God hath made of our naughtie will a good will. 6 Hee describeth modestie by the contrarie effects of pride, teaching vs, that it is far both frō all malicious & close or inward hatred, and also from open contentions and brawlings. ✠ 1. CHAP. III.

He refuteth the vaine boaſtings of the falſe apoſtles, 7 and ſetteth Chriſt againſt them. 10 He ſetteth out the force and nature of faith, 15 that laying all things aſide, they may be partakers of the Croſſe of Chriſt, 18 the enemies whereof he noteth out.

1 A concluſion of thoſe things which haue bene before ſaid, to wit, that they goe forward cheerefully in the Lord.

MOreouer, [1] my brethren, reioyce in the Lorde: [2] It grieueth mee not to write the ſame things to you, and for you it is a ſure thing.

2 Beware of dogges: beware of euill workers: beware of the [b] conciſion.

3 [3] For we are the circumciſion, which worſhip God in the ſpirit, and reioyce in Chriſt Ieſus, and haue no confidence [x] in the fleſh:

4 [4] Though I might alſo haue confidence in the fleſh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might truſt in the fleſh, much more I:

5 Circumciſed the eight day, of the kinred of Iſrael, of the tribe of Beniamin, ✣ an Ebrewe of the Ebrewes, ✣ by the Law a Phariſe.

6 Concerning zeale, I perſecuted [y] the Churche touching the righteouſnes which is in the Lawe, I was vnrebukeable.

7 But the things that were [d] vantage vnto me, the ſame I counted loſſe for Chriſtes ſake.

8 Yea, doubtleſſe I thinke [e] all things but loſſe for the excellent knowledge ſake of Chriſt Ieſus my Lorde, for whome I haue counted all things loſſe, and do iudge them to be doung, that I might [f] winne Chriſt,

9 And might be found in [g] him, that is, [h] not hauing mine owne righteouſneſſe, which is of the Lawe, but that which is through the faith of Chriſt, euen the righteouſneſſe which is of God through faith,

10 5 That I may [i] know him, & the vertue of his reſurrection, and the [6] fellowſhip of his afflictions, and be made conformable vnto his death,

11 If by any meanes I might attaine vnto the [k] reſurrection of the dead:

12 Not as though I had already attained to it, either were already perfect: but I followe, if that I may comprehend that for whoſe ſake alſo I am comprehended of Chriſt Ieſus.

13 Brethren, I count not my ſelfe, that I haue attained to it, but one thing I doe: I forget that which is behinde, and endeuour my ſelfe vnto that which is before,

14 And follow hard toward the marke, for the prize of the hie calling of God in Chriſt Ieſus.

15 7 Let vs therefore as many as be [m] perfect, be thus minded: and if ye be otherwiſe minded, God ſhal reueile euen the ſame vnto you.

16 Neuertheleſſe, in that whereunto wee are come, let vs proceede by one rule, that wee may minde one thing.

17 Brethren, be followers of me, & looke on thē, which walk ſo, as ye haue vs for an enſample.

And here calleth them dogges as prophane barkers, and euill workemen, becauſe they neglected true workes, and did not teach the true vſe of them. To be ſhort, he calleth them Conteſſion, becauſe in vrging Circumciſion, they cut off themſelues and others from the Church. a Which you haue aforetimes heard of me.
b He alludeth to circumciſion, of the name whereof whiles they boaſted, they caſte downe the Church.

7 The concluſion of this exhortation ſtanding vpon three membersit The one is, that ſuch as haue profited in the trueth of this doctrine, ſhould continue in it. The ſecond is, that if there be any which are yet ignorant and vnder ſtand not theſe things & doubt of the abolishing of the Law, they ſhould cauſe no trouble, and ſhould be gently borne withal, vntil they alſo be inſtructed of the Lord. The third is, that they eſteeme the falſe apoſtles by their fruits: wherein he doubteth not to ſet forth himſelfe for an example.
m He ſaid before that he was not perfect. So that in this place he calleth them perfect, which haue ſomewhat profited in the knowledge of Chriſt and the Goſpel, whom he ſetteth againſt the rude & ignorant, as he expoundeth himſelfe in the next verſe following.
8 He paynteth out the falſe apoſtles in their colors, not vpon malice or ambitiō, but with a godly and treater zeale: & that becauſe that being enemies of the Goſpel (for that is the ſame which he ſaith) they regard nothing elſe, but the commodities of this life, that is to ſay, that dwelling in peace, quietneſſe, and all worldly pleaſures, they may liue in great reputation amongſt men: whoſe miſerable end he foreſeeing, he bewayleth. Rom. 16. 17.

7 And the [g] peace of God which passeth all vnderstanding, shall preserue your [h] hearts and mindes in Christ Iesus.

8 [7] Furthermore, brethren, whatsoeuer things are true, whatsoeuer things [i] are honest, whatsoeuer things are iust, whatsoeuer things are pure, whatsoeuer things are worthie loue, whatsoeuer things are of good report, if there be any vertue, or if there be any praise, thinke on these things,

9 Which ye haue both learned & receiued, and heard, and seene in me, those things do, and the God of peace shal be with you.

10 [8] Now I reioyce also in the Lord greatly, that now at the last your care for mee springeth afresh, wherein notwithstanding ye were careful, but ye lacked opportunitie.

11 I speake not because of [k] want: for I haue learned in whatsoeuer state I am, therewith to be content.

12 And I can be [l] abased, and I can abound: euery where in all things I am [m] instructed, both to be full, and to be hungrie, and to abound, and to haue want.

13 I am able to do all things through the help of Christ, which strengtheneth me.

14 Notwithstanding yee haue well done, that ye did communicate to mine affliction.

15 [9] And ye Philippians know also that in the [n] beginning of the Gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no Church communicated with me, concerning the matter of giuing and receiuing, but ye onely.

16 For euen when I was in Thessalonica, yee sent once, and afterward againe for my necessitie, 17 [10] Not that I desire a gift: but I desire the fruit which may further your reckoning.

18 Now I haue receiued all, and haue plentie: I was euen filled, after that I had receiued of Epaphroditus that which came from you, an [o] odour that smelleth sweete, a sacrifice acceptable and pleasant to God.

19 And my God shal fulfil all your necessities through his riches with glorie in Iesus Christ.

20 Vnto God euen our Father be praise for euermore, Amen.

21 Salute all the Saints in Christ Iesus. The brethren, which are with me, greete you.

22 All the Saints salute you, and most of all they which are of [p] Cesars houshold.

23 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you all, Amen.

PAul an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the [a] will of God, and Timotheus our brother,

2 To them which are at [b] Colosse, Saints and faithfull brethren in Christ: Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

3 [1] We giue thanks to God euen the [c] Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, alway praying for you:

4 Since we heard of your faith in Christ Iesus, and of your loue toward all Saints,

5 For the [d] hopes sake, which is laide vp for you in heauen, whereof ye haue heard before by the word of trueth, which is the Gospel,

6 Which is come vnto you euē as it is vnto al ỹ world, & is fruitful, as it is also among you frō ỹ day ỹ ye heard and truly knew ỹ grace of God,

7 As yee also learned of Epaphras our deare fellowe seruant, which is for you a faithfull minister of Christ:

a By the free bountifulnes of God. b Colosse is situated in Phrygia, not far from Hierapolis & Laodicea, on that side that they bend toward Lycia and Pamphylia. 1 He commendeth the doctrine that was deliuered the by Epaphras, and their readines in receiuing it. c We cannot otherwise confesse of God to our saluation, but as he is Christs Father, in whom we are adopted. d For the glorie that is hoped for.

1 He declareth his good will towards them, telling them that they must not still remaine at one stay, but grow further both in the knowledge of the Gospel, and also in the true vse of it.

t Your spirituall loue, or your loue which commeth from the Spirit.

f Gods will.

3 The gift of continuance is not of vs, but it proceedeth from the vertue of God, which he doeth freely giue vs.

g It must not be vnwilling, and as it were drawen out of vs by force, but proceede from a merie and ioyfull minde.

4 Hauing ended the preface, he goeth to the matter it selfe, that is to say, to an excellent description (although it be but short) of whole Christianitie, which is fitly diuided into three heatises: for first of all he expounded the true doctrine, according to the order of the causes, beginning from this verse to the 21. And from thence he beginneth to apply the same to the Colossians with diuers exhortations to the 6. verse of the second Chapter. And last of all in the third place, euen to the third Chapter, hee refuteth the corruptions of true doctrine. 5 The efficient cause of our saluation is the onely mercie of God the Father, who maketh vs meete to be partakers of eternall life, deliuering vs from the darkenesse wherein we were borne, and bringing vs to the light of the knowledge of the glory of his Sonne. h In that glorious and heauenly kingdome. ✣ Matth.3.17.and 17.5. 2.Peter 1.17. 6 The matter it selfe of our saluation, is Christ the Sonne of God, who hath obteined remission of sinnes for vs, by the offering vp of himselfe. 7 A liuely description of the person of Christ, whereby we vnderstand that in him only, God sheweth himselfe to be seene: who was begotten of the Father before any thing was made, that is, from euerlasting, by whome also all things that are made, were made without any exception, by whom also they doe consist, and whose glory they serue. ✣ Hebr.1.3. i Begotten before any thing was made: and therefore the euerlasting Sonne of the euerlasting Father. ✣ Iohn 1.3. k Hee setteth foorth the Angels with glorious names, that by the comparison of most excellent spirits, we may vnderstand how farre passing the excellencie of Christ is, in whome onely we haue to content our selues, and let goe all Angels. 8 Hauing gloriously declared the excellent dignitie of the person of Christ, hee describeth his office and function, to wit, that he is that same to the Church, that the head is to the body, that is to say, the Prince and gouernour of it, and the very beginning of true life, as who rising first from death, is y Authour of eternall life, so that he is aboue all, in whome only there is most plentifull aboundance of all good things, which is powred out vpon the Church. ✣ Reuela.1.5. 1.Cor.15.20. l Who so rose againe that he shall die no more, and who raiseth other from death to life by his power. ✣ Iohn 1.14. chap.2.9. m Most plentifull aboundance of all things pertaining to God. 9 Nowe he teacheth how Christ executed that office which his Father inioyned him, to wit, by suffering the death of the crosse (which was ioyned with the curse of God) according to his decree, that by this sacrifice he might reconcile to his Father all men, as well them which beleeued in him to come, and were already vnder this hope gathered into heauen, as them which should vpon the earth beleeue in him afterward. And thus is iustification described of the Apostle, which is one and the chiefest part of the benefit of Christ. n The whole Church. 10 Sanctification is another worke of God in vs by Christ, in that that hee restored vs (which hated God extremely, and were wholly and willingly giuen to sinne) to his gracious fauour in such sort, that hee therewithall purifieth vs with his holy Spirit, & consecrateth vs to righteousnes,

8 2 Who hath also declared vnto vs your loue in the c Spirit.

9 For this cause we also, since the day that we heard of it, cease not to pray for you, & to desire that ye might be fulfilled with knowledge of f his will in all wisdome, and spirituall vnderstanding,

10 That ye might walke worthy of the Lord, & please him in all things, being fruitfull in all good workes, and increasing in the knowledge of God,

11 3 Strengthened with all might through his glorious power, vnto all patience, and long suffering with g ioyfulnesse,

12 4 Giuing thankes vnto the 5 Father, which hath made vs meete to be partakers of the inheritance of the Saints in h light,

13 Who hath deliuered vs from the power of darkenesse, and hath translated vs into the kingdome ✣ of his deare Sonne,

14 6 In whome wee haue redemption through his blood, that is, the forgiuenesse of sinnes, 15 7 Who is the ✣ image of the inuisible God, i the first begotten of euery creature.

16 ✣ For by him were all things created, which are in heauen, and which are in earth, things visible and inuisible: whether they be k Thrones or Dominions, or Principalities, or Powers, all things were created by him, and for him, 18 8 And hee is the head of the body of the Church: he is the beginning, and the l first begotten of the dead, that in all things hee might haue the preeminence.

19 ✣ For it pleased the Father, that in him should m all fulnesse dwell,

20 9 And through peace made by that blood of that his crosse, to reconcile to himselfe through him, through him, I say, n all things, both which are in earth, and which are in heauen.

12 He purchaseth authoritie to this doctrine by his Apostleship, and taketh a most sure proofe thereof, of his afflictions, which he suffereth for Christ his Name, to instruct the Churches with these examples of patience. r For your profite and commoditie. s The afflictions of the Church are said to be Christs afflictions, by reason of that fellowship & knitting together, that the body & the head haue the one with the other, not that there is any more needs to haue the Church redeemed, but that Christ sheweth his power in the daily weakenesse of his, and that for the comfort of the whole body. 13 He bringeth another proofe of his Apostleship, to wit, that God is the Authour of it, by whome also he was appoynted peculiarly Apostle of the Gentiles, to the end that by this meanes, that same might be fulfilled by him, which the Prophets foretolde of the calling of the Gentiles. ✣ Rom.16.25. ephes.3.9.2.tim.1.10. titus 1.2. 1.pet.1.20. t Whom he chose to sanctifie vnto himselfe in Christ: moreouer he saith that the mysterie of our redemption was hidden since the world began, except it were reuealed vnto a fewe, who also were taught it extraordinarily. u Thus Paul bridleth the curiositie of men. 14 Hee protesteth that hee doeth faithfully execute his Apostleship in euery place, bringing men vnto Christ onely, through the Lordes plentifull blessing of his labours. x Perfect and sounde wisedome, which is perfect in it selfe, and shall in the ende make them perfect that followe it.

CHAP. II.

4 He condemneth, as vaine, whatsoeuer is without Christ, 11 intreating specially of circumcision, 16 of abstinence from meates, 18 and of worshipping of Angels. 20 That we are deliuered from the traditions of the Lawe through Christ.

FOr I 1 woulde ye knewe what great fighting I haue for your sakes, and for them of Laodicea, and for as many as haue not seene my 2 person in the flesh,

2 2 That b their hearts might bee comforted, and they knit together in loue, and in all riches of the c full assurance of vnderstanding, to know the mysterie of God, euen the Father, and of Christ:

3 In whom are hid all the treasures of d wisedome and knowledge.

4 3 And this I say, lest any man shoulde beguile you with e entising wordes:

5 ✣ For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, reioycing & beholding your f order, and your g stedfast faith in Christ.

a Me present in body.

2 He concludeth shortly the summe of the former doctrine, to wit, that the whole summe of true wisedome, and most secrete knowledge of God consisteth in Christ only, & that this is the ground of his Apostleshippe.

b Whom he euery saw. c Of that vnderstanding which bringeth forth a certaine & vndoubted perswasion in our mindes. d There is no true wisedome without Christ. 3 A preparation ouer to the treatise following against the corruptions of Christianitie. e With a framed kinde of talke made to perswade. ✣ 1.cor.1.3. f The matter of your holy Apostolicall discipline. g Doctrine. h Seeing Christ hangeth not vpon [illegible] the faith, as yee haue bene taught, abounding therein with thankesgiuing.

4 He bringeth all corruptions to three kindes. The first is that, which resteth of vaine and curious speculations, and yet beareth a shew of a certaine subtill wisedome.

4 Beware lest there be any man that [i] spoile you through philosophy, & vaine deceit, [5] through the traditions of men, [6] according to the [k] rudiments of the world, 7 and not after Christ.

9 8 For [l] in him [m] dwelleth [n] all the fulnesse of the Godhead [o] bodily.

10 And ye are complete in him, which is the head of all principalitie and power.

i This is a worde of warre, and it is as much as to driue or carie away a spoyle or bootie.

5 The second, which is manifestly superstitious and vaine, & standeth onely vpon custome and fained inspirations.

6 The third kinde was of them which ioyned the rudiments of the world, (that is to say, the ceremonies of the Lawe) with the Gospel.

k Principles and rules, wherewith God ruled his Church, as it were vnder a schoolemaster.

7 A generall confutation of all corruptions is this, that that must needes be a false religion, which addeth any thing to Christ.

11 In whome also yee are circumcised with ✠ circumcision made without handes, by putting off the [p] sinfull body of the flesh, through the circumcision of Christ, 12 10 In that yee are ✠ [q] buried with [r] him through baptisme, [11] in whome ye are also raised vp together through the faith of the operation of [s] God, which raised him from the dead.

13 ∴ 12 And you which were dead in sinnes 13 and in the vncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, forgiuing you all your trespasses,

14 14 And putting out the ✠ [t] hand writing of ordinances that was against vs, which was contrarie to vs, hee euen tooke it out of the way, and fastened it vpon the crosse,

15 And hath spoyled the [u] Principalities, and Powers, and hath [x] made a shew of them openly, and hath triumphed ouer them in the y same crosse.

16 15 Let no man therefore condemne you in meate and drinke, or in respect of an holy day, or of the newe moone, or of the Sabbath dayes, 17 Which are but a shadowe of things to come: but the [z] body is in Christ.

8 A reason: Because only Christ God and man, is most perfect, and passeth farre aboue all things, so that whosoeuer hath him, may require nothing more.

l By these words, is shewed a distinction of the natures. m This word (Dwelleth) noteth out vnto vs the ioyning together of those natures, so that of God and Man, is one Christ. n These wordes set downe most perfect Godhead to be in Christ. o The knitting together of God and man, is substantiall and essentiall.

9 Nowe hee dealeth precisely against the third kinde, that is to say, against them which vrged the Iewish religion: and first of all, he denieth that we haue neede of the Circumcision of the flesh, seeing that without it we are circumcised within, by the vertue of Christ. ✠ Rom.2.29. p These many wordes are vsed to shewe what the olde man is, whom Paul in other places calleth the body of sinne.

10 The taking away of an obiection: We neede not so much as the external signe which our fathers had, seeing that our baptisme is a most effectual pledge and witnesse, of that inward restoring, and renuing. ✠ Rom.6.4. ephes.1.19. q Looke Rom.6.4. r So then all the force of the matter commeth not from the very deede done, that is to say, it is not the dipping of vs into the water by a Minister that maketh vs to be buried w th Christ, as the Papists say, that ouen for the very actes sake, we become verely Christians, but it commeth from the vertue of Christ, for the Apostle addeth the resurrection of Christ, and faith.

11 One ende of Baptisme is the death & buriall of the olde man, and that by the mightie power of God onely, whose vertue we lay holde on by faith, in the death and resurrection of Christ. f Through faith which commeth from God. ∴ Ephes.2.1.

12 An other ende of Baptisme is, that we which were dead in sinne, might obteine (see remission of sinnes and eternall life, through faith in Christ who died for vs.

13 A new argument which lyeth in these few words, and it is thus: Vncircumcision was no hinderance to you, why you being iustified in Christ should not obteine life, therefore you neede not circumcision to the attainement of saluation.

14 Here speaketh nowe more generally against the whole service of the Lawe, and sheweth by two reasons that it is abolished: First, to what purpose should he that hath obteined remission of al his sinnes in Christ, require those helpes of the Law? Secondly, because, that if a man do rightly consider those rites, he shall finde that they were so many testimonies of our guiltinesse, whet by we manifestly witnessed as it were by our owne hand writings, that we deserued damnation. Therefore did Christ put out that handwriting by his comming, and fastening it to the crosse, triumphed ouer al our enemies, were they neuer so mightie. Therefore to what end & purpose should we now vse those ceremonies, as though we were still guiltie of sinne, and subiect to the tyrannie of our enemies? ✠ Gal.5.1. s Abolishing the rites and ceremonies. t Satan had his right. u As a conqueror made he a shew of those captiues, and put them to shame. y The crosse was as a chariot of triumph. No conqueror could haue triumphed so gloriously in his chariot, as Christ did vpon the crosse.

15 The conclusion: wherein also he nameth certaine kindes, as the difference of dayes, and meates, and proueth by a newe argument that we are not bond vnto them: to wit, because those things were shadowes of Christ to come, but we possesse him nowe exhibited vnto vs. z The body as a thing of substance and pith, he setteth against shadowes.

18 16 Let no man at his pleasure beare rule ouer you by [a] humblenesse of minde, and worshipping of Angels, [17] aduancing himselfe in those things which hee neuer sawe, [18] [b] rashly puft vp with his fleshly minde, 19 19 And holdeth not the [c] head, whereof all the body furnished and knit together by ioyntes and bands, increaseth with [ȳ] increasing of [d] God.

20 20 Wherefore if ye be dead with Christ from the ordinances of the world, why, [e] as though ye liued in [ȳ] world, are ye burdened with traditions?

21 21 As, Touch not, Taste not, Handle not,

22 22 Which all perish with the vsing, 23 and are after the cõmandements & doctrines of men.

23 24 Which things haue in deede a shewe of [f] wisdome, in [g] voluntarie religion and humblenesse of minde, and in [h] not sparing the body, which are things of no value, sith they perteine to the [i] filling of the flesh.

16 He disputeth against the first kinde of corruptions, and setteth downe the worshipping of Angels for an example: which kinde of false religion he confuteth, first, this way: because that they which bring in such a worship, attribute that vnto themselues which is proper onely to God, to wit, authoritie to binde mens consciences with religion, although they seeme to bring in these things by humblenesse of minde, a By foolish humblenesse of minde: for otherwise humblenesse is a vertue. For these Angel-worshippers blamed such of pride, as would go straight to God, & vse no other vnder meanes besides Christ. 17 Secondly, because they rashly thrust vpon them for oracles, those things which they neither saw nor heard, but deuised of themselues. 18 Thirdly, because these things haue no other grounde whereupon they are built, but onely the opinion of men, which please themselues without all measure in their owne deuices. b Without reason. 19 The fourth argument, which is of great waight, because they spoyle Christ of his dignitie, who onely is sufficient both to nourish and also to increase his whole body. c Christ. d With the increasing which commeth from God. 20 Nowe last of all he fighteth against the second kinde of corruptions, that is to say, against mere superstitions, inuented of men, which partly deceiue the simplicitie of some with their craftinesse, and partly with very foolish superstitions, and to be laughed at: as when godlinesse, remission of sinnes, or any such like vertue, is put in some certaine kinde of meate and such like things, which the inuentours of such rites themselues vnderstand not, because in deede it is not. And he vseth an argument taken of comparison. If by the death of Christ who established a new couenant with his blood, you be deliuered from those externall rites wherewith it pleased the Lord to prepare the worlde, as it were by certaine rudiments to that full knowledge of true religion, why would ye be burdened with traditions I wote not what, as though yee were citizens of this world, that is to say, as though you depended vpon this life, & earthly things? Now this is the cause why before verse 8 he folowed another order then he doth in the confutation: because he sheweth there by what degrees false religions came into the world, to wit, beginning first by curious speculations of the wise, after which in processe of time succeeded grosse superstition, against which mischiefes the Lord set at length that seruice of the Law, which some abused in like sort: but in the confutation he beganne with the abolishing of the Lawe seruice, that he might shew by comparison, that those false services ought much more to bee taken away. e As though your felicitie stood in these earthly things, & the kingdome of God were not rather spirituall. 21 An imitation in the person of these superstitious men, rightly expressing their nature and vse of speech. 22 An other argument: The spiritual & inward kingdome of God cannot consist in these outward things, & such as perish ẅ the vsing. 23 The third argument: Because God is not ȳ autour of these traditions, & therfore they doe not binde ȳ consciences. 24 The taking away of an obiection. These things haue a goodly shewe, because men by this meanes, seeme to worship God with a good minde, & humble themselues, & neglect ȳ body, which the most part of men curiously pamper vp & cherish: but yet notwithstanding the things themselues are of no value, for so much as they perteine not to things that are spiritual & euerlasting, but to the nourishment of the flesh. f Which seeme in deede to be some exquisite thing, & so wise deuices as though they came from heauen. g Hence sprang the workes of supererogation, as the Papists terme them, that is to say, needelesse works, as though men performed more then is commanded them: which was the beginning & the very ground, whereon Monks merits were brought in. h A liuely description of Monkery. i Seeing they stand in meate & drinke, wherin the kingdom of God doth not stand.

CHAP. III.

1 Against earthly exercises, which the false apostles vrged, 2 he setteth heauenly: 5 And beginneth with the mortifying of the flesh, 8 whence he draweth particular exhortations, 18 and particular duelies which depend on eech mans calling.

1 An other part of this Epistle, wherin he taketh occasion by reason of those vaine exercises, to shew the duelie of a Christian life: which is an ordinarie thing with him after he hath once set downe the doctrine it selfe: 2 Our renuing or newe birth, which is wrought in vs by being partakers of the resurrection of Christ, is the fountaine of al holines, out of which sundry armes or riuers do afterwards flow.

IF 1 yee then [2] bee risen with Christ, [3] seeke those things which are aboue, where Christ a For if we be partakers of Christ, we are carried as it were into another life where we shal needs neither meate nor drinke, for we shalbe like vnto the Angels. 3 The ende and marke which all the dueties of Christian life shoote at, is to enter into the kingdome of heauen, and to giue our selues to those things which leade vs thither, that is, to true godlinesse, and not to those outward & corporall things, sitteth at the right hand of God.

2 Set your affections on things which are aboue, and not on things which are on the [b] earth.

3 4 For ye are dead, [5] and your life is hid with Christ in God.

4 When Christ which is our life, shal appeare, then shal ye also appeare with him in glory.

5 [6] ✣ Mortifie therfore your [c] members which are on the earth, fornication, vncleannes, the inordinate affection, euill concupiscence, and couetousnes which is idolatrie.

6 For the which things sake the wrath of God [d] commeth on the children of disobedience.

7 Wherein ye also walked once, when ye liued in them.

8 But now put ye away euen all these things, wrath, anger, maliciousnes, cursed speaking, filthie speaking, out of your mouth.

9 Lie not one to another, [7] seeing that yee haue put off the olde man with his workes,

10 And haue put on the newe, [8] which is renewed in [e] knowledge after the image of him that created him, 11 [9] Where is neither Grecian nor Iewe, circumcision nor vncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond, free: But Christ is all, and in all things.

12 Now therefore as [f] elect of God, holy and beloued, [g] put on [h] bowels of mercies, kindenes, humblenes of minde, meekenes, long suffering:

13 Forbearing one another, & forgiuing one another, if any man haue a quarell to another: euen as Christ forgaue, euen so doe ye.

14 And aboue all these things put on loue, which is the [i] bond of perfectnesse.

15 And let the peace of God [k] rule in your hearts, to the which yee are called in [l] one body, and be ye thankfull.

16 Let the worde of Christ dwell in you plenteously in all wisdome, teaching and admonishing your owne selues, in [m] Psalmes, & hymnes, & spirituall songs, singing with a grace in your hearts to the Lord.

17 ✣ And whatsoeuer ye shal doe, in worde or deede, doe all in the [n] Name of the Lord Iesus, giuing thankes to God euen the Father by him.

18 ¶ ✣ [10] Wiues, submit your selues vnto your husbands, as it is [o] comely in the Lorde.

19 ✣ [11] Husbands, loue your wiues, and be not bitter vnto them.

20 ¶ ✣ [12] Children, obey your parents in [p] all things: for that is well pleasing vnto the Lord.

21 [13] Fathers, prouoke not your children to anger, least they be discouraged.

22 ¶ [14] ✣ Seruants, be obedient vnto them that are your masters according to the flesh, in all things, not with eye seruice as men pleasers, but in singlenes of heart, fearing God.

23 And whatsoeuer ye doe, doe it heartily, as to the Lord, and not to men, 24 Knowing that of the Lord ye shall receiue the [p] reward of the inheritance: for ye serue the Lord Christ.

25 [15] But he that doeth wrong, shall receiue for the wrong that he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

[b] So he calleth that heire of religion, which he spake of in the former Chapter.

4 A reason taken of the efficient causes and others: you are dead as touching the flesh, that is, touching the olde nature which seeketh after all transitorie things, and on the otherside, you haue begun to liue according to the Spirit, therefore giue your selues to spirituall and heauenly, and not to carnall and earthly things.

5 The taking away of an obiection: whiles we are yet in this world, we are subiect to many miseries of this life, so that the life that is in vs, is as it were hidden: yet notwithstanding we haue the beginnings of life and glory, the accomplishment whereof which lyeth now in Christs and in Gods hand, shalbe assuredly and manifestly performed in that glorious comming of the Lord.

6 Let not your dead nature bee any more effectuall in you, but let your liuing nature be effectuall. Nowe the force of nature is knowen by the motions. Therefore let the affections of the flesh die in you, and let the contrary motions which are spirituall, liue. And he reckoneth vp a great long scroule of vices, and their contrary vertues. ✣ Ephes. 5.3.

[e] He speaketh of an effectuall knowledge. 9 He telleth them againe that the Gospel doeth not respect those externall things, but true iustification and sanctification in Christ onely, which haue many suites, as he reckoneth them vp here: But commendeth two things especially, to wit, godly concorde, and continuall study of Gods worde. CHAP. IIII.

2 He returneth to generall exhortations, 3 touching prayer, and gracious speach, 7 & so endeth with greetings & commendations.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAVL TO THE THESSALONIANS.

CHAP. I.

1 He therefore beginneth with thanksgiuing, 4 to put them in minde that whatsoeuer was prayse worthy in them, it came of Gods goodnesse: 8 and that they are ensamples vnto others.

PAVL, and Siluanus, & Timotheus, vnto the Church of the Thessalonians, which is in God the Father, and in the Lorde Iesus Christ: Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christ.

2 [1] We giue God thankes alwayes for you all, making mention of you in our prayers

3 [2] Without ceasing, remembring your effectuall faith, and diligent loue, and the patience of your hope in our Lord Iesus Christ, in the sight of God, euen our Father,

4 Knowing, beloued brethren, that yee are [a] elect of God.

5 [3] For our Gospel was not vnto you in word only, but also in power, & in the holy Ghost, and in [b] much assurance, as yee knowe after what maner we were among you for your sakes.

6 [4] And ye became followers of vs, and of the Lord, and receiued the worde in much affliction, with [c] ioy of the holy Ghost,

7 So that ye were as ensamples to all that beleeue in Macedonia and in Achaia.

8 For from you sounded out the worde of the Lord, not in Macedonia and in Achaia onely: but your faith also which is toward God, spred abroad in all quarters, that we neede not to speake any thing.

9 For [d] they themselues shew of vs what manner of entring in we had vnto you, [5] and howe ye turned to God from idoles, to serue the liuing and true God,

10 And to looke for his sonne from heauen, whom he raised from the dead, euen Iesus which deliuereth vs from [e] that wrath to come.

1 An example of aright Christian reioycing, whereby also we learne, that such as haue great giftes in them, are in two sortes brideled, to wit, if they consider that they haue receiued all from God, and that continuance must be desired at his hands, whereunto also the whole Epistle exhorteth the Thessalonians.

2 Hee commendeth them for three special gifts, effectuall fayth, continual loue, and patient hope: to the ende they might be ashamed being indued with such excellent gifts, not to continue in Gods election.

a Word for word, that your election is of God.

3 Another reason why they ought in no wise start backe but continue to the ende, because they cannot doubt of his doctrine which hath bene so many wayes confirmed vnto them, euen from heauen, as they themselues did well know. b Paul sheweth by two things that there followed very great fruite of his preaching, to wit, by those gifts of the holy Ghost, and that certaine assurance which was throughly setled in their mindes, as approued by their willing bearing of the Crosse. 4 An other reason, because euen to that day, they embraced the Gospel with great cheerefulnes, in so much that they were an example to all their neighbours: so that it should be more shame to them to faint in the mid race. c With ioy which commeth from the holy Ghost. d All the beleeuers. 5 It is no true conuersion to forsake idoles, vnlesse a man therewithall worship the true and liuing God in Christ the onely redeemer. e This worde (That) is not put here without cause: and by (wrath) is meant that reuenge and punishment, wherewith the Lord will indge the world at length in his terrible wrath.

CHAP. II.

1 Hee declareth howe faithfully hee preached the Gospel vnto them, 5 seeking neither gaine, 6 nor praise of men: 10 and he proueth the same by their owne testimonie: 14 that they did courageously beare persecutions of their country men: 17 that he desireth very much to see them.

FOr [1] ye your selues know, brethren, that our entrance in vnto you was not in vaine,

2 [2] But euen after that wee had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated at ✣ Philippi, (as ye knowe) we were bolde in [a] our God, to speake vnto you the Gospel of God with much striuing.

3 [3] For our exhortation was not by deceit, nor by [b] vncleannes, nor by guile.

4 [4] But as we were [c] allowed of God, that the Gospel should be cōmitted vnto vs, so we speake, not as they that please men, but God, which [d] approueth our hearts.

5 Neither yet did we euer vse flattering words, as ye knowe, nor coloured couetousnes, God is record.

6 [5] Neither sought we prayse of men, neither of you, nor of others, when we might haue bene [e] chargeable, as the Apostles of Christ.

7 But we were [f] gentle among you, euen as a nource cherisheth her children.

8 [6] Thus being affectioned toward you, our good will was to haue dealt vnto you, not the Gospel of God onely, but also our owne soules, because ye were deare vnto vs.

9 [7] For ye remember, brethren, ✣ our labour and trauaile: for we laboured day and night, because wee would not be chargeable vnto any of you, and preached vnto you the Gospel of God.

10 [8] Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily and iustly, and vnblameably wee behaued our selues among you that beleeue.

11 [9] As ye know how that we exhorted you, and comforted, and besought euery one of you (as a father his children)

12 [10] That ye would walke worthy of God, who hath called you vnto his kingdome and glorie.

13 [11] For this cause also thanke we God without ceasing, that when ye receiued the worde of God, which ye heard of vs, yee receiued it not as the worde of men, but as it is in deede the worde of God, which also worketh in you that beleeue.

1 That which he touched before shortly concerning his Apostleship, he handleth nowe more at large, and to that ende and purpose which we spake of.

2 The vertues of a true Pastour are, freely, & without feare to preache the Gospel, euen in the midst of dangers.

✣ Actes 16. 12.

a Through God his gracious helpe.

3 To teach pure doctrine faithfully and with a pure heart.

b By any wicked and naughtie kinde of dealing.

4 To approoue his conscience to God, being free from all flatterie and couetousnes.

c Seeing there is this difference betweene the iudgements of God and the iudgements of men, that when men choose, they respect the qualities of those things which stand before them, but God findeth the reason of his counsell onely in himselfe, it followeth that seeing we are not able to thinke a good thought, that whom soeuer he first chuseth to those holy callings, he maketh them able, and doeth not finde them able. And therefore in that we are allowed of God, it hangeth vpon his mercy. d Which liketh and alloweth of them. 5 To submit himselfe euen to the basest, to winne them, and to eschewe all pride. e When I might lawfully haue liued vpon the expences of the Church. f We were not rough, but easie, and gentle as a nource that is neither ambitious nor couetous, but taketh all paines as patiently as if shee were a mother. 6 To haue the flocke that is committed vnto him in more estimation, then his owne life. 7 To depart with his owne right, rather then to be chargeable to his sheepe. ✣ Actes 20. 34. 1. corinth. 4. 12. 2. thessa. 3. 8. 8 To excell other in example of godly life. 9 To exhort & comfort with a fatherly minde and affection. 10 To exhort all men diligently and earnestly to leade a godly life. ∴ Ephes. 4. 1. philip. 1. 27. colossians 1. 10. 11 Hauing approoued his ministerie, hee commendeth againe (to that ende and purpose that I spake of) the cheerefulnesse of the Thessalonians which was answerable to his diligence in preaching, and their manly patience.

12 He confirmeth them in their afflictions which they suffered of their owne people, because they were afflicted of their owne countrey men: which came as well (saith he) to the Churches of the Iewes, as to them: and therefore they ought to take it in good part.
g Watch Christ hath gathered together.
h Euen of them which are of the same countrey, and the same towne that you are of.
13 He preuenteth an offence which might be taken, for that the Iewes especially aboue all other persecuted the Gospel. That is no newe thing, saieth he, seeing they slew Christ himselfe, and his Prophets, and haue banished me also.
14 He foretelleth the vtter destruction of the Iewes, lest any man should be moued by their rebellion.
i For the Iewes would neither enter into the kingdome of God themselues, nor suffer other to enter in. k Vntill the wickednes of theirs which they haue by inheritance as it were of their fathers, be growen so great, that the measure of their iniquitie being filled, God may come forth to wrath. l The iudgement of God being angrie, which in deede appeared shortly after in the destruction of the citie of Hierusalē, whither many returned euē out of diuers prouinces, when it was besieged.
15 He meeteth with an obiection, why he came not to them straightwayes being in so great misery. I desired oftentimes (saith he) & it lay not in me, but Satan hindred my endeuours, & therfore I sent Timothie my faithful cōpanion vnto you, because you are most deare to me.
m Were kept asunder from you, and as it were orphanes.

14 12 For brethren, ye are become followers of the Churches of God, which in Iudea are in g Christ Iesus, because yee haue also suffered the same things of your owne b countrey men, euen as they haue of the Iewes,
15 13 Who both killed the Lord Iesus & their owne Prophets, & haue persecuted vs away, 14 and God they please not, and are contrary to 1 all men,
16 And forbid vs to preach vnto the Gentiles, that they might be saued, to k fulfill their sinnes alwayes: for the l wrath of God is come on them to the vtmost.
17 15 Forasmuch, brethren, as we m were kept from you for a season, concerning sight, but not in the heart, we enforced the more to see your face with great desire,
18 Therefore we would haue come vnto you (I Paul, at least once or twise) but Satan hindered vs.
19 For what is our hope or ioye, or crowne of reioycing? are not euen you it in the presence of our Lord Iesus Christ at his comming?
20 Yes, ye are our glory and ioye.

CHAP. III.

1 To shewe his affection towards them, he sendeth Timothie vnto them: 6 He is so moued by the report of their prosperous state, 9 that he cannot giue sufficient thankes, 11 and therefore he breaketh out into prayer.

WHerefore since we coulde no longer forbeare, we thought it good to remaine at Athens alone,
2 ✣ And haue sent Timotheus our brother and minister of God, and our labour fellow in the Gospel of Christ, to stablish you, and to comfort you touching your faith,
3 That no man should be mooued with these afflictions: 1 for ye your selues know, that we are appoynted thereunto.
4 For verily when we were with you, we tolde you before that wee shoulde suffer tribulations, euen as it came to passe, and ye knowe it.
5 Euen for this cause, when I could no longer forbeare, I sent him that I might knowe of your faith, lest the tempter had tempted you in any sort, and that our labour had bene in vaine.
6 ✣ But now lately when Timotheus came frō you vnto vs, and brought vs good tidings of your faith and loue, & that ye haue good remembrance of vs alwayes, desiring to see vs, as we also doe you,
7 Therefore brethren, we had consolation in you, in all our affliction and necessitie through your faith.
8 For nowe are we a liue, if ye stand fast in the Lord.
9 For what thankes can wee recompense to God againe for you, for all the ioy wherewith we reioyce for your sakes before our God,
10 Night and day, ✣ praying exceedingly, that we might see your face, and might b accomplish that which is lacking to your faith?
11 Nowe God himselfe, euen our Father, and our Lord Iesus Christ, guide our iourney vnto you.
12 3 And the Lord increase you, and make you abound in loue one toward another, and toward all men, euen as we doe toward you:
13 ✣ To make your hearts stable & vnblameable in holines before God euen our Father, at the comming of our Lord Iesus Christ with all his Saints.

✣ Actes 16.1.
1 The wil of God, who calleth his on this condition, to bring them to glory by affliction, is a most sure remedie against al afflictiōs.
2 Because they haue hitherto gone so well forward, he exhorteth them againe to make an ende of the rest of the iourney, seeing that therein also they shall doe him their Apostle a great pleasure.
c For now you can not otherwise thinke we liue and in good case, vnlesse you go forward in religion and faith.
✣ Rom. 1.10. and 15.23.
b Paul was constrained through the importunate dealing of the enemies to leaue the building which he had scarce begunne: And for that cause he had left Silas and Timothie in Macedonia, and when Timothie came to Athens to him, he sent him backe againe straightway. CHAP. IIII.

1 He exhorteth them 3 to holines, 9 and brotherly loue. 13 He forbiddeth them to sorowe after the maner of infidels. 15 He setteth out the historie of our resurrection.

ANd 1 furthermore we beseech you, brethren, and exhort you in the Lord Iesus, that ye a increase more and more, as yee haue receiued of vs, how ye ought to walke, and to please God.
2 For ye knowe what commaundements we gaue you by the Lord Iesus.
3 ✣ 2 For this is the will of God euen your b sanctification, and that ye should abstaine from fornication,
4 3 That euery one of you should know, howe to possesse his vessell in holinesse and honour,
5 4 And not in the lust of concupiscence, euen as the Gentiles which know not God:
6 ∴ 5 That no man oppresse or defraude his brother in any matter: for the Lord is auenger of all such things, as we also haue tolde you beforetime, and testified.
7 ✣ For God hath not called vs vnto vncleanesse, but vnto holinesse.
8 Hee therefore that c despiseth these things, despiseth not man, but God who hath euen giuen you his holy Spirit.
9 6 But as touching brotherly loue, ye neede not that I write vnto you: ✣ for ye are taught of God to loue one another.
10 Yea, and that thing verily ye doe vnto all the brethren, which are throughout all Macedonia: but we beseech you brethren, that ye increase more and more,
11 7 And that ye studie to be quiet, & to meddle with your owne businesse, 8 and to worke with your owne hands, as we commanded you,
12 That ye may behaue your selues honestly toward them that are without, and that nothing be lacking vnto you.
13 ¶ 9 I would not, brethren, haue you ignorant 10 concerning them 11 which are asleepe, that ye sorow not euen as other which haue no hope.
14 12 For if we beleeue that Iesus is dead, and is risen, euen so them which sleepe in d Iesus, will God e bring with him.

1 Diuers exhortations, the ground whereof is this, to be mindefull of those things which they haue heard of the Apostle.
a That ye labour to excell more and more, and daily passe your selues.
✣ Rom. 12.2. ephes. 5.17.
2 This is the summe of those things, which he deliuered them, to dedicate themselues wholly to God. And he condemneth plainely all filthinesse through lust, because it is altogether contrary to the will of God.

c These commandements which I gaue you. 6 Thirdly, hee requireth a ready minde to all meanes of louing kindenesse, and exhorteth them to profite more and more in that vertue. ✣ Iohn 13.34. and 15.12. 1 John 2.8. and 4.21. 7 Hee condemneth vnquiet braines, and such as are curious in matters which appertaine not vnto them. 8 Hee rebuketh idlenesse and slouthfulnesse, which vices whosoeuer are giuen vnto, fall into other wicked deedes, to the great offence of the Church. 9 The third part of the Epistle, which is exhortation (among the former exhortations (which he returneth vnto afterward) wherein he speaketh of mourning for the dead, and the vtilitie of the resurrection, and of the latter day. 10 We must take heede that we deale not immoderately by reason of the dead, that is, as they vse to doe which thinke that they are vtterly perished. 11 A consideration: for death is but a sleepe of the body (for he speaketh of the faithfull) vnto the Lord commeth.
12 A reason of the confirmation, for seeing that the head is risen, the members also shall rise, and that by the vertue of God.
d They die in Christ, which continue in faith whereby they are ingrafted into Christ, vnto the last gaspe. e Will call their bodies out of their graues, and ioyne their soules to them again.

15 13 For this ſay we vnto you by the f word of the Lord, that g we which liue, and are remaining in the comming of the Lord, ſhall not preuent them which ſleepe.

16 For the Lord himſelfe ſhall deſcend from heauen with a h ſhoute, and with the voyce of the Archangel, and ✣ with the trumpet of God: and the dead in Chriſt ſhall riſe firſt:

17 Then ſhall we which liue and remaine, be i caught vp with them alſo in the clouds, to meete the Lord in the ayre: and ſo ſhall we euer be with the Lord.

18 Wherefore, comfort your ſelues one another with theſe wordes.

13 The maner of the reſurrection ſhalbe thus: The bodies of the dead ſhall be as it were raiſed out of ſleepe, at the ſound of the trumpet of God. Chriſt himſelfe ſhall deſcende from heauen. The Saints (for he ſpeaketh properly of them) which ſhall then be found aliue together with the dead which ſhall riſe, ſhalbe taken vp into the cloudes to meete the Lord, and ſhall be in perpetuall glory with him. f In the Name of the Lord, as though he himſelfe ſpake vnto you. g Hee ſpeaketh of theſe things, as though he ſhould be one of them whom the Lord ſhall finde aliue at his comming, becauſe that time is vncertaine: and, therefore euery one of vs ought to be in ſuch a readineſſe, as if the Lord were comming at euery moment. h The word which the Apoſtle vſeth here, ſignifieth properly that encouragement which mariners vſe one to another, when they all together with one ſhoute put forth their oares & rowe together. ✣ 1.Cor.15.52. i Suddenly and in the twinckling of an eyt.

CHAP. V.

1 Condemning the curious ſearching for the ſeaſons of Chriſtes comming, 6 he warneth them to bee ready dayly to receiue him: 11 And ſo giueth them ſundry good leſſons.

BVt 1 of the times and a ſeaſons, brethren, ye haue no neede that I write vnto you.

2 For yee your ſelues knowe perfectly, that the day of the Lord ſhall come, euen as a thiefe in the night.

3 For when they ſhall ſay, Peace and ſafetie, then ſhall come vpon them ſudden deſtruction, as the trauaile vpon a woman with childe, and they ſhall not eſcape.

4 2 But ye, brethren, are not in darkneſſe, that that day ſhall come on you, as it were a thiefe.

5 Yee are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, neither of darkeneſſe.

6 Therefore let vs not ſleepe as doe other, but let vs watch and be ſober.

7 For they that ſleepe, ſleepe in the night, and they that be drunken, are drunken in the night.

8 3 But let vs which are of the day, be ſober, ✣ putting on the breſt-plate of faith & loue, and the hope of ſaluation for an helmet.

9 4 For God hath not appoynted vs vnto wrath, but to obtaine ſaluation by the meanes of our Lord Ieſus Chriſt, 10 5 Which died for vs, that whether we wake or ſleepe, we ſhould liue together with him.

11 6 Wherefore exhort one another, and edifie one another, euen as ye doe.

12 7 Nowe we beſeech you brethren, that ye b acknowledge them which labour among you, and are ouer you in the c Lord, & admoniſh you, 13 That yee haue them in ſingular loue for d their workes ſake. 8 Bee at peace among your ſelues.

14 9 We deſire you, brethren, admoniſh them that are e out of order: cõfort the feeble minded: beare with the weake: be patient toward al men.

15 10 ✣ See that none recompenſe euil for euil vnto any man: but euer follow f which is good, both toward your ſelues, and toward all men.

16 11 Reioyce euermore.

17 ✣ Pray continually.

18 In all things, giue thaukes: for this is the f will of God in Chriſt Ieſus toward you.

19 12 Quench not the Spirit.

20 Deſpiſe not g prophecying.

21 Try al things, & keepe that which is good.

22 13 Abſteine from all h appearance of euill.

23 Now the very God of peace i ſanctifie you throughout: and I pray God that your whole ſpirite and ſoule and body, may be kept blameleſſe vnto the comming of our Lord Ieſus Chriſt.

24 14 ✣ k Faithfull is hee which calleth you, which will alſo l doe it.

25 15 Brethren, pray for vs.

26 Greete all the brethren with an holy kiſſe.

27 I charge you in the Lord, that this Epiſtle be read vnto all the brethren the Saints.

28 The grace of our Lord Ieſus Chriſt be with you, Amen.

1. The day that God hath appoynted for this iudgement, we knowe not. But this is ſure that it ſhall come vpon men when they looke for nothing leſſe.

a Loole Acts 1.7.

2 Returning to exhortations, he warneth vs which are lightened with the knowledge of God, that it is our duetie not to liue ſecurely in deliciouſneſſe, leſt we be ſuddenly taken in a dead ſleepe in pleaſures: but contrariwiſe to haue an eye to the Lord, and not ſuffer our ſelues to be oppreſſed with the cares of this world for that is meete for the darkeneſſe of the night, and this for the light.

3 We muſt fight with faith and hope, much leſſe ought we lie carelelly ſnorting. ✣ Eſai.59.17. ephe.6.17. 4 He pricketh vs forwards by ſetting moſt certaine hope of victorie before vs. 5 The death of Chriſt is a pledge of our victorie, for therfore he died, that we might be partakers of his life or vertue, yea euen whiles we liue here.

6 We muſt not onely watch our ſelues, but we are alſo bounde to ſtirre vp and confirme one another.

7 We muſt haue great conſideration of them which are appoynted to the miniſterie of the word, and gouernement of the Church by God, & doe their duetie.

b That you acknowledge and take them for ſuch as they are, that is to ſay, men worthy to be greatly accompted of among you.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAVL TO THE THESSALONIANS.

CHAP. I.

1 He commendeth the increaſe of faith, and charitie, 4 and the patience of the Theſſalonians: 6 and deſcribing Gods vengeance againſt ſuch as oppreſſe the godly, 10 but teacheth the godly to waite for the laſt iudgement.

PAul and Siluanus, and Timotheus, vnto the Church of the Theſſalonians, which is in God our Father, and in the Lord Ieſus Chriſt:

2 Grace be with you, & peace frõ God our Father, and from the Lord Ieſus Chriſt.

3 ✣ 1 We ought to thanke God alwayes for you, brethren, as it is meete, becauſe that your faith 2 groweth exceedingly, & the loue of euery one of you toward another, aboundeth,

4 So that we our ſelues reioyce of you in the Churches of God, becauſe of your patience and faith in all your perſecutions and tribulations that ye ſuffer,

✣ 1.Theſſ.1.2.

1 The firſt part of the Epiſtle, wherein he reioyceth that through the grace of God, they haue manfully ſuſteined all the aſſaultes of their enemies, wherin he confirmeth them, moreouer ſhewing with what gifts they muſt chiefly fight, to wit, with faith and charitie, which muſt daily increaſe. 2 That whereas it grewe vp before, it doeth alſo receiue ſome increaſe euery day more and more.

Iude 8.

3 He openeth the fountaine of all true comfort, to wit, that in afflictions which we suffer of the wicked for righteousnes sake, we may beholde as it were in a glasse the testimonie of that iudgement to come, and the ende thereof most acceptable to vs, and most sharpe to his enemies.

3 A proofe: God is iust, therefore he wil worthily punish the vniust, and wil doe away the miseries of his people.

4 He confirmeth them also by the way, by this meanes, that the condition both of this present state and the state to come, is common to him with them.

2. Thess. 4. 16.

5 ✠ 2 Which is a manifest token of the righteous iudgement of God, that yee may be counted worthy of the kingdome of God, for the which ye also suffer.

6 3 For it is a righteous thing with God, to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you,

7 And to you which are troubled, rest 4 with vs, ✠ 5 when the Lorde Iesus shall shewe himselfe from heauen with his mightie Angels,

8 In flaming fire, rendring vengeance vnto them, 6 that doe not know God, and which obey not vnto the Gospel of our Lorde Iesus Christ,

9 Which shall be punished with euerlasting perdition from the presence of the Lord, & from the glory of his power,

10 When he shall come to be glorified in his Saints, & to be made marueilous in all them that beleeue (7 because our testimonie toward you was beleeued) in that day.

11 8 Wherefore, we also pray alwayes for you, that our God may make you worthy of b this calling, and fulfill c all the good pleasure of his goodnes, and the d worke of faith with power, 12 That the Name of our Lorde Iesus Christ may be glorified in you, and yee in him, according to the grace of our God, and of the Lorde Iesus Christ.

5 A most glorious description of the second comming of Christ, to be set against all the miseries of the godly, and the triumphes of the wicked.

6 There is no knowledge of God vnto salvation, without the Gospel of Christ.

7 The children of God shalbe counted by the faith which they haue in the Gospel, which is preached vnto them by the Apostles.

8 Seeing that wee haue the marke set before vs, it remaineth that we go vnto it. And we go to it, by certaine degrees of causes, first by the free loue & good pleasure of God, by vertue whereof all other inferiour causes worke: from thence proceedeth the free calling to Christ, and from calling, faith, whereupon followeth both the glorifying of Christ in vs, and vs in Christ.

b By (calling) he meaneth not the very acte of calling, but that selfe same thing whereunto we are called, which is the glory of that heauenly kingdome.

c Which he determined long since, onely vpon his gracious and mercifull goodnesse towardes you.

d So then, faith is an excellent worke of God in vs: and wee see here plainely that the Apostle leaueth nothing to free will, to make it cohetemate with Gods working therein, as the Papists dreame.

CHAP. II.

2 He sheweth that the day of the Lord shall not come, till there be a departure from the faith, 3 and that Antichrist be reuealed, 8 whose destruction he setteth out, 15 and thereupon exhorteth to constancie.

NOwe 1 we beseech you, brethren, by the comming of our Lord Iesus Christ, & by our 2 assembling vnto him,

2 That yee be not suddenly mooued from your minde, nor troubled neither by b spirite, nor by c worde, nor by d letter, as it were from vs, as though the day of Christ were at hand.

3 Let no man deceiue you by any meanes: for that day shall not come, except there come a departing first, and that e that man of sinne be disclosed, euen the sonne of perdition,

4 Which is an aduersarie, and f exalteth himselfe against all that is called God, or that is worshipped: so that he doeth sit in g Gods temple of God, shewing himselfe that he is God.

5 5 Remember yee not, that when I was yet with you, I tolde you these things?

6 And nowe yee knowe g what withholdeth that he might be reuealed in his time.

7 6 For the mysterie of iniquitie doeth already worke: 7 onely he which now b withholdeth, shall let till he be taken out of the way.

8 8 And then shal i that wicked man be reuealed, ✠ whome the Lorde shall k consume with the l Spirite of his mouth, and shall abolish with the brightnes of his comming,

9 9 Euen him whose comming is by m effectuall working of Satan, with all power, and signes, and n lying wonders,

10 And in all deceiuablenes of vnrighteousnes, among them ŷ perish, because they receiued not the loue of the trueth, that they might be saued.

11 And therefore God shal send them o strong delusion, that they should beleeue lies, 12 That all they might be damned which beleeued not the trueth, but p had pleasure in vnrighteousnesse.

13 10 But we ought to giue thankes alway to God for you, brethren beloued of the Lorde, because that God hath from the beginning chosen you to saluation, through q sanctification of the Spirit, and the r faith of trueth, 14 Whereunto he called you by our s Gospel, to obtaine the glory of our Lord Iesus Christ.

15 11 Therefore, brethren, stand fast & keepe the instructions, which ye haue bene taught, either by worde, or by our Epistle.

16 Nowe the same Iesus Christ our Lord, and our God euen the Father which hath loued vs, and hath giuen vs euerlasting consolation and good hope through grace, 17 Comfort your hearts, and stablish you in euery worde and good worke.

1 The second part of the Epistle, containing an excellent prophecie of the state of the Church, which shall be from the Apostles times vnto the latter day of iudgement.

a If we thinke earnestly vpon that vnmeasurable glory, which we shalbe partakers of with Christ, it will be an excellent remedie for vs against wauering and impatience, so that neither the glittering of the world shall allure vs, nor the dreadfull sight of the crosse dismay vs.

2 We must take heede of false prophets, especially in this matter, which go about to deceiue, & that for the most part, after three sortes: for either they bragge of fained prophecall reuelations, or they bring coniectures and reasons of their owne, or ye counterfeite writings.

b By (spirite) which they pretend to be spirituall illuminations.

c Either by word of mouth, or by bookes written.

d Either by forged letter, or falsely imposed vpon.

3 The Apostle foreseeth that before the comming of the Lord, there shall be a throne set vp cleane contrary to Christs glory, wherein that wicked man shall sit, and transferre all things that appertaine to God, to himselfe, and many shall fall away from God to him.

e By speaking of one, he pointeth out the body of the tyrannous and persecuting Church.

f All men know who he is that saith he can shut vp heauen and open it at his pleasure, and setteth vpon him to be Lorde and Master ouer all kings and princes, before whom kings and princes fall downe and worship, ouercoming this Antichrist of Rome.

4 He foretelleth, that Antichrist (that is, whosoeuer he be that shal occupie that seate that falleth away from God) shal not reigne without the Church, but in the very bosome of the Church.

5 This prophecie was continually declared to the Auncient Church, but it was neglected of them that followed.

g What hindreth and stayeth.

6 Euen in the Apostles time the first foundations of the Apostatical seate were layde, but yet so, that they deceiued men.

7 He foretelleth, that when the empire of Rome is taken away, the seate that falleth away from God shall succeede and shall holde his place, as the olde writers, Tertullian, Chrysostome and Hierome doe expound it.

h He which is now in authoritie and raleth all, to wit, the Romane Empire.

8 That wickednesse shall atlength bee detected by the worde of the Lorde, and shall vtterly bee abolished by Christes comming.

i Worde for worde, that lawlesse fellow: that is to say, he that shall tread Gods Lawe cleane vnder foote. ✠ Isai. 11. 4.

k Bring to nought. l With his words, for the wise Ministers of the worde are as a mouth, whereby the Lord breatheth out that mightie & euerlasting word, which shall breake his enemies in sunder, as it were an yron rodde.

9 He foretelleth that Satan will bestowe all his might and power, and vse all false miracles that hee can to establish that seate, and ŷ with great successe, because the wickednes of the world doeth so deserue it: yet so, that only the vnfaithfull shal perish through his deceite.

m Which are partly false, and partly wrought to establish falsehoode. n A most mightie working to deceiue them. o They liked lies so well, that they had pleasure in them, which is the greatest malice that may be.

10 The elect shal stand fast and safe from all these malices: Now election is knowen by the fruites: Faith is gathered by sanctification: sith by that we accorde vnto the trueth, by calling, through the preaching of the Gospel: from whence we come at length to a certaine hope of glorification.

p To sanctifie you. q Faith which falleth holde not vpon lies, but vpon the trueth of God, which is the Gospel. r By our preaching.

11 The conclusion: It remaineth then, that wee continue in the doctrine which was deliuered vnto vs by the mouth and writings of the Apostles, through the free good wil of God, which comforteth vs with an inuincible hope, and also in all godlines our whole life long.

CHAP. III.

1 He desireth them to further the preaching of the Gospel with their prayers, 6 and to withdrawe themselues from those, who through idlenes, or else through peruerse couetousnes, 14 Whome he excludeth from the company of the faithfull.

FVrthermore, brethren, ✠ pray for vs, that the 1 worde of the Lorde may haue free passage & be glorified, euen as it is with you,

2 And that we may be deliuered from 2 vnreasonable

1 He addeth now consequently according to his manner, diuers admonitions: The first of them is, that they make prayers for the increase & free passage of the Gospel, and for the safetie of the faithfull ministers of the same. ✠ Ephes. 6. 18. Colos. 4. 3.

2 Which haue no care of their duetie.

sonable and euill men: 2 for all men haue not faith.

3 But the Lord is faithfull, which will stablish you, and keepe you from b euill.

4 3 And we are perswaded of you through the Lord, that ye both doe, and will doe the things which we warne you of.

5 4 And the Lorde guide your hearts to the loue of God, and the waiting for of Christ.

6 5 We warne you, brethren, in the Name of our Lorde Iesus Christ, that yee withdrawe your selues from euery brother that walketh inordinately, and not after the instruction, which he receiued of vs.

7 6 For ye your selues know, ✣ how ye ought to followe vs: ✣ for wee behaued not our selues inordinately among you,

8 Neither tooke wee bread of any man for nought: but we wrought with labour & trauaile night and day, because wee would not be chargeable to any of you.

9 Not because wee haue not authoritie, but that we might make our selues an ensample vnto you to followe vs.

10 For euen when we were with you, this wee warned you of, that if there were any, which would not worke, that he should c not eate.

11 For wee heare, that there are some which walke among 7 you inordinately, and worke not at all, 8 but are busie bodies.

12 9 Therefore them, that are such, wee warne and exhort by our Lorde Iesus Christ, that they worke with quietnes, and eate their owne bread.

13 10 And ye, brethren, be not weary in well doing.

14 11 If any man obey not this our saying in this letter, note him, & haue no 12 company with him, 13 that he may be ashamed.

15 14 Yet count him not as an enemie, but admonish him as a brother.

16 15 Nowe the Lorde himselfe of peace giue you peace alwayes by all meanes. The Lorde be with you all.

17 16 The salutation of mee Paul, with mine owne hand, which is the token in euery Epistle: so I write,

18 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you all, Amen.

2 It is no maruell that the Gospel is hated of so many, seeing that faith is a rare gift of God. Notwithstanding, the Church shal neuer be destroyed by the multitude of the wicked, because it is grounded and stayed vpon the faithfull promise of God. b From Satans snares, or from euill. 3 The second admonition is, that they followe alwaies the doctrine of the Apostles as a rule for their life. 4 Thirdly, he diligently and earnestly admonisheth them of two things which are giuen vs by the onely grace of God, to wit, of charitie, and a watchfull minde to the comming of Christ. 5 Fourthly, hee sayth, that idle and lasie persons ought not to be relieued of the Church, nay, that they are not to be suffered. 6 Least he might seeme to deale rudely with them, he setteth forth himselfe for an example, who besides his trauaile in preaching laboured with his hands, which he sayth he was not simply bound to doe. ✣ 2 Cor. 11. 1. ✣ 2. Thes. 4. 11. c What shall wee doe then with those idle bellied Monkes, and sacrificing Priests? A Monke (sayth Socrates, booke 8. of his Tripartite historie) which worketh not with hands, is like a theefe. 7 Howe great a fault idlenes is, hee declareth by that that God created no man in vaine or to no purpose, neither is there any vnto whome hee hath not allotted as it were a certaine standing and roome. Whereupon it followeth, that the order which God hath appointed, is troubled by the idle, yea broken, which is great sinne & wickednes. 8 Hee reprehendeth a vice, which is ioyned with the former, whereupon follow an infinite sort of mischeefes: to wit, that there are none more busie in other mens matters, then they which neglect their owne. 9 The Lord commandeth & the Apostles pray in the Name of Christ, first, that no man be idle, & next, that euery man doe quietly & carefully see to doe his duetie in that office and calling wherein the Lord hath placed him. 10 Wee must take heede, that some mens vnworthines cause vs not to be slacker in well doing. 11 Excommunication is a punishment for the obstinate. 12 We must haue no familiaritie nor felowship with the excomunicate. 13 The end of the excommunication is not the destruction, but the saluation of the sinner, that at least through shame he may be driuen to repentance. 14 We must so eschew familiaritie with the excommunicate, that we diligently seeke all occasions & meanes that may be to bring them againe into the right way. 15 Prayers are the seales of all exhortations. 16 The Apostle subscribeth his letters with his owne hand, that false letters might not be brought and put in place of true.

¶ The second Epistle to the Thessalonians, written from Athens.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAVL TO TIMOTHEVS.

CHAP. I.

Setting forth a perfect patterne of a true Pastor, whose office especially consisteth in teaching, 4 he warneth him that vaine questions set apart, he teache those things, 5 which further charitie and faith: 12 and that his authoritie be not contemned, 14 he sheweth what in one he is made through the grace of God.

1 First of all, he admoneth his owne free vocation and also Timothies, that the one might be confirmed by the other: and therewithall hee declareth 3 summe of the Apostolicall doctrine, to wit, the mercy of God in Christ Iesus apprehended by faith, the ende whereof is yet hoped for.

1 PAVL 1 an Apostle of IESVS CHRIST, by the ‖commandement of God our Sauiour, and of our Lord Iesus Christ our hope,

2 Vnto Timotheus my naturall sonne in the faith: Grace, 2 mercie, and peace from God our Father, and from Christ Iesus our Lord.

3 2 As I besought thee to abide still in Ephesus, when I departed into Macedonia, so doe, that thou mayest warne some, that they teache none other doctrine,

4 3 Neither that they giue heede to fables and b genealogies which are endlesse, which breede questions rather then godly edifying which is by faith.

5 4 ✣ For the ende of the c commandement is d loue out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith vnfained.

6 5 From the which things some haue erred, and haue turned vnto vaine iangling

7 6 They would be doctours of the Law, and yet vnderstande not what they speake, neither whereof they affirme.

8 7 And we know, that the Lawe is good, if a man vse it lawfully,

9 8 Knowing this, that the Lawe is not giuen vnto a c righteous man, but vnto the lawlesse and disobedient, to the vngodly, & to e sinners, to the vnholy, and to the prophane, to murtherers of fathers and mothers, to manslayers,

10 To whoremongers, to buggerers, to menstealers, to lyars, to h periured, and if there be any other thing 9 is contrary to wholesome doctrine, 11 10 Which is according to the glorious Gospel of the blessed God, 10 which is committed vnto me.

1 Or, ordinance. a There is as much difference betwixt mercy and grace, as is betwixt the effect, & the cause: For grace is that free good will of God, whereby he chose vs in Christ, and mercy is that free satisfaction which is in him. 2 This whole Epistle consisteth in admonitions, whereto all the dueties of a faithfull Pastour are lively set out. And the first admonition is this, that no inuention be made either in y Apostles doctrine it selfe, or in the maner of teaching it. 3 The doctrine is corrupted not onely by false opinions, but also by vaine and curious speculations: the declaration and vtterance whereof can nothing helpe our faith. 4 Hee meeteth with one kinde of vaine questions. 4 The second admonition is, that the right vse & practise of the doctrine must be ioyned with the doctrine. And that consisteth in pure charitie, and a good conscience, and true faith. ✣ Rom. 13. 10. ✣ Of the Law. d There is neither loue without a good conscience, nor a good conscience without faith, nor faith without the worde of God. 5 That which he spake before generally of vaine and curious controuersies, he applieth to them, which pretending a zeale of the Law, dwelled vpon outward things, and neuer made an ende of babbling of foolish trifles. 6 There are none more vnlearned, & more impudent in vsurping the name of holines, then foolish Sophistical babblers. 7 The taking away of an obiection. He condemneth not the Law, but requireth the right vse & practise of it. 8 He in deede escapeth the curse of the Law, and therefore doeth not abhorre it, who loueing & eschewing those things which the Law condemneth, giueth himselfe with all his heart to obserue it. And he that maketh a vaine babbling of outward and curious matters. e And such one is he, whom the Lord hath indued with true doctrine, & with the holy Ghost. f To such as make an arte as it were of sinning. 9 He setteth against fond & vaine babbling, not only the Law, but the Gospel also, which condemneth not, but greatly commendeth the wholesome doctrine conteined in the commandements of God, and therefore he calleth it a glorious Gospel, & the Gospel of the blessed God, the vertue whereof these babblers knowe not. 10 A reason why neither any other Gospel is to be taught then hee hath taught in the Church, neither after any other sort, because there is no other Gospel beside that, which God committed to him.

11 He mainteineth of necessitie his Apostleship against some that did carpe at his former life, defacing himselfe euen to hell, to aduance Christs onely mercie, wherewith he abolished all those his former doings. g Which gaue me strength, not onely when I had no will to doe well, but also when I was wholly giuen to euill. h These are the preparatiue workes which Paul bragged of.

12 He proueth this change by the effects, for that, that he that was a prophane man, is become a beleeuer. & hee that did most outragiously persecute Christ, burneth now in loue towards him.

13 He turneth the reproche of the aduersaries vpon their owne head, shewing that this singular example of the goodnesse of God, redoundeth to the commoditie of the whole Church. i Worthie to be beleeued. ✣ Matth.9.12 marke 2.17. 14 He breaketh out into an exclamation, euen for very zeale of mind, for that he cannot satisfie himselfe in amplifying the grace of God. k Looke Iohn 17.3. 15 The conclusion of both the former fatherly admonitions, to wit, that Timothie striuing manfully against all letters, being called to the ministerie according to many prophecies which went before of him, should both mainteine the doctrine which hee had receiued, and keep also a good conscience. l By the helpe of them. m Wholesome and sounde doctrine.

16 Whosoeuer keepe not a good conscience, do lose also by little and little the gift of vnderstanding: which hee prooueth by two most lamentable examples. ✣ 1 Cor 5.5. 17 Such as fall from God, and his religion, are not to be suffered in the Church, but rather ought to be excommunicated. n Cast out of the Church, and so deliuered them to Satan. o That by their smart they might learne what it is to blaspheme.

12 11 Therefore I thanke him, which hath made me g strong, that is, Christ Iesus our Lord: for he counted me faithfull, h and put mee in his seruice:

13 When before I was a i blasphemer, and a persecuter, and an oppresser: but I was receiued to mercie: for I did it ignorantly through vnbeliefe.

14 But the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant 12 with faith and loue, which is in Christ Iesus.

15 13 This is a true saying, and by all meanes worthy to be receiued, that k Christ Iesus came into l world to saue sinners, of whom I am chiefe.

16 Notwithstanding, for this cause was I receiued to mercie, that Iesus Christ should first shew on mee all long suffering, vnto the ensample of them, which shal in time to come beleeue in him vnto eternall life.

17 14 Nowe vnto the King euerlasting, immortall, inuisible, vnto God k onely wise, be honour and glorie, for euer, and euer, Amen.

18 15 This commandement commit I vnto thee, sonne Timotheus, according to the prophecies, which went before vpon thee, that thou by them shouldest fight a good fight, 19 Hauing m faith and a good conscience, 16 which some haue put away, and as concerning faith, haue made shipwracke.

20 Of whome is Hymeneus, and Alexander, ✣ 17 whome I haue n deliuered vnto Satan, that they might o learne not to blaspheme.

CHAP. II.

1 He exhorteth them to make publike prayers for all men, 4 and that for two causes: 8 And therefore hee willeth all men in all places to pray, 9 And declareth in what apparell 11 and with what modestie, women ought to behaue themselues in holy assemblies.

1 Hauing disputed those things which pertaine to doctrine, he speaketh nowe in the second place of the other part of the ministerie of the worde, to wit, of publike prayers. And first of all, declaring this question, for whom we ought to pray: hee teacheth that we must pray for all men, and especially for al maner of magistrates. Which thing was at that time somewhat doubted of, seeing that Kings, yea and the most part of magistrates were at that time enemies of the Church. 2 An argument taken of the end: to wit, because that Magistrates are appointed to this end, that men might peaceably and quietly liue in all godlinesse & honestie, and therefore must we commend them especially to God, that they may faithfully execute so necessary an office. a This worde conteineth all kinde of duetie, which is to be vsed towardes men in all their affaires. 3 An other argument, why Churches or Congregations ought to pray for all men, without any difference of nation, kinde, age, or order: to wit, because the Lord by calling of all sortes, yea sometime those that are greatest enemies to the Gospel, will haue his Church gathered together after this sort, and therefore prayers to be made for all.

I Exhort therefore, that first of all supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giuing of thanks be made for all men,

2 For Kings, and for all that are in authoritie, that we may leade a quiet and a peaceable life, in all godlinesse and a honestie.

3 For this is good & acceptable in the sight of God our Sauiour, 4 Who will that all men shalbe saued, and come vnto the acknowledging of the trueth.

5 4 For there is one God, and one Mediatour betweene God and men, which is the b man Christ Iesus,

6 Who gaue himselfe a ransome for all men, 5 to be that testimonie in due time,

7 6 Whereunto I am ordeined a preacher and an Apostle (I speake c trueth in Christ, & lie not) euen a teacher of the Gentiles in d faith & veritie.

8 e I will therefore that the men pray, euery where f lifting vp pure hands without g wrath, or h doubting.

9 ✣ 7 Likewise also the women, that they aray themselues in comely apparell, with shamefastnes and modestie, not with broyded haire, or gold, or pearles, or costly apparell,

10 But (as becommeth women that professe the feare of God) with good workes.

11 Let the woman learne in silence with all subiection.

12 ✣ I permit not a woman to teach, 8 neither to vsurpe authoritie ouer the man, but to be in silence.

13 9 For x Adam was first formed, then Eue.

14 ✣ 10 And Adam was not y deceiued, but the woman was deceiued, and was in the transgression.

15 11 Notwithstanding, through bearing of childrē she shalbe saued if they continue in faith, and loue, and holines with modestie.

c Faithfully and sincerely: and by such hee meaneth wholesome and sound doctrine, and by trueth, an vpright and sincere handling of it. 6 He hath spoken of the persons for whom we must pray: and now he teacheth that the difference of places is taken away: for in times past, one onely nation, and in one certaine place, came together to publike service: but nowe Churches or Congregations are gathered together euery where, (orderly and decently) & men come together to serue God publikely with common prayer, neither must we striue for the station, or for the purification of the body, or for the place, but for the minde to haue it cleane from all offence, and full of sure trust and confidence. d Hee putteth the signe for the thing is selfe, the lifting vp of handes for the calling vpon God. e Without these griefes and offences of the minde, which hinder vs from calling vpon God with a good conscience. f Doubting which is against faith, Iam.1.6. ✣ 1 Pet.3.3. 7 Thirdly he appointeth women to learne in the publike assemblies with silence and modestie, being comely apparelled without any riot or excesse in their apparell. ✣ 1.Cor.14.34. 8 The first argument, why it is not lawfull for women to teache in the Congregation, because by this means they should be placed aboue men, for they should be their masters: which is against Gods ordinance. 9 Hee proueth this ordinance of God, whereby the woman is subiect to man, first by that, that God made the woman after man, for mans sake. ✣ Gen.1.27.and 2.7,21. ✣ Gen.3. 10 Then, because that after sinne, God inioyned the woman this punishment, for that the man was deceiued by her. g Adam was deceiued, but through his wiues meanes, and therefore she is worthily for this cause subiect to her husband, and ought so to be. 11 Hee addeth a comfort by the way, that their subiection hindereth not but that women may be saued as well as men, if they behaue themselues in their burdens of marriage holily and modestly, with faith and charitie.

CHAP. III.

1 He setteth out Bishops, 8 and Christian Deacons, with their wiues, 12 children and familie: 15 hee calleth the Church the house of God.

1 Hauing disputed the treatise, as wel of doctrine and of the manner of handling of it, as also of publike prayer, he nowe in the thirde place commeth to the persons themselues, speaking first of Pastours, and afterwarde of Deacons, and hee vseth a preface, that the Church may knowe that these bee certeine and sure rules. 2 A Bishoprieke or the ministerie of the ouersight is not an idle dignitie, but a worke and that an excellent worke; and therefore a Bishoppe must be furnished with many vertues both at home and abroade. Wherefore it is requisite before hee bee chosen, to examine well his learning, his giftes, and ablenesse, and his life. a He speaketh not here of outward learning, when the which there cannot bee a worse shall in the Church, but generally of the minde and disposition of man framed and disposed to helpe and aduise the Church of God, when and where soeuer it shall please the Lord. ✣ Tit.2.6. b Therefore hee that shutteth out married men from the office of Bishops, must because they are tied to, be Antichrist.

1 Hauing disputed those things which pertaine to doctrine, he speaketh nowe in the second place of the other part of the ministerie of the worde, to wit, of publike prayers. And first of all, declaring this question, for whom we ought to pray: hee teacheth that we must pray for all men, and especially for al maner of magistrates, Which thing was at that time somewhat doubted of, seeing that Kings, yea and the most part of magistrates were at that time enemies of the Church. 2 An argument taken of the end: to wit, because that Magistrates are appointed to this end, that men might peaceably and quietly liue in all godlinesse & honestie, and therefore must we commend them especially to God, that they may faithfully execute so necessary an office. a This worde conteineth all kinde of duetie, which is to be vsed towardes men in all their affaires. 3 An other argument, why Churches or Congregations ought to pray for all men, without any difference of nation, kinde, age, or order: to wit, because the Lord by calling of all sortes, yea sometime those that are greatest enemies to the Gospel, will haue his Church gathered together after this sort, and therefore prayers to be made for all.

12 ¹⁴ Let no man deſpiſe thy youth, but be vnto them that beleeue, an enſample, in word, in cōuerſation, in loue, in ſpirit, in faith & in pureneſſe.
13 ¹⁵ Till I come, giue attendance to reading, to exhortation, and to doctrine.
14 Deſpiſe not the gift that is in thee, which was giuen thee by prophecie with the laying on of the hands of the companie of the Elderſhip.
15 Theſe things exerciſe, and giue thy ſelf vnto them, that it may be ſeene howe thou profiteſt among all men.
16 Take heede vnto thy ſelfe, and vnto learning: continue therein: for in doing this thou ſhalt both ʰ ſaue thy ſelfe, & them that heare thee.

a From the true doctrine of God. 2 Although heretikes counterfeit holines neuer ſo much, yet haue they no conſcience. b For they will as it were practiſe the art of diſcuſed perſons and players, that we may not think they wil lie lurking in ſome one corner, or keep any reſemblance of ſhamefaſtnes. c Whoſe conſcience waxed ſo hard, that there grew an hard ſkinne ouer it, & ſo became to haue a couller in it, and now at length required of vnto neceſſitie to be burned with an hote yron.

3 Forbidding to marrie, and commaunding to abſteine from meates ⁴ which God hath created ⁵ to be receiued ⁶ with giuing thanks of them which beleeue and know the trueth.
4 7 For euery creature of God is good, and nothing ought to be refuſed, if it be receiued with thankeſgiuing.
5 ⁸ For it is ᵈ ſanctified by the ᵉ word of God, and prayer.
6 ⁹ If thou put the brethren in remembrance of theſe things, thou ſhalt be a good miniſter of Ieſus Chriſt, which haſt bene nourished vp in the wordes of faith, and of good doctrine, which thou haſt continually ᶠ followed.
7 ¹⁰ But caſt away prophane, and olde wiues fables, ¹¹ and exerciſe thy ſelfe vnto ᵍ godlines.
8 ¹² For bodily exerciſe profiteth litle: but godlines is profitable vnto all things, which hath the promes of the life preſent, and of that that is to come.
9 ¹³ This is a true ſaying, and by all meanes worthy to be receiued.
10 For therefore we labour and are rebuked, becauſe we truſt in the liuing God, which is the Sauiour of al men, ſpecially of thoſe that beleeue.
11 Theſe things warne and teach.
12 ¹⁴ Let no man deſpiſe thy youth, but be vnto them that beleeue, an enſample, in word, in cōuerſation, in loue, in ſpirit, in faith & in pureneſſe.
13 ¹⁵ Till I come, giue attendance to reading, to exhortation, and to doctrine.
14 Deſpiſe not the gift that is in thee, which was giuen thee by prophecie with the laying on of the hands of the companie of the Elderſhip.
15 Theſe things exerciſe, and giue thy ſelf vnto them, that it may be ſeene howe thou profiteſt among all men.
16 Take heede vnto thy ſelfe, and vnto learning: continue therein: for in doing this thou ſhalt both ʰ ſaue thy ſelfe, & them that heare thee.

9 Hee ſetteth downe two kinds of this falſe doctrine, to wit, the Lawe of ſole life, and difference of meates.
4 He prooueth that he iuſtly called ſuch doctrines deuiliſh, firſt, becauſe the teachers of them make lawes of things which are not their owne: for haue they created the meates?
5 Secondly, becauſe they ouerthrow with their decrees, the ende wherefore they were created of God, to wit, ỹ we ſhould vſe them.
6 Thirdly, for that by this meanes they robbe God of his glory, who wil be honoured in the vſe of them. And herewithall the Apoſtle declareth that we muſt vſe the liberalitie of God, ſoberly, and with a good conſcience.
7 He ſetteth an Apoſtolicall rule, for taking away the difference of meates, againſt that falſe doctrine.
8 He vſeth Gods benefites rightly, which acknowledgeth the giuer of them by his worde, and calleth vpon him. d It is ſo made pure and holy in reſpect of vs, ſo that wee may vſe it with a good conſcience, as receiued at the Lordes hande. e Wee confeſſe and acknowledge that God is the maker and giuer of thoſe creatures which wee vſe. Secondly, that wee are of the number of thoſe, who through Chriſtes beneſite, haue recouered that right ouer all creatures, which Adam loſt by his fall. Thirdly, by our prayers we crane of the Lorde, that we may vſe thoſe meates with a good conſcience, which we receiue at his hander. Fourthly, wee make an ende of our eating and drinking, with thankeſgiuing and prayer: and ſo are our meates ſanctified to vs. 9 The concluſion with an exhortation to Timothie, to propound theſe thinges diligently to the Churches, which hee had ſucked of the Apoſtle, euen in a manner from the teate. f Neuer departing from the ſide of it. 10, Hee ſetteth againe the doctrine not onely againſt that falſe and apoſtaticall doctrine, but alſo againſt all vaine and curious ſubtilties. 11 It is not onely requiſite that the Miniſter of the worde bee ſounde in doctrine, but alſo that his life be godly and religious. g In the true ſeruing of God. 12 Godlineſſe conſiſteth in ſpirituall exerciſe, and not in outwarde auſteritie of life, which though it be ſomething to bee accounted of, if it be rightly vſed, yet is it in no wiſe comparable with godlineſſe. For it profiteth not of it ſelfe, but through the benefit of another, but this hath the promiſe both of the life preſent, and of that that is to come. 13 He goeth a litle from his matter, and ſheweth that they which giue themſelues to godlineſſe, although they are afflicted and reproched, are notwithſtanding not to be counted miſerable as other men are, becauſe they are not afflicted for that cauſe that other men are, and the ende of them both is farre different one from the other. For howe can God forſake his, which is bountifull euen towardes his enemies? And hee willeth that this doctrine bee well heated into their heads. 14 Nowe hee returneth to that exhortation, ſhewing which are the vertues of a Paſtour, whereby he may come to bee reuerenced although hee bee but young, to wit, ſuch ſpeech and life as are witneſſes of charitie, zeale, faith, and puritie: but here is no mention made of the croſier ſtaffe, ring, cloke, and ſuch other fooliſh and childiſh toyes. 15 The priuate exerciſe of Paſtours, is continuall reading of the Scriptures, whenceout they may draw matter of whole ſome doctrine and exhortation, both to themſelues and to other.
b Faith is by hearing, and hearing by preaching: and therefore the miniſters of the worde are ſo ſayde to ſaue themſelues and other, for that in them the Lorde hath put the worde of reconciliation.

CHAP. V.

1 Hauing set downe a maner howe to rebuke all degrees, 5 he entreateth of widowes, who then were chosen for the seruice of the Church: 17 Then he commaundeth to Elders, 23 and speaketh somewhat touching the health of the body.

1 Rebuke [1] not an Elder, but exhort him as a father, and the yonger men as brethren,

2 The elder women as mothers, the yonger as sisters, with all pureneſſe.

3 [2] Honour widowes, which are widowes in deede.

4 [3] But if any widowe haue children or nephewes, let them learne firſt to ſhewe godlines toward their owne houſe, and [4] to recompenſe their kinred: [5] for that is an honeſt thing and acceptable before God.

5 [7] And ſhe that is a widowe in deede and left alone, truſteth in God, and continueth in ſupplications and prayers night and day.

6 [8] But ſhee that liueth in pleaſure, is dead, while ſhe liueth.

7 Theſe thinges therefore warne them of, that they may be blameleſſe.

8 If there bee any that prouideth not for his owne, and namely for them of his houſeholde, he denieth the faith, and is worſe then an infidell.

9 [9] Let not a widow be taken into the number vnder three ſcore yeere olde, that hath beene the wife of [b] one husband,

10 And well reported of for good workes: if ſhe haue nouriſhed her children, if ſhe haue lodged the ſtrangers, if ſhe haue [c] waſhed the Saints feet, if ſhe haue miniſtred vnto them which were in aduerſitie, if ſhe were continually giuen vnto euery good worke.

11 [10] But [d] refuſe the yonger widowes: for when they haue begun to waxe wanton againſt Chriſt, they will marrie, 12 Hauing damnation, becauſe they haue broken the firſt faith.

13 [11] And likewiſe alſo being idle they learne to goe about from houſe to houſe: yea they are not onely idle, but alſo pratlers and buſibodies, ſpeaking things which are not comely.

14 [12] I will therefore that the yonger women marry, and beare children, & gouerne the houſe, & giue none occaſion to the aduerſary to ſpeake euill.

15 For certaine are alreadie turned backe after Satan.

16 [13] If any faithfull man, or faithfull woman haue widowes, let them miniſter vnto them, and let not the Church bee charged, that there may be ſufficient for them that are widowes in deede.

17 ¶ [14] The Elders that rule well, let them be had in [e] double honour, [f] ſpecially they which labour in the worde and doctrine.

18 For the Scripture ſaieth, ✣ Thou ſhalt not mouſell the mouth of the oxe that treadeth out the corne: and, ✣ The labourer is woorthie of his wages.

19 [15] Againſt an Elder receiue none accuſation, but vnder two or three witneſſes.

20 [16] Them that ſinne, rebuke openly, that the reſt alſo may feare.

21 ¶ ∴ [17] I charge thee before God and the Lord Ieſus Chriſt, & the elect Angels, that thou obſerue theſe things without preferring one to another, and doe nothing partially.

22 [18] Lay handes [g] ſuddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other mens ſinnes: keepe thy ſelfe pure.

23 [19] Drinke no longer water, but vſe a litle wine for thy ſtomackes ſake, and thine often infirmities.

24 [20] Some mens ſinnes are open before hand, and go before vnto iudgement: but ſome mens followe after.

25 [21] Likewiſe alſo the good workes are manifeſt before hand, and they that are otherwiſe, cannot be hid.

1 Of keeping meaſure in priuate reprehenſions according to the degrees of ages and kinds. 2 The Apoſtle giueth theſe rules touching the care of widowes. a Haue care of thoſe widowes which haue neede of helpe. 3 Widowes children and nephewes muſt take care for their parents, according to their habilitie. 4 The firſt reaſon, becauſe that, that which they beſtow vpon theirs, they beſtow it vpon themſelues. 5 Another, becauſe nature it ſelfe teacheth vs to recompenſe our parents. 6 The third, becauſe this ductifulneſſe pleaſeth God. 7 The ſecond rule: Let the Church haue care of ſuch as are widowes in deede, that is to ſay, ſuch as are poore and deſtitute of helpe of their own friends, and liue godly and religiouſly. 8 The third rule: Let widowes that liue in pleaſure, and neglect the care of their owne familie, be holden and accompted as fallers away from God and his religion, and worſe then very infidels. 9 The fourth rule: Let none vnder three ſcore yeeres olde, be taken into the number of widowes, to ſerue the Congregations or Churches, and ſuch as are free from all reproch of vnchaſtitie, and are well reported of, for their diligence, charitie, and integritie. b That hath had no more huſbandes, but one at one time. c This is ſpoken in reſpect of the maner of thoſe countries. 10 The firſt reaſon why yonger widowes are not to be admitted to this miniſterie, to wit, becauſe for the lightneſſe of their age, they will at length ſhake off the burden that Chriſt hath laide vpon them, and thinke rather vpon marrying againe: and ſo will forſake the miniſterie whereunto they had bounde themſelues. d Take them not into the colledge of widowes. 11 Another reaſon: becauſe they are for the moſt parte pratlers and buſie-bodies, and gadders vp and downe neglecting their charge and duetie. 12 The fifth rule: Let yonger widowes marrie and gouerne their houſes godly. 13 The ſixth rule: Let the faithfull helpe their widowes at their owne charges as much as they can, and let not the Congregation be burdened with theſe expenſes. 14 Now he giueth rules, and ſheweth howe he ought to behaue himſelfe with the Elders, that is to ſay, with the Paſtours and ſuch as haue the gouernance in the diſcipline of the Church, which is preſident of their companie. The firſt rule: Let the Church or Congregation ſee vnto this eſpeciallie, as God himſelfe hath commaunded, that the Elders that doe their duetie well, be honeſtly maintained. e We muſt be more carefull for them, then for the reſt. f There were two kindes of Elders, the one attended vpon the gouernment onely, and looked to the maners of the Congregation, the other did beſide that, attend vpon preaching and prayers, to and for the Congregation. ✣ Deuteronomie 25.4. 1 Corinth. 9.9. ✣ Matthew 10.10. Luke 10.7. 15 The ſecond rule: Let no accuſation bee admitted againſt an Elder, but vnder two or three witneſſes. 16 The third rule: Let the Elders ſo conuicted be rebuked openly, that they may be an example to other. ∴ (chapter 6.13. 17 The fourth rule: Let ſinceritie be vſed without any preiudice or reſpect of perſons in Eccleſiaſtical proceedings (eſpecially againſt the Elders) becauſe God himſelfe is there preſent, and the Lorde Ieſus Chriſt with a multitude of Angels. 18 The fifth rule: Let the miniſter lay handes ſuddenly on no man. Let him not bee faultie herein either by fauouring any mans follie, or peruerſe affection: If ought be done otherwiſe then well of his fellowes, let him keepe his conſcience pure. g As much as in them lyeth do not raſhly admit any whatſoeuer, to any Eccleſiaſticall function. 19 The ſixt rule: Let the Elders haue indifferent conſideration of their health, in the manner of their diet. 20 Becauſe hypocrites ſometimes creepe into the miniſterie, although there be neuer ſo great diligence vſed, the Apoſtle willeth the Paſtours not to be troubled therefore, or ſlake any whit of their diligence in trying and examining, becauſe the Lord hath appointed a time to diſcouer the faultes of ſuch men, and it is our partes to take heede that we offend not therein. 21 Another comfort belonging to them, which ſometimes are ſlaundered and miſreported of.

CHAP. VI.

1 He ſheweth the duetie of ſeruants: 10 and what a miſchieuous euill couetouſnes is: 13 (and hauing ſpoken ſomewhat of rich men, he once againe forbiddeth Timothie 20 to cumber himſelfe with vaine babblings.)

1 Let [1] as many ſeruants as are vnder the yoke, count their maſters woorthie of all honour, [2] that the Name of God, and his doctrine be not euill ſpoken of.

2 [3] And they which haue beleeuing maſters, let them not deſpiſe them, becauſe they are brethren, but rather doe ſeruice, becauſe they are faithfull, and beloued, and [a] partakers of the benefite. a Theſe things teach and exhort.

1 He addeth alſo rules for the ſeruants touching their duetie towards their maſters: whereupon no doubt there were many queſtions moued by them, which tooke occaſion by the Goſpel to trouble the common ſtate. And this is the firſt rule: Let ſeruantes that are come to the faith and haue infidelles to their maſters, ſerue them not withſtanding with great fidelitie. 2 The reaſon: leſt God ſhoulde ſeeme by the doctrine of the Goſpell to ſtirre vp men to rebellion and all wickedneſſe. 3 The ſecond rule: Let not ſeruantes that are come to the faith, and haue alſo maſters of the ſame profeſſion and religion, abuſe the name of brotherhood, but let them ſo much the rather obey them. a Let this be ſufficient, that as touching thoſe thinges which pertaine to euerlaſting life, they are partakers of the ſame good will and loue of God, as their maſters themſelues are. 4 A generall concluſion, that theſe things ought not onely to be ſimplie taught, but muſt with exhortations be diligently beaten into their heads.

5 He condemneth severely and excommunicateth or casteth out of the Church all proude men, such as content not themselues with Christes doctrine, (that is to say, the doctrine of godlines) but wearie both themselues and others, in vaine questions, (for all other things are vaine) because they content not themselues in Christes doctrine: and as lying deceiuers, because they sauour or sound of nothing but vanitie: as mad men, because they trouble themselues so much in matters of nothing: as mischieuous plagues, for that they cause great contentions, and corrupt mens mindes and iudgement: to be short, as prophane and wicked, because they abuse the precious name of godlinesse and religion, to filthie lucre.

3 5 If any man teach otherwise, and consenteth not to the wholesome wordes of our Lorde Iesus Christ, and to the doctrine, which is according to godlinesse,

4 Hee is puft vp and knoweth nothing, but doteth about questions and [b] strife of wordes, whereof commeth enuie, strife, railings, euil surmisings,

5 Froward [c] disputations of men of corrupt mindes and destitute of the trueth, which thinke that gaine is godlines: from such separat thy selfe.

6 6 But godlinesse is great gaine, if a man be content with that he hath.

7 7 For we brought nothing into the world, and it is certaine, that we can carrie nothing out.

8 Therefore when wee haue foode and rayment, let vs therewith be content.

9 8 For they that will be rich, fall into tentation and snares, and into many foolish and noysome lustes, which drowne men in perdition and destruction.

10 For the desire of money is the roote of all euill, which while some lusted after, they erred from the faith, and [d] pearced themselues through with many sorowes.

11 9 But thou, O [e] man of God, flee these things, and follow after righteousnesse, godlines, faith, loue, patience, and meekenesse.

12 Fight the good fight of faith: lay hold of eternall life, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.

13 ✣ 10 I charge thee in the sight of God, who quickeneth all thinges, and before Iesus Christ, which vnder Pontius Pilate ✣ witnessed a good confession,

14 That thou keepe this commaundement without spot, and vnrebukeable, vntill the appearing of our Lord Iesus Christ, 15 Which in due time he shall shew, that is [f] blessed and Prince onely, the King of kings and Lord of lordes, 16 Who onely hath immortalitie, and dwelleth in the light that none can attaine vnto, ✣ whom neuer man sawe, neither can see, vnto whom be honour and power euerlasting, Amen.

17 11 Charge thē that are rich in this world, that they be not high minded, and ỹ they ✣ trust not in vncertaine riches, but in the [h] liuing God, (which giueth vs abundantly al things to enioy)

18 That they doe good, and be rich in good works, and be ready to distribute, & cōmunicate, 19 ✣ 12 Laying vp in store for themselues a good foundation against the time to come, that they may obtaine eternall life.

20 13 O Timotheus, keepe that which is committed vnto thee, and auoyde prophane and vaine babblings, and oppositions of science falsly so called,

21 Which while some [i] professe, they haue erred concerning the faith. Grace be with thee, Amen.

a Sent of God to preach that life, which he promised in Christ Iesu.

b Strifings about wordes, and not about matter: and by wordes he meaneth all those things which haue no pith in them, and whereby wee can reape no profite. c Such as we see in those shamelesse schooles of Poperie, which are nothing else but vaine babbling & prating. 6 He turneth away fitly the name of gaine and lucre, confessing that godlines is great gaine, but farre after an other sort, to wit, because it bringeth true sufficiencie. 7 Hee mocketh their follie, which do so greedily gape after fraile things, that they can in no wise be satisfied, and yet notwithstanding they cannot enioy that excesse. 8 He fraieth Timothie from couetousnesse after another sort, to wit, because it draweth with it an infinite sort of lustes, and those very hurtful, wherewith couetous men do torment themselues so farre foorth, that in the ende they cast away from them their faith & saluation. d Sorow and griefe do as it were pearce through the mind of man, and are the barneth and true frigites of couetousnesse. 9 A peculiar exhortation to diuers vertues, wherewith it behoueth the Pastours especially to be furnished. e Whom the Spirit of God ruleth.

Chap 5.21.

10 A most earnest request & charge, to obserue & keep all the premisses faithfully, with our eyes set vpon the comming of Iesus Christ, whose glorie we haue to set against the vaine glistering of this world, and his power, against all the terrours of the wicked.

✣ Mat. 19.11. Iohn 18.37.

f He heapeth many words together, to one purpose: whereby he voucheth the power of God, which if we sticke fast vnto, we shall not be mooued out of our standings.

ỹ (hap. 1.11. 1 Cor. 1.7. 14. and 19.16.

✣ Iohn 8.18.

11 He addeth for an ouerplus as it were, a sharpe admonition to the rich, that they chiefely take heed of two mischiefes, to wit, of pride, & deceitfull hope, against which he setteth three excellent vertues, hope in the liuing God, liberalitie towards their neighbour, & gentle conditions. g In things pertaining to this life, with whom those men are compared, which are rich in good works. ✣ Mat. 6.19. Luke 12.15. h Who only is, and that euerlasting: for he setteth the fraile nature of riches against God. ✣ Matth. 6.2. 13 The praise of liberalitie, by the effectes thereof: because it is a sure testimonie of the Spirite of God which dwelleth in vs, and therefore of the saluation that shall be giuen vs. 13 Hee rehearseth the chiefest of all the former exhortations, which ought to be deepely imprinted in the mindes of all ministers of the worde, to witte, that they eschewe all vaine babblings of sophistrie, and continue in the simplicitie of sincere doctrine.

i Not only in word, but also in countenance and gesture: to be short, whiles their behauiour was such, that euen when they held their peace, they would make men beleeue, their heads were occupied about nothing but the ordinarie weightie matters, euen then they erred concerning the faith.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAVL TO TIMOTHEVS.

CHAP. I.

3 He commendeth Timothie faith, 6 and exhorteth him to go on faithfully in the charge committed vnto him. 8 And that neither for his bondes, 15 nor the reuolting of others, he faint. 12 He triumpheth of his Apostleship. 14 He willeth him to haue care of the thing committed vnto him, 16 and praiseth Onesiphorus.

PAul an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the will of God, [a] according to the promise of life which is in Christ Iesus,

2 To Timotheus my beloued sonne: Grace, mercie and peace from God the Father, and from Iesus Christ our Lord.

3 [b] I thanke God, ✣ whome I serue from mine [b] elders with pure conscience, that without ceasing I haue remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day,

4 Desiring to see thee, mindful of thy teares, that I may be filled with ioy:

5 When I call to remembrance the vnfained faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice, and am assured that it dwelleth in thee also.

6 [c] Wherefore, I put thee in remembrance that thou [c] stirre vp the gift of God which is in thee, by the putting on of mine handes.

7 For God hath not giuen to vs the Spirite of [d] feare, but of power, and of loue, and of a sound mind.

8 [e] Be not therefore ashamed of the testimo-a Sent of God to preach that life, which he promised in Christ Iesus.

b From Abraham, Isaac and Iacob: for he speaketh not of Ismaelites, but of Christians.

c The gift of God is as it were a certaine liuely flame kindled in our hearts, which the flesh and the deuill go about to put out and therefore we on the contrary side must labour as much as we can to stirre and keepe it burning.

2 He warneth vs to set the inuincible power of the Spirit, which God hath giuen vs, against those stormes which may and do come vpon vs.

d To feare vs through, and terrifie vs, as men whom the Lord will destroy.

3 He propoundeth that the ignominie or shame of the crosse is not onely not to be ashamed of, but also that it is glorious and most honourable: first, because the Gospel whereof the godly are afflicted, is the testimonie of Christ: and secondly, because at length the great vertue and power of God appeareth in them.

nie

nie of our Lorde, neither of me his prisoner: but be partaker of the afflictions of the f Gospel according to the g power of God,

9 4 Who hath saued vs, and called vs with an † holy calling, not according to our † workes, but according to his owne purpose and grace, which was h giuen to vs through Christ Iesus before the : world was,

10 But is nowe made manifest by that appearing of our Sauiour Iesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortalitie vnto k light through the Gospel, 11 * 5 Wherunto I am appointed a preacher, and Apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 6 For the which cause I also suffer these things, 7 but I am not ashamed: for I know whom I haue beleeued, and I am perswaded that he is able to keep that which I haue committed to him against that day.

13 8 Keepe the true paterne of the wholesome wordes, which thou hast heard of me in faith and loue which is in Christ Iesus.

14 9 That worthie thing, which was committed to thee, keepe 10 through the holy Ghost, which dwelleth in vs.

15 11 This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia, be turned from me: of which sort are Phygellus and Hermogenes.

16 The Lord giue mercie vnto the house of Onesiphorus: for he oft refreshed mee, and was not ashamed of my chaine, 17 But when he was at Rome, he sought mee out very diligently, and found me.

18 The Lorde graunt vnto him, that hee may finde mercie with the Lorde at that day, and in howe many things he hath ministred vnto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

e For his sake.
f The Gospel after a sort is saide to be afflicted in them that preach it.
g Through the power of God.
4 Hee sheweth with howe great benefits God hath bound vs to maintein e boldly and constantly his glorie which is ioyned with our saluation, and reckoneth vp the causes of our saluation, to wit, that free and eternall purpose of God to saue vs in Christ which was to come, whereby it should come to passe, that wee should at length be freely called of God by the preaching of the Gospel, to Christ the destroyer of death and authour of immortalitie.
† 1. Cor. 1. 2.
h Tit. 1. 3.
5 Hee saith that that grace was giuen vs from euerlasting, vnto which we were predestinate from euerlasting. So that the doctrine of foreseene faith and foreseene workes, is cleane contrary to the doctrine which preacheth and teacheth the grace of God. : Before that course of yeeres, which hath runne on euer since the beginning of the world. : Rom. 16. 25. Ephe. 1. 4. col. 1. 26. tit. 1. 2.
k Hath caused life & immortalitie to appeare. * 1. Tim. 2. 7.
6 That is, the Gospel which the Apostle preached.
7 Hee confirmeth his Apostleship by a strange argument, to wit, because the world could not abide it, & therefore it persecuted him that preached it.
8 By setting his own example before vs, he sheweth vs how it may be, that we shal not be ashamed of the crosse of Christ, to wit, if we be sure that God both can and will keepe the saluation which hee hath as it were layde vp in store by himselfe for vs against that day.
9 Hee sheweth wherin he ought to be most constant, to wit, both in the doctrine it selfe, the abridgement whereof is faith and charitie, and next in the maner of teaching it, a liuely paterne and shape whereof Timothie knew in the Apostle.
10 An amplification, taken of the dignitie of so great a benefite committed to the ministers.
11 The taking away of an obiection. It is an hard thing to doe it, but the Spirit of God is mightie, who hath inwardly indued vs with his vertue.
11 Hee preuenteth an offence which arose by the meanes of certaine that fell from God and the religion, and vttereth also their names that they might be knowen of all men. But he setteth against them the singular faith of one man, that one only good example might counterpoyse and weigh downe all euil examples.

CHAP. II.

2 The better to set out perseuerance in the Christian warfare, 3 he taketh similitudes 4 from souldiers, 6 and from husbandmen. 10 He sheweth that his labours are for the profit of the Saints: 15 Then he warneth Timothie to deuide the word of trueth aright, 17 to beware of the examples of the wicked, 22 and to doe all things modestly.

THou 1 therefore, my sonne, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Iesus.

2 And what things thou hast heard of me, by many witnesses, the same deliuer to faithful men, which shalbe able to teach other also.

3 2 Thou therefore suffer affliction as a good souldier of Iesus Christ.

4 No man that warreth, entangleth himselfe with the affaires of b this life, because hee would please him that hath chosen him to be a souldier.

5 3 And if any man also striue for a masterie, he is not crowned, except he striue as he ought to doe.

6 4 The husbandman must labour before he receiue the fruites.

7 5 Consider what I say: and the Lorde giue thee vnderstanding in all things.

8 6 Remember that Iesus Christ made of the seede of Dauid, was raysed againe from the dead according to my Gospel, 9 7 Wherein I suffer trouble as an euill doer, euen vnto bondes: but the worde of God is not bounde.

10 Therefore I suffer all things, for the elects sake, that they might also obtaine the saluation which is in Christ Iesus, with eternall glory.

11 8 It is a true saying, For if we be † c dead together with him, wee also shall liue together with him.

12 If we suffer, wee shall also reigne together with him: † if we denie him, he also will denie vs, 13 If : we beleeue not, yet abideth hee faithfull: he cannot denie himselfe.

14 Of these things put them in remembrance, and d protest before the Lord, that they striue not about wordes, which is to no profite, but to the peruerting of the hearers.

15 9 Studie to shewe thy selfe approued vnto God, a workeman that needeth not to bee ashamed, diuiding the worde of trueth e aright.

16 f Stay prophane and vain babblings: 10 for they shal encrease vnto more vngodlines.

17 And their worde shal fret as a canker: of which sort is Hymeneus and Philetus, 18 Which as concerning ‡ trueth haue erred from the marke, saying that the resurrection is past alreadie, and do destroy the faith of certaine.

19 11 But the foundation of God remayneth sure, and hath this seale, The Lord knoweth who sen againe from are his: and, Let euery one that 8 calleth on the Name of Christ, depart from iniquitie.

b With affaires of housholde, or other things that belong to other ordinarie businesse.
3 The third admonition. The ministerie is like vnto a game or fighting, wherein men striue for the victorie, and no man is crowned, vnlesse he striue according to the lawes which are prescribed, he they neuer so hard and paine full.
4 Another similitude tending to the same ende: no man may looke for the harueste, vnles he first take paines to plowe and sowe his ground.
5 All these things cannot be vnderstood, and much lesse practised, vnlesse we aske of God and he giue vs vnderstanding.
6 He confirmeth plainely two principles of our faith, which are alwayes assaulted of heretikes, the one whereof (to wit, that Christ is the true Messias, made nian of the seede of Dauid) is the ground of our saluation: and the other is the highest part of it, to wit, that he is risen againe from the dead.
7 The taking away of an obiection: Trueth it is, ‡ he is kept in prison, as an euill doer, yet there is no cause, why therfore some should go about to derogate credit from his Gospel, seeing that notwithstanding God did blesse his minister, nay rather, that example of this his captiuitie and patience did sundry wayes confirme the Church in the hope of a better life.
8 The fourth admonition: wee ought not to contend vpon wordes and questions, which are not onely vnprofitable, but also for the most part hurtfull: but rather vpon this, howe we may frame our selues to all maner of patience, and to die also with Christ (that is to say, for Christes Name) because that is the playne way to the most glorious life: as contrariwise the falling away of men can diminish no part of the trueth of God, although by such meanes they procure most certaine destruction to themselues.

1 The conclusion of the former exhortation, which hath also added vnto it a declaration, howe that they doe not keepe that worthy thing that is committed vnto them which keepe it to themselues, but they rather which doe most freely communicate it with other, to the ende that many may be partakers of it without any mans losse or hinderance.
a When many were by, which can beare witnes of these things.
2 Another admonition: That the Ministery of the worde is a spirituall warfare, which no man can so transacte in, that he may please his captain, vnles he forgoe and part with all hinderances which might draw him away from it.

† c Rom. 6. 5.
c If wee bee afflicted with Christ, and for Christs sake.
† Mat. 10. 33. mar. 8. 38. : Rom. 3. 3. and 9. 6.
d Call God to witnesse, or as a Iudge: as Moses, Ioshua, Samuel, and Paul himselfe did, acts 20.
9 The fifth admonition: A minister must not be an idle disputer, but a faithfull steward in deuiding aright the worde of trueth, in so much, that hee must stoppe the mouthes of other vaine babblers.
e By adding nothing to it, neither ouerslipping any thing, neither mangling it, nor renting it in sunder, nor wresting of it: but marking diligently what his hearers are able to beare, and what is fit to edifying.
f Marke and watch, and see they creepe not on further.
10 He discouereth the subtilties of Satan, who beginning with these principles, draweth vs by litle and litle to vngodlinesse through the meanes of that wicked and prophane babbling, still creeping on: which he proueth by the horrible example of them that taught, that the resurrection was alreadie past.
11 A digression, wherein hee saueth that offence that rose by their falling away: shewing first, that the elect are out of all danger of any such falling away: secondly, that they are known to God, and not to vs: and therfore it is no marueile if we count hypocrites oftentimes for true brethren: but we must take heede that we be not like them, but rather that we be in deede, such as we are saide to be.
‡ That stretch and wrappeth him, and is as it were named of him, a faithfull man or Christian.

10 12 Notwith-

11 The taking away of an obiection: it is no dishonour to the good man of the house, that he hath not in a great house all vessels of one sort and for one seruice, but we must looke to this that we be found vessels prepared to honour.

✣ Rom.9.21.

b By these wordes is meant the execution of the matter, & not the cause for in that we purge our selues, it is not to be attributed to any free will that is in vs, but to God, who freely and wholly worketh in vs, a good and an effectuall will.

13 Returning to the matter from whence he digressed vers. 16. he warneth him to exercise himselfe in waightie matters, and such as perteine to godlinesse. 14 The sixt admonition: We must aboue all things eschewe all bitternesse of minde both in teaching all men, and also in calling them backe which haue gone out of the way. ✣ 1.Cor.12. ∴ 1.Tim.1.4 & 4.7. 2.Tim.2.9

i To winne them through our patient bearing with them, but not to please them or excuse them in their wickednes. k He meaneth such as doe not yet see the trueth.

20 12 Notwithstanding in a great house are not onely vessels of gold & of siluer, but also of wood and of earth, ✣ and some for honour, and some vnto dishonour.

21 If any man therefore b purge him selfe from these, he shalbe a vessell vnto honour, sanctified, and meete for the Lord, and prepared vnto euery good worke.

22 13 Flee also from the lustes of youth, and follow after righteousnes, faith, loue, and 14 peace, with them that ✣ call on the Lorde with pure heart, 23 ∴ And put away foolish & vnlearned questions, knowing that they ingender strife.

24 But the seruant of the Lord must not striue, but must be gentle toward all men, apt to teache, i suffering the euill,

25 Instructing them with meeknesse that are k contrary minded, prouing if God at any time wil giue them repentance, that they may acknowledge the trueth, 26 And come to amendment out of ỹ snare of the deuill, of whome they are taken prisoners, to doe his will.

1 The seuenth admonition: we may not hope for any Church in this worlde without corruption: but there shalbe rather great aboundance of most wicked men euen in the very bosome of the Church, which notwithstanding shal make a shew and countenance of great holinesse and charitie.

✣ 1.Tim.4.1. 2.pet.3.3. iude 18.

a Which make no account, either of right or honestie.

2 We must not dally with such men as resist the trueth not of simple ignorance, but of a peruerse mind, (which thing appeareth by their fruites which he painteth out here liuely) but we must rather turne away from them.

✣ Exod.7.11.

3 He addeth a comfort: The Lord wil at length pluck off all their visards. 4 That we be not deceiued by such hypocrites, we must set before vs the vertues of the holy seruants of God, & we must not be afraid of persecution which they suffred willingly, & which alwayes followeth true godlines, but we must especially hold fast the doctrine of the Apostles, the summe whereof is this, that we are saued through faith in Christ Iesus. 5 How knowest thou surely not onely what I taught and did, but also how I was minded and disposed. 6 Words & maners.

CHAP. III.

1 Hee foretelleth the dangerous times that are to insue: 9 but with the certaine hope of victorie, 10 he encourageth him to the combate, 14 setting out especially the triall of sounde doctrine.

THis 1 know also, that in the ✣ last dayes shall come perilous times.

2 For men shalbe louers of their own selues, couetous, boasters, proud, cursed speakers, disobedient to parents, vnthankefull, a vnholy,

3 Without naturall affection, truce breakers, false accusers, intemperate, fierce, no louers at all of them which are good,

4 Traitours, headie, high minded, louers of pleasures more then louers of God,

5 Hauing a shew of godlinesse, but haue denied the power thereof: 2 turne away therefore from such.

6 For of this sort are they which creepe into houses, and leade captiue simple women laden with sinnes, and led with diuers lustes,

7 Which womẽ are euer learning, & are neuer able to come to the acknowledging of ỹ trueth.

8 ✣ And as Iannes and Iambres withstoode Moses, so doe these also resist the trueth, men of corrupt mindes, reprobate concerning the faith.

9 3 But they shall preuaile no longer: for their madnesse shalbe euident vnto all men, as theirs also was.

10 ¶ 4 But thou hast b fully knowen my doctrine, maner of liuing, purpose, faith, long suffering, loue, patience, 11 Persecutions, and afflictions which came vnto me at c Antiochia, at Iconium, and at Lystri, which persecutions I suffered: but from them all the Lord deliuered me.

12 Yea, and all that will liue godly in Christ Iesus, shal suffer persecution.

13 But the euill men and deceiuers shal waxe d worse and worse, deceiuing, and being deceiued.

14 But continue thou in the thinges which thou hast learned, and which are committed vnto thee, knowing of whom thou hast learned them:

15 And that thou hast knowen the holy scriptures of a child, which are able to make thee wise vnto saluatiõ, through the faith which is in Christ Iesus.

16 ✣ 5 For the whole Scripture is giuen by inspiration of God, and is profitable to teache, to conuince, to correct, and to instruct in righteousnesse, 17 That the e man of God may be absolute, being made perfect vnto all good workes.

d Their wickednes shall daily increase ✣ 2.Pet.1.20.

5 The eight admonition which is most precious: A Pastour must bee wise by the word of God only: wherein we haue perfectly delineated vnto vs, whatsoeuer pertaineth either to discerne, know & establish true opinions, & to confute false, and furthermore, to correct euill maners, and to frame good.

e The Prophets and expounders of Gods will, are properly and peculiarly called, Men of God.

CHAP. IIII.

1 He chargeth him to preach the Gospel with all diligence, 3 in that so miserable a time: 6 That his death is hard at hand, 8 yet so, that as a conquerour, he maketh haste to a glorious triumph. 10 He sheweth the cause why he sendeth for Timothy, 11 euen by reason of his present state.

I Charge thee therefore before God, and before the Lorde Iesus Christ, which shall iudge the quicke and dead at that his appearing, and in his kingdome,

2 Preach the worde: be instant, in season and out of season: improue, rebuke, exhort with all long suffering and doctrine.

3 2 For the time will come, when they will not suffer wholesome doctrine: but hauing their eares itching, shal after their owne lusts get them an heape of teachers,

4 And shal turne their eares from the trueth, and shalbe giuen vnto 2 fables.

5 3 But watch thou in all thinges: suffer aduersitie: doe the worke of an Euangelist: b cause thy ministerie to be throughly liked of.

6 4 For I am nowe readie to be c offered, and the time of my departing is at hand.

7 I haue fought a good fight, and haue finished my course: I haue kept the faith.

8 For hence foorth is laide vp for mee the crowne of righteousnesse, which the Lorde the righteous iudge shall giue me at that day: and not to me onely, but vnto all them also that loue that his appearing.

9 5 Make speede to come vnto me at once:

10 For Demas hath forsaken mee, and hath d embraced this present world, & is departed vnto Thessalonica, Crescens is gone to Galatia, Titus vnto Dalmatia.

11 ✣ Only Luke is with me. Take Marke and bring him with thee: for he is profitable vnto mee to minister.

12 And Tychicus haue I sent to Ephesus.

13 The cloke that I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou comest, bring with thee, and the bookes, but specially the parchments.

14 Alexander the coppersmith hath done mee much euill: the Lorde reward him according to his workes.

1 The principall and chiefe of all admonitions, being therefore proposed with a most earnest charge, is this: that the worde of God be propounded with a certaine holy importunitie, as necessitie requireth: but so, that a good and true ground of the doctrine be laid, and the vehemency be tempred with all holy meekenes.

2 Faithfull pastours in times past tooke all occasions they could, because men were very prompt and readie to returne to their fables.

a To false and vnprofitable doctrines, which the world is nowe so bewitched withall, that it had rather the open light of the trueth were vtterly put out, then it would come out of darknesse.

3 The wickednes and falling away of the worlde, ought to cause faithfull ministers to be so much the more carefull.

b Prouse and shew by good & substantiall proofe, that thou art the true minister of God.

4 He foretelleth his death to be at hand, and setteth before them an excellent example, both of inuincible constancie, and sure hope. c To be offered for a drinke offering: and he alludeth to the powring out of blood or wine which was vsed in sacrifices. 5 The last part of the Epistle, setting forth grieuous complaints against certaine, & examples of singular godlinesse in euery place, and of a minde neuer wearied. d Contented himselfe with this world. ✣ Col.4.10,14.

15 Of whom be thou ware also, for he withstoode our preaching sore.

16 At my first answering no man assisted me, but all forsooke me: I pray God, that it may not be laide to their charge.

17 Notwithstanding the Lorde assisted mee, and strengthened me, that by mee the preaching might be fully beleeued, and that al the Gentiles shoulde heare: and I was deliuered out of the mouth of the [c] lion.

18 And the Lord will deliuer me from euerie [f] euil worke, and will preserue me vnto his [g] heauenly kingdome: to whome be praise for euer and euer, Amen.

19 Salute Prisca and Aquila, and the [♣] houshold of Onesiphorus. ♣ Chap. 2. 16.

20 Erastus abode at Corinthus; Trophimus I left at Miletum sicke.

21 Make speede to come before winter. Eubulus greeteth thee, and Pudens, and Linus, and Claudia, and all the brethren.

22 The Lord Iesus Christ be with thy spirite. Grace be with you, Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAVL TO TITVS.

CHAP. I.

6 He sheweth what kinde of men ought to be chosen Ministers: 10 how vaine babblers mouthes should be stopped: 12 and through this occasion he toucheth the nature of the Cretians, 14 and the Iewes who put holinesse in outward things.

PAul [1] [a] seruant of God, and an Apostle of Iesus Christ, according to the faith of Gods [b] elect, [2] and the acknowledging of the trueth, which is according vnto godlines,

2 Vnto the [c] hope of eternall life, which God that cannot lie, hath [d] promised before the [♣] [e] world began:

3 [3] But hath made his word manifest in due time through the preaching, which is [♣] committed vnto me, according to the commaundement of God our [f] Sauiour:

4 [4] To Titus my naturall sonne according to the common faith, [5] Grace, mercie, and peace from God the Father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christ our Sauiour.

5 [6] For this cause left I thee in Creta, that thou shouldest continue to redresse the things that remaine, and shouldest ordaine Elders in euery citie, as I appointed thee,

6 [7] If any be vnreproueable, the husband of one wife, hauing faithfull children, which are not slandered of riot, neither are [g] disobedient.

7 [8] For a Bishop must be vnreprooueable, as Gods [b] steward, not [i] froward, not angrie, not giuen to wine, no striker, not giuen to filthie lucre,

8 But harberous, one that loueth goodnesse, [k] wise, righteous, holy, temperate,

9 [9] Holding fast that faithfull worde according to doctrine, [l] that hee also may be able to exhort with wholsome doctrine, and conuince them that say against it.

10 [10] For there are many disobedient and vaine talkers and deceiuers of minds, chiefly they of the [1] Circumcision, 11 Whose mouthes must be stopped, which subuert whole houses, teaching things, which they ought not, for filthie lucres sake.

12 [m] One of themselues, euen one of their owne prophets said, The Cretians are alwayes liars, euill beastes, slowe bellies.

13 This witnesse is true: wherefore conuince them [n] sharply, that they may be found in [o] faith, 14 And not taking heede to [♣] Iewish fables and commandements of men, that turne away from the trueth.

15 [11] Vnto the pure [p] are al things pure, but vnto them that are defiled, and vnbeleeuing, [q] is nothing pure, but euen their [r] mindes and consciences are defiled.

16 They professe that they know God, but by works they deny him, and are abominable & disobedient, and vnto euery good worke reprobate.

a A Minister as Christ himselfe, in that that he was a minister and head of the Prophets, is called a seruant, Esa. 42. 1.

b Of those whom God hath chosen.

c The faith whereby all the elect consent, is the true and sincere knowledge of God, tending to this ende, that worshipping God aright, they may at length obtaine life euerlasting according to the promise of God, who is true, which promise was exhibited in Christ in due time, according to his eternall purpose.

CHAP. II.

2 He setteth out the duties of sundry persons and states, 6 and willeth him to instruct the Church in maners. 11 He draweth an argument from the end of our redemption, 12 which is, that we liue godly and vprightly.

BVt [1] speake thou the things which become wholsome doctrine,

2 [2] That [s] elder men be watchfull, graue, temperate, sound in the faith, in loue, and in patience:

3 The elder women likewise, that they be in such behauiour as becommeth holinesse, not false accusers, not subiect to much wine, but teachers of honest things,

4 That they may instruct the young women to be sober minded, that they loue their husbands, that they loue their children,

5 That they be temperate, chaste, [t] keeping at home, good and [u] subiect vnto their husbands, that the worde of God be not euill spoken of.

6 Exhort yong men likewise, that they bee sober minded.

b grauitie, integritie,

8 And with the wholesome worde, which cannot be condemned, that he which withstandeth, may be ashamed, hauing nothing concerning you to speake euill of.

5 The eight admonition belonging to all ỹ godly, that seeing God calleth all men to the Gospel, and Christ hath so iustified vs, that he hath also sanctified vs, we must al of vs giue our selues to true godlines and righteousnes, setting before vs a sure hope of that immeasurable glory: which thing must in such sort be beaten into their heads, that the gainesayers also must be reprooued, by the authoritie of the mightie God.

d Lusts of the flesh, which belong to the present state of this life and world. e Christ is here most plainely called that mightie God, and his appearance and comming is called by the figure Metonymie, our hope. f As it were a thing peculiarly laide vp for himselfe. g With all authoritie possible.

CHAP. III.

1 He willeth that all generally be put in minde to reuerence such as be in authoritie: 3 That they remember their former life, and attribute all iustification vnto grace. 9 And if any be idle without these things, 10 hee willeth that he be rebuked.

1 PVt h them in remembrance that they ∴ bee subiect to the Principalities and powers, and that they be obedient, and ready to euerie good worke,

THE EPISTLE OF PAVL TO PHILEMON.

1 Paul handling a base and small matter, yet according to his maner mounteth aloft vnto God. 8 Sending againe to Philemon his vagabond and thiuish seruant, he intreateth pardon for him, and very gracely preacheth of Christian equitie.

PAul a prisoner of Iesus Christ, and our brother Timotheus, vnto Philemon our deare friend, and fellow helper,

THE EPISTLE TO THE HEBREWES.

The drift and ende of this Epistle, is to shewe that Iesus Christ the Sonne of God both God & man, is that true eternall & only Prophet, King, & high Priest, that was shadowed by the figures of the old Law, & is now in deede exhibited: of whom the whole Church ought to be taught, gouerned, & sanctified.

CHAP. I.

1 To shewe that the doctrine which Christ brought, is most excellent, in that it is the knitting vp of all prophecies, 4 & aduanceth him aboue the Angels: 10 And proueth by diuers testimonies of the Scripture, that he farre passeth all other.

1 The first part of the generall proposition of this Epistle: The Sonne of God is in deede that Prophet or teacher, which hath actually now performed that that God after a sort and in shadowes signified by his Prophets, and hath fully opened his Fathers will to the world.
a So that the former declaration made by the Prophets was not full, and nothing must be added to this latter.
b Which one Sonne is God and man.
2 The second part of the same proposition: The same Sonne is appointed of the Father to be our King & Lord, by whom also he made all things, and in whom onely he setteth forth his glory, yea and himselfe also to be beholden of vs, who beareth vp and susteineth al things by his will & pleasure.
c Possessour and equall companion of all things with the Father. d That is, whatsoeuer hath beene at any time, is, or shalbe. e Col. 1. 15. f He in whome that glory and Maiestie of the Father shineth, who is otherwise inuisible, and cannot be beholden.
g His Fathers person. g Susteineth, defendeth, and cherisheth. 3 The third part of the same propposition: The same Sonne executed the office of the hie Priest in offering vp himselfe, and is our onely and most mightie Mediatour in heauen.
h This sheweth that the sauour of that his sacrifice is not only most acceptable to the Father, but also is euerlasting, and furthermore hauing farre this high Priest passeth all the other high Priestes.

1 AT sundry times and in diuers maners God spake in the olde time to our fathers by the Prophetes in 2 these a last dayes hee hath spoken vnto vs by his b Sonne,
2 c Whom he hath made d heire of al things, by whom also he made the e worldes,
3 f Who being the g brightnes of the glory, and the ingraued forme of his h person, and bearing vp all things by his mightie word, i hath by himselfe purged our sinnes, and k sitteth at the right hand of the Maiestie in the highest places,
4 l And is made so much more excellent then the Angels, in as much as hee hath obteined m more excellent n Name then they.
5 o For vnto which of the Angels sayde hee at any time, p Thou art my Sonne, q this day begate I thee? r and againe, I s will be his Father, and he shalbe my Sonne?
6 t And u again, when he bringeth in his first begotten Sonne into the world, he sayth, x And let all the Angels of God worship him.

7 8 And of the Angels he saith, y He maketh the spirits his m messengers, and his ministers a flame o of fire.
8 But vnto the Sonne he saith, z O God, thy o throne is for euer p and euer: the sceptre of thy kingdome is a q scepter of righteousnesse, 9 Thou hast loued righteousnes & r hated iniquity. Wherfore God, euen thy God, hath s anointed thee with the oyle of gladnes aboue thy t fellowes.
10 u And, x Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast a established the earth, and the heauens are the workes of thine handes.
11 They shall perish, but thou doest remaine: and they all shall waxe olde as doeth a garment, 12 And as a vesture shalt thou folde them vp, and they shall be changed: but thou art the same, and thy yeeres shall not faile.
13 y Vnto which also of the Angels sayde hee at any time, z Sit at my right hand, til I make thine enemies thy footestoole?
14 Are they not all a ministring spirits, sent foorth to minister, for their sakes which shalbe heires of saluation?

CHAP. II.

1 Therefore he is exhorted that good heede must be giuen to Christes doctrine, 5 And he setteth him out vnto vs euen as our brother in our flesh, that we may with a good will yeelde vp our selues wholy vnto him.

1 THerefore x wee ought diligently to giue heede to the things which a wee haue heard, lest at any time we b runne out.

d By the Apostles. ✠ Marke 16.20.
e This is the true stile of miracles. Now they are called signes, because they appeare one thing, and represent another: and they are called wonders, because they represent some strange and vnaccustomed things and vertues, because they giue vs a glimce of Gods mightie power.

f It were an heinous matter to contemne the Angels which are but seruants, much more hainous is it to contemne that most mightie King of the elstored world f The world to come, whereof Christ is Father, Esa. 9.6. or the Church, which is a new world, was to be gathered together by the Gospel.

g He sheweth that the vse of this kingly dignitie consisteth herein, that men might not onely in Christ reconcet that dignitie which they haue lost, but also might be through him aduanced aboue all things, which dignitie of men Dauid describeth most excellently. ✠ Psal. 8.6. g What is there in man that thou shouldest haue so great regard of him, and doe him that honour?

h He calleth all the citizens of that heauenly kingdome as they are considered in themselues, before that God giueth them the libertie of that citie in Christ, Man, and Sonne of man.

i This is the first honour of the citizens of the world to come, that they are next the Angels.

k For they shall bee in very great honour when they shalbe partakers of the kingdome. And he speaketh of the thing that shalbe, as though it were already, because it is so certaine.

l 1. Cor. 15. 27.

m An obiection: But where is this so great rule and dominion? 6 The answere: This is already fulfilled in Iesus Christ our head, who was for a time for our sakes inferiour to the Angels, being made man: but now is aduanced into most high glorie.

n By his vertue and power which appeareth manifestly in the Church. ✠ Phil. 2.8.

o Who abased himselfe for a season, and tooke vpon him the shape of a seruant.

p That he might die.

q Feele death.

8 Herein consisteth the force of the argument: for we could not at length bee glorified with him, vnlesse he had bene abased for vs euen all the faithfull. And by this occasion the Apostle commeth to the other part of the declaration of Christs person, wherein hee prooueth him to be of such sort God, that hee is also man.

9 Hee prooueth moreouer by other arguments, why it behoued the Sonne of God who is true God (as hee prooued a litle before) to become man notwithstanding subiect to all miseries, sinne onely except.

r God. 10 First of all, because the Father, to whose glory all these things are to be referred, purposed to bring many sonnes vnto glory. And howe couldе he haue men for his sonnes, vnlesse his onely begotten Sonne had become brother to men? 11 Secondly, The Father determined to bring those sonnes to glory, to wit, out of that ignominie wherein they lay before. Therefore the Sonne should not haue bene seene plainely to be made man, vnlesse he had bene made like vnto other men, that he might come to glory by the selfe same way, by the which he should bring other: yea rather, it became him which was Prince of the saluation of other, to be consecrated aboue other, through those afflictions, Prophet, King, and Priest, which are the partes of that principalitie for the saluation of other.

s The Chiefetaine, who as he is chiefest in dignitie, so is hee the first begotten from among the dead, among many brethren.

12 The ground of both the former arguments: for neither should we be sonnes through him, neither couldе hee be consecrate through afflictions, vnlesse he had bene made man like vnto vs. But because this Sonneshoode dependeth not vpon nature onely, for no man is accounted the Sonne of God, vnlesse that besides that he is a sonne of a man, hee be also Christes brother, (which is by sanctification, that is, by becomming one with Christ, who sanctifieth vs through faith) therefore the Apostle maketh mention of the sanctifier, to wit, of Christ, and of them that are sanctified, to wit, of all the faithfull, whome there fore Christ vouchsafeth to call brethren.

t He vseth the time that now is, for we be in that way and yet still going on, and increasing in this sanctification: and by sanctification hee vnderstandeth our separation from the rest of the world, our cleansing from sinne, and our dedication wholly vnto God, all which Christ alone worketh in vs.

u One of our flesh, sauing sinne of man.

by the Lorde, and afterward was confirmed vnto vs by d them that heard him,

4 ✠ God bearing witnesse, therewith both with e signes & wonders, and with diuers miracles, and gifts of the holy Ghost, according to his owne will?

5 3 For he hath not put in subiection vnto the Angels the f world to come, whereof we speake,

6 4 But ✠ one in a certaine place witnessed, saying, g What is man, that thou shouldest bee mindeful of him? or the h sonne of man, that thou wouldest consider him?

7 Thou i madest him a litle inferiour to k Angels: thou crownedst him with l glory & honour, and hast set him aboue the workes of thine hands.

8 : Thou hast put all things in subiection vnder his feete. And in that he hath put all things in subiection vnder him, he left nothing that should not be subiect vnto him. 9 But wee yet see not all things subdued vnto him, 9 6 But we l see Iesus crowned with glory and honour, ✠ which was made litle m inferiour to the Angels, 7 through the n suffering of death, that by Gods grace he might o taste death for 8 all men.

10 9 For it became p him, for whome are all these things, and by whom are all these things, q in seeing that hee brought many children vnto glory, 11 that he should consecrate the r Prince of their saluation through afflictions.

11 12 For he that s sanctifieth, and they which are sanctified, are all of t one: wherefore he is not ashamed to call them brethren, 12 13 Saying, ✠ I will declare thy Name vnto my brethren: in the middes of the Church will I sing prayses to thee.

13 14 And againe, ✠ I will put my u trust in him. And againe, : v Behold, here am I, and the children which God hath giuen me.

14 Forasmuch then as the children are x partakers of flesh and blood, he also himselfe likewise tooke part with them, that hee might destroy y through death, him that had the y power of death, that is, the z deuill,

15 And that he might deliuer all them, which for feare of a death were all their life time subiect to bondage.

16 15 For he in no sort tooke on him the b Angels nature, but hee tooke on him the c seede of Abraham.

17 16 Wherefore in d all things it behoued him to be made like vnto his brethren, that hee might be e mercifull, and a f faithfull hie Priest in things concerning God, that he might make reconciliation for the sinnes of the people.

18 For in that he suffered, and was g tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

13 That which he taught before of the incarnation of the sanctifier, he applieth to the prophetical office. ✠ Psal. 22. 25.

14 He applieth the same to the kingly power of Christ, in deliuering his from the power of the deuill and death. ✠ Psalme 18. 2.

u I will commit my selfe to him, and to his defence.

v Esa. 8. 18.

x Vnto Esai speaketh of himselfe and his disciples, but betokening thereby all ministers, as also his disciples signifie the whole Church. And therefore seeing Christ is the head of the Prophets & Ministers, these wordes are more rightly verified of him then of Esay. x Are made of flesh and blood, which is a fraile and brittle nature. ✠ Hose. 13. 14. 1. Cor. 15. 55.

y The deuill is sayde to haue the power of death, because he is the authour of sinne: and from sinne commeth death, and for this cause he egeeth vs dayly to sinne.

z He speaketh of one as of the Prince, ioyning to him secretly all his angels.

a By (death) thou must vnderstand here, that death which is ioyned with the wrath of God, as it must needes be, if it be without Christ, then the which there can be nothing deuised more miserable.

15 He expoundeth those words of flesh & blood, shewing that Christ is the true man, and that not by turning his diuine nature, but by taking of mans nature. And he nameth Abraham, respecting the promises made to Abraham in this behalfe.

b The nature of Angels.

c The very nature of men.

16 Hee applieth the same to the Priesthood, for which he should not haue benefit, vnlesse he had become man, and that like vnto vs in all things, sinne onely except.

d Not onely as touching nature, but qualities also.

e That he might be truely touched with the feeling of our miseries.

f Doing his office sincerely.

g Was tried & egged to wickednes by the deuill.

CHAP. III.

1 Nowe hee sheweth howe farre inferiour Moses is to Christ, 3, 6 euen so much as the seruant to the master: and so hee bringeth in certaine exhortations and threatnings taken out of Dauid, 8 against such as rather stubburnely resist, 12 or els are very slowe to obey.

1 Wherefore, 1 holy brethren, partakers of the heauenly vocation, consider the a Apostle and high Priest of our b profession Christ Iesus:

2 2 Who was faithfull to him that hath c appointed him, 3 euen as ✠ Moses was in al his house.

3 4 For this man is counted worthy of more glory then Moses, in asmuch as he which hath builded the house, hath more honour then the house.

4 For euery house is builded of some man, and he that hath built all things, is God.

5 5 Nowe Moses verely was faithfull in all his house, as a seruant, for a witnesse of the things

1 Hauing layde the foundation, that is to say, declared and proued both the natures of one selfe same Christ, he giueth him three offices, to wit, the office of a Prophet, King, and Priest: and as touching the office of teaching and gouerning, compareth him with Moses and Ioshua, vnto the 14. verse of the next Chapter, and with Aaron touching the Priesthood. And hee propoundeth that which he purposeth to speake of, with a most graue exhortation, that all our faith may tend to Christ, as to the only euerlasting teacher, gouernour, and high Priest.

a The Embassadour or messenger, as Rom. 1. 5. hee is called the minister of Circumcision.

b Of the doctrine of the Gospel which we professe.

2 He confirmeth this exhortation with two reasons, first of all, because Christ Iesus was appointed such an one of God: secondly, because hee throughly executed the offices that his Father enioyned him.

c Apostle and high Priest.

3 Now he commeth to the comparison with Moses, and he maketh them like one to the other in this, that they were both appointed rulers ouer Gods house, and executed faithfully their office: but by and by after, he sheweth that there is great vnlikelinesse in that similitude. ✠ Numb. 12. 7.

4 The first comparison: The builder of the house is better then the house it selfe, therefore is Christ better then Moses. The reason of the consequent is this, because the builder of this house is God, which cannot be attributed to Moses: and therefore Moses was not properly the builder, but a part of the house: but Christ as Lord and God, made all this house.

5 An other comparison: Moses was a faithfull seruant in this house, that is, in the Church, seruing the Lord that was to come, but Christ ruleth and gouerneth his house as Lord.

which should be spoken after.

6 But Christ d as the Soone, ouer his owne house, e whose f house we are, if we holde fast the confidence and that reioycing of that hope vnto the ende.

7 Wherefore, as the holy Ghost sayth, ✠ To day if ye g shall heare his voyce,

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the h prouocation, according to the day of the tentation in the wildernesse,

9 Where your fathers tempted mee, prooued me, and sawe my workes fourtie yeeres long.

10 Wherefore I was grieued with that generation, and sayd, They i erre euer in their heart, neither haue they knowen my wayes.

11 Therefore I sware in my wrath, If they shal enter into my rest.

12 7 Take heede, brethren, least at any time there be in any of you an euill heart, and vnfaithfull, to depart away from the liuing God.

13 But exhort one another dayly, k while it is called to day, least any of you bee hardened through the deceitfulnes of sinne.

14 8 For we are made partakers of Christ, if we keepe sure vnto the ende that l beginning, wherewith we are vpholden, 15 ! So long as it is said, To day if ye heare his voice, harden not your hearts, as in ✠ prouocation.

16 For some when they heard, prouoked him to anger: howbeit, not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 But with whome was he displeased fourtie yeeres? Was hee not displeased with them that sinned, ✠ whose carkeises fell in the wildernes?

18 And to whom sware he ✠ they should not enter into his rest, but vnto them that obeied not?

19 So we see that they could not enter in, because of vnbeliefe.

d To wit, Christs.
e He calleth that excellent effect of faith (whereby we crie Abba, that is, Father) confidence, and to confidence he ioyneth hope.
✠ Psal. 95. 8. chap. 4. 7.
f So that God was to speake once againe after Moses.
g In the day that they vexed the Lorde, or strone with him.
h They are brutish and madde.
i Nowe weying the wordes of Dauid, hee sheweth first by this worde, To day, that wee must not neglect the occasion while we haue it: for that worde is not to be restrained to Dauids time, but it comprehendeth all that time wherin God calleth vs.
k While to day lasteth, that is to say, so long as the Gospel is offered to vs. 8 Now he considereth these wordes, If you heare his voyce, &c, shewing that they are spoken & ment of the beating of faith, against which he setteth hardening through vnbeliefe.
l That beginning of trust and confidence: and after the maner of the Hebrues, he calleth that, beginning, which is chiefest.
l So long as this voyce soundeth out. ✠ Num. 14. 37.

CHAP. IIII.

1 He ioyneth exhortation with threatning, lest they, euen as their fathers were, be depriued of the rest offered vnto them, 11 but that they endeuour to enter into it: 14 And so he beginneth to intreate of Christs Priesthoode.

LEt vs feare therefore, least at any time by forsaking the promes of entring into his rest, any of you should seeme to be depriued.

2 For vnto vs was the Gospel preached as also vnto them: but the word that they heard, profited not them, because it was not a mixed with faith in those that heard it.

3 2 For wee which haue beleeued, doe enter into rest, as he said so to the other, ✠ As I haue sworne in my wrath, If they shall enter into my rest: although the workes were finished from the foundation of the world.

4 For he spake in a certaine place of the seuenth day on this wise, ✠ And God did rest the seuenth day from all his workes.

5 And in this place againe, If they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it remaineth ✠ some must enter thereinto, & they to whom it was first preached, entred not therein for vnbeliefes sake:

7 Againe hee appointed in Dauid a certaine day, by To day, after so long a time, saying, as it is sayd, ✠ This day, if ye heare his voyce, harden not your hearts.

8 For if b Iesus had giue them rest, then would he not after this haue spoken of another day.

9 There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God.

10 c For he ✠ is entred into his rest, hath also ceased from his owne works, as God did from his.

11 3 Let vs studie therefore to enter into that rest, lest d any man fall after the same ensample of disobedience.

12 4 For the e worde of God is liuely, and mightie in operation, and sharper then any two edged sword, & entreth through, euen vnto the diuiding asunder of the g soule & the h spirit, and of the ioynts, and the marow, and is a discerner of the thoughts, and the intents of the heart.

13 Neither is there any creature, which is not manifest in i his sight: but all things are naked and open vnto his eyes, with whom we haue to doe.

14 5 Seeing then ✠ we haue a great hie Priest, which is entred into heauen, euen Iesus the Sonne of God, let vs k holde fast our profession.

15 6 For we haue not an hie Priest, which can not be touched with the feeling of our infirmities, but was in all things tempted in like sort, yet without sinne.

16 Let vs therefore go boldly vnto the throne of grace, that wee may receiue mercy, and finde grace to helpe in time of needs.

a He compareth the preaching of the Gospel to drinke, which being drunke, that is to say, heard, profiteth nothing, vnlesse it be tempered with faith. 2 Lest any man should obiect, that those wordes were meant of the land of Canaan, and of Moses doctrine, and therfore can not well be drawen to Christ, and to eternall life, the Apostle sheweth ✠ there are two maner of rests spoken of in the Scripture: the one of the seuenth day, wherin God is said to haue rested frō all his workes: an other is said to be that same, wherinto Iosua led ✠ people: but this rest is not the last rest wherunto we are called, and ✠ he proueth by two reasons. For seeing that Dauid so long time after, speaking to the people which were then placed in ✠ land of Canaan, vseth these wordes, To day, and threatneth them still ✠ they shall not enter into the rest of God, which desired then the voyce of God that sounded in their eares, we must needs say that he meant another time, that the time of Moses, & another rest then the rest of the land of Canaan: And that is, that euerlasting rest, wherin we begin to liue, to God, after that the race of this life is ended: as God rested the seuenth day from those his workes, that is to say, from making the world. Moreouer the Apostle these with all signifieth that the way to this rest, which Moses and the land of Canaan & all that order of the Lawe did shadow, is opened in the Gospel onely.

c He speaketh of Iosua the sonne of Nun: and as the land of Canaan was a figure of our true rest, so was Iosua a figure of Christ.
c As God rested the seuenth day, so must we rest from our workes, that is, from such as proceede from vs, and corrupt nature.
3 He returneth to an exhortation.
d Lest any man become a like example of infidelitie.
4 An amplification taken from the nature of the worde of God, the power wherof is such, ✠ it entreth euen to the diuiding & making open of the ioynts & marow, that is, the secretes of the heart, wounding them deadly that are stubborne, & plainly quickening the beleeuers.
e The doctrine of God which is preached both in the Lawe and in the Gospel.
f He calleth the wordes of God liuely, by reason of the effectes it worketh in them, to whome it is preached.
g He calleth that the soule, which hath the affections.
h By the spirit, he meaneth that noblest part which is called the minde. i In Gods sight. 5 Nowe he entreth into the comparison of Christes Priesthood with Aarons, and declareth euen in the very beginning the marueilous excellencie of this Priesthoode, calling him the Sonne of God, & placing him in the seate of God in heauen, plainely and euidently setting him against Aarons Priests, and the transitorie tabernacle: which comparisons he setteth forth afterward more at large. k And let it not goe out of our handes. 6 Least he might seeme by this great glory of our hie Priest, to stay and stop vs from going vnto him, he addeth straightwayes after, that he is notwithstanding our brother in deede (as he professeth also before) and that he accompteth all our infirmities his owne, to call vs boldly to him.

a He speaketh of Iosua the sonne of Nun: and as the land of Canaan was a figure of our true rest, so was Iosua a figure of Christ.
b As God rested the seuenth day, so must we rest from our workes, that is, from such as proceede from vs, and corrupt nature.

d The doctrine of God which is preached both in the Lawe and in the Gospel.
e He calleth the wordes of God liuely, by reason of the effectes it worketh in them, to whome it is preached.
f He calleth that the soule, which hath the affections.
g By the spirit, he meaneth that noblest part which is 1 By these words, His voyce, he sheweth that Dauid meant the preaching of Christ, who was then also preached, for Moses and the Prophets respected none other.

e For that he him selfe beareth about with him a naturall subiect to the same diseases and vices.

out of y way, because that he also is e compassed with infirmitie.

3 And for y same cause he is bound to offer for sinnes, as wel for his owne part, as for the peoples.

4 And no man taketh this honor vnto him selfe, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.

5 So likewise Christ tooke not to himselfe this honor to be made the hie Priest, but he that sayd vnto him, f Thou art my Sonne, this day begate I thee, gaue it him.

6 As he also in another place speaketh, g Thou art a Priest for euer, after y h order of Melchi-sedec.

7 i Who in y k dayes of his flesh, did offer vp prayers and supplications, with strong crying and teares vnto him, that was able to haue saued him from death, and was also heard in that which he feared.

8 And though he were the Sonne, yet learned he obedience, by the things which he suffered.

9 l And being m consecrate, was made n author of eternall saluation vnto all them that obey him:

10 And is called of God an hie Priest after the order of Melchi-sedec.

11 o Of whome wee haue many things to say, which are hard to be vttered, because ye are dull of hearing.

12 p For when as concerning y time ye ought to be teachers, yet haue ye neede againe that wee teach you what are the first principles of the word of God: and are become such as haue neede of milke, and not of strong meate.

13 For euery one that vseth milke, is inexpert in the l word of righteousnes: for he is a babe.

14 But strong meate belongeth to them y are of age, which through long custome haue their wits exercised, to discerne both good and euil.

f The other part of the first comparison: Christ being exceedingly afflicted, & exceedingly merciful, asked not for his sinnes, for he had none, but for his feare, and obtained his request and offred himselfe for all his.

g While he liued here with vs, in our weake and frail nature. h To deliuer him from death. i He learned to doe or what it is to haue a Father, whome a man must obey. k The other part of the first comparison: But Christ was consecrate of God the Father as the Authour of our saluation, & an hie Priest for euer, & therefore he is so a man, that notwithstanding he is farre aboue all men. l Luke 1.chap.2.10. 6 A digression, vntill he come to the beginning of the seuenth Chapter: wherein he partly holdeth the Hebrewes in the diligent consideration of those things which he hath said, and partly prepareth them to the vnderstanding of those things whereof he wil speake. 7 An example of an Apostolike chiding. m In the worde which teacheth righteousnes. n All their power whereby they vnder stand and iudge.

CHAP. VI.

1 He chideth somewhat the childish slouthfulnes of the Hebrewes, 4 and terrifieth them with seuere threatnings. 7 Hee stirreth them vp to vnderstand: in time to go forward. 9 He hopeth well of them. 13 He alleageth Abrahams example: 17 and comforteth faith that taketh holde on the worde, 19 vnto an ancre.

THerefore, leauing the doctrine of the a beginning of Christ, let vs be led forward vnto perfection, b not laying againe y foundation of repentance from dead workes, & of faith toward God,

2 Of the doctrine of baptismes, and laying on of handes, and of the resurrection from the dead, and of eternall iudgement.

3 And this wil we doe if God permit.

4 c * For it is d impossible y they which were once lightened, and haue e tasted of the heauenly gift, and were made partakers of the holy Ghost,

5 And haue tasted of the good word of God, and of the powers of the world to come,

6 If they fall away, should be renued againe by repentance, seeing they f crucifie againe to themselues the Sonne of God, & make a mocke of him.

7 g For the earth which drinketh in the raine that cometh oft vpon it, & bringeth forth herbes meete for them by whome it is dressed, receiueth blessing of God.

8 But that which beareth thornes and briers, is reproued, & is neere vnto cursing, whose ende is to be burned.

9 h But beloued, wee haue perswaded our selues better things of you, and such as accompanie saluation, though we thus speake.

10 i For God is not vnrighteous, that he should forget your worke, and labour of loue, which yee shewed toward his Name, in that yee haue ministred vnto the Saints, and yet minister.

11 And we desire that euery one of you shewe the same diligence, to the full assurance of hope vnto the ende, 12 k That ye be not slouthfull, but followers of them, which through faith and patience inherite the promises.

13 l For when God made the promise to Abraham, because he had no greater to sweare by, he sware by himselfe, 14 Saying, m Surely I wil n abundantly blesse thee and multiplie thee marueilously.

15 And so after that hee had tarried patiently, he enioyed the promes.

16 For men verely sweare by him that is greater then themselues, and an othe for confirmation is among them an ende of all strife.

17 So God, willing more o abundantly to shew vnto the heires of promes the stablenes of his counsell, bound himselfe by an othe,

18 That by two immutable things, wherein it is vnpossible that God should lye, we might haue strong consolation, which haue our refuge to lay holde vpon that hope that is set before vs,

19 p Which hope wee haue, as an ancre of the soule, both sure and stedfast, and it entreth into that which is within the vaile, 20 q Whither the forerunner is for vs entred in, euen Iesus that is made an hie Priest for euer after the order of Melchi-sedec.

a The first principles of Christian religion, which we call the Catechisme.

b Certaine principles of a Catechisme, which comprehend the summe of the doctrine of the Gospel, were giuen in few wordes, and briefly to the rude and lig norant, to wit, the profession of repentance and faith in God: the articles of which doctrine, were demanded of them which were not as yet receiued members of the Church, as the same were appointed for Baptisme: & of the children of the faithful which were baptised in their infancie, when hands were laide vpon them. And of these articles more ouer by diuers reiterations of the same, he also addeth a reason ende to his exhortation, and a most sharpe threatning of the vtter destruction that shall come to them which fall from God and his religion. c Chap.10.26.and vers.29.2.pet.2.20. d Impossible of a generall worke, and such as doe altogether fall away from the faith, and out of Gods church and communion through the fruites of vnrighteousnes against the first and the second table. e We must make the force of this worde, for he is one thing to believe as Lydia did, whome God opened, Actes 16.14. and another thing to haue some taste.

f As men that hate Christ, and as though they crucified him again, make him a mocking stocke to all the world, and that to their owne destruction, as Iulian the Apostata or backslider did.

g He setteth forth the former threatning with a similitude.

h He mitigateth and allwageth all that sharpnes, hoping better of them to whome he writeth.

i Hee prayseth them for their charitie, thereby encouraging them to goe forward, and to holde out to the ende.

k Hee sheweth what vertues chiefly they haue neede of to go forward constantly, & also to profit: to wit, of charitie, and patience: and least any man should obiect and say, that these things are impossible to be done, bee willeth them to set before themselues the examples of their auncestors, and to follow them.

l An other pricke, to prick them forward: Because the hope of y inheritance is certaine, if we continue to the end, for God hath not only promised it, but also promised it with an othe. ✣ Gen.12.2. and 17.4. and 22.17.

m I will heape vp benefits most plentifully vpon thee. n More then was needefull, were it not for the wickednes of men which beleeue not God, no though he sweare. 8 He likeneth hope to an ancre because that euen as an ancre being cast into the bottome of the sea, stayeth y whole ship, so doeth hope also enter euen into the very secret places of heauen. And he maketh mention of the Sanctuarie, alluding to the old tabernacle, & by this meanes meeteth to the comparison of the Priesthood of Christ & the Leuitical. 9 He repeateth Dauids wordes, wherein all those comparisons where of he hath before made mention are signified, as he declareth in all the next chapter.

CHAP. VII.

1 He hath hitherto stirred the Hebrewes vp to marke diligently what things are to be considered in Melchi-sedec, 15 wherein he is like vnto Christ. 20 Wherefore the Law should giue place to the Gospel.

FOr this a Melchi sedec was King of Salem, the Priest of the most high God, who met Abraham, as he returned from the slaughter of the Kings, and b blessed him:

2 To whome also Abraham gaue the tithe of all things; who first is by interpretation King of righteousnes, & after that, he is also King of Salem, that is, King of peace, a Declaring these wordes, According to the order of Melchi-sedec, whereupon that comparison, standeth of the Priesthoode of Christ with the Leuiticall Priest, Melchi-sedec himselfe is considered as the figure of Christ, and these are the heads of that comparison. Melchi-sedec was a King and a Priest: and such an one in deede is Christ alone. He was a King of peace and righteousnes, such an one in deede is Christ alone. ✣ Gen.14.18. b Wish a solemne and priestly blessing.

2 An other figure: Melchi-sedec is set before vs to bee considered as one without beginning and without ending, for neither his father, nor his mother, nor his ancestors, nor his death are written of: and such an one in deede is the Sonne of God, to wit, an euerlasting Priest: as hee is God, without mother wonderfully begotten: as he is man, without father wonderfully conceiued.

3 An other figure: Melchi-sedec in consideration of his priesthoode was above Abraham, for he tooke tenthes of him, and blessed him as a Priest: Such an one in deede is Christ, vpon whom dependeth euen Abrahams sanctification and all the beleeuers, and whom all men ought to worship and reuerence as the author of all. ✣ Numb. 18.21. b Were begotten of Abraham. c He speaketh of the publike blessing which the Priestes vsed. 4 A double amplification: The first, that Melchi-sedec tooke the tenthes, as one immortall: to wit, in respect that he is the figure of Christ, for his death is in no place made mention of, and Dauid setteth him forth as an euerlasting Priest) but the Leuiticall Priestes, as mortall men, for they succeede one another: the second, that Leui himselfe was tithed in Abraham by Melchi-sedec. Therefore the Priesthood of Melchi-sedec (that is, Christes, who is pronounced to be an euerlasting Priest according to his order) is more excellent then the Leuiticall. 5 The third treatise of this Epistle, wherein after he hath prooued Christ to be a King, a Prophet, and a Priest, he now handleth distinctly the condition and excellencie of all these offices, shewing that all these were but shadowes in all other, but in Christ they are true and perfect. And he beginneth with the Priesthood, wherewith also the former treatise ended, that by this meanes all the partes & members of the disputation, may better hang together. And first of all he prooueth that the Leuitical Priesthood was imperfect, because another Priest is promised a long time after, according to another order, that is to say, of another maner of rule and fashion. d If the Priesthood of Leui could haue made any man perfite. 6 He sheweth howe that by the institution of the new Priesthood, not only the imperfection of the Priesthood of Leui was declared, but also that it was changed for this: for these two cannot stand together, because that first appointment of the tribe of Leui, did shut forth the tribe of Iuda, & made it also inferiour to Leui: and this latter doeth place the Priesthood in the tribe of Iuda. e Of the institution of Aaron. f Had any thing to doe about the altar. 7 Lest any man might obiect, that the Priesthood in deede was translated from Leui to Iuda, but yet notwithstanding the same remaineth stil, he both weigheth & expoundeth these wordes of Dauid, for euer, according to the order of Melchi-sedec, whereby also a diuers institution of Priesthood is well perceiued. 8 He proueth the diuersitie and excellencie of the institution of Melchi-sedecs Priesthood, by this, that the Priesthood of the Lawe, did stand vpon the outward and bodily anoynting: but the sacrifice of Melchi-sedec is set out to be euerlasting and mere spirituall. g Not after the ordination, which commandeth fraile and transitorie things, as was done in Aarons consecration, and all that whole Priesthode. ✣ Psalm 110.4. chap. 5.6.

3 2 Without father, without mother, without kinred, and hath neither beginning of his dayes, neither ende of life: but is likened vnto the Sonne of God, and continueth a Priest for euer.

4 3 Nowe consider howe great this man was, vnto whome euen the Patriarke Abraham gaue the tithe of the spoyles.

5 For verely they which are the childre of Leui, which receiue the office of the Priesthood, haue a ✣ commaundement to take, according to the Law, tithes of the people (that is, of their brethren) though they b came out of the loynes of Abraham,

6 But hee whose kindred is not counted among them, receiued tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promise.

7 And c without all contradiction the lesse is blessed of the greater.

8 And here men that die, receiue tithes: but there he receiueth them, of whom it is witnessed, that he liueth.

9 4 And to say as the thing is, Leui also which receiueth tithes, payed tithes in Abraham.

10 For hee was yet in the loynes of his father Abraham, when Melchi-sedec met him.

11 5 If therefore d perfection had bene by the Priesthood of the Leuites (for vnder it the Lawe was established to the people) what needed it furthermore, that another Priest shoul rise after the order of Melchi-sedec, and not to bee called after the order of Aaron?

12 6 For if the Priesthood be changed, then of necessitie must there be a change of the e Lawe.

13 For he of whome these things are spoken, perteineth vnto another tribe, whereof no man f serued at the altar.

14 For it is euident, that our Lord sprung out of Iuda, concerning the which tribe Moses spake nothing, touching the Priesthood.

15 7 And it is yet a more euident thing, because that after the similitude of Melchi-sedec, there is risen vp another Priest, 16 8 Which is not made Priest after the g Law of the carnal commandement, but after the power of the endlesse life.

17 For he testifieth thus, ✣ Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchi-sedec.

18 9 For the h commandement that went before, is disanulled, because of the weakenes thereof, and vnprofitablenesse.

19 For the Law made nothing perfite, but the bringing in of a better hope made perfite, whereby 20 10 And for as much as it is not without an othe (for these are made Priests without an othe:

21 But this is made with an othe by him that said vnto him, ✣ The Lord hath sworne, and will not repent, Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchi-sedec)

22 By so much is Iesus made a suretie of a better Testament.

23 11 And among them many were made Priests, because they were not suffered to endure, by the reason of death.

24 But this man, because hee endureth euer, hath a Priesthood, which i cannot passe from one to another.

25 Wherefore, hee is k able also perfectly to saue them that come vnto God by him, seeing he euer liueth, to make intercession for them.

26 12 For such an hie Priest it became vs to haue, which is holy, harmelesse, vndefiled, separate from sinners, and made hier then the heauens:

27 Which needeth not daily as those hie Priests to offer vp sacrifice, ✣ first for his owne sinnes, and then for the peoples: 13 for l that did he m once, when he offered vp himselfe.

28 For the Lawe maketh men hie Priestes, which haue infirmitie: but the n word of the oth 14 that o was since the Lawe, maketh the Sonne, who is consecrated for euermore.

9 Againe, that no man might obiect that the last Priesthood was added to make a perfite one, by the coupling of them both together, he proueth that the first was abrogated by the latter, as vnprofitable, and that by the nature of them both. For how could thisse corporall and transitorie things sanctifie vs, either of themselues, or being ioyned with an other?

b The ceremoniall lawe.

10 Another argument, whereby he prooueth that the Priesthoode of Christ is better then the Priesthood of Leui, because it was established with an othe, but theirs was not so.

✣ Psal. 110.4.

11 Another argument tending to the same purpose. The Leuiticall Priestes (as mortall men) could not be euerlasting, but Christ as he is euerlasting, so hath he also an euerlasting Priesthood, making most effectuall intercession for them which by him come vnto God. i Which cannot passe away. k Hee is fit and meete. 12 An other argument: There are required in an hie Priest innocencie and perfite pureness, which may separate him from sinners for whom he offereth. But the Leuiticall hie Priestes shall not be found to be such, for they offer first for their owne sinnes: but Christ onely is such a one, and therefore the true and onely hie Priest. ✣ Leuit. 16.11. 13 An other argument which notwithstanding hee handleth afterward: The Leuiticall Priestes offered sacrifice after sacrifice, first for themselues, and then for the people. But Christ offered not for himselfe, but for other, not sacrifices, but himselfe, not often times, but once. And this ought not to seeme strange, saith he, for so much as they are weake, but this man is consecrated an euerlasting Priest, and that by an oth. l That sacrifice which hee offered. m It was so done, that it needeth not to bee repeated or offered againe any more. n The commandement of God which was bound with an oath. 14 Another argument taken of the time: former things are taken away by the latter. o Exhibited.

CHAP. VIII.

1 To proue more certainely that the ceremonies of the Law are abrogated, 5 hee sheweth that they were appointed to serue the heauenly paterne. 8 He bringeth in the place of Jeremie, 15 to proue the amendement of these his couenant.

NOwe 1 of the things which we haue spoken, this is the summe, that we haue such an hie Priest, that sitteth at the right hand of the throne of the Maiestie in heauens,

1 He briefly repeateth that, whereunto all these things are to be referred, to wit, that we haue a fasre other hie Priest then those Leuiticall hie Priestes are, euen such an one as sitteth at the right hand of the most hie God in heauen.

2 2 And is a minister of the a Sanctuarie, 3 and of that b true Tabernacle which the Lord pight, and not man.

3 3 For euery high Priest is ordeined to offer both giftes and sacrifices: wherefore it was of necessitie, that this man should haue somewhat also to offer.

2 They of Leui were hie Priestes in an earthly sanctuarie, but Christ is in the heauenly. a Of heauen. 3 They of Leui exercised their priesthood in a fraile tabernacle, but Christ beareth about with him a fare other tabernacle, to wit, his body which God himselfe made to be euerlasting, as it shall afterward be declared, chap. 9.11. b Of his body. 4 He bringeth a reason why it must needes be that Christ should haue a body (which he calleth a tabernacle which the Lord pight & not man) to wit, that he might haue what to offer, for otherwise he could not be an hie Priest. And the selfe same body is both ✣ tabernacle & the sacrifice.

4 5 For he were not a Priest, if he were on the earth, seeing there are Priestes that according to the Lawe offer giftes,

5 Who serue vnto the paterne and shadowe of heauenly things, as Moses was warned by God, when hee was about to finish the Tabernacle. ✣ See, said he, that thou make all things according to the paterne, shewed to thee in the mount.

6 6 But nowe our hie Priest hath obteined a more excellent office, in as much as he is the Mediatour of a better Testament, which is established vpon better promises.

7 7 For if that first Testament had bene vnblameable, no place should haue bene sought for the second.

8 For in rebuking them he saith, ✣ Beholde, the dayes will come, saith the Lorde, when I shall make with the c house of Israel, & with the house of Iuda a newe Testament:

9 Not like the Testament that I made with their fathers, in the day that I tooke them by the hand, to leade them out of the land of Egypt: for they continued not in my Testament, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10 For this is the Testament that I will make with the house of Israel, After those dayes, saith the Lord, I will put my Lawes in their minde, and in their heart I will write them, and I will be their God, and they shalbe my people, 11 And they shall not teach euery man his neighbour and euery man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the least of them to the greatest of them.

12 For I will bee mercifull to their vnrighteousnesse, and I will remember their sinnes and their iniquities no more.

13 8 In that he saith a new Testament, he hath abrogate the olde: nowe that which is disanulled and waxed olde, is ready to vanish away.

5 He giueth a reason why he said that our hie Priest is in the heauenly sanctuarie, and not in the earthly: because, saith he, if he were nowe on the earth, hee coulde not minister in the earthly sanctuarie, seeing there are yet Leuiticall Priestes which are appoynted for him, that is to say, to be paternes of that perfite example. And to what purpose should the paternes serue when the true and originall example is present? ✣ Exod.25.40. aliter 7.44.

6 He entreth into the comparison of the olde and transitorie Testament or couenant being but for a time, whereof the Leuiticall Priests were mediatours, with the new, the euerlasting Mediatour whereof is Christ, to shewe that this is not onely better then that in all respects, but also that that was abrogated by this.

7 He proueth by the testimonie of Ieremie, that there is a second Testament or couenant, and therefore that the first was not perfite. ✣ Ier.31.31,32,33,34. rom.11.27. chap.10.16. c He calleth it an house, as it were one familie of the whole kingdome: for whereas the kingdome of David was deuided into two factions, the Prophet giueth vs to vnderstand that through the newe Testament they shalbe ioyned together againe in one. 8 The conclusion: Therefore by the latter and the new, the first and olde is taken away, for it could not be called newe if it differed not from the olde. And againe that same is at length taken away, which is subiect to corruption, and therfore imperfit.

CHAP. IX.

2 Comparing the forme of the Tabernacle, 10 and the ceremonies of the Lawe, 11 vnto the trueth set out in Christ, 15 he concludeth that now there is no more neede of an other Priest, 24 because Christ himselfe hath fulfilled these duties vnder the newe couenant.

THen 1 the first Testament had also ordinances of religion, and a a worldly Sanctuarie.

2 For the first Tabernacle was made, wherein was the candlesticke, and the table, and the shewebread, which Tabernacle is called the Holy places.

3 And after b the second vaile was the Tabernacle, which is called the c Holiest of all,

4 Which had the golden censer, and the Arke of the Testament ouerlayde rounde about with gold, wherein the golden pot, which had Manna, was, and ∵ Aarons rod that had budded, and the ✣ tables of the Testament.

5 ✣ And ouer the Arke were the glorious Cherubims, shadowing the d mercie seate: of which things we will not now speake particularly.

1 A diuision of the first Tabernacle which he calleth worldly, that is to say, transitorie and earthly, into two parties, to wit, into the holy places, and the Holiest of all.

a An earthly and a sitting.

b He calleth it the second vaile, not because there were two vailes, but because it was beside the Sanctuarie or the first Tabernacle.

c The holiest Sanctuarie. ∵ Num.17,10. ✣ 1.King.8.9. 2.chro.5.10. ✣ Exodus 25.22. d The Hebrewes call the couer of the Arke of the couenant, the mercy seate, whome both the Grecians and we follow.

6 2 Nowe when these things were thus ordeined, the Priestes went alwayes into the first Tabernacle, and accomplished the seruice.

7 But into the second went the ✣ hie Priest alone, once euery yere, not without blood which he offered for himselfe, and for the e ignorances of the people.

8 3 Whereby the holy Ghost this signified, that the way into the Holiest of all was not yet opened, while as yet the first tabernacle was standing,

9 4 Which was a figure f for that present time, wherein were offred giftes & sacrifices that could not make holy, concerning the conscience, him that did the seruice,

10 5 Which onely stood in meates and drinkes, and diuers washings, and carnall rites, g which were inioyned, vntill the time of reformation.

11 6 But Christ being come an high Priest of good things to come, 7 by a h greater and a more perfect Tabernacle, not made with handes, that is, not of this building, 12 8 Neither by the blood of i goates and calues: but by his owne blood entred hee in once vnto the holy place, and obteined eternall redemption for vs.

13 ✣ 9 For if the blood of bulles & of goates, and the ashes of an heifer, sprinkling them that are vncleane, sanctifieth as touching the k purifying of the flesh,

14 How much more shall the ∵ blood of Christ which through the eternall Spirit offered himselfe without fault to God, ✣ purge your conscience from l dead workes, to serue the liuing God?

15 10 And for this cause is he the Mediatour of

2 Now he sheweth to the sacrifices which he diuideth into those daily sacrifices, and that yeerely & solemne sacrifice, with the which ✣ hie Priest only but once euery yeere entring into the Holiest of all with blood, offered for himselfe and the people. ✣ Exod.30.10. leuit.16.2.

e For the sinnes. Looke Chap.5.2.

3 Of that yeerely rite and ceremonie he gathereth that the way was not by such sacrifices opened into heauen, which was shadowed by the Holiest of all: For why did the hie Priest alone enter in thither, shutting out all other, and that to offer sacrifices there both for himselfe and for others, and after, did shut the Holiest of all againe?

4 An obiection: If the way were not opened into heauen by those sacrifices (that is to say, if the worshippers were not purged by them) why then were those ceremonies vsed? To wit, that men might bee called backe to that spirituall example, that it to say, to Christ, who shoulde correct all those things at his comming.

f For that time that that figure had to last. 5 An other reason why they coulde not make cleane the conscience of the worshipper, to wit, because they were outwarde and carnall or corporall things. g For they were as yoo would say a burden, from which Christ deliuered vs. 6 Nowe hee entreth into the declaration of the figures, and first of all comparing the Leuiticall hie Priest with Christ, (that is to say, the figure with the thing it selfe) hee attributeth to Christ the administration of good things to come, that is, euerlasting, which those carnall things had respect vnto. 7 An other comparison of the first corruptible Tabernacle with the latter (that is to say, with the humane nature of Christ) which is the true incorruptible Temple of God, where into the Sonne of God entred, as the Leuitical hie Priestes into the other which was fraile and transitorie. h By a more excellent and better. 8 An other comparison of the blood of the sacrifices with Christ. The Leuitical hie Priestes entring by those their holy places into their Sanctuarie, offered corruptible blood for one yeere onely: but Christ entring into that holy body of his, entred by it into heauen it selfe, offering his owne most pure blood for an euerlasting redemption: For one selfe same Christ answereth both to the hie Priest, and the Tabernacle, and the sacrifices, and the offerings themselues, as the trueth to the figures, so that Christ is both hie Priest, and Tabernacle, and Sacrifice, yea, all these both truely, and for euer.

i For in this yeerely sacrifice of reconciliation, there were two kindes of sacrifices, the one a goate, the other a heifer, or calfe. ✣ Leuiticus 16,14. numbers 19.4. 9 If the outward sprinkling of blood and ashes of beastes, was a true and effectuall signe of purifying and clensing, howe much more shall the thing it selfe and the trueth being present, which in times past was shadowed by those externall Sacraments, that is to say, his blood, which is in such sort mans blood, that it is also the blood of the Sonne of God, and therefore hath an euerlasting vertue of purifying and cleansing, doe it?

k Hee considereth the signes apart, being separate from the thing it selfe. ∵ 1.Peter 1.19. 1.ioh.1.7. leuit.1.5. ✣ Luke 1.74. l From sinnes which proceede from death, and bring foorth nothing but death. 10 The conclusion of the former argument: therefore seeing the blood of beastes did not purge sinnes, the newe Testament which was beforetime promised, whereunto those outward things had respect is nowe in deede established, by the vertue whereof all transgressions might be taken away, and heauen in deede opened vnto vs: whereof it followeth that Christ shedde his blood also for the Fathers: For he was shadowed by those olde ceremonies, otherwise, vnlesse they had serued to represent him, they had bene nothing at al profitable. Therfore this Testament is called the latter, not as concerning the vertue of it, (that is to say, remission of sinnes) but in respect of that time, wherein the thing it selfe was finished, that is to say, wherein Christ was in deede exhibited to the world, and fulfilled al things which were necessarie to our saluation.

the new Testament, that through † death which was for the redemption of the transgressions that were in the former Testament, they which were called, might receive the promise of eternall inheritance.

16 11 For where a Testament is, there must be the death of him that made the Testament.

17 † For the Testament is confirmed when men are dead: for it is yet of no force as long as he that made it, is aliue.

18 12 Wherefore, neither was the first ordeined without blood.

19 For when Moses had spoken euery precept to the people, [m] according to the Law, he tooke the blood of calues and of goates, with water and purple wool and hyssope, & [n] sprinckled both the booke, and all the people, 20 ∴ Saying, This is the blood of the Testament, which God hath appointed vnto you.

21 Moreouer, he sprinkled likewise † Tabernacle with blood also, and all the ministring vessels.

22 And almost all things are by the Law purged with blood, and without sheading of blood is no remission.

23 It was then necessary, that the [o] similitudes of heauenly things should be purified with such things: but the heauenly things themselues are purified with better sacrifices then are these.

24 15 For Christ is not entred into † holy places that are made with handes, which are similitudes of † true Sanctuarie: but is entred into very heauen, to appeare now in the sight of God for vs,

25 14 Not that he should offer himselfe often, as the hie Priest entred into the Holy place euery yeere with other blood, 26 15 (For then must he haue often suffred since the foundation of the world) but now in the ‖ end of the world hath he bene made manifest, once to put away [q] sinne by the sacrifice of himselfe.

27 And as it is appointed vnto men that they shall [r] once die, and after that commeth the iudgement:

28 So ✕ Christ was once offered to take away the sinnes of [s] many, 16 and vnto them that looke for him, shall he appeare the second time without sinne vnto saluation.

11 A reason why the Testament must be established by the death of the Mediatour, because this Testament hath the condition of a Testament or gift, which is made effectuall by death, and therefore that it might be effectuall, it must needes be that he that made the Testament, should die.

12 There must be a proportion betweene those things which purifie, & those which are purified: Vnder the Lawe all those figures were earthly, the Tabernacle, the booke, the vessels, the sacrifices, although they were the figues of heauenly things. Therefore it was requisite that all those should be purified with some matter and ceremonie of the same nature, to wit, with the blood of beasts, with water, wooll, hyssope. But vnder Christ all things are heauenly, an heauenly tabernacle, an heauenly sacrifice, an heauenly people, an heauenly doctrine, and heauen it selfe is set open before vs for an euerlasting habitation. Therefore all these things are sanctified in like sort, to wit, with that euerlasting offering of the quickening blood of Christ.

m As the Lord had commaunded. n Hee vsed to sprinkle. ∴ Exod.24.8. o The similitudes of heauenly things were earthly, & therefore they were to be set forth with earthly things, as with the blood of beasts, and wooll, and hyssope. But vnder Christ all things are heauenly, & therefore they could not but be sanctified with the offering of his liuely blood.

13 An other double comparison: The Leuitical hie Priest entred into the Sanctuarie, which was made in deede by the commaundement of God, but yet with mens handes, that it might be a paterne of another more excellent, to wit, of the heauenly palace. But Christ entred euen into heauen it selfe. Againe, he appeared before the Arke, but Christ before God the Father himselfe. 14 An other double comparison: The Leuitical hie Priest offered other blood, but Christ offered his owne: he euery yeere once iterated his offering: Christ offering himselfe but once, abolished sinne altogether, both of the former ages & of the ages to come. 15 An argument to proue † Christs offring ought not to be repeated: Seeing † sinnes were to be purged from the beginning of the world, & it is proued † sinnes cannot be purged, but by the only blood of Christ, he must needs haue died oftentimes, since the beginning of the world. But a man can die but once: therefore Christes oblation which was once done in the latter dayes, neither could nor can be repeated. Seeing then it is so, surely the vertue of it extendeth both to sinnes † were before, and to sinnes that are after his comming.

p In the latter dayes. q That whole roote of sinne. r Hee speaketh of the naturall state and condition of man: For as for Lazarus & certaine other that died twise, that was no vsuall thing but extraordinary: and as for them that shalbe changed, their changing is a kinde of death, 1. Cor. 15. 51.

✕ Rom 5.8. 1. peter 3.18. s Thus the generall promise is restrained to the elect only: and we haue to seeke the testimonie of our election, not in the secret counsel of God, but in the effects that our faith worketh, and so we must climbe vp from the lowest step to the highest, there to finde such comfort as is most certaine, and shall neuer be moued.

16 Shortly by the way hee setteth out Christ as iudge, partly to terrifie them, which doe not rest themselues in the only oblation of Christ once made, & partly to keepe the faithfull in their duetie, that they goe not backe.

CHAP. X.

1 He proueth that the sacrifices of the Law were imperfect, 2 because they were yeerely renued: 5 But that the sacrifice of Christ is one, and perpetuall, 6 hee proueth by Dauids testimonie: 19 Then he exhorteth to exhortation, 29 and seuerely threatneth them that reiect the grace of Christ. 36 In the end he praiseth patience, 38 that commeth of faith.

FOr 1 the Lawe hauing the shadowe of good things to [a] come, & not the very image of the things, can neuer with those sacrifices, which they offer yeere by yeere continually, sanctifie the commers thereunto.

1 He preuenteth a priuie obiection. Why then were those sacrifices offered? The Apostle answereth, first touching that yeerely sacrifice which was the solemnest of all, wherein (sayth he) there was made euery yeere a remembrance againe of all former sinnes. Therefore that sacrifice had no power to sanctifie: for to what purpose should those sinnes which are purged be repeated againe, and wherefore should newe sinnes come to bee repeated euery yeer, if those sacrifices did abolish sinne?

a Of things which are euerlasting, which were promised to the Fathers, and exhibited in Christ.

2 For would they not then haue ceased to haue bene offered, because that † offerers once purged, should haue had no more conscience of sinnes?

2 A conclusion folowing of those things that went before, and comprehending also the other sacrifices. Seeing that the sacrifices of the Lawe could not doe it, therefore Christ speaking of himselfe as of our hie Priest manifested in the flesh, witnesseth euidently that God resteth not in the sacrifices, but in the obedience of his Sonne our hie Priest, in which obedience he offred vp himselfe once an his Father for vs.

3 But in those sacrifices there is a remembrāce againe of sinnes euery yeere.

4 For it is vnpossible that the blood of bulles and goates should take away sinnes.

5 2 Wherefore when hee [b] commeth into the world, he saith, † Sacrifice & offering thou wouldest not: but a [c] body hast thou ordeined me.

6 In burnt offerings, and sinne offerings thou hast had no pleasure.

7 Then I said, Loe, I come (In the beginning of the booke it is written of me) that I should doe thy will, O God.

8 Aboue, when he said, Sacrifice and offering, and burnt offerings, and sinne offerings thou wouldest not haue, neither hadst pleasure therein (which are offred by the Lawe)

9 Then sayd he, Loe, I come to doe thy will, O God, hee taketh away the [d] first, that hee may stablish the second.

10 By the which wil we are sanctified, euen by the offering of † body of Iesus Christ once made.

b The Sonne of God is said to come into the world, when hee is made man. † Psal.40.7. c It is word for word in the Hebrew text, Thou hast pearced mine eares, through, that is, thou hast made me obedient and willing to heare. d That is, the sacrifices, to establish the second, that is the will of God.

3 A conclusion, with the other part of the comparison: The Leuitical hie Priest repeateth the same sacrifices dayly in his sanctuary: whereupon it soloweth that neither those sacrifices, neither those offerings, neither those hie Priests could take away sinnes. But Christ hauing offered one sacrifice once for the sinnes of all men, and hauing sanctified his owne for euer, sitteth at the right hand of the Father, hauing all power in his hands.

11 3 And euery Priest [e] standeth dayly ministring, and oft times offereth one maner of offering, which can neuer take away sinnes:

12 But this man after hee had offered one sacrifice for sinnes, † sitteth for euer at the right hand of God, 13 4 And from henceforth tarieth ∴ till his enemies be made his footestoole.

14 For with one offering hath he consecrated for euer them that are sanctified.

15 5 For † holy Ghost also beareth vs record: for after that he had sayd before,

16 ✕ This is the Testament that I will make e At the altar. † Chap.1.13. psal.110.1. 1.Cor.15.25.

4 He preuenteth a priuie obiection, to wit, that yet notwithstanding we are subiect to sinne and death, whereunto the Apostle answereth, † the full effectie of Christs vertue hath not yet shewed it selfe but shal at length appeare when hee will at once put to flight all his enemies, with whom as yet we striue.

∴ Chap.1.13. 5 Although there doe yet remaine in vs reliques of sinne, yet the worke of our sanctification which is to be perfected, hangeth vpon the selfe same sacrifice which neuer shall be repeated: and † the Apostle prooueth by all reading against the testimonie of Iaremie, thus. Sinne is taken away by the new Testament, seeing the Lord saith that he shall come to passe, † according to the forme of it, he wil no more remember our sinnes: Therefore we neede nowe no purging sacrifice to take away that which is already taken away, but we must rather take paines, that wee may nowe through faith be partakers of that sacrifice.

✕ Iere.31.33. rom.11.27. chap.8.8.

vnto them after those dayes, sayth the Lord, I wil put my Lawes in their heart, and in their mindes I wil write them.

17 And their sinnes and iniquities will I remember [f] no more.

18 Nowe where remission of these things is, there is no more offering for [g] sinne.

19 [6] Seeing therefore, brethren, that by the blood of Iesus we may be bolde to enter into the Holy place,

20 By the newe & liuing way, which he hath prepared for vs, through [h] vaile, that is, his [b] flesh:

21 And seeing we haue an hie Priest, which is ouer the house of God,

22 [7] Let vs draw neere with a [l] true heart in assurance of faith, our [k] hearts being pure from an euill conscience,

23 And washed in our bodies with [l] pure water, let vs keepe the profession of our hope, without wauering, (for he is faithfull that promised)

24 And let vs consider one another, to prouoke vnto loue, and to good workes, 25 Not forsaking the fellowship that wee haue among our selues, as the maner of some is: but let vs exhort one another, [8] and that so much the more, because ye see that the day draweth neere.

26 ✣ For if we sinne [m] willingly after that we haue receiued & acknowledged that trueth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sinnes, 27 But a fearefull looking for of iudgement, and violent fire, which shall deuoure the [n] aduersaries.

28 [9] He that despiseth Moses Law, dieth without mercy [o] vnder two, or three witnesses:

29 Of howe much sorer punishment suppose yee shall hee be worthy, which treadeth vnder foote the Sonne of God, and counteth the blood of the Testament as an vnholy thing, wherewith he was sanctified, and doeth despite the Spirit of grace?

30 [10] For we know him that hath sayd, Vengeance belongeth vnto mee: I wil recompense, sayth the Lord. And againe, The Lord shal [p] iudge his people.

31 It is a fearefull thing to fall into the hands of the liuing God.

32 [11] Nowe call to remembrance the dayes that are passed, in the which, after ye had receiued light, ye endured a great fight in afflictions, 33 Partly while yee were made a [p] gazing stocke both by reproches and afflictions, & partly while ye became [q] companions of them which were so tossed to and fro.

34 For both yee sorowed with mee for my bonds, and suffered with ioy the spoyling of your goods, knowing in your selues howe that ye haue in heauen a better, and an enduring [r] substance.

35 Cast not away therefore your confidence which hath great recompence of reward.

36 For ye haue need of patience, [s] after ye haue done the wil of God, ye might receiue [t] promes.

37 For yet a very [s] litle while, and he that shal come, wil come, and wil not tary.

38 ✣ [12] Now the iust shal liue by faith: but if any withdrawe himselfe, [u] my soule shall haue no pleasure in him.

39 But we are not they which withdrawe our selues vnto perdition, but follow faith vnto the conseruation of the soule.

CHAP. XI.

1 He declareth in the whole chapter, that the Fathers, which from the beginning of the world were approued of God, attained saluation no other way then by faith, that the Iewes may know we that by the same onely, they are knit vnto the Fathers in an holy vnion.

NOw [1] faith is the ground of things, which are hoped for, and the euidence of things which are not seene.

2 [2] For by it our [a] elders were wel reported of.

3 ✣ [3] Through faith wee vnderstand that the world was ordeined by the worde of God, so that the things which we [b] see, are not made of things which did appeare.

4 [4] By faith Abel [c] offered vnto God a greater sacrifice then Cain, by [x] the which hee obtained witnes that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: by the which faith also he being dead, yet speaketh.

5 [5] By faith was ✣ Enoch translated, that hee should not [c] see death: neither was he found: for God had translated him: for before he was translated, he was reported of, [y] he had pleased God.

6 But without faith it is vnpossible to please him: for he that commeth to God, must beleeue that God is, & that he is a [d] rewarder of them that seeke him.

7 [6] By faith [z] Noe being warned of God of the things which were as yet not seene, mooued with reuerence, prepared the Arke to the sauing of his houshold, through the which Arke he condemned the world, and was made heire of the righteousnes, which is by faith.

8 [7] By faith ✣ Abraham, when he was called, obeyed God, to goe out into a place, which hee should afterward receiue for inheritance, and hee went out, not knowing whither he went.

9 By faith he abode in the land of promes, as in a strange country, as one that dwelt in tents with Isaac and Iacob heires with him of the same promes.

10 For he looked for a citie hauing a [e] foundation, whose builder and maker is God.

11 Through faith ✣ Sara also receiued strength to conceiue seede, and was delieured of a childe when she was past age, because shee iudged him faithfull which had promised.

12 And therefore sprang there of one, euen of one which was [f] dead, so many as the starres of the skie in multitude, and as the sande of the sea shore which is innumerable.

13 All these died in [g] faith, and receiued not

1 Why then, where is the fire of Purgatorie, & that Popish distinction of the fault and the punishment?
2 He sayd well, for sinne: for there remaineth another offering, to wit, of thankesgiuing.
6 The summe of the former treatise: Wee are not shut out nowe of the holy place, as the Fathers were, but we haue an entrance into the true holy place (that is, into heauen) seeing that we are purged with the blood, not of beastes, but of Iesus. Neither as in times past, doeth the hie Priest shut vs out by seuing the vaile against vs, but through the vaile, which is his flesh, hee hath brought vs into heauen it selfe, being present with vs, so that wee haue nowe truely an hie Priest, which is ouer the house of God.
b So Christs flesh sheweth vs the Godhead as it were vnder a vaile, for otherwise we were not able to abide the brightnes of it.
7 A most graue exhortation, wherein he sheweth how that sacrifice of Christ may be applied to vs: to wit, by faith, which also he describeth by the consequents, to wit, by sanctification of the Spirit, which causeth vs surely to hope in God, and to procure by all meanes possible one anothers saluation, through the loue that is in vs one towards another.
8 Hauing mentioned the last coming of Christ, he stirreth vp the godly to the meditation of an holy life, & teacheth the rebellious fallers from God to the fearefull iudgement seate of the Iudge, because they wickedly reiected him in whom onely saluation consisteth.
9 If the breach of the Law of Moses was punished by death, how much more worthy death is it to fall away from Christ?
10 The reason of all these things is, because God is a reuenger of such as despise him: otherwise he should not rightly gouerne his Church. Now there is nothing more horrible then y wrath of the liuing God.
11 As hee terrified the fallers away from God, so doeth he now comfort them that are constant and stand stronglie, setting before them the successe of their former fights, to stirre them vp to a sure hope of a full and ready victorie.
12 You were brought forth to be shamed.

16 An amplification taken of the circumstance of the time: their faith is so much the more to be marueiled at, by howe much the promises of things to come were more darke, yet at length were in deede exhibited to vs, so that their faith and ours is as one, as is also their consecration and ours. y But sawe Christ a farre off. z For their saluation, and being vpon Christ, who was exhibited in our dayes.

CHAP. XII.

1 He doeth not only by the examples of the Fathers before recited, exhort them to patience and constancie, 3 but also by the example of Christ. 11 That the chastenings of God cannot be rightly iudged by the outward sense of our flesh.

WHerefore, ✣ 1 let vs also, seeing that wee are compassed with so great a cloude of witnesses, cast away euery thing y presseth down, and the sinne that a hangeth so fast on: let vs runne with patience the race that is set before vs,

2 2 b Looking vnto Iesus the authour and finisher of our faith, who for the c ioy that was set before him, endured the crosse, and despised the shame, and is set at the right hande of the throne of God.

3 3 Consider therfore him that endureth such speaking against of sinners, lest ye should be wearied and faint in your mindes.

4 4 Ye haue not yet resisted vnto blood, striuing against sinne.

5 5 And yee haue forgotten the consolation, which speaketh vnto you as vnto children, ✣ My sonne, despise not the chastening of the Lord, neither faint when thou art rebuked of him.

6 For whom the Lord loueth, he chasteneth: and he scourgeth euery sonne that he receiueth.

7 If ye endure chastening, God offereth him selfe vnto you as vnto sonnes: for what sonne is it whom the father chasteneth not?

8 If therefore yee bee without correction, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sonnes.

9 6 Moreouer we haue had the fathers of our bodies which corrected vs, & we gaue them reuerence: shoulde wee not much rather bee in subiection vnto the father of spirits, d we might liue?

10 7 For they verely for a few dayes chastened selues: for howe great is Iesus in comparison of vs, and howe grieuous things did hee suffer then we? 4 Hee taketh an argument of the profite which commeth to vs by Gods chastisements, valesse wee be in fault. First of all because sinne, or that rebellious wickednes of our flesh, is by this meanes tamed. 5 Secondly, because they are testimonies of his fatherly good will towardes vs, in so much that they shew themselues to be bastards, which cannot atteine to the chastened of God. ✣ Prou. 3. 11. 6 Thirdly, if all men yeelde this right to fathers, to whome next after God we owe this life, that they may rightfully correct their children, shall we not be much more subiect to that our Father, who is the Authour of the spirituall and euerlasting life? 7 An applycation of the same argument: Those fathers haue corrected vs after their fashe, so some fraile and transitorie profite: but God chasteneth and instructeth vs for our singular goodde, to make vs partakers of his holinesse: which thing although the flesh doo not presently perceiue, yet the end of the matter proueth it.

✣ Rom. 6. 4. colos. 3. 8. ephes. 4. 24. 1. peter 2. 1.
a For sinne besetteth vs on all sides, so that we cannot scape out.
b He setteth before vs, as the marke of this race, Iesus himselfe our captaine, who willingly ouercame all the roughnesse of the same way.
c Whereas he had all kind of hardnes in his hand and power, yet suffered willingly the ignominie of the Crosse.
d An amplification taken of the circumstance of the person and the things themselues, which he compareth betwixt them vs after their owne pleasure: but he chasteneth vs for our profite, that wee might be partakers of his holinesse.

11 Now no chastising for the present seemeth to be ioyous, but grieuous: but afterward, it bringeth the quiet fruite of righteousnesse, vnto them which are thereby exercised.

12 [8]Wherfore lift vp your hands which [d]hang downe, and your weake knees, 13 And make [e] straight steps vnto your feet, lest that which is halting, bee turned out of the way, but let it rather be healed.

14 ✣ [9] Follow peace with all men, & holines, without the which no man shall see the Lord.

15 [10] Take heede, that no man fal away from the grace of God: let noſ roote of bitternes spring vp and trouble you, lest thereby many be defiled.

16 [11] Let there be no fornicator, or prophane person as ✣Esau, which for one portion of meat sold his birthright.

17 ∵ For yee know how that afterwarde also when hee woulde haue inherited the blessing, hee was reiected: for hee found no [g] place to repentance, though he sought that blessing with teares.

18 [12] For yee are not come vnto the ✲ mount that might be [h] touched, nor vnto burning fire, nor to blacknes and darknesse, and tempest,

19 Neither vnto the sounde of a trumpet, and the voyce of wordes, which they that heard it, excused themselues, ✲ that the word should not be spoken to them any more,

20 (For they were not able to abide [ẏ] which was cõmanded, *yea, though a beast touch ẏ mountain, it shalbe stoned, or thrust through with a dart:

21 And so terrible was the [i] sight which appeared, that Moses said, I feare and quake.)

22 But ye are come vnto the mount Sion, and to the citie of the liuing God, the celestial Hierusalem, & to the company of innumerable Angels,

23 And to the assemblie and congregation of the first borne, which are written in heauen, and to God the iudge of all, and to the spirits of iust and [k] perfite men, 24 And to Iesus the Mediatour of the new Testament, and to the blood of sprinkling that speaketh better things then that of Abel.

25 [13] See that ye despise not him that speaketh: for if they escaped not which refused him, that spake on earth: much more shall we not escape, if we turne away frõ him, that speaketh frõ heauen.

26 [14] Whose voyce then shook the earth, and nowe hath declared, saying, ✣ [l] Yet once more wil I shake, not the earth onely, but also heauen.

27 And this worde, Yet once more, signifieth the remouing of those thinges which are shaken, as of things which are made with hands, that the things which are not shaken, may remaine.

28 [15] Wherefore seeing wee receiue a kingdome, which cannot be shaken, let vs haue grace whereby we may so serue God, that we may please him with [m] reuerence and [n] feare.

29 For ✣ euen our God is a consuming fire.

[8] The conclusion: we must goe forward [d] courageously and keepe alwaies a right course, and (as farre as we may) without any staggering or stumbling.

[9] We must liue in peace, & holinesse with all men.

[10] We must studie to edifie one another, both in doctrine and example of life.

[f] That no heresie, or backesliding be an offence.

[11] We must eschewe fornication, and a prophane minde, that is, such a minde as giueth not to God his due honour, which wickednes howe seuerely God will at length punish, the horrible example of Esau teacheth vs.

[12] Nowe he applieth the same exhortation, to the Prophetical and kingly office of Christ compared with Moses after this sort. If the maiestie of the Lawe was so great, howe great thinke you that the glorie of Christ and ẏ Gospel is? And this comparison he declareth also particularly.

2 ∵ Be not forgetful to intertain strangers: for thereby some haue ✲ receiued Angels into their houses vnwares.

3 Remember them that are in bondes, as though ye were bound with them: and them that are in affliction, as [a] if ye were also afflicted in the body.

4 [2] Mariage is honourable among all, and the bed vndefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God wil iudge.

5 [3] Let your conuersation be without couetousnes, and be content with those things that ye haue, for [b] he hath said,

6 ✲ I wil not faile thee, neither forsake thee:

7 So that wee may boldly say, * The Lord is mine helper, neither wil I feare what [c] man can doe vnto me.

8 [4] Remember thē which haue the ouersight of you, which haue declared vnto you ẏ worde of God: whose faith follow, considering what hath bene the end of their conuersation, [5] Iesus Christ yesterday, and to day, the same also is for euer.

9 Be not caried about with diuers and strange doctrines: [6] for it is a good thing that the heart be stablished with grace, and not with [d] meats, which haue not profited them that haue bin [e] occupied therein.

10 [7] Wee haue an [f] altar, whereof they haue no authoritie to eate, which [g] serue in the Tabernacle.

11 ✣ For the bodies of those beastes whose blood is brought into the holy place by the high Priest for sinne, are burnt without the campe.

12 Therefore euen Iesus, that he might sanctifie the people with his owne blood, suffered without the gate.

13 [8] Let vs goe forth to him therefore out of the campe, bearing his reproch.

14 ✣ For here haue wee no continuing citie: but we seeke one to come.

15 [9] Let vs therfore by him offer the sacrifice of praise alwayes to God, that is, the ∵ fruit of the lippes, which confesse his Name,

[2] He commendeth chaste matrimonie in all sortes of men, & threateneth vtter destruction from God against whoremongers and adulterers.

[3] Couetousnesse is condemned, against which is set a contented minde with that which the Lord hath giuen.

[b] Euen the Lord himselfe.

✲ Iosh.1.5.

* Psal.118.6.

[c] Hee setteth man against God.

[4] We haue to set before vs the examples of valiant Captaines, whom wee ought diligently to follow.

[5] He repeateth the summe of the doctrine, to wit, the onely grounde of all precepts of maners, & that is this: That wee ought to quiet and content our selues in Christ onely: for there was yet neuer any man saued without ẏ knowledge of him, neither is at this day saued, neither shalbe saued hereafter. [6] He toucheth them which mixed an external worship, and especially the difference of meates with the Gospel, which doctrine he plainly condemneth as cleane repugnant to the benefite of Christ. [d] By this one kind which concerneth the difference of cleane and vncleane meates, wee haue to vnderstand all the ceremoniall worship. [e] Which obserued the difference of them superstitiously. 7 Hee refuteth their error by an apt and fitte comparison. They which in times past serued the Tabernacle, did not eate of the sacrifices whose blood was brought for sinne into ẏ holy place by ẏ hie Priest. Moreouer these sacrifices did represent Christ our offring. Therefore they cannot be partakers of him which serue the Tabernacle, ẏ is, such as stand in the seruice of the Lawe: but let not vs be ashamed to follow him out of Hierusalem, from whence he was cast out and suffered: so (in this also Christ, who is the trueth, answereth that figure, in that he suffered without the gate. [f] By the Altar, he meaneth the offerings. [g] Whereof they cannot be partakers which stubburnly retaine the rites of the Lawe. ✣ Leuit.4.11. and 6.30. and 16.27. 8 He goeth on further in this comparison, & sheweth that this also signified vnto vs, that the godly followers of Christ must as it were goe out of the worlde bearing his crosse. ✣ Mich.2.10. 9 Now ẏ those corporall sacrifices are taken away, hee teacheth vs that the true sacrifices of confession remaine, which consist partly in giuing of thanks, and partly in liberalitie, with which sacrifices in deed God is now delighted. ∵ Hose.14.3.

16 To doe good, and to distribute forget not: for with such sacrifices God is pleased.

17 [10] Obey them that haue the ouersight of you, and submit your selues: for they watch for your soules, as they that must giue accounts, that they may doe it with ioy, and not with griefe: for that is vnprofitable for you.

18 [11] Pray for vs: for we are assured that wee hane a good conscience in all things, desiring to liue honestly.

19 And I desire you somewhat the more earnestly, that ye so doe, that I may be restored to you more quickly.

20 The God of peace that brought againe from the dead our Lord Iesus, the great shepheard of the sheepe, through the blood of the euerlasting Couenant, 21 Make you [b] perfect in all good workes, to doe his will, [i] working in you that which is pleasant in his sight through Iesus Christ, to whom be prayse for euer and euer, Amen.

22 I beseech you also, brethren, suffer the wordes of exhortation: for I haue written vnto you in fewe wordes.

THE [a] GENERAL EPISTLE OF IAMES.

CHAP. I.

4 He entreateth of patience, 6 of faith, 10 and of lowlinesse of minde in rich men. 13 That tentations come not of God for our euill, 17 because hee is the authour of all goodnesse. 21 In what maner the worde of life must be receiued.

IAmes a seruant of God, and of the Lord Iesus Christ, to the twelue Tribes, which are [b] scattered abroade, salutation.

b To all the beleeuing Iewes, of what Tribe soeuer they be, and are dispersed through the whole world.

2 [1] My brethren, [c] count it exceeding ioy, [2] when yee fall into diuers tentations, c Seeing their condition was miserable in that scattering abroade, hee doth well to begin as hee doeth.

1 The first place or part touching comfort in afflictions, wherein we ought not to be cast downe and be faint hearted, but rather reioyce and be glad.

2 The first argument, because our faith is tried through afflictiõs: which ought to be most pure, for so is it behoueable for vs.

3 [3] Knowing that the [d] trying of your faith bringeth forth patience,

✣ Rom.5.3.

4 [4] And let patience haue her perfect worke, that ye may be perfect & entier, lacking nothing.

5 [5] If any of you lacke [e] wisedome, let him aske of God, which giueth to all men liberally, and reprocheth no man, and it shalbe giuen him.

6 ✣ But let him aske in faith, and [f] wauer not: [g] for he that wauereth, is like a waue of the sea, tost of the winde, and caried away.

7 Neither let that man thinke that hee shall receiue any thing of the Lord.

8 A double minded man is vnstable in [g] all his wayes.

9 [7] Let the brother of [h] lowe degree reioyce in that he is exalted:

10 [8] Againe hee that is [i] riche, in that hee is made lowe: [9] for as the flower of the grasse, shall he ✣ vanish away.

11 For as when the sunne riseth with heate, then the grasse withereth, & his flower falleth away, and the goodly shape of it perisheth: euen so shall the rich man wither away in all his [k] wayes.

12 [10] ✣ Blessed is the man, that endureth [l] tentation: for when he is tried, he shall receiue the crowne of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that loue him.

13 [11] Let no man say when hee is [m] tempted, I am tempted of God: [12] for God cannot be tempted with euill, neither tempteth he any man.

14 But euery man is tempted, when hee is drawen away by his owne [n] concupiscence, and is entised.

15 Then when lust hath conceiued, it bringeth forth [n] sinne, and sinne when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

16 [13] Erre not, my deare brethren.

17 Euery good giuing, and euery perfect gift is from aboue, and commeth downe from the [o] Father of lights, with whom is no variablenesse, neither [p] shadowe of turning.

18 [14] Of his owne [q] will begate he vs with the worde of trueth, that wee should be as the [r] first fruites of his creatures.

19 Wherefore my deare brethren, [s] let euery

3 The second. Because patience, a farre passing & most excellent vertue, is by this means ingendred in vs. d That whereuppon your faith is tried, to wit, those manifolde tentations.

4 The third argumẽt propounded in maner of an exhortation, that true & continuall patience may be discerned from fained & for a time. The crosse is as it were the instrument wherewith God doeth polish & fine vs. Therefore the worke and effect of afflictions, is the perfecting of vs in Christ. 5 An answer to a priuie obiection: It is easely said, but it is not so easely done. He answereth that we neede in this case a farre other maner of wisedome, then the wisedome of man, to iudge those things best for vs, which are most contrary to the flesh: but yet we shall easely obteine this gift of wisdome, if we aske it rightly, that is, with a sure confidence of God, who is most bountiful & liberall. e By wisedome he meaneth the knowledge of that doctrine whereof mention was made before, so wit, wherefore we are afflicted of God, and what fruite we haue to reape of affliction. ✣ Matth.7.7. mar.11.24. Iud.11.9. Iohn 14.13. & 16.23. f Why then, what neede other Mediatours? 6 A digression or going aside to his matter, against prayers which are conceiued with a doubting mind, whereas we haue a certaine promise of God & this is the second part of the Epistle. g In all his thoughts and his dedes. 7 He returneth to his purpose, repeating the proposition, which is, that we must reioice in the crosse, for it doeth not presse vs downe, but exalt vs. h Who is afflicted with pouertie, or contempt, or with any kinde of calamitie. 8 Before he concludeth, he giueth a doctrine contrary to the former: to wit, howe we ought to vse prosperitie, which is plentie of all things: to wit, so, that no man therefore please himselfe, but be so much the more voyde of pride. i Who hath all things as his will.

9 An argument taken of the very nature of the things themselues, for that they are most vaine and vncertaine. ✣ Esai.40.6. 1.pet.1.24.

k What soeuer he either purposeth in his minde or doeth.

10 The conclusion: Therefore we must patiently beare the crosse: and he addeth a fourth argument, which comprehendeth [t] summe of all the former, to wit, because we come by this way to the crowne of life, but yet of grace according to the promise. ✣ Iob 5.17.

11 The third part of this Epistle, wherein he dissuadeth from [u] ward tentations, that is, from afflictions whereby God tryeth vs, to inward [u] to those lustes wherby we are stirred vp to do euil. The summe is this: God is the authour of these temptations to himselfe, and not God: but your owne [u] bout in our bosomes that wicked corruption, which taketh occasion by what meanes so euer, to stirre vp euil motions in vs, whereuppon at length proceed wicked doings, & in conclusion soloweth death the iust reward of them. m He is prouoked to do euill. 12 Here is a reason shewed, why God cannot be the thout of euil doing in vs, because he detesteth not euil. n By these he meaneth place at all sinne. 13 Another reason taken of contraries: God is the all goodnes, and so, that he is alwayes like himselfe: how then can he be to be authour of euil? o From him who is the fiuer [illegible] misse. p He goeth on in the metaphore: for the sunne [illegible] of turning, maketh houres, dayes, monthes, yeeres. [illegible] fourth part concerning the excellencie & fruite of the [illegible] is this: we must heare the worde of God most carefully and [illegible] the seede, wherewith God of his free fauour and loue hath [illegible] selfe, picking vs out of the number of his creatures. And the [illegible] two faults, which do greatly trouble vs in this matter, to wit, for that we [illegible] our selues, that we had rather speake our selues then [illegible] sunne and are angry when we are reprehended: [illegible] peaceable and quiet minde, & such an [illegible] which Paul calleth gracious [illegible] r As it were an holy [illegible] man be ſwift to heare, ſlowe to ſpeake, and ſlowe to wrath.

20 For the wrath of man doeth not accompliſh the f righteouſneſſe of God.

21 Wherefore lay apart all filthineſſe, and ſuperfluitie of maliciouſneſſe, and receiue with g meekenes the worde that is graffed in you, which is able to ſaue your ſoules.

22 ✣ 15 And be ye doers of the worde, & not hearers onely, 16 deceiuing your owne ſelues.

23 17 For if any heare the worde, and doe it not, he is like vnto a man, that beholdeth his h naturall face in a glaſſe.

24 For when he hath conſidered himſelfe, hee goeth his way, and forgetteth immediatly what maner of one he was.

25 But who ſo looketh in the perfect lawe of libertie, and continueth therein, hee not being a forgetfull hearer, but a doer of the worke, ſhall be bleſſed in his i deede.

26 18 If any man among you ſeeme religious, and refraineth not his tongue, but deceiueth his k owne heart, this mans religion l vaine.

27 19 Pure religion and vndefiled before God, euen the Father, is this, to m viſite the fatherleſſe, and widowes in their aduerſitie, and to keepe him ſelfe vnſpotted of the world.

f That which God appointeth.

g By meekenes, he meaneth modeſtie, and whatſoeuer is contrary to an hautie and proude ſtomacke. ✣ Math. 7. 21. rom. 2. 13.

15 Another admonition Therefore Is Gods worde heard, that wee may frame our lines according to the preſcript thereof.

16 He addeth reaſons, & thoſe moſt weightie. firſt, becauſe they that doe otherwiſe, doe very much hurt them ſelues.

17 Secondly, becauſe they loſe the chiefeſt vſe of Gods worde, which correct not by it the faults that they know.

k The fountaine of all brabling, and curſed ſpeaking, & fawlneſs, is this, that men know not themſelues.

l Vaine.

19 The fourth, the true ſeruice of God ſtandeth in charitie toward our neighbors (eſpecially ſuch as neede others helpe, as the fatherleſſe & widowes) and puritie of life.

CHAP. II.

1 Hee ſayeth, that to haue reſpect of perſons is not agreeable to chriſtes faith; 14 which to profeſſe in wordes is not enough, vnleſſe 15 wee ſhewe it alſo in dedes of mercy and charitie, 21 after the example of Abraham.

MY a brethren, haue not the faith of our b glorious Lorde Ieſus Chriſt ✣ in reſpect of perſons.

2 For if there come into your company a man with a golde ring, and in goodly apparell, and there come in alſo a poore man in vile raiment,

3 And ye haue a reſpect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and ſay vnto him, Sit thou here in a c goodly place, and ſay vnto the poore, Stand thou there, or ſit here vnder my footeſtoole,

4 Are ye not partiall in d your ſelues, and are become iudges of euill thoughts?

5 20 Hearken my beloued brethren, hath not God choſen the e poore of this world that they ſhould be rich in faith, & heires of the kingdome which he promiſed to them that loue him?

6 But ye haue deſpiſed the poore. 21 Doe not the riche oppreſſe you by tyrannie, and doe they not drawe you before the iudgement ſeates?

7 Doe not they blaſpheme the worthy Name after which ye be f named?

a The fifth: Charitie which proceedeth from a true faith, cannot ſtand with the accepting of perſons: which hee prooueth plainely by ſetting foorth their example, who with the reproch or diſdaine of the poore, honour the riche.

b For if we knewe what Chriſt, glory is, and eſteemed it as we ought to do, there would not be ſuch reſpect of perſons as there is. ✣ Leuit. 19. 15. deut. 1. 17. and 16. 19. prou. 24. 23.

c In a worſhipfull and honourable place.

d Haue yee not (which you ought not to do) by this meanes within your ſelues iudged one man to bee preferred before another?

1 2 Flee ſheweth that they are peruerſe and naughtie iudges, which preferre the rich before the poore, by that that God on the contrary ſide preferreth the poore, whom he hath enriched with true riches, before the rich.

e The needy and wretched, and (if wee meaſure it after the opinion of the world) the wretch-chiefeſt of all men.

3 Secondly, he prooueth them to be mad men: for that the rich men are rather to be holden execrable and curſed, conſidering that they perſecute the Church, and blaſpheme Chriſt: for hee ſpeaketh of wicked and prophane richemen, ſuch as the moſt part of them haue been alwayes, againſt whome hee letteth the poore and abiect.

f Worde for worde, which is called repute of faith.

8 4 But if yee fulfill the g royall Lawe according to the Scripture, which ſaith, Thou ſhalt loue thy neighbour as thy ſelfe, ye doe well.

9 But if yee regarde the perſons, yee commit ſinne, and are rebuked of the Lawe, as tranſgreſſours.

10 5 For whoſoeuer ſhall keepe the whole Lawe, and yet faileth in one point, hee is guiltie of h all.

11 6 For he that ſayd, Thou ſhalt not commit adulterie, ſayde alſo, Thou ſhalt not kill. Nowe though thou doeſt none adulterie, yet if thou killeſt, thou art a tranſgreſſour of the Lawe.

12 7 So ſpeake ye, and ſo doe, as they that ſhall be iudged by the Lawe of libertie.

13 For there ſhalbe condemnation mercileſſe to him that ſheweth not i mercie, and mercy reioyceth againſt condemnation.

14 8 What auaileth it my brethren, though a man ſaith he hath faith, when he hath no workes? can that faith ſaue him?

15 9 For if a brother or a ſiſter be naked and deſtitute of dayly foode, 16 And one of you ſay vnto them, Depart in peace: warme your ſelues, & fill your bellies, notwithſtanding yee giue them not thoſe things, which are needefull to the body, what helpeth it?

17 Euen ſo the faith, if it haue no workes, is dead in k ſelfe.

18 But l ſome man might ſay, Thou haſt the faith, and I haue workes: ſhewe me thy faith out of thy workes, and I wil ſhewe thee my faith by my workes.

19 10 Thou beleeueſt that there is one God: thou doeſt well: the deuils alſo beleeue it, and tremble.

20 11 But wilt thou vnderſtand, O thou vaine man, that m faith which is without workes, is dead?

21 Was not Abraham our father n iuſtified through workes, ✣ when he offred Iſaac his ſonne vpon the altar?

22 Seeſt thou not that the faith o wrought with his workes? and through the workes was the faith made p perfect.

23 And the Scripture was q fulfilled which ſayeth, ✣ Abraham beleeued God, and it was imputed vnto him for righteouſneſſe: and hee was called the friend of God.

4 The concluſion: Charitie which God preſcribeth cannot agree with the accepting of perſons, ſeeing that wee muſt walke in the kings hie way.

g The Law is ſayd to be royall and like the kings hie way, for that it is plaine and without turnings, and that the Lawe calleth euery one our neighbour without reſpect, whom we may helpe by any kinde of duetie.

5 A newe argument to prooue the ſame concluſion: They doe not loue their neighbours, which neglect ſome, and ambitiouſly honour other: for he doeth not obey God, which cutteth off from the commaundements of God that, that is not ſo commodious for him, nay he is rather guiltie generally for the breache of the whole Lawe, although he obſerue the reſidue.

h Not that all ſinnes are equall, but becauſe he that breaketh one title of the Lawe, offendeth the maieſtie of the Lawe giuer.

6 A proofe becauſe the Lawe maker is alwayes one and the ſelfe ſame, and the body of the Law cannot be diuided.

7 The concluſion of the whole treatiſe: we are vpon this condition delineted from the cauſe of the Law by the mercy of God, that in like ſort we ſhould maintaine and cheriſh charitie and good wil one towards another, and who ſo doeth not ſo, ſhall not taſte of the grace of God.

i Hee that is hard and curriſh againſt his neighbour, or els helpeth him not, he ſhall find God an hard & rough Iudge to himſelfeward.

8 The fifth place which hangeth very well with the former treatiſe, touching a true & liuely faith. And the propoſition of this place is this: faith which bringeth not forth workes, is not ſ faith whereby we are iuſtified, but an image of faith: or els this, they are not iuſtified by faith, which ſhew not the effects of faith.

9 The firſt reaſon taken of a ſimilitude: If a man ſay to one that is hungry, Fill thy belly, and yet giueth him nothing, this ſhall not be true charitie: ſo if a man ſay he beleeueth, and bringeth forth no workes of his faith, this ſhall not be a true faith, but a certaine dead thing ſet out with the name of faith, whereof no man hath to brag, vnleſſe he wil openly incurre reprehenſion, ſeeing that the cauſe is vnderſtood by the effects.

k Nay, thus may euery man beate downe his pride.

10 Another reaſon taken of an abſurditie: If ſuch a faith were the true faith whereby we are iuſtified, the deuils ſhould be iuſtified, for they haue that, but yet notwithſtanding they tremble, and are not iuſtified therefore, neither is that faith a true faith.

11 The third reaſon ſith the example of Abraham, who no doubt had a true faith: but he in offering his ſonne, ſhewed himſelfe to haue ſ faith which was not voide of workes, and therefore be receiued a true teſtimonie when it was ſaid, that faith was imputed to him for righteouſnes.

l Was hee not by his workes knowen and found to be iuſtified? for he ſpeaketh not here of the cauſes of iuſtification, but by what effectes we may know that a man is iuſtified. ✣ Gen. 22. 10.

m Without ſtuall and fruitfull with good workes.

n That the faith was declared to be a true faith, and that by workes.

o Then was the Scripture fulfilled, when it appeared plainely, how truly it was written of Abraham. ✣ Gen. 15. 6. rom. 4. 3. galat. 3. 6.

24 [12] Ye see then how that of workes a man is iustified, and not of [i] faith onely.

25 [13] Likewise also was not [g] Rahab the harlot iustified through workes, when she had receiued the messengers, & sent thē out another way?

26 [14] For as the body without [j] spirit is dead, euen so the faith without workes is dead.

CHAP. III.

1 He shewes that a Christian man must gouerne his tongue with the bridle of faith and obedience, 3 by declaring the commodities and mischiefes that ensue thereof: 15 and, howe much more wisedome is of differēce from heauenly.

MY [1] brethren, be not many masters, [2] knowing that we [a] shall receiue the greater condemnation.

2 For in many things we ‖ sinne all. 3 If any man sinne not in word, he is a perfect man, and able to bridle all the body.

3 [4] Beholde, wee put bittes into the horses mouthes, that they should obey vs, and we turne about all their bodie.

4 Behold also the shippes, which though they be so great, and are driuen of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small rudder, whither soeuer the gouernour listeth.

5 Euen so the tongue is a litle member, and boasteth of great things: [5] beholde, howe great a thing a litle fire kindleth.

6 And the tongue is fire, yea, a [b] worlde of wickednes: so is the tongue set among our members, [c] it defileth the whole body, & [c] setteth on fire the course of nature, & it is set on fire of hell.

7 For the whole nature of beasts, & of birds, and of creeping things, and things of the sea is tamed, and hath bene tamed of the nature of man.

8 But the tongue can no man tame. It is an vnruly euill, full of deadly poyson.

9 [6] Therewith blesse wee God euen the Father, and therewith curse we men, which are made after the [7] similitude of God.

10 [8] Out of one mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing: my brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11 Doeth a fountaine send forth at one place sweete water and bitter?

12 Can the figge tree, my brethren, bring forth oliues, either a vine figs? so can no fountain make both salt water and sweete.

13 [9] Who is a wise man & endued with knowledge among you? let him shew by good conuersation his workes in meeknesse of wisedome.

14 But if yee haue bitter enuying and strife in your hearts, reioyce not, neither bee liars against the truth.

15 This wisedome descendeth not from aboue, but is earthly, sensuall, and diuelish.

16 For where enuying and strife is, there is confusion, and all manner of euill works.

17 But the wisedome that is from aboue, is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, easie to be intreated, full of [d] mercy & good fruites, without iudging, and without hypocrisie.

18 [10] And the fruite of righteousnes is sowen in peace, of them that make peace.

1 The first part of the place: Let no man vsurpe (as most men ambitiously doe) authoritie to iudge and censure others rigorously.

2 A reason: Because they prouoke Gods seuerities against themselues which doe so curiously & rigorously condemne others, being themselues, guiltie and faultie.

a Vnlesse we surceasse from this masterlike and proud finding faults with others.

‖ Or, stumble.

3 The seuenth place, touching the bridling of the tongue, ioyned with the former, so that it is manifest that there is no man which may not iustly be founde fault withal, seeing it is a rare vertue to bridle the tongue.

4 He sheweth by two similitudes, the one taken from the bridles of horses, the other from the rudders of ships, how great matters may bee brought to passe by the good moderation of the tongue.

5 On the contrary part he sheweth how great discommodities arise by the intemperancie of the tongue, throughout the whole worlde, to the ende that we may so much the more diligently giue themselues to moderate it.

b An heape of all mischiefes. c It is able to set the whole worlde on fire.

6 Amongst other faultes of the tongue, the Apostle chiefly reprooueth backbiting and speaking euill of our neighbours, euen in them especially which otherwise seeme godly and righteous.

7 He driueth by two reasons that God can be prayed by that man, that is determined speaking ill to backbite: for the one is the image of God, which whosoeuer reuerenceth not, doth not honour God himself. For secondly, because this order of nature which God hath set in things, will not suffer things that are so contrary the one to the other, to stande the one with the other.

8 The eight part which iangleth with the former, touching the fountaine of minde, against which he setteth enuie and contentious minde. And in the beginning he stoppeth the mouth of the chiefe occasion of all these mischiefes, to wit, a false perswasion of wisedome, which notwithstanding there is no one will claime, but that it is commonly and generally vsurped of all kind of men.

9 He setteth out the true wisedome, and describeth the properties thereof.

10 The conclusion: He is onely iustified that hath that faith which hath workes following it.

i Approued to be iust.

j Of that dead and fruitles faith which you boast of.

19 A fourth reason taken from a like example of Rahab the harlot, who also proued by her workes that she was iustified by a true faith. k Iosh. 2. 1. 14 The conclusion repeated againe: faith which bringeth not forth fruites and workes, is not faith, but a dead carcase.

1 He goeth on forward in the same argument, dealing certain other cases of matters & corrections, to wit, rashe and headie pleasures, and immoderate lusts, by their effectes, for smuch as the Lord doth worthily make the voyde, so that they bring nothing else to their minde in whom they reigne, but vncurable torments.

2 He reprehendeth them by name, which are not ashamed to goe about to make God the minister and helper of their lusts & pleasures, in asking things which either are of their owne lawfull kinde, or else lawfull, if they were referred to a lawfull purpose and end.

3 Another reason why such vnbridled lusts and pleasures are vtterly to be condemned, to wit, because they are not onely vnprofitable, but also hurtfull.

4 The taking away of an obiection: God hath made our mindes prone headlong into these vices; but we ought to resist the more diligently take heede of them: which care and study shall not be in vaine, seeing that God resisteth the stubburne, and giueth that grace to the meeke and humble that subdueth all those vices. k Prou. 3. 34 Iam. 4. 27.

5 The conclusion. We must set the contrary vertues against the vices, and those sorts whereon we obeyed the suggestions of the deuill, must submit our mindes to God, & resist the deuil, with a certaine and assured hope of victorie. To bee short, wee must employ our selues to come neere vnto God by prayer and true obedience.

6 He goeth on in the same argument, dealing certain other cases of matters & corrections, to wit, rashe and headie pleasures, and immoderate lusts, by their effectes, for smuch as the Lord doth worthily make the voyde, so that they bring nothing else to their minde in whom they reigne, but vncurable torments.

7 He reprehendeth them by name, which are not ashamed to goe about to make God the minister and helper of their lusts & pleasures, in asking things which either are of their owne lawfull kinde, or else lawfull, if they were referred to a lawfull purpose and end.

8 Another reason why such vnbridled lusts and pleasures are vtterly to be condemned, to wit, because they are not onely vnprofitable, but also hurtfull.

9 The taking away of an obiection: God hath made our mindes prone headlong into these vices; but we ought to resist the more diligently take heede of them: which care and study shall not be in vaine, seeing that God resisteth the stubburne, and giueth that grace to the meeke and humble that subdueth all those vices. k Prou. 3. 34 Iam. 4. 27.

10 The conclusion. We must set the contrary vertues against the vices, and those sorts whereon we obeyed the suggestions of the deuill, must submit our mindes to God, & resist the deuil, with a certaine and assured hope of victorie. To bee short, wee must employ our selues to come neere vnto God by prayer and true obedience.

12 There is one Lawgiuer, which is able to saue, and to destroy. ✣ Who art thou that iudgest another man?

13 [8] Goe to nowe ye that say, To day or to morowe wee will goe into such a citie, and continue there a yeere, and bye and sell, and get gaine,

14 (And yet ye cannot tel what shalbe to morowe. For what is your life? It is euen a vapour that appeareth for a little time, and afterward vanisheth away)

15 For that ye ought to say, ✣ If the Lord will, and, if we liue, we will doe this or that.

16 But nowe ye reioyce in your boastings: all such reioycing is euill.

17 [9] Therefore, to him that knoweth how to doe well, and doeth it not, to him it is sinne.

CHAP. V.

1 He threatneth the riche with Gods seuere iudgement, for their pride, 7 that the poore hearing the miserable end of the rich, 8 may patiently beare afflictions, 11 as Iob did, 14 exercise their distresses.

GO to nowe ye rich men: weepe, and howle for your miseries that shal come vpon you.

2 Your riches are corrupt, and your garments are moth eaten.

3 Your gold and siluer is cankred, & the rust of them shalbe a witnesse against you, and shall eate your flesh, as it were fire. Ye haue heaped vp treasure for the last dayes.

4 Behold, the hire of the labourers, which haue reaped your fields (which is of you kept backe by fraude) crieth, and the cries of them which haue reaped, are entred into the [a] eares of the Lord of hostes.

5 Ye haue liued in pleasure on the earth, and in wantonnes. Ye haue [b] nourished your heartes, as in a [c] day of slaughter.

6 Yee haue condemned and haue killed the iust, and he hath not resisted you.

7 [1] Be patient therefore, brethren, vnto the comming of the Lord. [2] Behold, the husbandman wayteth for the precious fruite of the earth, and hath long patience for it, vntil he receiue the former, and the latter rayne,

8 Be yee also patient therfore and settle your hearts: for [3] comming of the Lord draweth neere.

9 [4] Grudge not one against another, brethren, least ye be condemned: [5] behold, the iudge standeth before the doore.

10 [6] Take my brethren, the Prophets for an ensample of sufferyng aduersitie, and of long patience, which haue spoken in the Name of the Lord.

11 Behold, we count them blessed which endure. Ye haue heard of the patience of Iob, and haue knowen what [e] end the Lord made. For the Lord is very pitifull and mercifull.

12 [7] But before all thinges, my brethren, ✣ sweare not, neither by heauen, nor by earth, nor by any other othe: but let [f] your yea, be yea, and your nay, nay, lest ye fall into condemnation.

13 [8] Is any among you afflicted? Let him pray. Is any merie? Let him sing.

14 [9] Is any sicke among you? Let him call for the Elders of the Church, and let them pray for him, and anoynt him with ✣ oyle in the [h] Name of the Lord.

15 And the prayer of faith shall saue the sick, and the Lorde shall rayse him vp: and if hee haue committed [i] sinnes, they shalbe forgiuen him.

16 [10] Acknowledge your faultes one to another, and pray one for another, that yee may bee healed: [11] for the prayer of a righteous man auayleth much, if it be feruent.

17 [12] Helias was a man subiect to like passions as we are, and hee prayed earnestly that it might not raine, and it rayned not on the earth for three yeeres and sixe moneths.

18 And he prayed againe, and the heauen gaue rayne, and the earth brought forth her fruite.

19 [13] Brethren, [14] if any of you hath erred from the trueth, and some man hath [k] conuerted him, 20 Let him know that he which hath conuerted the sinner from going astray out of his way, shall saue a soule from death, and shal hide a multitude of sinnes.

✣ Rom.14.4.

‖ The other fault is this: That men doe so confidently determine vpon these and those matters and businesses, as though that euery moment of their life did not depend of God. ✣ 1.Cor.4.19.

9 The conclusion of all the former treatise. The knowledge of the will of God, doeth not onely nothing at all profite, vnlesse the life be answerable to it, but also maketh the sinnes farre more grieuous.

1 He denounceth vtter destruction to the wicked and prophane riche men, and such as are drowned in their riotousnesse, mocking at their foolish confidence when as there is nothing in deede more vaine then such things.

a The Lord who is more mighty then ye are, hath heard them.

b Ye haue pampered vp your selues.

c The Hebrewes call a day that is appointed to sorowe bandeling, a day of slaughter or slaying.

2 Hee applyeth that to the poore, which he spake against the rich, warning them to wait for the Lords comming patiently, who will reuenge the iniuries which the riche men doe them.

3 The taking away of an obiection: Although his comming seeme to linger, yet at the least we must follow the husbandmen, who do patiently wait for the time that are proper for the trauises of the earth. And againe, God will not deferre the least iote of the time that he hath appointed. 4 He commandeth Christian patience, so that where as other through impatience vse to accuse one another, the faithfull on the contrary side complaine not, although they receiue iniuries. a By grudging hee meaneth a certaine inward complaining which breaketh out by impatience.

5 The conclusion: The Lord is at the doore, who wil defend his owne, & reuenge his enemies, and therefore we need not to trouble our selues

6 Because most men are wont to obiect, that it is good to repell iniuries by what meanes so euer, he setteth against that, the examples of the Fathers, whose patience had a most happy ende, because God as a most bountifull Father, neuer forsaketh his.

e What ende the Lord gaue.

7 Because euen the best men sometimes through impatience breake out into othes sometimes lesser, sometimes greater, the Apostle warneth vs to detest such wickednesse, and to accustome our tongues to simple and true talke. ✣ Matth.5.34.

f That that you haue to say or affirme, speake or affirme it simply, and without an othe: and that that you will denie, denie it simply and flatly.

8 Hee sheweth the best remedie against all afflictions, to wit, prayers which haue their place both in sorowe and ioy.

9 He sheweth perfectly, to what physicians especially wee must goe, when we are diseased, to wit, to the prayers of the Elders, which then also coulde cure the bodie, (for so much as the gift of healing was then in force) and take away the chiefest cause of sicknesses and diseases, by obteyning for the sicke through their prayers and exhortations, remission of sinnes. ✣ Mark.6.13. g This was a signe of the gift of healing: and now of late seeing God hath the gift so more, the signe is no longer necessary. h By calling on the Name of the Lorde. i Hee hath reason in making mention of sinnes, for diseases are for the most part sent because of sinnes. 10 Because God pardoneth their sinnes which confesse and acknowledge them, and not theirs which iustifie themselues, therefore the Apostle addeth, that wee ought freely to confesse one with another touching those inwarde diseases, that we may helpe one another with our prayers. 11 He commendeth prayers by the effectes that come of them, that all men may vnderstande that there is nothing more effectuall then they are, so that they proceede from a pure minde. 12 1.Kings.17.1. And he prayed earnestly. 13 The taking away of an obiection: All reprehensions are not condemned, seeing that on the contrary part there is nothing more acceptable to God then to call into the way a brother that was wandring out of the way. ✣ Matth.18.15. k Hath called him backe from his way.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERALL OF PETER.

CHAP. I.

1 Peter purposing to speake of the duties of a Christian life, reasoneth first of the principles and beginnings of all Christian actions, rising some higher then the nature, & crying vp also farre aboue the same. For he sheweth that we which are otherwise of verie sinners, were through the free mercie of God the Father first chosen frō euerlasting: then according to that euerlasting decree, were by a certaine second creation made his sonnes in Christ his onely begotten, by whose Spirit we are inwardly changed, & by whose blood we also are reconciled, to the end, y as Christ himselfe rose againe from the dead, we also might be reuiued into that same heauenly & euerlasting glory. a Or according to the purpose of God, who neuer altereth nor changeth his counsels. b That being regenerate vnto a liuely hope through the working of the holy Ghost, they should be conformate to God. 1.Pet.1.15.

PETER, an Apostle of IESVS CHRIST, to the strangers that dwell heere and there throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia and Bithynia,

2 [a] Elect according to the [a] foreknowledge of God [b] Father vnto [b] sanctification of [c] Spirit, through obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Iesus Christ: Grace and peace bee multiplied vnto you.

3 Blessed bee God, euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which according to his aboundant mercie hath begotten vs againe vnto a [c] liuely hope by the resurrection of Iesus Christ from the dead,

4 To an inheritance immortall and vndefiled, and that withereth not, reserued in heauen for vs,

5 [2] Which are kept by the power of God through faith vnto saluation, which is prepared to be shewed in the [d] last time.

6 Wherein yee reioyce, though nowe for a season (if neede require) yee are in heauinesse, through manifold tentations,

7 That the triall of your faith, being much more precious then golde that perisheth (though it be tried with fire) might bee founde vnto your praise, and honour and glorie at the [e] appearing of Iesus Christ:

8 Whome yee haue not seene, and yet loue him, in whome nowe, though ye see him not, yet doe you beleeue, and reioyce with ioy vnspeakeable and glorious,

9 Receiuing the [f] end of your faith, euen the saluation of your soules.

10 [3] Of the which saluatiō the Prophets haue inquired and searched, which prophecied of the grace that should come vnto you,

11 Searching when or what time the Spirite which testified before of Christ which was in them, shoulde declare the sufferings that shoulde come vnto Christ, and the glorie that should followe.

12 Vnto whom it was reuelled, that not vnto themselues, but vnto vs they shoulde minister the thinges, which are shewed vnto you by them which haue preached vnto you the Gospel by the holy Ghost [f] sent downe from heauen, the which thinges the Angels desire to behold.

13 [4] Wherefore, [g] gird vp the loynes of your minde: be sober, [5] and trust [h] perfectly on that grace [6] that is brought vnto you, [7] in the reuelation of Iesus Christ,

14 [8] As obedient children, not fashioning your selues vnto the former lustes of your ignorance:

15 But as he which hath called you, is holy, so be ye holy in [+] all maner of conuersation, 16 [9] Because it is written, [+] Be ye holie, for I am holie.

17 [10] And if ye [i] call him Father, which without [k] respect of person iudgeth according to euery mans worke, passe the time of your dwelling here in feare,

18 [11] Knowing that yee were not redeemed with corruptible thinges, as siluer and gold, from your vaine conuersation, receiued by the traditions of the fathers, 19 [*] But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a Lambe vndefiled, and without spot.

20 [12] Which was [*] ordeined before the [k] foundation of the worlde, but was declared in the last times for your sakes, 21 Which by his meanes doe beleeue in God that raised him from the dead, and gaue him glorie, that your faith and hope might bee in God.

22 [13] Hauing purified your soules in obeying the trueth through the spirite, to [*] loue brotherly without fayning, loue one another with a pure heart feruently, 23 Being borne anewe, not of mortall seede, but of immortall, by the worde of God, who liueth and endureth for euer.

24 [14] For all [+] flesh is as grasse, and all the glory of man is as the flower of grasse. The grasse withereth, and the flower falleth away.

25 [15] But the worde of the Lorde endureth for euer: and this is the worde which is preached among you.

[c] Euerlasting hope.

[2] Nowe hee sheweth by what way wee come vnto that glorie, to witte, through all kinde of afflictions, whereby notwithstanding faith maketh vs so secure, that wee are not onely not ouercome with sorrowe, but also through the beholding of God himselfe (who otherwise is inuisible) with the eyes of faith, are vnspeakeably ioyfull: because all such things, as they are but for a time, so are they not applyed vnto vs to destroy vs, but as if were by fire to purge vs, and to make vs perfite, that at the length wee may obtaine saluation.

[d] This is that time which Daniel calleth the time of the ende, when as that great reflorying of all things shall be, which all creatures looke for, Romanes 8 19.

[e] He speaketh of the second comming of Christ. | Or, reward. [3] He putteth a difference betweene true faith, that is to say, that faith which onely hath an eye to the doctrine of the Prophets and Apostles, and false faith: Afterward hee maketh two degrees of one and the selfe same faith, according to the manner of the diuers reuelations, when as in deede it is but one onely faith: Thirdly, he saith, that the preaching of the Apostles is the fulfilling of the preaching of the Prophets, although the latter end of it be as yet looked for of [f] very Angels. [f] He alludeth to the prophecie of Ioel, which was exhibited, vpō the day of Pentecost, in the Apostles, as it were in the first fruites of the holy Ghost, which this same our Peter declareth, Actes 2. 8. [4] Hee goeth from faith to hope, which is in deede a companion that can not bee sondred from faith: and hee vseth an argument taken of comparison: Wee ought not to bee wearied in looking for so excellent a thing, which the very Angels waite for with great desire. [g] This is a borrowed speach, taken of a common vsage amongst them: for by reason that they wore long garments, they could not preuaile vnlesse they girded vp themselues: and hence it is that Christ saide, Let your loynes bee girded vp. [5] Hee setteth foorth verie briefely, what maner of hope ours ought to bee, to witte, continuall, vntill wee enioy the thing wee hope for: then, what wee haue to hope for, to witte, grace (that is, free saluation) reuelled to vs in the Gospel, and not this, that men doe rashly and foolishly promise to themselues. [h] Soundly and fatherly. [6] An argument to stirre vp our minders, seeing that God doeth not waite till wee seeke him, but endureth so great a benefite to bee brought vnto vs. [7] Hee setteth out the ende of faith, lest any man shoulde promise himselfe, either sooner or later then full saluation, to witte, the latter comming of Christ: and therewithall warneth vs, not to measure the dignitie of the Gospel according to the present state, seeing this that which we see now, is not yet reuelled.

[8] Hee vrgeth from faith and hope, to the fruites of them both, which are vnderstoode in the name of obedience: And it consisteth in two things, in renouncing our lustes, and liuing godly: which lustes haue their beginning of that blindnes wherein all men are borne: but holinesse proceedeth from the grace and fauour of GOD which adopteth vs, and therefore regenerateth vs, that the father and the children may be of one disposition.

[+] Leuit. 11. 44. and 19. 2. and 20. 7.

[9] He sheweth that sanctification doeth necessarily followe adoption.

[10] As before he distinguished true faith and hope from false, so doeth he now obedience, setting the quicke and sharpe sight of God, against an outward mocke, and earnest reuerence against vaine seueritie. [i] If you will be called the sonnes of that Father, &c. Deuteronomie 10, 17. romanes 2. 11. galathians 2. 6. [11] An exhortation, wherein he setteth foorth the excellencie and greatnesse of the benefite of God the Father, in sanctifying vs by the death of his owne Sonne. 1 Hee exhorteth the newe borne in faith, to kadd their lines answerable to the same: 6 and lest their faith should stagger, he bringeth in that which was foretolde touching Christ. 11 Then hee willeth them to be obedient to Magistrates, 21 and that they patiently beare aduersitie after Christes example.

✣ Rom.8.4. ephes. 4.23. coloss.3.8. hebrewes 12.1.

WHerefore, ✣ [1] laying aside all maliciousnes, and all guile, and dissimulation, and enuie, and all euill speaking,

2 [2] As [a] newe borne babes desire that sincere milke of the worde, that yee may growe thereby,

3 [3] Because ye ‖ haue tasted that the Lord is bountifull.

4 [4] To whome comming as vnto a liuing stone disallowed of men, but chosen of God and precious,

5 Yee also as liuely stones, bee made a spirituall house, [5] an holy ✣ Priesthoode to offer vp spirituall sacrifices acceptable to God by Iesus Christ.

6 [6] Wherefore also it is contained in the Scripture, ∵ Beholde, I put in Sion a chiefe corner stone, elect and precious: and hee that beleeueth therein, shall not be ashamed.

7 [7] Vnto you therefore which beleeue, it is precious: but vnto them which be disobedient, the ✣ stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,

8 And a ✣ stone to stumble at, and a rocke of offence, euen to them which stumble at the worde, being disobedient, vnto the which thing they were euen ordained.

9 [8] But yeare a chosen generation, a royall * Priesthoode, an holy nation, a people set at liberte, that yee shoulde shewe foorth the vertues of him that hath called you out of darkenes into his marueilous light,

10 ✣ Which in time past were not a people, yet are nowe the people of God: which in time past were not vnder mercie, but nowe haue obtained mercie.

11 [9] Dearely beloued, [10] I beseech you, as strangers and pilgrims, ✣ [11] abstaine from fleshly lustes, [12] which fight against the soule, 12 [13] ∵ And haue your conuersation honest among the Gentiles, that they which speake euill of you as of euill doers, [14] may by your ✣ good workes which they shall see, glorifie God in the day of [b] visitation.

13 [15] ✣ Therefore submit your selues vnto [c] all manner ordinance of man [16] for the Lordes sake, [17] whether it be vnto the King, as vnto the superiour, 14 Or vnto gouernors, as vnto them that are sent of him, [18] for the punishment of euill doers, and for the praise of them that doe well.

15 [19] For so is the will of God, that by well doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of the foolish men, 16 As free, and not as hauing the libertie for a cloke of maliciousnesse, but as the seruants of God.

17 [20] [d] Honour all men: * loue [e] brotherly fellowship: feare God: honour the King.

18 ✣ [21] Seruants, be subiect to your masters with all feare, not onely to the good and courteous, but also to the froward.

19 ✣ [22] For this is thanke worthie, if a man

[a] Hauing laid for the foundation the Spirit of God effectually working by the worde, and hauing built thereupō three vertues which are the grounds of all Christian actions, to wit, faith, hope, and charitie: now he proceedeth to a generall exhortation, the first member whereof is, that we flee all shew both of secrete and also open malice.

[b] The second is, that being newly begotten & borne of the newe seede of the incorrupt word, drawing and sucking greedily the same word as milke, we shoulde more and more as it were growe vp in that spirituall life. And he calleth it, Syncere, not onely because it is a most pure thing, but also that we should take heede of them which corrupt it. [c] It becommeth new men. 3 He commendeth that spirituall nourishment for the sweetenesse and profite of it. ‖ Or, doe taste. 4 Hee goeth on forward in the same exhortation, but vseth another kind of borrowed speach, alluding to the Temple. Therefore he saith, that the companie of the faithful is as it were a certaine holy and spirituall building, built of liuely stones, the foundation whereof is Christ, as a liuely stone fastening all that are ioyned vnto him with his liuing vertue, and knitting them together with himselfe, although this so great a treasure be neglected of men. 5 Going forward in the same similitude he compareth vs howe to Priestes, placed to this ende in that spirituall temple, that wee should serue him with a spirituall worship, that is, with holinesse and righteousnes: but as the temple, so is the Priesthoode built vpon Christ, in whom onely all our offerings are accepted. ✣ Rom.12.1. 6 He proueth it by the testimony of the Prophet Esai. ∵ Esai.28.16. rom.9.33. 7 By setting the most blessed condition of the beleeuers, and the most miserable of the rebellious one against the other, he pricketh forward the beleeuers, and triumpheth ouer the other: and also preuenteth an offence, which ariseth hereof, that none do more refuse this doctrine of the Gospel, then they which are chiefest amongst the people of God, as were at that time that Peter wrote these things, the Priests, and Elders, & Scribes. Therefore he answereth first of all that there is no cause why any man shoulde be offended at this their stubbernesse as though it were a strange matter, seeing we haue heard long before, that it should so come to passe: and moreouer, that it pleased God to create and make certaine to this selfe same purpole, that the Name of God might be glorified in their iust condemnation. Thirdly, for that the glorie of Christ is here by set foorth greatly, whereas notwithstanding Christ reuoketh the fore head of his Church, and they that stumble at him, cast downe and ouerthrow themselues, and not Christ. Fourthly, although they be created to this end and purpose, yet their fall and decay is not to be attributed to God, but to their owne obstinate stubbernesse which commeth betweene Gods decree and the execution thereof or their condemnation, and is the true and proper cause of their destruction. ✣ Psal.118.22. matth.21.42. acts 4.11. ✣ Esai 8.14. rom. 9.33. [d] The commaundement, to wit, he describeth the singular excellencie of the elect, and although we should doubte whether he be chosen or not, the Apostle calleth vs backe to the effectuall calling, that is, to the voyce of the Gospel sounding both in our eares and mindes by the outward preaching and Sacraments, whereby wee may certainely vnderstand that euerlasting decree of our election, (which otherwise is most secret and hidden) and that through the onely mercie of God, who first iustifieth and calleth vs. Therefore this onely remaineth for vs, that by all meanes possible we set foorth so great goodnesse of the most high God. ✣ Exod.19.6.

Hosh.2.23. rom.9.25.

9 He returneth to that generall exhortation.

10 A reason why we ought to liue holilie, to witte, because wee are citizens of heauen, and therefore we ought to liue according to the Lawes not of this world, which is most corrupt, but of the heauenly citie, although wee be strangers in the world.

✣ Rom.13.14. galat.5.16.

11 Another argument: The children of God liue not according to the flesh, that is, according to that corrupt nature, but according to the spirit. Therefore fleshly motions ought not to beare rule in vs.

12 The third argument: for although those lustes flatter vs, yet they cease not to fight against our saluation. 13 The fourth argument, taken of the profite of so doing: for by this meanes also we prouide for our good name and estimation, whilest we compell them at length to change their minds, which spake euill of vs. ∵ Chap. 3.16. 14 The fifth argument, which also is of great force: Because the glorie of God is greatly set foorth by that meanes, whilest by example of our honest life, euen the most prophane men are brought vnto God, and submit themselues vnto him. ✣ Matt.5.16. [b] When God shall also haue mercie on them. 15 That which he spake generally, he now expoundeth by partes, describing seuerally euery mans duety. And first of all he speaketh of obedience which is due both to the Lawes, and also to the Magistrates, both higher and lower. ✣ Rom.13.1. [c] By ordinance, in meanes the framing and ordering of ciuill gouernement: which he calleth ordinance of man, not because man inuented it, but because it is proper to men. 16 The first argument: he proueth the Lord is the Author and reuenger of this policie of men, that is, which is set amongest men: and therefore the true seruantes of the Lorde must aboue all others be diligent obseruers of this order. 17 Hee preuenteth a cauill which is made by some, that say they will obey Kings and the higher Magistrates, and yet contemne their ministers: as though their ministers were not armed with their authoritie which sent them. 18 The second argument taken of the end of this order, which is not onely most profitable, but also very necessary: seeing that by this meanes vertue is rewarded, and vice punished, where in the quietnesse and happinesse of this life consisteth. 19 He declareth the first argument more amply, shewing that Christian libertie doeth amongst all things leaue or not at all consist herein, to wit, to cast off the bridle of the Lawes, (as at that time some altogether vnskilfull in the kingdome of God reported) but rather in this, that liuing holily according to the will of God, wee shoulde make manifest to all men, that the Gospel is not a cloake for sinne and wickednesse, seeing we are in such sort free, that yet we are still the seruants of God and not of sinne. 20 Hee diuideth the ciuill life of man, by occasion of those things which hee spake, into two generall partes: to witte, into those duties which priuate men owe to priuate men, and especially the faithfull, and into that subiection whereby inferiours are bounde to their superiours: but so, that Kinges bee not made equall to God, seeing that feare is due to God, and honour to Kings. [d] Be charitable and dutifull towarde all men. [e] Chapter 3.22. romaines 12.10. [f] The assemble and fellowship of the brethren, as Zacharie 12. 24. ✣ Ephesians 5.6. colossians 3.22. 21 Hee goeth to the duetie of seruantes towardes their masters, which he describeth with these bondes, that seruantes submit themselues willingly and not by constraint, not onely to the good and courteous, but also to the froward and sharpe masters. ✣ 2. corinth. 7.10. 22 The taking away of an obiection: In deede the condition of seruantes is hard, especially if they haue froward masters: but this their subiection shall be so much the more acceptable to God, if his will preuaile more with seruantes, then the masters iniuries.

f Because he maketh a conscience of it to offend God, by whose good will and appointment he knoweth this burden is layde vpon him.

for f conscience toward God endure griefe, suffering wrongfully.

20 For what praise is it, if when ye be buffeted for your faultes, yee take it patiently? but and if when ye doe well, ye suffer wrong and take it paciently, this is acceptable to God.

21 23 For hereunto ye are called: for Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an g ensample that ye should follow his steppes, 22 ✣ Who did no sinne, neyther was there guile found in his mouth.

23 Who when hee was reuiled, reuiled not againe: when hee suffered, hee threatned not, but 24 cõmitted it to him 25 that iudgeth righteously.

24 ✣ 26 Who his owne selfe bare our sinnes in his body on the tree, that we being dead to sinne, should liue in righteousnesse: by whose stripes ye were healed.

25 For ye were as sheepe going astray: but are now returned vnto the shepheard and Bishop of your soules.

23 He mitigateth the grieuousnes of seruitude, while he sheweth plainely, that Christ died also for seruants, that they should beare so much the more patiently this inequalitie betwixt men which are of one selfe same nature: more ouer setting before them Christ that Lord of Lords for an ensample, hee signifieth that they cannot but seeme too delicate, which shewe themselues more grieued in bearing of iniuries, then Christ himselfe who was most iust, & most sharpely of all afflicted, & yet was most patient. g A borowed kinde of speach taken of painters and scholemasters. ✣ Esai. 53.9. *1.ioh.*3.5. 24 He sheweth them a remedie against iniuries, to wit, that they commend their cause to God, by the ensample of Christ. 25 He seemeth nowe to turne his speach to masters, which haue also themselues a master & iudge in heauen, who will iustly reuenge the iniuries that are done to seruants, without any respect of persons. ✣ *Esai.*53.5. *matth.*8.17. 26 He calleth the seruants backe from the consideration of the iniuries which they are constrained to beare, to thinke vpon the greatnes and the end of the benefite receiued of Christ.

CHAP. III.

1 That Christian women shoulde not contemne their husbandes though they be infidels, 5 Hee bringeth in examples of godly women. 8 Generall exhortations, 14 patiently to beare persecutions, 15 and boldly to yeeld a reason of their faith. 18 Christes example.

*✣ Coloss.*3.18. *ephes.*5.22.

LIkewise ✣ 1 let the wiues be subiect to their husbandes, 2 that euen they which obey not the worde, may without the worde be wonne by the conuersation of the wiues,

2 While they beholde your pure conuersation, which is with feare.

1 In the thirde place he setteth foorth the wiues duties to their husbandes, commanding them to be obedient.

3 ✣ 3 Whose apparelling, let it not be that outwarde, with broyded haire, and golde put about, or in putting on of apparell:

2 He speaketh namely of them which had husbãds that were not Christians, which ought so much the more be subiect to their husbands, that by their honest and chast conuersation they may gaine them to the Lorde.

4 But let it be the 2 hid man of y heart, which consisteth in the incorruption of a meeke & quiet spirit, which is b before God a thing much set by.

3 He condemneth the riot and excesse of women, and setteth forth their true apparelling, such as is precious before God, to wit, the inward and incorruptible, which consisteth in a meeke and quiet spirit. a Who hath his feat fastened in the heart: so that the hidde man is set against the outwarde decking of the body. b Precious in deede, and so taken of God.

5 4 For euen after this maner in time past did the holy women, which trusted in God tire them selues, and were subiect to their husbands.

6 As Sara obeyed Abraham, and ✣ called him Sir: whose daughters ye are, whiles yee doe well, 5 not being afraid of any terrour.

4 An argument taken of the example of women, & especially of Sara which was the mother of al beleeuers. ✣ *Gen.*18.12.

5 Because women are of nature fearefull, hee giueth them to vnderstand that he requireth of them that subiection, which is not wrung out of them either by force or feare.

7 ✣ 6 Likewise ye husbands, c dwel with them as men of d knowledge, 7 giuing e honour vnto the woman, as vnto the weaker f vessell, 8 euen as they which are heires together of the g grace of life, 9 that your prayers be not interrupted.

* *1.Cor.*7.3.

5 Because women are of nature fearefull, hee giueth them to vnderstand that he requireth of them that subiection, which is not wrung out of them either by force or feare. * *1.Cor.*7.3. 6 He teacheth husbands also their duties, to wit, that the more vnderstanding and wisdome they haue, the more wisely & circumspectly they behaue themselues. c Doe all the duties of wedlocke. d The more wisedome the husband hath, the more circumspectly he must behaue himselfe in bearing those discommodities, which through the womans weakenes oft times cause trouble both to the husband and the wife. 7 The second argument: because the wife notwithstanding that she is weaker by nature then the man, is an excellent instrument of the man, made to farre most excellent vses: whereupon it followeth, that shee is not therefore to be neglected because she is weake, but on the contrary part she ought to be so much the more cared for. e Hauing an honest care of her.

f The woman is called a vessel after the maner of the Hebrewes, because the husband vseth her as his fellow and helper to liue faithfully before God.

8 8 Finally, be ye al of one mind: one suffer h another: loue as brethren: be pitifull: be courteous,

9 ✣ 11 Not rendring euill for euill, neither rebuke for rebuke: but contrariwise, blesse, 12 knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should be heires of blessing.

10 ✣ 13 For if any man long after life, and to h see good dayes, let him refraine his tongue from euill, and his lippes that they speake no guile.

11 ∴ Let him eschew euil, and do good: let him seeke peace, and follow after it.

12 For the eyes of the Lord are ouer the righteous, & his eares are open vnto their prayers: and the i face of the Lord is against them that do euil.

13 14 And who is it that will harme you, if ye follow that which is good?

14 ✣ Notwithstanding blessed are ye, if yee suffer for righteousnes sake. 15 Yea, ✣ feare not their k feare, neither be troubled.

15 But l sanctifie the Lord God in your hearts: 16 and be ready alwayes to giue an answere to euery man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you, with meekenesse and reuerence, 16 Hauing a good cõscience, y whē they speake euil of you as of euil doers, they may be ashamed, which slander your good conuersation in Christ.

17 17 For it is better (if the will of God be so) that ye suffer for well doing, then for euill doing.

18 * 18 For Christ also hath once suffered for sinnes, 19 the iust for the vniust, 20 that he might 9 The fourth argument: All brawlings and chidings must be eschewed, because they hinder prayers & the whole seruice of God, whereunto both the husband and the wife are equally called.

10 He returneth to common exhortations, & commendeth constancie and whatsoeuer things perteine to the maintenance of peace and mutuall loue.

11 Wee must not onely not recompense iniurie for iniurie, but we must also recompense them with benefites. 12 An argument taken of comparison: Seeing that wee our selues are called of God whom we offend so often, to so great a benefite, (so farre is he from reuenging the iniuries which we doe vnto him,) shall wee rather make our selues vnworthy of so great bountifulnesse, then forgiue one anothers faultes? And from this verse to the end of the Chapter, there is a digression or going from the matter hee is in hande with, to exhort vs valiantly to beare afflictions.

✣ *Psalm.*34.13. 13 A secret obiection: But this our patience shalbe nothing els but a fleshing & hardening of the wicked in their wickednes, to make them set vpon vs more boldly and destroy vs. Nay (sayth the Apostle by the wordes of Dauid) to liue without doing hurt, and to followe after peace when it fleeth away, is the way to that happie and quiet peace. And if so be any man be afflicted for doing iustly, the Lorde marketh all thinges, and will in his time deliuer the godly, which cry vnto him, and will destroy the wicked. b Leade a blessed and happie life. ✣ Esay 1.16. i Thy worde (Face), after the maner of the Hebrewes, is taken for (anger). 14 The seconde argument: when the wicked are prouoked, they are more way warde: therefore they must rather be ouercome with good turnes. And if they cannot be gotten by that meanes also, yet notwithstanding wee shal be blessed, if wee suffer for righteousnesse sake. ✣ *Matth.*5.10.

15 A most certaine counsel in afflictions, be they neuer so terrible, to be of a constant minde, and to stand fast. But how shall wee attaine vnto it? If wee sanctifie God in our mindes and hearts, that is to say, if we rest vpon him as one that is Almightie, that loueth mankind, that is good and true indeede. ✣ *Esa.*8.12.13. k Be not dismaied as they are. l Giue him al praise and glorie, and beare vnto him. 16 Hee will haue vs, when we are afflicted for righteousnesse sake, to be carefull not for redeeming of our life, either with denying or renouncing the truth, or with like violence, or any such meanes: but rather to giue an account of our faith boldly, and yet with a meeke spirit, and full of godly reuerence, that the enemies may not haue any thing iustly to obiect, but may rather be ashamed of themselues. 17 A reason which standeth vpon two generall rules of Christianitie, which notwithstanding all men allowe not. The one is, If wee must needes suffer afflictions, it is better to suffer wrongfully then rightfully: the other is this, because we are so afflicted not by happe, but by the will of our God.

* *Rom.*5.6. *hebr.*9.15. 18 A proofe of either of the rules, by the example of Christ himselfe our chiefe paterne, who was afflicted not for his owne sinnes (which were none) but for ours, and that according to his Fathers decree.

19 An argument taken of comparison: Christ the iust, suffered for vs that were vniust, & shal it grieue vs which are vniust to suffer for the iustes cause? 20 An argument being partly taken of things coupled together, to wit, because Christ bringeth vs to his Father that same way that he went himselfe, and partly of the cause efficient: to wit, because Christ is not onely set before vs for an example to followe, but also hee holdeth vs vp by his power in all the difficulties of this life, vntill he bring vs to his Father.

bring vs to God, 21 and was put to death concerning the m flesh, but was quickened by the spirit.

19 22 By ‖ the which he also went, and preached vnto the ‖ spirits that are in prison.

20 Which were in time passed disobedient, when n once the long suffering of God abode in the dayes of ✣ Noe, while the Arke was preparing, wherein fewe, that is, eight o soules were saued in the water.

21 23 Whereof the baptisme that nowe is, answering that figure, (which is not a putting away of the filth of the flesh, but a confident demaunding which a good conscience maketh to p God) saueth vs also 24 by the resurrection of Iesus Christ, 22 Which is at the right hand of God, gone into heauen, to whome the Angels, and Powers, and might are subiect.

preached also vnto the dead, that they might bee condemned, according to men in the flesh, but might liue according to God in the spirit.

7 5 Nowe the ende of all things is at hand. Be ye therefore sober, and watching in prayer.

8 6 But aboue all things haue feruent loue among you: ✣ for loue shall couer the multitude of sinnes.

9 7 Be ye ✣ harberous one to another, without grudging.

10 8 ✣ Let euery man as he hath receiued the gift, minister the same one to another, 9 as good disposers of the manifolde grace of God.

11 10 If any man speake, let him speake as the wordes of God. If any man minister, let him doe it as of the abilitie which God ministreth, that God in althings may be glorified through Iesus Christ, to whome is prayse and dominion for euer, and euer, Amen.

12 11 Dearely beloued, thinke it not d strange 12 concerning the firie triall, which is among you to proue you, as though some strange thing were come vnto you:

13 13 But reioyce, in asmuch as yee are partakers of Christs suffrings, that when his glory shall appeare, ye may be glad and reioyce.

14 ✣ 14 If ye be railed vpon for the Name of Christ, blessed are ye: for the e spirit of glory, and of God resteth vpon you: which on their part is euill spoken of: but on your part is glorified.

15 15 But let none of you suffer as a murtherer, or as a thiefe, or an euill doer, or as a busibody in other mens matters.

16 But if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed: but let him glorifie God in this behalfe.

17 16 For the time is come, that iudgement must beginne at the house of God. 17 If it first beginne at vs, what shall the ende be of them which obey not the Gospell of God?

18 ✣ And if the righteous scarcely bee saued,

1 An other argument taken of the happie ende of these afflictions, wherein also Christ goeth before vs both in example and vertue, as one who suffered most grieuous torments euen vnto death, although but in one part onely of him, to wit, in the flesh or mans nature: but yet became conquerour by the vertue of his diuinitie.

m As touching his manhoode, for his body was dead, and his soule felt the sorowes of death. 22 A secret obiection: Christ in deede might doe this, but what is that to vs? Yes (saith the Apostle) for Christ hath shewed forth this vertue in all ages both to the preseruation of ✞ godly, were they neuer so few and miserable, and to reuenge the rebellion of his enemies, as it appeareth by the historie of the flood: for Christ is he which in those dayes (when God through his patience appointed a time of repentance to ✞ world) was present, not in corporal presence, but by his diuine vertue, preaching repentãce, euen by the mouth of Noe himselfe who then prepared the Arke, to those disobedient spirits which are now in prison, waiting for the full recompense of their rebellion, and saued those fewe (that is, eight onely persons) in the water. ‖ By the vertue of which Spirit, that is to say, of the diuinitie: therefore this word, Spirit, cannot in this place be taken for the soule, vnlesse we will say, that Christ was raised vp againe and quickened by the vertue of his soule. ‖ He calleth them spirits, in respect of his time, not in respect of the time that they were in the flesh. n This word (once) sheweth that there was a furthermost day appointed, and if that were once past, there should be no more. ✣ Gen. 6 14. matth. 24. 38. luke 17. 26. o Men. 23 A proportionall applying of the former example to the times which followed the comming of Christ: for that preseruation of Noe in the waters, was a figure of our Baptisme, not as though that material water of Baptisme saueth vs, as those waters which bare vp the Arke saued Noe, but because Christ with his inward vertue, which the outward baptisme shadoweth, preserueth vs being washed, so that we may cal vpon God with a good conscience. p The conscience beeing sanctified may freely call vpon God. 24 That selfe same vertue, whereby Christ rose againe and now being caried vp into heauen hath receiued all power, doeth at this day defend and preserue vs.

CHAP IIII.

1 He bringeth in Christs example, and applieth it 6 to the mortifying of the flesh, especially commending Charitie: 12 And so intreateth of patience. 17 That it is necessarie that correction beginne at the Church.

2 Hauing ended his digression and sliding from his matter, now he returneth to the exhortation which he brake off, taking occasion by that which he said touching the death and resurrection of Christ, so defining our sanctification, that to be sanctified, is all one as to cease in the flesh, that is to say, to cleane off from our wickednes and vicionesse: and to rise againe to God, that is to say, to be renned by the vertue of the holy Ghost, that we may lead the rest of our life which remaineth, after the will of God.

FOrasmuch 1 then as Christ hath suffered for vs in the flesh, arme your selues likewise with the same minde, which is, that he which hath suffered in the flesh, hath ceassed from sinne,

2 That he thence forward should liue (as much time as 2 remaineth in the flesh) not after the lusts of men, but after the will of God.

3 ✣ 3 For it is sufficient for vs that we haue spẽt the time past of ✞ life, after the b lust of the Gentiles, walking in wantonnes, lustes, drunkennes, in gluttonie, drinkings, & in abominable idolatries.

4 3 Wherein it seemeth to them c strange, that ye runne not with them vnto the same excesse of riot: therefore speake they euill of you,

5 Which shall giue accounts to him, that is ready to iudge quicke and dead.

6 4 For vnto this purpose was the Gospell preached also vnto the dead, that they might be condemned, according to men in the flesh, but might liue according to God in the spirit.

5 He returneth to his purpose, vsing an argument taken from the circumstance of the time, Because the last ende is at hand, and therefore we must so much the more diligently watch and pray, with true sobriety of minde.

6 He cõmendeth charitie of one towards another, because it doeth as it were burie a multitude of sinnes, and therefore preserueth and maintaineth peace and concord: for they that loue one another, doe easily forgiue one another their offences, ✣ Prouer. 10, 12.

7 Of all the duties of charitie, he commendeth one namely, which was at that time most necessarie, to wit, hospitalitie, which he will haue to be voluntarily and most courteous and bountifull. ✣ Rom. 12. 13. hebr. 13. 2.

8 He sheweth the vse of charitie, to wit, that euery man bestowe that gift which he hath receiued, to the profit of his neighbour. ✣ Rom. 12. 6. phil. p. 2. 14.

7 5 Nowe the ende of all things is at hand. Be ye therefore sober, and watching in prayer.

8 6 But aboue all things haue feruent loue among you: ✣ for loue shall couer the multitude of sinnes.

9 7 Be ye ✣ harberous one to another, without grudging.

10 8 ✣ Let euery man as he hath receiued the gift, minister the same one to another, 9 as good disposers of the manifolde grace of God.

11 10 If any man speake, let him speake as the wordes of God. If any man minister, let him doe it as of the abilitie which God ministreth, that God in althings may be glorified through Iesus Christ, to whome is prayse and dominion for euer, and euer, Amen.

12 11 Dearely beloued, thinke it not d strange 12 concerning the firie triall, which is among you to proue you, as though some strange thing were come vnto you:

13 13 But reioyce, in asmuch as yee are partakers of Christs suffrings, that when his glory shall appeare, ye may be glad and reioyce.

14 ✣ 14 If ye be railed vpon for the Name of Christ, blessed are ye: for the e spirit of glory, and of God resteth vpon you: which on their part is euill spoken of: but on your part is glorified.

15 15 But let none of you suffer as a murtherer, or as a thiefe, or an euill doer, or as a busibody in other mens matters.

16 But if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed: but let him glorifie God in this behalfe.

17 16 For the time is come, that iudgement must beginne at the house of God. 17 If it first beginne at vs, what shall the ende be of them which obey not the Gospell of God?

18 ✣ And if the righteous scarcely bee saued,

9 A reason, because that what gift soeuer wee haue, we haue receiued it of God vpon this condition, to bee his disposers and stewardes. 10 He reckoneth vp two kindes of these gifts as chiefe, to wit, the office of teaching in the Church, and the other ecclesiasticall functions, wherein two things especially are to bee obserued: to wit, that the pure worde of God be taught, and whatsoeuer is done, bee referred to the glory of God the Father in Christ, as to the proper marke. 11 Because the crosse is ioyned with the sincere profession of religion, the Apostle fitly repeateth that which he touched before, warning vs not bee troubled at persecutions and afflictions, as at a newe and strange thing. d As though some new thing had beene fallen you, which you neuer thought of before. 12 The first reason: Because the Lorde meaneth not to consume vs with this fire (as it were) but to purge vs of our drosse and make vs perfite. 13 An other reason: Because the afflictions of the godly and the wicked differ very much, and chiefly in three pointes. First, because the godly communicate with Christ in their afflictions, and therefore shall in their time be partakers also of his glory. ✣ Matth. 5. 10. 14 Secondly, because that although the infidels thinke farre otherwise, who in afflicting the godly blaspheme God, yet the godly in that they are so ordered vpon, are honoured of God with the true spirituall glory, and their adoption is sealed in them by the Spirit of God. e By spirite, he meaneth the gifts of the spirite. 15 The third difference: for the godly are not afflicted for their euill doings but for righteousnesse sake as Christians: whereby it commeth to passe, that the crosse, seeing it is a testimonie vnto them of faith and righteousnesse, ministreth to them not an occasion of sorrowe, but of vnspeakeable ioy: nowe the Apostle propoundeth this third difference vnder the forme of an exhortation. 16 The third reason: because the Lorde of all the world being especially carefull for them of his household, doeth therefore chastise them first of all, yet so that he keepeth a measure in his greatest seueritie. And as he hath alwayes vsed to do heretofore, so doth he now especially when as bee exhibited himselfe in person to his Church. 17 Lest the godly should be offended and stumble at the vaine shadowe of felicitie of the wicked, as though God were not the gouernour of the world, for that the wicked are in good case and the godly in euil, the Apostle teacheth by an argument of a comparison of them together, that God who spareth not his own, but nourtereth them vnder the crosse, will at length in his time handle the rebellions and wicked sorte otherwise, whom he hath appointed to vtter destruction. ✣ Prou. 2. 31.

where shall the vngodly and the sinner appeare?
19 18 Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God, commit their soules to him in well doing, as vnto a faithfull Creator.

28 The conclusion: Seeing the godly are not afflicted by chance, but by the will of God they ought not to despaire, but goe forward notwithstanding in the way of holinesse and well doing, commending themselues to God that faithfull Creator, that is to say, their Father.

CHAP. V.

1 Hee warneth the Elders not to vsurpe authoritie ouer the Church, 5 willing the yonger sort to be willing to be taught, and to be modest, 8 to be sober and watchfull to resist the cruel aduersarie.

THe [1] elders which are among you, [2] I beseech which am also an elder, & a witnes of [y] the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shalbe reueiled,

2 [3] a Feede the [4] flocke of God, which [5] dependeth vpon you, [6] caring for it not by constraint, but willingly: not for filthie lucre, but of a readie minde:

3 Not as though ye were lords ouer Gods [b] heritage, but that ye may be ensamples to the flock.

4 [7] And when that chiefe shepheard shall appeare, ye shal receiue an incorruptible crowne of glory.

5 [8] Likewise yee yonger, submit your selues vnto the elders, & submit your selues euery man, one to another: ✣ decke your selues inwardly in

1 He describeth peculiarly the office of the Elders, that is to say, of them that haue the care of the Church.

2 He vseth a preface touching the circumstance of his owne person: to wit, that he as their copanie moueth with them not of matters which he knoweth not, but wherein he is as well experienced as any, and propoundeth vnto them no other condition but that which he himselfe hath sustained before them, & doeth still take the same paines, and also hath one selfe same hope together with them.

3 The first rule: He that is a shepeheard, let him feed the flocke. a He saieth not, offer for the quicke and the dead, and sing patched shreds in a strange tongue, but, (feede). 4 The second: Let the shepeheard consider, that the flocke is not his, but Gods. 5 The third: Let not shepeheards inuade other mens flocks, but let them feede that which God hath committed vnto them. 6 Let the shepheards gouerne the Church with the worde, and example of godly and vnblameable life, not by constraint, but willingly, not for filthie lucre, but of a readie minde, not as lordes ouer Gods portion and heritage, but as his ministers. b Which is the Christian people. 7 That the shepeheards mindes be not ouercome either with the wickednes of men, or their cruelties, he warneth them to cast their eies continually vpon that chiefe shepheard, and the crowne which is laied vp for them in heauen. 8 He commendeth many peculiar Christian vertues, and especially modestie: which admonition all of vs stand in need of, but especially the yonger sort, by reason of the vntowardnesse and pride of that age. ✣ Rom 12.10.

lowlines of mind: for ✣ God resisteth the proud, and giueth grace to the humble.

6 Humble ✣ your selues therefore [10] vnder the mightie hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time.

7 ∴ Cast all your care on him: for hee careth for you.

8 [11] Be sober, and watch: for ✕ your aduersary the deuil as a roaring lyon walketh about, seeking whom he may deuoure:

9 Whom resist stedfast in the faith, [12] knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your [c] bretheren which are in the world.

10. [13] And the God of all grace, which hath called vs vnto his eternal glory by Christ Iesus, after that ye haue suffered a litle, make you perfite, confirme, strengthen and stablish you.

11 To him be glory and dominion for euer and euer, Amen.

12 [14] By Syluanus a faithfull brother vnto you, as I suppose, haue I written briefly, exhorting and testifying how that this is the true grace of God, wherein ye stand.

13 [15] The Church that is at [d] Babylon elected together with you, saluteth you, and Marcus my sonne.

14 Greete ye one another with the ✣ kisse of loue. Peace be with you all which are in Christ Iesus, Amen.

9 Because pride seemeth to many, to be the way vnto the glory of this life, the Apostle witnesseth on the contrary side, that ignominie and shame is the reward of pride, and glory the reward of modestie.

✣ Iames 4. 6.

✣ Iames 4. 10.

10 Because those proud and loftie spirits threaten the most and humble, the Apostle warneth vs to set the power of God against the vanitie of proud men, and to hang wholy vpon his prouidence.

THE SECOND EPISTLE GENERAL OF PETER.

CHAP. I.

3 Hauing spoken of the bountifulnesse of God, 5 and of the vertues of faith, 6 He exhorteth them to holines of life, 12 and that his counsell may be the more effectuall, 14 He sheweth that his death is at hand, 16 and that him selfe did see the power of Christ which he opened vnto them.

SImon [1] Peter a seruant & an Apostle of Iesus Christ, to you which haue obteined like precious faith with vs by the [a] righteousnesse of our God and Sauiour Iesus Christ:

2 Grace and peace bee multiplied to you, [2] through the acknowledging of God, and of Iesus our Lord,

3 According as his [b] diuine power hath giuen vnto vs all things that pertaine vnto [c] life & godlinesse, through the [d] acknowledging of him

1 A salutation, wherein he giueth them to vnderstand that he dealeth with them as Christes embassadour, and otherwise agreeth with them in one selfe same faith which is grounded vpon the righteousnesse of Iesus Christ, our God and Sauiour.

a In that: that God standing to his promises, shewed himselfe faithfull, & therefore iust vnto vs. 2 Faith is the acknowledging of God and Christ, from whence all our blessednes issueth and floweth: 3 Christ setteth foorth himselfe vnto vs plainly in the Gospel, and that by his onely power, and giueth vs all things which are requisite both to eternall life, wherein he hath appointed to glorifie vs, and also to godlinesse, in that he doeth furnish vs with true vertue. b Hee speaketh of Christ, whom he maketh God, and the onely Sauiour. c Vnto saluation. d This is the summe of true religion, to be led by Christ to the Father, as it were by the hand, that hath called vs vnto glory and vertue.

4 [4] Whereby most great and percious promises are giuen vnto vs, that by them yee shoulde be partakers of the [e] diuine nature, in that ye flee the corruption, which is in the [f] world through [g] lust.

5 [5] Therefore giue euen all diligence thereunto: [h] ioyne moreouer vertue with your faith: and with vertue, knowledge:

6 [6] And with knowledge, temperance: and with temperance, patience: and with patience, godlinesse:

4 An explication of the former sentence, declaring the causes of so great benefites, to wit, God and his free promise, from whence all these benefits proceed, I say, these most excellent benefits, whereby we are deliuered from the corruption of the world, (that is, from the wicked lustes which we carry about vs) and are made after a sort, like vnto God himselfe. e By the diuine nature he meaneth not the substance of the Godhead, but the partaking of those qualities, whereby the image of God is restored in vs. f In men. g For lust is the state of corruption, and hath his place euen in our very bowels and inmost parts. 5 Hauing laied the foundation (that is, hauing declared the causes of our saluation, and especially of our sanctification) now he beginneth to exhort vs to giue our mindes wholy to the true vse of this grace. And he beginneth with faith, without which nothing can please God, and he warneth vs to haue it full fraught with vertue (that is to say, with good and godly maners) being ioyned with the knowledge of Gods will, without which, there is neither faith, neither any true vertue. h Apply also, and support it with. 6 He reckoneth vp certaine other principall vertues, whereof some pertaine to the first table of the Lawe, others to the last.

7 And with godlines, brotherly kindnes: and with brotherly kindnes, loue,

8 7 For if these things bee among you, and abound, they will make you that ye neither shalbe idle, not vnfruitfull in the knowledging of our Lord Iesus Christ:

9 For he that hath not these things, is blinde, and i can not see far off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his olde sinnes.

10 8 Wherfore, brethren, giue rather diligence to make your calling & election sure: for if ye do these things ye shall neuer fall.

11 For by this meanes an entring shall be ministred vnto you aboundantly into the euerlasting kingdome of our Lorde and Sauiour Iesus Christ.

12 9 Wherefore, I will not bee negligent to put you alwayes in remembrance of these things, though that ye haue knowledge, & be stablished in the present trueth.

13 For I thinke it meete as long as I am in this k tabernacle, to stirre you vp by putting you in remembrance, 14 Seeing I know that the time is at hand that I must lay downe this my tabernacle, euen as our Lord Iesus Christ hath ✣ shewed me.

15 I will endeuour therefore alwayes, that ye also may be able to haue remembrance of these things after my departing.

16 ✣ 10 For we followed not deceiuable fables when we opened vnto you the power, and comming of our Lord Iesus Christ, but with our eyes we sawe his maiestie:

17 For he receiued of God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voyce to him from that excellent glory, ∴ This is my beloued Sonne, in whome I am well pleased.

18 And this voyce wee heard when it came from heauen, being with him in the Holy mount.

19 11 Wee haue also a most sure worde of the Prophets, 12 to the which ye doe wel that ye take heede, as vnto a light ỹ shineth in a darke place, vntill the l day dawne, and the m day starre arise in your heartes.

20 ✕ 13 So that ye first know this, that no prophecie of the n Scripture is of any o priuate interpretation.

21 For the prophecie came not in olde time by the will of man: but p holy men of God spake as they were q moued by the holy Ghost.

BVt 1 there were false prophets also among the a people, euen as there shalbe false teachers among you: which priuily shall bring in damnable heresies, euen denying the Lorde, that hath bought them, and bring vpon themselues swift damnation.

2 2 And many shall follow their destructions, by whom the way of trueth shalbe euil spoken of,

3 3 And through couetousnes shall they with fained words make b marchandise of you, 4 whose condemnation long since resteth not, and their destruction slumbreth not.

4 For if God spared not the ✣ Angels that had sinned, but cast them downe into c hell, and deliuered them into d chaines of darknes, to be kept vnto damnation:

5 Neither hath spared the e olde world, but saued ✣ Noe the eight person a f preacher of righteousnesse, and brought in the flood vpon the world of the vngodly,

6 And ∴ turned the cities of Sodome and Gomorrhe into ashes, condemned them and ouerthrew them, and made them an ensample vnto them that after should liue vngodly,

7 And deliuered iust Loth vexed with the vncleanly conuersation of the wicked:

8 (For hee being righteous, and dwelliug among them, in g seeing and hearing, h vexed his righteous soule from day to day with their vnlawfull deedes.)

9 The Lord i knoweth to deliuer the godlie out of tentation, & to reserue the vniust vnto the day of iudgement vnder punishment.

10 5 And chiefly thē that walke after ỹ flesh, in the lust of vncleannesse, and despise gouernement, which are bold, & stand in their owne conceite, & feare not to speake euil of them that are in k dignitie,

11 Wheras the Angels which are greater both in power and might, giue not rayling iudgement against them before the Lord.

12 6 But these, as natural brute beasts, led with sensualitie and l made to be taken, and destroyed, speake euil of those things which they know not, and shal perish through their own m corruption,

13 And shall receiue the wages of vnrighteousnesse, as they which count it pleasure dayly to liue deliciously. ‖ Spottes they are and blottes, delighting themselues in their deceiuings, n in feasting with you,

7 As those fruits doe spring from the true knowledge of Christ, so in like sort the knowledge it selfe is fostered and groweth by bringing foorth such fruites, in so much that he that is vnfruitfull did either neuer know the true light, or hath forgotten the gift of sanctification which he hath receiued.

i He that hath not an effectual knowledge of God in him, is blind as touching the kingdom of God, for he can not see things that are afarre off, that is to say, heauenly things.

8 The conclusion: Therefore seeing our calling and election is approued by those fruits, and is confirmed in vs, & moreouer seeing this is the onely way to the euerlasting kingdome of Christ, it remaineth that we cast out mindes wholy that way.

9 An amplifying of the conclusion ioyned with a modest excuse, wherein he declareth his loue towards them, and foretelleth them of his death which is at hand.

10 An other amplification taken both of the great certaintie and also excellencie of this doctrine, as where of our Lord Iesus Christ the Sonne of God is author, whose glory the Apostle him selfe both sawe and heard. ∴ Math. 17.5. 11 The trueth of the Gospel is hereby also manifest, in that it agreeth wholy with the foretellings of the Prophets. 12 The doctrine of the Apostles doeth not shut out the doctrine of the Prophets, for they confirme eaoh other by each others testimonies, but the Prophets were as candles which gaue light vnto the blind, vntill the brightnesse of the Gospell began to shine. l A more full and open knowledge, then was vnder the shadowes of the Lawe. m That cleaner doctrine of the Gospell. ✕ *2. 4 A comfort for the godly: God who cast the Angels that fell away from him, head long into the darknesse of hell, at length to be iudged: and who destroyed the old world with the flood, & preserued Noe the eight person & who burned Sodome, and saued Lot, will deliuer his elect from these errours, & wil vtterly destroy those vnrighteous.

8 Another note whereby they may be well knowen what maner of men they are, because they haue inwardly nothing but either vtterly vaine or very hurtfull, although they make a shewe of some great goodnesse: but they shall not escape vnpunished for it, because vnder pretence of false libertie, they draw men into most miserable seruerie of sinne.

17 ✣ 8 These are o welles without water, and cloudes caried about with a tempest, to whome the p blacke darkenesse is reserued for euer.

18 For in speaking q swelling wordes of vanitie, they r beguile with wantonnesse through the lusts of the flesh them that were [cleane escaped from them which are wrapped in errour, 19 Promising vnto them libertie, & are themselues the ∴ seruants of corruption: for of whom soeuer a man is ouercome, euen vnto the same is he in bondage.

20 9 ✣ For if they, after they haue escaped from the filthinesse of the world, through the acknowledging of the Lorde, and of the Sauiour Iesus Christ, are yet tangled againe therein, and ouercome, the latter ende is worse with them then the beginning.

21 For it had bene better for them, not to haue knowledged the way of righteousnes, then after they haue acknowledged it, to turne from the holy commandement giuen vnto them.

22 But it is come vnto them, according to the true Prouerbe, ✣ The dogge is returned to his owne vomit: and, the sowe that was washed, to the wallowing in the myre.

CHAP. III.

1 He sheweth that hee writeth the same things againe, 2 Because they must often be stirred vp, 4 because dangers hang ouer their heads through certaine mockers: 8 Therefore he warneth the godly that they do not after the iudgement of the flesh, 12 appoynt the day of the Lord, 14 but that they thinke it alwayes at hand. 15 In which doctrine he sheweth that Paul agreeth with him.

1 The remedie against those wicked enemies, both of true doctrine and holinesse, is to be sought for by the continuall meditation of the writings of the Prophets and Apostles.

b Which appeared, when the waters were gathered together into one place.

THis 1 seconde Epistle I nowe write vnto you, beloued, wherewith I stirre vp, and warne your pure mindes,

2 To call to remembrance the words, which were tolde before of the holy Prophets, and also the commaundement of vs the Apostles of the Lorde and Sauiour.

3 ✣ 2 This first vnderstande, that there shall come in the last daies, 2 mockers, which wil walke after their lustes,

4 3 And say, Where is the promes of his comming? for since the fathers died, all things continue alike from the beginning of the creation.

5 4 For this they willingly know not, that the heauens were of olde, and the b earth that was of the water and by the water, by the worde of God.

6 5 Wherefore the world that then was, perished, ouerflowed with the c water.

7 6 For the heauens and earth, which are nowe, are kept by the same word in store, and reserued vnto fire against the day of condemnation, and of the destruction of vngodly men.

8 7 Dearely beloued, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lorde, ✣ as a thousande yeeres, and a thousande yeeres as one day.

9 8 The Lord of that promise is not slacke (as some men count slackenesse) 9 but is patient toward vs, and ✣ would haue no man to perish, but would all men to come to repentance.

10 10 But the ∴ day of the Lord will come as a thiefe in the night, in the which the heauens shal passe away with a d noyse, and the elements shall melt with heate, and the earth with the workes that are therein, shalbe burnt vp.

11 11 Seeing therefore that all these things must bee dissolued, what maner of persons ought ye to be in holy conuersation and godlinesse, 12 Looking for, and e hasting vnto the comming of that day of God, by the which the heauens being on fire, shall be dissolued, and the elements shall melt with heate?

13 But wee looke for ✣ newe heauens, and a newe earth, according to his promise, f wherein dwelleth righteousnesse.

14 Wherefore, beloued, seeing that yee looke for such things, be diligent that yee may be found in him in g peace, without spot and blamelesse.

15 ✣ And suppose that the long sufferiug of our Lorde is saluation, 12 euen as our beloued brother Paul according to the wisedome giuen vnto him wrote to you,

16 As one that in all his Epistles speaketh of these things: 13 among the ‖ which some things are hard to be vnderstood, which they that are vnlearned and vnstable, wrest, as they doe also other Scriptures vnto their owne destruction.

17 Ye therefore beloued, seeing ye know these things before, beware, lest yee bee also plucked away with the errour of the wicked, and fall from your owne stedfastnesse.

18 But growe in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lorde and Sauiour Iesus Christ: to him be glory both now and euermore. Amen.

3 Steadily, he setteth against them the vniuersall flood, which was the destruction, as it were of the whole world.
c For the waters returning into their former place, this world, that is to say, this beautie of the earth which we see, and all liuing creatures which liue vpon the earth, perished.
6 Thirdly, hee pronounceth that it shall not be harder for God to burne heauen and earth with fire, in that day which is appointed for the destruction of the wicked (which thing he will also doe) then it was for him in times past to make them with his onely word, and afterward to ouerwhelme them with water.
7 The taking away of an obiection: In that he cometh to defarre this iudgement a long season, in respect of vs it is true, but not before God, with whom there is no time either long or short.
✣ Psalme 90.4.
8 The Lord will surely come, because he hath promised: and that neither sooner nor later then hee hath promised.

But this is the remedie against such deceite, to labour that wee may daily more and more growe vp and increase in the knowledge of Christ. ‖ That is to say, among the which things, for he distinguisheth not here whether Pauls Epistles be plaine or darke, but saith that among such things which Paul hath written of in his Epistles, and Peter himselfe in those two of his owne, there are somethings which cannot be so easily vnderstande, and therefore are of some drawen to their owne destruction: and this bee sayth to make us more attentiue and diligent, and not to remoone us from the reading of holy things, for to what ende should they haue written vaine speculations?

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF IOHN.

CHAP. I.

1 Hee testifieth that he bringeth the eternall worde wherein is life, 5 and light. 9 God will be mercifull vnto the faithfull, if groning vnder the burden of their sinnes, they learne to flie vnto his mercie.

THat [c] which was from the beginning, which wee haue [a] heard̃e, which wee haue seene with these our eyes, which wee haue looked vpon, and these handes of ours haue handled of that [b] worde of life,

2 (For that life was made manifest, and wee haue seene it, and beare witnesse, and [c] shew vnto you that eternal life, which was with the Father, and was manifest vnto vs)

3 That, I say, which wee haue seene and heard, declare wee vnto you, [2] that yee may also haue fellowship with vs, and that our fellowship also may be with the Father, and with his Sonne IESVS Christ.

4 And these things write wee vnto you, that that your ioy may be full.

5 [3] This then is the message which wee haue heard of him, and declare vnto you, that God ✣ is light, and in him is no darkenesse.

6 If wee say that wee haue fellowship with him, and walke in darkenesse, we lie, and doe not truely:

7 But if we walke in the [d] light as he is in the light, we haue fellowship one with another, [4] and the ✣ blood of Iesus Christ his Sonne clenseth vs from all sinne.

8 [5] If we say that we haue no sinne, we [e] deceiue our selues, and [f] trueth is not in vs.

9 [6] If we acknowledge our sinnes, he is [g] faithfull and iust, to [h] forgiue vs our sinnes, & to clense vs from all vnrighteousnes.

10 [7] If we say wee haue not sinned, wee make him [i] a liar, and his [k] worde is not in vs.

1 He beginneth with the description of the person of Christ, whome he maketh one and not two: and him both God from everlasting (for he was with the Father from the beginning and is that eternall life) and also made true man, whome Iohn himselfe and his companions, both heard, and beholde, and handled.

a I heard him speake, I saw him my selfe with mine eyes, I handled with mine handes him that is very God being made very man, and not I alone but others also that were with me.

b That same everlasting Worde, by whom all things are made, and in whome onely there is life.

c Being sent by him: and that doctrine is rightly sayd to be shewed, for no man could so much as haue thought of it, if it had not beene thus shewed. 2 The vse of this doctrine is this, that all of vs being coupled and ioyned together with Christ by faith, might become the sonnes of God: in which thing onely consisteth all happinesse. 3 Nowe hee entreth into a question, whereby we may vnderstand that we are ioyned together with Christ, to wit if wee bee governed with his light, which is perceiued by the ordering of our life. And thus he reasoneth. God is in himselfe most pure light, therefore he agreeth well with them, which are lightsome, but with them that are darkesome hee hath no fellowship. ✣ Iohn 8.12. d God is sayd to bee light of his owne nature, and to be in light, that is to say, in that everlasting infinite Godhead: and we are sayd to walke in light, in that the beames of that light doe shine vnto vs in the Worde. 4 A digression or going from the matter he is in hand with, to the remission of sinnes: for this our sanctification which walke in the light, is a testimonie of our ioyning and knitting together with Christ: but because this our light is very darke, wee must needes obteine an other benefite in Christ, to wit, that our sinnes may be forgiuen vs being sprinkled with his blood: and this in conclusion is the proppe and stay of our saluation. ✣ Hebr. xcvi 9.28. 1. peter 1.19. reuelati. 1. 5. 5 There is none but needeth this benefite, because there is none that is not a sinner. ∴ 1. Kings 8.46. 2. chron. 6.36. prouerbes 20.9.

e This place doeth fully refute that perfectnesse and workes of supererogation which the Papists dreame of. f So then, Iohn speaketh not this for modesties sake, as some say, but because it is so in deede. 6 Therefore the beginning of saluation is to acknowledge our wickednesse, and to require pardon of him who freely forgiueth all sinnes, because he hath promised to doe, and hee is faithful and iust.

g So then our saluation hangeth vpon the free promise of God, who because he is faithfull and iust, will performe that which he hath promised. h Where are then our merites? for this is our true felicitie. 7 A rehearsall of the former sentence, wherein he condemned all of sinne without exception: in so much that if any man perswade himselfe otherwise, he doeth as much as in him lieth, make the worde of God himselfe vaine and to no purpose, yea he maketh God a liar: for to what end either in times past needed sacrifices, or nowe Christ and the Gospel, if we be not sinners?

i They doe not onely deceiue themselues, but are blasphemous against God. k His doctrine shall haue no place in vs, that is in our hearts.

CHAP. II.

1 Hee declareth that Christ is our Mediatour and aduocate, 3 and sheweth that the knowledge of God consisteth in holinesse of life, 12 which appertaineth to all sorts, 14 that depend on Christ alone: 15 Then hauing exhorted them to contemne the worlde, 18 He giueth warning that antichrists be auoyded, 24 and that the knowen truth be stoode vnto.

MY [1] litle children, these things write I vnto you, that ye sinne not: and if any man sinne, wee haue an [a] Aduocate with the Father, Iesus Christ, the Iust.

2 And he is the [b] reconciliation for our sinnes: and not for ours onely, but also for the sinnes of the [c] whole world.

3 [2] And hereby we are sure that we [d] knowe him, [e] if we keepe his commaundements.

4 [3] He that saith, I knowe him, and keepeth not his commandements, is a liar, and the trueth is not in him.

5 [4] But he that keepeth his worde, in him is the [f] loue of God perfect in deede: hereby wee knowe that ye are in him.

6 [5] He that saith he remaineth in him, ought euen so to walke, as he hath walked.

7 [6] Brethren, I write no newe commaundement vnto you: but an olde commaundement, which ye haue had from the beginning: this olde commaundement is that worde, which ye haue heard from the beginning.

8 [7] Againe, a new comandement I write vnto you, that [h] which is true in him, and also in you: for the darknes is past, & that true light now shineth.

9 [8] He that saith that hee is in that light, and hateth his brother, is in darkenesse, vntil this time.

10 ✣ Hee that loueth his brother, abideth in that light, & there is none occasion of euil in him.

11 But he that hateth his brother, is in darkenesse, and walketh in darkenesse, and knoweth not whither hee goeth, because that darkenesse hath blinded his eyes.

12 [9] Litle children, [i] I write vnto you, because your sinnes are forgiuen you for his [k] Names sake.

1 It followeth not hereof that wee must giue our wicked nature the bridle, or sinne so much the more freely, because our sinnes are clensed away by the blood of Christ, but we must rather so much the more diligently resist sinne. And yet we must not despaire because of our weakenesse, for we haue an aduocate and a purger, Christ Iesus the iust, and therefore acceptable vnto his Father.

a In that he nameth Christ, he shutteth forth all other. b Reconciliation and intercession goe together, to giue vs to vnderstand that he is both aduocate and the Priest. c For men of all sortes, of all ages, and all places, so that this benefite belongeth not to the Iewes only, of whom he speaketh as appeareth, vers. 7. but also to other nations.

2 He returneth to the testimonie of our coniunction with God, to wit, to sanctification, declaring what it is to walke in the light, to wit, to keepe Gods commandements. Whereby it followeth that holines doeth not consist in those things which men haue deuised, neither in a vaine profession of the Gospell.

d Thus must be vnderstoode of such a knowledge as hath faith with it, and not of a common knowledge. e For the tree is knowen by the fruit. 3 Holinesse, that is, a life ordered according to the precepts of Gods commandements, how weake soeuer wee be, is of necessitie ioyned with faith, that is, with the true knowledge of the Father in the Sonne. 4 He that keepeth Gods commandements loueth God indeed. He that loueth God, is in God, or is ioyned together with God. Therefore he that keepeth his commandements, is in him.

f Wherewith we loue God. g He meaneth our coniunction with Christ. 5 He ỹ is one with Christ, must needes liue his life, that is, must walke in his steps. 6 The Apostle going about to expound the commandement of Charitie one towards another, telleth first, that when he vrgeth holines, he bringeth no new trade of life (as they vse to do which deuise traditions one after another) but putteth them in mind of that same lawe which God gaue in the beginning, to wit, by Moses, at that time that God began to make Lawes to his people. 7 He addeth that that doctrine indeede is old, but it is now after a sort new, both in respect of Christ, & also of vs in whom he through ỹ Gospel, engraueth his law effectually, not in tables of stone, but in our minds.

h Which thing: to wit, that the doctrine of new which I write vnto you, is true in him, & in you. 8 Now he commeth to the second table, that is, to charitie one towards another, and denieth that that man hath true light in him, or is indeede regenerate and the sonne of God, which hateth his brother: and such an one wandereth miserably in darknes, brag he of neuer so great knowledge of God, for that wittingly and willingly he casteth himselfe headlong into hell.

✣ Chap. 3.14. 9 He returneth againe from sanctification to remission of sinnes, because that free reconciliation in Christ is ỹ ground of our saluation, whereupon after wards sanctification must be built as vpon a foundatiõ.

i Therefore I write vnto you, because you are of this number whõ God hath reconciled to himselfe. k For his own sake: And in that he nameth Christ, he shutteth out all other, whether they be in heauen or earth

10 He sheweth that this doctrine agreeth to all ages, and first of all speaking to old men, he sheweth that Christ and his doctrine are passing ancient, and therefore if they be delited with old things, nothing ought to be more acceptable vnto them.
11 He admonisheth yong men, if they be desirous to shew their strength, that they haue a most glorious combate set here before them, to wit, Satan the worst enemie, who must be ouercome: willing them to be assured of the victorie, as if they had already gotten it.
12 Finally, he sheweth to children, that that true Father, frō whom they haue to looke for al good things, is set fourth vnto thē in the Gospel.
13 He addeth afterward in like order, as many exhortations: as if he should say. Remember, you Fathers, as I wrote euen now, that the euerlasting Sonne of God is reuciled to vs. Remember ye yong men, that that strength whereby I said that you put Satan to flight, is giuē you by ỹ word of God which dwelleth in you.
14 The world which is ful of wicked desires, lusts, or pleasures & pride, is vtterly hated of our heauenly Father. Therefore the Father & the world cannot be loued together: and this admonition is very necessary for greene and florishing youth.
l He speaketh of the world, as it agreeth not with the wil of God, for otherwise God is said to loue the world with an infinite loue, Iohn 3. 16. that is to say, those whom he chose out of the world. m Wherewith the Father is loued.
15 He sheweth how much better it is to obey the Fathers will, then the lusts of the world, by both their natures and vnlike euent.
16 Now he turneth him selfe to little children, which notwithstanding are well instructed in the summe of religion, and willeth them by diuers reasons to shake off sloothfulnes, which is too too familiar with that age.
n He vseth this word Little, not because he speaketh to children, but to allure them the more by vsing such sweete words.
17 First, because the last time is at hand, so that the matter suffereth no delay.
18 Secondly, because Antichrists, that is, such as fall from God are already come, euen as they heard that they should come. And it was very requisite to warne that vnheedy & wanlesse age of that dāger.
19 A digression against certaine offences & stumbling blocks, whereat that rude age especially might stumble and be shaken. Therefore that they should not be terrified with the sodē falling backe of certaine, first hee maketh plaine vnto them, that although such as fall from God & his religion had place in the church, yet they were neuer of the Church: because the Church is the company of the elect, which cannot perish, and therefore cannot fall from Christ.
o So then the elect can neuer fall from grace.
20 Secondly, he sheweth that these things fall out to the profit of the Church, that hypocrites may be plainly knowen.
21 Thirdly, he cōforteth thē to make thē stand fast, insomuch as they are anointed of the holy Ghost with the true knowledge of saluation.
p The grace of the holy Ghost: and this is a borowed kind of speach taken from the anyntings vsed in the Lawe.
q From Christ who is peculiarly called Holy.
22 The taking away of an obiectiō. He wrote not these things as to men which are ignorāt of religiō, but rather as to thē which do wel know the trueth, yea so far forth that they are able to discerne truth from falsehood.
23 He sheweth now plainly ỹ false doctrine of the Antichrists, to wit, that either they fight against ỹ person of Christ, or his office, or both together & at once. And they that do so, do in vaine boast & brag of God, for that in denying the Sonne, the Father also is denied.
r Is the true Messias. s They then are deceiued thēselues, & also do deceiue others, which say that the Turks & other infidels worship the same God that we do.
24 The whole preaching of the Prophets and Apostles is contrary to that doctrine: Therefore it is vtterly to be cast away, and this wholy to be holden and kept, which leadeth vs to seeke eternal life in the free promes, that is to say, in Christ alone, who is giuen vs of the Father.

13 10 I write vnto you, fathers, because ye haue knowen him that is from the beginning. 11 I write vnto you, yong men, because yee haue ouercome that wicked one. 12 I write vnto you, litle childrē, because ye haue knowen the Father.
14 13 I haue written vnto you, fathers, because ye haue knowen him, that is from the beginning. I haue written vnto you, yong men, because yee are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye haue ouercome that wicked one.
15 14 Loue not this l world, neither the things that are in this world. If any mā loue this world, the m loue of the Father is not in him.
16 For all that is in this worlde (as the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life) is not of the Father, but is of this world.
17 15 And this world passeth away, & the lust thereof: but he that fulfilleth the will of God, abideth euer.
18 16 n Litle children, 17 it is the last time, 18 & as ye haue heard that Antichrist shal come, euen now are there many Antichrists: whereby wee knowe that it is the last time.
19 19 They went out from vs, but they were not of vs: for if they had bene of vs, o they should haue cōtinued with vs. 20 But this cōmeth to passe, that it might appeare, that they are not al of vs.
20 21 But yee haue an Poyntment from that q Holy one and know all things.
21 22 I haue not written vnto you, because ye know not the truth: but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the trueth.
22 23 Who is a lier, but he ỹ denieth that Iesus is r that Christ? the same is that Antichrist that denieth the father and the Sonne.
23 s Whosoeuer denieth the Sonne, the same hath not the Father.
24 24 Let therefore abide in you that same which ye haue heard from the beginning. If that which ye haue heard from the beginning, shal remaine in you, ye also shal continue in the Sonne, and in the Father.
25 And this is the promes that he hath promised vs, euen that eternall life.
26 25 These things haue I written vnto you, concerning them that deceiue you.
27 But that t anoynting which ye receiued of him, dwelleth in you: and ye u needе not that any man teach you: but as the same x Anoynting teacheth you of all things, and it is true, & is not lying, and as it taught you, ye shall abide in him.
28 26 And now, litle children, abide in him, ỹ when he shall appeare, we may be bolde, and not be ashamed before him at his comming.
29 27 If ye know that he is righteous, know ye that he which doeth righteously, is borne of him.

l You are not ignorant of these things, and therefore I teach them not as things that were neuer heard of, but call them to your remembrance as things which you do know.
x He commendeth both the doctrine which they had embraced, and also highly praiseth their faith, and the diligence of such as taught them, yet so, that he taketh nothing from the honour due to the holy Ghost. 28 The conclusion both of the whole exhortation, and also of the former treatise. 27 A passing ouer to the treatise following, which tendeth to the same purpose, but yet is more ample, and handleth the same matter after another order, for before he taught vs to goe vp from the effects to the cause, and in this that followeth, he goeth downe from the causes to the effects. And this is the summe of this argument: God is the fountaine of all righteousnes, and therefore they that giue themselues to righteousnes, are knowen to be borne of him, because they resemble God the Father.

25 The same Spirit which indueth the elect with the knowledge of the trueth and sanctifieth them, giueth them therewithall the gift of perseuerance, to continue to the end.
26 The Spirit which you haue receiued of Christ, and which hath led you into all trueth.

CHAP. III.

1 Setting downe the inestimable glory of this, that wee are Gods sonnes, 7 he sheweth that newnes of life must be testified by good workes, whereof Charitie is a manifest token. 19 Of faith, 22 and praying vnto God.

1 BEhold, 1 a what loue the Father hath giuen to vs, that wee shoulde be b called the sonnes of God: 2 for this cause this worlde knoweth you not, because it knoweth not him.
2 3 Dearly beloued, now are we the sonnes of God, but yet is is not made manifest what wee shalbe: and we know that when he shalbe made manifest, we shalbe c like him: for wee shall see him d as he is.
3 4 And euery man that hath this hope in him, purgeth himselfe, euen e as he is pure.
4 5 Whosoeuer f committeth sinne, transgreseth also the Lawe: for g sinne is the transgression of the Lawe.
5 6 And ye know that he was made manifest, that he might x take away our sinnes, and in him is no sinne.
6 Whosoeuer abideth in him, sinneth not: whosoeuer h sinneth, hath not seene him, neither hath knowen him.
7 7 Litle children, let no man deceiue you: hee that doeth righteousnesse, is righteous, as hee is righteous.

1 He beginneth to declare this agreement of the Father and the Sonne, at the highest cause, to wit, at that free loue of God towards vs, wherewith he so loueth vs, that also he adopteth vs to be his children.
a What a gift of how great loue.
b That we should be the sonnes of God, & for that all the world may perceiue we are so.
2 Before he declareth this adoption, he saith two things: the one, that this so great dignitie is not to be esteemed according to the iudgement of the flesh, because it is vnknown to the world, for the world knoweth not God the Father himselfe. 3 The other: This dignitie is not fully made manifest to vs nor selues, much lesse to strangers, but we are sure of the accomplishment of it, insomuch that we shalbe like to the Sonne of God himselfe, & shal enioy his sight in glorie, as he is now, but yet notwithstanding this is deferred vntil his next cōming.
c Like, but not equal. d For now we see as in a glasse, 1. Cor. 13. 12. 4 Now hee describeth this adoption, (the glory whereof as yet consisteth in hope,) by ỹ effects, to wit, because that whosoeuer is made the sonne of God, endeuoureth to resemble the Father in puritie.
e This word signifieth a likenes, but not an equalitie. 5 The rule of this puritie can seō no where els be take but from the Law of God, the transgression whereof is that which is called sinne.
f Useth not himselfe to sinne. g A short definition of sinne. 6 An argument taken from the material cause of our iustification. Christ in himselfe is most pure, & he came to take away our sinnes, by sanctifying vs w̄ the holy Ghost. Therefore whosoeuer is truely partaker of Christ, doeth not giue himselfe to sinne, & contrariwise he ỹ giueth himself to sinne, knoweth not Christ.
h Sin. 53. 6, 9, 1. Iohn 2. 22, 12. & he is said to sinne that giueth not himself to perseuer, & in him sinne reigneth: but sinne is said to dwell in the faithful, for not to reigne in them. 7 An other argument of things coupled together: He that liueth iustly, & resembleth Christ that is iust, and by that is knowen to be the sonne of God, is righteous.

8 [8] He that ✣ committeth sinne, is of the [i] deuil: for the deuill [k] sinneth from the [l] beginning: for this purpose was made manifest that Sonne of God, that he might loose the works of the deuill.

9 Whosoeuer is borne of God, sinneth not: for his [m] seed remaineth in him, neither can he sinne, because he is borne of God.

10 In this are the children of God knowen, & the children of the deuil: whosoeuer doeth not righteousnes, is not of God, [10] neither he that loueth not his brother.

11 [11] For this is the message, ✣ ye heard from ✣ beginning, that ✣ we should loue one another, 12 [12] Not as [n] Cain which was of that wicked one, and slew his brother: [13] and wherefore slew he him? because his owne workes were euil, & his brothers good.

13 Marueile not, my brethren, though this world hate you.

14 [14] We * know that we are translated from death vnto life, becau'e we loue the brethren: ✣ he that loueth not his brother, abideth in death.

15 [15] Whosoeuer hateth his brother, is a manslayer: and ye knowe that no manslaier hath eternall life abiding in him.

16 ✣ [16] Hereby haue we perceiued loue, that he layd downe his life for vs: therefore we ought also to lay downe our liues for the brethren.

17 * [17] And whosoeuer hath this [p] worldes good, & seeth his brother haue neede, and [q] shutteth vp his compassion from him, howe dwelleth the loue of God in him?

18 [18] My little children, let vs not loue in word, neither in tongue onely, but in deede and in trueth.

19 [19] For thereby we know that we are of the trueth, [20] and shall before him assure our hearts.

20 For [r] if our heart condemne vs, God is greater then our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 [21] Beloued, if our heart condemne vs not, then haue we bold nesse toward God.

22 ✣ [22] And whatsoeuer we aske we receiue of him, because we keepe his commandements, and doe those things which are pleasing in his sight.

23 ✣ This is then his commandement, That wee beleeue in the Name of his Sonne Iesus Christ & loue one another as he gaue commandement.

24 ∴ For he that keepeth his commandements, dwelleth in him, and hee in him: and hereby wee knowe that he abideth in vs, euen by that [s] Spirit which he hath giuen vs.

8 An argument taken of contraries: The deuil is the author of sinne, and therefore he is of the deuil, or is ruled by the inspiration of the deuil that seeketh sinne: and if he be the deuils sonne, then is he not Gods sonne: for the deuil and God are so contrary the one to the other, that euen the Sonne of God was sent to destroy the workes of the deuill. Therefore on the contrary side, whosoeuer resisteth sinne, is the Sonne of God, being borne againe of his Spirit as of newe seede, in so much, that of necessitie he is nowe delinered from the slauerie of sinne.

✣ Iohn 8.44.

i Resembleth the deuil, as the childe doeth the father, & is gouerned by his Spirite.

k He saieth not, sinneth, but, sinneth, for he doth nothing els but sinne.

l From the very beginning of the world.

m The holy Ghost is so called of the effect he worketh, because by his vertue and mighrie working, as it were by seede, we are made newe men. 9 The conclusion: by a wicked life they are knowen which are gouerned by the spirite of the deuill: and by a pure life, which are Gods children. 10 He beginneth to commend charitie towardes the brethren, as another marke of the sonnes of God. 11 The first reason, taken of the authoritie of God which gaueth the commandement. ✣ Iohn 13.34. and 15.12. 12 An amplification taken of the contrarie example of Cain which slewe his brother.

n Genes. 4. 8. n He bringeth forth a very fit and very olde example, wherein we may beholde both the nature of the sonnes of God, and of the sonnes of the deuill, and what state and condition remaineth for vs in this world, and what shall be the end of both at length. 13 A short digression: Let vs not marueile that wee are hated of the world for doing our duetie, for such was the condition of Abel who was a iust person: and who would not rather be like him then Cain? 14 The second reason: Because charitie is a testimonie that we are translated from death to life: and therefore hatred towards the brethren is a testimony of death, & whosoeuer nourisheth it, doeth as it were foster death in his bosome. o Loue is a token that we are translated from death to life, for as much as by the effects the cause is knowen. ✣ Chap. 3. Leuit. 19.17. 15 A confirmation: Whosoeuer is a murtherer, is in eternall death: who so hateth his brother is a murtherer, therefore hee is in death. And thereupon followeth the contrary: He that loueth his brother, hath passed to life, for in deed we are borne dead. ✣ Iohn 15.13 ephes 5.2. 16 Now he sheweth how far Christian charitie extendeth, euen so farre, that according to the example of Christ, euery man forget himselfe, to prouide for and helpe his brethren. Luke 3.11. 17 He reasoneth by comparison: for if we are bound euen to giue our life for our neighbour, how much more are we bound to helpe our brothers necessitie with our goods and substance? p Whereuith this life is sustained. q Openeth not his heart to him, nor helpeth him willingly and cheerefully. 18 Christian charitie standeth not in words but in deede, and proceedeth fro a sincere affection. 19 He commendeth charitie, by a triple effect: for first of all, by it we knowe that we are in deed the sonnes of God, as is shewed before. 20 Thereof it commeth that we haue a quiet conscience, as on the contrarie side he that thinketh ✣ he hath God for a iudge, because he is guiltie to himselfe, either he is neuer or els very rashly quiet, for God hath a farre quicker sight then we, and iudgeth more seuerely. r If an euil conscience conuinceth vs, much more ought the iudgement of God condemne vs, who knoweth our hearts better then we can selues doe. 21 A third effect also riseth of the former, that in these miseries we are sure to be heard, because wee are the sonnes of God: as we vnderstand by the grace of sanctification, which is proper to ✣ elect.

✣ Math. 21.22. Iohn 15.7. & 16. 23. chap. 5.14.

22 The conclusion: That faith in Christ, and loue one towards another are things ioyned together, and therefore the outwarde testimonies of sanctification must and doe answere that inward testimonie of the Spirit giuen vnto vs. ✣ Iohn 8.23. and 17.3. ∴ Iohn 13.34. and 15.12.

s He meaneth the Spirit of sanctification, whereby we are borne anew & liue to God.

CHAP IIII.

1 Hauing spoken somewhat touching the trying of spirits: 4 For some speake after the world, 5 and some after God: 7 He returneth to charitie, 11. 19 and by the example of God he exhorteth to brotherly loue.

DEarely [1] beloued, beleeue not euery [a] spirite, but trie the spirits whether they are of God: for many false prophtes are gone out into this world.

2 [2] Hereby shall ye knowe the Sprit of God, [b] Euery spirit which confesseth that [c] Iesus Christ is come in the [d] flesh, is of God.

3 And euery spirit that confesseth not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God: but this is the spirit of Antichrist, of whome yee haue heard, how that he should come, and now already he is in this world.

4 [3] Little children, ye are of God, and haue ouercome them: for greater is he that is in you, then he that is in this world.

5 [4] They are of this world, therefore speake they of this world, and this world heareth them.

6 [5] Wee are of God, ✣ he that knoweth God, heareth vs: he that is not of God, heareth vs not. Hereby know we the [e] spirit of trueth, & the spirit of errour.

7 [6] Beloued, let vs loue one another: for loue commeth of God, and euery one that loueth, is borne of God, and knoweth God.

8 He that loueth not, knoweth not God: [8] for God is [f] loue.

1 Taking occasion by the name of the Spirit, least loue and charitie should be separated from the worship of God, which chiefly dependeth of his true knowledge, he returneth to that which he spake of in the second Chapter touching the taking heede of Antichrists. And he wil haue vs here to take heede of two things, the one is, that seeing there bee many false prophets, we doe not lightly giue credit to euery man: the other is, that because many men teach false things, we should not therefore beleeue any. We must then obserue a meane, that we may be able to discerne the Spirits of God which are altogether to be followed, fro impure spirits which are to be eschewed. a This is spoken by the figure Metonymie, and it is as if hee had sayde, Beleeue not euery one that sayeth that he hath a gift of the holy Ghost to doe the office of a Prophet. 2 He giueth a certaine and perpetuall rule to know the doctrine of Antichrist by, to wit, if either the diuine or humane nature of Christ, or the true vniting of them together bee denied: or if the least iote that may be, be derogated from his office who is our onely King, Prophet, and euerlasting hie Priest. b Hee speaketh simply of the doctrine, and not of the person. c The true Messias. d Is true man. 3 He comforteth the elect with a most sure hope of victorie: but yet so, that he teacheth them that they fight not with their owne vertue, but with the vertue and power of God. 4 Hee bringeth a reason why the world receiueth these teachers more willingly then the true: to wit, because they breathe out nothing but that which is worldly: which is another note also to know the doctrine of Antichrist by. 5 He testifieth vnto them that his doctrine and the doctrine of his fellowes, is the assured word of God, which of necessitie we haue boldly to set against all the mouthes of the whole world, and thereby discerne the trueth from falsehoode. ✣ John 8.47. e True Prophets against whome are set false prophets, that is, such as erre themselues, and leade other into errour. 6 He returneth to the commending of brotherly loue and charitie. 7 The first reason: Because it is a very diuine thing, and therefore very meete for the sonnes of God: so that whosoeuer is voyde of it, can not bee saide to knowe God aright. 8 A confirmation: for it is the nature of God to loue men, whereof we haue a most manifest proofe aboue all other: in that that of his onely free and infinite good will towardes vs his enemies, hee deliuered vnto death, not a common man, but that his owne Sonne, yea his onely begotten Sonne, to the end that we being reconciled through his blood, might be made partakers of his euerlasting glorie. f In that he calleth God, Loue, he saieth more then if he had saide that he loueth vs infinitely.

✣ Iohn 3.16.

9 An other reason by comparison: If God so loued vs, shall not wee his children loue one another?

✣ Iohn 1.18. 1.Iohn 4.16.

o A third reason: Because God is inuisible, therefore by this effect of his Spirit, to wit, by charitie, he is vnderstood, yea and to be not out of vs, but ioyned with vs & in vs, in whom he is so effectually working g Is surely in vs in deede, and in truth.

11 He vnderlayeth this charitie with another foundatiõ, to wit, faith in Iesus, which ioyneth vs indeed w him, euen as charitie witnesseth that we are ioyned with him. Furthermore he testifieth of Christ, as who had seene him with his eyes.

h With such a confession as commeth from true faith, and is accompanied with loue, so that there be an agreement of all things.

12 A fourth reason: God is the fountaine and welspring of charitie, yea charitie it selfe: therefore whosoeuer abideth in it, hath God with him.

13 Again, as a little before) he commendeth loue, for that seeing that by our agreement with God in this thing, we haue a certaine testimony of our adoption it commeth ther by to passe that without feare we looke for that latter day of iudgement, so that trembling and that torment of conscience is cast out by this loue.

i This signifieth a likenes, not an equalitie.

k If we vnderstand by loue, that we are in God, and God in vs, that we are sonnes, and that we know God, and that euerlasting life is in vs: he concludeth aright, that we may well gather peace and quietnes thereby.

14 Lest any man should thinke that that peace of conscience proceedeth from our loue as from the cause, he goeth backe to the fountaine, to wit: to the free loue wherewith God loueth vs although we deserued and do deserue his wrath. And hereof springeth another double charitie, which both are tokens and witnesses of that first, to wit that, wherwith we loue God who loued vs first. & then for his sake our neighbours also. 15 As he shewed that the loue of our neighbour cannot bee separate from the loue wherewith God loueth vs, because this last engendreth the other: so he denieth that the other kind of loue wherewith we loue God, can bee separate from the loue of our neighbour: whereof it followeth, that they lie impudently which say they worship God, and yet regard not their neighbours. 16 The first reason taken of comparison, why we cannot hate our neighbour, and loue God, to wit, because that he that cannot loue his brother, whom he seeth, how can he loue God whom he seeth not? ✣ Iob. 12.34. & 15.12. 17 A second reason, why God cannot be hated and our neighbour loued, because the selfe same Lawmaker commanded both to loue him and our neighbour.

CHAP. V.

1 He sheweth that brotherly loue & faith are things inseparable: 10 And that there is no faith towards God, but by beleeuing in Christ. 14 Hence proceedeth calling vpon God with assurance, 16 and also that our praiers be auailable for our brethren.

1 He goeth on forward in the same argument, shewing how both those lines come into vs, from that loue wherewith God loueth vs, to wit, by Iesus our Mediator laid hold on by faith in who we are made the children of God, & do loue the Father of whom we are so begotten, and also our brethren which are begotten with vs.

a Is the true Messias. b By one, he meaneth all the faithfull.

2 The loue of our neighbour doth so hang vpon the loue wherewith we loue God, that this last must needes go before ỹ first: wherof it followeth, that ỹ is not to be called loue whē men agree together to do euil, neither that, when as in louing our neighbours, we respect not Gods commandements.

9 ✣ Herein was that loue of God made manifest amongst vs, because God sent that his only begotten sonne into this worlde, that wee might liue through him.

10 Herein is that loue, not that we loued God, but that he loued vs, and sent his sonne to be a reconciliation for our sinnes.

11 9 Beloued, if God so loued vs, we ought also to loue one another.

12 ✣ 10 No man hath seene God at any time. If we loue one another, God dwelleth in vs, and his loue is a perfect in vs.

13 Hereby know we, that we dwel in him, and he in vs: because he hath giuen vs of his Spirit.

14 11 And we haue seene, & doe testifie, ỹ the Father sent ỹ Sonne to be the sauiour of the world.

15 Whosoeuer b confesseth that Iesus is the Sõne of God, in him dwelleth God, & he in God.

16 And we haue known, & beleeued the loue that God hath in vs. 12 God is loue, and hee that dwelleth in loue, dwelleth in God, & God in him.

17 13 Herein is that loue perfect in vs, that we should haue boldnes in the day of iudgement: for as he is, euen so are we in this world.

18 There is no k feare in loue, but perfect loue casteth out feare: for feare hath paine: fulnesse: and he that feareth, is not perfect in loue.

19 14 We loue him, because he loued vs first.

20 15 If any man say, I loue God, and hate his brother, he is a liar: 16 for how can he that loueth not his brother whome he hath seene, loue God whom he hath not seene?

21 ∴ 17 And this cõmandement haue we of him, that he ỹ loueth God, should loue his brother also.

c There is no loue where there is no true doctrine.

3 The reason: for to loue God, is to keepe his commãdements, which being so, & seeing that both the loues are commanded of one & the selfe same Lawmaker (as hee taught before) it followeth that ỹ we doe not loue our neighbour, when we breake Gods commandements.

4 Because experience teacheth vs that there is no abilitie in our flesh, neither yet will to performe Gods commandements, therefore least the Apostle should seeme, by so often putting them in mind of the keeping of the commandements of God, to require things that are impossible, he pronounceth that the commandements of God are not in such sort grieuous or burdensome, that we can be oppressed with the burden of them.

5 ✣ 7 Who is it ỹ ouercommeth this world, but he which beleeueth ỹ Iesus is that Sonne of God?

6 8 This is that Iesus Christ that came by water and blood: 9 not by water onely, but by water and blood: and it is that g Spirit, that beareth witnesse: for that Spirit is truth.

7 For there are three, which beare recorde in heauen, the Father, the h Worde, and the holy Ghost: and these three are i one.

8 And there are three, which beare recorde in the earth, the Spirit, and the water and the blood: and these three agree in one.

9 10 If we receiue the witnesse of men, the witnesse of God is greater: for k this is the witnesse of God, which he testified of his Sonne.

10 ∴ 11 He that beleeueth in that sonne of God, hath the witnesse in himselfe: he that beleeueth not God, hath made him a liar, because he beleeued not the record, ỹ God witnessed of that his sonne.

11 12 And this is that record, to wit, that God hath giuen vnto vs eternall life, and this life is in that his Sonne.

12 He that hath that sonne, hath that life: & he that hath not that Sonne of God, hath not ỹ life.

13 13 These thinges haue I written vnto you,

✣ Mat. 11.30.

d To them that be regenerate, that is to say, borne anewe, which are led by the Spirite of God, and are through grace deliuered from the curse of the Law.

5 A reason: Because by regeneration we haue gotten strength to ouercome the world, that is to say, what soeuer striueth against the commandementes of God.

6 Hee declareth what that strength is, to wit, faith.

e He vseth the same that is past, to giue vs to vnderstand, that although wee bee in the battell, yet vndoubtedly we shalbe conquerours, and are most certaine of the victorie.

f Which is the instrumentall cause, and as a meane and hand whereby we lay hold on him who in deed doth performe this, that is, hath and doeth ouercome the worlde. (Iuen Christ Iesus. 1. Cor. 15.57.

7 Moreouer he declareth two things, the one what true faith is, to wit, that which resteth vpon Iesus Christ the Sonne of God alone: whereupon followeth the other, to wit, that this strength is not proper to faith, but by faith as an instrument is drawen from Iesus Christ the Sonne of God.

8 Hee proueth the excellencie of Christ in whom only all things are giuen vs, by fiue witnesses, three heauenly, and three earthly, which wholy & fully agree together. The heauenly witnesses are, the Father who sent the Sonne, the Worde it selfe which became flesh, and the holy Ghost. The earthly witnesses are, water (that is, our sanctification) blood, (that is, our iustification) the Spirit (that is, acknowledging of God the Father in Christ, by faith, through the testimonie of the holy Ghost.)

9 He warneth vs not to separate water from blood, (that is, sanctification from iustification, or righteousnes, begunne from righteousnesse imputed) for we stand not vpon sanctification, but so farre foorth as it is a witnesse of Christes righteousnesse imputed vnto vs: and although this imputation of Christes righteousnesse be neuer separated from sanctification, yet is it the onely matter of our saluation.

g Our spirit which is the third witnes, testifieth that the holy Ghost is truth, that is to say, that that is true which he testifieth vs, to wit, that wee are the sonnes of God.

h Looke Iob. 8.14.

i Agree in one.

10 He sheweth by an argument of comparison (of what great weight the heauenly testimonie is, that the Father hath giuen of the Sonne, vnto whom agreeth both the Sonne himselfe and the holy Ghost.

k I conclude thus aright: for that testimonie which I said is giuen in heauen, commeth from God, who so setteth forth his Sonne. ∴ Iob. 3.36.

11 He proueth the fulnesse of the earthly witnesses by euery mans conscience hauing that testimonie in it selfe, which conscience he sayeth cannot bee destroyed, because it consenteth to the heauenly testimonie which the Father giueth of the Sonne: for otherwise the Father must needes be a lyar, if the conscience which accordeth and assenteth to the Father, should lye. 12 Nowe at length he sheweth what this testimonie is, that is confirmed with so many witnesses: to wit, that life or euerlasting felicitie is the mere and onely gift of God, which is in the Sonne, and proceedeth from him into vs, which by faith are ioyned with him, so that without him, life is no where to be found. 13 The conclusion of the Epistle, wherein he sheweth first of all, that euen they which already beleeue, doe stand in need of this doctrine, to the ende that they may growe more and more in faith: that is to say, to the ende that they may be daily more and more certified of their saluation in Christ through faith.

that beleeue in the Name of ỹ ſonne of God, that ye may know that ye haue eternal life, & that ye may beleeue in the Name of that Sonne of God.

14 Because we do not yet in effect obteine that which we hope for, the Apoſtle ioyneth inuocation or prayer with faith, which he will haue to proceede from faith, and moreouer to be conceiued in ſuch ſort, that nothing be asked but that which is agreeable to the will of God: & ſuch prayers cannot be vaine. ✣ Chap.3.22. 15 We haue to make prayers not only for our ſelues, but alſo for our brethren which doe ſinne, that their ſinnes bee not vnto them, to death: & yet he excepteth that ſinne which is neuer forgiuen, or the ſinne againſt the holy Ghoſt, that is to ſay, an vniuerſall and wilfull falling away from the knowen tmeth of the Goſpel. 1 Thes.5. as much as if he ſaid, let him deſire the Lorde to forgiue him, and hee will forgiue him being ſo deſired. ✣ Mat.12.31. mar.3.29.

14 [14] And this is that aſſurance, that we haue in him, ✣ that if we aske any thing according to his will, he heareth vs.

15 And if we know that he heareth vs, whatſoeuer we aske, we know that we haue the petitions, that we haue deſired of him.

16 [15] If any man ſee his brother ſinne a ſinne that is not vnto death, let him [1] aske, and he ſhall giue him life for them that ſinne not vnto death. ✣ There is a ſinne vnto death: I ſay not that thou ſhouldeſt pray for it.

17 [16] All vnrighteouſneſſe is ſinne, but there is a ſinne not vnto death.

18 [17] We know ỹ whoſoeuer is borne of God, ſinneth not: but he ỹ is begotten of God, keepeth himſelfe, and that wicked one toucheth him not.

19 [18] We know that wee are of God, and this whole world lieth in wickedneſſe.

20 But we know ỹ that ſonne of God is ✣ come, & hath giuē vs a mind to know him, which is true: & we are in him ỹ is true, that is, in ỹ his ſon Ieſus Chriſt: this ſame is ỹ very [m] God and ỹ eternal life.

21 [19] Litle children keepe your ſelues from idoles, Amen.

15 The taking away of an obiection. Indeed all iniquitie is comprehended vnder ỹ name of ſinne, but yet we muſt not deſpaire therefore, becauſe euery ſinne is not deadly, and without hope of remedie. 17 A reaſon why not all may rather why no ſin is mortall to ſome: to wit, becauſe they be born of God, that is to ſay, made the ſonnes of God in Chriſt, & being indued with his Spirit, they doe not ſerue ſinne, neither are deadly wounded of Satan. 18 Euery man muſt particularly applie to himſelfe the generall promiſes, that we may certainely perſwade our ſelues, that whereas all the worlde is by nature loſt, we are freely made the ſonnes of God, by the ſending of Ieſus Chriſt his ſonne vnto vs, of whome we are lightened with the knowledge of the true God and euerlaſting life. ✣ Luke 24.45. m The diuinitie of Chriſt is moſt plainely prooued by this place. 19 He expreſſeth a plaine precept of taking heede of idoles: which he ſetteth againſt the onely true God, that with this ſeale as it were he might ſeale vp all the former doctrine.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF IOHN.

1 This Epiſtle is written to a woman of great renowme, 4 who brought vp her children in the feare of God: 6 he exhorteth her to continue in Chriſtian Charitie, 7 that ſhe accompanie not with Antichriſtes, 10 but auoide them.

THE ELDER to the [a] elect [b] Ladie, and her children, [1] whom I loue in the trueth: and not I onely, but alſo all that haue knowen the trueth,

2 For the trueths ſake which dwelleth in vs, and ſhalbe with vs for euer.

3 Grace be with you, mercie and peace from God the Father, and from the Lord Ieſus Chriſt the Sonne of the Father, with [c] trueth and loue.

4 [2] I reioyced greatly, that I founde of thy children walking in [d] trueth, as we haue receiued a commandement of the Father.

5 And nowe beſeeche I thee, Ladie, (not as writing a newe commandement vnto thee, but that ſame which we had from the beginning) that we ✣ loue one another.

6 And this is that loue, that wee ſhuld walke after his commandements. This commandement is, that as ye haue heard from the beginning, ye ſhould walke in it.

7 [3] For many deceiuers are entred into this worlde, which confeſſe not that Ieſus Chriſt is come in the fleſh. He that is ſuch one, is a deceiuer and an Antichriſt.

8 [4] [e] Looke to your ſelues, that wee loſe not the things which we haue done, but that we may receiue a full reward.

9 Whoſoeuer tranſgreſſeth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Chriſt, hath not God. He that continueth in the doctrine of Chriſt, hee hath both the Father and the Sonne.

10 [5] If there come any vnto you, and bring not this doctrine, ✣ receiue him not to houſe, neither bid him, God ſpeede.

11 For he that biddeth him, God ſpeed, is partaker of his euill deedes. Although I had many things to write vnto you, yet I would not write with paper and ynke: but I truſt to come vnto you, and ſpeake mouth to mouth, that our ioy may be full.

THE THIRD EPISTLE OF IOHN.

1 Hee commendeth Gaius for hoſpitalitie, 9 and reprehendeth Diotrephes for vaine glory: 10 hee exhorteth Gaius to continue in well doing: 12 and in the ende commendeth Demetrius.

THE [1] Elder vnto the beloued Gaius, whom I loue in the trueth.

1 An example of a Chriſtian gratulation.

2 Beloued, I wiſh chiefly that thou proſpereſt and fareſt well as thy ſoule proſpereth.

3 For I reioyced greatly when the brethren came, & teſtified of the trueth that is in thee, how thou walkeſt in the trueth.

4 I haue no greater ioy then [a] theſe, that is, to heare that my ſonnes walke in verity.

5 Beloued, thou doeſt [b] faithfully, whatſoeuer thou doeſt to the brethren, and to ſtrangers,

6 Which bare wineſſe of thy loue before the Churches. Whom if thou [c] bringeſt on their iourney as it beſeemeth according to God, thou ſhalt doe well,

7 Becauſe that for his Names ſake they went foorth, and tooke nothing of the Gentiles.

8 We therfore ought to receiue ſuch, that we might be [d] helpers to the trueth.

9 [2] I wrote vnto the Church: but Diotrephes which loueth to haue the preeminence among them, receiueth vs not.

10 Wherefore if I come, I wil call to your remembrance his deedes which he doeth, pratling againſt vs with malicious words, & not therwith content, neither hee himſelfe receiueth the brethren, but forbiddeth them that would, and thruſteth them out of the Church.

11 Beloued, follow not that which is euil, but that which is good: he that doeth well, is of God: but he that doeth euill, hath not [e] ſeene God.

a Then theſe ioyes. b As becommeth a beleeuer and a Chriſtian. c He commendeth so Gaius, either those ſelfe ſame men whom he had entertained before, returning home againe to him, about the affaires of the Church, or els ſome other which had like buſineſſe.
d That wee our ſelues may helpe ſomewhat to the preaching of the trueth.
2 Ambition and couetouſneſſe two peſtilent plagues (eſpecially in them which haue any Eccleſiaſticall function) are condemned in Diotrephes perſon.
e Hath not known God.

15 Demetrius hath good report of all men, & of the truth it selfe: yea, and we our selues beare record, and ye know that our record is true.

13 I haue many things to write: but I will not with ynke and pen write vnto thee:

14 For I trust I shal shortly see thee, & we shal speake mouth to mouth. Peace be with thee. The friends salute thee. Greete the friends by name.

d Of those things that pertaine to the saluation of all of vs.
e That ye should defend the faith by all the might you can, both by true doctrine, and good example of life.
f Which was once so giuen, that it may neuer be changed.

3 Beloued, when I gaue al diligence to write vnto you of the d common saluation, it was needefull for me to write vnto you, to exhort you, that ye should earnestly e cõtend for the maintenance of f faith, which was f once giuen vnto ỹ Saints.

2 It is by Gods prouidence and not by chance, that many wicked men creepe into the Church.
3 He condemneth this first in them, that they take a pretence or occasion to waxe wanton, by the grace of God: which can not be, but the chiefe empire of Christ must be abrogated, in that such men giue vp themselues to Satan.

4 For there are certaine men crept in, which were before of olde ordeined to this condemnation: g vngodly men they are which turne the grace of our God into wantonnesse, and h denye God the onely Lord, and our Lorde Iesus Christ.

a 2. Pet. 2. 1. 4 Hee setteth foorth the horrible punishment of them which haue abused the grace of God to follow their owne lustes. b Num. 14 37.
5 The fall of the Angels was most seuerely punished, how much more then al the Lord punish wicked and faithlesse men? c 2 Pet 2. 4. d Gen. 19. 24.
g Following the steps of Sodome and Gomorrhe. h Thus he cõtemptly setteth foorth their horrible and monstrous lustes.

5 I will therefore put you in remembrance, forasmuch as ye once knew this how ỹ the Lord, after that he had delinered ỹ people out of Egypt, a destroyed them afterward which beleeued not.

6 b The c Angels also which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserued in euerlasting chaines vnder darknesse vnto the judgement of the great day.

7 As d Sodom and Gomorrhe, & the cities about them, which in like maner as they did, g committed fornication, and followed h strange flesh, are set forth for an example, and suffer the vengeance of eternall fire.

i Which sleepers also defile the flesh, & despise k gouernement, & speake euil of them that are in authoritie.
k It is a greater matter to despise gouernement then the gouernours, that is to say, the matter it selfe then the persons.

8 Likewise notwithstanding these i sleepers also defile the flesh, k & despise h gouernement, & speake euil of them that are in authoritie.

9 l Yet Michael the Archangel, when hee stroue against the deuill, and disputed about the body of Moses, durst not blame him with cursed speaking, but said, The Lord rebuke thee.

l This is to make vs the more ashamed of our rashnesse, that we dare not speake reuerently of those things which we know not.

10 But these speake euill of those things, which they know not: & whatsoeuer things they know naturally, as beasts, which are without reason, in those things they corrupt themselues.

m Gen. 4. 8. n Num. 22. 32. o 2. Pet. 2. 15. p Num. 16. 1.

11 m Woe be vnto them: for they haue followed the way n of Cain, and are cast away by the deceit o of Balaams wages, and perish in the gainsaying p of Core.

q He foretelleth their destruction, because they resemble or shew forth Cains shamelesse malice, Balaams filthie couetousnesse, and to be short, Cores seditious and ambitious head.

12 q These are spotts in your r feastes of charity when they feast with you, without all feare, feeding themselues: s clouds they are wont water, carried about of windes, corrupt trees & without fruit, twise dead, & plucked vp by the rootes.

r 2. Pet. 2. 13. s Num. 16. 1.

13 They are the raging waues of the sea, foming out their owne shame: they are wandring starres, to whome is reserued the t blackenesse of darknes for euer.

t 2. Pet. 2. 17.

14 And Enoch also the seuenth from Adam, prophecied of such, saying, u Beholde, the Lorde x commeth with thousands of his Saints, u Deut. 33. 2. Dan. 7. 10. x Zach. 14. 5. Mat. 25. 31. 1. Thes. 3. 13.

15 To giue judgement against all men, and to rebuke all the vngodly among them of all their wicked deedes, which they haue vngodly committed, and of all their cruell speakings, which wicked sinners haue spoken against him.

16 These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their owne lustes: y whose mouthes speake proud things, hauing mens persons in admiration, because of aduantage.

y Iude 10.

17 z But, ye beloued, remember the wordes which were spoken before of the Apostels of our Lord Iesus Christ.

z 2. Pet. 3. 2.

18 How that they told de you that there should be mockers a in ỹ last time, which should walke after their owne vngodly lustes.

a 1. Tim. 4. 1. 2. Tim. 3. 1. 2. Pet. 3. 3.

19 b These are they that separate themselues from other, naturall, hauing not the Spirite.

b It is the propertie of Antichrist to separate themselues from the godly, because they are not gouerned by the spirit of God: & contrariwise it is the property of Christians to adhere one an other through godly prayers, both in faith & also in loue, vntil the mercie of Christ appeare to their full Glorious.

20 But, ye beloued, edifie your selues in your most holy faith, praying in the holy Ghost, 21 And keepe your selues in the loue of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Iesus Christ, vnto eternall life.

22 c And haue compassion of some, in putting difference:

c Some are to be pitied, for the time to come, appeal. 17. 30.

23 And other saue with d feare, pulling them out of the fire: and hate euen that e garment which is spotted by the flesh.

d Rom. 1. 7. e The greatest feare, for the time to come, appeal. 17. 30.

24 f Now vnto him that is able to keepe you, that ye fal not, & to present you faultesse before the presence of his glory with ioy, f 1. Timoth. 1. 1. 2 Timoth. 1. 2. 1. Peter. 1. 1.

25 That is, to God onely wise, our Sauiour, be glorie, and maiestie, and dominion, and power, both now and for euer, Amen.

g The godly must take this choice, that they handle sound and sincere doctrine, and that otherwise being euen in the very flame, they endeuour to saue them with all diligence and sharpe instruction of the present danger: yet so, that they be not ouercome by the wicked and disobedient, that they eschewe euen the least appearance that may be. h By fasting, prayer, and holding them backe with godly exercises. i An amplification taken from the forbidden things of the Law which touched. k Reprouing them to the grace of God, declaring sufficiently that it is God onely by whom we are saued, and that confidence ought to be put in no other.

¶ I HAVE NOT THOVGHT GOOD TO PVT FORTH ANY SVCH thing as yet, vpon the Reuelation, as I haue vpon the former bookes: notwithstanding I lyked well to set downe in the meane season that, that I wrote a fewe yeeres since, concerning the authoritie of this booke. And this is it.

BEcause some men haue of long time doubted of the authoritie of this booke, I will in fewe wordes confute those arguments, which are commonly brought to this purpose, and after shewe mine owne opinion and what I thinke. And I will recite the arguments in such order, as Erasmus hath painefully and diligently gathered them together: whose iudgement seemeth to me so vncertaine in this point (as it is also in many other) that no man can readily tel what opinion he was of, saue that after much a doe, he seemeth to bende this way, that he is of opinion, that this booke is of some authoritie, though not of so good as the rest of the bookes are which were receiue without any gainesaying. Therefore let vs heare what he saieth. Hierome witnesseth, saieth hee, that the Grecians in his time did not receiue the Reuelation. Dorotheus Bishop of Tyrus, and a Martyr, in his abridgement of liues recordeth that Iohn wrote his Gospell in the Ile of Pathmos, but maketh no mention of this booke. Athanasius a Grecian in his catalogue doeth not say that this is Iohns worke. Dionysius of Alexandria, as Eusebius reporteth his wordes, in the seuenth booke of his ecclesiasticall historie, thinketh that this booke was written of some other Iohn, who was a godly man. Eusebius himselfe so citeth this booke in diuers places of his historie, that he doeth not flatly vouche it to be Iohns: but alleageth one Cajus that was a good Christian in the fourth booke of his historie, who saieth it was written of one Cerinthus an heretike. Let this be the first argument which I answere in this sort. If we weigh the reasons that mooued those men to reiect this booke, then we shall see how vnderseruedly they did it. Againe as some did reiect it, so did the most part receiue it: in so much that Epiphanius reckeneth them amongst heretikes that did reiect it: as for Iustine the Philosopher, and Irene Bishop of Lions which were both Martyrs, and did not onely allowe it, but also wrote commentaries vpon it, I will not speake of them. As for that that is alledged of Dorotheus, it is to no great purpose, for that he is thought, to reiect it, because he spake not of it. As touching Athanasius, Erasmus himselfe witnesseth that it is doubtfull whether that worke be his or no. Concerning Dionysius wee will weigh by and by what hee saieth, when we come to consider of his reasons. As for Cajus (what man so euer hee was) he is easilie to be refuted euen by Dionysius his wordes in the third booke of the Ecclesiasticall historie. As for Eusebius, I make no account of him, for there are none learned, but finde want of iudgement in him. Now let vs come to the other argument. Hierome writeth (saith hee) that certaine very well learned men sounde great fault and spake sharpely against the whole matter of this booke, as though there were nothing in it worthie the grauitie of an Apostle, but onely a common historie of things shadowed with certaine darke figures and hard kinde of speaches. And moreouer, that in the very sentences themselues there was nothing that becommed the grauitie of an Apostle. Which I answere in this sort: What learned men soeuer these were, they are greatly to be blamed, in that they durst be so bold to speake euill of that booke, which no doubt is very short, if those things bee excepted, which are translated worde for worde out of the Prophetes. Basil, Gregorie, Cyril, Epiphanius, Irene, Hippolyte, as Aretas witnesseth, were not of this iudgement, which thought not onely as Dionysius of Alexandria did, that some godly man wrote this booke, but also plainely vouched it to be Iohn the Apostle, which no doubt they would neuer haue done, if they had found no resemblance of the grauitie of an Apostle in it. And whether of these shall I count for the beter learned? whether these men, which haue giuen recorde both of their singular godlinesse, and excellent learning by publishing many workes, or those men rather, whose onely names are scarcely heard of: and the reasons they vse, giue sufficient proofe how learned they were? They say there appeareth no grauitie in this writer, and yet hee hath taken euery whit almost worde for worde out of the Prophetes: they say he hath put downe a common historie. But how can that be, seeing (a fewe things onely except) he meaneth no relation of things past, but foretelleth things to come? And therefore they doe not onely not speake that, that is troeth, but not so much as any piece or resemblance of trueth.

Now let vs come to the third argument: Hee is very curious (saith one) in setting downe his owne name, as though hee should indite an obligation, and not write a booke, which is not onely not vsed of any of the Apostles, but is also vnaccustomed of himselfe: for in his Gospell where hee entreateth a great deale more modest matters, then these are, he neuer nameth himselfe, but onely poynteth it out by some such markes as these, The disciple whom Iesus loued. And Paul when he is enforced to speake of his Reuelations, setteth out the matter vnder another mans person. And yet this man, while hee describeth the secrete conference which hee had with Angels, hath neuer done with these kinde of wordes, I Iohn. This reason mooued Dionysius of Alexandria to thinke, that some other man wrote this booke. But what weake, and slender coniectures are these? litle did these good men consider, that it was one thing to write an historie, and an other to set downe a propheeie: for the trueth of an historie hangeth not so much vpon the credite of the writer, as vpon other circumstances: but a prophecie, because it foretelleth things to come, standeth vpon the authoritie of him that reuelleth it, and his that preacheth it, so that it is of necessitie to giue vs to vnderstande, both from whence the forewarning came, and who reuelled it, and who wrote it. Whereupon wee see, that not onely in the beginning of propheeies, but also almost in euery vision, there is nothing so curiously set downe as the Name of God who spake it, and the name of the Prophet who wrote it. Take for example, onely the Prophet Ieremie, who maketh mention of his name, at the least an hundred times. And so was it requisite for him to doe, that hee might not seeme to seeke lurking corners to hide himselfe in as the false prophets did. And what? doe we not finde from the seuenth Chapter of Daniel, that almost in euery verse he repeateth his owne name, and saith, I Daniel? And howe oft doeth Esay repeate these wordes, Esay the sonne of Amos? But Iohn did not so in his Gospell. I graunt: for hee wrote an historie, wherein that befell him, which befell to none other of the disciples: for he was occasioned to speake many things of himselfe. Nay, Paul also did not so. In deede he did not so, in any place where he handled not his visions purposely, but whensoeuer he voucheth the excellencie of his ministerie, how boldely and how magnifically doeth he call himselfe that Paul which was appointed to be an Apostle, not of men, nor by men, but by Iesus Christ? And howe? when he reporteth those his great combates, doth hee take vpon him another mans person? Nay let vs goe further: Iohns name is not to be found (vnlesse I be deceiued in my reckoning) aboue fiue times in all this worke: and those words (I Iohn) but onely thrise, to wit, chap. 1. verse 9. and yet with an explication added to it, which may suffice abundantly to put away all suspition of pride: and againe, chap 21. verse 2. and chap. 22. verse 8. in both which places he reporteth onely simply what he sawe, to the ende that no man might doubt of the trueth of his prophecie. Therefore, to make an ende of this reason in fewe words, that argument which Dionysius maketh, is not onely vaine, but also argueth want of skill, and is in deede very slanderous: nay, I may say more, and say truely (without any malice to any, as the Lord is witnesse) that this was too vnaduisedly spoken, where hee saieth, that the Euangelist is as curious in his often repeating of Iohn, as if he had bene writing an obligation, and no booke.

Nowe to the fourth argument: In all the Greeke copies that I haue seene, saieth hee, it was not intituled the Reuelation of Iohn the Euangelist, but, of Iohn the diuine, which is sufficient to proone it was Iohn the Euangelist: for all that are learned knowe that hee was by excellencie, and by a prerogotiue as it were, called by this name the Diuine, of all the olde writers, because neuer man wrote so plainely and diuinely of the diuinitie of Christ as hee did. As for the other Iohn, who I thinke was a counterfaite, was not called by this excellent name Diuine, but an Elder.

Nowe for the vnlikenesse of his stile, and speech, which that Dionysius of Alexandria prooueth by three reasons as Nicephorus recordeth, Eccles. lib. 6. cap. 3. first by the whole course and nature of his wordes, secondly, that where as the Gospel and Catholike Epistle of Iohn, agree in very many poynts, this booke hath not one word like. Lastly because Iohn had an excellent gift of speech, but this man is very clownish, barbarous, and tripped oft in his language. To the first I answere, that in so diuers a matter, it is no marualle to see so diuers a kinde of stile: for in the historie of the Gospel, and in the Epistles, though hee spake as hee was mooued by the holy Ghost, yet hee spake what his minde led him: and here hee is but the writer of such things as he heard and were deliuered him: In the other he sometime maketh repeat of the historie, and sometime teacheth, but in this he speaketh of things to come, and in such order of wordes as he is appoynted: And shall we marualle then that he vseth not one selfe same kinde of sentences? Nay, what writer was there euer that vsed so short? are not many things deliuered to him in the very words of the olde Prophets, euen in the same that Ezechiel, Daniel, Zacharie, Esay, and other spake withall, by the direction of the selfe same Spirit, which spake the selfe same in them in olde time? And therefore it is no marualle that he vseth not so refined a kinde of speech, as happily they would desire, seeing hee swarueth neither in speach, nor in charecters, from the Prophets which wrote in the Hebrewe tongue: and therefore there is lesse cause of suspicion that it should be any counterfeit worke slilie crept into the Church.

Nowe remaineth the last argument, which seemeth to charge him that hee fauoureth the heresie of the Chiliastes, whereupon diuers thoug't that Cerinthus made this booke and fathered it vpon some of the Apostles. But for mine owne part, though I graunt that that the Chiliasts haue abused many testimonies out of this booke, yet I cannot yeeld to that, & think that some heretikes should make it, vnles some man be able to shew me, that those places cannot fitly be take in any other sense: or els what booke is there ỹ we may receiue? And that those places are otherwise to be taken, diuers learned mē haue shewed long ago: so that the like hath befallen this booke as did to the Epistle to the Hebrewes, which some men reiected very obstinately, because it seemed to make for the Nouatians: wheras indeed they ought rather to haue accused their owne ignorance. Moreouer, seeing Cerinthus had many other mad & wicked opinions, as that he denied that God made the world, & taught that Christ was borne of Marie, & Ioseph, as all other men are borne, and maketh Christ, and Iesus two distinct persons: how commeth it to passe that he sprinkled none of his foule holy water amongst the rest in this booke? But he was so far from so doing, that contrariwise there may be diuers arguments taken out of this booke against those errours: so that it may appeare by this one reason, that Cerinthus was not the author of this booke. And again, wheras he speaketh of the thousand yeeres, hee mentioneth no one iote of those things, which Cerinthus so impudently chattred of. For where is there any mention of ỹ ryote which Cerinthus talketh of? where is that eating & drinking? where are those marriages & pastimes? where are the sacrifices and holy daies which should be kept at Hierusalem? Therefore this is a vaine & a foolish argument. And seeing these things are so, though I would stiffely stand in contention for the authours name, yet I rather iudge it to be Iohn the Apostles, then any other mans: For besides that, it appeareth to be very ancient, and the learnedst and the godliest of the olde Fathers doubt not, but it was Iohn.

These coniectures also leade me to think so: for that I find none of those dayes to whō either prophecie so full of maiesty, or so honourable a name of a diuine, may be ascribed: & moreouer, that it sauoureth of the worthines and excellencie of an Apostle, to write to the Churches of Asia, & not to one Church: lastly, because those things which are here spoken of Pathmos, agree wholy with that which the old Fathers haue written with one consent concerning Iohns banishment. And yet notwithstanding it it may be lawful to coniecture by the kind of speech it self, I would think it to be no mans sooner then Marks, who was also called Iohn: he is so like not only in words, but also in diuers kinds of speach, to the Gospel of S. Marke, insomuch that these two bookes haue almost one kinde of character. As for the booke it selfe, though I confesse that these mysteries are as yet very darke to me, yet notwithstanding, seeing there appeareth in al parts of it a great maiestie of the spirit of prophecie, and the very steps and sentences, yea and the words of the old Prophets, seeing there are to be found in it manifest and mighty testimonies both of the Diuinitie of Christ, & also of our redemptiō: And last of all, seeing that part of those things are most manifestly come to passe, which were foretold by him as those things which he spake of the destruction of the Churches of Asia, and of the kingdome of the whore, which sitteth vpon seuen hils, I am perswaded & thinke that the holy Ghosts meaning was to heape vp together in this most precious booke, al such things, as by the forewarning of the old Prophets remained to be fulfilled after the comming of Christ: & added also a few things, as he thought expedient for vs. I graūt they are very dark, but ỹ is no strāge thing in the Prophets writings, as especially in Ezechiels. But this is our fault, because we take not diligent heede to things but one: slip those iudgements of Gods prouidence, which daily are to be seene in his gouerning of the Church, by hauing our hearts too much set vpon our owne priuate affaires. To be short, the Lord knoweth what, and how farre it is expedient for vs to know, and therfore in times past, he so disposed the light of his Prophets, as for his infinite wisedome he saw it would be profitable for his Church. And therefore godly men haue to search & wade in these mysteries with feare and reuerence so farre forth, as lawfully and profitably they may: and let all men reuerence the mysteries of God, which are comprehended in this booke, whether they know them, or knowe them not, rather then as many doe, either mocke at them, or defile them with their fantasticall commentaries.

13 And in the mids of the seuen candlesticks, one like vnto the Sonne of man, clothed with a garmment downe to the feete, and girded about the pappes with a golden girdle.

14 His head, & hairs were white as white wool, and as snowe, and his eyes were as a flame of fire, 15 And his feet like vnto fine brasse, burning as in a fornace: and his voyce as the sound of many waters.

16 And he had in his right hand seuē starres: & out of his mouth went a sharp two edged sword: & his face shone as the sunne shineth in his strength.

17 And whē I saw him, I fel at his feet as dead: then he laid his right hand vpon me, saying vnto me, Feare not: I am that ✠ first and that last,

18 And am aliue, but I was dead: & behold, I am aliue for euermore, Amen: and I haue the keyes of hell and of death.

19 Write the things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall come hereafter.

20 The mysterie of ỹ seuen starres which thou sawest in my right hand, & the seuen golden candlesticks, is this, The seuen starres are the l Angels of the seuen Churches: and the seuen candlesticks which thou sawest, are the seuen Churches.

CHAP. II.

1 Iohn is commanded to write those things, which the Lord knew necessary to the Churches of Ephesus, 8 of the Smyrnians, 12 of Pergamus, 18 and of Thyatira, 25 that they keep those things which they received of the Apostles.

VNto the Angel of ỹ church of Ephesus write, These things saith he that holdeth the seuen starres in his right hand, and walketh in the mids of the seuen golden candlesticks.

2 I know thy workes, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not beare with thē which are euil, and hast examined them which say they are Apostles, & are not, & hast foūd thē liars.

3 And thou wast burdened & hast patience, & for my names sake hast labored & hast not fainted

4 Neuertheles, I haue somewhat [a] against thee, because thou hast left thy first loue.

5 Remember therfore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and doe the first works: or els I wil come against thee shortly, & wil remoue thy candlestick out of his place, except thou amend.

6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the workes of the Nicolaitanes, which I also hate.

7 Let him that hath an eare, heare what ỹ Spirit saith vnto the Churches, to him that ouercōmeth, wil I giue to eate of the tree of life, which is in the mids of the [b] Paradise of God.

8 ¶ And vnto the Angel of the Church of the [c] Smyrnians write, These things saieth hee that is first, and last, which was dead and is aliue.

9 I know thy works and tribulation, and pouertie (but thou art rich) and I know the blasphemie of them, which say they are Iewes, and are not, but are the Synagogue of Satan.

10 Feare none of those things, which thou shalt suffer: behold, it shall come to passe, that the deuill shal cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried, and yee shall haue tribulation ten dayes: bee thou faithfull vnto the death, and I will giue thee the crowne of life.

11 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith to the Churches. He that ouercōmeth shal not be hurt of the second death.

12 And to the Angel of the Church, which is at [d] Pergamus write, This saith he which hath that sharpe sword with two edges.

13 I know thy works and where thou dwellest, euen where Satans throne is, & thou keepest my Name, and hast not denied my faith, euen in those dayes when Antipas my faithfull martyr was slaine among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 But I haue a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that maintein ỹ doctrine of [e] Balaam, which taught Balac to put a stumbling blocke before the children of Israel, that they should eate of things sacrificed vnto Idoles, and commit fornication.

15 Euen so hast thou them, that maintein the doctrine of the Nicolaitanes, which thing I hate.

16 Repent thy self, or els I wil come vnto thee shortly, and wil fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17 Let him ỹ hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto ỹ Churches. To him that ouercommeth, wil I giue to eate of the [g] Manna that is hid, and wil giue him a [h] white stone, & in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saue he that receiueth it.

18 ¶ And vnto ỹ Angel of the Church which is at Thyatira write, These things saith ỹ sonne of God, which hath his eies like vnto a flame of fire, and his feet like fine brasse.

19 I knowe thy workes and thy loue, and ministerie, & faith, and thy patience, and thy works, and that they are moe at the last, then at the first.

20 Notwithstāding, I haue a few things against thee, that thou suffrest the woman Iezabel, which calleth her selfe a prophetesse, to teach and to deceiue my seruants to make them commit [k] fornication, and to eate meates sacrificed vnto idoles.

21 And I gaue her space to repent of her fornication, and she repented not.

22 Behold, I wil cast her into a bed, and them that commit fornication with her, into great affliction, except they repent them of their workes.

23 And I wil kil her children with death: & al the Churches shal know ỹ I am he which [l] search the reines and hearts: and I will giue vnto euery one of you according vnto your workes.

24 And vnto you I say, the rest of thē of Thyatira, As many as haue not this learning, neyther haue known the [l] deepnes of Satan (as they speak) I wil [m] put vpon you none other burden.

25 But that which ye haue already, holde fast till I come.

26 For he ỹ ouercōmeth & keepeth my works vnto ỹ end, to him wil I giue power ouer nations, 27 [n] And he shall rule them [o] with a rod of yron: and as the vessels of a potter, shal they be broken.

28 Euen as I receiued of my Father, so wil I giue him the morning starre.

29 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirite saith to the Churches.

CHAP. III.

1 The first Epistle sent to the Pastours of the Church of Sardis, 7 Of Philadelphia, 14 and of the Laodiceans, 16 that they be not like warme, 20 but endeauour to further Gods glory.

AND write vnto the Angel of ỹ Church which is at [a] Sardis, These things saith hee that hath the seuen spirits of God, and the seuen starres, I know thy works: for thou hast a [b] name that thou liuest, but thou art dead.

2 Be awake, and strengthen the things which remaine, that are [c] readie to die: for I haue not found thy works perfite before God.

3 Remēber therfore, how thou hast receiued & heard, & hold fast & repent. If therfore thou wilt not watch, I wil come on thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what houre I wil come vpō thee.

4 Notwithstanding thou hast a fewe names yet in Sardis, which haue not defiled their garments: and they shall walke with me in white: for they are [d] worthy.

5 He that ouercommeth shall be clothed in white aray, and I will not put out his name out of the [e] booke of life, but I will confesse his name before my Father, and before his Angels.

6 Let him that hath an eare, heare, what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

7 ¶ And write vnto the Angel of the Church which is of Philadelphia. These things saieth hee that is Holy, and True, which hath the [f] keye of Dauid, which openeth and no man shutteth, and shutteth and no man openeth.

8 I know thy workes: beholde, I haue set before thee an open doore, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my Name.

[a] To deale with thee for.

[b] Thus Christ speaketh as he is Mediatour.

[c] Smyrna was one of the cities of Ionia in Asia.

[d] Pergamus was the name of a famous citie in olde time in Asia, where the Kings of the Atalians were alwayes resident.

[e] The fault of them of Pergamus is so much the more highly commended, because they remained constant euen in the very heate of persecution.

[k] By fornication, & oftentimes in the scripture Idolatrie meant.

[l] He pointeth out the bragging of certaine men, which boasted of their deepe, that is plentifull and common knowledge, which notwithstanding is deuelish.

[m] I will speake no worse thing against you, bring consent to haue shewed you, what I require to be in you.

[n] Psal.2.9.

[a] Sardis is the name of a most flourishing and famous citie where the kings of Lydia kept their courts.

9 Behold,

f I will bring them to that passe.

9 Behold, I will f make them of the Synagogue of Satan, which call themselues Iewes, & are not, but do lie: behold, I say, I will make them, that they shal come and worship before thy feete, and shal know that I haue loued thee.

g Because thou hast bene pacient and constant, as I would my seruants should be.

10 Because thou hast g kept the word of my pacience, therefore I will deliuer thee from the houre of tentation, which will come vpon all the world, to trie them that dwell vpon the earth.

11 Behold, I come shortly: holde that which thou hast, that no man take thy crowne.

12 Him that ouercommeth, wil I make a pillar in the Temple of my God, & hee shall goe no more out: and I will write vpon him the Name of my God, and the name of the citie of my God, which is the newe Hierusalem, which commeth downe out of heauen from my God, and I will write vpon him my newe Name.

13 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

h Amen soundeth a much in the Hebrue tongue as Truely, or Trueth it selfe. i Of whom all things that are made haue their beginning.

14 And vnto the Angel of the Church of the Laodiceans write, These things saieth h Amen, the faithful and true witnesse, that i beginning of the creatures of God.

15 I knowe thy workes, that thou art neither colde nor hot: I would thou werest colde or hot.

16 Therefore, because thou art luke warme, & neither colde nor hot, it will come to passe, that I shall spue thee out of my mouth.

17 For thou saiest, I am riche and increased with goods, and haue neede of nothing, and knowest not howe thou art wreched and miserable, and poore, and blinde, and naked.

18 I counsell thee to bye of me gold tried by the fire, that thou maiest be made rich: and white raiment, that thou maiest be clothed, & that thy filthie nakednesse doe not appeare: and anoynt thine eyes with eye salue, that thou maiest see.

20 Behold, I stand at ȳ doore, & knocke. If any mā heare my voice & open ȳ dore, I wil come in vnto him, and wil sup with him, & he with me.

21 To him that ouercommeth, wil I grant to sit with me in my throne, euen as I ouercame, and sit with my Father in his throne.

22 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saieth vnto the Churches.

CHAP. IIII.

1 An other vision conteining the glory of Gods Maiestie: 8 which is magnified of the foure beastes, 10 and the foure and twentie Elders.

AFter this I looked, and beholde, a doore was open in heauen, and the first voyce which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet talking with me saying, Come vp hither, and I will shew thee things which must be done hereafter.

a Reuel. Cap. 1. 10.

2 And immediatly I was rauished a in the spirit, and behold, a throne was set in heauen, & one sate vpon the throne.

3 And he that sate, was to look vpon, like vnto a iasper stone, & a sardeine, & ther was a rainbow roūd about ȳ throne, in sight like to an emeraud.

4 And round about the throne were foure and twentie seates, and vpon the seates I saw foure & twentie Elders sitting, clothed in white raiment, and had on their heads crownes of golde.

5 And out of the throne proceded lightnings, and thundrings, and voyces, & there were seuen lampes of fire burning before the throne, which are the seuen spirits of God.

6 And before the throne there was a sea of glasse like vnto chrystal: and in the middes of the throne, and rounde about the throne were foure beasts full of eyes before and behinde.

7 And the first beast was like a lyon, & the second beast like a calfe, & the third beast had a face as a mā, & the fourth beast was like a flying eagle.

b Euery beast had had sixe wings.

8 And the b foure beasts had each one of thē sixe wings about him, and they were full of eies within, and they ceased not day nor night, saying Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, Which Was, and Which Is, and Which Is to come.

c God is seyd to haue glory, honour, kingdome, and such like, geuen him, when we godly and reuerently set forth that which is proper to him.

9 And when those beasts c gaue glory, & honour, and thankes to him that sate vpon on the throne, which liueth for euer and euer,

10 The foure & twentie Elders fell down before him that sate on the throne, and worshipped him ȳ liueth for euermore, & cast their crownes before the throne, saying,

11 Thou art ✣ worthy, O Lord, to receiue glory, & honor, & power: for thou hast created al things, & for thy willes sake they are, & haue bin created.

CHAP. V.

1 The booke sealed with seuen seales: 3 which none could open, 6 that Lambe of God 9 is thought worthie to open, 12 euen by the consent of all the companie of heauen.

AND I saw in the right hand of him that sate vpon the throne, a Booke writtē within, and on the backside, sealed with seuen seales.

2 And I sawe a stroug Angell which preached with a loude voyce, Who is worthy to open the booke, and to loose the seales thereof?

3 And no man in heauen, nor in earth, neither vnder the earth, was able to open the Booke, neither to looke thereon.

4 Then I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open, and to reade the Booke, neither to looke thereon.

5 And one of the Elders said vnto me, Weepe not: beholde, that ✣ Lion which is of the tribe of Iuda, the roote of Dauid, hath obteined to open the Boke, and to loose the seuen seales thereof.

✣ Chap. 5. 12.

6 Then I behelde, and loe, in the mids of the throne, & of the foure beasts, & in the middes of ȳ Elders stood a Lambe as though he had bene killed, which had seuē hornes, & seuen eies, which are ȳ seuen spirits of God, sent into all the world.

7 And hee came, and tooke the Booke out of the right hand of him that sate vpon the throne.

8 And whē he had taken ȳ Booke, ȳ foure beasts and the foure & twenty Elders fel down before ȳ Lambe, hauing euery one harps and golden vials full of odours, which are the a prayers of ȳ Saints, ✣ Gen. 22. 9. a Looke Chap. 8. 3. b No common song.

9 And they sung a b new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the Booke, & to open the seales therof, because thou wast killed, & hast redeemed vs to God by thy blood out of euery kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation, c Chap. 1. 6. 1. Pet. 2. 9.

10 And hast made vs vnto our God: Kings, & Priestes, and we shall reigne on the earth.

11 Then I beheld, & I heard ȳ voice of many Angels round about the throne, & about the beasts and the Elders, & there were ✣ ten thousand times ten thousand, & thousand thousands, ✣ Dan. 7. 10. c By this is ment a great number.

12 Saying, with a loude voice, Worthy is ȳ Lambe ȳ was killed to d receiue power, & riches, & wisedome, & strengh, & honour, & glory, & praise.

d To haue all praise giuen to him, as to the mightiest and wisest, &c.

13 And

13 And al the creatures which are in heauen, & on the earth, & vnder the earth, and in the sea, and al that are in thē, heard I, saying, Praise, & honor, and glory, and power be vnto him, that sitteth vpon the throne, and vnto the Lambe for euermore.

14 And the foure beasts said, Amen, and the foure and twentie Elders fell downe and worshipped him that liueth for euermore.

CHAP. VI.

1 The Lambe openeth the first seale of the booke, 3 the second, 5 the third, 7 the fourth, 9 the fifth, 12 and the sixth, and then arise murders, famine, pestilence, outcries of Saints, earthquakes, and diuers strange sights in heauen.

AFter, I beheld when ỹ Lambe had opened one of the seales, & I heard one of ỹ foure beasts say, as it were the noise of thunder, Come & see.

2 Therefore I beheld, & loe, there was a white horse, and he that sate on him, had a bowe, and a crowne was giuen vnto him, and he went foorth conquering that he might ouercome.

3 And when he had opened the second seale, I heard the second beast say, Come and see.

4 And there went out another horse, that was red, & power was giuē to him that sate thereon, to take peace from ỹ earth, & that they shuld kil one another, & there was giuē vnto him a great sword.

5 And when he had opened the third seale, I heard the third beast say, Come & see: Then I beheld, and loe, a blacke horse, and he that sate on him, had balances in his hand.

6 And I heard a voyce in the mids of the foure beasts say, A [a] measure of wheate for a penie, and three measures of barly for a penie, and oile, and wine hurt thou not.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seale, I heard the voice of ỹ fourth beast say, Come & see.

8 And I looked, & behold, a pale horse, and his name that sate on him was Death, & Hel folowed after him, & power was giuen vnto thē ouer the fourth part of the earth, to kil with sword, & with hunger, and with death, & with beasts of ỹ earth.

9 And when hee had opened the fifth seale, I sawe vnder the altar the soules of them, that were killed for the word of God, and for the testimonie which they maintained.

10 And they cried with a loude voyce, saying, How long, Lord, which art holy and true! doest not thou iudge and auenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And long white robes were giuen vnto euery one, and it was sayd vnto them, that they should rest for a litle season vntil their fellow seruants, and their brethren that should bee killed euen as they were, were [b] fulfilled.

12 And I beheld when he had opened the sixt seale, and loe, there was a great earthquake, and the sunne was as blacke as [c] sackcloth of haire, and the moone was like blood.

13 And the starres of heauen fell vnto ỹ earth, as a fig tree casteth her greene figs, when it is shaken of a mightie wind.

14 And heauen departed away, as a scroule, when it is rolled, and euery mountaine & yle were mooued out of their places.

15 And the Kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chiefe captaines, and the mightie men, and euery bondman, and euery free man, hid themselues in dennes, and among the rockes of the mountaines, 16 And said to the mountaines & rocks, Fal on vs, and hide vs from the presence of him ỹ sitteth on ỹ throne, & from the warth of ỹ Lambe. ✣ Esaia 13. hose 10.8. luke 23.30.

17 For the great day of his wrath is come, & who can stand?

CHAP. VII.

1 The Angels comming to hurt the earth, 3 are stayed vntil the seed of the Lord 5 of al tribes were sealed. 13 Such as suffered persecution for Christes sake, 16 haue great felicitie, 17 and ioy.

ANd after that, I sawe foure Angels stand on ỹ [a] foure corners of the earth, holding ỹ foure windes of the earth, ỹ the winds should not blow on the earth, neither on ỹ sea, neither on any tree.

2 And I saw another Angel come vp from the East, which had the seale of the liuing God, & he cried wt a loude voice to the foure Angels to whō power was giuē to hurt ỹ earth, & the sea, saying,

3 Hurt ye not the earth neither the sea, neither the trees, till wee haue sealed the seruants of our God in their foreheads.

4 And I heard the number of thē, which were sealed, & there were sealed an hundreth and foure & fourtie thousand of al the tribes of the childrē of Israel.

5 Of ỹ tribe of Iuda were sealed twelue thousād. Of ỹ tribe of Rubē were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelue thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelue thousand. Of ỹ tribe of Nepththali were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelue thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelue thousand. Of ỹ tribe of [b] Leui were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelue thousand.

8 Of the tribe of [c] Ioseph were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Beniamin were sealed twelue thousand.

9 After these things I behelde, and loe a great multitude, which no man could number, of al nations & kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, & before the Lambe, clothed with long white robes, and palmes in their hands.

10 And they cried with a loude voice, saying, Saluation commeth of our God, that sitteth vpon the throne, and of the Lambe.

11 And al the Angels stood rounde about the throne, and about the Elders, & the foure beasts, and they fell before the throne on their faces, & worshipped God, 12 Saying, Amen. Praise, & glory, and wisedome, and thankes, and honour, and power, and might, be vnto our God for euermore, Amen.

13 And one of the Elders spake, saying vnto me, What are these which are arayed in long white robes? and whence came they?

14 And I said vnto him, Lorde, thou knoweſt. And he said to me, These are they, which came out of great tribulation, and haue washed their long robes, & haue made their long robes white in the blood of the Lambe.

15 Therefore are they in the presence of the throne of God, & serue him day and night in his Temple, and hee that sitteth on the throne will dwell among them.

16 ✣ They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more, neither shal the sunne light on them, neither any heate. ✣ Esa 49.10.

17 For

a Hereby is signified what great scarcitie of corne there was, for the word here vsed is a kind of measure of drie things, which is in quantitie but the eight part of a bushel, which was an ordinarie portion vsed to be giuen to seruants for their finis of meate for one day.

b Vntill their number be fulfilled.

c So they called in old time those mourn mourners that wore of haire.

d He alludeth to the Leuites, which serued day and night, for els there is no night in heauen.

e Or, vpon them: whereby is meant Gods defence and protection as it were towards them, who are al safe, as men in the Lordes tents.

17 For the lambe, which is in the middes of the throne, shall gouerne them, and shall leade them vnto the liuely fountaines of waters, and † God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes.

† Esai.25.8. chap.21.4.

CHAP. VIII.

1 After the opening of the seuenth seale, 3 the Saints praiers are offered vp with odours. 6 The seuen Angels come foorth with trumpets. 7 The foure first blowe, and fire falleth on the earth. 8 the sea is turned into bloud, 10. 11. the waters were bitter, 12 and the starres are darkened.

AND when he had opened the seuenth seale, there was silence in heauen about halfe an houre.

2 And I sawe the seuen Angels, which a stoode before God, & to them were giuen seuen trumpets.

a Which appeare before him as his ministers.

3 Then another Angel came and stoode before the altar hauing a golden censer, and much odours was giuen vnto him, that hee shoulde offer with the prayers of all Saints vpon the golden altar, which is before the throne.

4 And the smoke of the odours with the prayers of the Saints, b went vp before God, out of the Angels hand.

b Our prayers are nothing worth, vnlesse that true and sweete sauour of that onely oblation be especially and before all things with them, that is to say, vnlesse we being first of all iustified through faith in his Sonne, be acceptable vnto him.

5 And the Angel tooke the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth, and there were voyces, and thundrings, and lightnings, and earthquake.

6 Then the seuen Angels, which had the seuen trumpets, prepared themselues to blow the trumpets.

7 So the first Angel blewe the trumpet, and there was haile and fire, mingled with bloud, & they were cast into the earth, and the third part of trees was burnt, and all greene grasse was burnt.

8 And the second Angel blew the trumpet, and as it were a great mountaine, burning with fire, was cast into the sea, and the third part of the sea became bloud.

9 And the third part of the creatures, which were in the sea, and had life, died, and the third part of shippes were destroyed.

10 Then the third Angel blewe the trumpet, and there fell a great starre from heauen, burning like a torch, and it fell into the third part of the riuers, and into the fountaines of waters.

11 And the name of the starre is called wormewood: therefore the third part of the waters became wormewood, and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth Angel blew the trumpet, and the third part of the sunne was smitten, and the third part of the moone, and the third part of the starres, so that the third part of them was darkened: and the day was smitten, that the thirde part of it should not shine, and likewise the night.

13 And I beheld, and heard one Angel flying through the middes of heauen, saying with a loude voyce, Wo, wo, wo to the inhabitants of the earth, because of the sounds to come of the trumpet of the three Angels, which were yet to blow the trumpets.

CHAP. IX.

1 The fifth Angel blowe with his trumpet, 3 and thereby locustes came out. 13 The sixt Angel bloweth, 15 and is loosed foure Angels, 20 to destroy mankinde.

AND the fifth Angel blew the trumpet, and I saw a starre fall from heauen vnto the earth, and to him was giuen the key of the a bottomelesse pit.

a By the bottomlesse pit, he meaneth the deepest darkenesse of hell.

2 And he opened the bottomelesse pit, and there arose the smoke of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace, and the sunne, and the ayre were darkened by the smoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke Locustes vpon the earth, and vnto them was giuen power, as the scorpions of the earth haue power.

4 And it was commanded them that they should not hurt the grasse of the earth, neither any greene thing, neither any tree, but onely those men which haue not the seale of God in their foreheads.

5 And to them was commanded that they should not kill them, but that they should be vexed fiue moneths, & that their paine should be as the paine that commeth of a scorpion, when he hurteth a man.

† Chap 6.16. esai.2.19. hosh 10.8.

6 Therefore in those dayes shall men seeke death, and shall not finde it, and shall desire to die, and death shall flie from them.

7 And the forme of the locustes was like vnto horses prepared vnto battel, and on their heads were as it were crownes, like vnto golde, and their faces were like the faces of men.

8 And they had haire as the haire of women, and their teeth were as the teeth of lyons.

9 And they had habbergions, like to habbergions of yron: & the sound of their wings was like the sound of charets when many horses run vnto battel.

10 And they had tailes like vnto scorpions, and there were stings in their tailes, and their power was to hurt men fiue moneths.

11 And they haue a King ouer them, which is the Angel of the bottomlesse pit, whose name in Hebrewe is Abaddon, and in Greeke he is named Apollyon, that is, destroying.

12 One woe is past, and beholde, yet two woes come after this.

13 ¶ Then the sixt Angel blew the trumpet, and I heard a voyce from the b foure hornes of the golden altar, which is before God, b He alludeth to the altar of incense, which stood in the court which the Priests were in, ouer against the Arke of the Couenant, hauing a vaile betwixt them.

14 Saying to the sixt Angel, which had the trumpet, Loose the foure Angels, which are bound in the great riuer Euphrates.

15 And the foure Angels were loosed, which were prepared at an houre, at a day, at a moneth, and at a yeere to slay the third part of men.

16 And the number of horsemen of warre were twentie thousand times tenne thousand: for I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I saw the horses in a vision, & them that sate on them, hauing fiery habbergions, and of Iacinth, and of brimstone, and the heads of the horses were as the heads of lyons: and out of their mouthes went foorth fire and smoke and brimstone.

18 Of these three was the third part of men killed, that is, of the fire, and of the smoke, and of the brimstone, which came out of their mouthes.

19 For their power is in their mouthes, and in their tailes: for their tailes were like vnto serpents, and had heads, wherewith they hurt.

20 And the remnant of the men which were not killed by these plagues, repented not of the workes of their hands that they should not worship deuils, and idoles of golde and of siluer, and of braſſe, and of stone, and of wood, which neither can see, nor heare nor goe.

† Psal.115.4. and 135.15.

21 Also they repented not of their murther, nor of their sorcerie, neither of their fornication, nor of their theft.

CHAP. X.

1 The Angel with the little booke open, 3 and crieth out. 8 The voyce from heauen commaundeth him to take the booke, 10 and eate it vp.

AND I sawe another mighty Angel come downe from heauen, clothed with a cloude, and the raine bowe vpon his head, and his face was as the sunne, and his feete as pillars of fire.

2 And hee had in his hand a little booke open, and he put his right foote vpon the sea, and his left on the earth,

3 And cried with a loude voyce, as when a lyon roareth: and when hee had cried, seuen thunders vttered their voyces.

4 And when the seuen thunders had vttered their voyces, I was about to write: but I heard a voyce frō heauen saying vnto me, [a] Seale vp those things which the seuen thunders haue spoken, & write them not.

5 And the Angel which I sawe stand vpon the sea, and vpon the earth, [b] lift vp his hand to heauen,

6 And sware by him that liueth for euermore, which created heauen, and the things that therein are, and the earth, & the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things that therein are, that [c] time should be no more.

7 But in the dayes of the voyce of the seuenth Angel, when he shall beginne to blow the trumpet, euen the mysterie of God shalbe finished, as he hath declared to his seruants the Prophets.

8 And the voyce which I heard from heauen, spake vnto me againe, and said, Go and take the litle booke which is open in the hand of the Angel, which standeth vpon the sea and vpon the earth.

9 So I went vnto the Angel, and sayde to him, Giue me the litle booke. And he said vnto me, Take it, and eate it vp, and it shall make thy bellie bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth as sweete as honie.

10 Then I tooke the litle booke out of the Angels hand, & ate it vp, & it was in my mouth as sweete as hony: but when I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.

11 And he sayd vnto mee, Thou must prophecie againe among the people and nations, and tongues, and to many Kings.

[a] Keepe them close.

[b] This was a gesture vsed of one that sweareth, which men doe yet nowe a dayes vse.

[c] There shall neuer be any more time.

CHAP. XI.

1 The temple is commanded to be measured. 3 The Lord stirreth vp two witnesses, 7 whom the beast murthereth, 9 and no man burieth them, 11 God raiseth them to life, 12 and calleth them vp to heauen. 13 The wicked are terrified 15 by the trumpet of the seuenth Angel: The resurrection, 18 and iudgement is described.

THen was giuen mee a reede, like vnto a rod, and the Angel stoode by, saying, Rise and mete the Temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.

2 But the [a] court which is without the temple [b] cast out, and mete it not: for it is giuen vnto the Gentiles, and the holy citie shall they treade vnder foote, two and fourtie moneths.

3 But I will giue power vnto my two witnesses, and they shall prophecie a thousand two hundreth and threescore dayes, clothed in sackcloth.

4 These are two oliue trees, and two candlesticks, standing before the God of the earth.

5 And if any man wil hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouthes, and deuoureth their enemies: for if any man wil hurt them, thus must he be killed.

6 These haue power to shut heauen, that it raine not in the dayes of their prophecying, and haue power ouer waters to turne them into blood, and to smite the earth with all maner plagues, as often as they will.

7 And when they haue [c] finished their testimonie, the beast that commeth out of the bottomlesse pit, shall make warre against them, and shall ouercome them, and kill them.

8 And their corpses shall lie in the streetes of the great citie, which [d] spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where our Lord also was crucified.

9 And they of the people and kinreds, and tongues, and Gentiles shall see their corpses three dayes and an halfe, and shal not suffer their carkeises to be put in graues.

10 And they that dwell vpon the earth, shall reioyce ouer them and be glad, and shall send giftes one to another: for these two Prophets vexed them that dwelt on the earth.

11 But after three dayes and an halfe, the spirit of life comming from God, shall enter into them, and they shall stand vp vpon their feete: and great feare shall come vpon them which saw them.

12 And they shall heare a great voyce from heauen, saying vnto them, Come vp hither. And they shall ascend vp to heauen in a cloude, and their enemies shall see them.

13 And the same houre shall there bee a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the citie shall fall, and in the earthquake shalbe slaine in number seuen thousand: and the remnant were sore feared, and [e] gaue glory to the God of heauen.

14 The second woe is past, and beholde, the third woe will come anon.

15 And the seuenth Angel blewe the trumpet, and there were great voyces in heauen, saying, The kingdomes of this world are our Lords, and his Christes, and he shall reigne for euermore.

16 Then the foure and twentie Elders, which sate before God on their seates, fell vpon their faces, and worshipped God, 17 Saying, We giue thee thankes, Lord God almightie, Which art, & Which wast, and Which art to come: for thou hast receiued thy great might, and hast obteined thy kingdome.

18 And the Gentiles were angrie, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead, that they should be iudged, and that thou shouldest giue reward vnto thy seruants the Prophets, and to the Saintes, and to them that feare thy Name, to small and great, and shouldest destroy them, which destroy the earth.

19 Then the Temple of God was opened in heauen, and there was seene in his Temple the Arke of his couenant: and there were lightnings, & voyces, and thundrings, and earthquake, and much haile.

[a] He speaketh of the outer court, which was called the peoples court, because all men might come into that.

[b] That is counted to be cast out, which in measuring is refused as prophane.

[c] When they haue done their message.

[d] After a more secret kinde of meaning and vnderstanding.

[e] Glorified God by confessing his Name.

CHAP. XII.

1 A woman 2 appeareth trauelling with childe, 4 whose childe the dragon would deuoure, 7 but Michael ouercommeth him, 9 And casteth him out, 13 and the more he is cast downe and vanquished, the more fiercely he exerciseth his subtilities.

AND there appeared a great wonder in heauen: A woman clothed with the sunne, & the moone was vnder her feete, and vpon her head a crowne of twelue starres,

2 And she was with childe, and cried trauelling in birth, and was pained ready to be deliuered.

3 And there appeared another wonder in heauen: for beholde, a great red dragon hauing seuen heads, and ten hornes, and seuen crownes vpon his heads:

4 And his taile drew the third part of the starres of heauen, and cast them to the earth. And the dragon stood before the woman, which was ready to be deliuered, to deuoure her childe, when shee had brought it foorth.

5 So shee brought foorth a man childe, which should rule all nations with a rod of yron: and that her childe was taken vp vnto God & to his throne.

6 And the woman fled into wildernesse, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feede her there a thousande, two hundreth and threescore threescore dayes.

7 And there was a battel in heauen, Michael and his Angels fought against the dragon, and the dragon fought and his angels.

8 But they preuailed not, neither was their [a] place found any more in heauen.

9 And the great dragon, that olde serpent, called the deuil and Satan, was cast out, which deceiueth all the world: hee was euen cast into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 Then I heard a loude voyce in heauen, saying, Now is saluation, and strength, and the kingdome of our God, & the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast downe, which accused them before our God day and night.

11 But they ouercame him by that blood of that Lambe, and by that worde of their testimonie, and they [b] loued not their liues vnto the death.

12 Therefore reioyce, yee heauens, and yee that dwell in them. Woe to the inhabitants of the earth, and of the sea: for the deuill is come downe vnto you, which hath great wrath, knowing that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon sawe that he was cast vnto the earth, he persecuted the woman which had brought forth the man childe.

14 But to the woman were giuen two wings of a great egle, that she might flie into ỹ wildernes, into her [c] place, where shee is nourished for a time, and times, & halfe a time, fro the presence of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water after the woman, like a flood, that hee might cause her to be caried away of the flood.

16 But the earth holpe the woman, & the earth opened her mouth, & swalowed vp the flood, which the dragon had cast out of his mouth.

17 Then the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went and made warre with the remnant of her seede, which keepe the cõmandements of God, and haue the testimonie of Iesus Christ.

18 And I stood on the sea sand.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The beast with many heads is described, 8 which draweth the most part of the world to idolatrie. 11 The other beast rising out of the earth, 15 giueth power vnto him.

AND I sawe a beast rise out of the sea, hauing seuen heads, and ten hornes, and vpon his hornes were ten crownes, and vpon his heads the name of blasphemie.

2 And the beast which I sawe, was like a Leopard, and his feete like a beares, & his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gaue him his power and his throne, and great authoritie.

3 And I sawe one of his heads as it were wounded to death, but his deadly wound was healed, and all the world wondred and folowed the beast.

4 And they worshipped the dragon which gaue power vnto the beast, & they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like vnto the beast? who is able to warre with him?

5 And there was giuen vnto him a mouth, that spake great things and blasphemies, and power was giuen vnto him, to doe two and fourtie moneths.

6 And hee opened his mouth vnto blasphemie against God, to blaspheme his Name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heauen.

7 And it was giuen vnto him to make warre with the Saints, and to ouercome them, & power was giuen him ouer euery kinred, and tongue, and nation.

8 And all that dwell vpon the earth, shall worship him, whose names are not written in the booke of life of that Lambe, which was slaine from the beginning of the world.

9 If any man haue an eare, let him heare.

10 If any leade into captiuitie, he shall goe into captiuitie: if any kill with a sword, he must be killed by a sword: here is the patience and the faith of the Saints.

11 And I beheld another beast comming vp out of the earth, which had two hornes like the Lambe, but he spake like the dragon.

12 And hee did all that the first beast could doe before him, and he caused the earth, & them which dwell therein, to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

13 And he did great wonders, so that hee made fire to come downe from heauen on the earth, in the sight of men,

14 And deceiued them that dwel on the earth by the signes, which were permitted to him to doe in the sight of the beast, saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make the image of the beast, which had the wound of a sword, and did liue.

15 And it was permitted to him to giue a [a] spirite vnto the image of the beast, so that the image of the beast should speake, and should cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast, should be killed.

16 And he made all, both small and great, riche and poore, free and bond, to receiue a [b] marke in their right hand or in their foreheads.

17 And that no man might buy or sell, saue hee that had the marke, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

18 Here is wisdome. Let him that hath wit, count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man, and his number is sixe hundreth threescore and sixe.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 The Lambe standeth on mount Sion, 4 with his chaste worshippers. 6 One Angel preacheth the Gospell: 8 another foreshadoweth the fall of Babylon: 9 the third warneth that the beast be auoyded. 13 A voyce from heauen pronounceth them happy who die in the Lord. 16 The Lordes sickle is thrust into the harueste, 18 and into the vintage.

THEN I looked, & loe, a Lambe stood on mount Sion, and with him an hundreth, fourtie and foure thousand, hauing his fathers name written in their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voyce from heauen, as ỹ sound of many waters, and as the sound of a great thunder: and I heard the voyce of harpers harping with their harpes.

3 And they sung as it were a newe song before the throne, and before the foure beastes, and the Elders: and no man could learne that song but the hundreth, fourtie and foure thousand, which were bought from the earth.

4 These are they which are not defiled with women: for they are virgins: these follow the Lambe whithersoeuer he goeth: these are bought from men, being the firstfruites vnto God, and to the Lambe.

5 And in their mouthes was found no guile: for they are without spot before the throne of God.

6 ¶ Then I sawe another Angel flie in the mids of heauen, hauing an euerlasting Gospel, to preache vnto them that dwell on the earth, and to euery nation, and kinred, and tongue, and people,

7 Saying with a loude voyce, Feare God, and a They were cast out, so that they were neuer seene in heauen any more.

b He is sayd in the Hebrewe tongue, to loue his life, that esteemeth nothing more precious then his life: and on the other side, he is sayd not to loue his life, who doubteth not to hazard it, when soeuer neede requireth.

c Into that place which God had appointed for her.

a To giue life, as Iannes and Iambres imitated the wonders of Moses wrought.

b The marke of the name of the beast.

giue glory to him: for the houre of his iudgement is come: and worship him that made heauen & earth, and the sea, and the fountaines of waters.

✣ Acts 14.15.

8 And there followed another Angell, saying, ✣ Babylon that great citie is fallen, it is fallen: for she made all nations to drinke of the wine of † a wrath of her fornication.

✣ Isai.21.9.ier. 51.8.chap.18.2.

a Of her fornication, whereby God was prouoked to wrath.

9 ¶ And the third Angel followed them, saying with a loude voyce, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receiue his marke in his forehead, or on his hand,

10 The same shall drinke of † wine of the wrath of God, yea of the pure wine, which is powred into the cup of his wrath, and he shalbe tormented in fire and brimstone before the holy Angels, and before the Lambe.

11 And the smoke of their torment shall ascend euermore: and they shal haue no rest day nor night, which worship the beast and his image, and whosoeuer receiueth the print of his name.

12 Here is the patience of Saints: here are they that keepe the commaundements of God, and the faith of Iesus.

13 Then I heard a voice from heauen, saying vnto me, Write, The dead which die ♭ in the Lord, are fully blessed. Euen so saith the Spirite: for they rest from their labours, and their ♯ workes folow them.

♭ That is, for the Lord.

c By workes is meant, the reward which followeth good workes.

14 ¶ And I looked, & beholde, a white cloude, and vpon the cloude one sitting like vnto † Sonne of man, hauing on his head a golden crowne, and in his hand a sharpe sickle.

15 And another Angel came out of the Temple, crying with a loude voyce to him that sate on the cloude, ∵ Thrust in thy sickle & reape: for the time is come to reape: for the ✕ haruest of the earth is ripe.

∵ Ioel 3.13.
✕ Mat.13.39.

16 And he that sate on the cloude, thrust in his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17 Then another Angell came out of the Temple, which is in heauen, hauing also a sharpe sickle.

18 And another Angel came out from the altar, which had power ouer fire, and cryed with a loude cry to him that had the sharpe sickle, & sayd, Thrust in thy sharpe sickle, and gather the clusters of the vineyard of the earth: for her grapes are ripe.

19 And the Angel thrust in his sharpe sickle on the earth, and cut downe the vines of the vineyarde of the earth, & cast them into that great wine presse of the wrath of God.

20 And the wine presse was troden without the citie, and blood came out of the wine presse, vnto the horse bridles, by the space of a thousand and sixe hundreth furlongs.

CHAP. XV.

1 The seuen Angels hauing the seuen last plagues. 3 They that conquered the beast, prayse God. 6 To the seuen Angels, 7 seuen vials full of Gods wrath, are deliuered.

AND I sawe another signe in heauen, great and marueilous, seuen Angels, hauing the seuen last plagues: for by them is fulfilled the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were a glassie sea, mingled with fire, and them that had gotten victorie of the beast, and of his image, and of his marke, and of the number of his name, stand at the glassie sea, hauing the harpes of God,

3 And they sung the song of Moses the † seruant of God, and the song of the Lambe, saying, Great and marueilous are thy works, Lord God almightie: iust and true are thy ✣ ♭ wayes, king of Saints.

a So is Moses called, for honors sake, as it is set forth, Deu.34.10.
✣ Psal.145.17.
b Thy doings.

4 ✣ Who shall not feare thee, O Lord, and glorifie thy Name? for thou onely art holy, and all nations shall come and worship before thee: for thy iudgements are made manifest.

✣ Ier.10.7.

5 And after that I looked, and beholde, the Temple of the tabernacle of testimonie was open in heauen.

6 And the seuen Angels came out of the Temple, which had the seuen plagues, clothed in pure and bright linnen, and hauing their breastes girded with golden girdles.

7 And one of the foure beastes gaue vnto the seuen Angels seuen † golden vials full of the wrath of God, which liueth for euermore.

8 And the Temple was full of the smoke of the glory of God and of his power, & no man was able to enter into the Temple, till the seuen plagues of the seuen Angels were fulfilled.

CHAP. XVI.

2 and 17 The Angels powre out the seuen vials of Gods wrath giuen vnto them, and so diuers plagues arise in the world, 18 to terrifie the wicked, 19 and the inhabitants of the great citie.

AND I heard a great voyce out of the Temple, saying to the seuen Angels, Go your wayes, and powre out the seuen vials of the wrath of God vpon the earth.

2 And the first went & powred out his vial vpon the earth: and there fell a noysome, and a grieuous sore vpō the men, which had the marke of the beast, and vpon them which worshipped his image.

3 And the second Angel powred out his vial vpon the sea, and it † became as the blood of a dead man: and euery liuing thing died in the sea.

a It was turned into rotten and filthie blood, such as is in dead bodies.

4 And the third Angel powred out his vial vpon the riuers and fountaines of waters, and they became blood.

5 And I heard the Angel of the waters say, Lord, thou art iust, Which art, and Which wast: and Holy, because thou hast iudged these things.

6 For they shed the blood of the Saints, & Prophets, and therefore hast thou giuen them blood to drinke: for they are worthy.

7 And I heard another out of the Sanctuarie say, Euen so, Lord God almightie, true & righteous are thy iudgements.

8 And the fourth Angel powred out his vial on the sunne, and it was giuen vnto him to torment men with heate of fire,

9 And men boyled in great heate, and blasphemed the Name of God, which hath power ouer these plagues, and they repented not, to giue him glory.

10 And the fifth Angel powred out his vial vpon the throne of the beast, and his kingdome waxed darke, and they gnawed their tongues for sorow, 11 And blasphemed the God of heauen for their paines, and for their sores, and repented not of their workes.

12 And the sixth Angel powred out his vial vpon the great riuer Euphrates, and the water thereof dried vp, that the way of the kings of † East should be prepared.

13 And I sawe three vncleane spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of that dragon, and out of the mouth of that beast, and out of the mouth of that false prophet.

14 For they are the spirits of deuils, working miracles, to go vnto the kings of the earth, and of the whole world, to gather them to the battell of that great day of God Almightie.

15 (✣ Beholde,

15 (a) Beholde, I come as a theefe. Blessed is hee that watcheth and keepeth his garments, least hee walke naked, and men see his filthinesse.

16 And they gathered them together into a place called in Hebrew Armagedon.

17 ¶ And the seuenth Angel powred out his viall into the ayre: and there came a loude voyce out of the Temple of heauen from the throne, saying, It is done.

18 And there were voyces, and thundrings, and lightnings, and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were vpon the earth, euen so mightie an earthquake.

19 And the great citie was deuided into three partes, and the cities of the nations fell: and that great Babylon came in remembrance before God, † to giue vnto her the cup of the wine of the fiercenesse of his wrath.

20 And euery yle fled away, and the mountaines were not (b) found.

21 And there fell a great haile, like (c) talents, out of heauen vpon the men, & men blasphemed God, because of the plague of the hayle: for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

† Ierem. 25. 15.

(b) Appeared not: which the Hebrewes vtter after this sort, were not, Gen. 5. 24.

CHAP. XVII.

1 That great whore is described, 2 with whome the kings of the earth committed fornication. 6 She is drunken with the blood of Saints. 7 The mysterie of the woman and the beast that carieth her, expounded. 11 their destruction. 14 The Lambes victorie.

THen there came one of the seuen Angels, which had the seuen vials, and talked with mee, saying vnto me, Come: I will shew thee the (a) damnation of the great whore that sitteth vpon many waters,

(a) The sentence that is pronounced against this harlot.

2 With whom haue committed fornication the Kings of the earth, and the inhabitants of the earth are drunken with the wine of her fornication.

3 So he caried me away into the wilderneſſe in the Spirit, and I sawe a woman sit vpon a (b) skarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemie, which had seuen heads, and ten hornes.

(b) A skarlet colour, that is, with a red and purple garment: and surely it was not without cause that the Romish clergie were so much delighted with this colour.

4 And the woman was arayed in purple & skarlet, and gilded with golde, and precious stones, and pearles, and had a cup of gold in her hand, full of abominations, and filthines of her fornication.

5 And in her forehead was a name written, A mysterie, that great Babylon, that mother of whoredomes and abominations of the earth.

6 And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of Saintes, and with the blood of the Martyrs of IESVS: and when I sawe her, I wondered with great marueile.

7 Then the Angel saide vnto mee, Wherefore marueilest thou? I will shewe thee the mysterie of that woman, and of that beast, that beareth her, which hath seuen heads, and ten hornes.

(c) Very children knowe, what that seuen hilled citie is, which is so much spoken of, and whereof Virgil thus reporteth: And compassed seuen towres within one wall: that citie is it, which when John wrote these things, had rule ouer the Kings of the earth: It was, and is not, and yet it remaineth to this day, but it is declining to destruction.

8 The beast that thou hast seene, was, and is not, and shall ascend out of the bottomlesse pit, & shall goe into perdition, and they that dwel on the earth, shall wonder (whose names are not written in the booke of life from the foundation of the world) when they behold the beast that was, and is not, & yet is.

9 Here is the mind that hath wisdome. The (c) seuen heads, are seuen mountaines whereon the woman sitteth: they are also seuen Kings.

10 Fiue are fallen, and one is, and another is not yet come: and when he commeth, he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, is euen the eight, and is one of the seuen, and shall goe into destruction.

12 And the ten hornes which thou saweſt, are tenne Kings, which yet haue not receiued a kingdome, but shal receiue power, as Kings at one houre with the beast.

13 These haue one minde, and shall giue their power, and authoritie vnto the beast.

14 These shall fight with the Lambe, and the Lambe shall ouercome them: & for he is Lorde of Lordes, and King of Kings: and they that are on his side called, and chosen, and faithfull.

† Chap. 19. 16. 1. Tim. 6. 15.

15 And he said vnto me, The waters which thou saweſt, where the whore sitteth, are people, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the tenne hornes which thou saweſt vpon the beast, are they that shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shal eate her flesh, and burne her with fire.

17 For God hath put in their heartes to fulfill his will, and to do with one consent for to giue their kingdome vnto the beast, vntill the wordes of God be fulfilled.

18 And that woman which thou saweſt, is that great citie, which reigneth ouer the kings of the earth.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The horrible destruction of Babylon is set out. 11. 16. 18. The marchants of the earth, who were enriched with the pompe and luxurious liuing of it, weepe, and waile. 20 But all the elect reioyce for that iust vengeance of God.

ANd after these things, I saw another Angel come downe from heauen, hauing great power, so that the earth was lightened with his glory,

2 And he cried out mightily with a loud voyce, saying, † It is fallen, it is fallen, Babylon that great citie, and is become the habitation of deuils, and the holde of all foule spirits, and a cage of euery vnclean and hatefull birde.

† Chap. 14. 8. Isai 21. 9. Ierem. 51. 8.

3 For all nations haue drunken of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the Kings of the earth haue committed fornication with her, and the marchants of the earth are waxed rich of the abundance of her pleasures.

4 And I heard another voyce from heauen say, Goe out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sinnes, and that ye receiue not of her plagues:

5 For her sinnes are (a) come vp into heauen, and God hath remembred her iniquities.

(a) He vseth a worde which signifieth the following of sinne, one after another, and rising one of another in such sort, that they grewe at length to such an heape, that they came vp euen to heauen.

6 Rewarde her, euen as she hath rewarded you, and giue her double according to her workes: and in the cup that she hath filled to you, fil her the double.

7 In as much as she glorified her selfe, and liued in pleasure, so much giue you to her torment & sorow: for she saith (b) in her heart, I sit being a queene, and am (c) no widowe, and shall (d) see no mourning.

(b) With her selfe.

(c) I am full of people and mightie.

(d) I shall taste of none.

8 Therefore shal her plagues come at (e) one day, death, and sorowe, and famine, and she shalbe burnt with fire: for that God which condemneth her, is a strong Lord.

(e) Shortly, and at one instant.

9 And the Kings of the earth shall bewayle her, and lament for her, which haue committed fornication, and liued in pleasure with her, when they shall see the smoke of that her burning,

10 And shall stand a farre off for feare of her torment, saying, Alas, alas, that great citie Babylon, that mightie citie: for in one houre is thy iudgement come.

11 And the marchants of the earth shall weepe and wayle ouer her: for no man byeth their ware any more,

12 The ware of golde, and siluer, and of precious stone, and of pearles, and of fine linnen, and of purple, and of silke, and skarlet, and of all manner of Thyne wood, and of all vessels of yuorie, and of all vessels of most precious wood, and of braise, and of yron, and of marble, 13 And of cinnamom, and odours, & ointments, and frankincense, and wine, & oyle, and fine floure, and wheate, and beastes, and sheepe, and horses, and charets, and seruants, and soules of men.

14 (And the f apples that thy soule lusted after, are departed from thee, and all things which were fatte & excellent, are departed from thee, and thou shalt finde them no more)

15 The marchants of these things which were waxed rich, shall stand a farre off from her, for feare of her torment, weeping and wayling,

16 And saying, Alas, alas, that great citie, that was clothed in fine linnen and purple, and skarlet, and gilded with gold, and precious stones, and pearles.

17 For in one houre so great riches are come to desolation. And euery shipmaster, and all the people that occupie shippes, and shipmen, and whosoeuer trafike on the sea, shall stand a farre off, 18 And crie, when they see that smoke of that her burning, saying, What citie was like vnto this great citie?

19 And they shall cast dust on their heads, and crie, weeping, and wayling, and say, Alas, alas, that great citie, wherin were made rich all that had ships on the sea by her costlinesse: for in one houre shee is made desolate.

20 O heauen, reioyce of her, & ye holy Apostles and Prophets: for God hath punished her to be reuenged on her for your sakes.

21 Then a mightie Angel tooke vp a stone like a great milstone, ✣ and cast it into the sea, saying, With such violence shal that great citie Babylon be cast and shalbe found no more.

22 And the voyce of harpers, and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpetters shalbe heard no more in thee, and no craftesman, of whatsoeuer craft he be, shall be found any more in thee: and the sound of a milstone shalbe heard no more in thee.

23 And the light of a candle shall shine no more in thee: and the voyce of the bridegrome and of the bride shall bee hearde no more in thee: for thy marchants were the great men of the earth: and with thine inchantments were deceiued all nations.

24 And in her was found the blood of the Prophets, and of the Saints, and of all that were slaine vpon the earth.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The heauenly company praise God for auenging the blood of his seruants on the whore. 9 They are written blessed, that are called to the Lambes supper. 10 The Angel will not bee worshipped. 11 The mightie King of Kings appeareth from heauen. 19 The battell, 20 wherein the beast is taken, 21 and cast into the burning lake.

AND after these things I heard a great voyce of a great multitude in heauen, saying, a Halleluiah, saluation, and glorie, and honour, and power bee to the Lord our God.

2 For true and righteous are his iudgements: for he hath condemned that great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath auenged the blood of his seruants shed by her hand.

3 And againe they saide, Hallelu-iah: and that her smoke rose vp for euermore.

4 And the foure and twenty Elders, and the foure beastes fel downe, and worshipped God that sate on the throne, saying, Amen, Hallelu-iah.

5 Then a voyce came out of the throne, saying, Prayse our God, all ye his seruants, and ye that feare him, both small and great.

6 And I heard like a voyce of a great multitude, and as the voyce of many waters, and as the voyce of strong thunderings, saying, Hallelu-iah: for the Lord that God that almighty God hath reigned.

7 Let vs be glad and reioyce, and giue glorie to him: for the marriage of that Lambe is come, and his wife hath made her selfe readie.

8 And to her was graunted, that she should be arayed with pure fine linnen and shining, for the fine linnen is the b righteousnes of Saints.

9 Then he saide vnto me, Write, ✣ Blessed are they which are called vnto the Lambes supper. And he said vnto me, These words of God are true.

10 And I fell before his feete, ✣ to worship him: but he said vnto me, See thou doe it not: I am thy fellow seruant, and one of thy brethren, which haue the c testimonie of Iesus, Worship God: for the testimonie of d Iesus is the Spirit of prophecie.

11 And I saw heauen open, and behold, a white horse, and he that sate vpon him, was called Faithfull and true, and he iudgeth & fighteth righteously.

12 And his eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crownes: and hee had a name written, that no man knew but himselfe.

13 And he was clothed with a garment dipt in blood, and his name is called THE WORD OF GOD.

14 And the hostes which were in heauen, followed him vpon white horses, clothed with fine linnen white and pure.

15 And out of his mouth went out a sharpe sworde, that with it he shoulde smite the heathen: for he shall ∵ rule them with a rod of yron: for hee it is that treadeth the wine presse of the fiercenesse and wrath of almighty God.

16 And he hath vpon his garment, and vpon his thigh a name written, ⁂ THE KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

17 And I sawe an Angel stand in the sunne, who cryed with a loud voyce, saying to all the foules that did flie by the middes of heauen, Come, and gather your selues together vnto ỹ supper of ỹ great God, 18 That yee may eate the flesh of Kings and the flesh of hie Captaines, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, & of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all freemen, and bondmen, and of small and great.

19 And I sawe the beast, and the Kings of the earth, and their hostes gathered together to make battel against him that sate on the horse, and against his armie.

20 But the beast was taken, & with him ỹ false prophet that wrought miracles before him, whereby he deceiued them that receiued the beasts mark, and them ỹ worshipped his image. These both were aliue cast into a lake of fire, burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant were slayne with the sword of him that sitteth vpon the horse, which commeth out of his mouth, and all the foules were filled full with their flesh.

AND I ſaw an Angel come downe from heauen, hauing the key of the bottomles pit, and a great chaine in his hand.

2 And he tooke the dragon that olde ſerpent, which is the deuill and Satan, and he bound him a thouſand yeeres:

3 And caſt him into the bottomles pit, and he ſhut him vp, and ſealed the doore vpon him, that hee ſhoulde deceiue the people no more, till the thouſand yeeres were fulfilled: for after that he muſt bee looſed for a little ſeaſon.

4 And I ſaw ª ſeates: and they ſate vpon them, and iudgement was giuen vnto them, and I ſaw the ſoules of them that were beheaded for the witnes of Ieſus, and for the worde of God, and which did not worſhip the beaſt, neither his image, neither had taken his marke vpon their foreheads, or on their handes: and they liued, and reigned with Chriſt a thouſand yeere.

ª Their lot and inheritance ſo to bee.

9 And there came vnto mee one of the ſeuen Angels, which had the ſeuen vialles full of the ſeuen laſt plagues, and talked with mee, ſaying, Come: I will ſhew thee the bride, the Lambes wife.

10 And he carried mee away in the ſpirite to a great and an hie mountaine, and he ſhewed me that great citie, that holy Hieruſalem, deſcending out of heauen from God,

11 Hauing the glory of God: and her ſhining was like vnto a ſtone moſt precious, as a Iaſper ſtone cleare as cryſtall, 12 And had a great wall and hie, and had twelue gates, and at the gates twelue Angels, and the names written, which are the twelue tribes of the children of Iſrael.

13 On the Eaſt part there were three gates, and on the North ſide three gates, on the South ſide three gates, and on the Weſt ſide three gates.

14 And the wall of the citie had twelue foundations, and in them the Names of the Lambes twelue Apoſtles.

15 And he that talked with me, had a golden reede, to meaſure the citie withall, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And the citie lay ᵇ foureſquare, and the length is as large as the breadth of it, and he meaſured the citie with the reede, twelue thouſand furlongs: and the length, and the breadth, and the height of it are equall.

ᵇ A foure ſquared figure hath equall ſides, and outright corners, and therefore the Grecians call by this name thoſe things that are ſteadie, and of continuance, and perfect.

17 And he meaſured the wall thereof, an hundreth fourtie and foure cubites, by the meaſure of man, that is, of the ᶜ Angel.

ᶜ He addeth this, becauſe the Angel had the ſhape of a man.

18 And ᵛ building of the wal of it was of Iaſper: and the citie was pure gold, like vnto cleare glaſſe.

19 And the foundations of the wall of the citie were garniſhed with all manner of precious ſtones: the firſt foundation was Iaſper: the ſecond of Saphire: the third of Chalcedonie: the fourth of an Emeraude:

20 The fift of a Sardonyx: the ſixt of a Sardius: the ſeuenth of a Chryſolite: the eight of a Beryl: the ninth of a Topaze: the tenth of a Chryſopraſus: the eleuenth of a Iacynth: the twelfth an Amethyſt.

21 And the twelue gates were twelue pearles, and euery gate is of one pearle, and the ᵈ ſtreete of the citie is pure golde, as ſhining glaſſe.

CHAP. XXII.

1 The riuer of water of life is shewed, 2 and the tree of life: 6. 7 Then followeth the conclusion of this prophecie, 8 where John declareth, that the things therein contained are most true: 13 And now the third time repeateth these wordes, All things come from him, who is the beginning and the end.

AND he shewed me a pure riuer of water of life, cleare as crystall, proceeding out of the throne of God, and of the Lambe.

2 In the middest of the street of it, and of either side of the riuer, was ŷ tree of life which bare twelue maner of fruits, & gaue fruit euery moneth: and the leaues of the tree serued to heale the nations with.

10 And he saide vnto me, Seale not the words of the prophecie of this booke: for the time is at hand.

11 He that is vniust, let him be vniust still: and he which is filthie, let him be filthie still: and hee that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and hee that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 And behold, I come shortly, and my reward is with mee, ✣ to giue euery man according as his worke shall be. ✣ Rom.2.6.

14 Blessed are they, that doe his commaundements, that their right may be in the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the citie.

15 For without shal be dogges and enchanters, and whoremongers, and murtherers, and idolaters, and whosoeuer loueth or maketh lies.

16 I Iesus haue sent mine Angel, to testifie vnto you these thinges in the Churches: I am the roote and the generation of Dauid, and the bright morning starre.

17 And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth, say, Come: and let him that is athirst, come: and ∵ let whosoeuer will, take of the water of life freely. ∵ Esa.55.1.

18 For I protest vnto euery man that heareth the wordes of the prophecie of this booke, If any man shall adde vnto these thinges, God shall adde vnto him the plagues, that are written in this booke:

19 And if any man shal diminish of the words of the booke of this prophecie, God shal take away his part out of the booke of life, and out of the holy citie, and from those things which are written in this booke.

20 He which testifieth these things, saith, Surely, I come quickely. Amen. Euen so, come Lord Iesus.

21 The grace of our Lorde Iesus Christ be with you all, Amen.

THE ENDE.

A BRIEFE

¶ A briefe Table of the interpretation of the proper names which are chiefly found in the olde Testament, wherein the first number signifieth the Chapter, the second the verse.

WHereas the wickednes of time, & the blindnesse of the former age hath bene such, that all things altogether haue bene abused & corrupted, so that the very right names of diuers of the holy men named in the Scriptures haue bene forgotten, & now seeme strange vnto vs, & the names of infants that should euer haue some godly aduertisements in them, and should be memorials & markes of the children of God receiued into his houshold, haue bene hereby also changed & made the signes and badges of idolatrie and heathenish impietie: we haue now set forth this Table of the names that be most vsed in the old Testament with their interpretations, as the Hebrew importeth, partly to cal backe the godly frō the abuse, when they shall know the true names of the godly Fathers, and what they signifie, that their children nowe named after them, may haue testimonies by their very names, that they are within that faithfull familie that in all their doings had euer God before their eyes, and that they are bound by these their names to serue God from their infancie, and haue occasion to prayse him for his workes wrought in them, and their fathers, but chiefly to restore the names to their integritie, whereby many places of the Scriptures and secrete mysteries of the holy Ghost shall better be vnderstanded. We haue medled rarely with the Greeke names, because their interpretation is vncertaine, and many of them are corrupted from their originall, as we may also see these Hebrew names set in the margent of this Table, which haue bene corrupted by the Grecians. Nowe for the other Hebrew names that are not here interpreted, let not the diligent Reader be carefull: for he shall finde them in places most conuenient amongst the annotations: at least so many as may seeme to make for any edification, and vnderstanding of the Scriptures.
